The milk supply area for plants serving the Suburban Chicago marketing area overlaps the close-in zones of the Chicago milkshed. Farms of Suburban Chicago producers are intermingled with those of Chicago producers. Large quantities of fluid milk distributed in the Suburban Chicago market are received from Chicago approved producers at plants primarily serving the Chicago market. Such milk is sold both by Chicago handlers operating routes in the Suburban Chicago market or by Suburban Chicago handlers who buy in bulk lots as a supplement to farm receipts and distribute from their own plants. Suburban handlers have become increasingly dependent on the Chicago market for supplemental milk supplies. The quantities of Chicago approved milk finding an outlet in the suburban market have increased substantially in recent years. Suburban handlers carry a lesser percentage of producer milk in Classes III and IV than do Chicago handlers.

In recent years health regulations have been made more stringent in most communities in the Suburban market and practically all milk now sold there is sold under a "Grade A" label. While to enter the city of Chicago milk for fluid use must meet the specific approval of the Chicago health authorities, Chicago approved (Grade A) milk may be distributed in all segments of the Suburban Chicago marketing area and competes freely with Grade A milk approved by the several health authorities in the latter area. Such differences as do exist in the specific health standards for the production of Grade A milk in the two marketing areas involved are not sufficient, however, to necessitate a difference in the price systems used for milk so termed.

In the past the class prices for Grade A milk of the Chicago and Suburban marketing areas have been for all practical purposes identical with the exception of slight differences in the application of such class prices to milk in specific products and the application of location differentials to plants more than 70 miles from Chicago. The Chicago order has prorated returns to producers by means of a market-wide pool whereas the Suburban order has employed individual-handler pools for this purpose. Mainly because of the larger proportions of milk used in the higher-valued classes in Suburban plants individual-handler prices under such order generally have been higher than prices at plants under the Chicago order for similar locations within the 70-mile zone from the Chicago City Hall. These price differences have resulted in intensive competition for supply at some locations in this zone with a tendency for producers to be attracted to plants with the most favorable prices and the growth of a network of premiums and hauling subsidies paid by handlers to retain milk supplies. In this situation the burden of maintaining supplies in such area has tended to fall more heavily upon handlers under the Chicago order. The proponent association which represents about 78 percent of the producers whose farms are in such area, has found it necessary to operate special pools with respect to member milk by groups of plants under the two orders to effect a higher degree of uniformity in pricing in different localities and to prevent producers from shifting unnecessarily between markets. Price differences among Suburban handlers and between the two markets have been increasingly significant in recent years as greater quantities of Grade A milk have been needed in Suburban Chicago communities. The Suburban area covers a number of rather widely separately communities with individual marketing and hauling problems calling for adjustments to be made among markets in net returns to producers.

At present there is no common price "base" from which these adjustments by localities can be made in any logical pattern. The present variations in minimum uniform prices under the two orders (and even within the framework of the Suburban order itself) require revision of such necessary adjustments outside the order individually as relationships of order prices vary. This results in continuous price problems within the close-in production area. In contrast, a uniform minimum price to all producers in this area would provide an opportunity for making whatever supplementary adjustments may be appropriate without the necessity of having to allow also for marked variations in minimum order prices and would result in more orderly marketing.

The hearing record substantiates the proposed deletion of the following townships from the newly defined marketing area: Channahon, Jackson, Manhattan, Green Garden, Monee, Crete, Wilmington, Florence, Milton, Peotone, Will, Washington, Reed, Custer, and Wesley, all in Will County, Illinois. These townships, which have been a part of the marketing area covered by the Suburban Chicago order, are mostly rural in character and the quantities of milk distributed there by handlers to be regulated are not substantial. Except for such townships the merger necessitates the inclusion of the present Suburban Chicago marketing area in the expanded Chicago marketing area.

To accomplish the merger effectively and in an equitable manner it is determined also that the monies on hand as the result of the administrative assessment provisions (§ 941.9 and § 969.9) of Orders 41 and 69 should be combined to be included in the administrative fund to be established under § 941.86 of the consolidated order. Similarly, the monies on hand as the result of the marketing services provisions of such two orders should be included in the marketing services fund established under § 941.87 of the consolidated order.

An additional proposal of the Rockford handlers for the merger of Order 91 (Rockford-Freeport, Illinois, marketing area) with Order 41 also was covered by the notice of hearing. Proponents, however, abandoned the proposal and no testimony was offered in its support. This proposal is denied.

A suggestion was made at the hearing that a market-wide pool might be adopted under the Suburban Chicago marketing area in lieu of the consolidation of Order 69 with Order 41. It is concluded, however, that the price difficulties referred to cannot be resolved satisfactorily merely by the adoption of a market-wide pool under Order 69.

(2) The expanded Chicago, Illinois, marketing area should include certain additional townships not previously under regulation.

It was proposed by the proponents of the consolidated order that certain additional townships, namely Waukegan, Shields, West Deerfield, Deerfield, Zion, Newport, Warren, Libertyville, and Vernon, be included in the marketing area. The principal community located in this area is the city of Waukegan, Illinois. Such townships have not been under an order previously.

It is apparent from the record that supply and marketing conditions in this general area are not appreciably different from those found to exist to the south which make it desirable to consolidate Orders 41 and 69. There is a highly competitive situation between Waukegan and Chicago handlers in the procurement of milk. Farms of producers supplying the added townships are intermingled with those of Chicago producers. The proponent association sells substantial quantities of Chicago-approved milk to handlers in this area who compete with Chicago handlers for sales there. In distributing returns to producers in the Waukegan area it has been necessary for the association to include in its "Waukegan pool", for member producers, milk of certain Order No. 41 plants in order to achieve greater uniformity in producer prices in the supply area adjacent to the Waukegan market and to prevent unnecessary shifting of producers between the Waukegan and Chicago markets. Grade A ordinances have been adopted by the principal communities in such townships. Inclusion of such area would not increase costs to local handlers substantially since it has been the practice of the association to sell them milk on the basis of the Chicago price level.

Extension of the area would provide greater price uniformity between the newly added communities and the Chicago market and should create more orderly marketing conditions for producer milk. Only the first four of the above-named townships are included in the defined marketing area since the remaining five are substantially rural in character and there is no competitive element in the latter group of townships not covered by the order.

(3) Location adjustments applicable to milk originating within the 55-mile zone from the City Hall in Chicago should be provided; location adjustment rates in effect beyond the 70-mile zone should not be revised.

Prices under the Chicago order begin at a point 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago. Suburban order prices begin at the plant or receiving station from which milk is distributed in the marketing area. With two exceptions (plants located more than 70 miles from Chicago) such prices under the Suburban order have applied to milk received at distributing plants located within the defined marketing area. Within the 70-mile zone from Chicago there are a number of receiving stations serving distributing plants under the Chicago order most of which are located beyond 55 miles from the City Hall in Chicago. Because of differences in local marketing and hauling problems involved in supplying the widespread area to be covered, it is deemed preferable, in combining the orders, to establish class and uniform prices at the 55–70 mile zone rather than f. o. b. plants in the marketing area, with location adjustments to apply with respect to milk received at plants either nearer or farther away from the marketing area. Such adjustments are already in effect in the Chicago order for more distant zones.

It was proposed by the proponents of the merger that handlers be required to pay, in addition to the class prices, 4 cents per hundredweight of milk received from producers at plants located within the marketing area and 2 cents per hundredweight with respect to any such receipts at plants located outside the marketing area but not more than 55 miles from the City Hall in Chicago.

Location adjustments with respect to milk received from farms at plants located nearer to or within the marketing area are necessary to provide an appropriate graduation of prices from the 55–70 mile zone to points within the marketing area. It appears that the near-in supplies historically have commanded premiums over the more distant milk by more than the actual difference in transportation cost from the two general locations on the principal grounds that such supplies are better adjusted to the requirements of the fluid milk market, are more readily accessible, are less subject to weather and transportation hazards, and do not require country station handling.

Under the provisions of the Chicago order the present location adjustment rate with respect to milk moved into the marketing area from plants beyond 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago is 2 cents per hundredweight per 15-mile zone. Since the class prices are fixed at the 70-mile line milk moved from points beyond the 70-mile line to points closer to the Chicago City Hall is transported at the handler's expense from the 70-mile line to the closer-in point. Actual prices received by producers under the two orders who deliver to plants within 55 miles of Chicago (including plants located in the proposed marketing area) have been higher on the average than prices announced for the 70-mile zone under the Chicago order by more than the proposed maximum location adjustment rate of 4 cents per hundredweight for this segment of the milkshed. These differences have been accounted for by price premiums and hauling subsidies paid by handlers to the producers amounting to about 17 cents per hundredweight of milk received at plants inside the expanded marketing area and approximately 3.5 cents per hundredweight of milk received at plants outside the expanded marketing area but not more than 55 miles from the City Hall in Chicago. Such premiums and subsidies have been paid by individual handlers as a supplement to minimum uniform prices required to be paid under the two orders and without regard to the particular uses of such milk. Substantial payments of this kind have been made over and above order minimum prices in this general area for many years but such payments have varied to some extent because of differences in marketing problems in various segments of the zone. The proposed rates to be paid by handlers at plants within the 55-mile zone in addition to 55–70 mile zone prices appear reasonable and are well within the pattern of rates already employed in the Chicago order. Proponents suggest a tolerance over and above the proposed differential rates to be left to the bargaining process because of such local marketing problems.

Adjustments in the uniform prices to be received by producers delivering to plants closer than 55 miles also are necessary to reflect their location advantage. Proponents suggested a 10-cent differential above the 55–70 mile zone uniform price for milk delivered to plants within the marketing area and a 2-cent differential over such price for milk delivered to plants between the 55–70 mile zone and the marketing area. Of the 10-cent differential to be required 6 cents would become a charge against the pool and the remaining 4 cents would represent the 4 cents paid by handlers at plants in the marketing area.

For several years minimum uniform prices received by Order 69 producers generally have been higher in the area within 70 miles of Chicago than the minimum prices to Chicago producers although there has been a wide variation among the uniform prices of individual handlers (individual-handler pools) regulated under Order 69. Attempts of the producers' association to operate pools within the association by groups of plants in various segments of the 70-mile zone have not eliminated the marked price variations since there are independent producers receiving different prices than member producers and Order 41 producers receiving different prices than Order 69 producers. Market-wide pooling under Orders 69 would reduce the number of price variations to be contended with but would not eliminate the differences existing between the minimum uniform prices in the two orders which, on a market-wide basis, has averaged 17 cents per hundredweight. Such premium is being received at present by suburban order producers who provide 39 percent of the milk shipped directly to plants in the consolidated marketing area. This is equivalent to 6 cents per hundredweight on the total volume so shipped under both orders.

In view of historical considerations which show an intensive competition among such plants for supplies which have resulted in premium prices to producers supplying marketing area plants as compared with prices received by producers at more distant plants, proponents contend that the proportion (10 cents per hundredweight) of such premiums to be included under the minimum price provisions be reserved for the producers supplying the inside plants and not be shared with all producers by distribution through the uniform price. Under the proposal made Order 69 producers would receive a 6-cent lower price as a result of their inclusion in the pool. The amount represented by this difference would inure to the benefit of neighboring producers at present under Order 41 to bring about uniformity of pricing to all producers within the close-in production area. Minimum uniform prices to producers in zones from 70 miles and beyond would not be changed in relation to the minimum uniform price for the 55–70 mile zone.

Limitation of the 10-cent location adjustment to milk received at plants located in the marketing area was questioned in the record by Chicago handlers. A counter proposal was made that such rate should apply to milk received at any plant located within 55 miles of the City Hall in Chicago. The record discloses, however, that producers delivering to plants within the marketing area have longer hauls. Also, to extend this premium to receiving station milk would tend to encourage additional but unnecessary receiving station facilities at close-in locations at some expense to producers.

The 2-cent rate would be applicable to plants closer than 55 miles but outside the marketing area. Plants in this area are receiving stations established to serve bottling plants located inside the marketing area. The rate proposed would extend the rate in effect for zones beyond 70 miles to an area one zone closer. It is not practical to extend such rate to additional 15-mile zones less than 55 miles since the marketing area extends nearly such distance from the City Hall in Chicago in certain directions.

A proposal was made to increase the zone rate to 3 cents per hundredweight in zones beyond 70 miles from Chicago. It is concluded that such proposal should not be adopted since it was not supported by testimony on which a sufficient appraisal of its property can be made.

Producers in the 18th to 22d zones suggested the placing of a "floor" under the uniform price for such zones. This was discussed principally in connection with the proposals to increase the zone location adjustment rate to 3 cents per hundredweight in such zones and to provide a supply-demand adjustment with respect to the Class I and Class II prices differentials. It is stated above that the 3-cent location adjustment rate is denied. The supply-demand adjustment included in connection with the class price differentials does not operate to reduce such differentials below their lowest seasonal level (50 cents and 30 cents, respectively) as now in effect under the present Chicago order. The record does not provide sufficient basis for altering the application of the present 2-cent location adjustment rate to all zones beyond 70 miles from Chicago.

(4) A "pool plant" definition should be adopted which will cover, for pricing purposes, the milk received from producers at plants that (a) bottle milk, all or a part of which is disposed of in the marketing area as Class I milk (§ 941.41 (a) (1)), (b) are approved by the Chicago Board of Health for the receiving of milk which may be disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk in the marketing area, or (c) ship a specified minimum percentage of milk or cream in fluid form to bottling plants supplying the marketing area but not under Chicago inspection.

One of the proposals involved a definition of a pool plant. In part this was offered in lieu of the "approved plant" definition now contained in Order No. 41, and that part of the "handler" definition now contained in Order 69 which specifies the plants covered by that order. The proposed pool plant definition, however, was expanded in such manner as to include under the combined order, plants not previously covered by either order but which ship to bottling plants serving the suburban portion of the marketing area at least 50 percent of the milk received from producers during each of the months of October and November.

Order 41 at present includes in the market-wide pool any plant approved by the applicable health authority for the receiving of milk which may be disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area. Some of these plants are engaged in bottling Class I milk, part or all of which is disposed of in the marketing area while others are country plants which are included in the pool whether or not they ship milk or cream to the marketing area. All such country plants are approved by the Chicago Board of Health. Under Order 69, only milk received from dairy farmers at a plant which bottles Class I milk, part or all of which is disposed of in the marketing area, is priced as producer milk. Milk or cream received in bulk at such a bottling plant from another plant which is not under Order 69 or 41 is deducted from the handler's total utilization and is not priced even though the supplying plant may be operated primarily for the purpose of shipping milk and cream to the suburban Chicago marketing area.

Milk received from producers at bottling plants should be included in the pool at all times inasmuch as such plants obviously are serving the market regularly. On the other hand, in connection with the proposed consolidation of orders, and for other reasons as set forth below, there is need to establish certain requirements for pool participation with respect to plants which supply bottling plants with milk or cream.

During the last few years the sale of Chicago inspected milk to distant markets during the short production season has presented a supply problem. This milk which has been shipped to plants outside of the surplus milk manufacturing area has been of considerable volume and at times the supply available for the Chicago market has been jeopardized because of these outside shipments. The situation became acute during the fall of 1947 as a result of which an emergency hearing was held for the purpose of finding a solution to alleviate a shortage of supply due in substantial measure to the outside sales. The period of lowest milk production usually begins in early fall and continues throughout the fall months with the upturn coming in December. It is during these months that handlers in the Chicago marketing area at times have experienced difficulty and additional expense in filling their requirements for Class I and Class II milk. Some plants apparently ship to outside markets even though the milk is needed for the Chicago marketing area. However, under the present terms of the order they are permitted to remain in the Chicago pool and to obtain the benefits therefrom during the flush production periods when their milk is not needed in distant markets or in the Chicago market. Part of the spring surplus volume results from supplies developed to cover fall requirements which include these outside sales. If production for the Chicago market is lower during the coming fall months (and there was considerable evidence in the record indicating that a short supply situation may be expected), as compared with the same period in 1950 supplies of milk available for the marketing area may fall below adequate levels, especially if the outside sales continue at the high rate for the fall months in recent years. All parties testifying at the hearing were in agreement that milk produced under Chicago inspection should be made available for disposition in the Chicago market when needed.

Solution to the problem was suggested at the hearing through two proposals, one of which would increase the price applicable to the outside milk. Such proposal is discussed elsewhere in this decision. The other sought to provide pool plant provisions with suspension aspects which, it was contended, would serve to make milk produced for the Chicago market first available for that market when needed.

Considerable opposition developed to the particular plan presented at the hearing. A major objection was that it provided for too much discretion on the part of the market administrator in fulfilling the various duties placed upon him and that proper standards were not set forth to guide him in the actions which he would be expected to take. Further opposition developed on the grounds that the plan proposed had not been included in the notice of the hearing and therefore could not appropriately be considered. With respect to the latter contention, it would appear that the pool plant requirements proposed merely expanded upon the pool plant definition set forth in the hearing notice (§ 941.5) and provided mainly for the suspension of plants from the pool under certain circumstances. The proposed requirements related closely to such definition and to price problems considered at length under the various price proposals. It is concluded that such proposed requirements were within the scope of the notice of the hearing.

There appears to be merit in pool plant provisions which will assist in channeling milk produced for the Chicago market to that market in the months when production is lowest. Certain provisions to accomplish this purpose have been included in the attached order. The requirements adapted should not be difficult of compliance and will avoid the proposed discretionary powers of the market administrator which were found to be objectionable by various parties. The plan employed would designate as a pool plant, in addition to bottling or distributing plants, each country receiving station which has Chicago Board of Health approval. To maintain such status, however, such a country plant must either ship during each of the months of September, October and November as milk or cream in fluid form not less than 50 percent of its producer butterfat receipts to bottling or distributing plants serving the marketing area or, in lieu thereof, offer to ship said amounts to the latter plants at announced prices and terms to be filed with the market administrator who would make information concerning such prices and terms available to all handlers. Under the above shipment requirement, however, a country plant would be given credit (as a shipment) for any disposition therefrom of Class I milk for Class II milk to outlets within the surplus milk manufacturing area other than regulated plants. Failure to ship or to offer to ship at announced prices and terms would result in automatic suspension from the pool for the delivery periods from February to July, inclusive, of the following year.

Although it is not probable that this plan will in itself settle completely the problem raised by the large volume of outside sales in the fall months, it should serve as a starting point from which additional experience can be gained. It is recognized that a Chicago approved plant may be able to avoid its responsibility to serve the Chicago market under the requirements outlined. However, it is believed that impact of public opinion resulting from publication of the conditions of shipment to Chicago bottling or distributing plants will serve as a strong deterrent for any country plant to evade such responsibility.

Plants not previously covered by either Order 41 or 69 which service only that portion of the marketing area outside the present Chicago marketing area but in a substantial degree during the short supply season also should be permitted to participate in the pool throughout the year. This requires the inclusion of a separate provision. It is provided that any such plant which ships as milk or cream in fluid form to bottling or distributing plants serving the marketing area at least 50 percent of the butterfat received from its dairy farmers during any delivery period will be in the pool for that delivery period. However, the plant may remain in the pool through August by the delivery of such percentage of receipts in each of the months of September, October and November immediately preceding. The provision adopted differs slightly from the original proposal covering such plants in that shipment of the required percentage of its dairy farm supply must be made in three of the low production months and that an election may be made by the plant to withdraw from the pool if it so desires. The basis for granting pool plant status to these plants necessarily must differ from that on which Chicago approved plants are given such status. With the exception of one plant located within the marketing area, it is not known from past experience what plants may expect to gain status under the requirements. Also, it would not be appropriate to include as a pool plant a plant serving the market only on a temporary basis, or as an emergency supply source, when it is not the intention of the plant to identify itself as a regular source of supply for the marketing area. To avoid inclusion of plants of the latter type the requirement is made that the plant must actually supply milk or cream in fluid form. This is in contrast to the requirements placed on Chicago approved country plants which may either supply or be able and willing to supply at least 50 percent of the butterfat (as milk or cream) received from dairy farmers. In the case of Chicago approved country plants, identity with the market has been established in the past through Chicago Board of Health approval. Such plants already are included in the market pool under the Chicago order and the evidence indicates that most of such plants have the Chicago market as their primary outlet. In view of their close identity with the Chicago market in the past it would appear appropriate to give immediate pool status to such plants and to continue such status on indication of their ability and willingness to ship the quantities required of new plants entering the market, as well as on actual shipments while requiring actual shipment by other plants.

(5) The price differentials added to the basic formula price for Class I and Class II milk should be revised to provide for (i) an increase in the differentials for July, (ii) the adoption of a supply-demand adjustment, (iii) an increase in the differentials for Class I milk and Class II milk, disposed of outside the surplus milk manufacturing area during the delivery periods of August, September, October, and November, and (iv) pricing Grade B milk classified as Class I milk and Class II milk at a lower level than Grade A milk.

Several proposals affecting the differentials for Class I and Class II milk were offered. One of these provided that no change should be made in April, May, and June differentials but that the Class I price differentials for August, September, October, and November should be increased $0.40 per hundredweight of milk and the Class II price differentials increased $0.20. The Class I price differentials for December, January, February, March and July would be increased $0.20 per hundredweight and the Class II price differentials would be increased $0.10. Another proposal made in connection with a base and excess plan provided that the Class I price differential should be $1.10 per hundredweight and the Class II price differential should be $0.60 per hundredweight throughout the year. The proponents of the latter proposal submitted an alternative to be considered in the event the base-excess plan was not adopted, to the effect that the Class I and Class II price differentials, respectively, should be $0.90, and $0.50 per hundredweight during January through April; $0.75 and $0.40 during May and June; and $1.50 and $0.70 during July through December. A third proposal offered would set the Class I differential at $0.60 per hundredweight during May and June; $1.10 during August through November; and $0.90 during all other months. The Class II price differentials would be $0.40 per hundredweight during May and June; $0.70 during August through November; and $0.60 during all other months.

A "flexible premium" proposal also was presented. This would employ the present seasonal Class I and Class II price differentials as a base and would increase or decrease such differentials in relationship to changes between the supply of and demand for milk for Class I and Class II uses during comparable specified seasons of the previous year. If this proposal were currently in effect, it would increase the 1951 Class I price differentials during August, September, October and November by $0.30 and decrease the differentials during all other months this year in amounts ranging from 11 to 12.3¢ per hundredweight.

In addition to the evidence in support of proposals to change the level of Class I and Class II price differentials, there was also testimony supporting the position that there should be no change in the differentials at this time.

In connection with the problem of the highly seasonal demand by distant markets for bulk milk and cream, a proposal was introduced to increase the differentials during August, September, October, and November on Class I and Class II milk disposed of to plants outside the surplus milk manufacturing area by about $0.75 per hundredweight over and above the prices in effect for the marketing area.

The proponents of the consolidation of Orders 41 and 69 took cognizance of the fact that Grade B producer milk, classified as Class I or Class II milk, has been priced separately under Order 69 at a level $0.10 per hundredweight below the Grade A prices. They proposed that under the consolidated order, Class I and Class II milk prices for these two grades of milk continue to maintain this relationship. A handler currently under Order 69 proposed that the class prices for Grade B milk be lowered in relation to the Grade prices to result in a Grade B uniform price at least $0.25 per hundredweight under the Grade A uniform price.

The Chicago market obtains milk from one of the largest and most concentrated milk producing areas in the United States. During the first nine months of 1950 over 62 percent of the milk priced under Order 41 was received at plants located in Wisconsin where the production of manufactured dairy products is carried on in substantial volume. All segments of the Chicago fluid milk industry have long recognized that the level of milk prices paid producers who furnish milk to the Chicago metropolitan area must be closely related to the prices received by dairy farmers, shipping milk to manufacturing plants. Since the inception of Order 41 in September 1939 the Class I and Class II price differentials have been related directly to prices for milk used for manufacturing purposes. Although there continues to be a unanimity of opinion in the Chicago milk industry as to the desirability of relating Chicago milk prices to manufactured milk prices, there was considerable disagreement at the hearing as to whether or not the existing levels of Class I and Class II differentials are high enough to attract an adequate supply of approved milk to the Chicago market.

Under the present pricing provisions of both Orders 41 and 69 the Class I price differentials (for Grade A milk) per hundredweight of milk are $0.50 during May and June; $0.90 during August, September, October and November; and $0.70 during all other months. The Class II price differentials per hundredweight of milk are $0.30 during May and June; $0.50 during August, September, October, and November and $0.40 during all other months. These Class I and Class II price differentials have been in effect since September 1, 1947, at which time the average level of differentials were increased by about 7 to 10 cents the levels existing immediately prior to that date and the seasonal differences in the Class I price differentials were widened as much as $0.20. During the three full years that these differentials have been in effect, the Order 41 uniform prices per hundredweight of 3.5 percent milk received at plants in the 70-mile zone have averaged $0.63 higher than the condensary-pay price for 1948; $0.69 for 1949; and $0.51 for 1950.

From 1947 through 1950 there has been a rather substantial increase in the amount of milk received at plants under Order 41. The average monthly receipts during 1947 were 236.6 million pounds and in 1950 were 292.3 million pounds, an increase of almost 25 percent. This increase has been due to both an increase in the number of producers and an increase in production per herd. The number of producers on the market has increased since about the middle of 1946, when there were approximately 17,000 producers. For September 1950 the latest period for which data were available at the time of the hearing, there were over 21,300 producers. In contrast with the increased supply of milk on the market, the demand for Class I and Class II milk (excluding shipments to distant markets) under Order 41 has been relatively steady during the most recent 3½ year period. What increase there has been in the demand for Class I milk has been offset largely by a decrease in the demand for Class II milk.

Producer representatives acknowledge this change in the over-all relationship between the supply of and demand for milk. However, they emphasized that production started decreasing during the latter part of 1950 and they forecast a further decrease during the coming months, as compared with last year's level. They pointed to the fact that the price of milk has been relatively low in relation to certain other agricultural commodities such as beef animals and hogs, which are competitive with milk in part of the Chicago milkshed. They indicated that the prices of things farmers buy, such as feeds and machinery, have been increasing rather sharply. Attention was called to the tightening labor market resulting from high industrial activity in nearby cities, the high wage rates in industry, and the need for manpower by the armed services. It was contended that numerous dairy farmers in the Chicago market are disbursing their herds as a result of these factors.

The relationship between prices for milk as compared with other agricultural commodities, the current prices of things that farmers buy, and the short supply of farm labor, are not problems confined to the Chicago market or to any other fluid milk market alone, but rather are problems confronting the dairy industry as a whole. They indicate the propriety of a readjustment in the general level of dairy prices. In the past few months such a readjustment has been taking place. It was pointed out at the hearing that the prices paid by condenseries and certain other manufacturing milk plants had advanced materially in recent weeks. Official notice is taken of the recently announced increase in support prices for dairy products designed to encourage additional milk production nationally. These increases had not been reflected to any large extent in the prices that the producers serving the Chicago metropolitan area had received up to the time of the hearing. However, the effects have been felt since that time. To the extent that subsequent changes occur in the prevailing prices of manufactured dairy products, they will of course be reflected in the prices that producers supplying Chicago will receive for their milk because of the basic formula price provisions.

The seasonality of the supply-demand relationship is a factor that also must be considered in determining the appropriate level of the Class I and Class II price differentials. During the period Order 41 has been in effect, the production of milk consistently has varied more than the consumption of Class I and Class II milk products in the Chicago marketing area. An adequate supply of milk during the low production months of August, September, October and November has generally been accompanied by a substantial seasonal surplus of milk during the other months of the year. In this connection it may be noted that the relationship between the supply and demand for milk in the Chicago area in the season of low production has been aggravated by the fact that a number of fluid milk markets located a considerable distance from Chicago have purchased fluid milk and cream from handlers under Order 41 to supplement local sources of supply. These purchases are heavily concentrated in the fall months of production, with sales in the spring months being nearly negligible as a percentage of total market sales. Furthermore, the quantities of milk disposed of to distant markets during the fall months vary greatly in volume from year to year.

Order 41 provides seasonal variations in Class I and Class II price differentials to encourage producers to change their pattern of production to conform more closely with the pattern of demand. The seasonal variation in the Class II price differentials also is designed to encourage handlers to store frozen cream during the flush season for use in ice cream during the short production season to assist in easing the fall demands on current milk production. A difference of opinion exists among representatives of the industry as to whether or not the seasonal Class I and Class II price differentials employed in the past have significantly affected the seasonal pattern of production. Some producer representatives contended that data for recent years indicate that production is becoming more uniform throughout the year. Each proposal, except the proposal made in connection with the base-excess plan, would widen the difference in prices between the season of peak production and the season of low production. Other producer representatives contend that seasonal differentials have not worked satisfactorily and that a base and excess plan should be adopted (a discussion of this proposed plan is contained elsewhere in this decision).

From an examination of the record, it appears that the prices received by Chicago area producers since the fall of 1947 have been sufficiently above those received by farmers shipping milk to manufacturing plants to attract and maintain an adequate supply of milk for the Chicago metropolitan area. This does not mean, of course, that the prevailing Class I and Class II price differentials necessarily will be sufficient to produce this result in the future. The change in the trend in production during the latter part of 1950 and the concern of producers over the possibility that an adequate supply of milk will not be available during the fall of 1951 unless the Class I and Class II differentials are increased, points to the need for a method of adjusting these differentials promptly in the event the relationship between supply and demand indicates that supplies may not be adequate.

A reliable indicator of the relationship between supply and demand is the experience of recent months. After examining a number of flexible premium differential plans, it has been concluded that one based upon experience during the most recent 6-months for which data are available would be the most satisfactory for adoption in the Chicago market at this time. Such a period of time would reflect trends in the supply-demand relationship; a shorter period would at times give undue weight to short-time factors, such as abnormal weather conditions, whereas a longer period of time would result in a considerable lag in price changes following the appearance of a change in the trend of the relationship between supply and demand. The plan provides that the market administrator shall determine, during the latter part of each month, the relationship between receipts of milk from producers and the actual utilization of milk in Class I and Class II products during the most recent 6-months period. Sales of Class I and Class II milk outside the surplus milk manufacturing area would be excluded in this computation since they do not reflect the demands of the marketing area and are highly seasonal and irregular. The problems created by those sales are being dealt with separately. The quantity of milk contained in frozen cream or plastic cream moving into storage also would be excluded from the computation inasmuch as any milk used in the production of ice cream or other Class I or Class II products would be reflected in the utilization data at that time.

The percentage obtained by dividing the receipts of milk during the most recent 6-months period into the Class I and Class II utilization will be compared with a percentage specified in the order for a comparable 6-months period for previous years. There are 12 of these "base percentages" which have been obtained by computing a moving average relationship between the supply of milk and the utilization for Class I and Class II milk products beginning with August 1949–January 1950 and ending with July 1950–December 1950. Data for both the Order 41 and Order 69 marketing areas have been included in these computations. During 1949 and 1950 the combined supply of milk under both orders was reasonably adjusted to the combined demand for Class I and Class II milk products. Based upon experience during 1947 and 1948 the general level of production during the 1949 and 1950 period could have decreased somewhat before the market would have been extremely short of milk. On the other hand, if additional supplies of substantial volume had been available during 1949 and 1950, they would have indicated an oversupply and would have been somewhat burdensome to the market.

It is provided that for each percentage point that the "current supply and demand ratio" is above or below the base percentage, the following adjustments shall be made to the Class I and Class II price differentials for the applicable months: May and June, $0.02; July, August, September, October and November, $0.04; all other months $0.03. Such adjustments, however, are limited in their effect to a 30 cents per hundredweight increase or decrease and will not result in differentials of less than 50 cents for Class I milk and 30 cents for Class II milk at any time. In view of market experience lesser differentials would not be practicable in the foreseeable future. In addition, it is concluded that any change in price greater than 30 cents under the formula adjustment should result from review of the circumstances in hearing.

The experience of the past few years indicates gradual adjustments in the relationship between supply and demand. Assuming that the downward trend in production continues, this plan would result in higher Class I and Class II differentials during the middle and latter part of 1951. The seasonal variations in the amounts to be added to or subtracted from the Class I and Class II price differentials under the plan are designed to conform generally with the seasonal relationships existing in the present class price differentials. Under this plan the adjustments to the differentials can vary from one month to another. This should not result in difficulty, however, since monthly fluctuations in the Class I and Class II prices have been customary in the market. The basic formula price changed 46 times during the 48 months from January 1947 through December 1950; 26 of the changes were less than $0.10; 11 were between $0.10 and $0.20; and 9 were greater than $0.20. These changes resulted in corresponding changes in Class I and Class II prices. In view of this experience, it does not appear that any changes in the differential to result from the supply and demand adjustment should complicate the problems which confront handlers in establishing retail prices in relationship to order prices.

The present Class I and Class II price differentials for July are $0.20 and $0.10, respectively, lower than those for August through November. Milk production in the Chicago market reaches a maximum level for the year during May and June and decreases rather sharply during July and August. Production normally has reached a relatively low point during September and has remained at a low level during October and November. By December production is on the increase. The July Class I and Class II differentials therefore are being increased in line with those during August through November as an additional inducement to producers to follow the breeding and feeding practices necessary to accomplish relatively greater production in the season of low production.

The problem created by the seasonality and irregularity of sales to distant markets have been discussed at most of the recent hearings held in connection with Order 41. Although numerous proposals have been suggested as solutions to these problems Order 41 at present does not contain provisions specifically designed to alleviate them. Two proposals were presented in this connection. One of these provides that to be included in the Chicago pool a plant should be required to supply the needs of the Chicago market before shipments to distant markets might be made. Certain features of this proposal are being incorporated in the pool plant provisions adopted. The second proposal advocates that the Class I and Class II price differentials on milk disposed of outside the surplus milk manufacturing area be increased sufficiently to compensate producers for carrying the extra volume of surplus which occurs during the spring months if the supply of milk is to be adequate to fulfill the needs of the outside markets during the fall months. Based upon experience during 1950, proponents of the second proposal calculated that an additional $0.72 per hundredweight of Class I and II milk would have to be charged during the months of August, September, October and November to properly compensate producers for carrying such volume of surplus milk.

The evidence indicates that Chicago handlers have been at a disadvantage from a price standpoint in competing with distant markets for the available supply of Chicago approved milk, due in large measure to the premiums paid by purchasers in the distant areas. Such buyers, on the other hand, have been in a position to avoid responsibility for the seasonal surpluses associated with their short season purchases from Chicago plants. The price structure under the order should be designed to provide a sufficient supply of pure and wholesome milk for the marketing area. A shortage of milk for the marketing area appears likely if sales to distant markets are not retarded.

Although the figure suggested by producers necessarily would vary somewhat from year to year, it is concluded that $0.70 per hundredweight of milk disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk to markets outside the surplus milk manufacturing area during the four months referred to is a reasonable amount above the price level for the marketing area to obtain for the pool an appropriate value for the milk utilized to cover such distant sales and to remove a competitive disadvantage to Chicago handlers in procuring adequate supplies to meet the needs of the marketing area.

At the present time some Grade B milk is being disposed of under Order 69 and is priced separately from Grade A milk. Under the consolidation of Orders 41 and 69 this milk would be included in a separate pool. Some provision, therefore, must be made for pricing such milk. Order 69 provides that the Class I and Class II prices for Grade B milk shall be $0.10 lower than the corresponding prices for Grade A milk.

One objection to the continuation of this price difference was raised on the grounds that the resulting Grade B uniform price may not be sufficiently lower than the Grade A uniform price to induce producers to meet Grade A requirements in the future.

When Order 69 became effective in September 1944, less than 25 percent of the producers shipped Grade A milk. Seven years later, over 85 percent of the producers were delivering Grade A milk. The above price differential was in effect during all this period. It is concluded that under the combined order the existing relationship between Grade A and grade B Class I and Class II price differentials should be continued.

(6) The formula for pricing Class IV milk should be revised to employ prices of spray process nonfat dry milk solids in lieu of the average of prices of such solids by spray and roller process, but an automatic adjustment in the operating allowance in such formula based on a "labor-coal" index should not be provided.

Class IV milk under the Chicago (also the Suburban Chicago) order is priced by means of a formula based upon the yields and market prices of butter and nonfat dry milk solids with an operating allowance of 67 cents per hundredweight of milk used in such class. Class IV milk is principally milk utilized for butter and cheese manufacture.

Certain producer organizations proposed that the present formula be revised to provide for the automatic revision of the operating allowance as the price of coal and the wages of dairy plant labor change. Changes in the costs of labor and coal in the production of butter and nonfat dry milk solids would be reflected in the formula through the monthly application of certain index numbers to the designated manufacturing allowance. In support of the inclusion of a "labor-coal" index it was stated that there is a close relationship between the total cost of manufacturing butter and nonfat dry milk solids and creamery labor and fuel costs. Certain statistical exhibits were offered to support this contention. It was contended also that the varying "spread" between the effective prices for spray and roller process nonfat dry milk solids and their average should be taken into account in the formula by the inclusion of a further adjustment to the manufacturing allowance (the formula at present employs the average of spray and roller process nonfat dry milk solids prices). The latter contention was supported by reference to the discussion of such spread in the decision underlying the adoption of the formula now in effect.

It is recognized that the cost element may play an important part in the determination of individual plants to handle milk for Class IV purposes in any given period. It is likewise probable that for some plants engaged in the manufacture of butter and nonfat dry milk solids a high correlation may be shown between changes in labor-coal index numbers, such as proposed for use in the order, and changes in absolute costs for such plants, which correlation may extend over a period of several years. However, as stated in the Secretary's decision of February 24, 1950, official notice of which is taken, in which the basis for the current Class IV formula is discussed at length, it may be expected that "in the market such as Chicago, differences will exist between handlers in the cost of manufacturing surplus milk, in the yields they will obtain, and in the prices which are received for the same products. A handler with low yields, receiving low prices for his products, and having high costs of operation will receive a considerably lower return for surplus milk than a handler with high yields, higher prices, and low manufacturing costs. If the Class II price is such that the least efficient plant can break even then the most efficient plant may be in a position to make substantial profits". As in the case of the hearing record of November 1949, on which the present formula was adopted, the record now under consideration does not show for any plant on the market the overall returns recovered from Class IV operations or provide a basis for enabling a comparison of various plants engaged in a substantial way in the handling of milk for Class IV uses.

The proponents of the "labor-coal" index as a reflector of a changing cost position do not claim, and rightly so, that such an index would reflect absolute costs for any single plant or representative group of plants engaged in the manufacture of the products referred to in the formula. To the extent that costs are an element of consideration in the adoption of a formula or its revision, however, the absolute costs at representative plants are significant. Absolute costs are affected, however, by changes in operational efficiency which may result from various factors such as changes in plant techniques, improvements in machinery, changes in the volume of milk handled, or changes in allied operations such as the production of other products or the sale of milk or cream in fluid form.

Cost data for butter and nonfat dry milk solids manufacture may not be relied upon solely as the determinant of a reasonable operating margin for Class IV milk. In this connection it should be noted that the present operating allowance of 67 cents is not based entirely upon the cost data presented in the hearing of November 1949. The level of pricing appropriate for the products included in Class IV milk was considered also in light of returns for milk at unregulated plants making butter and powder and in relation to the need for milk supplies at regulated plants in other than Class IV uses. It is significant also that substantial quantities of milk are made into cheese, a Class IV product. Such factors have only an indirect, if any, relationship to actual costs of manufacturing butter and nonfat dry milk solids in regulated plants or to changes in the cost factors under consideration.

In establishing the present formula allowance consideration was given to the fact that the support price program for nonfat dry milk solids announced December 22, 1949 provided for a 2-cent spread between the support prices for roller and spray process nonfat dry milk solids in the period January 1950 through March 1951. The previous spread provided under the program had been 1.25 cents. It was pointed out at the time that "Under these circumstances, the use of an average spray-roller powder price is open to considerable question as an accurate indication of prospective returns to handlers. Both types of powder are made by handlers of Class IV milk under the order, although the record indicates that the volume of spray process powder may be larger than that of roller process powder. It is concluded that the average price should continue to be used in the formula as a measure of returns, but that some adjustment of the manufacturing allowance to be included in the formula should be made to recognize the fact that handlers of a considerable volume of Class IV milk will have available to them outlets more favorable than the average price by a greater amount than has previously been the case." For this reason a decrease of two cents per hundredweight was made in arriving at the amount of the allowance.

The present record indicates an accelerated trend within the milkshed in the direction of greater spray powder production as compared with the volume of roller powder made. In order to adapt the present formula to this condition it is concluded that prices of spray process nonfat dry milk solids should be used in lieu of the average of prices of spray and roller process nonfat dry milk solids. This change requires, of course, a compensating revision of the stated operating allowance. Since the present formula has been in effect, the spread between spray and roller powder prices has averaged 1.982 cents per pound (March-December 1950 data). The spray powder price has averaged higher than the average of spray and roller prices by approximately 1 cent per pound in this period. From this it is concluded that an offsetting increase from 67 to 75.2 cents per hundredweight in the stated operating allowance would be appropriate. Inclusion of spray powder prices alone in the formula removes the necessity for a formula adjustment based on monthly changes in the spread between spray and roller powder prices.

(7) (a) Ice cream, ice cream mix and other frozen dessert mixes produced from Grade A milk as defined in the order should be Class II milk.

It was proposed that ice cream, ice cream mix and other frozen dessert mixes be included in Class II milk if disposed of within the city of Chicago, but be included in Class III milk when disposed of in that part of the marketing area outside the city limits of Chicago. It was stated by the proponents of this proposal that a Class III milk classification for ice cream and such mixes sold outside Chicago is necessary to enable ice cream manufacturers using Chicago inspected (Grade A) milk, or products derived therefrom, in the production of their ice cream to compete in the suburban area on an equal price basis with ice cream manufacturers not required to use supplies of milk or products under Chicago inspection.

Cream and other milk ingredients for disposition in the form of ice cream and frozen desserts within the city of Chicago must be derived from Chicago inspected milk. Ice cream for disposition outside the city of Chicago but in communities within the defined marketing area under the consolidated order may be made from milk produced under less rigid health inspection requirements. Chicago ice cream manufacturers sell ice cream both in the city of Chicago and in suburban markets beyond the city limits. Chicago ice cream manufacturers compete for business in markets where ice cream makers do maintain Chicago inspection, but such outside ice cream makers may not compete for ice cream business within the city of Chicago. The Chicago ice cream maker operates with respect to the bulk of his ice cream sales on a market protected against outside competitors not handling Chicago approved ice cream.

It is concluded that ice cream, ice cream mix, and frozen desserts which are made from Grade A milk should be included in Class II milk. To classify the subject products produced from Chicago Grade A milk in Class III milk when sold outside the city limits of Chicago would return to producers for the milk therein less than an equivalent amount of milk utilized at a country manufacturing plant for evaporated milk or other Class III uses, since by use in Class III milk at the country location transportation costs to the marketing area on the volumes of milk (or cream) involved would be avoided. It would not be reasonable to permit Grade A milk which might be available for ice cream to be priced as Class III milk when it would return as much or more in manufacturing uses in the country. Prices to producers for milk meeting the Grade A standard should be designed to bring forth a sufficient supply of such milk to meet the demands for which it is required, but not to create undue surpluses of high quality milk or to provide regular supplies for milk products for which milk of different quality may be used. Similarly, ice cream made from Grade A milk under the inspection of other health authorities in the marketing area also should be classified as Class II milk.

(7) (b) Fluid skim milk which originates at a pool plant and is moved to a point outside the surplus milk manufacturing area, or to a plant where milk is priced under another Federal order or agreement issued pursuant to the act, or to an unregulated plant which is not engaged in processing butter, cheese, evaporated milk, condensed milk, whole milk powder, nonfat dry milk solids, casein, or ice cream powder, should be classified as Class I milk.

At the present time, skim milk disposed of in bulk in fluid form by handlers under Order 41 or Order 69 to plants of nonhandlers, is not classified as Class I milk unless the selling handler claims butterfat in skim milk. Under the latter circumstance, the quantity of Class I milk is determined by converting the amount of butterfat to its 3.5 percent milk equivalent. It was proposed that any skim milk disposed of to nonhandlers who are not engaged in manufacturing dairy operations should be classified as Class I milk on a volume basis. This procedure would be comparable to that now being followed in pricing fluid skim milk disposed of by handlers to the trade in the Chicago metropolitan area.

It is reasonable to assume that nonhandlers with plants located outside the surplus milk manufacturing area or in another Federal milk marketing area would not purchase fluid skim milk from Chicago handlers and transport it to their plants unless it was being used for Class I milk purposes. Similarly a non-handler whose plant is located closer to the market but who is engaged in fluid milk operations, probably would use fluid skim milk purchased from a handler in Class I milk products. At the present time producers do not receive any compensation for such sales over what they receive when skim milk is used for manufacturing purposes except in those cases where a very negligible quantity of butterfat is claimed in skim milk. The inclusion of such skim milk sales in the Class I milk definition and accounting for the quantities on a volume basis would result in producers receiving the same compensation for this skim milk as they received from handlers serving the Chicago area.

Much of the skim milk available to handlers serving the Chicago area is utilized in manufactured milk products covered by the Class III milk definition. The plants engaged in processing skim milk into these products are located in the surplus milk manufacturing area. Such skim milk should not be classified as Class I milk and provision is made that skim milk moved to an unregulated plant which manufactures certain milk products, including condensed skim milk, nonfat dried milk solids and casein, shall not be so classified.

(7) (c) The classification provisions should be revised to specify as Class II milk any bulk condensed or evaporated milk product containing more than 12 percent butterfat disposed of outside the surplus milk manufacturing area.

At the present time Order 41 provides that any cream product in fluid form which moves outside the surplus milk manufacturing area shall be classified as Class II milk. A mixture of cream and milk or skim milk is being condensed by handlers under such order. The final product tests more than 12 percent butterfat and normally is used in the production of ice cream mix. In order to clarify the basis for the classification of such a condensed product disposed of outside the surplus milk manufacturing area in accordance with the form in which it moves, it is deemed advisable to specify at what test such product would be considered as a cream product. Whole milk is normally condensed at a ratio of three to one, i. e., three parts of whole milk results in one part of bulk condensed milk. The resulting product usually contains less than 12 percent butterfat. It is reasonable to distinguish for classification purposes between condensed or evaporated milk in Class III milk and the cream product in question on the basis of whether its butterfat test is above or below 12 percent.

The Class II milk definition should be revised to include "powdered cream" and should not be revised to exclude "powdered ice cream mix."

Some cream is being powdered in plants located in the Chicago milkshed. There is no evidence that this product is being disposed of in the Chicago marketing area, although some Chicago approved milk may be used in its manufacture. The Chicago Board of Health has not yet made a definite ruling as to whether or not powdered cream sold in the city of Chicago must be made from Chicago approved milk but there is indication that this product will be required to be made from approved milk in order to be sold in the city. Inasmuch as the use of powdered cream is closely associated with fluid cream and fluid cream products in the trade and the latter are classified as Class II milk, powdered cream should be classified similarly.

A proposal was made to remove powdered ice cream mix from the Class II milk definition. In connection with this proposal it was stated that the Chicago Board of Health does not permit the commercial use of powdered ice cream mixes within the city limits. Since it has been concluded that all ice cream made from Grade "A" milk should be Class II milk, there does not appear to be reasonable basis for classifying powdered ice cream mix made from Grade "A" milk in a different class than fluid ice cream mix made from such milk. Consequently, the request for a change in classification is denied.

The Class IV milk definition should be revised to specify the classification of milk contained in products lost or destroyed in transit.

From time to time tank loads of milk or truck loads of cream become involved in highway accidents with the result that the product is spilled or destroyed. Similarly, packaged goods are sometimes lost or destroyed when being conveyed from the handler's plant to consumers or distribution outlets. Such losses do not fall within the category of normal losses encountered in operating a dairy plant. The quantities of milk or butterfat involved are subject to verification from police reports, insurance company investigations, and other information independent of the handler's books and records. It is not uncommon for handlers incurring such losses to base insurance claims upon the class price at which the milk is classified. Such losses would not usually result in a decrease in the quantity of Class I or Class II milk since the amounts lost are replaced by milk which otherwise would be used for manufacturing purposes.

The Class I milk definition should be revised to include fluid milk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drinks which have been concentrated but not sterilized.

During recent months a product referred to as "concentrated milk" has been introduced in a number of markets. This product is made by concentrating milk at low temperatures with a high vacuum. The product is not sterilized and is disposed of to consumers for consumption in fluid form by the addition of water or it may be used in the concentrated form as a cream substitute for coffee, cereals, etc. However, there can be no question but that promoters of the product foresee it as a direct and acceptable substitute for fresh milk sold in fluid form as a beverage. Promotional advertising emphasizes that it is pure, fresh milk with nothing but water removed. Further, it is contended that when water is added, the resulting product has all of the properties of and is indistinguishable from fresh fluid milk. At the time of the public hearing in January, this product had not been introduced into the Chicago area, but it was anticipated that an early introduction might be made inasmuch as some handlers had been doing experimental work with it. One of the large producer associations suggested that the Class I milk definition should be revised to specify this product. In support of such classification, it was testified that the concentrated milk obviously is designed to replace regular bottled milk in the trade and that producers should be compensated accordingly. In view of the above it is concluded that a Class I milk classification is proper.

The record indicates that fresh milk and a chocolate flavored milk drink are being concentrated by using low temperatures with a high vacuum, packaged in hermetically sealed cans, and then frozen, on an experimental basis. There was some disagreement as to the appropriate classification of these products. The handler experimenting with the frozen products proposed that they be classified as Class II milk. It was testified, however, that Chicago approved milk would be preferred for these products. Producer representatives proposed that they be classified as Class I milk on the basis presented in support of the classification of unfrozen concentrated milk.

It would be difficult to infer from the testimony that frozen concentrated milk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drinks would be more competitive with manufactured milk products made from milk from unapproved sources than with fresh fluid milk, flavored milk and flavored milk drinks. Moreover, a Class II classification would not be sufficiently high to warrant the cost of delivery of whole milk from country locations to the marketing area for concentrating. These frozen products are in form and are highly similar to regular bottled milk, chocolate milk, and chocolate milk drinks, and it is concluded they should be included in Class I milk.

In order to arrive at the amount of Class I milk in such products on a comparable basis with fluid milk or chocolate milk, it is necessary to revise the provisions dealing with the determination of the volume of milk in such class. It is provided that the amount of milk used to produce the concentrated frozen or unfrozen products be taken as the basis for determining the quantity in Class I milk. For the purpose of computing the location differential on such milk concentrated at country locations, however, the volume after concentration should be used in order that producers' price will not be reduced by allowances on a quantity not actually shipped. The revised Class I milk definition is not intended to change the classification of "evaporated milk" disposed of to the trade as a sterilized product in hermetically sealed cans, or "plain or sweetened condensed milk" disposed of to commercial food processors or in hermetically sealed cans. These products have been classified as Class III milk in the past and will continue to be so computed.

(8) The "base-excess" plan for making payments to producers should not be adopted.

A producers' organization proposed the inclusion of a base-excess method of payment to producers. Under the plan separate uniform prices would be computed for "base milk" and "excess milk."

A base-excess plan was employed in certain segments of the Chicago milkshed at one time by voluntary action of producers. Although the plan now proposed undoubtedly differs in its details and effect from the plan used several years ago, the record indicates that there would be strong opposition by a substantial proportion of the producers to the introduction at the present time of any base-excess plan in light of past experience. Spokesmen of producer associations representing a large majority of the producers at the hearing were opposed to adoption of the plan. Before such a plan of distributing returns to producers is adopted on a market-wide basis there should be full discussion among producers in the various parts of the milkshed. From the record there does not appear to be any substantial area of agreement among producer representatives concerning either adoption of the plan in principle or the specific provisions such a plan should contain. It does not appear that the particular plan proposed has been studied by producers generally as to its application in a milkshed as large as that of the Chicago market where marked differences in production conditions prevail between near-in and far-out sources, the zoning aspects of pricing, administrative workability, and related considerations. There is nothing in the order, however, to prevent any cooperative association from making payment to its member producers in accordance with a base and excess plan of its own design.

A representative of certain producer organizations expressing opposition to the plan presented the opinion of his group that some improvement toward more even production had been made under the seasonal plan of Class I and Class II price differentials, but that such differential plan had not had favorable opportunity to prove its effect in this respect because of the interference of war-time controls and the entrance of new producers into the market whose volume of milk has overshadowed the impact of such price differentials on the seasonability of production of the established producers.

In view of the above it is concluded that a base-excess should not be adopted as a result of this hearing.

(9) Certain changes of an administrative character should be made.

The classification provisions should be revised to limit the extent to which the market administrator must trace the utilization of milk disposed of to an unregulated plant located within the surplus milk manufacturing area.

Very few manufacturing facilities are maintained in the regulated plants of handlers under the order. Consequently surplus milk normally is disposed of to a plant where the pricing of milk is not subject to this regulation. The classification of milk disposed of to such an unregulated plant located within the surplus milk manufacturing area is presently determined on the basis of the ultimate utilization of the milk. Some milk is initially utilized in products such as condensed milk which is in the nature of an intermediary product and is ultimately used in a variety of finished products. The determination of ultimate use frequently must be made several months after the milk is received from producers since some products are stored during the flush production season and utilized later. Furthermore, it is not uncommon for such products to be distributed to a number of widely scattered users.

The present basis of determining the classification of milk disposed of to unregulated plants can result in charges to handlers which may be difficult to anticipate. A handler who has surplus milk to dispose of can determine within reasonable limits the first use of the milk. However, he frequently is not in a position to determine what use will be made of the product after it has been disposed of to subsequent processing plants. If the product is reused in another product of a higher classification, the milk is subject to reclassification and must be priced accordingly. In order to simplify the administration of the order and to give handlers assurance of a final classification of their milk within a reasonable time, the order is revised to specify that the classification of milk moving from a regulated plant to an unregulated plant located within the surplus milk marketing area shall be based upon its utilization at the first unregulated plant where the whole milk is processed into a product. After the milk moves from a regulated plant to an unregulated plant it cannot come back into Chicago to be sold for any product covered by the Chicago milk ordinance, and for most of the marketing area outside of Chicago this milk can be used only in certain manufactured products. In any case if milk moves to a handler in the market from an unregulated plant it would be under the other source milk provisions of the order.

The order should be revised to specify that in certain instances determination of the "rail distance" from the City Hall in Chicago to a regulated plant shall take into account a combination of rail and highway distances.

Since July 1940, Order 41 has provided that the zone location of plants shall be determined by the rail or highway distances, whichever is shorter, between the plant and the City Hall in Chicago. In determining rail distance, it is necessary to take into account the highway distance between the City Hall in Chicago and the appropriate city rail terminal in order to establish a common basis for ascertaining mileage to a central point in the marketing area. Also, not all country plants are located on rail lines and unless a combination of rail and highway mileage is used in determining their zone location from Chicago, some plants located equally distant from Chicago could be in different zones.

The market administrator has used a combination of highway and rail mileages in some cases in determining the location of country plants under Order No. 41. However, the highway distance from a plant to a railway loading point has been limited to short distances. Where alternative rail lines are available for shipping milk or cream to the market, the shorter rail distance has been used in the mileage determination. It has been found that, as a matter of practice, a combination of rail lines is not used for the shipment of milk or cream since the cost of this method of transportation is exorbitant. The order is revised to specify that under certain conditions highway mileage shall be taken into account in determining the rail mileage between a plant and the City Hall in Chicago. Distances up to 25 miles by highway for this purpose appear reasonable.

From time to time the distance between a plant and the City Hall may be changed due to revisions in the highway system or railway lines. The zone location of a plant should be subject to redetermination at all times, either on the market administrator's own initiative or upon the request of a handler. It would be unreasonable, however, to make such a change effective retroactively. The order should specify therefore that a retroactive determination shall not be made.

The producer definition should provide for the diversion of milk directly from the farm where produced to an unregulated plant during certain months of the year.

At the present time the producer definition under Order 41 permits milk to be diverted from the farm to unregulated plants at any time of the year. One proposal made would eliminate this feature of the definition. It was stated that in the past such provisions had been abused to some extent. A counter proposal was offered to maintain the diversion feature in the producer definition under the combined order. It was contended in support of the latter proposal that during the flush season of production it is more economical to transfer milk directly from the farm to unregulated plants. It was contended that during the short supply season occasional emergencies have arisen when it has been impossible to deliver the milk to a pool plant whereas delivery could be made to an unregulated plant.

In the past producers have been assigned to pool plants which did not receive the milk; rather the milk has been diverted regularly to unregulated plants. Such producers received the uniform price even though this milk at no time was used for Class I or Class II purposes. It is reasonable under present circumstances to require that milk be received at a pool plant during the months when it is most likely to be needed for Class I and Class II purposes. The producer definition should provide that diversion of milk from the farm to unregulated plants may be practiced only during the months of January through July. During the remaining five months of the year, a dairy farmer should be considered as a producer only on those days on which his milk is received at a pool plant.

The order should provide for a definition of "other source milk" and the manner in which such receipts would be deducted from the handler's total utilization of milk and milk products.

Order 41 and Order 69 both contain provisions for deducting from a handler's total utilization of milk the receipts of milk or milk products from sources other than producers or other handlers. Although Order 41 does not contain a definition of other source milk as such, it has a provision which requires that any receipts of such other source milk shall be deducted in series beginning with the lowest-priced milk. In the event the receipts are used for purposes which violate any regulations issued by the various health authorities in the marketing area, the handler is required to pay the difference between the value of such milk in accordance with its allocation and the value of such milk at the lowest announced price per hundredweight of milk applicable for the delivery period. In other words, there is a "compensatory payment" to producers through the market pool if a handler receives other source milk and uses it in violation of the applicable health requirements.

Order 69 contains two definitions entitled "other source milk" and "emergency milk" which cover the receipts of milk from sources other than producers, other handlers, and handlers under any marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for any fluid milk marketing area. The difference between these two definitions relate to the delivery periods covered and the basis of allocation: the emergency milk definition applies to the delivery periods of September through January and the other source milk definition applies to all other periods. Emergency milk is deducted from a handler's utilization on a pro rata basis whereas other source milk is deducted from a handler's utilization in series beginning with Class IV milk. Under Order 69 there is no compensatory payment to producers for either emergency milk or other source milk.

Proponents of the merger of Orders 41 and 69 proposed that the essential features of both orders pertaining to receipts of milk from sources other than producers or other handlers be incorporated in the resulting regulation. They proposed that the order contain a definition of emergency milk as well as a definition of other source milk. The proposed definitions were identical except that the emergency milk definition would apply to receipts during the delivery periods of August through November and the other source milk definition would apply to receipts during all other periods. Emergency milk would be subtracted from a handler's utilization on a pro rata basis, whereas other source milk would be deducted in series beginning with the lowest priced milk. These proposals were supported also by a representative of a group of handlers under Order 69. It was proposed that the compensatory payment feature of Order 41 be included to apply to any milk received from sources other than producers or other handlers used in violation of the applicable health requirements.

Certain data presented at the hearing show that during each month that Order 69 has been in effect, handlers under that order have received milk from producers, milk and cream from handlers under Order 41, and milk and milk products from sources other than those previously mentioned. The latter sources are plants where milk is not priced under any milk order issued pursuant to the act. At times Order 69 handlers have received considerable quantities of milk and cream from such unregulated sources. There was testimony, however, indicating that some of these receipts were obtained for manufacturing purposes and not as a supplement to the normal sources of supply for the purpose of meeting Class I and Class II milk requirements. The record indicates that the quantities of such receipts have tended to diminish during the most recent two-year period when receipts from Order 41 handlers were relied upon to a greater extent than previously to supplement the receipts from producers and other handlers under Order 69.

Provision is made in the order for a definition of other source milk. It does not appear necessary to include in addition a definition of emergency milk. It is provided that other source milk shall be deducted from a handler's utilization on a pro rata basis during the delivery periods of August through November. During all other months, other source milk will be deducted from a handler's utilization in series beginning with the lowest-priced milk. In the event a handler either uses other source milk for purposes which violate the requirements of an applicable health authority in the marketing area or receives other source milk from a pool plant under suspension, and such other source milk is allocated to Class I milk or Class II milk, the handler will be required to pay to producers through the pool an amount determined by multiplying the pounds of such Class I or Class II milk by the difference between the value as the appropriate class price and the value of such milk at the lowest announced price per hundredweight applicable for the delivery period. This is in part the same provision as is now contained in Order 41 and is designed to compensate producers for milk received from unregulated sources which is used for Class I or Class II purposes in violation of the applicable health requirements. Such compensation is appropriate inasmuch as producers under the order have incurred the necessary expense of meeting the applicable health requirements and the use of such other source milk in Class I or Class II products has the effect of reducing the producer returns since less of their milk is classified in the higher-priced classes and a larger quantity must be classified at manufacturing milk prices. The remainder of the provision is necessitated by the interaction of the provisions providing for the designation and suspension of pool plants.

A provision should be included to clarify the effect of the Chicago order with respect to milk which may be diverted also by another Federal order.

Milk may be disposed of within the Chicago marketing area (other than by milk processing or distributing plants) from a plant where milk received is covered by a marketing agreement or order in effect in another marketing area. Also, milk may be disposed of in a similar manner within another Federal marketing area from a plant regulated by this order. In such instances it is desirable to prevent duplication of regulation to the greatest possible extent and avoid possible conflict in the application of more than one order to the same milk. Instances have occurred in which milk originating in plants under the Chicago and Suburban Chicago orders has been sold in other regulated marketing areas. It appears from the record that handlers regulated under other orders may establish routes within the revised Chicago marketing area in the future. For these reasons a provision, which is self-explanatory, has been included under this section on application of provisions to deal with such situations.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order, as amended and as hereby further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on briefs. Briefs were filed on behalf of the Pure Milk Association (proponent), the Baldwin Cooperative Creamery et al., the Consolidated Badger Cooperative et. al., the Pure Milk Products Cooperative, the Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., the Committee for Order 69 Handlers, the Borden Company, the City Products Corporation, the Blochowiak Dairy et al., the Ice Cream Manufacturers' Association of Cook County, and the Pet Milk Company. The briefs contained proposed findings of fact, conclusions and argument with respect to the proposals discussed at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that such suggested findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the conclusions in this decision.

Recommended Marketing Agreement and Order

The following order is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not included because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the order:

DEFINITIONS

§ 941.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

§ 941.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or such other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers and to perform the duties of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 941.3 Chicago, Illinois, marketing area. "Chicago, Illinois, marketing area", hereinafter called the "marketing area" means the territory lying within the townships of Waukegan, Shields, West Deerfield, Deerfield and the city of Barrington, in Lake County; Cook and Du Page Counties; the townships of Dundee, Elgin, St. Charles, Geneva, Batavia, and Aurora in Kane County; the townships of Wheatland, Du Page, Plainfield, Lockport, Homer, Troy, Joliet, New Lenox and Frankfort in Will County, all in the State of Illinois; and the townships of North, Calumet and Hobart in Lake County, Indiana.

§ 941.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 941.5 Dairy farmer. "Dairy farmer" means any person who produces milk.

§ 941.6 Pool plant. "Pool plant" means any plant which meets the requirements of § 941.66 and is not under suspension pursuant to § 941.67.

§ 941.7 Producer. "Producer" means a dairy farmer whose milk is:

(a) Received at a pool plant directly from the farm where produced, or

(b) Qualified, upon satisfactory proof furnished to the market administrator, to be received at a pool plant and is caused by a handler to be delivered during part or all of the months of January through July, inclusive, for his account to a non-pool plant. Milk caused to be delivered pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to have been received at the pool plant from which diverted.

§ 941.8 Handler. "Handler" means any person who, on his own behalf or on behalf of others:

(a) Operates a pool plant,

(b) Processes or packages any Class I milk product, part or all of which is disposed of in the marketing area for consumption in fluid form,

(c) Processes or packages any Class II milk product which any applicable health authority requires to be made from approved milk, part or all of which is disposed of in the marketing area, or

(d) In a brokerage capacity, engages in buying milk, in bulk, from a person named in paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this section.

§ 941.9 Regulated plant. "Regulated plant" means a pool plant or a plant where any Class I milk product or Class II milk product which any applicable health authority requires to be made from approved milk, part or all of which is processed or packaged, part or all of which is disposed of in the marketing area.

§ 941.10 Market Administrator. "Market Administrator" means the agency which is described in § 941.20 for the administration hereof.

§ 941.11 Delivery period. "Delivery period" means the current marketing period from the first to the last day of each month, both inclusive.

§ 941.12 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative association of producers which the Secretary determines to have its entire activities under the control of its members, and to have and to be exercising full authority in the sale of milk of its members.

§ 941.13 Frozen cream. "Frozen cream" means cream which is held in an approved cold storage warehouse at an average temperature below zero degrees Fahrenheit for seven (7) consecutive days, as shown by charts of a recording thermometer.

§ 941.14 Grade A milk. "Grade A milk" means milk in fluid form labeled Grade A and milk from which milk in fluid form labeled Grade A may be obtained.

§ 941.15 Grade B milk. "Grade B milk" means milk other than Grade A milk.

§ 941.16 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means any milk or milk product (except those milk products covered by the Class III milk, Class III (a) milk, or Class IV milk definitions which are not reused in another product) received by handlers from sources other than (a) producers, (b) pool plants of other handlers not under suspension pursuant to § 961.67, or (c) plants where milk is priced under another order issued pursuant to the act for any other milk marketing area.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 941.20 Selection, removal, and bond. The agency for the administration hereof shall be a market administrator who shall be a person selected and subject to removal by the Secretary. The market administrator shall, within 45 days following the date upon which he enters upon his duties, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary.

§ 941.21 Compensation. The market administrator shall be entitled to such reasonable compensation as shall be determined by the Secretary.

§ 941.22 Powers. The market administrator shall have the power to:

(a) Administer the terms and provisions hereof;

(b) Report to the Secretary complaints of violations hereof;

(c) Make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions hereof; and

(d) Recommend to the Secretary amendments hereto.

§ 941.23 Duties. The market administrator, in addition to the duties hereinafter described, shall:

(a) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this part;

(b) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary at any and all times;

(c) Furnish such information and such verified reports as the Secretary may request;

(d) Obtain a bond with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(e) Publicly disclose, after reasonable notice, the name of any person who has not made reports pursuant to § 941.30, or made payments required by §§ 941.80 through 941.84, 941.86, 941.87, 941.88 (b).

(f) Prepare and disseminate, for the benefit of producers, consumers, and handlers, such statistics and information concerning the operation hereof as do not reveal confidential information;

(g) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer the terms and provisions of this part; and

(h) Pay, out of the funds received pursuant to § 941.86, the cost of his bond and of the bonds of such of his employees as handle funds entrusted to the market administrator, his own compensation, and all other expenses, except those incurred under § 941.87, which will necessarily be incurred by him for the maintenance and functioning of his office and the performance of his duties.

(a) Not later than the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, the prices for all classes of milk pursuant to § 941.52 and the differential pursuant to § 941.82.

(b) Not later than the 14th day after the end of each delivery period, the uniform prices computed pursuant to § 941.71.

REPORTS OF HANDLERS

§ 941.30 Submission of reports. Each handler shall report to the market administrator, in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(a) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period:

(1) The pounds and butterfat test of and the butterfat pounds in milk and milk products received from producers (including his own farm production), from other handlers, from plants under other Federal marketing agreements and orders, and as other source milk; and

(2) The utilization of all receipts of milk and milk products for the delivery period.

(b) On or before the 25th day after the end of each delivery period, his producer payroll, which shall show for each producer:

(1) The total delivery of milk with the average butterfat test thereof,

(2) The net amount of payment to such producer made pursuant to § 941.80 (b),

(3) Any deductions and charges made by the handler, and

(4) Such other information with respect thereto as the market administrator may request.

§ 941.31 Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose disposition of milk such handler claims classification, and by such investigation as the market administrator deems necessary. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of milk and, during the usual hours of business, shall make available to the market administrator such records and facilities as will enable him to:

(a) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk required to be reported pursuant to § 941.30, and, in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(b) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(c) Verify the payments to producers and to associations of producers as prescribed in §§ 941.80 and 941.88 (b).

§ 941.32 Retention of records. All books and records required under this part to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION OF MILK

§ 941.40 Basis of classification. All milk and milk products received by a handler (including his own farm production) shall be reported by the handler in the classes set forth in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That:

(a) Any milk moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form from a regulated plant to a plant at which the handling of milk is subject to pricing and payment under any marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for any other fluid milk marketing area shall be classified as Class I milk, and any milk so moved as cream in fluid form shall be classified as Class II milk. If satisfactory proof is furnished to the market administrator that such milk, skim milk, or cream was in excess of the total amount used in Class I milk or Class II milk, respectively (as defined in § 941.41), at the latter plant, such excess shall be classified according to its utilization. If this paragraph is applicable, then paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of this section do not apply.

(b) Any milk moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form from a regulated plant to any place located outside the following area (hereinafter referred to as "surplus milk manufacturing area"), shall be classified as Class I milk, any milk so moved as cream in fluid form, frozen cream, other cream frozen, plastic cream, powdered cream, or any cream product in fluid form, including any bulk condensed or evaporated milk product containing more than 12 percent butterfat, shall be classified as Class II milk, and any milk so moved as any other milk product containing butterfat shall be classified according to the form in which it leaves the plant of shipment: the State of Wisconsin; the counties of Stark, Marshall, Woodford, Livingston, Ford, Iroquois, Jo Daviess, Stephenson, Winnebago, Boone, McHenry, Lake, Carroll, Ogle, De Kalb, Kane, Cook, Du Page, Whiteside, Lee, Rock Island, Henry, Bureau, Putnam, La Salle, Kendall, Grundy, Will, Kankakee, Peoria, McLean, Champaign, and Shelby, in the State of Illinois; the counties of Benton, White, Cass, Miami, Howard, Carroll, Tippecanoe, Tipton, Clinton, Fountain, Warren, Parks, Vermillion, Vigo, Sullivan, Lake, Newton, Porter, Jasper, La Porte, Starke, Pulaski, St. Joseph, Marshall, Fulton, Kosciusko, Wabash, and Elkhart, in the State of Indiana; the counties of Ottawa, Kent, Allegan, Barry, Calhoun, St. Joseph, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Cass, and Berrien, in the State of Michigan, and the county of Van Wert in the State of Ohio.

(c) Any milk moved as milk, skim milk, or cream in fluid form from a regulated plant to an unregulated plant located within the surplus milk manufacturing area, which manufactured during the delivery period butter, cheese (except cottage cheese), evaporated milk, condensed milk or skim milk, whole milk powder, nonfat dry milk solids, casein or ice cream powder shall be classified under § 941.41 according to its utilization at the latter plant, as shown by adequate daily records: Provided, That: (1) If in the unregulated plant such receipts from a regulated plant are commingled with its other receipts, the receipts of the regulated milk or skim milk shall be allocated, according to such daily records, to the available quantity of Class III (a) milk, Class III milk, Class IV milk, Class II milk, and Class I milk, in that sequence; and any such receipts of regulated cream shall be allocated to Class IV milk, Class III milk, Class III (a) milk, Class II milk, and Class I milk, in that sequence; and (2) if the unregulated plant does not make available to the market administrator adequate utilization records on a daily basis, but does make available to the market administrator adequate utilization records on a monthly basis, the milk received from a regulated plant shall be allocated to the available quantity of Class I milk, Class II milk, Class III milk, Class III (a) milk and Class IV milk, in that sequence; and the cream received from a regulated plant shall be allocated to the available quantities of Class II milk, Class III milk, Class III (a) milk, Class IV milk, and Class I milk, in that sequence.

(d) Any milk moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form from a regulated plant to any unregulated plant located within the surplus milk manufacturing area which did not manufacture any of the products named in paragraph (c) of this section during the delivery period shall be classified as Class I milk, and any milk so moved as cream in fluid form shall be classified as Class II milk.

(e) Any milk moved from a regulated plant to a regulated plant of another handler shall be reported as Class I milk if moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form, and shall be reported as Class II milk if moved as cream in fluid form, unless utilization in another class is indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 10th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transfer was made, but in no event shall the amount so reported in any class exceed the total used in such class by the receiving handler.

§ 941.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 941.40, 941.42, 941.43, 941.44, and 941.45, the classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all milk and milk products (1) disposed of in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drinks, (2) disposed of as concentrated (including frozen) milk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drinks not sterilized and not otherwise specified under paragraph (c) of this section, and (3) not accounted for (i) under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, and (ii) as Class II milk, Class III milk, Class III (a) milk, and Class IV milk, except that this definition shall not include milk disposed of in bulk as any product mentioned in subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph to bakeries, soup companies, and candy manufacturing establishments in their capacity as such.

(b) Class II milk shall be all milk and milk products the butterfat from which is contained in sweet or sour cream and cream product in fluid form having more than 6 percent butterfat, butter cream filled cream, frozen cream, plastic cream, powdered cream, eggnog, yogurt, ice cream, ice cream mix (liquid or powder), cottage cheese, and any other milk product of composition and texture similar to any of the products named in this paragraph, except that this definition shall not include butterfat

(1) In cream or cream products in fluid form, powdered cream, filled cream, and cottage cheese disposed of in bulk to bakeries, soup companies, and candy manufacturing establishments in their capacity as such; and

(2) Derived from Grade B milk and used in frozen cream, plastic cream, ice cream, and ice cream mix (liquid or powder) if such use is not in violation of the applicable health requirements.

(c) Class III milk shall be all milk and milk products the butterfat from which is contained in:

(1) Condensed milk or skim milk (sweetened or unsweetened) disposed of to commercial food processors, sweetened condensed milk in hermetically sealed cans, evaporated milk, and nonfat dry milk solids (the products specified in this subparagraph are referred to hereinafter as Class III (a) milk);

(2) Any other product not included in Class I milk, Class II milk, or Class IV milk;

(3) Products disposed of in bulk to bakeries, soup companies and candy manufacturing establishments pursuant to the exceptions in paragraphs (a) and (b) (1) of this section; and

(4) Frozen cream, plastic cream, ice cream, and ice cream mix (liquid or powder) referred to in the exception in paragraph (b) (2) of this section.

(d) Class IV milk shall be all milk and milk products the butterfat from which is:

(1) Contained in butter, cheese (except cottage cheese), inventory variations, and products lost in transit by a handler; and

(2) Actual shrinkage, but in an amount not to exceed one-half percent of the total pounds of butterfat received directly from producers plus 1½ percent of the total pounds of butterfat in bulk milk, skim milk, and cream in fluid form received at a regulated plant from all sources which were not disposed of in bulk to a regulated plant of another handler: Provided, That such shrinkage shall be allowed in this class only if records of utilization satisfactory to the market administrator are available.

§ 941.42 Responsibility of handlers. In establishing classification the responsibility of handlers shall be as follows: Any milk received from producers shall be classified as Class I milk unless the handler who receives such milk directly from producers proves to the satisfaction of the market administrator that such milk should be classified in another class without regard to whether such milk has been used or disposed of (whether in original or other form) by such handler(s), or by any unregulated plant(s).

§ 941.43 Correction of classification and reclassification. (a) The classification of any milk or milk product shall be corrected by the market administrator if upon his audit it is found that such classification was reported incorrectly or incompletely by the handler.

(b) Any milk or milk product reported by a handler as having been used or disposed of in any class which is found by the market administrator to have been reused or redisposed of (whether in original or other form) in a different class by such handler, by any other handler, or by the first unregulated plant engaged in processing milk products, located within the surplus milk manufacturing area to which such milk or product was moved, shall be reclassified by the marketing administrator in accordance with such latter use or disposition: Provided, however, That any classification made pursuant to § 941.40 (a), (b), (c), and (d) shall not be subject to reclassification.

(c) If, in the application of paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, the ultimate use or disposition of the affected milk or milk product was at a plant receiving milk or milk products from more than one handler, the market administrator may assign the change, or correction, in classification to the major supplying handler(s), but not to an extent greater than the amount received from such supplying handler(s).

(d) If the application of paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section discloses a higher classification than that reported pursuant to § 941.30 (a) with respect to milk or milk products received by a handler from a cooperative association, the market administrator shall notify the receiving handler of such change and of the amount of money involved and such handler within five days thereafter shall pay such amount to the cooperative association.

§ 941.44 Computation of milk in each class. For each delivery period, each handler, with respect to all milk and milk products received by him (including his own farm production), shall compute, in the manner and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, the amounts in each class, as follows:

(a) Determine the total pounds of milk and milk products received from producers (including such handler's own farm production), from other handlers, from plants under other Federal marketing agreements or orders, and as other source milk, and add together the resulting amounts;

(b) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: Multiply by their respective average butterfat test the weights of milk and milk products received from producers (including such handler's own farm production), from other handlers, from plants under other Federal marketing agreements or orders, and as other source milk, and add together the resulting amounts;

(c) Determine the total pounds of Class I milk as follows:

(1) Convert to pounds on the basis of 2.15 pounds per quart (in case of nonconcentrated flavored milk and flavored milk drinks 2 pounds per quart) the volume disposed of in each of the several items of Class I milk, except in the case of converting milk, flavored milk or flavored milk drinks in concentrated form such conversion shall apply to the volume of milk used in the production of the concentrated product rather than to the volume of finished product.

(2) Multiply each of the resulting amounts by its average butterfat test (in the case of flavored milk and flavored milk drinks the test to be used shall be the average fat test of the finished product if the handler's production records do not show the amount of butterfat contained therein); and add the results so obtained.

(3) If the total pounds of butterfat so computed when added to the sum of the pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraphs (d) (2), (e) (2), and (f) (7) of this section are less than the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, divide the difference by .035; and

(4) Add together the results obtained pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (3) of this paragraph;

(d) Determine the total pounds of Class II milk as follows:

(1) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several items of Class II milk by its average butterfat test;

(2) Add together the resulting amounts; and

(3) Divide the result obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by .035;

(e) Determine the total pounds of Class III milk (with Class III (a) milk items computed separately) as follows:

(1) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several items of Class III milk by its average butterfat test;

(2) Add together the resulting amounts; and

(3) Divide the result obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by .035;

(f) Determine the total pounds in Class IV milk as follows:

(1) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several items of Class IV milk (other than inventory variation) by its average butterfat test;

(2) Determine the difference in pounds of butterfat contained in inventories at the beginning and end of the delivery period;

(3) Add together the pounds of butterfat obtained in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph;

(4) Add the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraphs (c) (2), (d) (2), and (e) (2) of this section to the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph;

(5) Subtract the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (4) of this paragraph from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, and the difference is the pounds of butterfat in actual shrinkage unless such difference is a minus quantity, in which case the butterfat shrinkage is zero for purposes of all computations required by this section;

(6) Determine the maximum number of pounds of butterfat shrinkage in Class IV milk by multiplying by 1½ percent the pounds of butterfat in bulk milk, skim milk, or cream in fluid form received at a regulated plant from all sources which were not disposed of in bulk to other handlers, and adding such amount to the result obtained by multiplying by ½ percent the pounds of butterfat received directly from producers: Provided, That the pounds determined pursuant to this subparagraph shall be zero if records of utilization satisfactory to the market administrator are not available;

(7) Add to the amount computed pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph the smaller of the amounts determined pursuant to subparagraphs (5) and (6) of this paragraph;

(8) Divide the pounds of butterfat obtained in subparagraph (7) of this paragraph by .035; and

(g) Determine the pounds of overrun as follows: In the event the pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (f) (4) of this section are greater than the pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, subtract the smaller amount from the larger amount and divide the result by .035.

§ 941.45 Allocation of classified milk. The pounds remaining in each class after making the following computations shall be the pounds of producer milk in such class:

(a) Subtract pro rata from the pounds in each class, the pounds of milk received from the handler's own farm production;

(b) Subtract from the remaining pounds in each class, the pounds of milk and milk products received from other handlers and assigned to such class (§ 941.40 (e));

(c) Subtract from the remaining pounds in each class, the pounds of milk equivalent of frozen cream or any other product that has been classified in an earlier delivery period and used in such class in the current delivery period;

(d) Subtract from the remaining pounds in each class, the pounds of milk and milk products received in packaged form from a handler under another Federal order and used in such class; the pounds of bulk milk and skim milk in fluid form received from such source, from Class I milk; and the pounds of milk equivalent of bulk cream in fluid form received from such source, from Class II milk;

(e) Subtract, in the case of other source milk received in the form of a product named in Class III milk, Class III (a) milk or Class IV milk, the pounds of such other source milk used as Class I milk and Class II milk, respectively, from the remaining pounds in the class of use;

(f) Subtract for the delivery periods of December through July, inclusive, from the remaining pounds in each class (except the pounds in inventory variation and shrinkage) in series beginning with the lowest-priced class, the pounds of other source milk not deducted pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section;

(g) Subtract for the delivery periods of August through November, inclusive, pro rata from the remaining pounds in Classes II, III, III (a) and IV (except the pounds in inventory variation and shrinkage) the pounds of other source milk received in products other than milk in fluid form and those items deducted pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section;

(h) Subtract, for the delivery periods of August through November, inclusive, pro rata from the remaining pounds in each class (except the pounds in inventory variation and shrinkage) the pounds of other source milk received in the form of milk;

(i) Subtract from the remaining pounds in each class in series beginning with the lowest-priced class, the pounds of overrun;

(j) If after making the applicable deductions pursuant to paragraphs (a) through (i) of this section, inclusive, the amount of Class I milk plus the 18 percent cream equivalent of butterfat remaining in the pounds in Class II, III, III (a), and IV milk is greater than the amount of milk received from producers, deduct the difference from the remaining amount of Class I milk; and

(k) In the event the total pounds remaining in the several classes are greater, or less, than the pounds of milk received from producers (excluding the handler's own production) reconciliation shall be effected by respectively deducting such difference from, or adding such differences to, the class to which the lowest announced price is applicable.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 941.50 Basic formula price. The basic formula price to be used in computing the prices for Class I milk and Class II milk for each delivery period shall be the higher of the prices for Class III milk and Class IV milk as computed by the market administrator pursuant to paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 941.52 for the delivery period next preceding.

§ 941.51 Supply and demand ratio. On or before the last day of each delivery period the market administrator shall make the following computations based upon information obtained from handlers' reported receipts and utilization:

(a) Determine the total receipts of Grade A milk from all producers (including receipts from own farm production) for the most recent 6-month period and divide the result by 6;

(b) Determine the total pounds of Grade A milk actually utilized in Class I milk and Class II milk products during the most recent 6-month period and subtract therefrom (1) the amount of Class I and Class II milk disposed of in bulk outside the surplus milk marketing area, and (2) the amount of Class II milk represented by frozen cream and plastic cream moving into storage during such 6-month period, and divide the result by 6;

(c) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (b) by the amount obtained in paragraph (a) of this section and round to the nearest full percent, which resulting percentage shall be known as the "current supply-demand ratio";

(d) Determine the number of percentage points that the current supply-demand ratio is above or below the percentage for the corresponding 6 months' period appearing in the following schedule:

Months included in supply-demand ratio computation	Percent	Delivery period subject to adjustment
January through June	62	August.
February through July	62	September.
March through August	64	October.
April through September	67	November.
May through October	71	December.
June through November	76	January.
July through December	81	February.
August through January	79	March.
September through February	76	April.
October through March	72	May.
November through April	68	June.
December through May	64	July.

(e) In making the computations specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the market administrator shall use the reported receipts and utilization of handlers of Grade A milk under both Orders 41 and 69 when it is necessary to use data for delivery periods prior to the effective date of this section.

§ 941.52 Class prices. Subject to the appropriate location adjustment credits, as set forth in § 941.53, each handler, at the time and in the manner set forth in § 941.80, shall pay per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period from producers or from cooperative associations, not less than the prices set forth below in this section:

(a) Class I milk. (1) The price for Grade A Class I milk, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be the basic formula price plus the following amount for the delivery periods indicated: May and June, $0.50; July, August, September, October, and November, $0.90; all others, $0.70: Provided, That for each percent that the most recently computed supply-demand ratio is greater or less than the applicable percentage contained in the schedule in § 941.51 (d), the Class I price shall be increased or decreased, respectively, by the following amount for the delivery period indicated: May and June, $0.02; July, August, September, October, and November, $0.04; all others $0.03: Provided further, That any adjustment made pursuant to the above proviso in this subparagraph shall be limited to 18 cents in May and June; 30 cents in the July–November period; and 24 cents in all other delivery periods; but in no event shall the Class I price differential computed pursuant to this subparagraph be less than 50 cents.

(2) The price for Grade B Class I milk, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be the price for Grade A Class I milk less $0.10.

(3) Grade A or Grade B Class I milk moved in bulk to any place outside the surplus milk manufacturing area during any of the delivery periods of August, September, October, or November, shall be classified separately and its price shall be $0.70 higher than the prices otherwise computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2), respectively, of this paragraph.

(b) Class II milk. (1) The price for Grade A Class II milk, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be the basic formula price plus the following amount for the delivery periods indicated: May and June, $0.30; July, August, September, October, and November, $0.50; all others, $0.40; Provided, That such amount for the delivery period shall be adjusted by the amount of any adjustment made in the Class I price differential pursuant to the provisos of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph; but in no event shall the Class II price differential computed pursuant to this subparagraph be less than 40 cents in the July–November period or less than 30 cents in all other delivery periods.

(2) The price for Grade B Class II milk, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be the price for Grade A Class II milk less $0.10.

(3) Grade A or Grade B Class II milk moved in bulk to any place outside the surplus milk manufacturing area during any of the delivery periods of August, September, October, or November, shall be classified separately and its price shall be $0.70 higher than the price otherwise computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2), respectively, of this paragraph.

(c) Class III milk. The price per hundredweight for Class III milk shall be the highest of the prices resulting from the respective formulas set forth in (1) and (2) of this paragraph and in paragraph (d) of this section: Provided, That the price resulting from the formula set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall apply at all times to Class III (a) milk.

(1) The average of the prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for such delivery period to farmers for milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat delivered during such delivery period at each of the following listed manufacturing plants or places for which prices are reported to the United States Department of Agriculture or to the market administrator:

Companies and Location

Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(2) The price per hundredweight computed from the following formula:

(i) Multiply the simple average as computed by the market administrator, of the daily average wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture during the delivery period, by 6;

(ii) Add 2.4 times the simple average, as published by the United States Department of Agriculture, of the prices determined per pound of "Cheddars" on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, for the trading days that fall within the month;

(iii) Divide by 7;

(iv) Add 30 percent thereof; and

(v) Multiply by 3.5.

(d) Class IV milk. The price per hundredweight for Class IV milk shall be that computed from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 4.24 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade AA (93-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture during the delivery period: Provided, That if no price is reported for Grade AA (93-score) butter, the highest of the prices reported for Grade A (92-score) butter for that day shall be used in lieu of the price for Grade AA (93-score) butter;

(2) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of carlot prices per pound for spray process nonfat dry milk solids, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding delivery period through the 25th day of the current delivery period, by the United States Department of Agriculture; and

(3) From the sum of the results arrived at under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph subtract 75.2 cents.

§ 941.53 Location adjustment credits to handlers. (a) The location adjustment credit with respect to that portion of milk received directly from producers at a pool plant (1) which is moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form from such pool plant to a regulated plant which is located less than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, or (2) which is classified as Class I milk but did not move in the manner described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph or in paragraph (b) (1) of this section, shall be 2 cents per hundredweight (in the case of milk or skim milk shipped in concentrated form as a product under § 941.41 (a) (2) the allowance shall be computed on the volume of concentrated product) for each 15 miles or fraction thereof that such plant shipping is located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, but not to exceed a total credit of 42 cents per hundredweight: Provided, That there shall be no location adjustment credit with respect to Class I milk pursuant to § 941.41 (a) (3).

(b) The location adjustment credit with respect to that portion of milk received directly from producers at a pool plant (1) which is moved as cream in fluid form from such pool plant to a regulated plant engaged in the processing of any Class I milk or Class II milk product which is located less than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, or (2) which is classified as Class II milk but did not move in the manner described in paragraph (a) (1) of this section or in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, shall be ascertained by dividing the pounds of butterfat contained therein by 0.36 and applying to the result the applicable rate per hundredweight specified in the following table:

Distance from the Pool Plant to the City Hall in Chicago:	Cents per hundredweight
0 to 70 miles (zone 1)	0
70.1 to 85 miles (zone 2)	5
85.1 to 115 miles (zones 3 and 4)	10
115.1 to 160 miles (zones 5, 6, and 7)	20
160.1 to 220 miles (zones 8, 9, 10, and 11)	30
220.1 to 250 miles (zones 12 and 13)	35
250.1 to 310 miles (zones 14, 15, 16, and 17)	40
310.1 and over (zones 18 and over)	50

(c) The burden rests upon the handler who receives the milk from producers to prove to the market administrator that the conditions required for the receiving of location adjustment credits have been fulfilled.

APPLICATIONS OF PROVISIONS

§ 941.60 Handlers who are also producers. No provision hereof shall apply to a handler whose sole sources of supply are receipts from his own production and from other handlers, except that such handlers shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

§ 941.61 Payment for other source milk. In the event a handler uses other source milk for purposes which violate the requirements of an applicable health authority in the marketing area or other source milk originating from a plant under suspension pursuant to § 941.67, and such other source milk is allocated to Class I milk or Class II milk pursuant to § 941.55 (e), (f), (g), or (h), the market administrator in computing the net pool obligation for such handler pursuant to § 971.70 shall add an amount determined by multiplying the pounds of other source milk so allocated to Class I milk or Class II milk by the difference between the value at the appropriate class price and the value at the lowest announced price per hundredweight applicable for the delivery period.

§ 941.62 Payment for overrun. The market administrator, in computing the net pool obligation for each handler pursuant to § 941.70 shall add an amount determined by multiplying the pounds of overrun pursuant to § 941.44 (g) by the appropriate price pursuant to its allocation in § 941.45 (i): Provided, That if the handler did not receive milk directly from producers, an amount obtained by multiplying the quantity of overrun by the lowest announced price per hundredweight shall be subtracted from the amount obtained above in this section.

§ 941.63 Butterfat in skim milk. A handler may claim, for classification purposes pursuant to §§ 941.40 through 941.45 butterfat in skim milk disposed of to others or used in the manufacture of milk products by including the butterfat content of such skim milk in his report for the delivery period filed pursuant to § 941.30 (a) or by giving prior notification to the market administrator of his desire to do so. In the event that a handler does not have adequate records of the butterfat content of such skim milk, the market administrator shall use 0.06 percent as the butterfat content per hundredweight of such skim milk: Provided, That if the handler desires to discontinue accounting for butterfat in skim milk, or after discontinuing the accounting therefor desires to again account for the same, he may do so by notifying the market administrator in writing at least 30 days prior to the first day of the delivery period during which such change shall become effective.

§ 941.64 Separate classification of Grade A milk and Grade B milk. (a) Subject to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, Grade A milk and Grade B milk shall be separately classified.

(b) All milk received from producers at a plant from which any Grade A milk is disposed of shall be deemed to be Grade A milk unless such milk is identified and handled in accordance with the conditions set forth in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) In the case of milk received from producers at a plant which an applicable health authority has approved for receiving, processing, and distributing both Grade A milk and Grade B milk and the Grade A milk is received from producers specifically designated by the health authority as qualified to produce such milk, the market administrator shall determine the classification of Grade A milk and Grade B milk, respectively, in the following manner:

(1) If the handler operating such a plant maintains adequate accounts and records of quantities of each grade of milk and practices complete segregation of Grade A milk and Grade B milk receipts, the market administrator, in applying §§ 941.40 through 941.45, shall determine separate classifications for Grade A milk and Grade B milk in such plant.

(2) In the event adequate records are not maintained or complete segregation is not practiced, the receipts of Grade A milk shall be allocated to the available quantity of Class I milk, Class II milk, Class III milk, Class III (a), and Class IV milk, in that sequence.

§ 941.65 Determination of mileages. All mileages relating to location adjustment credits to handlers pursuant to § 941.53, location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 941.81, and payment for milk pursuant to § 941.80, shall be computed by the market administrator by rail or highway distance, whichever is shorter: Provided, That the rail distance shall be the sum of the following:

(a) The highway distance between the handler's plant and the railroad loading point (but not to exceed 25 miles);

(b) The rail distance by the most direct single rail line between the loading point and the rail terminal in Chicago; and

(c) The highway distance between the appropriate rail terminal and the City hall in Chicago.

(1) Mileage shall be subject to redetermination at all times and in the event a handler requests a redetermination of the mileages pertaining to any plant, the market administrator shall notify the handler of his findings within 30 days after receipt of such request.

(2) Any financial obligations resulting from a change in mileage shall not be retroactive for any period prior to the redetermination announced by the market administrator.

§ 941.66 Pool plant. "Pool plant" means any plant which receives milk from dairy farmers and which:

(a) Processes and packages any Class I milk product specified in § 941.41 (a) (1), all or a part of which is disposed of in the marketing area for consumption in fluid form, or

(b) Is approved by the Board of Health for receiving milk which may be disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk in Chicago, Illinois, and which is not the type of plant described in paragraph (a) of this section and is not under suspension as a pool plant pursuant to § 941.67; or

(c) Is not approved by the Board of Health of Chicago, Illinois, and which ships at least 50 percent of the butterfat received from dairy farmers as milk or cream in fluid form to a plant(s) described in paragraph (a) of this section. Any plant which fulfills this requirement for the months of September, October, and November of the same year shall be a pool plant until September 1 of the following year: Provided, That the milk received at the plant continues to be qualified under the applicable health requirements as a source of milk for the plants supplied by it during said months: And provided further, That the plant operator does not notify the market administrator that the plant should be withdrawn from the pool; in the event such notification is given, the plant will no longer be a pool plant, starting with the beginning of the delivery period following receipt of the notification by the market administrator, except during delivery period(s) in which the condition set forth in the first sentence of this paragraph is fulfilled.

§ 941.67 Suspension of pool plants. (a) Beginning in 1952 any plant described in § 941.66 (b) shall be suspended automatically as a pool plant, such suspension to be effective during each of the delivery periods of February through July inclusive of the next succeeding year, unless

(1) At least 50 percent of the butterfat in milk received from dairy farmers at such plant during each of the delivery periods of September, October, and November is (i) shipped as milk or cream in fluid form to a plant(s) which processes and packages Class I milk or Class II milk, all or part of which is disposed of in the marketing area, or (ii) disposed of from such plant as Class I milk or Class II milk within the surplus milk manufacturing area other than to a regulated plant.

(2) Such plant notifies the market administrator in writing not later than the 10th day of the delivery period in each of the delivery periods of September, October, and November that it is able and willing to ship as milk or cream in fluid form to any plant(s) which processes and packages Class I milk or Class II milk all or part of which is disposed of in the marketing area, at prices and terms therein stated, a specified amount of milk or cream in fluid form during the remaining portion of the delivery period covered by said notice, which together with such amount as it may have already utilized on its own premises or shipped to any such plant(s) in said delivery period, shall be not less than 50 percent of the butterfat received by it from dairy farmers during the preceding delivery period. Upon receipt of said notice, the market administrator shall forthwith make the offer and terms thereof public by transmitting the same to all handlers.

(b) The market administrator shall maintain at his office a list of plants (including plant location and name of operator) suspended pursuant to this section which shall be made available to any interested person upon request.

(c) Any milk received at a pool plant or by a handler from a suspended pool plant during the period of its suspension shall be other source milk.

§ 941.68 Milk under more than one Federal order. (a) Milk disposed of within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area (other than to a regulated plant) as any item of Class I milk or Class II milk from a plant receiving milk subject to the class price provisions of a marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for another marketing area shall not be subject to the class price provisions or to § 941.80 through § 941.88 of this part, except that if the price per hundredweight for the class of utilization under the other order is less than the price per hundredweight of the applicable class of utilization under this order with respect to such item(s) (each price to be adjusted to 3.5 percent butterfat content and by any applicable location differential), an amount of money representing the difference in such prices multiplied by the quantity (in the case of Class II milk items the 3.5 percent milk equivalent of butterfat) so disposed of within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area shall be paid to the market administrator by the handler operating such plant on or before the 16th day after the delivery period for deposit in the producer settlement fund (§ 941.83).

(b) Milk received from producers at a pool plant shall be exempt from the class price provisions and §§ 941.80 through 941.88 of this part if (1) the Secretary determines that the quantity of Class I milk, as defined in § 941.41 (a), disposed of from such plant to any outlet(s), other than a milk processing or milk distributing plant, in a marketing area defined in a marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for another marketing area is greater than the quantity of Class I milk disposed of from such plant within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, and (2) the milk at such plant would be subject to the class price and payment provisions of the other marketing agreement or order upon being made exempt from this order.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 941.70 Net pool obligation(s) of handlers. On or before the 14th day of each delivery period the market administrator shall examine for mathematical correctness and obvious errors the report of receipts and utilization submitted by each handler for the preceding delivery period and shall make such corrections as such examination shall indicate to be appropriate. A separate net pool obligation for Grade A milk and Grade B milk received from producers shall be computed for each handler (based upon his reports) as follows:

(a) Multiply the producer milk in each class by the applicable class price and add together the resulting amounts.

(b) Add the amount of any payments required to be made pursuant to §§ 941.61 and 941.62;

(c) Subtract all location adjustment credits computed pursuant to § 941.53; and

(d) Subtract 6¢ per hundredweight on all milk received from producers at a regulated plant located within the marketing area.

§ 941.71 Computation of uniform prices. The market administrator shall compute separate uniform prices per hundredweight of Grade A milk and Grade B milk for each delivery period. Each computation shall be made in the following manner:

(a) Combine into one total the net pool obligation of all handlers computed pursuant to § 941.70;

(b) Add the aggregate of all allowable location adjustments computed pursuant to § 941.81;

(c) Add an amount representing the unobligated cash balance in the applicable producer-settlement fund on hand at the close of business on the last day of the delivery period;

(d) Divide the result by the total hundredweight of producer milk of all handlers whose net pool obligations are included pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; and

(e) Subtract not less than 4¢ nor more than 5¢ as a producer-settlement fund reserve. The result shall be the uniform price per hundredweight (for the grade of milk involved) of milk containing 3.5 percent of butterfat received from producers at pool plants located more than 55 miles but not more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, Illinois.

PAYMENTS

§ 941.80 Time and method of payment for producer milk. (a) On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall pay to each cooperative association which is also a handler for milk received from it during the delivery period not less than the total value of such milk computed by multiplying the pounds of such milk in each class by the applicable class price subject to the location adjustment credit pursuant to § 941.53 and to a butterfat differential computed as in § 941.82, plus 4¢ per hundredweight if the milk was received from producers at a pool plant located within the marketing area and 2¢ if received at a pool plant located outside the marketing area and not more than 55 miles from the City Hall in Chicago.

(b) On or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall pay to each producer per hundredweight of milk received from him during such delivery period not less than the uniform price, subject to the location adjustment and butterfat differential provided by §§ 941.81 and 941.82: Provided, That if the milk was received from such producer at a pool plant located within the marketing area, an additional payment of 10¢ per hundredweight of such milk shall be made, and if the milk was received from such producer at a pool plant located outside the marketing area but not more than 55 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, an additional payment of 2¢ per hundredweight of such milk shall be made.

§ 941.81 Location adjustments to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 941.80 (b), each handler shall deduct per hundredweight of milk received from producers at a pool plant located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, 2¢ for each 15 miles, or fraction thereof, greater than 70 miles.

§ 941.82 Butterfat differential on producer milk. For each one-tenth of 1 percent above or below 3.5 percent in average butterfat content of milk delivered by any producer during any delivery period, the uniform price paid to such producer shall be plus or minus, as the case may be, an amount computed as follows: To the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which the milk was received, add 20 percent, divide the result obtained by 10, and adjust to the nearest $\frac{1}{10}$ cent.

§ 941.83 Producer-settlement funds. The market administrator shall establish and maintain separate funds known as "Producer-settlement funds" for Grade A milk and Grade B milk, respectively, into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to § 941.84 (including any adjustments thereto pursuant to § 941.88 (b) (1)); and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to § 941.85 (including any adjustments thereto pursuant to § 941.88 (b) (2)). Immediately after computing the uniform prices for each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the amount(s) by which each handler's net pool obligation(s) is greater or less than the sum obtained by multiplying such handler's producer milk by the applicable uniform price for Grade A milk or Grade B milk, subject to the location adjustment pursuant to § 941.81, and shall enter such amount(s) on such handler's account(s) as a pool debit or pool credit, as the case may be, and shall render such handler a transcript(s) of his account(s).

§ 941.84 Payments to the producer-settlement funds. On or before the 16th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make full payment to the market administrator for deposit in the appropriate producer-settlement fund of any pool debit balance(s) shown on the account(s) rendered, pursuant to § 941.83, for such delivery period.

§ 941.85 Payments out of the producer-settlement funds. On or before the 17th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler from the appropriate producer-settlement fund the pool credit balance(s) shown on the account(s) rendered, pursuant to § 941.83, for such delivery period, less any unpaid obligations of the handler, pursuant to §§ 941.84, 941.86, 941.87 (a), and 941.88 (b) (1). If at such time the balance(s) in the appropriate producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this section, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. A handler, who, on the 18th day of the month, has not received such payments in full from the market administrator shall not be deemed to be in violation of § 941.80 (b), if he reduces his total payments for milk delivered by producers during the preceding delivery period by not more than the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to § 941.80 (b) next following that on which such balance of payment was received from the market administrator.

§ 941.86 Expense of administration. As his prorata share of the expense of administration hereof each handler shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, an amount not exceeding 2¢ per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all milk received by him during such delivery period from producers, from his own farm production, and as other source milk allocated to Class I milk and Class II milk pursuant to § 941.45 (f), (g), and (h): Provided, That each handler which is a cooperative association shall pay such prorata share of expense of administration only on that milk of producers actually received at a pool plant of such cooperative association or caused to be delivered by such cooperative association to an unregulated plant.

§ 941.87 Marketing services. (a) In making payments to producers pursuant to § 941.80 (b), each handler, with respect to all milk received from each producer during each delivery period, at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producer is a member, shall, except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, deduct an amount not exceeding 3 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, and shall, on or before the 18th day after the end of such delivery period, pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such monies shall be expended by the market administrator for verification of weights, samples, and tests of milk received from such producers and in providing for market information to such producers. The market administrator may contract with an association or associations of producers for the furnishing of the whole or any part of such services to, or with respect to, the milk received from such producers.

(b) In the case of producers whose milk is received at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producers are members and for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, make such deductions from payments made pursuant to § 941.80 (b) as may be authorized by such producers, and pay over on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period such deductions to the associations rendering such service of which such producers are members.

§ 941.88 Adjustment of accounts. (a) Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, records, or accounts discloses adjustments to be made, for any reason, which result in monies due (1) the market administrator from such handler, (2) such handler from the market administrator, or (3) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any such amount due.

(b) Payments resulting from adjustments pursuant to (a) of this section shall be made on or before the next date for making payments to producers following notification by the market administrator or within 5 days following notification by the market administrator if payment is due (1) the market administrator from a handler, (2) a handler from the market administrator, or (3) any cooperative association which is a handler from another handler.

§ 941.89 Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this part for the payment of money irrespective of when such obligation arose, except an obligation involved in an action instituted prior to August 1, 1949, under section 9c (15) (A) of the act or before a court.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this order shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this order, to make available to the market administrator or his representative all books and records required by this order to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate two years after the end of the month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION OF ORDER

§ 941.90 Effective time. The provisions of this part, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to § 941.91.

§ 941.91 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this part or any provision hereof whenever he finds that this part or any provision hereof obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This part shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 941.92 Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(a) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall:

(1) Continue in such capacity until removed by the Secretary;

(2) From time to time account for all receipts and disbursements, and when so directed by the Secretary deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator or such person, to such person, as the Secretary shall direct; and

(3) If so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

§ 941.93 Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 941.100 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States, or name any bureau or division of the United States Department of Agriculture to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[17 CFR, Part 230]

PREPARATION AND FILING OF REGISTRATION STATEMENTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration proposals for the amendment of the following rules under the Securities Act of 1933 dealing with the preparation and filing of registration statements.

I. It is proposed to amend paragraph (b) of § 230.402 so as to provide that where a registration statement is typewritten, one of the signed copies filed with the Commission shall be the original "ribbon" copy. The rule as so amended would read as follows:

§ 230.402 Number of copies; binding; signatures. (a) Three copies of the complete registration statement, including exhibits and all other papers and documents filed as a part of the statement, shall be filed with the Commission. Each copy of the registration statement so filed shall be bound, in one or more parts, without stiff covers. The binding shall be made on the left-hand side and in such manner as to leave the reading matter legible.

(b) At least one copy of every registration statement filed with the principal office of the Commission and two copies of every statement filed with a regional office pursuant to § 230.455 (b) shall be manually signed by the persons specified in section 6 (a) of the act. If the registration statement is typewritten, one of the signed copies filed shall be the original "ribbon" copy. Unsigned copies shall be conformed.

(c) If any name is signed to the registration statement pursuant to a power of attorney, copies of such power of attorney shall be filed with the registration statement. In addition, if the name of any officer signing on behalf of the registrant is signed pursuant to a power of attorney, certified copies of a resolution of the registrant's board of directors authorizing such signature shall also be filed with the registration statement.

II. Section 230.403 (Rule 403), as presently in effect, requires that registration statements shall be printed, mimeographed or typewritten. It is proposed to amend paragraph (b) so as to permit statements to be lithographed or prepared by other processes which, in the opinion of the Commission, produce copies of the requisite clarity and permanence. This paragraph would also be amended to make it clear that photocopies of material will not be accepted for filing except where strict adherence to such requirement would cause hardship. The rule as so amended would read as follows:

§ 230.403 Requirements as to paper, printing and language. (a) Registration statements shall be filed on good quality, unglazed, white paper 8½ x 13 inches in size, insofar as practicable. However, tables, charts, maps and financial statements may be on larger paper if folded to that size, and the prospectus may be on smaller paper if the registrant so desires.

(b) The registration statement and, insofar as practicable, all papers and documents filed as a part thereof, shall be printed, lithographed, mimeographed or typewritten. However, the statement or any portion thereof may be prepared by any similar process which, in the opinion of the Commission, produces copies suitable for a permanent record. Irrespective of the process used, all copies of any such material shall be clear, easily readable and suitable for repeated photocopying. Debits in credit categories and credits in debit categories shall be designated so as to be clearly distinguishable as such on photocopies. Photocopies of material will not be accepted for filing except upon a showing that refusal to accept such photocopies would cause undue effort or expense.

(c) The registration statement proper shall be in the English language. If any exhibit or other paper or document filed with the registration statement is in a foreign language, it shall be accompanied by a translation into the English language.

III. Section 230.420 (Rule 420) provides that the body of all printed prospectuses, except for the financial data, shall be in type at least as legible as ten-point leaded type. It is proposed to amend the rule so as to make it clear that ten-point roman type is the minimum size of type which may be used and that such type must be at least two points leaded. The rule as so amended would read as follows:

§ 230.420 Legibility of prospectuses. The body of all printed prospectuses shall be in roman type at least as large as ten-point type and at least two points leaded. However, to the extent necessary for convenient presentation, financial statements and notes may be in roman type at least as large as eight-point type, at least two points leaded.

IV. Sections 230.425 and 230.426 (Rules 425 and 426) require certain statements to be set forth in the prospectus in capital letters in type at least as legible as ten-point boldface leaded type. It is proposed to amend these rules so as to make it clear that the required statements are to be in boldface roman type at least as large as ten point type and at least two points leaded. The rules as so amended would read as follows:

§ 230.425 Statement required in all prospectuses. There shall be set forth on the outside front cover page of every prospectus the following statement in capital letters printed in boldface roman type at least as large as ten-point type and at least two points leaded:

THESE SECURITIES HAVE NOT BEEN APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED BY THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION NOR HAS THE COMMISSION PASSED UPON THE ACCURACY OR ADEQUACY OF THIS PROSPECTUS. ANY REPRESENTATION TO THE CONTRARY IS A CRIMINAL OFFENSE.

§ 230.426 Statement as to stabilizing. If the registrant or any of the underwriters knows or has reasonable grounds to believe that the price of any security may be stabilized to facilitate the offering of the registered securities, there shall be set forth, either on the outside front cover page or on the inside front cover page of the prospectus, a statement in substantially the following form, subject to appropriate modifications where circumstances require. Such statement shall be in capital letters, printed in boldface roman type at least as large as ten-point type and at least two points leaded.

IN CONNECTION WITH THIS OFFERING, THE UNDERWRITERS MAY EFFECT TRANSACTIONS WHICH STABILIZE OR MAINTAIN THE MARKET PRICE OF (IDENTIFY EACH CLASS OF SECURITIES IN WHICH SUCH TRANSACTIONS MAY BE EFFECTED) AT A LEVEL ABOVE THAT WHICH MIGHT OTHERWISE PREVAIL IN THE OPEN MARKET. SUCH TRANSACTIONS MAY BE EFFECTED ON (IDENTIFY EACH EXCHANGE ON WHICH STABILIZING TRANSACTIONS MAY BE EFFECTED. IF NONE, OMIT THIS SENTENCE). SUCH STABILIZING, IF COMMENCED, MAY BE DISCONTINUED AT ANY TIME.

All interested persons are invited to submit data, views and comments on the above-mentioned proposals, in writing, to the Securities and Exchange Commission at its principal office, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 5, D. C., on or before May 24, 1951.

By the Commission.

REGISTRATION AND REPORTING

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration proposals to amend the following rules under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 dealing with the preparation and filing of applications and reports under that act:

I. Section 240.12b-11 (Rule X-12B-11) would be amended to require only three copies of applications and reports to be filed with the Commission unless additional copies are required by the instructions contained in the particular form. The existing rules require four copies of all such material to be filed with the Commission. The rule as so amended would read as follows:

§ 240.12b-11 Number of copies; signatures; binding. (a) Except as provided in a particular form, three complete copies of each application or report, including exhibits and all other papers and documents filed as a part thereof, shall be filed with the Commission. At least one complete copy of each application shall be filed with each exchange on which the securities covered thereby are being registered. At least one complete copy of each report under section 13 of the act shall be filed with each exchange on which the registrant has securities listed and registered.

(b) At least one copy of the application or report filed with the Commission and one copy thereof filed with each exchange shall be manually signed in the manner prescribed by the appropriate form. If the application or report is typewritten, one of the signed copies filed with the Commission shall be the original "ribbon" copy. Unsigned copies shall be conformed. If the signature of any person is affixed pursuant to a power of attorney or other similar authority, a copy of such power of attorney or other authority shall also be filed with the application or report.

(c) Each copy of an application or report filed with the Commission or with an exchange shall be bound in one or more parts. Copies filed with the Commission shall be bound without stiff covers. The application or report shall be bound on the left side in such manner as to leave the reading matter legible.

II. Section 240.12b–12 (Rule X-12B–12) at present requires applications and reports to be printed, mimeographed or typewritten. It is proposed to amend the rule so as to permit them to be lithographed or prepared by any similar process which produces copies of the requisite clarity and permanence. Further amendments would make clear that photocopies of material ordinarily will not be accepted for filing and would clarify the requirements with respect to the size of type to be used. The rule as so amended would read as follows:

§ 240.12b–12 Requirements as to paper, printing and language. (a) Applications and reports shall be filed on good quality, unglazed, white paper $8\frac{1}{2}$ x 13 inches in size, insofar as practicable. However, tables, charts, maps and financial statements may be on larger paper if folded to that size.

(b) The application or report and, insofar as practicable, all papers and documents filed as a part thereof, shall be printed, lithographed, mimeographed or typewritten. However, the application or report or any portion thereof may be prepared by any similar process which, in the opinion of the Commission, produces copies suitable for a permanent record. Irrespective of the process used, all copies of any such material shall be clear, easily readable and suitable for repeated photocopying. Debits in credit categories and credits in debit categories shall be designated so as to be clearly distinguishable as such on photocopies. Photocopies of material will not be accepted for filing except upon a showing that refusal to accept such photocopies would cause undue effort or expense.

(c) The body of all printed applications and reports shall be in roman type at least as large as ten-point type and at least two points leaded. However, to the extent necessary for convenient presentation, financial statements and notes may be in type at least as large as eight-point type, at least two point leaded.

(d) Applications and reports shall be in the English language. If any exhibit or other paper or document filed with an application or report is in a foreign language, it shall be accompanied by a translation into the English language.

III. Sections 240.13a–13 and 240.15d–13 (Rules X-13A–13 and X-15D–13), which relate to the filing of quarterly reports of gross sales and operating revenues, would be amended so as to make it clear that such reports are required to be filed by title insurance companies. They now provide that such quarterly reports need not be filed by an "insurance company". This language would be changed to read any "insurance company (other than title insurance companies)". The rules as so amended would read as follows:

§ 240.13a–13 Quarterly reports of other companies. (a) Every issuer which has securities listed and registered on a national securities exchange and which is required to file annual reports on Form 10–K (17 CFR 249.310) or U5S (17 CFR 259.5s) or to file a report on one of such forms as Part II of Form 16–K (17 CFR 249.316), shall file a quarterly report on Form 9–K (17 CFR 249.309) for each fiscal quarter ending after the close of the latest fiscal year for which financial statements were filed in the issuer's application for registration.

(b) Such reports shall be filed not more than 45 days after the end of the fiscal quarter for which they are filed. However, the report for any fiscal quarter ending prior to the date on which securities of the issuer first become effectively registered on a national securities exchange may be filed not more than 45 days after the effective date of such registration.

(c) This section shall not apply to any bank, bank holding company, insurance company (other than title insurance companies), investment company, common carrier, public utility company, or any company primarily engaged in the production and sale of a seasonal, single-crop agricultural commodity.

§ 240.15d–13 Quarterly reports of other companies. (a) Every issuer which is required to file annual reports on Form 10–K (17 CFR 249.310) or U5S (17 CFR 259.5s) shall file a quarterly report on Form 9–K (17 CFR 249.309) for each fiscal quarter ending after the close of the latest fiscal year for which financial statements were included in the issuer's registration statement.

(b) Such reports shall be filed not more than 45 days after the end of the fiscal quarter for which they are filed. However, the report for any quarter ending prior to the effective date of the registration statement may, unless the issuer was subject to this section prior to such date, be filed not more than 45 days after the effective date of the registration statement.

(c) This section does not apply to foreign governments or political subdivisions thereof; foreign private issuers other than Canadian, Cuban, Mexican or Philippine issuers; issuers of American certificates against foreign issues; or to any bank, bank holding company, insurance company (other than title insurance companies), investment company, common carrier, public utility company, or any company primarily engaged in the production and sale of a seasonal, single-crop agricultural commodity.

All interested persons are invited to submit data, views and comments on the above-mentioned proposals, in writing, to the Securities and Exchange Commission at its principal office, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., on or before May 24, 1951.

By the Commission.

[17 CFR, Parts 240, 249]

FORMS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration the proposed amendment of the following forms under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

I. Item 15 of Form 8–K (17 CFR 249.308) would be amended so as to make it clear that registrants under the Securities Act of 1933 which are required to file reports on this form need keep up to date only those exhibits which are required to be kept up to date by a company having securities listed and registered on a national securities exchange.

The proposed amendment would also provide that where previously filed exhibits are amended or modified, copies of the entire exhibits as amended or modified shall be filed. The filing of entire exhibits as amended or modified is now permitted but not required.

The amended item would read as follows:

Item 15. Exhibits.

(a) If any exhibit previously filed has been materially amended or modified, identify such exhibit, state the general effect of the amendment or modification and file copies of the amended or modified exhibit with the report.

(b) If any document which would be required as an exhibit to an original application for registration of securities on an exchange has been executed or otherwise put into effect, identify the document and attach copies thereof as an exhibit to the report.

(c) If any contract or indenture, any bonus, profit-sharing or pension plan or any voting trust agreement previously filed has been terminated otherwise than in the course, identify the document and state the date and manner of its termination.

Instruction. Registrants filing reports pursuant to section 15 (d) of the act need not answer this item with respect to any document which would not be required as an exhibit to an original application for registration of securities on an exchange.

II. Form 10–K (17 CFR 249.310).

1. Under the existing requirements, a registrant is required to file with the Commission four copies of all applications and reports. It is proposed to amend the general instructions to Form 10–K so as to require the filing with the Commission of four copies only of reports on that form. Section 240.12b–11 (Rule X–12b–11) would be concurrently amended so as to require the filing with the Commission of only three copies of applications and reports other than those on Form 10–K. The amended instruction to Form 10–K would read as follows:

B Application of general rules and regulations. (a) The general rules and regulations under the act contain certain general requirements which are applicable to reports on any form. These general requirements should be carefully read and observed in the preparation and filing of reports on this form.

(b) Particular attention is directed to Regulation X–12B which contains general requirements regarding matters such as the kind and size of paper to be used, the legibility of the report, the information to be given whenever the title of securities is required to be stated, and the filing of the report. The definitions contained in § 240.12b–2 should be especially noted.

(c) Four complete copies of each report on this form, including exhibits and all papers and documents filed as a part thereof, shall be filed with the Commission, except that only three copies of reports filed pursuant to General Instruction F need be filed with the Commission.

2. It is proposed to amend Instruction 7 of the instructions as to financial statements in Form 10–K to make it clear that financial statements filed for title insurance companies must be certified and, therefore, are not within the general provisions that the financial statements of insurance companies need not be certified. The proposed amendment would merely continue the requirement heretofore in effect with respect to the certification of financial statements of title insurance companies. The proposed amendment would read as follows:

7. Statements of banks and insurance companies. Notwithstanding the requirements of the foregoing instructions, financial statements filed for banks or insurance companies (other than title insurance companies) need not be certified.

3. It is proposed to amend the instructions as to exhibits in Form 10–K so as to make it clear that registrants under the Securities Act of 1933 which are required to file reports on this form need keep up to date only those exhibits which would be required as exhibits to an original application for registration of securities on a national securities exchange. The instructions as so amended would read as follows:

INSTRUCTIONS AS EXHIBITS

Subject to the rules regarding incorporation by reference, the following exhibits shall be filed as a part of the report:

(a) If any exhibit previously filed has been amended or modified, file copies of such exhibit as so amended or modified.

(b) File copies of any document not previously filed which would be required as an exhibit to an original application for registration of securities on an exchange.

Registrants filing reports pursuant to section 15 (d) of the act need not file copies of any document which would not be required as an exhibit to an original application for registration of securities on an exchange.

III. Form 10 (17 CFR 249.210).

It is proposed to amend Instruction 18 of the instructions as to financial statements in Form 10 to make it clear that financial statements filed for title insurance companies must be certified and, therefore, are not within the general provisions that financial statements of insurance companies need not be certified. The proposed amendment would merely continue the requirement heretofore in effect with respect to the certification of financial statements of title insurance companies. The proposed amendment would read as follows:

18. Statements of banks and insurance companies. Notwithstanding the requirements of the foregoing instructions, financial statements filed for banks or insurance companies (other than title insurance companies) need not be certified.

All interested persons are invited to submit data, views and comments on the above-mentioned proposals, in writing, to the Securities and Exchange Commission at its principal office, 425 Second Street, N. W., Washington 25, D. C., on or before May 24, 1951.

By the Commission.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1663]

SOUTHERN UNION GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 26, 1951.

Take notice that Southern Union Gas Company (Applicant) a Delaware corporation having its principal office at 1104 Burt Building, Dallas, Texas, filed on April 17, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of the facilities hereinafter described.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate a 300 hp. Compressor Station at a point immediately east of Clovis, New Mexico on its existing natural gas transportation line extending from Clovis to Tucumcari, New Mexico.

Applicant further proposes to construct and operate a new 8⅝" natural gas transportation pipeline, said line to be approximately 10 miles in length and to loop that portion of Applicant's existing 5½" pipeline extending from Clovis to Portales, New Mexico.

The purpose of the proposed construction and operation is to increase Applicant's capacity to deliver natural gas to its customers in its Clovis, New Mexico District.

The cost of the proposed new facilities is estimated to be $202,240.00.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with its rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 15th day of May 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Revised Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040, 3133), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act to disregard the provisions of Revised Service Order No. 874 insofar as they apply to any car loaded with Condensed Buttermilk Feeds in wooden barrels, steel pails, fibre drums, and corrugated boxes with pliofilm or polyethylene bags, because of the tendency of condensed buttermilk feeds to mold, cake, and become unsalable when exposed to air.

The waybills shall show reference to this revised general permit and any consignor forwarding cars under this revised general permit shall furnish the permit agent with the car numbers, initials, weights, and destinations of the cars shipped under this revised general permit, as well as the car numbers, initials, and weights of all cars loaded with Condensed Buttermilk Feeds shipped; such information to be furnished on the first day of each month.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 27, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended, or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of April 1951.

EVANS MILLING CO. AND DECATUR MILLING CO.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Revised Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040, 3133), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act serving Evans Milling Company, Indianapolis, Indiana, and Decatur Milling Company, Decatur, Illinois, to disregard the provisions of Revised Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to corn grits, corn meal, and or hominy feed in bulk when Evans Milling Company or Decatur Milling Company advise that service would be denied because of its inability to meet the minimum requirements because of inability of loading device to load to within 24 inches of roof of cars, except at ends of car. However, the total weight of such shipments shall be or exceed 80,000 pounds.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and Evans Milling Company or Decatur Milling Company shall furnish the permit agent the car numbers, initials, weights, and destinations of the cars shipped under this permit and also car numbers, initials, and weights of all cars loaded with corn grits, corn meal, and/or hominy feed in bulk shipped; such information to be furnished on the first of each month.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 27, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of April 1951.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2589]

WEST PENN ELECTRIC CO. AND MONONGAHELA POWER CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER GRANTING AND PERMITTING JOINT APPLICATION-DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1951.

The West Penn Electric Company ("West Penn Electric"), a registered holding company, and its direct subsidiary, Monongahela Power Company ("Monongahela"), a public utility company and an exempt holding company, having filed a joint application-declaration, with amendments thereto, under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), with respect to inter alia: (i) The issuance and sales by Monongahela, pursuant to the competitive bidding provisions of Rule U-50 under the act of $10,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, -- Percent Series, due 1981, and (ii) the issuance and sale by Monongahela of 615,400 additional shares of its common stock and the purchase of such shares by West Penn Electric for a cash consideration of $4,000,100; and

The Commission having, by order dated April 16, 1951, granted and permitted to become effective said amended joint application-declaration except that the issuance and sale of said bonds were not to be consummated until the results of competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50 were made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order issued, for which purpose jurisdiction was reserved; and

Jurisdiction also having been reserved in respect of all fees and expenses incurred in connection with the proposed transactions; and

Monongahela having filed a further amendment to the joint application-declaration in which it is stated that, in accordance with the permission granted by the said order of the Commission dated April 16, 1951, it offered such bonds for sale pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 and received the following bids:

Bidding group headed by—	Annual interest rate (percent)	Price to company[1] (percent of principal)	Annual cost to company (percent)
Union Securities Corp. and Salomon Bros. & Hutzler	3¼	101.085	3.317624
W. C. Langley & Co. and The First Boston Corp.	3¾	100.4999	3.342847
Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc.	3¾	100.5151	3.345059
Kuhn, Loeb & Co.	3¾	100.339	3.350895
Kidder, Peabody & Co. and White, Weld & Co.	3¾	100.289	3.350236
Lehman Bros.	3¾	100.2889	3.504178
Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane	3¾	100.2091	3.393881
Glore, Forgan & Co.	3¾	100.174	3.365796
Equitable Securities Corp.	3½	102.26	3.379550
Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc.	3½	102.2059	3.382183

[1] Exclusive of accrued interest from Apr. 1, 1951.

Said amendment further stating that Monongahela has accepted the bid of Union Securities Corp. and Salomon Bros. & Hutzler for the bonds, as set forth above, and that the bonds will be offered for sale to the public at a price of 101.625 percent of their principal amount plus accrued interest, resulting in an underwriters' spread of .54 percent of the principal amount aggregating $54,000; and

Said amendment also setting forth the expenses and fees incurred in connection with the proposed transactions including the following:

To be paid by Monongahela:

Sullivan & Cromwell (legal services):
For the bonds	$5,750
For the stock	100
Steptoe & Johnson (legal services)	350
Price Waterhouse & Co.	2,150
To be paid by the underwriters:
Cahill, Gordon, Zachry & Reindel (legal services)	5,000
To be paid by West Penn Electric:
Sullivan & Cromwell (legal services)	150

The Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein and finding no reason for imposing terms and conditions with respect to said matter:

It is ordered, That the joint application-declaration, as further amended, be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, and that the jurisdiction heretofore reserved over the issuance and sale of the bonds with respect to the results of competitive bidding, and over the fees and expenses incurred in connection with the proposed transactions, be, and the same hereby is, released, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF OKLAHOMA

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER GRANTING AND PERMITTING APPLICATION-DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April A. D. 1951.

Public Service Company of Oklahoma ("Public Service"), a public utility subsidiary of Central and South West Corporation, a registered holding company, having filed an application-declaration, and an amendment thereto, pursuant to sections 6 (a) (2) and 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rule U-50 promulgated thereunder, regarding, inter alia, the issuance and sale, at competitive bidding, of $10,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series C, -- percent, due 1981; and

The Commission, by order dated April 16, 1951, having granted the application and permitted the declaration to become effective, as amended, subject to the condition that the proposed issuance and sale of bonds should not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding, pursuant to Rule U-50, had been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order entered by the Commission in the light of the record so completed; and

Public Service, on April 26, 1951, having filed a further amendment to said application-declaration setting forth the action taken by it to comply with the requirements of Rule U-50, and stating that, pursuant to the invitation for competitive bids, the following bids for its bonds have been received:

Bidder	Annual interest rate (percent)	Price to company (percent of principal)[1]	Annual cost to company (percent)
Salomon Bros. & Hutzler	3¼	98.934	3.18052
Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc.	3¼	98.881	3.18928
White, Weld & Co. and Shields & Co.	3¼	98.789	3.18407
Kuhn, Loeb & Co.	3¼	101.176	3.18017
Glore, Forgan & Co.	3¼	98.639	3.19688
Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc.	3¼	98.4869	3.20028
The First Boston Corp.	3¼	98.4999	3.20708

[1] Exclusive of accrued interest from Apr. 1, 1951.

Said amendment further stating that Public Service has accepted the bid of Salomon Bros. & Hutzler, as set out above, and that said bonds will be offered for sale to the public at a price of 99.709 percent of their principal amount, plus accrued interest from April 1, 1951, resulting in an underwriting spread of 0.775 percent of the principal amount of the bonds or an aggregate of $77,500; and

The Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein and observing no basis for imposing terms and conditions with respect to the price to be received for said bonds, the interest rate thereon, the redemption prices thereof, or the underwriter's spread;

It is ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to the matters to be determined as a result of competitive bidding for said bonds be, and the same hereby is, released, and that said application-declaration as further amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective upon its issuance

By the Commission.

NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April 1951.

Northern Natural Gas Company ("Northern"), a registered holding company, having filed an application-declaration, and an amendment thereto, pursuant to sections 6 (a) and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), with respect to the following transactions:

Northern has arranged a line of credit in the amount of $30,000,000 with a group of 8 commercial banks, pursuant to which it will issue and sell to such banks, from time to time but not later than March 22, 1952, a maximum of $30,000,000 principal amount of its promissory notes. Said notes will bear interest at the "prime rate" in effect at the time each note is issued and each note will mature on or before nine months from the date of its issue. Said notes may be prepaid at any time prior to maturity without penalty or premium.

Northern, pursuant to the exemption provided in section 6 (b) of the act, heretofore issued and sold on March 27, 1951, $5,100,000 principal amount of such notes and now proposes the issuance and sale of the balance of $24,900,000 principal amount of such notes, as above stated. The proceeds of the sale of the notes are to be utilized to defray, in part, the cost of Northern's construction program for the year 1951, which is estimated at approximately $60,000,000. Completion of the construction program is dependent on the availability of materials and certain other factors.

The long term financing of Northern's 1951 construction program will require the sale of securities to the public in the aggregate amount of approximately $51,000,000 which Nothern states will consist of debentures and common stock. The bank notes herein proposed will be repaid by Northern out of the proceeds of the sale of such securities.

Said application-declaration and the amendment thereto having been duly filed, and notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said amended application-declaration within the period specified, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said amended application-declaration, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and the Commission deeming it appropriate that said amended application-declaration, be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said amended application-declaration be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

MILWAUKEE SOLVAY COKE CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April A. D. 1951.

Milwaukee Solvay Coke Company ("Coke Company"), a non-utility subsidiary of Milwaukee Gas Light Company, which in turn is a public utility subsidiary of American Natural Gas Company, a registered holding company, having filed an application pursuant to the provisions of section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") for exemption from the provisions of section 6 (a) thereof of the issue and sale of notes to the First Wisconsin National Bank of Milwaukee and the Marine National Exchange Bank of Milwaukee in the aggregate amounts of $800,000 and $400,000, respectively, from time to time prior to December 31, 1951, such notes to be taken down in amounts of $300,000 or multiples thereof as funds are needed and to mature in the order of the dates of their creation in the amount of $300,000 on March 1st of each of the years 1953 through 1956, the notes maturing in 1953 and 1954 to bear interest at 3 percent per annum and the notes maturing in 1955 and 1956 to bear interest at 3¼ percent per annum, the proceeds from the sale of said notes to be applied by Coke Company to the expansion of its coke production facilities; and

Said application having been filed on March 29, 1951, and an amendment thereto having been filed on April 23, 1951, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said application within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said application that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and rules thereunder are satisfied, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the said application be granted;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, that the said application be, and hereby is, granted forthwith subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

GRANITE STATE ELECTRIC CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Granite State Electric Company ("Granite State"), a subsidiary of New England Electric System, a registered holding company, has filed a declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. Declarant has designated section 7 of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any person may, not later than May 7, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time thereafter said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Granite State proposes to issue to The First National Bank of Boston a promissory note in the principal amount of $250,000 due six months after the date of issue and bearing the prime rate of interest for such notes at the time of issuance. It is stated in said declaration that the company expects that such interest rate will not exceed 2¾ percent. In the event that the interest rate on the proposed note exceeds 2¾ percent per annum, Granite State will file an amendment to its declaration at least five days prior to the execution of said note and unless this Commission notifies Granite State to the contrary within said five day period, said amendment will be considered by Granite State to be effective at the end of such period.

Granite State proposes to use the proceeds from such borrowing to pay for construction through June 30, 1951, and to pay off its promissory notes presently outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $190,000 and bearing interest at the rate of 2¼ percent per annum.

The declaration indicates that the expenses in connection with the proposed transactions, consisting of payments to be made to New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, for services to be performed at cost, are estimated not to exceed $600.

The declaration states that no state commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Granite State requests that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

By the Commission.

TOBACCO PRODUCTS EXPORT CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Tobacco Products Export Corporation (hereinafter referred to as the Applicant) has filed an application with this Commission requesting that the Commission issue an order pursuant to section 8 (f) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (hereinafter referred to as the act) declaring the Applicant has ceased to be an investment company within the meaning of the act and that its registration under the act be terminated.

The Applicant requests this relief based upon the following reasons and facts:

The Applicant was organized under the laws of the State of New York on February 19, 1919; its principal office is located at No. 175 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York. Applicant is registered with this Commission as a closed-end management non-diversified investment company. This registration was effected on February 24, 1943 subsequent to a hearing and pursuant to an order issued by this Commission denying an application for exemption except that the Applicant was exempted from the provisions of section 8 (b) of the act and partially exempted from the requirements of subsections (b) and (d) of section 30 of the act to the extent that the Applicant was—not required to issue or file certain reports and statements required by those subsections more often than annually. At the time of Applicant's registration, it held 25,087 shares of common stock of Philip Morris & Company, Ltd., having a market value of approximately $1,398,600 and 30,400 shares of British-American Tobacco Company (China), Ltd., carried on Applicant's books at $1,500,000. The Commission's opinion recited that for a number of years these investment securities had constituted over 98 percent of Applicant's total assets and that income therefrom had constituted between 75 and 86 percent of its total net income.

The Applicant states that during 1947, pursuant to a vote of stockholders at a special meeting held November 27, 1946, all of the shares of Philip Morris stock held by the Applicant with the exception of five shares were distributed in kind to stockholders of the Applicant pro rata. Applicant has received no income from the shares of British-American Tobacco Company since 1941.

For a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law asserted, all persons are referred to said application which is on file in the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

Notice is further given that the Commission will issue an order, pursuant to section 8 (f) of the act, granting the application on or at any time after May 14, 1951, unless prior thereto a hearing upon the application is ordered by the Commission. Any interested person may submit to the Commission in writing not later than May 11, 1951, his views or any additional facts bearing upon the application or the desirability of a hearing thereon or a request to the Commission that a hearing be held thereon. Any such communication or request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C.

SECURED UNDERWRITERS, INC.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Secured Underwriters, Inc., a registered face amount certificate company, so registered by notification of registration duly filed, under the Investment Company Act of 1940, has filed an application pursuant to section 6 (c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 for an order relieving said applicant from filing a registration statement on Form N-8B-4.

Unless relieved from so doing, the applicant must file a registration statement on Form N-8B-4 pursuant to the requirements of section 8 (b) and Rule N-8B-2 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 within ninety (90) days from January 31, 1951.

Applicant states, among other things, that it has not sold or offered for sale any face amount certificates since March 1941; that such certificates sold previous to said date began to mature in August 1950, and all maturity benefits have been and are being paid as and when they fall due; and that all remaining outstanding Trust Fund Certificates will mature during the year 1951, and it is not proposed, by the said applicant, to offer or issue any further face amount certificates, nor to continue any trust fund for any such face amount certificates.

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file at the Washington, D. C., office of this Commission for a detailed statement of the matters of fact and law therein asserted.

Notice is further given that an order granting the application may be issued by the Commission at any time after the 10th day of May 1951, unless prior thereto a hearing upon the application is ordered by the Commission, as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act. Any interested person may, not later than the 10th day of May 1951, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing his views or any additional facts bearing upon this application or the desirability of a hearing thereon, or request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington, D. C., and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert.

SCOTT PAPER CO. EMPLOYEES' STOCK PURCHASE PLAN

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Scott Paper Company (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Scott), of Chester, Pennsylvania, for itself and on behalf of Scott Paper Company Employees' Stock Purchase Plan (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Plan), an employees' security company, has filed an application pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 for an order pursuant to said section of said act exempting said plan from the provisions of the act. The filing of said application exempts the plan from all provisions of the act, pending final determination of such application by the Commission, as provided by Rule N-6B-1 of the general rules and regulations under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

It appears from the application that the plan is an employees' security company, organized by Scott Paper Company, a Pennsylvania corporation, for the purpose of acquiring and distributing to the members of the plan Scott Paper Company common shares.

For many years it has been the policy of Scott to make available each year to its employees and employees of its subsidiary companies a stock purchase plan. It is the continuing year-to-year plan for which application for an exemption is made, and not just the plan for the year 1951 which is described in some detail hereinafter. Each yearly stock purchase plan is scheduled to operate for a specified number of consecutive weekly periods during the calendar year (42 weeks under the plan for 1951). Its operation usually commences in the first quarter of the year and terminates in November. Liquidation by distribution to employees participating as members is completed before the end of the calendar year.

Any employee in the service of Scott or its subsidiaries on the date when the yearly plan commences operation, except employees then classified as temporary, may become a member of the Plan by subscribing to it. Subscriptions authorize weekly payroll deductions, which may not exceed a designated percentage of the subscriber's weekly pay, for the period of operation of the yearly plan then being offered, and direct the deposit of such deductions to the member's credit under the yearly plan. Scott contributes to the credit of each such member an amount equal to a designated percentage, or percentages, of his deposits, such contributions being the net amount after deductions for all income, social security and other taxes or charges required to be withheld. Under the plan for 1951 each member's weekly deposit is limited to 10 percent of his weekly earnings, and the Scott contribution is a sum equal to 20 percent of that portion of each member's deposit up to $30 per week and 10 percent of any portion in excess of that amount.

Each yearly plan is administered by a Committee composed of designated employees of Scott. Under the plan for 1951 the Cashier, Controller and Treasurer of Scott are the designated employees.

The funds received from members' deposits and contributions from Scott are placed in a suitably designated separate bank account and are applied, generally as and when sufficient for the purchase of a hundred share lot, to the purchase of common shares of Scott Paper Company on the New York Stock Exchange or the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange. The common shares so purchased are distributed to members upon the liquidation of each yearly plan together with cash covering any distributive interest of a member, or balance of such interest, amounting to the value of less than one full common share.

Members may be permitted to withdraw their deposits on a written request to the Committee submitted prior to a specified date (September 15, 1951 under the plan for 1951).

The plan is subject to no load or service charge. Expenses of its operation are for the most part assumed by Scott, and those not assumed are negligible in amount.

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file at the Washington, D. C., office of this Commission for a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law therein asserted.

Notice is further given that an order granting the application may be issued by the Commission at any time after the 16th day of May 1951, unless prior thereto a hearing upon the application is ordered by the Commission, as provided in Rule N-5 of the general rules and regulations promulgated under the act. Any interested person may not later than the 16th day of May 1951, at 5:30 p. m. submit to the Commission in writing his views or any additional facts bearing upon this application or the desirability of a hearing thereon, or request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington, D. C., and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reasons for such request and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert.

NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK

In re: Accounts maintained in the name of The National City Bank of New York, Brussels, Belgium, and owned by persons whose names are unknown. F-7-2823.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: All property, rights and interests in the accounts identified in Exhibit A attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with

(a) Any other property, rights and interests which represent accumulations or accruals to, changes in form of, or substitutions for, any of the property, rights and interests in said identified accounts on October 2, 1950, and which are now held in other accounts being maintained as blocked or otherwise subject to the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or regulations, rulings, orders or instructions issued thereunder, and

(b) Any and all rights in, to and under any securities (including, without limitation, bonds, coupons, mortgage participation certificates, shares of stock, scrip and warrants) and any and all declared and unpaid dividends on any shares of stock in any of said accounts, excepting from the foregoing, however, all lawful liens and setoffs of the respective institutions in the United States with whom the aforesaid accounts are maintained, is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on April 11, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter IV—Production and Marketing Administration and Commodity Credit Corporation, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter C—Loans, Purchases, and Other Operations

[1951 C. C. C Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supp. 1, Flaxseed]

PART 601—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

SUBPART—1951-CROP FLAXSEED LOAN AND PURCHASE AGREEMENT PROGRAM

A price support program has been announced for the 1951 crop of flaxseed. The 1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (16 F. R. 1987), issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and containing the general requirements with respect to price support operations for grains and related commodities produced in 1951, is supplemented as follows:

Sec.
601.875 Purpose.
601.876 Availability of price support.
601.877 Eligible flaxseed.
601.878 Warehouse receipts.
601.879 Determination of quantity.
601.880 Determination of quality.
601.881 Maturity of loans.
601.882 Support rates.
601.883 Warehouse charges.
601.884 Settlement.

AUTHORITY: Secs. 601.875 to 601.884 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended; 15 U. S. C. Sup., 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1072; secs. 301, 401, 63 Stat. 1053, 1054; 15 U. S. C. Sup., 714c, 7 U. S. C. Sup., 1447, 1421.

§ 601.875 Purpose. Sections 601.875 to 601.884 state additional specific requirements which, together with the general requirements contained in the 1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (16 F. R. 1987), apply to loans and purchase agreements under the 1951-Crop Flaxseed Price Support Program.

§ 601.876 Availability of price support. (a) Method of support. Price support will be made available through farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and through purchase agreements.

(b) Area. Farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and purchase agreements will be available wherever flaxseed is grown in the continental United States, except in Texas counties designated under the 1951 Texas Flaxseed Purchase Program (16 F. R. 3425). Farm-storage loans will not be available in areas where the PMA State committee determines that flaxseed cannot be safely stored on the farm.

(c) Where to apply. Application for price support should be made at the office of the PMA county committee which keeps the farm-program records for the farm.

(d) When to apply. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from the time of harvest through October 31, 1951, in Arizona, California, and in the Texas counties not designated under the 1951 Texas Flaxseed Purchase Program, and from the time of harvest through January 31, 1952, in all other States; the applicable documents must be signed by the producer and delivered to the county committee not later than such final dates.

(e) Eligible producer. An eligible producer shall be an individual, partnership, association, corporation, or other legal entity producing flaxseed in 1951 as landowner, landlord, tenant or sharecropper.

§ 601.877 Eligible flaxseed. Eligible flaxseed must meet the following requirements:

(a) The flaxseed must have been produced in the continental United States (excluding the Texas counties designated under the 1951 Texas Flaxseed Purchase Program) in 1951 by an eligible producer.

(b) The beneficial interest in the flaxseed must be in the producer tendering the flaxseed for loan or for delivery under a purchase agreement, and must always have been in him, or must have been in him and a former producer whom he succeeded before the flaxseed was harvested.

(c) The flaxseed must grade No. 1 or No. 2. Flaxseed which contains more than 30 percent damage or more than 11 percent moisture or which is musty, sour, heating, hot, or which has any commercially objectionable odor, or which is otherwise of low quality, shall not be eligible.

(d) If offered as security for a farm-storage loan, the flaxseed must have been stored in the bin or granary at

§ 601.878 Warehouse receipts. Warehouse receipts, representing flaxseed in approved warehouse storage to be placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement, must meet the requirements below:

(a) Warehouse receipts must indicate that the flaxseed is insured, must be issued in the name of the producer, must be properly endorsed in blank so as to vest title in the holder and must be issued by a warehouse approved by CCC under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement, (insured by the warehouseman in accordance with the terms of the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement) or warehouses operated by eastern common carriers under tariffs approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for which custodian agreements are in effect.

(b) Each warehouse receipt or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate (in duplicate), properly identified with the warehouse receipt, must show: (1) Gross weight or bushels, (2) grade, (3) test weight, (4) dockage, and (5) percentage of damage when such factor, and not test weight, determines the grade. The warehouse receipt or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate must show whether the flaxseed arrived by rail, truck or barge. In the case of warehouse receipts issued for flaxseed delivered by rail or barge, the grading factors on the warehouse receipt must agree with the inbound inspection certificate for the car or barge when such certificate is issued.

(c) A separate warehouse receipt must be submitted for each grade of flaxseed.

(d) The warehouse receipt may be subject to liens for warehouse charges only to the extent indicated in § 601.883.

(e) Warehouse receipts representing flaxseed which has been shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point to a designated terminal point, or shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point and stored in transit to a designated terminal point, must be accompanied by registered freight bills, or by (1) a statement as indicated below signed by the warehouseman, (2) a certificate of the warehouseman containing such information or (3) such form of certificates as may be approved by CCC.

§ 601.879 Determination of quantity. (a) The quantity of flaxseed placed under farm-storage loan may be determined either by weight or by measurement. The quantity of flaxseed placed under a warehouse-storage loan or delivered under a farm-storage loan or under a purchase agreement shall be determined by weight.

(b) When the quantity is determined by weight, a bushel shall be 56 pounds of flaxseed free of dockage. In determining the quantity of sacked flaxseed by weight, a deduction of $^{2}/_{3}$ of a pound for each sack shall be made.

(c) When the quantity of flaxseed is determined by measurement, a bushel shall be 1.25 cubic feet of flaxseed to ting 56 pounds per bushel. The quantity determined shall be the following percentages of the quantity determined for 56-pound flaxseed.

For flaxseed testing	Perc
56 pounds or over	1
55 pounds or over, but less than 56 pounds	98
54 pounds or over, but less than 55 pounds	96
53 pounds or over, but less than 54 pounds	94
52 pounds or over, but less than 53 pounds	92
51 pounds or over, but less than 52 pounds	90
50 pounds or over, but less than 51 pounds	88
49 pounds or over, but less than 50 pounds	85
48 pounds or over, but less than 49 pounds	83
47 pounds or over, but less than 48 pounds	81

(d) The percentage of dockage shall be determined and the weight of such dockage shall be deducted from the gross weight of the flaxseed in determining the net quantity available for loan or purchase.

§ 601.880 Determination of quality. The grade, grading factors, and all other quality factors shall be determined in accordance with the method set forth in the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Flaxseed, whether or not such determinations are made on the basis of an official inspection.

§ 601.881 Maturity of loans. Loans mature on demand but not later than January 31, 1952 in Arizona, California, and Texas, and not later than April 30, 1952 in all other States.

§ 601.882 Support rates. Support rates have been established for flaxseed stored in approved warehouse storage at designated terminal markets, and for flaxseed stored in approved country warehouses and in approved farm storage. The support rate for the quality of flaxseed placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement shall be the applicable basic support rate adjusted in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(a) Basic support rates at designated terminal markets. (1) The 1951 basic support rates per bushel for No. 1 flaxseed stored in approved warehouses at the terminal markets listed below shall be as follows:

	Basic support rates per bushel
Minneapolis and Duluth, Minn.; Chicago, Ill.; and Portland, Oreg	$2.90
Los Angeles and San Francisco, Calif	3.09
Fredonia, Kans	2.70
Corpus Christi and Houston, Tex	2.65

(2) For loan or purchase at the full basic support rates shown in the above schedule, the flaxseed must have been shipped on a domestic interstate freight rate basis. On any flaxseed shipped at other than the domestic interstate freight rate, the support rate at the designated terminal market shall be reduced by the difference between the freight paid (plus tax) and the domestic interstate freight rate (plus tax).

(3) The foregoing schedule of basic support rates applies to flaxseed which has been shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point to one of the designated terminal markets, as evidenced by aid freight bills duly registered for transit privileges: Provided, That in the event the amount of paid-in freight is insufficient to guarantee the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate from the terminal market, there shall be deducted from the applicable terminal support rate the difference between the amount of freight actually paid in and the amount required to be paid in to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight.

(4) When shipped by rail or water and stored at any designated terminal market, flaxseed for which neither registered freight bills nor such freight certificates are presented to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate, shall have a support rate equal to the terminal rate minus 8 cents per bushel. For flaxseed received by truck and stored at any designated terminal market, the support rate shall be the terminal rate minus $12\frac{1}{2}$ cents per bushel.

(b) Support rates for flaxseed in approved warehouse-storage at other than designated terminal markets. (1) The rate for flaxseed stored in approved warehouses (other than those situated in the designated terminal markets) which is shipped by rail shall be determined by deducting from the appropriate designated terminal market rate an amount equal to the transit balance, if any (plus tax), of the through-freight rate from point of origin for such flaxseed to such terminal market: Provided, That in the case of flaxseed stored at any railroad transit point taking a penalty by reason of out-of-line movement, or for any other reason, to the appropriate designated market, there shall be added to such transit balance an amount equal to any out-of-line costs or other costs incurred in storing flaxseed in such position.

(2) The warehouse receipts must be accompanied by the original paid freight bills or certificates of the warehouseman and other required documents as set forth in § 601.878.

(c) County support rates for No. 1 Flaxseed. Both farm-storage and county warehouse-storage loans will be made at the support rate established for the county in which the flaxseed is stored. The 1951 county support rates for No. 1 Flaxseed, determined in accordance with this section shall be as follows:

(2) Warehouse receipts and the flaxseed represented thereby stored in approved warehouses operated by eastern common carriers may be subject to liens for warehouse elevation (receiving and delivering) and storage charges from the date of deposit at rates approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

(3) For flaxseed stored in approved warehouses operated by eastern common carriers, there shall be deducted in computing the loan or purchase price the amount of the approved tariff rate for storage (not including elevation), which will accumulate from the date of deposit to the program maturity date. The county committee shall request the PMA commodity office to determine the amount of such charges. Where the producer presents evidence showing that the elevation has been prepaid, the amount of the storage charges to be deducted shall be reduced by the amount of the elevation charge prepaid by the producer.

§ 601.884 Settlement—(a) Farm-storage loans. (1) In the case of flaxseed delivered to CCC from farm-storage under the loan program, settlement shall be made at the applicable support rate for the approved point of delivery. The support rate shall be applied to the grade and quality of the total quantity of flaxseed delivered.

(2) If the flaxseed under farm-storage loan is, upon delivery, of a grade and/or quality for which no support rate has been established, the settlement value shall be the support rate established for the grade and/or quality of the flaxseed placed under loan, less the difference, if any, at the time of delivery, between the market price for the grade and/or quality placed under loan and the market price of the flaxseed delivered, as determined by CCC. In no event shall flaxseed for which the grade and/or quality is lower than the lowest grade and/or quality for which settlement rates are established, have a settlement value in excess of the settlement value of the lowest grade and/or quality of such flaxseed for which settlement rates are established.

(3) If farm-stored flaxseed is delivered to CCC prior to January 31, 1952, in Arizona, California and Texas, or prior to April 30, 1952, in all other States, upon request of the producer and with the approval of CCC, the loan settlement rate shall be reduced by the applicable rate of storage charges per bushel, determined according to the date of such delivery to CCC as set forth in the appropriate table in § 601.883.

(b) Purchase agreement. Flaxseed delivered to CCC under a purchase agreement must meet the requirements of flaxseed eligible for loan. The purchase rate per bushel of eligible flaxseed shall be the support rate established for the approved point of delivery, subject to deduction of warehouse charges in accordance with § 601.883.

(c) Track-loading. A track-loading payment of 2 cents per bushel will be made to the producer on flaxseed delivered to CCC on track at a country point.

Issued this 27th day of April 1951.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter I—Production and Marketing Administration (Standards, Inspections, Marketing Practices), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter A—Commodity Standards and Standard Container Regulations

PART 27—COTTON CLASSIFICATION UNDER THE UNITED STATES COTTON FUTURES ACT

REPACKED COTTON AND MIXED PACKED COTTON

On March 6, 1951, a notice of rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 2084) regarding the proposed amendment of paragraphs (e) and (g) of § 27.38 of the regulations dealing with cotton classification (7 CFR 27.38) under the United States Cotton Futures Act, as amended (26 U. S. C. 1920 et seq.). After due consideration of all relevant material furnished, pursuant to the notice, and pursuant to the authority of the said act, the said paragraphs are hereby amended as indicated below:

1. Paragraph (e) of § 27.38. Terms defined for purposes of classification, is hereby amended to read as follows:

(e) Repacked cotton. Cotton that is composed of factors', brokers', or other samples, or of loose or miscellaneous lots collected and rebaled, or cotton in a bale which is composed of cotton from two or more smaller bales or parts of bales.

2. Paragraph (g) of § 27.38 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(g) Mixed packed cotton. Cotton in a bale which, in the samples drawn therefrom, shows (1) a difference of three or more grades, or (2) a difference of three or more color gradations, or (3) a difference of two or more grades and two or more color gradations, or (4) a difference in length of staple of one-eighth inch or more.

(Sec. 10, 42 Stat. 1519; 7 U. S. C. 61)

The foregoing amendments shall become effective on the 5th day of June 1951.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of April 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,

PART 28—COTTON STANDARDS

REPACKED COTTON AND MIXED PACKED COTTON

On March 6, 1951, a notice of rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 2084) regarding the proposed amendment of paragraphs (e) and (g) of § 28.44 of the regulations dealing with cotton standards (7 CFR 28.44) under the United States Cotton Standards Act (7 U. S. C. 51 et seq.). After due consideration of all relevant material furnished pursuant to the notice, and pursuant to the authority of the said act, the said paragraphs are hereby amended as indicated below:

1. Paragraph (e) of § 28.44, Terms defined; cotton classification, is hereby amended to read as follows:

(e) Repacked cotton. Cotton that is composed of factors', brokers', or other samples, or of loose or miscellaneous lots collected and rebaled, or cotton in a bale which is composed of cotton from two or more smaller bales or parts of bales.

2. Paragraph (g) of § 28.44 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(g) Mixed packed cotton. Cotton in a bale which, in the samples drawn therefrom, shows (1) a difference of three or more grades, or (2) a difference of three or more color gradations, or (3) a difference of two or more grades and two or more color gradations, or (4) a difference in length of staple of one-eighth inch or more.

(Sec. 10, 42 Stat. 1519; 7 U. S. C. 61)

The foregoing amendments shall become effective on the 5th day of June 1951.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of April 1951.

PART 68—REGULATIONS AND STANDARDS FOR INSPECTION AND CERTIFICATION OF CERTAIN AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES AND PRODUCTS THEREOF

REVISED U. S. STANDARDS FOR ROUGH RICE, BROWN RICE, AND MILLED RICE

On January 27, 1951, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 771) regarding proposed changes in the United States standards for rough rice, brown rice, and milled rice under the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087, 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.), and the items for Market Inspection of Farm Products and Marketing Farm Products recurring in the annual appropriation act for the Department of Agriculture and currently found in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Ch. VI, Pub. Law 759, 81st Congress, 64 Stat. 595; 7 U. S. C. Supp. 414). After consideration of all relevant matters presented pursuant to the aforesaid notice, and under the authority conferred by said statutory provisions, the United States standards for rough rice, brown rice, and milled rice are hereby revised to appear in 7 CFR Part 68, as follows:

SUBPART C—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR ROUGH RICE

Sec.
68.201 Terms defined.
68.202 Principles governing application of standards.
68.203 Grades, grade requirements, and grade designations.

SUBPART D—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR BROWN RICE

68.251 Terms defined.
68.252 Principles governing application of standards.
68.253 Grades, grade requirements, and grade designations.

SUBPART E—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR MILLED RICE

68.301 Terms defined.
68.302 Principles governing application of standards.
68.303 Grades, grade requirements, and grade designations.

AUTHORITY: §§ 68.201 to 68.303 issued under sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090; 7 U. S. C. 1624. Interpret or apply sec. 203, 60 Stat. 1087, Ch. VI, Pub. Law 759; 81st Cong.; 7 U. S. C. 1622.

SUBPART C—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR ROUGH RICE [1]

§ 68.201 Terms defined. The following definitions shall apply for the purposes of the United States standards for rough rice.

(a) Rough rice. Rough rice shall be rice which consists of 50 percent or more of kernels of rice from which the hulls have not been removed.

(b) Classes. [2] (1) Rough rice shall be divided into the following classes:

Rexoro rough rice, including the variety known as Rexark;
Patna rough rice;
Blue Bonnet rough rice;
Nira rough rice;
Fortuna rough rice;
Blue Rose rough rice, including the varieties known as Improved Blue Rose, Greater Blue Rose, Kamrose, and Arkrose; Magnolia rough rice;
Zenith rough rice;
Calrose rough rice;
Early prolific rough rice;
Pearl rough rice; and Mixed rough rice.

(2) Except with respect to the class Mixed rough rice, each class shall contain more than 25.0 percent of whole kernels of rough rice of the designated class, and may contain not more than 10.0 percent of rice of contrasting classes, and the percentage of whole and broken kernels of a designated class in any lot of rice of such class shall exceed the percentage therein of kernels of any other class.

(3) Mixed rough rice shall be any mixture of rough rice which contains more than 10.0 percent of rice of contrasting classes.

(4) Rough rice that is not specifically classified in this Subpart shall be classified according to the commonly accepted commercial name of such rough rice.

(c) Grades. Grades shall be the numerical grades, Sample grade, and special grades provided for in § 68.203.

(d) Contrasting classes. Contrasting classes shall be other classes of rice than the class designated, in which the size, length, or shape of the kernels differs distinctly from these characteristics of the kernels of the class designated.

(e) Chalky kernels. Chalky kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice of which one half or more of each is chalky.

(f) Red rice. Red rice shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are distinctly red in color or which have any appreciable amount of red bran thereon.

(g) Damaged kernels. Damaged kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are distinctly damaged by water, insects, heat, or any other means.

(h) Heat-damaged kernels. Heat-damaged kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are materially discolored and damaged by heat.

(i) Seeds. Seeds shall be unhulled kernels of rice; and grains, kernels, or seeds, either whole or broken, of any plant other than rice.

(j) Objectionable seeds. Objectionable seeds shall be all seeds other than unhulled rice and seeds of the varieties of Echinochloa crusgalli commonly known as barnyard grass, watergrass, and Japanese millet.

(k) Head rice. Head rice shall be that product of rice milling which, after the usual screening or sizing, consists of whole kernels of milled rice and not more than 4.0 percent of broken kernels of milled rice which are not removed in such screening or sizing.

(l) Milling yield. Milling yield of rough rice shall be the estimate of the quantity of head rice and of total milled rice that can be produced from a unit of rough rice.

(m) Removable foreign material (dockage). Removable foreign material (dockage) shall be all matter other than rough rice which can be removed readily from the rough rice by the use of appropriate sieves and cleaning devices, and underdeveloped, shriveled, and small pieces of kernels of rough rice which are removed in properly separating the foreign material and cannot be recovered by properly rescreening or recleaning.

(n) Test weight per bushel. Test weight per bushel shall be the weight per Winchester bushel, as determined by the testing apparatus and the method of use thereof described in bulletin No. 1065, dated May 18, 1922, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, or as determined by any device and method which give equivalent results.

§ 68.202 Principles governing application of standards. The following principles shall apply in the determination of the classes and grades of rough rice:

(a) Basis of determinations. Each determination of seeds, objectionable seeds, damaged kernels, heat-damaged kernels, red rice, chalky kernels, rice of contrasting classes, and color and general appearance, shall be on the basis of the head rice. All other determinations shall be on the basis of the rough rice as a whole.

(b) Percentages. Percentages shall be determined upon the basis of weight.

(c) Percentage of moisture. Percentage of moisture shall be that ascertained by the use of the air-oven method described in Service and Regulatory Announcements No. 147 (revised August 1941) of the Agricultural Marketing Service (now Production and Marketing Administration) of the United States Department of Agriculture, or ascertained by the use of any method which gives equivalent results.

(d) Determination of milling yield. The determination of milling yield of rough rice shall be made with equipment and methods prescribed by the United States Department of Agriculture. The milling yield shall be expressed in terms of whole percent and any fraction of a percent shall be disregarded.

§ 68.203 Grades, grade requirements, and grade designations. The following grades, grade requirements, and grade designations are applicable under this subpart:

[1] The specifications of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

[2] The use of a variety name in the designation of a class of rough rice does not imply any guarantee of varietal purity.

(a) Grades and grade requirements for all classes of rough rice. (See also paragraph (c) of this section.)

U. S. No. 6	75	75	[4] 15.0	15.0	10.0
U. S. sample grade	U. S. sample grade shall be rough rice which does not meet the requirements for any of the grades from U. S. No. 1 to U. S. No. 6, inclusive; or which contains more than 15.0 percent of moisture; or which is musty, or sour, or heating; or which has any commercially objectionable foreign odor; or which is otherwise of distinctly low quality.

[1] Color and general appearance, minimum requirements: U. S. No. 1 shall be white or creamy. U. S. No. 2 may be slightly gray. U. S. No. 3 may be light gray. U. S. No. 4 may be gray or slightly rosy. U. S. No. 5 may be gray or rosy. U. S. No. 6 may be dark gray or rosy.

[2] The rice in grade U. S. No. 1 of the class Pearl rough rice may contain not more than 2.0 percent, in grade U. S. No. 2 not more than 4.0 percent, in grade U. S. No. 3 not more than 6.0 percent, and in grade U. S. No. 4 not more than 8.0 percent of chalky kernels.

[3] These limits do not apply to the class Mixed rough rice.

[4] The rice in grade U. S. No. 6 may contain not more than 6.0 percent of damaged kernels.

(b) Grade designations—(1) Rough rice except Mixed rough rice. The grade designation for all classes of rough rice, except Mixed rough rice, shall include, in the order named, the letters "U. S.;" the number of the grade or the words "Sample grade," as the case may be; the name of the class; and the name of each applicable special grade; and, in the case of rough rice which contains not more than 18.0 percent of moisture, there shall be added thereto a statement of the milling yield; provided that the word "California" may be added to the grade designation, preceding the name of the class, when it is determined that the rice was grown in the State of California.

(2) Mixed rough rice. The grade designation for Mixed rough rice shall include, in the order named, the letters "U. S."; the number of the grade or the words "Sample grade," as the case may be; the words "Mixed rough rice," followed by the name and approximate percentage of the predominant class of rough rice and of each contrasting class of rough rice in the mixture; and the name of each applicable special grade; and, in the case of rough rice which contains not more than 18.0 percent of moisture, there shall be added thereto a statement of the milling yield; provided that the word "California" may be added to the grade designation, preceding the words "Mixed rough rice," when it is determined that the rice was grown in the State of California.

(c) Special grades, special grade requirements, and special grade designations for rough rice—(1) Damp rough rice—(i) Requirements. Damp rough rice shall be rough rice which contains more than 14.0 percent but not more than 18.0 percent of moisture.

(ii) Grade designation. Damp rough rice shall be graded and designated according to the grade requirements of the standards otherwise applicable to such rough rice, and there shall be added to and made a part of the grade designation the word "Damp."

(2) Weevily rough rice—(i) Requirements. Weevily rough rice shall be rough rice which is infested with live weevils or other live insects injurious to stored rice.

(ii) Grade designation. Weevily rough rice shall be graded and designated according to the grade requirements of the standards otherwise applicable to such rough rice and there shall be added to and made a part of the grade designation the word "Weevily."

SUBPART D—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR BROWN RICE[1]

§ 68.251 Terms defined. The following definitions shall apply for the purposes of the United States standards for brown rice:

(a) Brown rice. Brown rice shall be rice which consists of more than 50.0 percent of kernels of rice from which the hulls only have been removed.

(b) Classes.[2] (1) Brown rice shall be divided into the following classes:

Rexoro brown rice, including the variety known as Rexark;
Patna brown rice;
Blue Bonnet brown rice;
Nira brown rice;
Fortuna brown rice;
Blue Rose brown rice, including the varieties known as Improved Blue Rose, Greater Blue Rose, Kamrose, and Arkrose; Magnolia brown rice;
Zenith brown rice;
Calrose brown rice;
Early Prolific brown rice;
Pearl brown rice; and Mixed brown rice.

[1] The specifications of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

[2] The use of a variety name in the designation of a class of brown rice does not imply any guarantee of varietal purity.

(2) Except with respect to the classes Mixed brown rice, each class shall contain more than 25.0 percent of whole kernels of brown rice of the designated class, and may contain not more than 10.0 percent of rice of contrasting classes, and the percentage of whole and broken kernels of a designated class in any lot of rice of such class shall exceed the percentage therein of kernels of any other class.

(3) Mixed brown rice shall be any mixture of brown rice which contains more than 10.0 percent of rice of contrasting classes.

(4) Brown rice that is not specifically classified in this Subpart shall be classified according to the commonly accepted commercial name of such brown rice.

(c) Grades. Grades shall be numerical grades and Sample grade provided for in § 68.253.

(d) Contrasting classes. Contrasting classes shall be other classes of rice than the class designated, in which the size, length, or shape of the kernels differs distinctly from these characteristics of the kernels of the class designated.

(e) Chalky kernels. Chalky kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice of which one half or more of each is chalky.

(f) Broken kernels. Broken kernels shall be pieces of kernels of rice which are less than three-fourths of the length of whole kernels, and split kernels of rice.

(g) Red rice. Red rice shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are distinctly red in color or on which the bran is red.

(h) Damaged kernels. Damaged kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are distinctly damaged by water, insects, heat, or any other means.

(i) Heat-damaged kernels. Heat-damaged kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are materially discolored and damaged by heat.

(j) Seeds. Seeds shall be unhulled kernels of rice; and grains, kernels, or seeds, either whole or broken, of any plant other than rice.

(k) Objectionable seeds. Objectionable seeds shall be all seeds other than unhulled rice and seeds of the varieties of Echinochloa crusgalli commonly known as barnyard grass, watergrass, and Japanese millet.

(l) Foreign material. Foreign material shall be all matter other than rice and seeds.

(m) 6½/64 sieve. A metal sieve 0.072 inch thick perforated with round holes 6½/64 inch in diameter.

(n) Head rice. Head rice shall be that product of rice milling which, after the usual screening or sizing, consists of whole kernels of milled rice and not more than 4.0 percent of broken kernels of milled rice which are not removed in such screening or sizing.

(o) Milling yield. Milling yield of brown rice shall be the estimate of the quantity of head rice and of total milled rice that can be produced from a unit of brown rice.

§ 68.252 Principles governing application of standards. The following principles shall apply in the determination of the classes and grades of brown rice:

(a) Basis of determinations. All determinations shall be upon the basis of the brown rice as a whole.

(b) Percentages. Percentages shall be determined upon the basis of weight.

(c) Percentage of moisture. Percentage of moisture shall be that ascertained by the use of the air-oven method described in Service and Regulatory Announcements No. 147 (revised August 1941) of the Agricultural Marketing Service (now Production and Marketing Administration) of the United States Department of Agriculture, or ascertained by the use of any method which gives equivalent results.

(d) Determination of milling yield. The determination of milling yield of brown rice shall be made with equipment and methods prescribed by the United States Department of Agriculture. The milling yield shall be expressed in terms of whole percent and any fraction of a percent shall be disregarded.

§ 68.253 Grades, grade requirements, and grade designations. The following grades, grade requirements, and grade designations are applicable under this subpart:

(a) Grades and grade requirements for all classes of brown rice.

Grade[1]	Maximum limits of—
	Seeds and heat-damaged kernels			Red rice and damaged kernels (singly or combined)	Chalky kernels	Broken kernels	Rice of contrasting classes[2]
	Total (singly or combined)	Heat-damaged kernels	Objectionable seeds			Total / Through 6½/64 sieve
	Number in 500 grams	Number in 500 grams	Number in 500 grams	Percent	Percent	Percent / Percent	Percent
U. S. No. 1	25	1	2	1.0	1.0	5.0 / 1.0	1.0
U. S. No. 2	50	2	10	2.0	3.0	10.0 / 2.0	2.0
U. S. No. 3	75	4	20	4.0	5.0	15.0 / 3.0	5.0
U. S. No. 4	100	8	35	8.0	8.0	25.0 / 4.0	10.0
U. S. sample grade	U. S. Sample grade shall be brown rice which does not meet the requirements for any of the grades from U. S. No. 1 to U. S. No. 4, inclusive; or which contains more than 14.0 percent of moisture; or which is musty, or sour, or heating; or which has any commercially objectionable foreign odor; or which contains more than 0.1 percent of foreign material; or which contains live or dead weevils or other insects, insect webbing, or insect refuse, or which is otherwise of distinctly low quality.

[1] The brown rice in grade U. S. No. 1 may contain not more than 1.0 percent, in grade U. S. No. 2 not more than 3.0 percent, and in grades U. S. No. 3 and U. S. No. 4 not more than 10.0 percent of milled rice.

[2] These limits do not apply to the class Mixed brown rice.

(b) Grade designations—(1) Brown rice except Mixed brown rice. The grade designation for all classes of brown rice, except Mixed brown rice, shall include, in the order named, the letters "U. S."; the number of the grade or the words "Sample Grade," as the case may be; and the name of the class; and, in the case of brown rice which contains not more than 18.0 percent of moisture, there may be added thereto a statement of the milling yield, provided that the word "California" may be added to the grade designation, preceding the name of the class, when it is determined that the rice was grown in the State of California.

(2) Mixed brown rice. The grade designation for Mixed brown rice shall include, in the order named, the letters "U. S."; the number of the grade or the words "Sample Grade," as the case may be; the words "Mixed brown rice," followed by the name and approximate percentage of the predominant class of brown rice and of each contrasting class of brown rice in the mixture; and, in the case of brown rice which contains not more than 18.0 percent of moisture, there may be added thereto a statement of the milling yield; provided that the word "California" may be added to the grade designation, preceding the words "Mixed brown rice," when it is determined that the rice was grown in the State of California.

SUBPART E—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR MILLED RICE[1]

§ 68.301 Terms defined. The following definitions shall apply for the purposes of the United States standards for milled rice:

(a) Milled rice. Milled rice shall be whole or broken kernels of rice from which, (1) in the case of milled rice other than milled rice of the special grade Unpolished milled rice, the hulls and practically all of the germs and bran layers have been removed; or (2) in the case of milled rice of the special grade Unpolished milled rice, the hulls, a part of the germs, and the outer bran layers, but not the inner bran layers, have been removed; and which contains not more than 10.0 percent of seeds or foreign material, either singly or combined.

(b) Classes.[2] (1) Milled rice shall be divided into the following classes:

Rexoro milled rice, including the variety known as Rexark;
Patna milled rice;
Blue Bonnet milled rice;
Nira milled rice;
Fortuna milled rice;
Blue Rose milled rice, including the varieties known as Improved Blue Rose, Greater Blue Rose, Kamrose, and Arkrose;
Magnolia milled rice;
Zenith milled rice;
Calrose milled rice;
Early prolific milled rice;
Pearl milled rice;
Mixed milled rice;
Second Head milled rice;
Screenings milled rice; and Brewers milled rice.

[1] The specifications of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

[2] The use of a variety name in the designation of a class of milled rice does not imply any guarantee of varietal purity.

(2) Except with respect to the classes Mixed milled rice, Second Head milled rice, Screenings milled rice, and Brewers' milled rice, each class shall contain more than 25.0 percent of whole kernels of milled rice of the designated class, and may contain not more than 10.0 percent of milled rice of contrasting classes, and the percentage of whole and broken kernels of a designated class in any lot of rice of such class shall exceed the percentage therein of kernels of any other class.

(3) Mixed milled rice shall be any mixture of milled rice which contains more than 25.0 percent of whole kernels of milled rice and more than 10.0 percent of rice of contrasting classes.

(4) Second Head milled rice shall be any milled rice which contains not more than 25.0 percent of whole kernels, not more than 50.0 percent of broken kernels that will pass readily through a 6½/64 sieve, and not more than 10.0 percent of broken kernels that will pass readily through a 6/64 sieve.

(5) Screenings milled rice shall be any milled rice which contains not more than 25.0 percent of whole kernels, which does not meet the kernel-size requirements for the class Second Head milled rice, and which contains not more than 15.0 percent of broken kernels that will pass readily through a 5½/64 sieve.

(6) Brewers milled rice shall be any milled rice which contains not more than 25.0 percent of whole kernels and which contains more than 15.0 percent of broken kernels that will pass readily through a 5½/64 sieve.

(7) Milled rice that is not specifically classified in this Subpart shall be classified according to the commonly accepted commercial name of such milled rice.

(c) Grades. Grades shall be the numerical grades, Sample grades, and special grades provided for in § 68.303.

(d) Contrasting classes. Contrasting classes shall be other classes of rice than the class designated, in which the size, length, or shape of the kernels differs distinctly from these characteristics of the kernels of the class designated.

(e) Chalky kernels. Chalky kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice of which one-half or more of each is chalky.

(f) Broken kernels. Broken kernels shall be pieces of kernels of rice which are less than three-fourths of the length of whole kernels, and split kernels of rice.

(g) Red rice. Red rice shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are distinctly red in color or which have an appreciable amount of red bran thereon.

(h) Damaged kernels. Damaged kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are distinctly damaged by water, insects, heat, or any other means.

(i) Heat-damaged kernels. Heat-damaged kernels shall be kernels and pieces of kernels of rice which are materially discolored and damaged by heat.

(j) Seeds. Seeds shall be unhulled kernels of rice; and grains, kernels, or seeds, either whole or broken, of any plant other than rice.

(b) Grades and grade requirements for the class Second Head milled rice. (See also paragraph (f) of this section.)

No. 5, inclusive; or which contains more than 15.0 percent of moisture; or which is musty, or sour, or heating; or which has any commercially objectionable foreign odor; or which has a badly damaged or extremely red appearance; or which contains more than 0.1 percent of foreign material; or which contains live or dead weevils or other insects, insect webbing, or insect refuse; or which is otherwise of distinctly low quality.

[1] Color and general appearance, minimum requirements: U. S. No. 1 shall be white or creamy, and shall be well milled. U. S. No. 2 may be slightly gray, and shall be well milled. U. S. No. 3 may be light gray, and shall be reasonably well milled. U. S. No. 4 may be gray or slightly rosy, and shall be reasonably well milled. U. S. No. 5 may be dark gray or rosy, and shall be reasonably well milled.

(c) Grades and grade requirements for the class Screenings milled rice. (See also paragraph (f) of this section.)

No. 5 may be dark gray or very rosy, and shall be reasonably well milled.

[2] The milled rice in grade U. S. No. 1 of the class Head milled rice may contain not more than 2.0 percent, in grade U. S. No. 2 not more than 4.0 percent, in grade U. S. No. 3 not more than 6.0 percent, and in grade U. S. No. 4 not more than 8.0 percent of chalky kernels.

[3] These limits do not apply to the class Mixed milled rice.

[4] The milled rice in grade U. S. No. 6 may contain not more than 6.0 percent of damaged kernels.

(k) Objectionable seeds. Objectionable seeds shall be all seeds other than unhulled rice and seeds of the varieties of Echinochloa crusgelli commonly known as barnyard grass, watergrass, and Japanese millet.

(l) Foreign material. Foreign material shall be all matter other than rice and seeds.

(m) 5½/64 sieve. A metal sieve 0.032 inch thick perforated with round holes 5½/64 inch in diameter.

(n) 6/64 sieve. A metal sieve 0.032 inch thick perforated with round holes 6/64 inch in diameter.

(o) 6½/64 sieve. A metal sieve 0.032 inch thick perforated with round holes 6½/64 inch in diameter.

§ 68.302 Principles governing application of standards. The following principles shall apply in the determination of the classes and grades of milled rice:

(a) Basis of determinations. All determinations shall be upon the basis of the milled rice as a whole.

(b) Percentages. Percentages shall be determined upon the basis of weight.

(c) Percentage of moisture. Percentage of moisture shall be that ascertained by the use of the air-oven method described in Service and Regulatory Announcements No. 147 (revised August 1941) of the Agricultural Marketing Service (now Production and Marketing Administration) of the United States Department of Agriculture, or ascertained by the use of any method which gives equivalent results.

§ 68.303 Grades, grade requirements, and grade designations. The following grades, grade requirements, and grade designations are applicable under this subpart:

(a) Grades and grade requirements for all classes of milled rice, except Second Head milled rice, Screenings milled rice, and Brewer's milled rice. (See also paragraph (f) of this section.)

Grade[1]	Maximum limits of—

U. S. No. 4	3.0	.4	May be gray or rosy, and shall be reasonably well milled.
U. S. No. 5	5.0	1.5	May be dark gray or very rosy, and shall be reasonably well milled.
U. S. sample grade	U. S. sample grade shall be milled rice of this class which does not meet the requirements for any of the grades from U. S. No. 1 to U. S. No. 5, inclusive; or which contains more than 15.0 percent of moisture; or which is musty, or sour, or heating; or which has any commercially objectionable foreign odor; or which has a badly damaged or extremely red appearance; or which contains more than 0.1 percent of foreign material; or which contains live or dead weevils or other insects, insect webbing, or insect refuse; or which is otherwise of distinctly low quality.

(c) Grade designations—(1) Milled rice except Mixed milled rice. The grade designation for all classes of milled rice, except Mixed milled rice, shall include, in the order named, the letters "U. S.;" the number of the grade or the words "Sample grade," as the case may be; the name of the class; and the name of each applicable special grade; Provided, That the word "California" may be added to the grade designation, preceding the name of the class, when it is determined that the rice was grown in the State of California.

(2) Mixed milled rice. The grade designation for the class Mixed milled rice shall include, in the order named, the letters "U. S.;" the number of the grade or the words "Sample grade," as the case may be; the words "Mixed milled rice," followed by the name and approximate percentage of the predominant class of milled rice and of each contrasting class of milled rice in the mixture; and the name of each applicable special grade; provided that the word "California" may be added to the grade designation, preceding the words "Mixed milled rice," when it is determined that the rice was grown in the State of California.

(f) Special grades, special grade requirements, and special grade designations for milled rice—(1) Unpolished milled rice—(i) Requirements. Unpolished milled rice (sometimes referred to as undermilled rice) shall be rice from which the hulls, a part of the germs, and the outer bran layers, but not the inner bran layers, have been removed. Unpolished milled rice in grades U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2 may contain not more than 2.0 percent, in grades U. S. No. 3 and U. S. No. 4 not more than 5.0 percent, and in grades U. S. No. 5 and U. S. No. 6 not more than 10.0 percent, of milled rice other than unpolished milled rice, and the factor "color and general appearance" shall be disregarded.

(ii) Grade designation. Unpolished milled rice shall be graded and designated according to the special grade requirements for unpolished milled rice and to the grade requirements of the standards otherwise applicable to such milled rice, and there shall be added to and made a part of the grade designation the word "Unpolished."

(2) Parboiled milled rice—(i) Requirements. Parboiled milled rice shall be milled rice which, before being milled, was processed by soaking, steaming, and drying. Parboiled milled rice in grades U. S. Nos. 1 to 6, inclusive, may contain not more than 10.0 percent of kernels of parboiled milled rice that have ungelatinized areas; and parboiled milled rice in grades U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2 may contain not more than 0.1 percent, in grades U. S. No. 3 and N. S. No. 4 not more than 0.2 percent, and in grades U. S. No. 5 and U. S. No. 6 not more than 0.5 percent of nonparboiled milled rice.

(ii) Grade designation. Parboiled milled rice shall be graded and designated according to the special grade requirements for parboiled milled rice and to the grade requirements of the standards otherwise applicable to such milled rice, except that the factor "chalky kernels" shall be disregarded, and there shall be added to and made a part of the grade designation the words "Parboiled Light" if the milled rice is not colored or is slightly colored, the word "Parboiled" if the milled rice is distinctly but not materially colored, and the words "Parboiled Dark" if the milled rice is materially colored from the parboiling treatment.

(3) Coated milled rice—(i) Requirements. Coated milled rice shall be milled rice which, in whole or in part, is coated with glucose and talc.

(ii) Grade designation. Coated milled rice shall be graded and designated according to the grade requirements of the standards otherwise applicable to such milled rice, and there shall be added to and made a part of the grade designation the word "Coated."

Effective date: The foregoing standards shall become effective July 1, 1951, and on that date they shall supersede the United States Standards for rough rice which became effective May 15, 1942, for brown rice which became effective May 15, 1942, and for milled rice which became effective September 4, 1946 (7 CFR 60.75 et seq.).

Done at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of April 1951.

Chapter VII—Production and Marketing Administration (Agricultural Adjustment), Department of Agriculture

[1023 (Fire, Air, and Sun-51).3, Supp. 1]

PART 726—FIRE-CURED, DARK AIR-CURED, AND VIRGINIA SUN-CURED TOBACCO

MARKETING QUOTA REGULATIONS, 1951–52 MARKETING YEAR; TRANSFER OF FARM ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS

The amendment herein is based on the marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, applicable to tobacco (7 U. S. C. 1311–1314), and is made for the purpose of amending the fire-cured, dark air-cured, and Virginia sun-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations, 1951–52 marketing year, relating to the establishment of 1951 farm acreage allotments and normal yields for fire-cured, dark air-cured, and Virginia sun-cured tobacco.

Farmers throughout the tobacco producing areas are now completing their plans and preparing the land for the production of fire-cured, dark air-cured, and Virginia sun-cured tobacco in 1951. In order that tobacco farmers who are affected by the amendment set forth herein may make the necessary changes in their plans and operations, it is essential that the amendment be made effective as soon as possible. Accordingly, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the amendment contained herein shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The fire-cured, dark air-cured, and Virginia sun-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations, 1951–52 marketing year (15 F. R. 5874), are hereby amended by adding the following new section:

(Sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66; 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interprets or applies sec. 313, 52 Stat. 47, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1313)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of April 1951. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

GENERAL

§ 729.180 Basis and purpose. The regulations contained in §§ 729.180 to 729.192 are issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, and govern the method to be used in prorating the proceeds received by the designated agency from the sale of excess Virginia and Valencia peanuts for cleaning and shelling pursuant to section 359 (g) of such act, as amended. Virginia and Valencia types of peanuts were declared to be in short supply by the president, Commodity Credit Corporation on October 6, 1950 (15 F. R. 6833) pursuant to authority delegated to him by the Secretary.

Public notice of the proposed regulations governing distribution of proceeds received from the sale for cleaning and shelling of Virginia and Valencia types of 1950-crop excess peanuts was given (16 F. R. 2799) in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237). The regulations are issued after due consideration of recommendations submitted in response to such notice.

The marketing of the 1950 crop of Virginia and Valencia types of peanuts is practically complete. In order that the necessary determinations under these regulations and payments thereunder to producers may be made with reasonable promptness, it is essential that the regulations be made effective as soon as possible. Accordingly, it is hereby found and determined that compliance with the effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the regulations contained in §§ 729.180 to 729.192 shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

§ 729.181 Definitions. As used in §§ 729.180 to 729.192 the words and phrases used herein have the meaning assigned to them in § 729.141 of the Marketing Quota Regulations for the 1950 Crop of Peanuts (15 F. R. 4739).

§ 729.182 Instructions and forms. The Director shall cause to be prepared and issued such forms as are necessary and shall cause to be prepared such instructions for the guidance of the State and county committees as are necessary for carrying out §§ 729.180 to 729.192. The forms and instructions shall be approved by, and the instructions shall be issued by the Assistant Administrator for Commodity Operations, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 729.183 Total pounds delivered. In determining the total pounds of excess Virginia or Valencia type peanuts delivered to or marketed through the designated agency, the following shall not be included:

(1) Excess Virginia type peanuts marketed after June 15, 1951.

(2) Excess Valencia type peanuts marketed after May 15, 1951.

(3) Shelled excess Virginia or Valencia type peanuts retained by seed shellers as a toll for shelling peanuts for seed.

Totals of the pounds of excess Virginia and Valencia type peanuts delivered to or marketed through the designated agency shall be determined by obtaining totals of the pounds delivered for oil as shown on all memoranda of sale issued from excess oil marketing cards and covering Virginia or Valencia type peanuts.

§ 729.184 Costs to be deducted. The estimated cost of storing, handling, and selling, and the estimated cost of proration, with respect to each type of excess peanuts (i. e., Virginia and Valencia types of peanuts) shall be determined by the Assistant Administrator for Commodity Operations, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 729.185 Rate per pound. For each type of peanuts (i. e., Virginia and Valencia types of peanuts), the total amount paid to producers for excess peanuts of such type delivered to or marketed through the designated agency, the estimated cost of storing, handling, and selling excess peanuts of such type, and the estimated cost of proration, shall be deducted from the proceeds received by the designated agency from the sale of excess peanuts of such type for cleaning and shelling to determine the total amount to be prorated to persons who delivered to or marketed through the designated agency excess peanuts of such type. A flat rate per pound for each such type of peanuts shall be determined by dividing the total pounds of excess peanuts of such type delivered to or marketed through a designated agency into the total amount to be prorated for such type.

§ 729.186 Producers percentage shares. For each type of peanuts, each producer's percentage share of the picked and threshed acreage shall be determined by the county committee from the 1950 Performance Report (Form PMA–578). If, before all producers on the farm have signed the application for payment or before a final determination of the percentage and poundage shares by the county committee without the signatures of all producers on the farm, as provided in § 729.189, the county committee determines, on the basis of evidence submitted by any producer on the farm, that the percentage shares determined from the 1950 Performance Report are incorrect, the county committee shall redetermine the percentage shares for all producers on the farm on the basis of evidence submitted by the producers and any other information available to the county committee.

§ 729.187 Producers poundage shares. For each type of peanuts on each farm, each producer's poundage share of the excess peanuts delivered to or marketed through a designated agency shall be determined by the county committee by multiplying the producer's percentage share of the picked and threshed acreage of Virginia or Valencia type peanuts, as the case may be, on the farm by the total number of pounds of excess peanuts of such type produced on the farm that were delivered to or marketed through a designated agency. If, before all producers on the farm have signed the application for payment or before a final determination of the percentage and poundage shares by the county committee without the signatures of all producers on the farm, as provided in § 729.189, the county committee determines, on the basis of evidence submitted by any producer on the farm, that the poundage shares determined as provided in this section are incorrect, the county committee shall redetermine the poundage shares for all producers on the farm on the basis of evidence submitted by the producers and any other information available to the county committee.

§ 729.188 Amount due each producer. On each farm and for each type of peanuts, the amount due each producer shall be determined by multiplying the producer's poundage share by the rate per pound determined in accordance with § 729.185.

§ 729.189 Application for payment. In order to receive payment, each producer must sign an application for payment (CCC Peanut Form 836) certifying the correctness of his percentage and poundage shares. The applicable provisions of the "General Procedure for Applications for Payment," PMA Instruction No. 1066.1 (formerly ACP–207), a copy of which shall be available for public inspection in the office of each county committee, shall apply to the signing of applications for payment or other documents under the regulations in this part. The county committee shall make the application for payment with respect to each farm available for signature by the producer(s) either in the office of the county committee or by mailing such application for payment to the farm operator with a request that he obtain each producer's signature on such application. The county committee shall mail to each producer, at his last known address, a notice informing him whether the application for payment is available in the office of the county committee for signature or is being mailed to the farm operator for signature by each producer. Such notice shall specify the time within which all producers must sign such application and, if the application was mailed to the farm operator, the notice shall also specify the time within which the application must be returned to the county committee. No payment shall be made to any producer on the farm until all producers on the farm have signed the application for payment, except that, if the county committee determines, after expiration of the time for signature specified in the notice to each producer, that any producer cannot be located or that he has failed or refused to sign such application without good cause, the county committee may determine the percentage and poundage share for each producer in accordance with §§ 729.186 and 729.187 and payment may be made on the basis of such determination to each producer who has signed such application, and such determination and payments made thereunder shall be final and conclusive with respect to all producers on the farm.

§ 729.190 Method of payment. Payments to producers will be made by means of sight drafts on Commodity Credit Corporation issued by the State or county committee.

§ 729.191 Payment of amounts due persons who have died, disappeared, or have been declared incompetent. In case of death, disappearance, or incompetency of any producer, his share of the payment shall be paid to his successor, determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations in ACP–122, as amended (7 CFR 716.1–716.7).

§ 729.192 Payment computed and made without regard to claims. Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to question of title under State law, without deduction of claims for advances (except for indebtedness to the United States or any agency thereof, subject to set-off under regulations issued by the Secretary (7 CFR 718.1–718.4)) and without regard to any claim or lien against any crop or proceeds thereof in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 3]

PART 34—FLIGHT NAVIGATOR CERTIFICATES

CONTENTS AND SCOPE OF WRITTEN AND PRACTICAL EXAMINATIONS REQUIRED IN PROOF OF AERONAUTICAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILL

The following policies are hereby adopted. The sections of the regulations being implemented is repeated here to assist the public in understanding how the Administrator's policies apply to it.

Sec.
34.7 Knowledge.
34.7–1 The content and scope of the written examination required for a flight navigator certificate in proof of aeronautical knowledge (CAA policies which apply to § 34.7).
34.8 Skill.
34.8–1 The content and scope of the practical examination required for a flight navigator certificate in proof of aeronautical skill (CAA policies which apply to § 34.8).

AUTHORITY: §§ 34.7 to 34.8–1 issued under sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 602, 52 Stat. 1008; 49 U. S. C. 552.

§ 34.7 Knowledge. Applicant shall pass a written examination on the following subjects:

(a) Those provisions of the regulations in this subchapter pertinent to the duties of a navigator in the navigation of aircraft;

(b) The fundamentals of flight navigation, including flight planning and cruise control;

(c) Practical meteorology, including the analysis of weather maps, weather reports, and weather forecasts; weather sequence abbreviations, symbols, and nomenclature;

(d) Types of air navigation facilities and procedures in general use;

(e) The calibration and use of instruments used in air navigation;

(f) Navigation by dead reckoning;

(g) Navigation by celestial means;

(h) Navigation by means of radio aids;

(i) Pilotage and map reading;

(j) Interpretation of navigational aid identification signals.

§ 34.7–1 The content and scope of the written examination required for a flight navigator certificate in proof of aeronautical knowledge (CAA policies which apply to § 34.7). The flight navigator written examination is designed for the purpose of determining whether or not an applicant possesses sufficient knowledge to perform safely the duties of a flight navigator.

Since the holder of a valid flight navigator certificate is privileged to navigate any type of aircraft to any part of the world, he must be thoroughly familiar with numerous navigational methods and aids. The examination, therefore, covers the subject of navigation very broadly.

NOTE: The Administrator has compiled a study guide to aid applicants in preparing for the flight navigator certificate written examination. This guide is contained in Appendix A of Civil Aeronautics Manual 34, not filed with the Federal Register Division.

§ 34.8 Skill. (a) Applicant shall pass a practical examination in the operation of flight navigational equipment.

(b) Applicant shall accomplish practical tests in aircraft navigation by:

(1) Dead reckoning;

(2) Celestial means; and

(3) Radio aids to navigation.

§ 34.8–1 The content and scope of the practical examination required for a flight navigator certificate in proof of aeronautical skill (CAA policies which apply to § 34.8). The practical examination is designed for the purpose of determining whether or not an applicant possesses sufficient skill to perform safely the duties of flight navigator.

NOTE: The administrator has compiled a guide to aid applicants in preparing for the flight navigator certificate practical examination. This guide is contained in Appendix B of Civil Aeronautics Manual 34, not filed with the Federal Register Division.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 602, 52 Stat. 1008; 49 U. S. C. 552)

These policies shall become effective May 4, 1951.

PART 51—GROUND INSTRUCTOR RATING

PRACTICAL TEST REQUIREMENT FOR ORIGINAL ISSUANCE

Proposed rules regarding compliance with § 51.17–1 were published on November 7, 1950, in 15 F. R. 7486. Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments. Consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented. The following rules are hereby adopted. The section of the regulations being implemented is repeated here to assist the public in understanding how the Administrator's rules apply to it.

§ 51.17 Standard of performance. All practical and theoretical examinations and tests shall be accomplished to the satisfaction of the Administrator and the passing grade in each subject shall be 70 percent.

§ 51.17–1 Practical test requirements for original issuance of a ground instructor certificate and rating (CAA rules which apply to § 51.17)—(a) General. In the interest of uniformity in application of examination procedures, to effect a better standardization of test requirements, and to raise the general quality of instruction, a practical examination shall be given to all applicants for original issuance of a ground instructor certificate and rating, except those applicants who hold a currently effective teacher's certificate issued by a city, county, or state.

(b) Date of implementation of practical test. On and after January 1, 1951, all applicants for original issuance of a ground instructor certificate, except those holding currently effective teacher's certificates issued by a city, county, or state, shall be required to successfully accomplish a practical examination on the fundamentals of instructing. Holders of ground instructor certificates issued prior to January 1, 1951, whose certificates are currently effective on that date shall not be required to take the practical examination.

(c) Practical examination. The examination shall consist of a demonstration of the practical application of the fundamentals of instructing, in which the applicant will be tested for his ability to present the subject matter to a student in clear and understandable terms. This practical examination may be accomplished either by having the applicant instruct a representative of the Administrator in the subject matter for which he seeks a rating or by a representative of the Administrator observing the applicant teach a group of students.

A grade of at least 70 percent must be obtained in order to pass the practical examination.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended, 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, 49 U. S. C., 551)

These rules shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 516—RECORDS TO BE KEPT BY EMPLOYERS

INDUSTRIAL HOMEWORKERS

The regulations contained in this part have been issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions pursuant to section 11 (c) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended.

Section 516.21 of these regulations provides for certain records to be kept by employers who employ industrial homeworkers. Section 516.21 (a) defines "industrial homeworker" as "any person producing in or about a home, for an employer, goods from material furnished directly by or indirectly for such employer."

In the administration and enforcement of the Fair Labor Standards Act the Administrator and the Secretary of Labor construe this definition, and the definitions of industrial home work contained in other regulations under the act, as being applicable to homeworkers producing goods for or on behalf of an employer, regardless of the source of the materials used by the homeworkers. The act and regulations have for years been enforced on this basis.

In a recent decision by the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit in the case of Tobin v. Wagner Company, Inc. (March 21, 1951) the court questioned the intended scope of the regulations of the Administrator prohibiting industrial home work on the ground that the language defining "industrial home work" contained in such regulations is not sufficiently clear in the absence of a published administrative construction of such language as being applicable to situations where the homeworkers obtain their materials from a source independent of the person for whom the goods are being produced.

Accordingly, in order to clarify the record-keeping requirements concerning industrial homeworkers contained in § 516.21, such section is amended as set forth below. Inasmuch as this amendment merely undertakes to clarify, not to change the consequences intended by the present regulations, advance notice and public procedure thereon as well as delay in the effective date are unnecessary (Administrative Procedure Act, sec. 4, 60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1004).

Now, therefore, pursuant to authority vested in me by section 11 (c) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, § 516.21 is amended to read as follows:

§ 516.21 Industrial homeworkers—(a) Definitions. (1) "Industrial homeworker" and "homeworker," as used in this section, mean any employee employed or suffered or permitted to perform industrial home work for an employer.

(2) "Industrial home work," as used in this section, means the production by any person in or about a home, apartment, tenement, or room in a residential establishment of goods for an employer who suffers or permits such production, regardless of the source (whether obtained from an employer or elsewhere) of the materials used by the homeworker in such production.

(3) The terms "person," "employ," "employer," "employee," "goods," and "production" as used in this section is the same as in the act.

(b) Items required. Every employer shall maintain and preserve payroll or other records containing the following information and data with respect to each and every industrial homeworker employed by him (excepting those homeworkers in Puerto Rico to whom Part 545 or Part 681 of this chapter apply, or in the Virgin Islands to whom Part 695 of this chapter applies).

(1) Name in full, and on the same record, the employee's identifying symbol or number if such is used in place of name on any time, work, or payroll records. This shall be the same as that used for Social Security record purposes.

(2) Home address,

(3) Date of birth if under 19,

(4) With respect to each lot of work:

(i) Date on which work is given out to worker, or begun by worker, and amount of such work given out or begun,

(ii) Date on which work is turned in by worker, and amount of such work,

(iii) Kind of articles worked on and operations performed,

(iv) Piece rates paid,

(v) Hours worked on each lot of work turned in,

(vi) Wages paid for each lot of work turned in,

(vii) Deductions for Social Security taxes,

(viii) Date of wage payment and pay period covered by payment,

(5) With respect to each week:

(i) Hours worked each week,

(ii) Wages earned for each week at regular piece rates,

(iii) Extra pay due each week for overtime worked,

(iv) Total wages earned each week,

(v) Deductions for Social Security taxes,

(6) With respect to any agent, distributor, or contractor: the name and address of each such agent, distributor, or contractor through whom home work is distributed or collected and name and address of each homeworker to whom home work is distributed or from whom it is collected by each such agent, distributor or contractor.

(c) Home work handbook. In addition to the information and data required in paragraph (b) of this section, a separate handbook (to be obtained by the employer from the Wage and Hour Division and supplied by him to each worker) shall be kept for each homeworker. The information required therein shall be entered by the employer or the person distributing or collecting home work on behalf of such employer each time work is given out to or received from a homeworker. Except for the time necessary for the making of entries by the employer, the handbook must remain in the possession of the homeworker until such time as the Wage and Hour Division may request it. Upon completion of the handbook (that is, no space remains for additional entries) or termination of the homeworker's services, the handbook shall be returned to the employer for preservation in accordance with the regulations in this part. A separate record and a separate handbook shall be kept for each person performing home work.

This amendment shall become effective immediately on publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 11, 52 Stat. 1066, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 211)

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of April 1951.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

CPR 22, SR 2—ALTERNATIVE METHOD FOR DETERMINING CEILING PRICES BY ADJUSTING CEILING PRICES ESTABLISHED UNDER THE GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION RATHER THAN BASE PERIOD PRICES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The Statement of Considerations accompanying Ceiling Price Regulation 22 emphasized that a primary objective of the regulation was to remedy the distorted price structure which had been frozen by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. It is expected that Ceiling Price Regulation 22 will aid materially in restoring a more balanced price relationship between the prices of commodities at different stages of manufacturing and processing.

In accomplishing this essential objective, however, existing relationships between the prices of different commodities sold by the same manufacturer may be substantially altered. Under the terms of Ceiling Price Regulation 22, the adjustment of pre-Korean prices to reflect post-Korean labor and materials cost increases can be made in a number of ways. The adjustments can be calculated separately for each commodity, or a uniform percentage increase can be applied to all commodities in a product line or a category or to all the commodities produced in a unit of a business or even in an entire business. For most companies covered by the regulation, these alternative methods of calculation should provide sufficient flexibility to yield a structure of ceiling prices which is satisfactory, not only in its average level, but also in the relationship between the prices of the different commodities sold. There are cases, however, in which this is not true, particularly for multi-product companies producing a wide range of products, using many different materials which have experienced greatly varying cost increases. In these cases, calculation of individual adjustments for each commodity may prove too burdensome, while the application of a uniform factor to all the items in a category or unit of the business may cause an undesirable disturbance of the existing price pattern.

The purpose of this supplementary regulation is to provide an alternative method of pricing which would permit companies in the position just described to adjust their general price level in strict accordance with the principles underlying Ceiling Price Regulation 22, but with minimum disruption to their current price relationships. Under this supplementary regulation, the manufacturer first computes the total increase in certain of his manufacturing costs since Korea for all the products in his business, a unit of his business, a category or a product line. He then calculates the average amount by which his ceiling prices under GCPR exceed those he charged in his pre-Korean base period. On the basis of these two ratios, he adjusts his current ceiling prices, either upward or downward, by a uniform percentage, so as to yield him the same average increase over his base period prices as he would obtain by applying the adjustment factors to his base period prices directly.

The manufacturer who avails himself of this alternative method of determining his ceiling prices, should neither gain nor lose in total revenue as compared with the manufacturer who adjusts his base period prices. It simply makes it possible for him to maintain the existing price relationships between his different products.

It may be that the method prescribed in this supplementary regulation for obtaining a uniform percentage to be applied to current ceiling prices is not practicable in some situations. Where this is the case, a manufacturer is permitted to propose his own method for calculating a uniform percentage. Any such proposed method must be consistent with the method prescribed in this regulation, must yield the same basic results and cannot be used unless and until approved in writing by the Director of Price Stabilization.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.

1. What this supplementary regulation does.
2. Applicability of this supplementary regulation.
3. How to adjust your GCPR ceiling prices for all of your commodities.
4. How to adjust your GCPR ceiling prices for all commodities produced in a particular unit of your business, category or product line.
5. Applicability of provisions of CPR 22.
6. Option to propose an alternative method for obtaining your price adjustment ratio.
7. Records.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 8 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this supplementary regulation does. This supplementary regulation permits you to determine your ceiling prices by adjusting your ceiling prices established under the GCPR rather than your base period prices under CPR 22. Consequently this pricing method can be used only for (a) commodities in which you dealt between July 1, 1949 and June 24, 1950 and which can be priced under section 3 of CPR 22 or (b) minor change commodities which can be priced under section 30 of CPR 22. You may wish to use this supplementary regulation if a uniform percentage increase applied to your base period prices for all of your commodities or for all of your commodities produced in a particular unit of your business or included in a particular category or product line would be inappropriate because materials costs of your individual commodities have increased in varying proportions. Although, under Method 2 (section 14) of CPR 22, "the materials cost adjustment" could be calculated separately for each commodity, it may be that you manufacture so many different commodities that use of that method would not be practicable.

Under this supplementary regulation you first calculate the average percentage increase over your base period prices which you would be permitted under CPR 22. You then compare this percentage with the percentage by which your GCPR ceiling prices actually exceed your base period prices. The difference is a percentage adjustment, up or down, which you apply to your GCPR ceiling prices. In addition, this supplementary regulation permits you to propose your own method for arriving at such a percentage adjustment. There are prescribed limitations upon the use of any such proposed method.

This section is intended only as a general description to aid in understanding this supplementary regulation; the following sections are controlling.

SEC. 2. Applicability of this supplementary regulation. This supplementary regulation applies only to commodities which can be priced under sections 3 or 30 of CPR 22. Therefore, any reference to "commodity" in this supplementary regulation means only a commodity which can be so priced.

SEC. 3. How to adjust your GCPR ceiling prices for all of your commodities. If you do not operate more than one plant you may determine your ceiling prices for all of your commodities in the following manner:

(a) Add your labor cost adjustment factor derived under section 8 (e) of CPR 22 and your materials cost adjustment factor derived under either section 13 (d), 15 (c) or 16 (d) of CPR 22, depending upon which you used. (You will have used section 15 (c) only if all of your commodities are in the same product line and section 16 (d) only if all of your commodities are in the same category or product line.) The resulting toial is referred to as your "total cost adjustment factor."

(b) Find the number of units of each commodity sold by you during your last fiscal year ended not later than December 31, 1950.

(c) Multiply the number of units of each commodity found under paragraph (b) of this section by the base period price for that commodity. The base period price is obtained under section 6 of CPR 22 and is based upon a price to your largest buying class of purchaser. Add these amounts to find the total value of your sales at base period prices.

(d) Multiply the number of units of each commodity found under paragraph (b) of this section by your GCPR ceiling price for that commodity to the same largest buying class of purchaser you used in paragraph (c) of this section. Add these amounts to obtain the total value of your sales at GCPR prices.

(e) Divide the GCPR value found under paragraph (d) of this section by the base period value found under paragraph (c) of this section. This will give you the average ratio between your GCPR prices and your base period prices. This percentage is referred to as your "actual price ratio".

(f) Add 100 percent to your total cost adjustment factor derived under paragraph (a) of this section. The resulting percentage is referred to as your "permissible ceiling price ratio".

(g) Divide your permissible ceiling price ratio by your actual price ratio. The resulting percentage is referred to as your "price adjustment ratio".

(h) Apply your price adjustment ratio to your GCPR ceiling prices for the commodities you are pricing. The GCPR ceiling price you use is that to the same largest buying class of purchaser you used in paragraph (c) of this section. This will give your ceiling prices for these commodities to that class of purchaser. Your ceiling prices to each of your other classes of purchaser shall be determined in accordance with section 3 (c) of CPR 22.

(i) If you use this section, it must be used for all of your commodities.

Example 1: Your labor cost adjustment factor calculated in accordance with section 8 (e) of CPR 22 is 3 percent. Your materials cost adjustment factor calculated in accordance with section 13 (d) of CPR 22 is 7 percent. Your total cost adjustment factor is therefore 10 percent. 100 percent plus 10 percent is 110 percent. This is your permissible ceiling price ratio. Your actual price ratio derived under paragraph (e) of this section is 115 percent. 110 percent divided by 115 percent is 95.65 percent. This is your price adjustment ratio. Multiply your GCPR ceiling prices for the commodities being priced by 95.65 percent (or decrease each price by 4.35 percent). This will give your new ceiling prices for these commodities. (Also see sample work sheet in Appendix A.)

Example 2: Your permissible ceiling price ratio is 110 percent, the same as in Example 1. However, your actual price ratio derived under paragraph (e) of this section is 105 percent. 110 percent divided by 105 percent is 104.76 percent. This is your price adjustment ratio. You therefore multiply your GCPR ceiling prices for the commodities being priced by 104.76 percent (or increase each price by 4.76 percent). This will give your new ceiling prices for these commodities.

SEC. 4. How to adjust your GCPR ceiling prices for all commodities produced in a particular unit of your business, category or product line. If you wish to determine your ceiling prices for all commodities produced in a particular unit of your business for which you regularly maintain separate accounts, or in a particular category or product line, you make the calculations prescribed in section 3 of this supplementary regulation, except that your labor cost adjustment factor may be derived under either sections 8 or 9 of CPR 22 and your other calculations will be based upon that particular unit of your business, category or product line, rather than upon your entire business. Thus, in calculating your materials cost adjustment factor you will use section 13 (d) of CPR 22 for a unit of your business, section 15 (c) of CPR 22 for a product line or section 16 (d) of CPR 22 for a category or product line. The price adjustment ratio you derive will be applied only to the GCPR ceiling prices for the commodities produced in that particular unit of your business, category or product line. If you use this section, it must be used for all commodities produced in that particular unit of your business, product line or category.

SEC. 5. Applicability of provisions of CPR 22. Except to the extent expressly modified or supplemented by this supplementary regulation, all provisions of CPR 22 shall be applicable to any manufacturer subject to CPR 22 who uses this supplementary regulation. Thus, by way of illustration, reports on Public Form No. 8 must be filed in accordance with sections 46 and 48 of CPR 22; the 15-day waiting period prescribed by those sections in cases where a ceiling price higher than that under the General Ceiling Price Regulation is reported, must be observed; and the limitations upon the use of sections 13 and 16 of CPR 22 must be complied with.

SEC. 6. Option to propose an alternative method for obtaining your price adjustment ratio. (a) If you believe that your situation makes desirable the use of a pricing method under which your GCFR ceiling prices would be adjusted rather than your base period prices under CPR 22, but you consider that the method prescribed in this supplementary regulation for obtaining your price adjustment ratio cannot practicably be used by you, you may propose an alternative method in the manner specified in paragraph (b) of this section. Your proposed method must take account of the same factors as the method prescribed in this supplementary regulation and must achieve the same basic results.

(b) You should submit your proposed method in writing to the Director of Price Stabilization, stating the reasons why you believe it to be appropriate and why you consider use of the method prescribed in this supplementary regulation is not practicable; and setting forth in detail each of the steps to be taken. You may, if you prefer, submit your proposed method without actually calculating your ceiling prices under it. You must nevertheless indicate what the change would be in the general level of your GCPR ceiling prices and your base period prices for the particular commodities to which your proposed method will be applied; and what your new ceiling prices would be for at least the best selling commodity in your more important product lines. In addition, you must indicate your base period prices and your ceiling prices as determined under CPR 22 for each such best selling commodity. Unless and until the Director of Price Stabilization approves in writing your proposed method, you may not use it. If you have submitted your proposed method without calculating your ceiling prices under it, you may not use that method until you have submitted your ceiling prices as determined thereunder and the Director of Price Stabilization has given you written approval.

SEC. 7. Records. Section 46 (a) (2) (ii) of CPR 22 requires that the records to be preserved must include appropriate work sheets. In addition to the work sheets referred to therein, there must also be preserved the additional work sheets required for your calculations under this supplementary regulation. Appendix A contains a suggested work sheet for these additional calculations. The work sheets to be preserved may be in the form shown in Appendix A, or they may be in any other convenient form so long as they include all data and calculations required to determine your ceiling prices under this supplementary regulation.

SEC. 8. Definitions.—(a) GCPR. This term means the General Ceiling Price Regulation issued by the Director of Price Stabilization on January 26, 1951 (16 F. R. 809), as amended.

(b) CPR 22. This term means Ceiling Price Regulation 22 issued by the Director of Price Stabilization on April 25, 1951.

All definitions used in CPR 22 which are pertinent to this supplementary regulation are incorporated in this supplementary regulation by this reference.

Effective date. The effective date of this supplementary regulation is May 28, 1951.

NOTE.—The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

MAY 1, 1951.

APPENDIX A

This appendix contains a "work sheet" with illustrative figures inserted for certain calculations required for determining ceiling prices under this supplementary regulation. Copies of this work sheet will not be distributed by OPS. It is shown only to indicate the content and arrangement of data appropriate for certain important calculations, for a record of these calculations for your own use, for examination by OPS representatives and for submittal on request to OPS. Any other arrangement which records the same basic data and calculations is acceptable.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 27]

CPR 27—LAKE COAL DOCK OPERATORS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 27 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The coal docks located on the United States bank of Lake Superior and on that part of the west bank of Lake Michigan north of and including Waukegan, Illinois, have been aptly referred to as the coal mines of the Northwest. Elaborate facilities are utilized by such docks to handle, prepare and size coal to meet the varied needs of the Northwest area supplied by the docks. Except for the physical distance of such a dock from the coal mines which supply it, the dock and its facilities might well be considered "a preparation plant which is an adjunct of a mine or mines" within the meaning of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3 (Coal, except Pennsylvania Anthracite, Delivered from Mine or Preparation Plant).

Since the overwhelming preponderance of the solid fuel tonnage handled or prepared on these docks and sold from them is the coal subject to Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3 (when sold by the producer f. o. b. the mine to the dock operator) it is appropriate that the pattern of this regulation should follow so far as practicable the pattern of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3. In this way, the ceiling prices for coal sold from the docks will be reasonably related to the ceiling prices which the dock operators may have to pay to the producer under Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3. The basic pattern of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3 in respect to base period, the period on the basis of which ceilling prices are determinable, and ceiling weighted average realization are substantially followed in this regulation. Some reasonable modifications in the basic pattern have been made in order to accommodate it to the distinguishing features of the lake dock coal trade, including (a) the problems incident to the fact that the lake docks handle normally coals from many different mines which produce coals of varying grades and sizes and (b) the fact that the ceiling prices at the mine, one of the principal components of the lake coal dock operators' prices, have advanced pursuant to the authority of Ceiling Price Regulations Nos. 3 and 4, which became effective on February 1, 1951.

The early and orderly establishing of ceiling prices will permit the lake dock operators to proceed efficiently to make the arrangements which now have to be made for the purchase of coal and for water transportation facilities in order to assure that the 1951 season of lake navigation will be utilized effectively to provide for the coal needs of the industries and other consumers of the Northwest who are dependent on the lake dock operators for their supply.

A relatively small amount of Pennsylvania anthracite, coke, briquets and packaged fuel is sold from the lake docks and adjacent facilities and those solid fuels are also covered by this regulation.

The regulation provides that the ceiling prices shall be the highest prices charged for any size, grade, grouping or other classification of coal sold at a dock during the base period or the period January 1 to 15, 1951, and that the ceiling weighted average realization shall be that obtained during the base period. These ceilings may be increased by the per-ton amount of increase in the f. o. b. mine cost of the principal supplier in the base period or the 1950 season of lake navigation resulting from recognized wage and salary advances which become effective on or after January 1, 1951, and prior to June 30, 1951.

Transportation costs represent an important component in the cost of solid fuels at the lake docks. Substantial increases in transportation rates have occurred since the base period, including a recent increase in railroad freight rates up to six cents per net ton (seven cents per gross ton). Furthermore, lake vessel rates are likely to increase to some extent as a result of a Supplementary Regulation 12 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, which became effective on March 14, 1951. However, this regulation does not authorize these transportation cost increases to be reflected in the ceiling prices.

Increases in labor and other costs incurred by the lake coal dock operator, likewise, may not be added to the ceiling prices. The industry is not prejudiced, however, from applying in the future for increases to reflect transportation or other cost increases in the light of the prevailing standards in effect for granting adjustments.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR OF PRICE STABILIZATION

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 27 are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

In formulating this regulation the Director has consulted with representatives of the industry to the extent practicable under the circumstances, and has given consideration to their recommendations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 16 issued under Sec. 704, Public Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Public Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10151, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Applicability of regulation. This regulation establishes ceiling prices and ceilings on weighted average realization for solid fuels received at and sold from docks on the United States bank of Lake Superior and on that part of the west bank of Lake Michigan north of and including Waukegan, Illinois, except that it shall not apply to sales of vessel fuel or retail sales, nor does it cover pricing of coke, briquetts or packaged fuel at the producing level.

SEC. 2. Definitions. When used in this regulation, the term:

(a) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing;

(b) "Lake Dock Operator" means any person (including an operator who is the same person as the producer) who (in person or by an agent) handles, stores and/or prepares solid fuel on a lake dock or at facilities which are an adjunct of such dock and sells such solid fuel for its own account in not less than cargo or carload lots, or the equivalent thereof, at or for delivery from such lake dock or facilities.

(c) "Retail coal dealer" means any person (including the retail outlet, branch or department of one who is also a lake dock operator) to the extent that he sells, delivers or disposes of solid fuel in a transaction involving the disposal of solid fuel physically handled in a truck, wagon or other less-than-carload facility without regard to quantity or frequency of delivery. "Retail sales" mean sales of solid fuel by a retail solid fuel dealer.

(d) "Producer" means a person engaged in the business of mining or preparing coal at a preparation plant which is an adjunct of a mine or mines, or in producing coke, semi-distilled coal, briquets, packaged fuel or petroleum coke; and any person acting as an agent of a producer.

(e) "Distributor", as used herein, means a person who purchases solid fuel from a lake dock operator for resale, and resells the same in not less than cargo or railroad carload lots, or the equivalent thereof, without physically handling such solid fuel; and any person acting as an agent of such distributor in the sale of solid fuel;

(f) "Sales Agent", as used herein, is a person who as agent of a lake dock operator sells solid fuel for or on behalf of the lake dock operator;

(g) "Coal" means (1) bituminous coal, including all bituminous, semi-bituminous and sub-bituminous; (2) Virginia anthracite; and (3) Pennsylvania anthracite;

(h) "Solid fuel" means (1) coal; (2) coke; (3) briquets and semi-distilled coal; and (4) packaged fuel;

(i) "Ton" means a short or net ton of 2,000 pounds;

(j) "Base period" means: the period from July 1, 1948, to June 30, 1949, inclusive;

(k) "Realization" is the gross amount of money or value received or debited to the account of the lake dock operator in the sale of solid fuel and shall include the total price charged by the lake dock operator (including commissions to sales agents and discounts to distributors);

(l) "Open market sales" shall include solid fuel sold, delivered or otherwise disposed of by rail, truck, barge or other method of transportation pursuant to an arms-length transaction and shall not include solid fuel sold or transferred to the retail yard and/or department of a lake dock operator, or controlled sales. "Controlled sales" means sales for consumption by the buyer (1) where the relationship between lake dock operator and buyer is that of a wholly-owned or controlled subsidiary and parent corporation, or (2) where there is common ownership or control of the lake dock operator and buyer in a third party, or (3) where the relation between lake dock operator and buyer for any similar reason is such that the sale is non-competitive, and is generally termed "captive" sales;

(m) "Ceiling price" means the highest price applicable to a particular size grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel determined in accordance with the provisions of this regulation. Such ceiling price shall include commissions to sales agents and discounts to distributors and shall be an f. o. b. dock price.

(n) "F. o. b. mine" and "f. o. b. plant" mean free on board transportation facilities at a mine, a preparation plant, ovens and other plant or loading facilities (not including ground storage facilities).

SEC. 3. Prohibition against selling, delivering or otherwise disposing of solid fuel at prices above the ceiling. On and after the 1st day of May, 1951, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation:

(a) No person who is a lake dock operator or distributor shall sell, dispose, deliver or ship solid fuel from a lake dock or facilities operated as an adjunct of a lake dock at prices higher than the ceiling prices determined in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

(b) No person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive such solid fuel so delivered or shipped at higher prices than the ceiling prices determined in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do anything prohibited in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization. (a) The ceiling price for each lake dock (to which this regulation is applicable) for any size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel, as established by previous marketing practices, which may be charged under this regulation shall be the highest price received for solid fuel in the same size, grade, grouping, or other classification in the base period or in the period January 1–15, inclusive, 1951. Each lake dock operator shall file a certified statement, by letter, of the ceiling prices, to include such ceiling prices, as are derived from distributors' sales, with the Director and with the regional office or offices of the Office of Price Stabilization in the area or areas to which the lake dock operator's solid fuel is shipped, within 30 days after such prices become effective, in accordance with instructions issued by the Director, as provided in section 14 of this regulation.

(b) On and after the effective date of this regulation the prices charged for the solid fuel sold from a lake dock (to which this regulation is applicable) shall be such that the weighted average realization per ton by the lake dock operator for the 12-month period commencing May 1, 1951, and ending April 30, 1952, and for each 12-month period beginning on the first day of each succeeding month, commencing June 1, 1951, shall not exceed the weighted average realization obtained by the lake dock operator from the sale, delivery or other disposal of solid fuel during the base period.

(c) The lake dock operator shall determine his ceiling weighted average realization for the base period for any such dock (1) by dividing the realization received from sales of solid fuel on the open market by the number of tons so sold or (2) by dividing the realization received from the sale of the sizes, grades, groupings or other classifications of solid fuel on the open market by the number of tons so sold. The lake dock operator shall file a certified statement of the ceiling weighted average realization so determined with the Director, as required by section 14 (a) of this regulation.

(d) The ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization determined for a lake dock in accordance with the provisions of this regulation may be increased as follows:

(1) For each size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel sold and delivered by a lake dock operator by an amount not exceeding the actual dollar-and-cents per ton amount of increase in the f. o. b. mine or f. o. b. plant cost on each such size, grade, grouping, or other classification permitted to be charged by the supplier who furnished the principal supply of each such size, grade, grouping, or other classification to the lake dock operator during the lake dock operator's base period or the 1950 season of lake navigation; provided such increased cost of solid fuel resulted from any wage and salary advances and other items related to the payroll which became effective on or after January 1, 1951, and which the supplier is authorized to add to his ceiling prices under the provisions of any regulation, supplementary regulation or amendment thereto issued by the Director.

(2) Each lake dock operator who is the same person as the supplier may add for each size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel he sells and delivers the per ton amount of increase in the f. o. b. mine or f. o. b. plant price on each such size, grade, grouping, or other classification permitted to be charged (with the same limitation as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph) by the supplier to an independent lake dock operator under the authority of any regulation, supplementary regulation or amendment thereto issued by the Director.

(3) The authority to increase the ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization as set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph on any size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel shall be effective upon receipt by the lake dock operator of a written notice of shipment of solid fuel mined or otherwise produced on or after February 1, 1951 from the lake dock operator's principal supplier during the lake dock operator's base period or the 1950 season of lake navigation and a written statement, which shall be furnished by such supplier to the lake dock operator at the dock operator's request, showing the authorized per ton amount of cost increase which such supplier may add to the price of the applicable sizes, grades, groupings, or other classifications of solid fuel under the authority of the aforesaid regulations and within the limitations of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(e) The highest price referred to in paragraph (a) of this section shall be separately determined by the lake coal dock operator in accordance with such classification as established by previous marketing practices.

(f) The ceiling prices to be determined in paragraph (a) of this section and the ceiling weighted average realization to be determined under paragraph (b) of this section may, at the option of the lake coal dock operator, be determined and established for a group of docks operated or controlled by a single operator (as distinguished from a particular dock).

SEC. 5. Retail sales and dock handling services. (a) A lake dock operator who also sells solid fuels as a retail coal dealer shall exclude all retail sales in determining ceiling weighted average realization and ceiling prices under this regulation.

(b) Lake coal dock operators who, as a service to other persons, handle, store, and/or prepare solid fuel, charging therefor a service fee on a per-net ton basis, may continue to perform such service: Provided, That the service fee he is authorized to charge shall not be higher than the gross margin he obtains or is permitted to obtain on the sale of his most nearly similar size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel under the terms of this regulation. The amount received from such transactions may be excluded in determining the ceiling weighted average realization in the base period to this regulation; if such amount received is excluded, it shall also be excluded in the reports of monthly realization on future transactions.

SEC. 6. Procedure for establishing ceilings on new products. (a) If a particular size, grade, grouping, or other classification of solid fuel was not sold during the base period or during the period January 1–15, inclusive, 1951, and therefore no specific ceiling price is established therefor, the ceiling price for such size, grade, grouping, or other classification shall be determined as follows:

(1) If the particular unpriced size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel is a lump size, the ceiling price shall be not more than the lowest ceiling price established for the nearest comparable size of lump solid fuel of the same grade, grouping or other classification.

(2) If the particular unpriced size is a double-screened solid fuel, the ceiling price shall be not more than the lowest ceiling price established for the nearest comparable double-screened size of the same grade, grouping or other classification.

(3) If the particular unpriced size is a resultant (run of pile, unscreened stoker, slack or screening) size, the ceiling price shall be not more than the lowest ceiling price for the nearest comparable resultant (run of pile, unscreened stoker, slack or screening) size of the same grade, grouping or other classification.

(b) In the event of the mixture of two or more sizes, grades, groupings or other classifications of solid fuel to which different ceiling prices are applicable, which mixture was not made during the base period or the period January 1–15, 1951, the ceiling price for such mixture shall be not more than the weighted average of the ceiling prices for each of the component sizes, grades, groupings or other classifications of solid fuel in said mixture, on a per net ton basis.

(c) If a particular size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel was not sold during the base period and therefore no specific ceiling weighted average realization is established therefore, the lake dock operator may file an application seeking the establishment of a ceiling weighted average realization that is fair and equitable. The applicant shall clearly set forth the information and data deemed necessary to support the application. The Director may request any other information deemed necessary by him to a fair and reasonable determination of the issues raised in the application.

SEC. 7. Transportation charges. Where solid fuel is delivered from a lake dock in any transportation facilities owned or subject to the control of the lake dock operator or distributor, or subsidiary or affiliate of the lake dock operator or distributor, in any transportation facilities hired by the lake dock operator or distributor, there may be added to the applicable ceiling price established herein a sum not in excess of the actual transportation costs incurred by such lake dock operator or distributor, or subsidiary or affiliate thereof, determined in a reasonable manner, but in no event to exceed the lowest common carrier rate, if any, for a haul between the same points: Provided, That there may also be added by a producer or distributor, to the applicable maximum price established herein, an amount not in excess of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 if said lake dock operator or distributor incurred such tax and if he separately states the amount of the tax in sales to all purchasers except the United States or any agency thereof, the District of Columbia, any state government or any political subdivision thereof.

SEC. 8. Taxes. There may be added to the applicable ceiling price the amount of any sales, gross receipts, gross proceeds or use tax levied by any statute or ordinance, under which the tax is measured by gross proceeds or units of sale, only if the statute or ordinance permits or requires the seller to state the tax separately and the seller does state it separately on his invoice or other memorandum of sale, and only if the seller customarily added the amount of such tax to the ceiling price and separately stated the tax on his invoices prior to January 15, 1951.

SEC. 9. Interest rate on overdue accounts. The rate of interest on overdue accounts or on a note, trade acceptance or other form of indebtedness accepted in payment of an account shall not exceed the rate charged by the seller on similar transactions during the base period.

SEC. 10. New operator or owner. Any purchaser, lessee or transferee of a lake coal dock for which ceiling prices and a ceiling weighted average realization have been established shall take the ceiling prices or ceiling weighted average realization previously assigned to the lake coal dock or other seller, lessor or transferor thereof.

SEC. 11. Less than ceiling prices. Lower prices than those established under this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 12. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to solid fuel alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tie-in agreement or other trade understanding or by the making of excessive charges for trucking or otherwise. Persons subject to the regulation shall continue to observe their customary and standard cash discount practices.

SEC. 13. Sales agents and distributors. No sales agent or distributor shall charge a price f. o. b. dock in excess of the ceiling price or prices established for such dock or docks under the provisions of this regulation: Provided, That in the event a distributor purchased solid fuel from a dock or docks during the lake coal dock operator's base period or the period January 1–15, 1951, and resold such solid fuel, said distributor may buy and resell solid fuel from said dock or docks and charge the highest price or prices he received for each size, grouping, grade, or other classification of solid fuel during the aforesaid periods plus any adjustments in price applied to the f. o. b. dock price of such solid fuel: Provided, further, That the distributor files with the Director such reports or records as may be required on forms prescribed and according to instructions issued by the Director. The distributor shall preserve his records to support such reports for a period of two years.

SEC. 14. Reporting, invoicing and record-keeping requirements. (a) Each lake coal dock operator shall compute and establish its weighted average realization during the base period and shall report such realization base to the Director within thirty days after the date ceiling prices became effective under this regulation. The report shall be made on forms prescribed and according to instructions issued by the Director.

(b) The basis for setting up ceiling prices on particular sizes, groupings, grades and classifications of solid fuels shall be submitted to the Director on forms provided by him in accordance with his instructions within thirty days after this regulation becomes effective.

(c) Each lake coal dock operator shall compute its increase or increases in costs in accordance with sections 4 (d) (3) of this regulation on a form and in accordance with the instructions to be issued by the Director within 30 days after this regulation becomes effective.

(d) Ceiling price schedules shall be filed by letter by the lake dock operator with the Director and with the regional office or offices of the Agency in the region or regions where the operator's solid fuel is shipped, within thirty days after the day such prices become effective. Copies of such price schedules shall be open for public inspection. All changes in or new ceiling prices shall be similarly filed.

(e) Each lake coal dock operator shall report monthly its monthly realization to the Director on forms provided by him and in accordance with his instructions on or before the last day of the month following the month for which the report is being filed.

(f) Each person subject to this regulation shall furnish to each person to whom he sells solid fuel an invoice stating the ceiling price established by this part separately from any other charge or a certified statement that the prices charged do not exceed the ceiling prices established under this regulation.

(g) Each person subject to this regulation shall preserve and keep available for inspection by the Director, or his duly authorized representative, for a period of two years, invoices and other sales data and all other records necessary to substantiate base prices, ceiling prices, base period realization, ceiling weighted average realization and monthly average realization established pursuant to this regulation.

(h) Whenever a lake coal dock operator or distributor increases his price or prices on any size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel above the price or prices charged in the last such sale to a retail coal dealer, the lake coal dock operator or distributor shall, upon request, furnish to each retail coal dealer to whom he sells or delivers solid fuel a statement showing the exact dollar-and-cents amount the lake coal dock operator or distributor has added to the price or prices of such size, grade, grouping or other classification of solid fuel.

SEC. 15. Petitions for amendment. (a) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Subpart D of Price Procedural Regulation 1 issued by the Economic Stabilization Administrator.

SEC. 16. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, and enforcement actions, and suits for damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on the 1st day of May 1951.

NOTE. The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

GCPR, SR 12—SEASONAL WATER CARRIERS ON GREAT LAKES AND OTHER INLAND WATER CARRIERS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to Supplementary Regulation 12 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Supplementary Regulation 12 was issued specifically in the light of evidence brought forward by water carriers operating on the Great Lakes who were affected by the "frozen-in" season in that particular trade. It has now been called to our attention that water carriers operating on inland waters of the northern part of the United States—such as the New York State Barge Canal and the upper Mississippi River and tributaries—are faced with the same problems as were the Great Lakes carriers. These northern waterways are generally frozen over and closed to navigation from late fall until dates even later than the beginning of the "open season" on the Great Lakes. The water carrier trade on these inland waterways is characterized by the same seasonal basis of operations and the same trade practices in the fixing of contracts during the "closed season" which prevailed in the Great Lakes trade. Accordingly, this amendment is issued to extend the coverage of Supplementary Regulation 12 so that the pricing provisions and other conditions therein will apply generally to water carriers operating on inland waters of the United States whose services were suspended during the winter season when the waters were closed to navigation with the result that no "base period" operations were conducted, thus making it impossible for them to establish ceiling rates under section 3 or 6 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 12 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is amended in the following respects:

1. The title is changed to read: "Seasonal Water Carriers on Great Lakes and Other Inland Waterways".

2. Section 1 is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Purpose. The purpose of this supplementary regulation is to establish ceiling rates for water carriers engaged in transportation between United States ports on the Great Lakes and on other inland waters of the United States, whose operations were suspended during the 1950–1951 winter "closed season."

3. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Applicability. The provisions of this supplementary regulation shall apply to any water carrier in the transportation, under individual contract or agreement, of commodities in bulk or otherwise, between United States ports on the Great Lakes, their connecting and tributary waters, and all other inland waters of the United States, which were closed to navigation during the period December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951.

4. Section 3 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The highest rate agreed with any shipper on or before January 25, 1951, for the same service or for the service most nearly like it to be performed during the navigation season of 1951.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective May 2, 1951.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 28]

CPR 28—NEW COTTON, LINEN AND UNDERWEAR CUTTINGS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation No. 28 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

I. Summary of provisions. This regulation establishes specific dollars and cents prices, on a delivered basis, for 87 grades of sorted new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings and sets forth the procedure to be followed in determining the price of non-specified sorted grades. It also establishes the method for computing the price of unsorted or mixed cuttings sold to a consumer and the formula for determining the f. o. b. depot price of cuttings sold by Army, Navy, and Marine Depots. A dealer's commission is permitted on sales conforming to specified requirements; this commission may not be in excess of 10 percent on cuttings having an established price of not more than 10 cents per pound nor in excess of 7½ percent on cuttings having an established price of more than 10 cents per pound. Provision has been made in this regulation to permit a dealer to share his commission with another dealer. Imported cuttings; pound goods and similar materials when sold for reuse as new textiles; cotton hooked rug materials, and mill rags are not subject to this regulation. These are now subject to the General Ceiling Price Regulation. The prices of unsorted cotton cuttings sold to purchasers other than consumers are removed from all price controls by General Overriding Regulation No. 8 issued simultaneously herewith.

II. Description of commodity and industry—A. Importance and use of commodity. New cotton, linen and underwear cuttings are essential raw materials to producers of fine writing paper, blueprint and certain high grade specialty papers, such as carbonizing tissue. They also are essential to the manufacture of vulcanized fiber and are used to some extent in producing plastics. Vulcanized fiber, produced by the regulated action of zinc chloride or sulphuric acid on the cellulose content of cuttings, is made in the form of sheets, rods, and tubes for further manufacture into such diverse articles as waste paper baskets, trunks, laundry cases, athletic guards, washers, bearings, bushings, and gears.

Prior to the development in the second half of the 19th century of methods for pulping wood, all paper was made from rags. Since the development of mechanical techniques and chemical processes for preparing wood fiber, wood pulp has to a very large degree replaced rags as a raw material of the paper industry. In 1947 cuttings of the kinds here considered represented 0.6 percent of the fibrous materials consumed by the paper industry; wood pulp comprised 58.3 percent; waste paper 35.1 percent; and other fibrous materials 6.0 percent. Although cuttings are but a small percentage of the industry's total fiber requirements, the absorbent paper, for conversion into vulcanized fiber, and the bond, ledger, map, blueprint, and other high quality papers made from them are essential to our economy and the producing mills are an important segment of the industry.

United States consumption in 1950 of the cuttings covered by this regulation is estimated to have been about 135 thousand tons. Thirty-two fine paper mills consumed approximately 55 thousand tons; about 15 vulcanized fiber mills consumed approximately 40 thousand tons; and other paper mills and the plastics industry are believed to have consumed about 40 thousand tons. The fine paper mills, and other users to whom color is an important factor, use bleachable cuttings; vulcanized fiber producers, and others to whom color is not an important factor, use unbleachable cuttings. The paper mills are chiefly located in Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, and Pennsylvania. The vulcanized fiber mills are chiefly located in Delaware and Pennsylvania.

Mills producing fine paper consume some quantity of nearly all the specified grades of new cuttings listed in this regulation, but 70 percent of their consumption is comprised of about 15 grades of which No. 1 white backed overalls, No. 1 unbleached muslin, No. 1 white shirt cuttings, No. 1 light prints, bleached underwear cuttings, and No. 1 light percale cuttings are consumed in the largest quantities.

Data on consumption of cuttings by other users are not available, but the principal grades consumed by the vulcanized fiber mills, and other users to whom color is not important, are No. 1 washables, sun tan khaki cuttings, herringbone green twill cuttings, mixed khaki cuttings, corduroy cuttings, and cottonades.

B. Structure of the industry. New cotton, linen and underwear cuttings originate in the plants of textile manufacturers, who also engage in the making of garments, and in non-integrated garment mills located throughout the country but principally in the Southeastern, Middle Atlantic, and New England Regions.

The cuttings are purchased from garment manufacturers by packers who prepare them for shipment to consumers; only in rare instances does the consumer buy direct from the original source. Ordinarily, new cuttings are placed in bags or baled by the garment manufacturer to facilitate collection by or shipment to the packer. When the cuttings arrive at the packer's warehouse, they are sorted into the grades which will bring the highest return and machine-pressed into bales varying in weight from 700 to 1,300 pounds.

About 300 packers and dealers, most of whom are located in the East and commonly deal in more than one waste material, are in the business of selling new cuttings. However, about 10 large packers and dealers, located in New York, Philadelphia, Rochester, Hartford, Baltimore, and St. Louis, ship between one-third and one-half the quantity annually sold. In New York and Philadelphia the large packers and dealers obtain from small packers and dealers a high percentage of the quantity needed by them to fulfill their contracts, but those located in other parts of the country obtain the major part of their requirements direct from garment manufacturers.

III. The necessity for Ceiling Price Regulation No. 28—A. The General Ceiling Price Regulation. Prior to the issuance of this regulation, the price of new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings has been controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. The present ceiling prices, based on the prices prevailing during the December 19, 1950–January 25, 1951 period, are not satisfactory because, as shown below, they embody inflationary price increases. In this instance, therefore, the General Ceiling Price Regulation has frozen prices at an inflationary level.

B. Demand and supply factors. The prices of new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings are highly susceptible to changes in their demand, and the rapid increase in prices paid for them since June 1950 is a direct reflection of the manner in which the increased demand of paper and fiber mills has heightened competition for the available supply. Under normal conditions the price of rag-content papers is influenced by and related to the price of paper made from wood pulp. However, in the period since June 1950, this influence has diminished in importance because the high demand for paper and the increased price of wood pulp to mills selling in the same market have greatly improved the competitive position of mills producing paper from cuttings. The improved competitive position and an increase in their rate of operations have enabled rag-paper mills to pay the higher prices asked for these cuttings, absorbing part of the increased cost and regaining the balance by increasing their prices.

During the last six months of 1950, as compared with the first six months of that year, writing paper mills raised their operating ratio from 90 to 100 percent of theoretical capacity and their consumption of cuttings by 7.1 percent; inventories in December were 18 percent larger than in June. During the same period fiber mills also operated at a high level and increased their consumption of cuttings by 20.0 percent; inventories in December were 7.3 percent more than in June.

C. Price history. Since June 1950 the prices of cuttings, for reasons previously indicated, have rapidly increased. Price data are not available for all the grades of these cuttings, but the grades for which data are available represent about 60 percent of the cuttings consumed by the writing paper mills. Price changes which have occurred within these grades are believed to be representative of price changes which have occurred within the entire group of cuttings covered by this regulation.

New cotton, linen and underwear cuttings: Changes in average price of principal grades consumed by writing paper mills, June 1950 to January 27, 1951

	June 1950	Jan. 27, 1951	Percent increase, June 1950 to Jan. 27, 1951
	Cents per lb.	Cents per lb.
No. 1 white backed overalls	8.42	18.66	121.6
No. 1 unbleached muslin	12.55	26.44	110.7
No. 1 white shirt cuttings	12.35	26.60	115.4
No. 1 light prints	6.82	13.90	103.8
Bleached underwear cuttings	12.92	25.00	93.5
No. 1 percale	7.24	15.22	110.2
No. 1 light flannelette or domets	8.65	17.54	102.8

A study of these price data indicates that between June 1950 and January 27, 1951, the prices of these principal grades of cuttings advanced at an inflationary rate, and were from 93 to 122 percent above their June level.

IV. Economic justification of Ceiling Prices—A. Level of Ceiling Prices. In view of the inflationary prices for cuttings prevailing in January 1951 and the distorted price relationship between grades which had developed by reason of the high demand, it was the consensus of representative sellers and consumers consulted that (1) the price of No. 1 white shirt cuttings should, as was historically true, serve as the base to which the prices of all other grades should be related, and (2) a price of 21 cents a pound for No. 1 white shirt cuttings would permit the establishment of a price structure which would develop an adequate supply of cuttings and permit a normal return to the seller.

By application of this technique, this regulation establishes prices which, for the most important grades, will be more than 20 percent below their level on January 27, 1951 and which, for somewhat less important grades, will be from 16 to 18 percent below the level of January 27. Ceiling prices will continue to be substantially above what they were in June 1950, but on the basis of consultation with representative producers and consumers, this is necessary to maintain the present flow and encourage additional collection of this material.

New cotton cuttings: Ceiling prices and January 27, 1951 prices of principal grades consumed by writing paper mills

Ceiling prices have, with the exception of shipments from Army, Navy, and Marine Depots, been quoted on a delivered basis. Since the consumers are highly concentrated in particular areas, there is no danger that supplies would be contingent upon the dealers proximity to the mill. Moreover, the location of the dealers' plants have been predicated upon a delivered price structure. Army, Navy, and Marine Depots are not now important sources of cuttings but would become very important in the event of total mobilization. The price of cuttings from such establishments is on an f. o. b. basis to enable all dealers, regardless of their location, to bid upon such material and will result in the equitable distribution of waste originating in Depots. The method set forth in this regulation for determination of the f. o. b. price of cuttings sold by Army, Navy, and Marine Depots was established after consideration of the average freight on shipments of cuttings sold on a delivered basis.

B. Other provisions—1. Commissions. It is an established practice of the industry that packers supplement materials they have packed with the pack of others to fulfill contracts with consumers. Sometimes the purchased material is sorted and repacked before final shipment is made; other times it is shipped without any processing. Representative producers and consumers agree that a continuation of the practice whereby a dealer, or packer acting as a dealer, purchases cuttings from another packer or dealer and ships them to the consumer is necessary and that a commission should be allowed the seller in lieu of his normal merchandising profit to cover his cost of handling. This regulation provides, therefore, that the ceiling prices for sales by dealers, as defined in this regulation, when certain conditions are fulfilled, shall be no more than 10 percent in excess of the ceiling price of cuttings selling for not more than 10 cents per pound, nor more than 7½ percent in excess of the ceiling prices of cuttings selling for more than 10 cents per pound. A dealer may share this commission with another dealer. A commission to the amount specified may be paid only by a consumer to a dealer on sales of new cuttings which have been completely prepared for delivery by a person other than the dealer. This regulation further provides that a person cannot receive a commission on cuttings packed by another pursuant to any contract, agreement, or understanding of any sort whatsoever between the two whereby each is to sell, and charge commission upon the pack of the other. This provision is aimed at unnecessary and inflationary commission transactions entered into by dealers for the purpose of realizing illegitimate profits.

2. Unsorted cuttings and unspecified grades. The price of unsorted or mixed cotton, linen and underwear cuttings sold to purchasers other than consumers is being excluded from all price controls. Decontrol of unsorted or mixed cuttings is necessary because the setting of specific dollars and cents prices or the establishment of a uniform pricing formula for such cuttings is administratively impracticable in view of their non-uniform quality and the frequent inclusion of cuttings not suitable for use by consumers of the cuttings covered by this regulation. Further, since the prices of cuttings sold to consumers and the end-products (paper, fiber, and plastics) are controlled, it is believed that this action will not result in inflationary increases in the price of unsorted or mixed cuttings sold to non-consumers. When unsorted or mixed cuttings are sold to consumers their ceiling price is the price established in this regulation for the lowest grade of cuttings contained in the packing. Directions are provided for arriving at ceiling prices for grades of new cuttings which are not listed in this regulation. The great variety of grades marketed makes it impracticable to list those which are infrequently handled and for which little or no price information is available. Consequently, when unlisted grades are sold, the seller must obtain approval of the Office of Price Stabilization. This provision will cause unsorted or mixed cuttings to move to packers for proper sorting and packing and will assure consumers of a supply of uniformly graded cuttings; to that end it is consistent with established industry practices and will benefit producers and consumers.

3. Import-export provisions. Provision has been made in the regulation for adding to the ceiling price of cuttings for export a sum not to exceed the charges or differentials for such shipments in effect by the seller during the base period (May 24, 1950–June 24, 1950, inclusive). If such charges or differentials were not in effect during the base period, the seller may apply to the Office of Price Stabilization for the establishment of maximum charges or differentials.

Imports of new cuttings are not subject to the ceiling prices of this regulation. This exception is made to allow consumers of certain kinds of cuttings not always readily available in the United States to augment their supply when necessary to maintain production by making purchases abroad under the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, or such other regulation as may be issued applicable thereto.

CONCLUSION

In formulating this regulation, the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted extensively with industry representatives and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment the provisions of this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable, the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

To the extent that this regulation compels changes in business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids of distribution established in the industry, such changes are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of this regulation.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Public Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV; Public Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation supersedes the General Ceiling Price Regulation and Supplementary Regulation No. 1 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation by establishing specific ceiling prices for new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings except with respect to imports as provided in section 2 (d) of this regulation. For the purposes of simplicity and clarity the term "cuttings" is used hereafter in place of "cotton, linen and underwear cuttings".

SEC. 2. Applicability of this regulation—(a) General coverage. This regulation is applicable to all sales and purchases of sorted and unsorted or mixed new cuttings, except as provided in sections 2 (d) and 10 of this regulation.

(b) Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight States of the United States and the District of Columbia, but shall not be applicable to the territories and possessions of the United States.

(c) Applicability to exports. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to transactions in new cuttings, exported or to be exported out of the continental limits of the United States.

(d) Applicability to imports. The provisions of this regulation shall not be applicable to transactions in new cuttings imported or to be imported into the continental limits of the United States. Such imports are now subject to the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

SEC. 3. Prohibitions. (a) On and after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(1) You shall not sell or deliver any new cuttings at prices higher than the ceiling prices established by this regulation.

(2) You shall not buy or receive new cuttings, in the course of trade or business, at prices higher than the ceiling prices established by this regulation.

(3) You shall not agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 4. Less than ceiling prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

SEC. 5. Petitions for amendment. If you wish to have this regulation amended, you may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, 15 F. R. 9055.

SEC. 6. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Consumer" means a person who acquires new cuttings for his own use.

(2) "Dealer" means any person who purchases from a packer and sells to a consumer new cuttings not packed by such person and purchased by such person in the condition in which they are to be delivered to the consumer.

(3) "Foreign materials" include every substance, other than new cuttings, as the case may be.

(4) "Mill rags" are waste materials produced by cotton mills, bleacheries, print goods and textile finishing plants except knitting mills, and generally consist of wiping materials, carpet strips, remnants, and shorts.

(5) "New cotton, linen and underwear cuttings" include all kinds and grades of new cotton cuttings, linen cuttings and underwear cuttings, and new linen thread waste, regardless of the use for which they are sold, excepting, however, pound goods and similar materials when sold for reuse as new textiles, cotton hooked rug materials, and mill rags.

(6) "New cuttings" means "new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings."

(7) "Packer" means a person who acquires, collects, sorts, packs, and offers for sale in the course of trade or business new cuttings.

(8) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor, or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(9) "Tare" means the covering on a bale, including wires.

(10) "You" means the person subject to this regulation.

(b) Unless the content otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 702 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 shall apply to other terms used herein.

SEC. 7. Records and reports. (a) On and after the effective date of this regulation, every person making purchases or sales of new cuttings shall, in addition to the base period records required by section 16 (a) of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, keep for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization for a period of 2 years his records of each purchase or sale of new cuttings showing the following:

(1) Date of purchase or sale.

(2) Name and address of the buyer or seller.

(3) Grade of new cuttings purchased or sold.

(4) Quantity of each grade purchased or sold.

(5) Price, including discounts paid or received, all other direct or indirect considerations given or received, and rebates made or taken.

(6) Warranties, if any, received or given.

(7) Origin and destination of the shipment, means of transportation used, and amount of transportation charges, insofar as known to the person keeping the record.

SEC. 8. Evasion. Any practice which results in obtaining indirectly a higher price than is permitted by this regulation is a violation of this regulation. Such practices include, but are not limited to, devices making use of commissions, services, cross sales, transportation arrangements, premiums, discounts, special privileges, tie in agreements and trade understandings.

SEC. 9. Enforcement. If you violate any provision of this regulation, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for damages as provided by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 10. Exempted sales. Sales of unsorted or mixed new cuttings to a person other than a consumer, which are otherwise subject to this regulation, are exempted from this regulation and from the General Ceiling Price Regulation by General Overriding Regulation No. 8.

SEC. 11. Ceiling prices for sales of sorted new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings by persons other than Army, Navy and Marine Depots. (a) The respective ceiling prices set forth below are established for the listed grades of sorted new cuttings. These ceiling prices are per pound, delivered to consumer's mill. In the case of sales to persons other than consumers, these ceiling prices are per pound, delivered to the buyer's plant. All grades as defined herein must be clean, dry, and free of rubber, leather, slasher, wool, silk and rayon rags, wood, paper, muss, pasted stock, paint, acetate, grease, oil, paraffin, latex, or other waterproofed materials and other foreign materials, unless otherwise specified. Tare weight in excess of 3 percent must be deducted from the weight of the bale in computing the ceiling price for the bale. Note that ceiling prices for pound goods and similar materials when sold for reuse as new textiles, cotton hooked rug materials and mill rags are subject to the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

Grades	Ceiling delivered prices in cents per pound
1. No. 1 White Shirt Cuttings and/or Bleached White Duck Cuttings.—Table cuttings of white shirts, b. v. d.'s, bleached twill, drill or duck materials, accumulated from shirt factories or other garment factories, free of color, starched or loaded materials and lawns	21.00
2. No. 1 White Headings and/or Bleached White Duck Headings.—Headings of white shirts, b. v. d.'s or sheeting material, bleached twill, drill or duck materials, free of color, starched or loaded materials, lawns and thrums	21.00
3. White Gauze Cuttings.—Cuttings of clean gauze bandaging materials	17.50
4. No. 2 White Shirt Cuttings and/or Headings.—Same as No. 1 white shirt cuttings, and or No. 1 white headings but may include lawns, starched or loaded materials, colored threads, stringy or soiled materials	16.75
5. White Lawn Cuttings and or Headings.—Table cuttings of white materials of lighter weight than No. 1 white shirt cuttings, and/or headings, including embroidered materials, which must be free of starched or loaded materials and laces	14.50
6. White Shrunk Cuttings and/or Headings.—White cuttings and/or headings which may be loaded or starched	14.50
7. No. 1 Unbleached Muslin Cuttings.—Table cuttings of unbleached sheeting of drill or twill or muslin construction; the packing must be free of colored selvages, starched or loaded cuttings, canton flannel glove cuttings, heavily shived materials, heavy canvas, osnaburgs and thrums	21.00
8. No. 1 Unbleached Headings.—Headings of unbleached sheeting of drill or twill construction; the packing must be free of colored selvages, starched or loaded cuttings, canton flannel glove cuttings, heavily shived materials, heavy canvas, osnaburgs and thrums	21.00

(b) The ceiling price for any sorted grade of new cuttings not listed in paragraph (a) of this section, shall be a price in line with the ceiling prices enumerated in that paragraph for the nearest related grades of new cuttings. A ceiling price for an unlisted grade so determined by you need not be reported to and approved by the Office of Price Stabilization, except where the sale is to a consumer. However, upon a sale of such an unlisted grade to a consumer, you must obtain approval from the Office of Price Stabilization that the ceiling price determined by you is in line with these enumerated ceiling prices. If this approval is not obtained prior to the time of making the sale, you must agree to refund to the purchaser any amount paid in excess of the ceiling price finally established. Approval of a ceiling price determined under this paragraph shall be obtained as follows:

Either before or at the time you make your first sale of an unlisted grade to a consumer, you must submit to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. representative samples of the material, together with a statement setting forth all of the relevant facts, including the following:

(1) Name of grade and of purchaser.

(2) Detailed statement of characteristics of the grade. This statement shall also show how uniform the characteristics of this grade have been in your past purchases and sales of this grade.

(3) Ceiling delivered price per pound at which you propose to sell such grade.

(4) Detailed statement concerning all your purchases and sales of this grade since June 24, 1950, including name of buyer or seller, date of transaction, price paid or received, and quantity purchased or sold.

A copy of the above statement or a certification that the same has been mailed to the Office of Price Stabilization shall be furnished by you to the purchaser. Where the ceiling price proposed by you is not approved, disapproved or adjusted or more information requested by the Office of Price Stabilization within twenty days, it shall be considered approved, subject to non-retroactive adjustment at any time.

After the ceiling price for sales of a particular unlisted grade has been approved, you may make future sales of that grade at the approved ceiling price without reporting such sales or submitting the above described data.

(c) Special packing, packaging or service. (1) You may not add to the ceiling prices established by this regulation any charge or differential for any special packing, packaging or service in connection with the sale of new cuttings except with respect to new cuttings which are to be exported.

(2) When you export or sell for export new cuttings, you may add to the ceiling prices established by this regulation, a sum not to exceed the charges or differentials which you had in effect during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive, for special packing, packaging or services.

(3) If you are unable to determine the maximum charges or differentials which you may add to the ceiling prices established by this regulation for special packing, packaging or service in connection with new cuttings for export, you may apply in writing to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. for the establishment of such charges or differentials. This application shall contain an explanation of why you are unable to determine such maximum charges and differentials under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph; all pertinent information describing the packing, packaging or service; your proposed maximum charges or differentials and the method used by you in determining them. You may not use the proposed charges or differentials until the Director of Price Stabilization, in writing, notifies you of the maximum charges or differentials you may use.

(d) Commission. (1) Where sales are made to a consumer by a "dealer", as defined in section 6 (a) (2) of this regulation, there may be added to the ceiling prices set forth in this section 11 an amount, as commission, not in excess of 10 percent when the ceiling prices established in this section 11 are from 1 cent to and including 10 cents per pound and 7½ percent when the ceiling prices established in this section are from and including 10.01 cents per pound and up. No commission may be charged by you for new cuttings packed by you. You may not receive commission on the pack of another person pursuant to any contract, agreement, or understanding of any sort whatsoever between the two whereby each is to sell, and charge commission upon the pack of the other. In no event may commission be charged unless the following requirements are met:

(i) The dealer must keep a record, for a period of two years, of the names of his suppliers of the new cuttings, the quantity thereof purchased by him, the prices paid by him, the name of his purchaser, the method of shipment to the purchaser, and the price paid by the purchaser.

(ii) The dealer must have taken title to the material and have sold it and passed the title thereto to the consumer. The materials must have been commercially sorted and baled by a person other than the dealer. Where the material has been sorted and baled both by the packer and another person, the packer may only charge a commission with respect to the tonnage of cuttings sorted and baled by such other person.

(iii) The dealer must guarantee the merchantable quality of the material.

(iv) The dealer's commission must be shown as a separate item in the billing or invoice. The billing or invoice shall contain a statement that the material was resorted and repacked after leaving the factory and that the material was not packed by the dealer.

(v) The dealer's commission may be split with another dealer including a packer who is operating as a dealer, but must not be split or divided with any other person, nor may any commission payment inure directly or indirectly to the benefit of any person other than the dealer or dealers making the sale.

(vi) Commission may not be accepted or paid on new cuttings which are delivered to the consumer without sorting or repacking, in the original factory or government packing, regardless of how many persons are involved in the transaction.

SEC. 12. Ceiling prices for sales of sorted new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings by Army, Navy and Marine Depots. Sales of sorted new cuttings by Army, Navy and Marine Depots shall be priced f. o. b. depot and ceiling prices for the respective grades, f. o. b. depot, shall be 0.50 cents per pound less than the corresponding delivered prices for the grades specified in section 11 of this regulation. All other provisions of section 11 shall apply to sales under this section, including commissions but such commissions must be computed upon the ceiling prices established in this section.

SEC. 13. Ceiling prices for unsorted or mixed new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings. (a) Your ceiling price for sales of unsorted or mixed new cuttings to a consumer shall not exceed the ceiling price established in section 11 or section 12 of this regulation, whichever is applicable, for the lowest grade contained in the pack.

(b) If you are unable to establish a ceiling price for unsorted or mixed new cuttings under paragraph (a) of this section, you must file an application for approval of a ceiling price with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. prior to any sale. You must submit to the Office of Price Stabilization representative samples of the materials, together with a statement setting forth all of the relevant facts including the following:

(1) Names of grades and of purchaser.

(2) Detailed statement of characteristics of the grades. This statement shall also show how uniform the characteristics of these grades have been in your past purchases and sales of this grade.

(3) Ceiling delivered price per pound at which you propose to sell such grades.

(4) Detailed statement concerning all your purchases and sales of this grade since June 24, 1950, including name of buyer or seller, date of transaction, price paid or received, and quantity purchased or sold.

You may not use the proposed ceiling price until the Director of Price Stabilization, in writing, notifies you of your ceiling price.

This Ceiling Price Regulation No. 28 shall become effective May 7, 1951.

NOTE: All record and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 4, Amendment 1]

GCPR, SR 4—TIDEWATER COAL DOCK DEALERS

TRANSPORTATION COSTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Congress), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to Supplementary Regulation No. 4 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (16 F. R. 809) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Supplementary Regulation 4 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation was issued as an interim regulation, pending the preparation and issuance of a permanent regulation tailored to the needs of the industry, to permit tidewater coal dock dealers to increase their ceiling prices by the exact dollar-and-cents amount of the increase in prices of coal they were required to pay as a result of price increases permitted coal producers. No authority was given to reflect transportation cost increases in the ceiling prices of the tidewater coal, which previously had been frozen under the GCPR.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, by its decision in Ex Parte 175, issued on March 13, 1951, has given authority to the bulk of common carriers to increase interstate rates on coal and coke, effective upon 15 days' notice, generally by 2 percent with a maximum of six cents per net ton and seven cents per gross ton. Such freight increases became effective on April 4, 1951. This increase in transportation costs is in all cases a direct charge upon the tidewater coal dock dealer which, if he is not permitted to add to his price, must be absorbed by him.

The tidewater coal dock industry is a highly competitive one among the coal dealers, but even more so with other forms of fuel such as oil and natural gas. The competitive situation in this industry is strikingly reflected in the coal loadings at Hampton Roads for shipment to New England via tidewater. In the years 1940, 1941, 1947, and 1948 those loadings ran between 12 and 13 million tons per year. During the war years they ran between 7 and 10 million tons. In 1949 the loadings amounted to only 6,460,000 tons and in 1950 to 6,800,000 tons. On account of such competition, the industry during the past two years has operated at a loss or at an exceedingly low profit. This condition has not improved since the Korean outbreak.

During World War II, the Office of Price Administration recognized the inability of the tidewater coal dock dealers to absorb increased transportation costs attributable to a shift in the movement from water to rail transportation, by granting such dealers a subsidy to compensate them for such increased transportation costs. This regulation, "Compensatory Adjustment Regulation No. 1," became effective May 19, 1942. Furthermore, OPA found it necessary, and provided in its Maximum Price Regulation 122 applying to the tidewater coal dock industry, to permit the dock dealers to add to their maximum prices all increases in transportation costs made effective during the Office of Price Administration period not compensated for by subsidies.

Information presently available indicates that the tidewater coal dock industry is in a seriously depressed financial condition. The absorption of the 2 percent or six cents per net ton increase (seven cents per gross ton), or any further increase, would have the effect of forcing serious financial hardship upon the tidewater coal dock dealers. The Director is convinced that, in the case of this particular industry, it would be inequitable to compel the tidewater coal dock industry to absorb the amount of the freight rate increases.

This amendment to Supplemental Regulation 4 permits tidewater coal dock ceiling price increases based entirely upon actual increases in transportation costs paid by the tidewater coal dock dealers.

Authorization has been granted to add transportation cost increases which become effective on or before June 30, 1951, to ceiling prices because it usually requires several months for State agencies to reflect interstate rate increases in intrastate rates.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 4 to the GCPR is hereby amended as follows:

1. Section 3 is amended by adding thereto paragraph (d), reading as follows:

(d) Each tidewater coal dock dealer may also increase the ceiling prices of each size and grade of any coal he sells and delivers under this supplementary regulation by the exact amount of increase in transportation costs, rail and/or water that have or may become effective since January 1, 1951, and on or before June 30, 1951: Provided, Such increased transportation costs were authorized by the Director, or by an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission or any other agency of the Government of the United States, or of any regulatory body of a State, territory or possession of the United States: And provided further, That the authority to increase the ceiling prices of each size or kind of coal by the exact amount of increase in transportation costs shall be effective only upon receipt by the tidewater coal dock dealer of a carrier's invoice, freight bill or other statement of transportation charges, for each such size or grade of coal, reflecting the increased freight charges required to be paid by the tidewater coal dock dealer.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective May 1, 1951.

[General Overriding Regulation 8]

GOR 8—PAPER, PAPERBOARD, CONVERTED PAPER AND PAPERBOARD PRODUCTS, ALLIED PRODUCTS AND SERVICES, NEW COTTON, LINEN, AND UNDERWEAR CUTTINGS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this General Overriding Regulation 8 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This General Overriding Regulation 8 will create exemptions for specific, paper, paperboard, converted paper and paperboard products, allied products and services from, or set forth special provisions applicable to, some or all of the price regulations issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, including the General Ceiling Price Regulation, and its supplementary regulations, as well as numbered ceiling price regulations with their supplementary regulations, and any amendments thereto.

The need for this regulation arises from the experience gathered during the past history of price control and current information concerning the advisability of exemption of or special provisions for enumerated commodities or services. This regulation serves as the clearing house for all paper, paperboard, converted paper and paperboard products, allied products and services involving exemptions or special provisions.

There is exempted from all price control by incorporation in this action all sales of unsorted or mixed new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings sold to persons other than consumers. Decontrol of such sales is necessary because the setting of specific dollars and cents prices or the establishment of a uniform pricing formula for such cuttings is administratively impracticable in view of their non-uniform quality and the frequent inclusion of cuttings not suitable for use by consumers of the cuttings covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 28. Further, since the prices of cuttings sold to consumers, and their end products are controlled, it is believed that this action will not result in inflationary increases in the price of unsorted or mixed cuttings sold to non-consumers.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.

1. Sales of commodities or services exempted from price control.
2. Definitions.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 and 2 issued under sec. 704, Public Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Sales of commodities and services exempted from price control or specially treated.—(a) Exemptions. No price regulation issued heretofore by the Office of Price Stabilization shall apply to the sales of the following commodities or services. No price regulation which may be issued in the future shall apply to such sales unless they are specifically mentioned in the regulation.

(1) Sales of unsorted or mixed new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings to a person other than a consumer.

(2) [Reserved.]

(b) Special treatment. [Reserved].

SEC. 2. Definitions. (a) When used in section 1 (a) (1) of this regulation, the term: (1) "Consumer" means a person who acquires new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings for his own use.

(2) "New cotton, linen and underwear cuttings" include all kinds and grades of new cotton, linen and underwear cuttings, and new linen thread waste, regardless of the use for which they are sold, excepting, however, pound goods and similar materials when sold for reuse as new textiles, and excepting also cotton hooked rug materials and mill rags.

(3) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor, or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

This General Overriding Regulation No. 8 shall become effective May 7, 1951.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-33, as amended May 1, 1951]

M-33—MOLYBDENUM—DISTRIBUTION AND USE

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this amendment consultation with industry representatives was impracticable because of the necessity for immediate action. However, in the formulation of the amendment of March 27, 1951, there was consultation with industry representatives and consideration was given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-33 as amended March 27, 1951, as follows: It substitutes a new section 4, a new paragraph (c) to section 5, and a new section 7.

NPA Order M-33, as amended, reads as follows:

2. Definitions.
3. Relation to other regulations and orders.
4. Substitution required.
5. Allocation authorization required.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 14 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Con.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve and to provide for the distribution and use of molybdenum, as hereinafter defined, so as best to serve the interests of the national defense program and of defense supporting activities. It makes molybdenum subject to allocation. It prohibits, subject to certain exceptions, deliveries of molybdenum, except by authorizations to be issued monthly by the National Production Authority (hereinafter called "NPA").

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Molybdenum" means and includes molybdenum metal powder, wire, rod, or sheet; ferro-molybdenum; molybdenum oxide; all primary molybdates; all primary molybdenum compounds used as a source of molybdenum in any manufacturing process; all scrap molybdenum metal; and all other scrap, waste materials, and residues containing commercially recoverable molybdenum.

SEC. 3. Relation to other regulations and orders. The provisions of this order supersede all NPA regulations and orders to the extent that they are in conflict herewith, but in all other respects such regulations and orders continue in full force and effect. NPA may, from time to time, issue directives as to deliveries or use of molybdenum and, unless otherwise provided therein, such directives will prevail over the provisions of this order.

SEC. 4. Substitution required. No person, whether pursuant to a DO rated order or otherwise, shall incorporate any molybdenum into any product or material when substitution for molybdenum is practicable, considering the required processing characteristics and the properties of the product or material, and the available supply of the substitute or substitutes.

SEC. 5. Allocation authorization required. (a) After May 1, 1951, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of or use molybdenum (except scrap molybdenum metal or other scrap, waste materials, and residues containing molybdenum) in any month except in accordance with the terms of an allocation authorization issued for such month by NPA in accordance with this section. In the case of a person who keeps separate inventory records for any separate operating or producing units, each such separate operating or producing unit shall be deemed a person for purposes of this section.

(b) NPA may, from time to time, allocate the supply of molybdenum and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons or for particular uses may be made or withheld. Any person seeking to place a purchase order for molybdenum may be required to place the same with one or more specified suppliers.

(c) An application for an allocation of molybdenum metal powder, wire, rod, or sheet must be filed with NPA by the applicant on Form NPAF-15 and Form NPAF-48 not later than 45 days preceding the first day of the month in which delivery is sought. An application for an allocation of any other form of molybdenum subject to allocation must be filed with NPA by the applicant on Form NPAF-15 and Form NPAF-48 not later than the seventh day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is sought. Each application must furnish all information required by said forms, including information concerning scrap, waste materials, and residues.

(d) The authorization allocation (Form NPAF-48) issued will be sent by NPA to the appropriate supplier or suppliers and a copy furnished to the purchaser. The authorization will require a supplier to make delivery to the extent of the purchaser's orders within the limits of the authorization.

SEC. 6. Exceptions to allocation requirements. The provisions of section 5 of this order shall not apply to:

(a) Deliveries to the General Services Administration, or any other duly authorized governmental agency, for the purposes of stockpiling.

(b) Deliveries to any person whose total receipts from all sources during the calendar month in which such deliveries are received are not thereby made to exceed 200 pounds of contained molybdenum, and who delivers a signed certification to his supplier as follows:

Certified under M-33

Such certification constitutes a representation to the supplier and to NPA that the purchaser is authorized under the provisions of this order to accept delivery of molybdenum as permitted in this order, and that his receipt of the shipment in the amount requested, during the month of specified delivery, will not bring his total receipts of molybdenum during that month above 200 pounds of contained molybdenum. The exception afforded by this paragraph (b) to the requirements of section 5 of this order shall not extend to deliveries of molybdenum metal powder, wire, rod, or sheet, every delivery, receipt or use of which or of any of which shall, except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, be subject to the requirements of section 5 of this order.

(c) Deliveries of molybdenum-bearing ores and concentrates.

(d) Deliveries of scrap molybdenum metal.

(e) Deliveries of other molybdenum-bearing scrap.

SEC. 7. Conservation of scrap. No person shall dispose of or accept any scrap, waste material, or residue (other than scrap molybdenum metal) containing commercially recoverable molybdenum which is fit for remelting, except for use in the manufacture of products in which molybdenum is required.

SEC. 8. Limitations on inventory. No person shall place an order for or shall accept delivery of molybdenum metal powder, wire, rod, or sheet at a time when his inventory exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, 60 days' requirements at his then scheduled rate and method of operation. No person shall place an order for or shall accept delivery of any other form of molybdenum at a time when his inventory exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, 45 days' requirements at his then scheduled rate and method of operation. Any person who, on the effective date of this order or at any other time, has outstanding orders for molybdenum for delivery in quantities greater than he would be permitted to receive under this section shall forthwith notify his supplier of the extent to which delivery cannot be accepted as scheduled, and such orders shall be adjusted accordingly. Imported as well as domestic molybdenum, except when such imported molybdenum has been purchased for resale, is subject to this section and is therefore to be included in computing inventory. Molybdenum which has been subjected to minor processing, but has not yet been actually incorporated into a finished or partially finished product, is likewise to be included in computing inventory. This section is applicable irrespective of whether or not any such orders or deliveries are made in accordance with an allocation authorization. In the case of a person who keeps separate inventory records for any separate operating or producing units, each such separate operating or producing unit shall be deemed a person for purposes of this section.

SEC. 9. Records to be kept. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 10. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

SEC. 11. Reports. (a) Every person who at any time in a calendar month had in his possession or under his control or who during a calendar month consumed more than 200 pounds of molybdenum (i.e., molybdenum content) shall report to NPA on Form NPAF-15 on or before the 15th day of the following month. However, if he applies on such form for an allocation of molybdenum for delivery during a succeeding month, his application serves also as the required report.

(b) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 12. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for an adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 13. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. M-33.

SEC. 14. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or furnishes false information or conceals any material fact in the course of operation under it, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on May 1, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

[F. R. Doc. 51-5190; Filed, May 1, 1951; 4:55 p. m.]

[NPA Order M-2 as Amended May 1, 1951]

M-2—RUBBER

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense. It is issued pursuant to both the Defense Production Act of 1950 and the Rubber Act of 1948. In the formulation of this order, as amended, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

NPA Order M-2, as last amended April 6, 1951, is amended to read as follows:

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 23 issued under sec. 10, 62 Stat. 105, as amended, sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1929. Interpret or apply sec. 3, 62 Stat. 102, sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1922. E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp., sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61, E. O. 9942, Apr. 1, 1948, 13 F. R. 1823.

EXPLANATORY PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. Purpose and effect. The purpose of this order is to conserve the supply of rubber for the needs of national defense and to provide for its equitable distribution. It places over-all limits on the consumption of new rubber (including both natural and synthetic). It prohibits private importation of natural rubber, provides for allocation of Government-produced synthetic rubber, and for the distribution of natural rubber. Provisions are also made for increasing production of camelback, for directing production of rubber products into standard lines, and for restricting the use of natural rubber in certain listed products, for limiting inventories of tires and tubes and for restricting their delivery for installation on new passenger automobiles.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Natural rubber" means all new RHC (rubber hydrocarbon) forms and types of tree, vine, or shrub rubber, both dry and latex, including the following grades of wild rubber (cut, uncut, washed or dried): upriver fine, acre fine, Bolivian fine, beni fine, island fine, and all other types of fine pará, which are of equivalent quality regardless of name or origin; but excluding all other South or Central American grades of wild rubber and all rubber from guayule, balata or gutta percha, as well as reclaimed natural rubber.

(b) "Dry natural rubber" means all natural rubber in solid form.

(c) "Natural rubber latex" means the dry latex solids contained in natural rubber liquid latex.

(d) "Synthetic rubber" means all new RHC products of chemical synthesis similar in general properties and applications to natural rubber and specifically capable of vulcanization, including synthetic rubber latex but excluding reclaimed synthetic rubber.

(e) "GR–S" means a general-purpose synthetic rubber of the butadiene styrene type produced in the United States generally suitable for use in the manufacture of transportation items such as tires or camelback, as well as any other type of synthetic rubber equally or better suited for use in the manufacture of transportation items such as tires or camelback, as determined from time to time by the NPA, but excluding reclaimed general-purpose synthetic rubber.

(f) "Butyl" or "GR–I" means a special-purpose synthetic rubber produced in the United States, suitable for use in the manufacture of transportation items such as pneumatic inner tubes, but excluding reclaimed special-purpose synthetic rubber.

(g) "New RHC" means total new rubber hydrocarbon. This is the total RHC content of dry natural rubber, natural rubber latex, synthetic rubber, uncured scrap rubber, and uncured in-process materials.

(h) "Consume" means, in the case of dry natural rubber, natural rubber latex or synthetic rubber, to compound, expend, formulate, or in any manner make any substantial change in the form, shape, or chemical composition.

(i) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(j) "Reclaimed rubber" means any rubber derived from the processing or treatment of vulcanized rubber or cured scrap rubber.

(k) "NPA" means the National Production Authority in the Department of Commerce.

RESTRICTIONS ON CONSUMPTION

SEC. 3. Limit on total new rubber consumption (except natural rubber latex). (a) No person shall (except on prior written authorization of the NPA) consume in any calendar month a total amount of new rubber (including all synthetic both dry and latex and all natural except latex) in excess of 100 percent of his base monthly new rubber consumption as computed under paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, however, That no person shall consume in the manufacture of any item listed in appendix B of this order, in any calendar month, any new rubber in excess of 90 percent of the proportion of his base monthly new rubber consumption devoted to the manufacture of each such item during the year ending June 30, 1950: And provided further, That no person may consume more rubber in the manufacture of tires and tubes for delivery as original equipment for new passenger automobiles than is required to supply the manufacturers of new passenger automobiles with four tires and tubes for each of such automobiles.

(b) Each person's base monthly new rubber consumption shall be one-twelfth of his actual new rubber consumption (including all synthetic both dry and latex and all natural except latex) during the year ending June 30, 1950, as adjusted by the NPA.

(c) The limitation provided in this section shall not apply to any person during any calendar quarter in which his total consumption of new rubber (including all synthetic both dry and latex and all natural except latex) does not exceed 25,000 pounds.

SEC. 4. Limit on natural rubber latex consumption. (a) No person shall (except on prior written authorization of the NPA) consume during any calendar quarter, a total quantity of natural rubber latex in excess of one-fourth of his consumption during the year ending June 30, 1950, as adjusted by the NPA.

(b) In the event that imports of natural rubber latex are of such volume that an excess remains available for consumption, after deducting from total imports (1) the base-period consumption allowed by paragraph (a) of this section, (2) the stockpile requirements of the Government, and (3) a reasonable reserve for adjustments under section 21 of this order. Such excess will be allocated quarterly to consumers by the NPA on the basis of their pro rata allocation of natural rubber latex during the first calendar quarter of 1951. Any allocations made under this paragraph may be consumed in addition to the amounts permitted by paragraph (a) of this section.

SEC. 5. Rubber to fill certain rated orders. (a) Such quantities of new rubber as are used in making products to fill DO rated orders (other than those rated "DO–87" or "DO–97") are hereby exempted from the limitations on consumption contained in sections 3 and 4 of this order. All such quantities shall accordingly be excluded in computing consumption under those sections. Allocations of synthetic rubber will be made for such purposes, upon application in writing to the NPA, in addition to the allocations for which provision is made in sections 9, 10, and 11 of this order.

(b) Any person filing an application for an allocation of 500 pounds or more of new rubber to fill a DO rated order must show (1) the DO rating number or symbol applied to the order, (2) the Government contract or purchase order numbers, (3) the identity and quantity of the product ordered, (4) the Government specifications for the product insofar as they concern the rubber content, (5) the name and address of the customer, and (6) the types and quantities of rubber required, by month, to fill the order.

(c) Any person filing an application for an allocation of rubber to fill any DO rated orders where each of such orders requires less than 500 pounds of new rubber must set forth (1) the number of orders with each DO rating, (2) the types and quantities or rubber required to fill each group of DO rated orders, and (3) a statement signed by an authorized officer or member of the company to the effect that he has received DO rated orders, which are on file and which require the amount of rubber applied for.

SEC. 6. Orders rated "DO–97." (a) No person shall apply or extend the rating "DO–97" to any order for any pneumatic tires or tire tubes or other transportation products as listed under code 1 and codes 3 through 8 in appendix A, and no such rating applied or extended to such orders shall be deemed a valid rating.

(b) Insofar as necessary and practicable, new rubber will be made available once a month, in addition to the quantities otherwise permitted by this order, to manufacturers of those products listed under Code 2 and Codes 9–24 in appendix A, to replace rubber used to fill orders for such products rated "DO–97." No additional rubber will be authorized for such purpose, however, except to the extent that the applicant demonstrates that he has filled "DO–97" rated orders for the product in the previous month requiring a greater proportion of his then permitted new rubber consumption than he devoted to the manufacture of that product out of his total new rubber consumption in the year ending June 30, 1950 (exclusive of such units as were manufactured and sold as parts of new equipment or for incorporation in new equipment). Application for such additional new rubber shall be made before the 10th day of each month. The quantities approved under this section will be authorized and allocated for use during the remainder of that month. (For example: If a company used rubber in April for orders rated "DO–97" in excess of the above-described proportion, it may report such excess use before the 10th of May, and additional rubber will be authorized or allocated in May). The applicant must state (if he has not previously submitted the same information) his consumption of new rubber during the year ending June 30, 1950, in making the product involved (broken down to show what proportion went into new equipment), the volume of orders filled for the product during the previous month (broken down to show those rated "DO–97"), the types and quantities of rubber used or required therefor, the new rubber authorization requested, and any other data necessary to demonstrate that the applicant has satisfied the above requirements entitling him to additional rubber.

IMPORTATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF NATURAL RUBBER

SEC. 7. Private importation of natural rubber prohibited. (a) On and after December 29, 1950, no person other than the Administrator of General Services shall import into the United States (including its territories and possessions) any natural rubber as defined in section 2 (a) of this order, except as specifically authorized in writing by the Administrator of General Services: Provided, however, That this prohibition shall not apply to any private importation required by a contract which was made prior to December 29, 1950, and which is registered with the General Services Administration on or before January 5, 1951, except as any such private importation may be disapproved by said Administrator. For purposes of this section, the term "import" includes any physical movement of rubber into the United States, whether placed in general order or in a foreign-trade zone, or whether entered for consumption, bonded customs custody or otherwise, except where the rubber moves through the United States in transit, under bond, from a consignor in one foreign country to a consignee in another foreign country.

(b) The prohibition in paragraph (a) of this section does not apply to the types and grades of natural rubber excluded from the definition in section 2 (a) of this order.

SEC. 8. Purchase of natural rubber. (a) A person may in any calendar month purchase as much but no more natural rubber than he is permitted to consume in that month: Provided, however, That at the time of such purchase his total inventory of natural rubber does not exceed, or by the delivery of such purchase would not be made to exceed, the amount of natural rubber which he may under this Order consume during the next succeeding 60 days (except that, if his inventory of any particular grade is less than his requirements for such grade for that calendar month, he may purchase the balance of his requirements for that grade for that month).

(b) Each person who desires to purchase any natural rubber shall furnish the Administrator of General Services a certificate reading substantially as follows:

I hereby certify, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, that I am authorized to consume all of the natural rubber called for by this purchase order during the current calendar month. I further certify that after receipt of the rubber called for by this Order, my inventory will not exceed the limitations of NPA Order M–2.

ALLOCATION OF SYNTHETIC RUBBER

SEC. 9. Limitation on acquisition of synthetic rubber. No person shall acquire more Government-produced GR–S or butyl (GR–I) than is allocated to him by the NPA. No person shall sell or transfer any synthetic rubber acquired from the Government to any person other than the Office of Rubber Reserve, Reconstruction Finance Corporation: Provided, however, That this prohibition shall not apply to any transfer of Government-produced synthetic rubber which is part of a bona fide subcontracting arrangement by which the transferee is required to return the equivalent amount of synthetic rubber to the transferor, or where there is no transfer of the right ultimately to dispose of or sell the rubber or rubber product made therefrom.

SEC. 10. Allocation procedure. The NPA will allocate quarterly, to each consumer of GR–S or butyl, the amounts of Government-produced GR–S and butyl that he may purchase during a specified calendar quarter. The allocation will reflect the total quantity of hot rubber and the total quantity of cold rubber which the consumer may purchase, but will not specify particular types within these two categories. The NPA will notify the Office of Rubber Reserve, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, of such allocations and the Office of Rubber Reserve will not issue purchase permits to anyone for more GR–S or butyl than is allocated to him. Persons desiring to purchase GR–S or butyl will submit purchase requests to the Office of Rubber Reserve in accordance with its established procedure.

SEC. 11. Basis of allocation. GR–S and butyl for nondefense purposes will be separately allocated by the NPA for each calendar quarter on the following basis:

(a) GR–S. Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, each consumer of GR–S will be allocated a fair and proportionate share of the total available Government-produced GR–S (after a reasonable amount has been reserved for DO rated orders, for such other programs as may be approved by the NPA, and for adjustments under section 21 of this order).

(b) Butyl for tire tubes. Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, each manufacturer of tire tubes will be allocated his pro rata share of total available Government-produced butyl (after a reasonable amount has been reserved for DO rated orders, for such other programs as may be approved by the NPA, and for adjustments under section 21 of this order), based on the proportion which his total new rubber consumption for tire tubes during the year ending June 30, 1950, bears to the total new rubber consumption of the industry for tire tubes during that period as determined by the NPA.

(c) Butyl for other uses. Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, each consumer of butyl for purposes other than the manufacture of tire tubes will be allocated for each calendar quarter, his average quarterly consumption of butyl for such other purposes during the year ending June 30, 1950, as determined by the NPA.

(d) Imports to be considered. In making allocations described in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, the NPA will ascertain the quantities of imported GR–S and butyl acquired by each consumer, and will reduce by the amounts of such imported rubber the allocations which would otherwise be made.

(e) Inventories to be considered. In making the allocations described in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, the NPA will ascertain and take into account each consumer's inventory of GR–S and butyl, and will adjust the allocations insofar as practicable so that inventories (including rubber in warehouse and in transit) will not be increased beyond a 20-working-day supply.

(f) GR–S plant clean-up and dried latex drainings, coagulum, and preflox materials. Only 50 percent of the quantity of GR–S plant clean-up material purchased from the Office of Rubber Reserve, and only 25 percent of the GR–S dried latex drainings, coagulum, and preflox purchased from the Office of Rubber Reserve, need be considered in computing and reporting the total quantity of synthetic rubber acquired or consumed.

RUBBER PRODUCT REQUIREMENTS AND LIMITATIONS

SEC. 12. Camelback production required. Every person who produced camelback during the year ending June 30, 1950, shall produce in each month of 1951, an amount of camelback which by RHC weight is at least one and a half times as great in proportion to his total new rubber consumption in the manufacture of transportation products during such months, respectively, as the proportion which his production of camelback during the year ending June 30, 1950, bore by weight on RHC basis to his total new rubber consumption in transportation products during that year. For example, if a person's production of camelback on RHC basis accounted for 5 percent of his new rubber RHC consumption in transportation products during the year specified, his production of camelback in each month must account for at least 7.5 percent of his new rubber RHC consumption in transportation products during each month of 1951. This means that consumers who produce transportation products other than camelback must sacrifice sufficient RHC from other transportation products to achieve the above result, since no extra allocation of RHC will be made to compensate for increased camelback production. Those who produce camelback and no other transportation items, must increase their production only to the extent that they have received a special adjustment from NPA for camelback production.

SEC. 13. Tires or tubes for new passenger automobiles. No person shall deliver any tires or tubes to any manufacturer of new passenger automobiles unless such manufacturer furnishes to him a signed certificate reading substantially as follows:

I hereby certify, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, That, except in fulfillment of DO-rated orders, after April 1, 1951, I will not install on or use for any new passenger automobile more than four tires or tubes and that no more than four tires and tubes will be delivered by me with any new passenger automobile.

---------- ----------
(Date) (Signed)

SEC. 14. Required production of certain tires or tubes. (a) No person, who, during the first calendar quarter of 1951, manufactured any tires or tubes for use on trucks, buses, and truck trailers, in sizes 8.25 and up, or on tractors or farm equipment, shall, during any month, devote less than the same proportion of his total new rubber consumption as limited by section 3 of this order to the manufacture of each of these items than he did in the first calendar quarter of 1951.

(b) In addition, the saving in new RHC resulting from the reduction in original passenger car tire and tube deliveries due to the elimination of the fifth tire and tube, shall be used by each tire manufacturer in the production of truck and bus tires and tubes, in sizes 8.25 and up, and for farm tires and tubes. Insofar as natural rubber may be used in producing such tires and tubes in accordance with the specifications in appendix A, such use in lieu of synthetic rubber is permitted, subject to the limitation on total new rubber consumption in section 3 of this order.

SEC. 15. Rubber product simplification and manufacturing specifications—(a) Manufacture except in accordance with appendix A prohibited. No person shall manufacture any rubber product except in accordance with the specifications and other terms and conditions prescribed in the attached appendix A. More specifically, (1) no person shall consume any natural rubber (dry or latex) in the manufacture of any product not listed in column II of appendix A; (2) no person shall consume more natural rubber (dry or latex) in the manufacture of any listed product than prescribed in column III (as qualified by column IV) of appendix A, and (3) no person shall consume any new RHC (natural or synthetic) in the manufacture of any listed product in more or different lines, types, qualities, styles or colors than those prescribed in column IV of appendix A: Provided, however, That any person who has received an allocation of synthetic rubber, for a given period, which is of a lesser proportion of his total new rubber consumption, as limited by section 3 of this order, than he is required by the specifications contained in appendix A to use in the manufacture of his usual line of products, may (within the limits of section 3) use such additional natural rubber as is necessary to make up the difference: And provided further, That any person who so uses additional natural rubber shall prepare a statement setting forth all of the facts and statistics upon which such additional use was based. This statement, signed by an officer of the company, shall be retained in the files of the company and made available to the NPA upon request.

(b) Exceptions to limitations of appendix A—(1) Defense orders. Notwithstanding the provisions of appendix A, any product manufactured to fill a DO rated order may be manufactured to the specifications of the order if and to the extent that such specifications are required by the Government. Efforts will be made, however, to obtain maximum standardization of rubber products for Government defense requirements as well as between defense and nondefense requirements.

(2) Tire experimentation. Notwithstanding the provisions of appendix A, any person may use up to a total of 2,000 pounds of dry natural rubber during any calendar quarter for experimentation in the manufacture of those sizes and types of tires for which specifications are provided in appendix A.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 16. Monthly reports of rubber consumption and stocks. Every person who consumes or owns, at any time during any month, any type of rubber listed below shall file a monthly report on Form NPAF-3 with the NPA in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form. This report form covers consumption, stocks, receipts, production, and shipments.

Types to be reported

Dry natural rubber.
Natural rubber latex.
Reclaimed rubber.
GR-S Types, excluding latex.[1]
GR-S Type latex.[1]
Butyl types.[1]
Neoprene, excluding latex.
Neoprene, latex.
Butadiene-Acrylonitrile types (N-Type) excluding latex.
Butadiene-Acrylonitrile types (N-Type), latex.
Scrap rubber, uncured.

SEC. 17. Reports by tire, tube, and camelback manufacturers—(a) Monthly reports. Each manufacturer of tires, tubes, and camelback shall file a report of his production, shipments, and inventory for each calendar month on Form NPAF-5 with the NPA in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form. Such report shall be filed by the 10th of the month following the month to which it relates.

(b) Weekly reports of cured tires. Each manufacturer of tires shall file a report of his production of cured tires for each week on Form NPAF-6 with the NPA in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form.

SEC. 18. Reports by latex importer. Every importer of natural rubber latex shall report by letter to the NPA by the 15th of each month in long tons of dry latex solids (a) his imports for the current month (actual receipts plus material due to arrive), (b) his scheduled imports for the next succeeding month, and (c) his estimate of his imports for the second and third succeeding months.

SEC. 19. Records and reports. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries and inventories, production, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines that the provisions of this order have been met. This order does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily used, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals by those persons who have or who may maintain such microfilm or other photographic records in the regular and usual course of business. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority. All persons subject to this order shall keep such records and file such other reports as may be required subject to approval by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 20. Inventory limitations. (a) No person shall in the course of trade or business receive delivery of any new tires or tubes if his inventory of such items exceeds, or by such receipt would be made to exceed, his minimum requirements for the operation of his business during the succeeding 30 days (or, in the case of passenger car manufacturers, 15 days). No person shall deliver tires or tubes (1) if he has reason to believe that his customer is not permitted to receive delivery under this section, nor (2) unless his customer furnishes to him a signed certificate reading substantially as follows:

I hereby certify, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, that after receipt of the tires or tubes covered by this order my inventory will not exceed the quantity permitted by NPA Order M-2.

---------- ----------

(b) All of the materials subject to this order are also subject to NPA Reg. 1 which prohibits the accumulation of materials in excess of a practicable minimum working inventory.

SEC. 21. Applications for adjustment and exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, in duplicate, and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 22. Communications. All applications, reports, and other communications relating to this order should be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Order M-2.

SEC. 23. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or furnishes false information or conceals any material fact in the course of operation under it, is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to compel necessary adjustment of his inventories or consumption or to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials subject to this order.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on May 1, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

APPENDIX A—RUBBER PRODUCTS SUBJECT TO SIMPLIFICATION AND MANUFACTURING SPECIFICATIONS AS PROVIDED IN SECTION 13 OF NPA ORDER M-2

EXPLANATION OF COLUMNS AND SYMBOLS

Column 1: The code number indicated in Column 1 is the numerical identification of a similar class of products.

Column 2: The product or product class to which the restrictions apply is described in Column 2.

Column 3: The figures and symbols in Column 3 specify the amount of natural rubber, if any, that may be used in the listed products.

For product codes 1 through 8 and 14, 15, 16, 17, 23, and 24, the figures in Column 3 represent maximum percent of dry natural rubber and/or natural rubber latex to the total weight of new RHC. For product codes 9 through 13 and 18 through 22, such figures represent maximum percent of dry natural rubber and/or natural rubber latex to the total volume of the compound except where provided in Column 4 that the percent is expressed in terms of total weight of new RHC.

The figure "0" in Column 3 means that the use of dry natural rubber or natural rubber latex is prohibited except as may be provided in Column 4.

The symbol "X" in Column 3 means that dry natural rubber or natural rubber latex may be used in the minimum amount required except as may be provided in Column 4.

Column 4: The provisions in Column 4 are in some instances qualifications on the use of dry natural rubber or natural rubber latex as otherwise permitted by Column 3. These qualifications take precedence over Column 3 where there is any apparent inconsistency. Column 4 also contains the simplification and standardization provisions governing the manufacture of the product or product class. These latter provisions do not relate merely to the use of natural rubber but limit the lines, types, qualities, styles, and colors in which the listed products may be manufactured with the use of any kind of rubber. There are no such limitations on the manufacture of listed products except as indicated in Column 4.

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber to total new RHC (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
1	Pneumatic tires	(1)	The group average of any product in Code 1 may be exceeded, provided the aggregate natural rubber consumed in all products in this code does not exceed the total amount of natural rubber which would have been consumed if calculated on the maximum group averages for Code 1.
	Airplane tires	100	Max. individual tire—100%.
	Bicycle tires	13	Black side-wall construction only. Maximum individual tire—95%.
	Motorcycle tires	15	Black side-wall construction only. Maximum individual tire—95%.
	Passenger car highway, mud-snow, taxi		Passenger car tire production is restricted as follows: All types—black side-walls only. Standard tread depth highway tires—one line and one quality only. Extra tread depth highway tires—one line only; and no greater quantity may be produced by any manufacturer in any calendar quarter, in proportion to his total production of passenger car tires in that quarter, than the proportion of his extra depth highway passenger car tire production to his total passenger car tire production in the last 6 months of 1950. Special purpose tires—no more or different lines may be produced by any manufacturer than he was producing on Feb. 19, 1951.
	Thru 7.10 and 6.50	15	Max. individual tire—95%.
	Over 7.10 and 6.50	22	Max. individual tire—95%.
	Industrial pneumatic	13	Max. individual tire—95%.
	Tractor implement	13	Max. individual tire—95%. Restricted to one line of tires.
	Truck: highway, heavy highway, traction, off-the-road trailer, flotation type, trailer type.		Truck tire production is restricted as follows: Standard tread depth highway tires—one line only. Extra tread depth highway tires—one line only. Special purpose tires—no more or different lines may be produced by any manufacturer than he was producing on Feb. 19, 1951.
	7.50 and under	28	Max. individual tire—95%.
	8.25 thru 9.00	75	Max. individual tire—99%.
	10.00 thru 12.00	90	Max. individual tire—99%.
	Over 12.00	92	Max. individual tire—99%.
2	Solid tires	XXX
	Airplane tires	XX
	Bogie, idler, and support rollers	50
	Pressed on	50
	Cured on, 4 x 1½ and up
3	Tire tubes:		Any color, but one color only, except that every tube containing butyl must be marked with one or more circumferential light blue stripes, applied on the base section of the tubes, any one of which stripes must be 3/16" minimum width. No other tube shall be so marked.
	Airplane	100
	Bicycle	5	Including valves.
	Industrial pneumatic	50
	Passenger	0
	Puncture seal	XX
	Safety tubes	XX
	Tractor implement	0
	Truck, 8.25 cross-section and under	0
	Above 8.25 and up to 14.00	5
	14.00 cross-section and over	80
4	Tire tube valves and curing bags:
	Tire tube valves (including repair valves)	XX
	Tire tube valve inside washers	XX
	Curing bags	50	May be averaged with groups in Code 1.
5	Tire flaps		May be averaged with groups in Code 1.
	10.00 and up	100
	All others	50
6	Tire retreading materials:
	Air bags, full circle for retreading	X
	Camelback for airplane tires	100
	Camelback for 9.00 cross-sections and larger, in die sizes 6½" crown width and 1⁹⁄₃₂" ga. and up	X
	Camelback, die sizes under 6½" crown width and under 1⁹⁄₃₂" ga.	0
	Camelback cushion gum	100	1/32" ga. max. for synthetic camelback.
	Padding stock	XXX
	Stripping stock	XXX
	Filler stock	100
	Cushion repair gum	XX
	Tread repair gum	XX
	Tire vulcanizing cement	XX
7	Tire and tube repair materials:
	Air bags, sectional	XXX
	Bulk tire repair materials	XXXXX
	Tire patches	XXXXX
	Tube patches	XXXXX
	Patching cement	XXXXX
8	Tank blocks, treads, and band tracks	X

[1] Maximum group average.

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber by volume (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
9	Belting: Belting must be manufactured in accordance with the following regulations: Rubber belting utilizing a solid woven carcass is permitted, provided such construction uses no more natural rubber than is permitted in laminated belting of equivalent size and thickness. Constructions using combinations of fabric and other reinforcing materials such as cord or wire are permitted provided total natural rubber does not exceed that which is used in an equivalent grade, cotton fabric ply construction belt.		Color black throughout, except where otherwise specified. No manufacturer shall produce by any single manufacturing process more than one line, type, quality or style for any one purpose. For interpretation of purpose in this Order the commonly accepted service classifications used by industry shall apply.
9-A	Conveyor and elevator belting:
	For severe service only	25
	For moderate service	15
	For hot material	X	Operating temp. 200° F. and over.
	For conveying unpackaged food materials and materials that would be discolored with black belts.	25	Black friction, amber or tan cover.
9-B	Misc. belt and related products:
	Hay baler	X
	Other agricultural implement	15
	Belt splicing and repair material	X
	Chute lining	25
	Conveyor skirting or skirt board	25
	Cigar machine aprons		Same restrictions as first grade flat transmission belt (Code 9-C).
	Concentrator belts	25
	Escalator hand rails	30
	Food belts for paper box machinery	X
	Hatter belts	X
	Hog beater belts	40
	Last puller	X	Color optional.
	Package	25
	Paper machine aprons	25
	Paper making screen diaphragms	15
	Postal meter and letter opening feed belts	X
	Powder explosives	15
	Pulley lagging	25
	Rubber scrapers for conveyor belts	25
	Safety belts, linemen's	0	Color optional.
	Sling or lifting	25
	Special molded conveyor belts	X
	Street sweeper belts	X	Tan or amber.
	Tube winding	X	Natural rubber color permitted.
	Tobacco stemmer belts	25
	Molded discs for conveyor belt idlers	X	Color optional.
	Ozalid seals		Natural rubber lb. maximum per 1,200 sq. in. per ply. Color of seaming strip optional.
9-C	Flat transmission belting		0.65 lbs.
	For severe service, or high speed or to operate over small pulleys		0.30 lbs.
	For moderate service		0.65 lbs.
	Hammermill belt		0.65 lbs.
	Axle generator belt		Color optional, one color only.
	Rubber covers for above, maximum thickness 3/64"	10	0.65 lbs.
	Sheeting type, slab belting		0.30 lbs.
	Using fabric weighing between 10 and 16.50 oz. per sq. yd		Percent based on total volume of belt. In determining belt volume, the published nominal cross-sectional dimensions shall be used where these exist and mold cross-sectional dimensions shall be used in all other cases.
	Using fabric weighing less than 10 oz. per sq. yd		All belts black, except as otherwise specified. Buff color permitted for non-marking and food handling.
9-D	"V" Belts
	Fractional H. P	20
	Household equipment	20
	Automotive:
	Passenger cars for pulley groove top width more than .500"	20
	Trucks under 1½ ton for pulley groove top width more than .500"	20
	Passenger and truck for pulley groove top width .500" or less	25
	Trucks 1½ tons and over	25
	Busses	25
	Police cars and taxis	25
	Airplane	25
	Stationary gas and diesel engines
	Industrial, including agricultural:
	Heavy duty	30
	Standard	30
	Speed changers	25
	Double "V"	20
	Open end	25
	Round belts	25
	Railroad axle-drive	60
10	Hose		All hose to be black throughout, except where specified. Color permitted in frictions, liners and cements to identify and differentiate between oil resisting and non-oil resisting rubbers. No manufacturer shall produce by any single manufacturing process more than one line, type, quality or style for any one purpose. For interpretation of purpose the commonly accepted service classifications used by industry shall apply.
10-A	Aircraft hose.
	Crash truck AAF 26011 (−65° F.)	X
	Ducts	XXX	Govt. or commercial plane use only.
	Oxygen hose		Govt. or commercial plane use only.
	Airbrake (20-147) (a)	5	Govt. or commercial plane use only.
	Aircraft hose not elsewhere listed	0
10-B	Automotive hose:
	Air brake	5
	Air cleaner	5
	Hydraulic actuating boot	X
	Car heater	0
	Coolant (radiator):
	Curved	10
	All other radiator	5
	Defroster	15
	Hydraulic brake, S. A. E. R-41	0
	Windshield wiper	0
	Vacuum brake	0
	Automotive hose not elsewhere listed	0
10-C	General industrial hose		All hose to be black throughout, except where specified.
	Acid	X
	Air and air tool: Air drill for mining and quarrying and heavy duty industrial	30
	Gas mask air hose	40
	All other air hose not elsewhere listed	5	Red and green cover permitted on 3/8" and under for identification purposes.
	Alcohol, beverage, brewers wine, vinegar, food and milk conveying	40	Buff colored tube and cover permitted.
	Ammonia	20

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber by volume (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
10-C	General industrial hose—Continued
	Arbor pipe forming	25
	Booster and chemical engine	10
	Braided cover tubing	0
	Cable covering, electric	30
	Cloth inserted tubing	5
	Coupling, flexible	5
	Creamery	20	Buff color cover permitted.
	Divers':
	Floating	X	Natural rubber color permitted.
	Sinking	5
	Dredging sleeves	40
	Expansion joints	40
	Fire:
	Cotton rubber lined and R. C	25
	Wrapped duck	25
	Fire engine suction:
	Hard	10
	Soft	25
	Fire extinguisher tubing	5
	Flanged flexible pipe	40
	Garden and lawn	0	Red and green cover permitted.
	Jetting	10
	Marine exhaust	0
	Material handling—including grain	40
	Cement and concrete	40
	Phosphate flexibles	40
	Rock dusting	40
	Insulation blowing	5
	Paint spray, fluid line	0	5% natural rubber by volume permitted when Thiokol is used;
	Paper mill hose	10
	Petroleum products:
	Gasoline service station	0
	Oil suction and discharge	15	Both rough and smooth bore permitted.
	Butane and propane	5
	Tank wagon	0
	All other not elsewhere listed	0
	Pinch valve	X
	Rotary drilling:
	Vibrator	15	Color stripe or band permitted.
	Mud suction	15
	Sand blast	X
	Sand placing and sand suction	40	20" and over I. D. X. natural rubber permitted.
	Shaft covering, flexible	5
	Spray, horticultural and car washing		For car washing service where pressure exceeds 250 P. S. I.
	Over 400 lbs. working pressure	5
	Under 400 lbs. working pressure	5
	Steam:
	Over 50 lbs. working pressure	X
	50 lbs. and under working pressure	X
	Steam ironing	20
	Suction, water:
	Hard rubber and rough bore	5
	Smooth bore up to 6"	10
	Smooth bore 6" and over	20
	Vacuum:
	Household, theatres, hotels, office buildings, etc	25
	Industrial dust collector and blower exhaust	X
	Washing machine	0
	Water:
	Radiator filling	0
	Industrial:
	Severe service	10
	Moderate service	5
	Welding	5	Hose may be black, red, and/or green as required for safety identification.
	Hose not elsewhere listed	0
10-D	Railroad hose:
	Air brake and signal, M-601	20
	Air pneumatic tool, M-608	5
	Paint spray, M-610	5
	Pantograph	10
	Sand, M-615 and M-616	XXX
	Sand pipe nozzles	XXX
	Steam, hot water and car heat, M-605	XXX
	Tender tank, M-609	10
	Water, cold, M-604	5
	Welding, M-603	5	Hose cover may be black, red, and/or green as required for safety identification.
	Railroad hose not elsewhere listed	0
11	Packing and gaskets not elsewhere listed		Color optional. Restriction on one line, type, quality, and style do not apply.
11-A	Packings without fabric or high percent of fiber, including sheet and also strip, discs, gaskets, rings, cups, U packings, V rings, O rings, nonfabric diaphragms, etc., made by extruding, cutting, or molding:
	Below 45 durometer	0
	45 durometer and above	0
	Pipe coupling gaskets	0
	Molded and extruded gaskets spliced endless after initial vulcanization	0
	Electrical transformer sheet rubber for packing seals	40
	O rings for sliding contact against steam and chemicals	XXX
	Air brake gaskets	XXX
	Vulcanizer door gaskets	XXX
	All others not elsewhere listed	0
11-B	Packings with high fiber content sheet (generally known as "compressed asbestos sheet") and gaskets cut from same.	5	By weight.
	Molded gaskets, discs, rings, etc	5	By weight.
	Rod packing coil, spiral ring form (generally known as "rubber-bonded plastic packing").	5	By weight.
11-C	Packing with fabric or wire insertion sheet gasketing (generally known as "C. I. or B. W. I. sheet") and gaskets cut from same:
	Cotton insert	5
	Wire insert	10
	Asbestos insert	20
	Rolled or molded gaskets:
	Cotton insert	25
	Asbestos insert	25
	Diaphragm sheet including diaphragms cut from same or molded:
	Supersensitive gas regulation	X
	Molded other than above	25
	Cut other than above	15

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber by volume (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
11-C	Rectangular piston packing	20
	Rod packing including molded cups, U packings, and V rings:
	Cotton insert	25
	Asbestos insert	15
11-D	Valve and valve parts:
	Valve and valve discs—45 durometer and under	X
	Loaded ball valves	X
	All other valves and valve parts	0
11-E	Sealing compounds for food containers:	0
	Beverage container gaskets (molded, extruded or lathe-cut)		15% natural rubber by weight of compound permitted.
	Food container gaskets (extruded and lathe-cut)		5% natural rubber by weight of compound permitted.
	Gasket-lined home canning lids	25
	Jar rings, cut rings	0
	Molded stoppers for food and beverage containers		30% natural rubber by weight of compound permitted for food gaskets formed and vulcanized in the closure. Natural rubber latex permitted.
	Food closure gasket	X
	Sealing compounds, food closures and can ends ("flowed-in" type for glass and metal containers).		All products in Code 12, color optional, unless otherwise specified. Restrictions on line, type, quality, and style do not apply.
12	Other mechanicals
12-A	Aircraft equipment:
	Boots, de-icer and integral parts including hose	X
	Bumpers	X
	Cords, alighting gear	X
	Conductive rubber parts	X
	Flexible couplings, functional	X
	Engine instrument mountings and vibration insulators	X
	Oxygen mask, pilot	0
	All parts 45 durometer or less	0
	All other parts not elsewhere listed
12-B	Automotive equipment:	X
	Windshield wiper blade		25
	Bumper—retaining and check (molded)		25
	Bumpers—functional:		25
	Suspension		10
	Crash
	Bushing:	X
	Suspension	X
	Torque rod	X
	Coupling—flexible		0
	Weatherstrips and body seals, extruded, under 50 durometer	X
	Weatherstrip, injection compound for splicing and forming		25
	Molded ventilator strips		10
	Glass run	X
	Crankshaft torsion dampers		0
	Transmission and engine mountings:		40
	50 durometer and over	X
	Under 50 durometer		0
	Body and chassis mountings:		0
	50 durometer and over
	Under 50 durometer	X
	Tail pipe insulator—under 50 durometer	X
	Torsion springs
	Grommet, core-molded-retaining, for dashboard insulation
	Fuel tank—filler neck seal
	Mats:		30 A color spray containing no natural rubber may be applied to one side. New rubber other than natural may be used in the spray.
	Contour, rear compartment only		25
	Sill with retaining buttons		0 A color spray containing no natural rubber may be applied to one side. New rubber other than natural may be used in the spray.
	All other automotive mats		0
	Cowl and dash liners
	Seal beam headlights	X
	Pads—X, I, with retaining buttons		25
	Fender flaps or splash guards		0
	Silencers—coil spring		0
	Rear spring seat insulator	X
	Tubing:
	Drain		X
	Windshield wiper, non-reinforced		X
	Spring tying suspension seat cord		25
	Molded diaphragms	X
	Hydraulic, air brake, and vacuum brake cups, diaphragms, valves and seals.
	Seals:	X
	Valve stem—tire		25
	Valve stem—motor		0
	All other parts not elsewhere listed
12-C	Railroad and streetcar equipment:	X
	Car spring snubbers		0
	Refrigerator friction drive wheel		0
	Refrigerator car door seal	X
	Molded seal for double-glazed windows		Same as automotive.
	Bumpers	X
	Streetcar wheel	X
	Windshield wiper blades		5
	Door shoes	X
	Draft gears	X
	Vibrational insulators—functional		0
	All other parts not elsewhere listed
12-D	Farm equipment:	X
	Flax roll (50 durometer or under)		5 For adhesion.
	Corn husking roll		5 For adhesion.
	Feed conveyor		5 For adhesion.
	Corn snapper roll		5 For adhesion.
	Draper apron roll		5 For adhesion.
	Cotton rubber roll		5 For adhesion.
	Hay baler roll		0
	Cotton picker doffer	X
	Press wheel tires	X
	Gauge wheel tires
	Shoe pitman arm torque bushing and torsion bushings	X
	Bearing cushion cups, non-oil-resisting		0
	Cotton drier flaps		0
	Pneumatic seats		10
	Steering wheels	X
	Rubber covered beater bars		0
	All other parts not elsewhere listed

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber by volume (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
12-E	Electrical products and industrial equipment:
	Telephone and telegraph insulators	0
	Lineman protective devices	X
	Friction tape		5 lbs. of natural rubber for 100 sq. yds.
	Splicing compound	35
	Underground cable connectors	X
	Flexible connections for vacuum and exhaust equipment	X
	Mandrels for surgical tubing	X
	Molds	X
	Sand and shot blast equipment	X
	Press die pads, draw sheets and embossing beds	X
	Bulging rubbers	X
12-F	Household and appliance products:
	Refrigerator and freezer parts:
	Gasket, door	X
	Gasket, liner opening	X
	Collars, throat		40
	Glass and panel seals		40
	Tubing, beverage dispensing		40
	Tubing, drain—molded		25
	Terminal seal bushings for compressors	X
	Rollers, tray		0
	Freezer lid assembly		0
	All other parts not elsewhere listed		0
	Vacuum cleaner and sweeper parts:
	Extensible drive belt	X
	Bag seal		0
	Flexing bellows and diaphragms		40
	Brush guards, collars, and holders		40
	Sweeper tires and wheels		0
	Electrical conducting parts	X
	Grips		0
	Functional bumper guards with undercuts and retaining buttons		25
	All other parts not elsewhere listed		0
	Clothes-washing, dish-washing, drying, and ironing machine parts:
	Wringer rolls		0
	Agitators		25
	Tub and lid gaskets		25
	Extensible belts—drive	X
	Drive pulley	X
	Collapsible tubs	X
	Flexing boots and diaphragms	X
	Extruded drain hose or tubing		0
	Formed pressure tubing		30
	Couplings and nozzles		15
	Unconfined lip door gasket	X
	Water seals		0
	Flexible pump rotors		40
	Pump valves—flexing	X
	All other parts not elsewhere listed		0
	Miscellaneous houseware accessories:
	Strain relief grommets—electric irons, etc		40
	Light colored molded parts		0
	Chair tips		0
	Strainers, sink and drain		0
	Pans, dust		0

12-Q	Industrial equipment: Industrial abrasive implements		The over-all monthly consumption of natural rubber shall not exceed 60% of the total new RHC consumed. Restrictions on line, type, quality, style, and color do not apply.
12-R	Brake linings, brake blocks and clutch facings		The over-all monthly consumption of natural rubber shall not exceed 40% of the total new RHC consumed. Restrictions on line, type, quality, style, or color do not apply.
13	Wire and cable		Except where required for circuit identification, rubber compounds used in the manufacture of wire and cable shall be furnished as: Insulation compounds in natural or black color only; jacket compounds black color only. Restrictions on line, type, quality and style do not apply.
13-A	Insulation compounds:
	Insulation for power and control cable or for building wire rated at 2000 V (phase to phase) or less and which has insulation wall thickness of more than 25 mils	0
	Insulation compounds having thickness of 25 mils or less	X
	For all types of insulated wire and cable in excess of 2000 V (phase to phase)	70
13-B	Sheaths and jackets:
	Sheaths and jackets for operation at temperature of −40° C or higher	0
	Sheaths and jackets for operation at temperatures lower than −40° C	X
13-C	Cements and nonreinforced tapes incidental to manufacture, repair, or installation of cables	70
14	Rubber footwear	70	Group average percent. No type rubber footwear shall contain more than 98% natural rubber. Line, type, quality, style, or color optional.
15	Shoe products		Line, type, quality, style, or color optional.
15-A	Heels and soles:
	Heels, soles and other specialized materials, manufactured by rubber heel and sole manufacturers, used in the manufacture and repair of shoes, and excluding those items covered by other subsections of this code	5
	Soles	X	DO orders for black, full length, cleated soles for "Tropical Army Combat Boots" and "Ski-Mountain Army Boots."
	Heels	60	DO orders for tan, neutral, white, and nonmarking black heels, except whole heels. For the Armed Forces, Fed. Spec. ZZH141A.
	Soling	85	DO orders for Arctic boot soling for the Armed Forces (U. S. Army Spec. MIl-B-2289).

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber to total new RHC (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
	Heels	65	DO orders for Arctic Boot Toplifts for the Armed Forces (U. S. Army Spec. Mil-B-2289).
	Crepe soles, heels, welting and wrappers	0	The consumption, production or sale (other than to G. S. A.) of natural RHC, for crepe soles, heels, welting and wrappers is prohibited. Only exception: Existing inventories as of March 15, 1951, in the actual possession of shoe manufacturers and shoe repairmen may be consumed.
15B	Inner shoe cushions and pads:
	Rubber, molded or sheet		Natural rubber content to be no greater than that in a comparable product produced during the base period.
	Sponge rubber, nitrogen blown, molded or sheet		60% natural rubber to total RHC permitted. Maximum monthly average.
	Sponge rubber, chemically blown, molded or sheet		Gas chamber method only.
	Latex Foam, uncored slab sheets		45% natural rubber to total RHC permitted. Maximum monthly average.
	Latex Foam, molded	0	60% natural rubber to total RHC permitted.
	Sponge rubber-cork granule sheets		75% natural rubber to total RHC permitted.
15C	Orthopedic appliances	X	For corrective devices required for deformed, injured, and crippled feet only.
15D	Impregnated non-woven fiberous shoe components:
	Insole materials	0	Natural rubber latex only may be used.
	Welting and stripping
	Midsole materials		Natural rubber latex only may be used.
	Sockliners, heel pad, plumper and backing materials, high strength stay and reenforcing materials	X	Natural rubber content to be no greater than that in a comparable product produced during the base period.
	Hair and fulled felts		Natural rubber latex only may be used.
	Box toes	X	Natural rubber content to be no greater than that in a comparable product produced during the base period.
15E	Combining cements and rubberized woven fabrics for shoes		The over-all monthly consumption of natural rubber shall not exceed 50% of the total new RHC consumed in all Code 15E products.
	Cements for custom combining piece goods
	Cements and compounds for coating, finishing, laminating, impregnating and proofing fabrics used as uppers, linings, sock linings, heel pads, reenforcements and backers in shoes.
15F	Shoe tapes:
	Pindines, including French cord	X
	Reenforcing and stay tapes	X
	Tapes for applied sewing ribs and economy lips	X
	Pressure sensitive tapes, cloth backed		20% of natural rubber by volume permitted.
	Pressure sensitive tapes, paper backed		50% of natural rubber by volume permitted.
15G	Cements for manufacture and repair of shoes and component parts:
	Shoe factory cements	X
	Shoe repair cements	X
	Cements for manufacture of shoe components	X	Except custom combining cements, Code 15E; and cement for welting, Code 15H.
	Cements and adhesives for anchoring flock	X	Natural rubber content to be no greater than that in a comparable product produced during the base year.
15H	Cements for manufacturing welting for shoes	0	Natural rubber latex only may be used.
15I	Protective coatings for shoes during manufacture		Production, consumption and sale of protective coatings to keep shoes clean during manufacture containing natural rubber is prohibited. Only exception: Existing inventories as of the date of this order, in actual possession of shoe manufacturers may be consumed.
15J	Bonded cork granule: material for shoes:
	Composition cork sheets, not sponge rubber bonded	0
15K	Elastic Fabric and tape for shoes:
	Elasticized fabrics for uppers and linings	X
	Goring and elastic shoe tapes	X
15L	Bottom filler for shoes:
	Hot type thermoplastic fillers	0	Natural rubber content to be no greater than that in a comparable product produced during the base period.
	Cold type fillers		Color options.
16	Cements		The over-all monthly consumption of natural rubber shall not exceed 65% of the total new RHC.
16-A	Cements for all purposes
16-B	Miscellaneous uses: For manufacture of products covered by all code numbers in this Appendix A.	X
17	Proofing, combining or coating of fabric		In products where natural rubber is permitted, no product shall contain a higher percent of natural rubber than a comparable product produced during the base period. Color optional. Restrictions on one line, type, quality and style do not apply.
	Covering material for transportation equipment	0
	Film and coated materials for medical, health, and safety products	40
	Anchor coats; spread, frictioned, or impregnated directly on fabric, or other material to be later calendered or spread	100

APPENDIX B

The following is the list of products referred to in section 3:

Appendix A

Code No.	Product
1	Replacement tires, passenger, highway, mud-snow, taxi.
1	Bicycle tires.
1	Motorcycle tires.
3	Tubes, passenger, including puncture-seal and safety tubes).
3	Tubes, bicycle and motorcycle.
10–C	Garden and lawn hose.
12–B	Automotive equipment (including each item listed thereunder in appendix A).
12–F	Household and appliance products (including each item listed therein in appendix A).
12–G	Bath caps.
12–J	Billiard and pool-table cushions.
12–N	Mats and matting (including all items listed thereunder in appendix A except switchboard matting).
12–P	Bowling balls, knife handles, cafeteria trays, pipe bits, mouth pieces for musical instruments, rods and tubing for fountain pen parts, and steering wheels.
18–K	Ladies personal sanitary items (including all items listed thereunder in appendix A).
22–A	Athletic goods (including all items listed thereunder in appendix A).
22–B	Balloons.
22–C	Sponge rubber products (including all items listed thereunder in appendix A, except firemen's landing pads).
22–E	Flavored masticating gum.
22–G	Stationers' supplies (including all items listed thereunder in appendix A).
22–K	Toys (including all items listed thereunder in appendix A).
22–L	Rubber flooring, floor covering, wall covering (including all items listed thereunder in appendix A).
22–M	Rubberized fiber and hair cushioning.

[NPA Order M–7, as Amended May 1, 1951]

M–7—ALUMINUM FOR CIVILIAN USE

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, in the formulation of this amendment, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected has been rendered impracticable by the fact that the order affects a very substantial number of different trades and industries.

This amendment affects NPA Order M–7 as amended April 20, 1951, as follows: It substitutes a new paragraph (c) of section 5 and a new paragraph (c) of section 6, and makes certain changes in list A. As so amended, NPA Order M–7 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. Purpose and scope.
2. Definitions.
3. Aluminum forms and products to which this order applies.
4. Application of order.
5. Use of aluminum.

Sec.
6. Use of aluminum for certain purposes.
7. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies.
8. Exemptions.
9. Inventories.
10. Application for adjustment.
11. Records and reports.
12. Communications.
13. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. Purpose and scope. The purpose of this order is to describe how the aluminum remaining after allowing for the requirements of national defense may be distributed and used in the civilian economy. It is the policy of the National Production Authority that aluminum and articles made of aluminum, not required to fill rated orders, shall be distributed equitably through normal channels of distribution, and that due regard shall be given by suppliers to the needs of new and small business.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Base period" means the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

(c) "Manufacture" means to put into process, machine, fabricate, or otherwise alter materials by physical or chemical means: Provided, however, That as applied to "castings (foundry products as shipped by the producer)" specified in section 3 of this order the word "manufacture" also means the assembly of said items into components or end products, and that as applied to "powder (including atomized, flake, paste, and pigments)," the word "manufacture" also means segregating, weighing, or packaging for sale or resale by persons other than producers.

(d) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a building, machine, piece of equipment or facility in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of a building, machine, piece of equipment, or facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like: Provided, however, Neither maintenance nor repair includes the improvement of any such item with material of a better kind, quality, or design.

(e) "Operating supplies" means any aluminum forms or products listed in section 3 of this order which are normally carried by a person as operating supplies according to established accounting practice and are not included in his finished product, except that materials included in such product which are normally chargeable to operating expense may be treated as operating supplies.

SEC. 3. Aluminum forms and products to which this order applies. The word "aluminum" as used in this order means only the following aluminum forms and products obtained from either domestic or foreign sources:

Rod and bar.
Wire (under ⅜ inch).
Cables (electrical transmission only).
Rivets.
Forgings and pressings (before machining).
Impact extrusions.
Castings (foundry products as shipped by the producer).
Rolled structural shapes (angles, channels, zees, tees, etc.).
Extruded shapes.
Sheet (coiled and flat), plate, circles and blanks.
Slugs.
Plain coil foil.
Tubing (extruded, drawn, and roll formed).
Tube blooms.
Powder (including atomized, flake, paste, and pigments).
Ingot, pig, billets, slabs, granulated.
Purchased scrap.

SEC. 4. Application of order. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 8 of this order, this order applies to the use of aluminum for purposes of manufacture or construction, or for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies. It does not apply to (a) the production of aluminum in or the conversion of aluminum to the forms and products listed in section 3 of this order; or (b) the use of aluminum in the production of other metals (including aluminized steel), or of metal alloys, the chief constituent of which is not aluminum, or of chemical salts of aluminum and compositions of aluminum used as a catalyst.

SEC. 5. Use of aluminum. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 8 of this order, and unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no person shall use in manufacture or construction:

(a) During December 1950, a quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 100 percent of his average monthly use of aluminum during the base period.

(b) During the following months a total quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of the percentages specified with respect to each month of his average monthly use of aluminum during the base period:

	Percent
January 1951	80
February 1951	75
March 1951	65

(c) During the calendar quarter commencing April 1, 1951, a total quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 65 percent of his average quarterly use of aluminum during the base period: Provided, however, That no person shall use during each of the months of May and June 1951, in the manufacture of nonresidential type windows (excluding architectural type, curved head windows) a total quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 65 percent of his average monthly use of aluminum for that purpose during the base period. Any person who was authorized by the National Production Authority to use an adjusted monthly base to determine permitted use of aluminum during January, February, or March 1951, shall not use during the second calendar quarter of 1951 a quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 65 percent of three times such adjusted monthly base; and no manufacturer of nonresidential windows who was authorized by the National Production Authority to use such an adjusted base to determine permitted use of aluminum during January, February, or March 1951 shall use during either of the months of May or June 1951 a quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 65 percent of such adjusted monthly base. The National Production Authority reserves the right to review and modify or revoke any such adjustment. An authorization by the National Production Authority to use a specific quantity of aluminum in any specified month or months or in the first quarter of 1951 shall not be considered an adjusted base for the purposes of this paragraph.

SEC. 6. Use of aluminum for certain purposes. In addition to the limitations on the use of aluminum set forth in section 5 of this order:

(a) No person shall use in manufacture, assembly, or construction a greater quantity or better grade of aluminum than is necessary for functional or operational purposes.

(b) No person shall use aluminum in manufacture, assembly, or construction for decorative or ornamental purposes.

(c) Subject to the exemptions stated in section 8 of this order, or unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no person shall use during each of the months of May and June 1951, in the manufacture of any item included in list A or, in construction for any item in list A, a total quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 50 percent of his average monthly use of aluminum in such item during the base period. However, any person who, during the months of May or June 1951, purchases parts made wholly or partly of aluminum for incorporation in an item in list A, which parts he manufactured during the base period, shall deduct, to the extent that he purchases such parts, the quantity of aluminum he used in such manufacture during the base period in computing his permitted use during said months. During each of the months of May and June 1951, any person who does not use aluminum in the manufacture of an item in list A, but who assembles parts made wholly or partly of aluminum into such item in list A, shall not assemble a total number of units of such item in excess of 50 percent of the average monthly number of such units which he assembled during the base period.

(d) Any person who was authorized by the National Production Authority to use an adjusted monthly base to determine permitted use of aluminum during January, February, or March 1951, shall not use during either of the months of May or June 1951, in the manufacture of any item in list A, a total quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 50 percent of such adjusted monthly base. The National Production Authority reserves the right to review and modify or revoke any such adjustment. An authorization by the National Production Authority to use a specific quantity of aluminum in any specified month or months or in the first quarter of 1951 shall not be considered an adjusted base for the purposes of this paragraph.

(e) Any person who has placed an order with a supplier for aluminum for use in the manufacture of an item in list A, which order is included in such supplier's mill schedule for the second quarter, may accept delivery thereof after the end of the quarter, and may use such aluminum during the third quarter of 1951 subject to such restrictions as the National Production Authority may prescribe.

SEC. 7. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, during the 6-month period commencing on December 1, 1950, and each 6-month period thereafter, no person shall use for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies a quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of the quantity of aluminum that he used for such purposes during the base period.

SEC. 8. Exemptions. (a) The use of aluminum required by any person to fill an order that is rated under the priorities system established by NPA Reg. 2 (excluding orders for items included in list A), or to meet any other mandatory order of the National Production Authority, is permitted in addition to the use of aluminum authorized by the provisions of sections 5 or 7 of this order. The use of aluminum required by any person to fill a rated order for any item included in list A which is marked by an asterisk is permitted in addition to the use of aluminum authorized by the provisions of section 5, 6, or 7 of this order where such item is for the use of the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard, in the construction, fitting, or furnishing of ships (other than pleasure craft), aircraft, and hospitals, or to supply military specification organizational equipment items. The use of aluminum required to fill an order, whether or not rated, for any item in list A which is not marked by an asterisk shall be subject to the limitations on use stated in section 6 of this order.

(b) The procurement and use by electric utilities of aluminum conductor and aluminum conductor accessories as those terms are defined in NPA Order M-50, is subject to order M-50 and is accordingly exempt from this order. The use by electric utilities of forms and shapes of aluminum listed in section 3 of this order, other than aluminum conductor and aluminum conductor accessories, remains subject to the restrictions of this order, and in computing permitted use of such other forms and shapes of aluminum, use of aluminum conductor and conductor accessories during the base period shall be excluded.

(c) The provisions of sections 5, 6, and 7 of this order do not apply to persons who use less than 1,000 pounds of aluminum during any period of 12 consecutive months: Provided, however, That persons who by reason of the provisions of section 5 or 6 would be permitted to use less than 1,000 pounds during any period of 12 consecutive months may use during such period a quantity up to 1,000 pounds.

(d) The provisions of section 5 of this order will not apply, commencing on February 1, 1951, to the use of aluminum in the manufacture of collapsible tubes as defined in NPA Order M-27, nor, commencing on April 6, 1951, to the use of aluminum in the manufacture of packaging closures as defined in NPA Order M-26.

SEC. 9. Inventories. In addition to the provisions of NPA Reg. 1 (15 F. R. 6253), relating to inventory control, it is considered that a more exact requirement applying to users of aluminum is necessary. No person obtaining aluminum for use in manufacture or construction, or for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, may receive or accept delivery of a quantity of aluminum if his inventory is, or by such receipt would become, in excess of that necessary to meet his deliveries or supply his services on the basis of his scheduled method and rate of operation pursuant to this order during the succeeding 60-day period, or in excess of a "practicable minimum working inventory" (as defined in NPA Reg. 1), whichever is less. For the purpose of this section, aluminum shapes and forms listed in section 3 of this order in which only minor changes or alterations have been effected shall be included in inventory. NPA Reg. 1 will apply to aluminum except as modified by this section.

SEC. 10. Application for adjustment. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because any provision otherwise works an undue and exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 11. Records and reports. (a) Persons subject to this order shall preserve the records which they have maintained and will maintain of inventories, receipts, deliveries, and uses of aluminum forms and products commencing with January 1, 1950.

(b) Persons subject to this order shall make records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (P. L. 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 12. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-7.

SEC. 13. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order, as amended, shall take effect on May 1, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

LIST A

See section 6 of this order as to the limitations on the use of aluminum in manufacture and construction in connection with the items on the following list.

See section 8 (a) of this order as to the effect of a rated order for items on the following list which are marked by an asterisk.

Airfoil (tubing) for windmills.
Aluminum wool.
Andirons, screens, and fireplace fixtures.
Animal cages.
Animal training equipment.
Animal traps.
Applicators for moistening envelopes.
Arbors and trellises.
Architectural and other building ornamentation.
Ash trays.
Automobile hardware and trim (except functional parts).
Awnings.
Badges.
Balloon molds.
Bar rails, fixtures, and equipment.
Barber chairs.
Batons.
Bathtubs.
Beauty parlor equipment.
Beer equipment: all items.
Bells (except parts where nonmagnetic gong material is required for electrically operated signaling devices used as adjuncts to communication systems).
Beverage mixing and serving equipment, such as bottle coolers, cocktail shakers, ice buckets and pails, ice chippers and shavers.
Bicycles and accessories.
Bird and pet cages, houses, aquariums, accessories and equipment.
Blackboard frames and chalk troughs.
Boards: shampoo, tanning.
Book covers.
Book stacks
*Boxes, including match, cigarette, typewriter ribbon (except instrument cases that require nonmagnetic properties)
*Brackets: light, shelf and wall
*Brooms and brushes (except toothbrushes and industrial)
*Buckles, all types
Buckets, household
*Burglar alarms and protective systems (except where essential to the proper servicing or functioning of the parts)
Burial vaults and urns
*Buttons (except for work clothing where necessary to resist corrosion)
*Cabinets: kitchen, medicine
Calendars, calendar pads and parts
Cameras, amateur box type still picture, fixed focus (except reflex)
Candle molds Canes
Canopies
*Cans, including ignition coil and motion picture humidor
Caps: chimney and vent flue (except for industrial) Card tables
Cards, greeting
Carriages: baby, luggage, strollers, scooters (except functional parts) Cases: Cigar Film
  Radio, home type
  Soft drink Spectacle
  Vanity
Caskets, and accessory devices
Caster cups, wheel casters and glides (except for industrial and materials handling equipment)
Chicken crates
*Chutes: coal, package, and waste
Cigarette lighters
Cleaning accessories, such as carpet sweepers, dust pans and scrubbing sets Clothespins
Coasters
Combs
*Containers, foil-lined
Coops: brooder, chicken, quail, etc.
*Copings
*Cornices
Crayon molds
*Cups
Curtain, drapery, and carpet hardware
Cutlery handles
Cuspidors
Desk pads
Dispensers, fixed or portable, for soap, lotion, papers, straws, etc. (except where necessary to resist corrosion for hospital, scientific laboratory, and industrial use)
Dolls
Door chimes
*Doors, including, but not limited to:
  Coal
  Door frames
  Dumbwaiter
  Incinerator Screen Storm
Draperies
Dresser sets
*Ducts, air conditioning, warm air, ventilating
Emblems, medals (except religious), crestings and plates
Fences, wire
Flag poles, stanchions, and sockets.
Flower boxes, stands, and pot holders.
Forms, concrete vault casting, wax Fountains Frames:
  Electric sign Picture
Frozen fruit sticks
*Furniture (except medical, dental, and hospital)
*Furniture, hardware (except functional parts)
Games
Garden tools and equipment
Garment hooks, brackets, racks, rods, trees, and hangers
Giftware
Gutters, leaders and downspouts.
Hair curlers
Hand-tool handles (except portable electric tools)
Hedge clipping machines
Highway markers, signals, and signs (except electrically operated traffic control signals)
Holders: Brush Pen
  Soda fountain cup
*Hollow ware
Horse shoes
Ice cream freezers for home use
Jewelry, all types (except religious goods)
Ladders and step stools (except industrial, fire, and marine)
Laundry accessories, domestic, such as tubs and boilers, washboards, drain board and tub covers, clothes hampers, ironing boards and tables, garment stretchers and dryers, clothes drying frames, and clothes-line hardware
Lawn and garden hose accessories, such as sprinklers, nozzles, couplings, clamps, menders, and reels
Lawn mowers, seeders, rollers, and tampers
Letter openers
Lightning rods
Luggage, fittings, rim, and hardware
Machines: rowing, voting
Mail boxes
Maps and globes (world)
Marine construction: pleasure craft and fittings of all kinds, including but not limited to:
  Boats
  Canoes
  Rowboats
  Sailboats
Markers: Grave
  License plates
  Price
  Tee
  Traffic
  Tree
Memorials and tablets
Mesh bags
Metal lath, and accessories
*Metal letters and numbers (except for industrial or public utility control identification)
Mops
*Mouldings and trim (except functional retaining mouldings, shapes, or forms)
Mud scrapers
Nursing bottles
Oil cloth, foil-covered
Ornaments, Christmas tree Packaging: Containers for:
    Bath salts
    Cosmetics, except collapsible tubes
    Gifts Powder
    Shoe polish
  Tubes, for cigars
  Jars, beauty cream
  Shakers, talcum powder
  Foil for:
    Capsules (except therapeutical)
    Cartons, liquor
    Florist
    Household Labels
    Over wraps (except food)
    Wraps: gift, cosmetic, liquor
    Wine bottles
Paper clips
*Plates: name, scuff, push, kick (except instruction and identification plates on equipment)
Playground equipment
Pleasure boat fastenings, fittings and hardware
Portable bleachers
Roofing, and accessories, residential type (including shingles)
*Rulers (except technical rulers such as slide rules and others used in engineering)
Saddlery, and harness hardware
*Screening (except insect and that used in technical and scientific equipment)
Shoe heels (except orthopedic)
Shovels, scoops, scrapers and pushers, (except as required for handling food, chemical products and grain in processing and distribution)
Siding and accessories (except industrial)
*Signs, including advertising
Smokers' accessories
*Soap dishes and bathroom accessories
Souvenirs and novelties, advertising specialties
Spandrels
Spools such as wire (except magnet), adhesive tape, solder
Sporting goods, all kinds (except commercial fishery goods, life raft equipment, fishing rod offset handles, and firearms components)
Spray guns (except paint spraying equipment and agricultural sprays)
Spurs, climbing
Statuary (except religious and artists' originals)
Stencils
Store fronts, (except glass holding members)
Stove pipe and other flue connections
*Tent poles, frames, and pegs.
*Thermostatic containers (except shoulders and cups on vacuum bottles of one quart and under size, and special laboratory and hospital equipment)
Toilet seats and covers
Tokens (except where necessary for electrical operation)
Tombstones
*Tooth brush and tumbler holders
*Towel bars
Toys
Tricycles and other children's vehicles
Umbrellas and parasols
Venetian blinds, fittings, and accessories
Vending machines (except functional parts)
Waste baskets
Wheelbarrows (except as required for handling chemicals)
*Whistles (except safety devices, air raid, and fire alarms)
Windows, storm (except sash slides)
Windows, architectural type, curved head.

[NPA Order M-25, Direction 1, as amended May 1, 1951]

M-25—CANS

DIR. 1.—DETERMINATION OF ADJUSTMENT

Sec.
1. Effect of this direction.
2. Type of case where applicable.
3. Direction.
4. Conditions.
5. Modification or revocation of individual adjustments.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 5 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.

SECTION 1. Effect of this direction. Direction 1, dated March 12, 1951, to NPA Order M-25, is superseded in its entirety by this Direction 1, as amended May 1, 1951 (hereinafter called "this direction"). On and after the effective date of this direction no further determination of adjustment shall be made under Direction 1, dated March 12, 1951. Any determination of adjustment heretofore made by a packer pursuant to section 1 (b) of Direction 1, dated March 12, 1951, and subject to the conditions of said direction, relating to packing during the first quarter at less than the customary volume, shall continue in effect and be used by such packer during the succeeding quarters of 1951, unless otherwise ordered by NPA. Any determination of adjustment made by a packer pursuant to any other provision of said Direction 1, dated March 12, 1951, shall apply only to the first calendar quarter of 1951 and be discontinued thereafter. In any such case a packer may make application on Form NPAF-38 for adjustment of his quota for the second and succeeding quarters of 1951 pursuant to section 11 of NPA Order M-25.

Definitions as used in NPA Order M-25, including the definition of the term "amount of cans" contained in section 6 (b) thereof, are applicable to this direction, This direction provides a standard with respect to quotas for the second and third quarters which, if applicable, may be applied by a packer pursuant to NPA Order M-25 without making application for adjustment to NPA. Reference to NPA Order M-25 means NPA Order M-25 as now or hereafter amended.

SEC. 2. Type of case where applicable. This direction applies to those cases where a packer was packing in cans (excluding cans made wholly of black plate) less than the customary volume of a particular product during either the second or third calendar quarters of 1951 of his selected base calendar year.

SEC. 3. Direction—(a) As to second quarter. Instead of using the amount of cans which he used for packing a particular product during the second quarter of his selected base year as provided in section 6 (b) of NPA Order M-25, he may use an amount of cans determined by dividing by 9 the amount of cans which he used for packing such product during the last 9 months of the calendar year which he selects as his base year, and multiplying the result of such division by 3. Every packer relying on such determination shall continue to use the same during the succeeding quarters of the calendar year 1951, unless otherwise ordered by NPA.

Illustration: The packer selects 1950 as his base year. During the last 9 months of the calendar year 1950 he used a total of 18,000 base boxes for packing product X. The result of dividing by 9 is 2,000 base boxes. When multiplied by 3 this results in a quarterly base under this direction of 6,000 base boxes. If product X is permitted a percentage quota of 100 percent under Schedule I during the second quarter of 1951, the packer using this direction may use a maximum of 100 percent of 6,000 base boxes during said quarter, and if the percentage quota is continued at 100 percent during the third and fourth quarters, the packer may use a maximum of 100 percent of 6,000 base boxes during the third and fourth quarters. If, however, the percentage quota is changed for the third and fourth quarters to 75 percent, then the packer may use a maximum of only 75 percent of 6,000 base boxes, or 4,500 base boxes.

(b) As to third quarter. Instead of using the amount of cans which he used for packing a particular product during the third quarter of his selected base year as provided in section 6 (b) of NPA Order M-25, he may use an amount of cans determined by dividing by 6 the amount of cans which he used for packing such product during the last 6 months of the calendar year which he selects as his base year and multiplying the result of such division by 3. Every packer relying on such determination shall continue to use the same during the fourth quarter of the calendar year 1951, unless otherwise ordered by NPA.

SEC. 4. Conditions. The above determination of adjustment with respect to the case described is subject to the following conditions:

(a) There shall be applied against the amount of cans as determined under section 3 of this direction, the quota percentage at any time applicable for the particular product as set out in Schedule I of NPA Order M-25, as amended April 6, 1951, or as hereafter amended.

(b) Every person relying on such determination shall prepare a detailed written record of the facts relating to the application of the determination to his operations and preserve the same.

(c) A copy of such record shall be promptly transmitted to NPA upon its request.

(d) Such record shall be made available at the person's usual place of business for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the NPA.

SEC. 5. Modification or revocation of individual adjustments. NPA reserves the right to modify or revoke any individual adjustment made pursuant to this direction by mailing notice of such modification or revocation to any person whose adjustment is being modified or revoked. NPA may amend or revoke this direction and by so doing modify with respect to subsequent calendar quarters of 1951 all adjustments made hereunder.

This direction shall take effect on May 1, 1951.

[NPA Order M-32 as Amended May 1, 1951]

M-32—CHEMICALS

LIMITATION FOR DO RATED ORDERS

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this amendment there has been consultation with industry representatives including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-32 by amending sections 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, and 7 to include distributors within the terms of the order; by changing the section headnote of section 8 and by adding seven items to Schedule A. As amended, this order now reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Chemicals to which this order applies.
4. Required shipment dates.
5. Rejection of rated orders.
6. Limitation for acceptance of rated orders.
7. NPA assistance in placing rated orders.
8. Applications for adjustment and exception.
9. Communications.
10. Records.
11. Audit and inspection.
12. Reports.
13. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order applies particularly to producers and distributors of each chemical listed in Schedule A appearing at the end of this order and provides rules for placing, accepting, and scheduling rated orders for such chemical. Its purpose is to provide equitable distribution of rated orders among all producers and distributors thereof, in order to make possible maximum production and to reduce to a minimum disruption of normal distribution. It supplements NPA Reg. 2 but only those provisions of Reg. 2 which are inconsistent with this order are superseded and all other provisions of Reg. 2 continue to apply to the chemical industry.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes agencies of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Producer" means any person engaged in the business of producing for sale any chemical listed in Schedule A.

(c) "Distributor" means any person who buys and receives from a producer any chemical listed in Schedule A and who resells or holds for resale such chemical.

(d) "Schedule A" means the list of chemicals marked "Schedule A" appearing at the end of this order.

(e) "NPA" means National Production Authority.

SEC. 3. Chemicals to which this order applies. This order applies only to the chemicals listed in Schedule A, as amended from time to time. It is the intention of NPA that if and when the need arises, additional chemicals will be added to Schedule A.

SEC. 4. Required shipment dates. A rated order for any chemical listed in Schedule A must specify shipment on a particular date or dates or during a particular month, which in no case may be earlier than required by the person placing the order. The producer of such chemical must schedule the order for shipment within the requested month as close to the requested shipment date as is practicable, considering the need for maximum production. The distributor must schedule the order for shipment within the requested month as close to the requested shipment date as is practicable.

SEC. 5. Rejection of rated orders. Unless otherwise specifically directed by NPA, no producer or distributor need accept a rated order for any chemical listed in Schedule A which is received by him less than the number of days (lead time), if any, set forth in Schedule A opposite the name of such chemical, prior to the first day of the month in which shipment is requested. Rated orders for any such chemical as to which no such period of time is specified in Schedule A are not subject to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 6. Limitation for acceptance of rated orders. Unless otherwise specifically directed by NPA, no producer or distributor shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment of any chemical listed in Schedule A in any one month in excess of the percentage specified in Schedule A.

SEC. 7. NPA assistance in placing rated orders. Any person who is unable to place a rated order for any chemical listed in Schedule A due to the limitation imposed by section 6 should apply to NPA, Ref: Order M-32, specifying the producers or distributors who refused to accept the order. NPA will arrange to assist him in locating sources of supply.

SEC. 8. Applications for adjustment and exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file with NPA a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment which claim that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each such request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 9. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-32.

SEC. 10. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 11. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

SEC. 12. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 13. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on May 1, 1951.

[NPA Order M-50 as amended May 1, 1951]

M-50—ELECTRIC UTILITIES

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-50 by amending paragraphs (b) and (g) of section 2, paragraph (a) of section 23, sections 31, 32, 35, and 36, paragraph 1 of Appendix A, paragraphs 2 and 3 of Appendix B, and paragraph 6 of Appendix C; and by adding a new paragraph 6 to Appendix B. As so amended this order reads as follows:

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 38 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this order does. (a) This order provides rules of special application to the procurement and use of materials by electric utilities.

(b) Article II modifies the application of NPA Reg. 4 to electric utilities and supersedes any conflicting provisions in NPA Reg. 4. All the provisions of NPA Reg. 4 apply to electric utilities except as modified by this order.

(c) Article III authorizes electric utilities to apply DO-48 ratings to orders for program materials to be used in major plant additions upon DEPA approval. In addition, it provides that electric utilities may not use any program materials in major plant additions after May 1, 1951, unless authorized by DEPA. The procurement of program materials for minor requirements, that is, requirements for all purposes except use in major plant additions, is governed by a self-rating procedure. Subject to certain inventory controls and quota limitations, each electric utility is authorized to apply DO-48 (Minor) ratings to certain orders for program materials for minor requirements.

SEC. 2. Definitions. (a) "Electric utility" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, located in the United States, its territories or possessions, supplying, or having facilities built for supplying electric power, directly or indirectly, for general use by the public or for use by its members. In the case of an electric utility engaged in the supply of electric power and in other activities, this order shall apply only to the procurement and use of materials required directly or indirectly for the supply of electric power.

(b) "DEPA" means the administrator of Defense Electric Power Administration.

(c) "Maintenance" means maintenance as defined in NPA Reg. 4 and "repair" means repair as defined in NPA Reg. 4. However, "maintenance" and "repair" include the replacement of any equipment regardless of its accounting classification, but neither "maintenance" nor "repair" includes the improvement of any plant, facility, or equipment or the replacement of material which is in sound working condition with material of a better kind, quality, design, or greater capacity.

(d) "Operating supplies" means material, other than fuel, which is consumed in the course of an electric utility's operations, except in maintenance, repair, and plant additions.

(e) "Plant addition" means the construction or installation of new facilities or the replacement of existing facilities with facilities of greater capacity. Single plant additions may not be combined or subdivided for purposes of affecting their classification as "major plant additions," as defined in this section. To assist in determining whether particular construction constitutes one, or more than one, plant addition, it shall be considered that a single plant addition consists of:

(1) Any construction of related facilities, excluding maintenance and repair work, which is completed during a continuous period of construction, not interrupted by periods of time such as months or years, except where such interruption is caused by uncontrollable forces, such as adverse weather conditions.

(2) In the case of line construction, a single continuous integrated system of lines, with necessary connected substations. (Thus, several sections of line emanating from different points on a utility's system would be several plant additions, not one plant addition.)

(f) "Major plant addition" means any plant addition constructed by an electric utility which involves one or more of the following:

(1) Line construction designed for operation at more than 15 kv where the plant addition requires more than 10,000 pounds gross weight of conductor, or

(2) Line construction designed for operation at 15 kv or less where the plant addition has a net material cost exceeding $50,000, or

(3) Non-line construction, including but not limited to construction or of additions to generating plant, sub-stations, or buildings, where the plant addition has a net material cost over $50,000, except that non-line construction shall not include construction for which specific NPA authorization is required under NPA Order M-4.

(g) "Minor requirements" means electric utility requirements of program materials for all purposes (including MRO) except major plant additions, and except construction for which NPA authorization is required under NPA Order M-4.

(h) "Gross weight of conductor" means, in the case of overhead lines, the weight of conductor as installed, including steel content in the case of conductor containing steel, without deduction for material salvaged; and in the case of underground lines the copper and aluminum content only, without deduction for material salvaged.

(i) "Line construction" means construction of both overhead and underground lines.

(j) "Net material cost" means the cost of all material, including any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind, incorporated in plant, less the cost of all material removed from plant, priced in accordance with the electric utility's regular accounting practice.

(k) "Inventory of program material" means all new or salvaged program material in the possession of an electric utility, unless physically incorporated in plant, without regard to its accounting classification, excluding, however:

(1) Program material specifically set aside on the effective date of this order for use in time of emergency and replacement thereof, and

(2) Program material set aside for use in any major plant addition. Program material set aside for use in such major plant addition which will not be used in such major plant addition shall be included in inventory.

(l) "Program material" means any material which is the subject of an appendix to this order.

SEC. 3. Applications for adjustment. (a) Any electric utility affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception on the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon such utility not suffered generally by other electric utilities, or that its enforcement against such utility would not be in the interest of national defense or in the public interest. Each request shall be in writing, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

(b) Each such request shall be addressed to DEPA and, if approved, DEPA will grant an appropriate adjustment or exception.

SEC. 4. Records and reports. (a) Each electric utility participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in its possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met, including the amounts of quarterly quotas, the method of computation, factual justification, methods of figuring quotas and charges against them. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) Each electric utility shall make such further records and submit such further reports to DEPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 5. Communications. All communications concerning this order and NPA Reg. 4, as modified by this order, and all requests for forms shall be addressed to the Defense Electric Power Administration, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

SEC. 6. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

ARTICLE II—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND OPERATING SUPPLIES AND MINOR CAPITAL ADDITIONS

SEC. 21. Modification of NPA Reg. 4 (MRO). This article modifies the application of NPA Reg. 4 (MRO) to electric utilities and supersedes any conflicting provisions in NPA Reg. 4. All the provisions of NPA Reg. 4 and all other applicable orders and regulations of NPA apply to electric utilities except as modified by this order.

SEC. 22. Quarterly MRO quotas—(a) Computation of quota. Subject to the exclusions provided in paragraph (b) of this section, an electric utility, in computing its quarterly MRO quotas, may include all expenditures for operating supplies and for materials used for maintenance and repair, as those terms are defined in this order.

(b) Exclusions from quota. In computing its quarterly MRO quota, no electric utility shall include any expenditure for:

(1) Any electric utility program material subject to Article III of this order.

(2) Any item included in Schedule A of NPA Order M-44.

(3) Any other item costing more than $10,000.

SEC. 23. Quantity restrictions — (a) Charges against quota. No electric utility shall obtain by use of the DO-97 rating any material excluded in paragraph (b) of section 22 of this order from its quarterly MRO quota, nor shall any utility charge against its quarterly MRO quota any order or receipt of such material.

(b) Emergency excess of quota. Subject to the restrictions of paragraph (a) of this section, if an electric utility has so far exhausted its MRO quota that an insufficient quota remains in any quarter to procure necessary material for maintenance or repair of its equipment or property, other than buildings, which is damaged or destroyed by extraordinary cause such as explosion, fire, sabotage, act of the public enemy, flood, storm or similar catastrophe, the utility may exceed its quota for that quarter to the extent necessary to procure such emergency materials: Provided however, That any such excess of quota must be immediately reported, together with the reasons therefor, to DEPA.

SEC. 24. Applications for increased MRO quotas. An electric utility's application for an increased MRO quota, to be submitted as provided in section 3 of this order, shall show such utility's existing MRO quota, any prior adjustments thereof, the amount of increase requested, the necessity for such increase, such utility's output per quarter in kilowatt hours commencing with the first quarter of 1950, and any other information pertinent to proper evaluation of such application.

ARTICLE III—PROGRAM MATERIALS

SEC. 31. Procurement of program materials generally. Subject to the quantity restrictions provided by this article, the ratings authorized by this article shall be applied to all orders for any program material including outstanding unrated orders, scheduled for delivery in or prior to a quarter for which a program material quota or authorization is effective, and no utility shall place unrated orders for any program material scheduled for delivery in such a quarter. Accordingly, all outstanding orders for any program material, except those calling for delivery in a subsequent quarter, shall be either rated, rescheduled for delivery in a subsequent quarter, or canceled within 15 days after such material becomes subject to the provisions of this order.

SEC. 32. Major plant additions. In order to obtain any program material for any major plant addition, an electric utility is hereby authorized to apply the DO-48 rating to orders for the quantity of such program material specified by DEPA for that purpose. In addition, when authorized by DEPA, an electric utility may apply the DO-48 (Minor) rating to orders for any program material for major plant additions not otherwise authorized by DEPA: Provided, That its minor requirements quota is charged with the quantities covered by such orders: And provided further, That no increase of such electric utility's minor requirements quota shall thereafter be granted which would replace for use for minor requirements purposes, the quantities of materials so diverted for use in major plant additions. As to program materials already on hand, no electric utility, after June 1, 1951, shall use any such program material in a major plant addition unless such use is expressly authorized by DEPA.

SEC. 33. Minor requirements. Subject to the restrictions contained in sections 36 and 37 of this order, each electric utility is hereby authorized to apply DO-48 (Minor) ratings to order any program material for its minor requirements: Provided, That no electric utility may exceed its quota for such program material.

SEC. 34. Form of certificate. The DO-48 or DO-48 (Minor) rating shall be applied by placing on the orders for any program material, or on a separate piece of paper attached thereto, the symbol "DO-48" or "DO-48 (Minor)" together with the words "Certified under NPA Order M-50". Such certification shall be signed as prescribed in section 8 of NPA Reg. 2.

SEC. 35. Quarterly program material quotas for minor requirements. Unless DEPA has prescribed otherwise, an electric utility may elect to use either a standard quota or an alternative quota but may not thereafter change from one quota to the other without the express approval of DEPA.

(a) Standard quota. An electric utility's standard quota for any program material for any calendar quarter is the percentage specified in the applicable appendix to this order of the quantity of such material which it used for minor requirements in the calendar year 1950 (or, if it operated on a fiscal year basis, in its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1950).

(b) Alternative quota. An electric utility's alternative quota for any program material for any calendar quarter is the percentage specified in the applicable appendix to this order of the quantity of such material which it used in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1950 (or, if it operated on a fiscal year basis, in the corresponding quarter of its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1950).

(c) Quota where 1950 base inapplicable. An electric utility not in operation throughout the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal) shall establish its standard or alternative program material quota in accordance with this section by adjusting, in direct proportion, its actual use of such program material for part of the year to an annual basis. To determine an alternative quota in such cases, the adjusted annual use may be unequally distributed among 4 quarters to reflect seasonal variations. An electric utility not in operation throughout 1950 shall report to DEPA the program material quota which it establishes in accordance with this section. If an electric utility was not in operation during any part of the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal) it may apply to DEPA for a program material quota, supplying in detail information pertinent to a proper evaluation of its application.

(d) Special provisions. DEPA may, by notice addressed to individual electric utilities, prescribe quarterly program material quotas for minor requirements greater or less than such utility's standard or alternative quotas.

SEC. 36. Inventory restrictions. No electric utility shall order any program material if, after the receipt of such program material, its inventory of such program material would be or become in excess of 25 percent of the weight of such program material which it used for its minor requirements during the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal), except that an electric utility may order for delivery in any quarter a quantity of any particular item of such program material equal to the amount by which its required use of such item in such quarter exceeds the quantity of such items which it has or will have on hand at the beginning of such quarter. This provision shall not authorize any electric utility to exceed its quota for minor requirements.

SEC. 37. Filing of forms. Prior to its first application of the DO-48 (Minor) rating to an order for delivery of any program material in the second quarter of 1951 for use for minor requirements, each electric utility must file with DEPA the applicable form in the DEPA-4 series. Forms in the DEPA-4 series shall be deemed to be filed when addressed to DEPA and deposited for mailing in any United States post office.

SEC. 38. Applications for increased program material quotas. Each application for an increased program material quota shall contain the following information:

(a) Statement of the amount of any special authorization which the utility has received.

(b) Statement of the total amount of each program material requested to be authorized for use in minor requirements during each quarter, including the base period quota permitted by the applicable appendix to this order.

(c) Detailed statement of necessity for larger quota.

(d) Any additional information which may be pertinent to proper evaluation of the application.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on May 1, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

APPENDIX A—ALUMINUM CONDUCTOR

1. Definition. "Aluminum conductor" means any wire, cable, or bus bar which contains aluminum. Aluminum conductor should be measured in terms of gross weight of conductor.

2. Standard aluminum conductor quota for minor requirements: 20 percent.

3. Alternative aluminum conductor quota for minor requirements: 80 percent.

4. Exemption from quantity restrictions. The quantity restrictions applicable to aluminum conductor shall not apply to any electric utility which orders for delivery in any calendar quarter a gross weight of aluminum conductor which does ont exceed 5,000 pounds.

5. Applicable forms. The form which an electric utility is required to file prior to its first application of the DO–48 (Minor) rating to an order for aluminum conductor as provided in section 37 of this order is Form DEPA–4A.

6. Effect on NPA Order M–7. The provisions of this order supersede NPA M-7 with respect to the procurement and use of aluminum conductor by electric utilities. The use by electric utilities of forms and shapes of aluminum listed in section 3 of NPA Order M–7, other than aluminum conductor and aluminum conductor accessories, remains subject to the restrictions of NPA Order M–7.

APPENDIX B—ALUMINUM CONDUCTOR ACCESSORIES

1. Definition. "Aluminum conductor accessories" means any accessories containing aluminum or steel, such as clamps, twisting sleeves, and armor rods, which are used for the installation of aluminum conductor.

2. Quantity authorized for major plant additions. Each electric utility which has been authorized to order aluminum conductor for delivery in the second quarter of 1951 for use in any major plant addition, as provided in section 32 of this order, is hereby authorized to order for delivery in such quarter the quantity of aluminum conductor accessories necessary for use in connection with such aluminum conductor, and is authorized to apply the DO–48 rating to such orders.

3. Quantity authorized for minor requirements. There are no quotas applicable to the procurement of aluminum conductor accessories. Each electric utility is authorized to apply DO–48 (Minor) ratings to orders for the quantity of aluminum conductor accessories necessary for use in connection with the aluminum conductor which such electric utility is authorized to order for its minor requirements for delivery in such quarter and for such additional quantity which it requires for use in such quarter in maintenance and repair. No electric utility may order for delivery in any quarter a quantity of aluminum conductor accessories for minor requirements which exceeds the quantity authorized in this paragraph.

4. Effect on NPA Order M–7. The provisions of this order supersede NPA Order M–7 with respect to the procurement and use of aluminum conductor accessories by electric utilities. The use by electric utilities of forms and shapes of aluminum listed in section 3 of NPA Order M–7, other than aluminum conductor and aluminum conductor accessories, remains subject to the restrictions of NPA Order M–7.

5. Filing of forms not required. No forms are required to be filed prior to application of the DO–48 (Minor) rating to orders for aluminum conductor accessories.

6. Extension of ratings. The DO–48 and DO–48 (Minor) ratings shall not be extended by manufacturers of accessories so long as such manufacturerers are permitted under NPA Order M–44 to apply the DO–45 rating to order materials for manufacturing aluminum conductor accessories.

APPENDIX C—COPPER

COPPER WIRE MILL PRODUCTS, BRASS MILL PRODUCTS, AND FOUNDRY PRODUCTS

1. Definitions. (a) "Copper wire mill product" means bare wire, insulated wire and cable whatever the outer protective coverings may be, and uninsulated wire and cables, where the conductors are made from copper, copper-base alloy, or copper-clad steel containing over 20 percent copper by weight. All copper wire mill products should be measured in terms of pounds of copper content. Accordingly, minor requirements quotas and charges against such quotas must be computed on the basis of net weight of copper in copper wire mill products.

(b) "Brass mill product" means sheet, including strip and plate; rod, including bars, and extruded shapes; wire; or tube, including pipe, made from copper or copper-base alloy. This does not include copper wire mill products.

(c) "Foundry products" means cast copper and copper-base alloy shapes or forms suitable for ultimate use without remelting, rolling, drawing, extruding, or forging. (Includes the removal of gates, risers and sprues, and sandblasting, tumbling, or dipping, but excludes any further machining or processing.)

2. Standard copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products quota for minor requirements: 18¾ percent.

3. Alternative copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products quota for minor requirements: 75 percent.

4. Exemption from quantity restrictions. The quantity restrictions applicable to copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products shall not apply to any electric utility which orders for delivery in any calendar quarter a quantity of copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products which does not exceed 5,000 pounds in the aggregate.

5. Applicable forms. The form which an electric utility is required to file prior to its first application of the DO–48 (Minor) rating to an order for copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products, as provided in section 37 of this order, is Form DEPA–4C.

6. Rating or cancellation of outstanding orders. Notwithstanding the requirement in section 31 of this order with reference to rating or cancellation of outstanding orders within 15 days, it shall be sufficient if outstanding orders for copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products be rated or cancelled by May 15, 1951.

7. Effect on NPA Order M–12. This order supersedes NPA Order M–12 with respect to procurement and use by electric utilities of copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products.

[NPA Order M–59]

M–59—STRAPPING

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected in advance of the issuance of this order has been rendered impracticable by the fact that the order affects a very substantial number of different trades and industries.

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Restrictions on use of strapping.
4. Inventories.
5. Effect of this order on NPA Reg. 1.
6. Other restrictions.
7. Exceptions.
8. Certification of delivery of strapping.
9. Applications for adjustment or exception.
10. Communications.
11. Records, audit, inspection, and reports.
12. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 12 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order places limitations on inventories, and restrictions upon the use of strapping.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Strapping" means any wire, steel or other metal wire or band reinforcements or closures, 12 inches or more in length, used for reinforcement on shipping containers, not including stitching wire.

(b) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

SEC. 3. Restrictions on use of strapping. Effective May 1, 1951, no person shall use commercially any strapping, unless:

(a) The weight of the shipping container and contents, on which the strapping is used, exceeds 90 pounds; or

(b) The net weight of the contents of the container exceeds 0.058 pounds per cubic inch; or

(c) The use of the strapping is required by regulation or order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, or under the provisions of the Consolidated Freight Classification; or

(d) The shipment is for delivery outside of the continental limits of the United States and Canada; or

(e) The strapping is for shipping containers for fresh fruits, vegetables, meats, fish, or poultry, provided the strapping is essential to the safe delivery of the contents and has been customarily used for the same type of shipment and container; or

(f) The strapping is for wooden lard or butter tubs, and wooden buckets or pails, or for wire-bound boxes or barrel hoops, or hoops for fibre paper, or plywood drums, or reinforcement edging on returnable delivery cases or tote boxes; or

(g) The strapping is for closing fibre drums or hexagonal or octagonal fibre containers; or

(h) The strapping is for bundling deliveries of new newspapers, magazines, or periodicals; or

(i) The strapping is for baling of compressed materials; or

(j) The strapping is for telescope boxes by a clothing manufacturer for the shipment of clothing, if such manufacturer has customarily used strapping for the same type of container and shipment; or

(k) The strapping is for bundling of filled containers or packages into a single shipping unit; or

(l) The strapping is for bundling of knock-down wood, fibre, or veneer boxes or shooks, dimension stock, flooring and millwork, or on any product which by bundling will make the use of a shipping container unnecessary; or

(m) The strapping is for fastening or securing of material to skids or pallets, or for fastening or securing material in vehicles or vessels; or

(n) The use of strapping is by transportation companies and is required by them to reinforce containers, bundles, or packages, damaged in transit.

SEC. 4. Inventories. No person shall receive or accept delivery of any strapping if his inventory of strapping is, or by such receipt would become, more than the smallest quantity of such strapping which he reasonably requires to maintain his normal rate of operation during the next succeeding 45-day period: Provided, however, That in no case shall a person be required to maintain an inventory of less than 1,000 pounds of strapping.

SEC. 5. Effect of this order on NPA Reg. 1. To the extent that the provisions of section 4 of this order are in conflict with the provisions of NPA Reg. 1, the provisions of this order shall prevail. Otherwise, the provisions of NPA Reg. 1 continue to apply to strapping.

SEC. 6. Other restrictions. No person shall sell or deliver any strapping which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of the terms of this order, or any other order or regulation of the NPA.

SEC. 7. Exceptions. (a) Orders having DO ratings applied by the Department of Defense, Department of State, Department of the Interior, National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Civil Aeronautics Administration, Atomic Energy Commission, or the United States Coast Guard, or applied in accordance with NPA Reg. 3 by any Department of the Canadian Government charged with the responsibility for direct defense or defense supporting procurement, are exempt from the use limitations of this order. The foregoing agencies are also exempt from the inventory restriction of section 4 of this order.

(b) The use restrictions of this order shall not apply to the sale or delivery of strapping for export, where the person selling or delivering the same has received a validated export license therefor from the Office of International Trade, or has received from another person a certificate signed manually. This certificate shall be in substantially the following form (the purchaser striking therefrom the inapplicable words), and shall be filed with each purchase order with the person selling or delivering strapping to such other person for export:

To ----------, Seller:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that (he has received a certification from another person that) the Office of International Trade has issued to (him) (such other person) validated export license No. -------- for export shipment of all of the items included in the attached purchase order.

SEC. 8. Certification of delivery of strapping. No person shall sell or deliver strapping unless he has received from the purchaser a certificate signed manually in substantially the following form:

The undersigned, subject to statutory penalties, certifies that acceptance of delivery and use by the undersigned of the strapping herein ordered will not be in violation of NPA Order M–59.

This certification constitutes a representation by the purchaser to the seller and to the National Production Authority that delivery of such strapping may be accepted by the purchaser under this order, and that such materials will not be used by the purchaser in violation of this order.

SEC. 9. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file with NPA a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each such request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 10. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M–59.

SEC. 11. Records, audit, inspection, and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 12. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall take effect on May 1, 1951.

[NPA Reg. 4, Direction 2]

REG. 4—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND OPERATING SUPPLIES AND MINOR CAPITAL ADDITIONS

DIR. 2—REPLACEMENT PARTS AND ACCESSORIES FOR EXPORT

This direction to NPA Reg. 4 is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this direction, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, because of the need for immediate action and because the direction affects many exporters in a wide variety of trades and industries, it has been impracticable to consult with representatives of all affected trades and industries.

3. Assignment of rating authority.
4. How to apply the rating.
5. Reports of 1950 MRO exports.
6. Establishment of May-June MRO export quota.
7. Use of rating before approval of quota.
8. Charges against quota.

16. Expiration.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 16 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. Purpose and effect. This direction establishes a procedure whereby exporters, during the months of May and June 1951, may obtain the right to use a DO–97 rating to secure specified types and quantities of replacement parts and accessories for machinery and equipment, or the materials and components with which to manufacture such replacement parts and accessories, for shipment to all countries except Canada and those countries in subgroup A as defined in the export regulations of the Office of International Trade. This direction does not include delivery of replacement parts or accessories for installation on vessels in United States ports but does include shipment thereof for installation on vessels in foreign ports. It is necessary to issue this direction because NPA Reg. 4 has no application to procurement of materials for use as maintenance, repair, and operating supplies outside of the United States, its territories, and possessions. Although issued as a direction to NPA Reg. 4, this direction is a completely independent document, and no part of NPA Reg. 4 is to be construed as applicable to procurement for export of the items subject to this direction.

SEC. 2. Items subject to this direction. The only items to which this direction applies are replacement parts and accessories used directly for maintenance, repair, or operation of agricultural, industrial, or other commercially employed machinery or equipment but not including materials or components incorporated in or delivered with the product of such machinery or equipment. All such items to which this direction applies are hereinafter collectively referred to as "MRO" but it will be noted that the term "MRO" as used in this direction has a more limited meaning than as used in NPA Reg. 4. This direction does not apply, however, to procurement of any items appearing in List A of NPA Reg. 2 (other than farm equipment) nor any items appearing in Table I of NPA Reg. 4. These excluded items are the following:

LIST A OF NPA REG. 2

Electric power.
Fertilizer, commercial.
Food.
Fuels, solid.
Gas.
Petroleum.
Source and fissionable materials.
Transportation services, domestic, storage and port facilities.
Communications services.
Ice.
Mineral aggregates:
  Sand.
  Gravel.
  Crushed stone.
  Slag.
Ores and scrap.
Steam heating, central.
Transportation services, other.
Waste paper.
Water.
Wood pulp.

TABLE I, OF NPA REG. 4

All basic, organic, or inorganic chemicals, their intermediates and derivatives other than compounded end-products not customarily sold as chemicals.
Items appearing in List A of NPA Order M–47, as the same may be amended from time to time.
Nylon fibers and yarns.
Packaging materials and containers.
Paint, lacquer, and varnish.
Paper and paper products.
Paperboard and paperboard products.
Photographic film.
Rails, tie plates, track spikes, splice bars, rail joints, frogs, and switches.
Rubber tires and tubes.

SEC. 3. Assignment of rating authority. Exporters are hereby authorized, during the months of May and June 1951, to apply a DO–97 rating, subject to the quantity limitations and other provisions set forth in subsequent sections of this direction, to obtain for export (as permitted by applicable export controls) to any country except Canada and subgroup A countries, any MRO items to which this direction applies and for which such exporters then hold firm export orders, or, in the case of manufacturing exporters, any materials or components (except those included in List A of NPA Reg. 2 and in Table I of NPA Reg. 4) incorporated or to be incorporated in any such items. In any case where an exporter might properly apply this rating to secure such items for export (or their constituent materials or components), but instead supplies them from inventory during May or June 1951, he may apply the rating to replace in inventory such items (or their constituent materials or components). Exporters remain subject, however, to the inventory controls of NPA Reg. 1.

SEC. 4. How to apply the rating. To apply the rating authorized by section 3, the exporter places on his order, or on a separate piece of paper attached to the order or clearly identifying it, the symbol "DO–97" together with the words "Certified under Direction 2 to NPA Reg. 4." This certification, which must be signed by an authorized person, constitutes a representation to the supplier and to NPA that the exporter is authorized to use the rating to secure the materials ordered.

SEC. 5. Reports of 1950 MRO exports. In order to qualify for the right to use the DO–97 rating, and before making any use of it, an exporter must prepare and submit to the Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., a signed report in duplicate, on OIT Form IT–818 showing the total dollar value (computed f. a. s., not c. i. f.) of his exports of MRO in 1950 to all countries except Canada and subgroup A countries. Only those replacement parts and accessories which are subject to this direction, as provided in section 2, may be included in such calculation and statement. The total dollar value shown must be broken down into the categories set forth below (as provided in the form):

(a) Replacement parts for the following types of machinery and equipment:

Agricultural.
Construction.
General industrial.
Metalworking.
Mining (including oil field).
All other types of machinery and equipment.

(b) Accessories:

Cutting tools.
All other accessories.

SEC. 6. Establishment of May–June MRO export quota. Upon receipt of the exporter's report described in section 5, the Office of International Trade, after making such revisions and adjustments as may be appropriate, will compute and certify to the exporter, as his combined MRO export quota for the 2 months, May and June 1951, one-sixth of the total dollar value (as revised or adjusted) of his 1950 MRO exports to all countries except Canada and subgroup A countries. Such certification, duly authenticated by the Office of International Trade, will be made on the duplicate copy of the exporter's report (OIT Form IT–818) which will then be returned to him, and will take the following form:

Your MRO export quota for May–June 1951 is hereby approved and established under Direction 2 to NPA Reg. 4 in the aggregate amount of $_____.

SEC. 7. Use or rating before approval of quota. Upon filing with the Office of International Trade his report of 1950 MRO exports pursuant to section 5, an exporter may proceed (subject to section 10 of this direction) to apply the DO–97 rating assigned by section 3 of this direction without waiting for certification of his approved MRO export quota under section 6 of this direction, but he may make such advance use of the rating only to obtain MRO items (and their constituent materials or components) having an aggregate export sales value (f. a. s.) not exceeding one-twelfth of his reported total MRO exports for 1950. He may make no further use of the rating until he has received the certified approval of his MRO export quota for the May–June period.

SEC. 8. Charges against quota. An exporter for whom an MRO export quota is established under section 6 of this direction must charge against such quota, in the dollar amount of their export sales value (f. a. s.), all MRO items subject to this direction which he orders (or for the manufacture of which he orders constituent materials or components) in the months of May and June 1951 for export to countries other than Canada and subgroup A countries. He must charge all such items against his quota regardless of whether or not he uses the DO–97 rating to procure them or their constituent materials or components: Provided, however, That if he uses the DO–97 rating to procure for export items (or constituent materials or components for items) having an aggregate export sales value not exceeding 20 percent of his approved MRO export quota, he need not charge against such quota the items which he procures (or for which he procures constituent materials or components) without use of a rating.

SEC. 9. Excess of quota prohibited. An exporter for whom an export MRO quota is established under section 6 of this direction may not place orders in May and June 1951 for MRO items for export, or for materials or components to be incorporated in MRO items for export, which are chargeable against his quota, having an aggregate export sales value (f. a. s.) in excess of the amount of his quota. Orders for replacement of inventory are to be treated in the same way as orders for items for direct export or as orders for materials or components to be incorporated in items for direct export.

SEC. 10. Exports requiring validated license. No person may use the DO–97 rating to procure any item (or materials or components for any item) requiring a validated license for its export unless such person has been granted and then holds an unexpired validated license for its export issued by the Office of International Trade.

SEC. 11. Relation to other NPA regulations. NPA Reg. 2, which sets forth the basic rules of the priorities system, governs the use and extendability of the DO–97 rating assigned by this direction. In general, when an exporter applies the DO–97 rating to an order pursuant to this direction, his supplier may extend the rating to secure the item rated or the materials and components needed for its manufacture. The DO–97 rating may not be extended, however, to secure materials included in List A of NPA Reg. 2 nor the materials included in Table I of NPA Reg. 4. Nothing in this direction shall be construed as relieving any person from the obligation of complying with such limitations on acquisition or use of materials or such other provisions as may be contained in any applicable regulation or order of the NPA or with any order of any other competent authority.

SEC. 12. Records to be kept. Each person for whom an approved MRO quota is established pursuant to section 6 of this direction must make and preserve for 2 years accurate and complete records showing all orders, receipts, and shipments of MRO for export during May and June 1951, regardless of whether rated or not, and all other relevant data, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this direction have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records disclose the above data and supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals. All records required by this direction shall be made available at the usual place of busines where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the NPA.

SEC. 13. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this direction may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this direction, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be submitted in writing, in triplicate, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 14. Communications. All communications concerning this direction shall be addressed to the Office of International Trade, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Dir. 2 to NPA Reg. 4.

SEC. 15. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this direction or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this direction is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

SEC. 16. Expiration. This direction expires June 30, 1951. After that date no DO–97 rating may be applied by any person to secure MRO items for export (or their constituent materials or components) under the authority of this direction. It is contemplated, however, that a new procedure for procurement of MRO items for export, applicable after June 30, 1951, will be announced well in advance of that date.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this direction have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 USC 139–133F).

This direction shall take effect on May 1, 1951.

[DEPA Order EO–1, as Amended April 13, 1951, Amendment 1]

EO–1—PLANT ADDITIONS: INFORMATION TO BE FILED

This amendment to DEPA Order EO–1, as amended April 13, 1951, is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

Paragraph (a) of section 3 is hereby amended by adding a new subparagraph (5), reading as follows:

(5) Form DEPA 4–S, "Electricity Utility Statement of Minor Requirements of Steel". This form shall be filed not later than May 21, 1951.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

This amendment shall take effect on May 3, 1951.

TITLE 37—PATENTS, TRADEMARKS, AND COPYRIGHTS

Chapter III—Government Patents Board

[Admin. Order 5]

PART 300—ADMINISTRATION OF A UNIFORM PATENT POLICY WITH RESPECT TO THE DOMESTIC RIGHTS IN INVENTIONS MADE BY GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

APRIL 26, 1951.

This part supersedes the former Part 300, 15 F. R. 6124.

Sec.
300.1 Purpose.
300.2 Authority.
300.3 Scope.
300.4 Definitions.
300.5 Determination of invention.
300.6 Determination of rights in and to inventions.
300.7 Appeals by employees.
300.8 Patent protection.
300.9 Report forms.
300.10 Liaison.
300.11 Dissemination of order.

AUTHORITY: §§ 300.1 to 300.11 issued under sec. 4, E. O. 10096, Jan. 23, 1950, 15 F. R. 391.

§ 300.1 Purpose. The purpose of this part is to provide for the administration of a uniform patent policy for the Government with respect to the domestic rights in inventions made by Government employees and to prescribe rules and regulations for implementing and effectuating such policy.

§ 300.2 Authority. Authority for the administration of a uniform patent policy is provided in Executive Order 10096, dated January 23, 1950 (15 F. R. 389).

§ 300.3 Scope. This part applies to any invention made by a Government employee on or after January 23, 1950, and to any action taken with respect thereto.

§ 300.4 Definitions. (a) The term "Government agency", as used in this part, means any Executive department or independent establishment of the Executive branch of the Government (including any independent regulatory commission or board, any corporation wholly owned by the United States, and the Smithsonian Institutions), but does not include the Atomic Energy Commission.

(b) The term "Government employee", as used in this part, means any officer or employee, civilian or military, of any Government agency, including any part-time consultant or part-time employee except as may otherwise be provided for by agency regulation approved by the Chairman.

(c) The term "invention", as used in this part, means any art, machine, manufacture, design, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, or any variety of plant, which is or may be patentable under the patent laws of the United States.

(d) The term "Chairman", as used in this part, means the Chairman of the Government Patents Board.

§ 300.5 Determination of invention. Each Government agency will determine whether the results of research, development, or other activity within the agency constitute invention within the purview of Executive Order 10096.

§ 300.6 Determination of rights in and to inventions. (a) Subject to review by the Chairman as provided for in this part, each Government agency will determine the respective rights of the Government and of the inventor in and to any invention made by a Government employee while under the administrative jurisdiction of such agency.

(b) The following rules shall be applied in determining the respective rights of the Government and of the inventor in and to any invention that is subject to the provisions of this part:

(1) The Government shall obtain the entire domestic right, title and interest in and to all inventions made by any Government employee (i) during working hours, or (ii) with a contribution by the Government of facilities, equipment, materials, funds, or information, or of time or services of other Government employees on official duty, or (iii) which bear a direct relation to or are made in consequence of the official duties of the inventor.

(2) In any case where the contribution of the Government, as measured by any one or more of the criteria set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, to the invention is insufficient equitably to justify a requirement of assignment to the Government of the entire domestic right, title, and interest in and to such invention, or in any case where the Government has insufficient interest in an invention to obtain the entire domestic right, title, and interest therein (although the Government could obtain same under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph), the Government agency concerned, subject to the approval of the Chairman, shall leave title to such invention in the employee, subject, however, to the reservation to the Government of a nonexclusive, irrevocable, royalty-free license in the invention with power to grant licenses for all governmental purposes, such reservation, in the terms thereof, to appear, where practicable, in any patent, domestic or foreign, which may issue on such invention.

(3) In applying the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph to the facts and circumstances relating to the making of any particular invention, it shall be presumed that an invention made by an employee who is employed or assigned (i) to invent or improve or perfect any art, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, (ii) to conduct or perform research, development work, or both, (iii) to supervise, direct, coordinate, or review Government financed or conducted research, development work, or both, or (iv) to act in a liaison capacity among governmental or non-governmental agencies or individuals engaged in such work, falls within the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and it shall be presumed that any invention made by any other employee falls within the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. Either presumption may be rebutted by the facts or circumstances attendant upon the conditions under which any particular invention is made and, notwithstanding the foregoing, shall not preclude a determination that the invention falls within the provisions of subparagraph (4) of this paragraph.

(4) In any case wherein the Government neither (i) obtains the entire domestic right, title and interest in and to an invention pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph nor (ii) reserves a nonexclusive, irrevocable, royalty-free license in the invention, with power to grant licenses for all governmental purposes, pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the Government shall leave the entire right, title and interest in and to the invention in the Government employee, subject to law.

(c) In the event that a Government agency determines, pursuant to subparagraph (2) or subparagraph (4) of paragraph (b) of this section, that title to an invention will be left with an employee, the agency shall, subject to considerations of national security, or public health, safety, or welfare, report to the Chairman, promptly upon making such determination, the following information concerning the invention:

(1) Description of the invention in sufficient detail to permit a satisfactory review;

(2) Name of inventor and his employment status; and

(3) Statement of agency determination and reasons therefor.

The report in a case falling within the provisions of subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of this section shall be made after the expiration of the period prescribed in § 300.7 for the taking of an appeal, or it may be made prior to the expiration of such period if the employee acquiesces in the agency determination. The Chairman thereupon shall review the determination of the Government agency, and his decision respecting the matter shall be final, subject to the right of the inventor to submit to the Chairman within 30 days (or such longer period as the Chairman may, for good cause, fix in any case) after receiving notice of such decision, a petition for the reconsideration of the decision if it gives to the Government greater rights than the agency determination. A copy of any such petition must also be filed by the inventor with the employing agency within the prescribed period.

§ 300.7 Appeals by employees. (a) Any Government employee who is aggrieved by an agency determination pursuant to subparagraph (1) or subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of § 300.6 may obtain a review of the agency determination by filing, within 30 days (or such longer period as the Chairman may, for good cause, fix in any case) after receiving notice of such determination, a written appeal with the Chairman and a copy of the appeal with the Government agency.

(b) In the event of the filing of an appeal pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the Government agency which made the determination shall, subject to considerations of national security, or public health, safety, or welfare, furnish the Chairman in writing, promptly upon the filing of the appeal, the following information concerning the invention involved in the appeal:

(1) Description of the invention in sufficient detail to permit a satisfactory review;

(2) Name of the inventor and his employment status, including a detailed statement of his official duties and responsibilities at the time of making the invention; and

(3) Detailed statement of the nature of the dispute or controversy, together with copies of the agency determination, of any briefs or written arguments that may have been filed, of any statements or other evidence that may have been considered by the agency, and of other relevant material.

(c) The decision of the Chairman upon any appeal taken pursuant to this section shall be final.

§ 300.8 Patent protection. (a) A Government agency, upon determining that an invention coming within the scope of subparagraph (1) or subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of § 300.6 has been made, shall thereupon determine whether patent protection will be sought in the United States by the agency for such invention. A controversy over the respective rights of the Government and of the inventor in any case shall not delay the taking of the actions provided for in this section. In cases coming within the scope of subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of § 300.6, agency action looking toward such patent protection shall be contingent upon the consent of the inventor.

(b) Where there is a dispute as to whether subparagraph (1) or subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of § 300.6 applies in determining the respective rights of the Government and of an employee in and to any invention, the agency will determine whether patent protection will be sought in the United States pending the Chairman's decision on the dispute, and, if it decides that an application for patent should be filed, will take such rights as are specified in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of § 300.6, but this shall be without prejudice to acquiring the rights specified in subparagraph (1) of that paragraph should the Chairman so decide.

(c) Where an agency has determined to leave title to an invention with an employee under subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of § 300.6, the agency will, upon the filing of an application for patent and pending review of the determination by the Chairman, take the rights specified in that subparagraph without prejudice to the subsequent acquisition by the Government of the rights specified in subparagraph (1) of that paragraph should the Chairman so decide.

(d) In the event that patent protection is sought by an agency for an invention made by a Government employee, the agency shall, subject to considerations of national security, or public health, safety, or welfare, report to the Chairman, promptly upon the filing of an application for patent, the following information concerning the invention:

(1) Brief description of the invention;

(2) Name of the inventor and his employment status; and

(3) Serial number, title of invention, and date on which the application was filed.

(e) In the event that a Government agency determines that an application for patent will not be filed on an invention made under the circumstances specified in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of § 300.6, giving the United States the right to title thereto, the agency shall, subject to considerations of national security, or public health, safety, or welfare, report to the Chairman, promptly upon making such determination, the following information concerning the invention:

(1) Description of the invention in sufficient detail to permit a satisfactory review;

(2) Name of the inventor and his employment status; and

(3) Statement of agency determination and reasons therefor. The Chairman may, if he determines that the interest of the Government so requires and subject to considerations of national security, or public health, safety, or welfare, cause an application for patent to be filed or cause the invention to be fully disclosed by publication thereof: Provided, however, That no application for patent respecting any variety of plant invented by an employee of the Department of Agriculture shall be filed without the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

(f) Whenever a patent hereafter issues on an invention made by a Government employee, in respect to which the Government has any right, title, or interest, including a license, the Government agency concerned shall, promptly upon the issuance of the patent, furnish to the Chairman:

(1) An abstract of the invention;

(2) Name of the inventor and his employment status;

(3) A copy of the patent; and

(4) Statement of the nature and extent of the right, title, or interest of the Government in the invention.

§ 300.9 Report forms. The Chairman will prescribe the forms to be used by Government agencies in submitting the reports specified in this part.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[2d Rev. S. O. 856]

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

INCLUSION OF SATURDAYS IN COMPUTING DEMURRAGE ON ALL FREIGHT CARS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of April A. D. 1951.

It appearing, that railroad freight cars are being delayed unduly in loading and unloading; or while held for orders, surrender of order bill of lading, payment of freight charges, reconsignment, diversion, reshipment, inspection, or forwarding directions; or while held for any other purpose of consignee, consignor or owner, causing a shortage of equipment and impeding and diminishing the use, control, supply, movement, distribution, exchange, interchange, and return of such cars; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency requiring immediate action to promote National Defense and car service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people exists in all sections of the country: It is ordered, that:

§ 95.856 Saturdays to be included in computing demurrage on all freight cars. (a) Each common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall include all Saturdays when computing demurrage on all freight cars whether or not they are subject to monthly average agreement or any other regular settlement period.

(b) Application: The provisions of this section shall apply to intrastate, interstate and foreign commerce, including commerce with insular possessions and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

(c) Cars exempted: This section shall not apply to the free time on cars loaded with import, coastwise, or intercoastal traffic at ports, and to the free time on unloading box cars containing export, coastwise, or intercoastal traffic at ports.

(d) Regulations suspended; announcement required: The operation of all rules and regulations insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this section is hereby suspended and each railroad subject to this section, or its agent, shall publish, file, and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, in substantial accordance with the provisions of Rule 9 (k) of the Commission's Tariff Circular No. 20 (§ 141.9 (k) of this chapter), announcing such suspension.

(e) Effective date: This section shall become effective at 7:00 a. m., May 1, 1951.

(f) Expiration date: This section shall expire at 7:00 a. m., October 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled by order of this Commission.

It is further ordered, that this order vacates and supersedes Service Order No. 856, and that a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon the railroad regulatory body of each State and upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and all other carriers by railroad; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 12, 24 Stat. 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 12. Interprets or applies secs. 1, 15, 24 Stat. 379, as amended, 384, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 1, 15)

By the Commission, Division 3.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

ALASKA

NOTICE OF OPENING OF LAND TO ENTRY UNDER THE SMALL TRACT ACT

APRIL 27, 1951.

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management under § 2.21 of Order No. 427, approved by the Secretary of the Interior, August 16, 1950 (15 F. R. 5641), the following described public lands embracing approximately 7 acres as well as other public lands in the Fairbanks, Alaska land district were classified by Alaska Small Tract Classification Order 39 dated April 16, 1951 as chiefly valuable for lease and sale for cabin sites under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609, 43 U. S. C., sec. 682a), as amended, to become effective for filing under the act after due notice by publication:

FAIRBANKS MERIDIAN

T. 5 S., R. 4 E.

Sec. 22: Lot 1, that portion which would be if described in terms of normal subdivision: $E\frac{1}{2}SE\frac{1}{4}NE\frac{1}{4}NE\frac{1}{4}$ north of Salcha River, and $SE\frac{1}{4}NE\frac{1}{4}$ north of Salcha River (embraced in petition for classification and offer to lease under the Small Tract Act, of Robert B. Haight, Fairbanks 08439, containing approximately 2 acres).

Sec. 23: $W\frac{1}{2}NW\frac{1}{4}NW\frac{1}{4}NW\frac{1}{4}$ (embraced in the petition for classification and offer to lease of Edgar S. Philco Fairbanks 08438, containing 5 acres).

Small Tract Classification Order No. 39, being made pursuant to the petitions for classification above listed, the applicants are accorded a preference right to a lease for a cabin site, a type for which the land subject thereunder has been classified (43 CFR 257.6). The Manager may proceed to process the applications in accordance with the regulations (43 CFR, Part 257) and the procedure contained in Part 181 of the Bureau of Land Management Manual, Order No. 323, August 3, 1948. As for the remainder of the lands classified by Alaska Small Tract Classification Order No. 39 this notice of opening of land to entry shall not change the status of the land or permit the leasing thereof under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, cited above until it is so provided by a notice to be given by publication subject to the preference right of veterans of World War II accorded by the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747, 43 U. S. C. sec. 279), and other qualified persons entitled to credit for service under the said act.

Lessees under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, will be required within the life of the lease to construct upon the leased land to the satisfaction of the appropriate officer of the Bureau of Land Management authorized to sign the lease, improvements which, in the circumstances are presentable, substantial and appropriate for the use which the lease is issued before favorable consideration will be given for purchase of the tract. The leases will be for a period of three years at an annual rental of $5.00. Applicants will be required to pay in advance a filing fee of $10.00 and the annual rental charge for the entire lease period. The leases will contain an option to purchase the tract at or after the date the approved supplemental plat of survey is officially filed but not sooner than one year from the effective date of the leases provided the terms and conditions of the leases have been met.

All wells and sewage disposal facilities will be located not less than 75 feet from the exterior boundaries of the tract described in the lease: Provided, however, That if said tract abuts upon any stream, lake or other body of fresh water no well or sewage disposal facility shall be placed within 100 feet of such water. If the tract described in the lease is located upon sloping lands, lessee should locate any well or sewage disposal facility according to the recommendation of the Alaska Territorial Department of Health.

The leases will be made subject to rights-of-way for road purposes and public utilities, of 33 feet in width on each side of the tract or as shown on the classification maps on file in the Land Office, Fairbanks, Alaska. Such rights-of-way may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, or Territory, county or municipality, or by any agency thereof. The rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to the issuance of the patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Office of Defense Mobilization

[Defense Mobilization Order 9]

DMO–9—ESTABLISHING A LABOR-MANAGEMENT MANPOWER POLICY COMMITTEE

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Executive Order 10193 and in order to assist the Director of Defense Mobilization to improve the coordination and effectiveness of federal policies and programs relating to manpower, it is hereby ordered:

1. There is hereby established in the Office of Defense Mobilization a Labor-Management Manpower Policy Committee consisting of representatives to be selected from the fields of labor, and industrial and agricultural management.

2. The members of the Committee shall be appointed by the Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

3. The Labor-Management Manpower Policy Committee will have referred to it all questions of policy relative to the mobilization, training and maximum utilization of manpower in the defense program, and shall make recommendations as to the action which in its judgment should be taken by the Office of Defense Mobilization. The Committee may also, on its own motion, make recommendations on policies relating to the mobilization, training and maximum utilization of manpower in the defense program, which in its judgment should be considered by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

4. The Assistant to the Director of Defense Mobilization in charge of manpower problems shall serve as Co-Chairman of the Committee and shall be responsible for relating the work of this Committee to the duties and responsibilities of the Office of Defense Mobilization in the manpower field.

5. The Secretary of Labor may designate a Co-Chairman of this Committee who will share the duties and responsibilities of the Chairmanship, and who in addition shall be responsible for presenting to the Committee such matters as may be referred to it by the Secretary of Labor.

6. The Committee may make such rules relative to time and place of meeting, attendance at meetings and order of business as are in its judgment necessary for the successful carrying out of the duties and responsibilities assigned to it.

7. Defense Mobilization Orders No. 5 and No. 6, insofar as they are in conflict with this order, are hereby modified to conform to the provisions of this order.

8. This order shall take effect on May 3, 1951.

OFFICE OF DEFENSE MOBILIZATION,
C. E. WILSON,
Director.

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 27, 1951.

Take notice that on March 27, 1951, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal office at Kansas City, Missouri, filed an application in the alternative seeking (a) a disclaimer by the Commission of its jurisdiction or (b) a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing Applicant to sell and deliver natural gas to the Illinois Rural Electric Company (Illinois Rural).

The application states that no additional facilities will be required to be constructed by Applicant.

Applicant proposes to make deliveries to Illinois Rural through facilities of the City of Pittsfield, Illinois, for the use of which Illinois Rural has contracted with the City of Pittsfield. The contract between Applicant and Illinois Rural calls for the delivery of a maximum daily delivery of 1000 Mcf.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 16th day of May 1951.

EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 27, 1951.

Take notice that on April 19, 1951, El Paso Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation, of El Paso, Texas, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the installation of a meter station, at a point on its transmission line near Laveen, Maricopa County, Arizona. Applicant proposes by these facilities to sell and deliver natural gas to Central Arizona Light and Power Company, for resale and distribution in the town of Laveen, Arizona. This community has no gas utility service at present.

Through the proposed facility, Applicant expects to deliver a maximum of 16,400 Mcf per year with a daily maximum of about 164 Mcf of natural gas in the fifth year of operation. The cost of these facilities is estimated to be $3,100, which will be paid from general funds of Applicant.

Applicant requests that its application be heard under the shortened procedure pursuant to § 1.32 (b) of the rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 16th day of May 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

UNITED GAS IMPROVEMENT CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING ON FILED PLAN AND ORDER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of the United Gas Improvement Company, File Nos. 54-193, 54-140, 54-65; the United Gas Improvement Company and Subsidiary Companies, Respondents, File No. 59-6.

Notice is hereby given that the United Gas Improvement Company ("UGI"), a registered holding company, has filed an application for approval of a plan under section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 proposing action described as necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act. UGI owns all or a majority of the common stock of various gas utility companies and one electric and gas utility company operating in eastern Pennsylvania, and of two non-utility subsidiaries. In addition to its holdings in its utility subsidiaries, UGI owns the following securities representing minority interests in non-subsidiary companies:

Name of company	Security	Shares or amount
Central Illinois Light Co.	Common stock	Shs. 35,340
Consumers Power Co.	do	107,900
Delaware Power & Light Co.	do	37,355
Niagara Mohawk Power Corp.	Class A stock	748,000
Philadelphia Electric Co.	Common stock	217,970
Public Service Electric and Gas Co.	Preference common	36,801
Public Service Electric Gas Co.	Common stock	4,861
Delaware Coach Co.	Note	$1,000,000

All interested persons are referred to said plan, which is on file in the offices of the Commission, for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed, which may be summarized as follows:

(1) UGI purposes to offer to exchange, for each unit of five shares of its outstanding capital stock (par value $13.50), to the extent of but not exceeding 363,285 shares of such stock, the following securities:

3 shares of common stock of Philadelphia Electric Company.

2 shares of common stock of Consumers Power Company.

(2) The plan is voluntary and no stockholder is required to accept the offer. The offer will be open to stockholders for a period of fifteen days.

(3) Stockholders owning 1 to 4 shares of UGI stock, and therefore being unable to tender a 5-share unit, may tender their stock under the plan and will receive in exchange cash in lieu of stock on an equivalent basis. Such cash equivalent will be computed on the basis of the market value of the common stocks of Philadelphia Electric Company and Consumers Power Company (in their respective proportions under the plan) determined by the average daily closing sale prices on the New York Stock Exchange for the five-day period immediately following the termination of the period during which the offer will be open. The plan states that UGI proposes to sell on the New York Stock Exchange such shares of common stock of Philadelphia Electric Company and Consumers Power Company as may be necessary to provide the cash required for payment of such cash equivalent.

(4) Subject to the provisions in the preceding paragraph, the offer under the plan is open only to stockholders who tender UGI stock in units of five shares or multiples thereof. In the event that more than 363,285 shares of UGI stock are tendered for exchange, all shares tendered under the preceding paragraph for cash equivalents will be accepted, after which a pro rata selection of shares to be accepted for exchange shall be made from those shares tendered in units of five shares or multiples thereof, provided that UGI shall accept for exchange at least one unit of UGI stock from each stockholder who has tendered one or more such units. The plan provides that any factional units resulting from the pro rata selection shall be disregarded, subject to each stockholder receiving such one-unit minimum. No more than one tender will be accepted from any stockholder of record.

(5) Acceptance of the offer of exchange may be made only by delivery of certificates to UGI representing the number of UGI shares tendered, accompanied by the "Form of Acceptance" of the offer of exchange prescribed by UGI.

(6) The plan provides that deposits of UGI stock for exchange shall be irrevocable and not subject to withdrawal by stockholders. It provides that depositing stockholders will receive non-transferable deposit receipts evidencing their deposits. Depositing stockholders will be notified, within one week after the termination of the period during which the offer will be open, as to the number of their units which have been accepted for exchange.

(7) Under the plan, all shares of UGI stock which are accepted for exchange will be cancelled and retired at the earliest appropriate time, and in the interim will be held by UGI as treasury stock.

(8) UGI proposes to pay such fees, expenses and remuneration in connection with the plan and any amendments thereof as the Commission may duly approve, determine, award, allow or allocate.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act, before approving any plan submitted thereunder, to find after notice and opportunity for hearing that such plan, as submitted or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11, and is fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan; and it appearing appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that notice be given and a hearing be held with respect to said plan;

It appearing to the Commission that some of the evidence in the consolidated proceedings under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (e) of the act with respect to UGI and its subsidiaries (File Nos. 59-6, 54-65 and 54-140) is or may be relevant to the issues presented by the proposed plan and that the prior proceedings and the proceedings in respect of the proposed plan may involve common questions of law and fact and should be consolidated;

It is ordered, That the consolidated proceedings under File Nos. 59-6, 54-65 and 54-140, and the proceedings with respect to the instant application be, and the same hereby are, consolidated, without prejudice however, to the Commission's right, upon its own motion or the motion of any interested party, to strike such portions of the record of the prior proceedings as may be deemed irrelevant to the issues raised with respect to the pending plan.

It is further ordered, That a hearing under the applicable provisions of the act and the rules thereunder be held at 10:00 a. m., on the 15th day of May 1951, in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., in such room as may be designated on that day by the hearing room clerk in Room 193.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all the powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That notice of said hearing be given to UGI by mailing a copy of this notice and order by registered mail, and that notice be given to all other persons by a general release of the Commission distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases under the act, and by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That UGI shall give appropriate notice of this hearing, the form thereof to be submitted to this Commission prior to mailing, to all of the holders of its capital stock (insofar as the identity of such holders is known or available to UGI) at least fourteen days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed for such hearing.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in these proceedings shall notify the Commission on or before two days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed for such hearing, in the manner provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Public Utilities of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the proposed plan and that on the basis thereof the following matters and questions are presented for consideration by the Commission, without prejudice to the presentation of additional matters and questions upon further examination:

(1) Whether the proposed plan, as submitted or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act;

(2) Whether the proposed plan, as submitted or as modified, is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby;

(3) Whether the transactions proposed in said plan comply with all the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder;

(4) Whether, under the provisions of section 11 (b), an order should be entered by the Commission pursuant to the provisions of section 11 (b) (1), requiring further action by UGI to comply with the standards of such statute, by disposition of further securities or otherwise;

(5) Whether any approval of the proposed plan under section 11 (e) should be conditioned upon the taking of any other action to meet the standards of section 11 (b) of the act, either by dispositions or exchanges of additional securities or otherwise;

(6) Whether, and to what extent, the proposed plan should be modified or terms and conditions imposed in any other respects to ensure adequate protection of the public interest and the interests of investors and consumers and compliance with all applicable provisions of the act.

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at said hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be reserved to separate, either for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions or matters herein set forth or which may arise in these proceedings or to consolidate with these proceedings other filings or matters pertaining to the subject matter of these proceedings, and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

By the Commission.

CENTRAL VERMONT PUBLIC SERVICE CORP.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April A. D. 1951.

Central Vermont Public Service Corporation ("the Company"), an operating public utility and a direct subsidiary of New England Public Service Company, a registered holding company which in turn is a direct subsidiary of Northern New England Company, also a registered holding company, having filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("the act") and Rules U-23 and U-24 thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

The Company seeks authorization to issue or renew from time to time until September 30, 1951, or until the Company shall have received at least $2,000,000 from permanent financing, whichever shall first occur, unsecured notes (including notes now outstanding) with maturity of nine months or less, up to the maximum amount of $2,250,000, which amount is stated to be less than the maximum amount permitted by the Company's Articles of Association as amended. Said maximum amount exceeds the limitation of "5 percent of principal amount and par value of the other securities of such Company then outstanding," as specified in section 6 (b) (3) of the act.

The Company states that it now has outstanding $700,000 of unsecured indebtedness evidenced by notes bearing interest at the rate of 2¾ percent per annum, maturing 90 days from date of issue, $450,000 of which is payable to The First National Bank of Boston and the balance of $250,000 to Bankers Trust Company; that such borrowings were made for interim financing of the Company's construction program and other corporate purposes; that further borrowings will be required as herein proposed; and that the interest rate on such additional borrowings will probably not exceed 2¾ percent per annum, although the Company has no commitment as to interest rate.

The Company states that in case the interest rate of any of the notes should exceed 2¾ percent per annum, it will file an amendment to its application setting out the name of the bank or banks, the terms of the note and the rate of interest at least five days prior to the execution and delivery of said note; and the Company requests that, unless the Commission shall notify it to the contrary within said five-day period, the amendment shall become effective at the end of such period.

The Company further states the issue and sale of the proposed securities are solely for the purpose of financing the business of the Company; that such issue and sale are not subject to authorization by the Vermont Public Service Commission, the State Commission of the State in which the Company is organized and doing business, and that there are no expenses to the Company in connection therewith other than legal and other incidental expenses, estimated at not more than $500.

The Company requests that the order of the Commission herein be made effective upon issuance.

Said application having been filed on March 29, 1951, and amendments thereto having been filed on April 9 and April 16, 1951, and notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner required by Rule U-23, and no request for a hearing with respect thereto having been received within the period specified in said notice or otherwise, and the Commission not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that said application as amended satisfies the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations thereunder, that it is not necessary to impose any conditions other than as set forth below, and that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the application as amended be granted;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by Rule U-24, that the application as amended be and the same hereby is granted, effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

[File No. 70-2605]

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of the Columbia Gas System, Inc., the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, and the Ohio Fuel Gas Company; File No. 70-2605.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") by the Columbia Gas System, Inc. ("Columbia"), a registered holding company, and by the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company ("Manufacturers"), Natural Gas Company of West Virginia ("Natural Gas") and the Ohio Fuel Gas Company ("Ohio Fuel"), each of which is a gas utility subsidiary of Columbia. All of the outstanding securities of such subsidiaries, except 15 shares of common stock of Manufacturers, is owned by Columbia. The application-declaration designates sections 6, 7, 9, and 10 of the Act and Rules U-43 and U-44 promulgated thereunder as being applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 7, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t. or e. d. s. t., whichever is then currently in effect, request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time after said date, this application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street, N. W., Washington 25, D. C.

All interested persons are referred to said application-declaration which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Natural Gas proposes to sell to Manufacturers all of its property located in the states of West Virginia and Pennsylvania which is used or useful in the production, purchase, transportation and distribution of natural gas. Manufacturers serves some of the same communities served by such property and supplies most of the gas distributed thereby. The price to be paid by Manufacturers for such property will be the book value thereof at original cost, less book reserves for depreciation and depletion, computed to the date of consummation of the transaction.

Manufacturers also propose, in connection with the acquisition of such property, to acquire from Natural Gas the accounts receivable, inventory of materials and supplies and other current assets (except cash) applicable to such natural gas property, and to assume the accounts payable and other current liabilities applicable to such property. Such current assets will be paid for at the net book amount shown on the balance sheet of Natural Gas as of the consummation date of the transaction.

As of December 31, 1950, the purchase price for the foregoing assets is estimated by the Company at $3,723,095, including $2,959,674 for the net property and $763,421 for the net current assets. Manufacturers proposes to pay the purchase price by assuming $3,168,000 principal amount of 3¼ percent notes of Natural Gas presently outstanding (payable serially from 1951 to 1976), all of which are held by Columbia, and the balance of the purchase price in cash.

Ohio Fuel proposes to sell to Natural Gas certain natural gas production property located in eastern Ohio. Such property is connected to the transmission system of Natural Gas and the gas obtained therefrom is used by Natural Gas. The price proposed to be paid for such property is to be the net original cost to Ohio Fuel as of November 1, 1949, plus expenditures for construction work in progress, and less retirements made subsequent to that date. The applicants estimate that the purchase price for these properties will approximate $159,492 subject to certain possible adjustments. Such purchase price will be paid for in cash by Natural Gas.

The application-declaration states that the proposed acquisition by Manufacturers of property from Natural Gas has been approved by the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania and the Public Service Commission of West Virginia, that the proposed sale of such property by Natural Gas to Manufacturers has been approved by both of such Commissions, and that the assumption by Manufacturers of the Natural Gas notes has been approved by the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania. The application-declaration also states that the sale by Ohio Fuel of its property in Ohio to Natural Gas, and the acquisition thereof by Natural Gas, has been approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. The application-declaration also states that certain of the transactions are the subject of an application now pending before the Federal Power Commission.

The application-declaration requests that the order of the Commission be issued as soon as possible in order to permit the consummation of the proposed transaction.

By the Commission.

[File No. 70-2617]

F. M. CANTRELL ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of F. M. Cantrell, Rhoton P. Clift, and Phil B. Whitaker; File No. 70-2617.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed by F. M. Cantrell, Rhoton P. Clift and Phil B. Whitaker, pursuant to section 9 (a) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, requesting the Commission to approve the acquisition of shares of common stock of Chattanooga Gas Company ("Chattanooga"), a gas utility Company, by applicants who presently own, control, or hold with power to vote 5 percent or more of the voting securities of another public utility holding company.

All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

The application indicates that the applicants own or control with power to vote 5 percent or more of the voting securities of Tennessee Natural Gas Lines, Inc., a public utility holding company, which company has on file with the Commission an application for exemption as a holding company pursuant to section 5 (a) (1) of the act. Applicants, along with approximately 53 other individuals who for the most part reside in Chattanooga, Tennessee, propose to acquire 195,000 shares (30 percent) of the common stock of Chattanooga from Equitable Securities Corporation at a price of $3.30 per share. Of the 195,000 shares of common stock of Chattanooga, applicants propose to acquire an aggregate amount of 27,500 shares (which represents about 4.2 percent of the total outstanding common stock of Chattanooga) as follows: F. M. Cantrell, 7,500 shares; Rhoton P. Clift, 10,000 shares; and Phil B. Whitaker, 10,000 shares. The applicants state that such purchase is for investment only and that no brokerage fees or commissions will be paid, but that the expenses of Phil B. Whitaker and the Trustees' fee for delivering the stock will be paid by adding one cent per share to the purchase price of all the members of the group.

The application further indicates that, after the proposed acquisition is effected, the applicants, together with Thomas W. Goodloe, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chattanooga, will own in excess of 5 percent of the voting securities of Chattanooga and at least 5 percent of the voting securities of Tennessee Natural Gas Lines, Inc., of which Thomas W. Goodloe is Vice-President and a Director. In the event the Commission approves the proposed transaction, applicants state that they, together with Thomas W. Goodloe, will file an exemption statement on Form U-3A-2, pursuant to Rule U-2 under the act, for exemption as a holding company by reason of the stock interests held by such applicants and Thomas W. Goodloe in Tennessee Natural Gas Lines, Inc.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 7, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest, and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after May 7, 1951, said application as filed, or as amended, may be granted as provide in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

Washington, Friday, May 4, 1951

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2926

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK, 1951

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS preventable accidents continue to kill thousands and injure hundreds of thousands of farm residents each year; and

WHEREAS such accidents deprive the Nation of needed manpower and destroy property vital to our defense; and

WHEREAS a careless or imprudent act is a factor in almost every accident on the farm; and

WHEREAS experience has established the fact that observance of safe practices in working and living can greatly reduce these losses:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the Nation to observe the week commencing July 22, 1951, as National Farm Safety Week, and I urgently request each member of every farm family to adopt safe practices in every activity; to drive safely, work safely, and live safely. I also request all organizations and persons interested in farm life to join in a continuing program to encourage the idea that farming the safe way is farming the right way.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 2d day of May in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-one, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-fifth.

[SEAL]

HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

DEAN ACHESON,
Secretary of State.

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 15]

PART 61—SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER RULES

RADIO GROUND CHECK

The following interpretations are hereby adopted. The section of the regulations being implemented is repeated here in small type to assist the public in understanding how the Administrator's interpretations apply to it.

§ 61.231 Radio ground check. Before departure from the originating terminal on any scheduled air carrier operation, at least one check shall be made by the pilot of the radio system to be used in flight.

§ 61.231-1 Radio ground check (CAA interpretation which applies to § 61.231). The radio system is interpreted to include all radio devices, the use of which is contemplated in flight. The predeparture check should consist of an operational test and an inspection of the aircraft logbook. The operational test should be made by the pilot of all radio devices which can be tested satisfactorily without recourse to ground test apparatus or to the services of a ground technician. Radio equipment contemplated for use in flight which cannot be adequately checked by pilot conducted operational tests should have been tested for operational adequacy within the twenty-four hours immediately preceding the departure of an originating flight. Information concerning such tests should have been entered previously in the aircraft logbook by the technician conducting the tests. The pilot should inspect the logbook to verify that such tests have been conducted within the specified time and that subsequent entries do not indicate any increased malfunctioning of such equipment. Radio devices which fall within the category which cannot be given a satisfactory operational predeparture check by the pilot are considered to be marker beacon receivers, instrument landing

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 29]

CPR 29—PURE NICKEL SCRAP, MONEL METAL SCRAP, STAINLESS STEEL SCRAP, AND OTHER SCRAP MATERIALS CONTAINING NICKEL

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), and Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This ceiling price regulation establishes specific ceiling prices for pure nickel scrap, Monel metal scrap, stainless steel scrap, and other scrap materials containing nickel. Such scrap is used principally in the production of stainless steel and other iron and steel alloys and to some extent in the production of copper alloys. It thus finds its way into the manufacture of many products designed for civilian use, as well as into products essential to the national defense program.

Pure nickel scrap customarily sells for a price below the price of primary nickel, the discount depending on the level of demand for nickel in all forms. In periods of nickel shortage the differential is small, widening when demand declines. The price differentials between pure nickel scrap and other forms of nickel and nickel alloy scrap also customarily take into account both the value of the nickel contained and that of the other elements contained in the scrap, such as copper and cobalt, where these elements are significant.

The levels of nickel and nickel alloy scrap prices in the early part of 1950 did not reflect fully the value of the contained metals, after allowance for processing losses, because the demand for nickel had been depressed in 1949 and early 1950. The Korean incident had the effect of greatly increasing the demand for nickel and other products for use in the defense program, creating a world-wide nickel shortage. In consequence prices for nickel and nickel alloy scrap quickly rose to levels more closely approximating the net value of the metals contained in the scrap. When restrictions on the use of primary nickel were imposed by the National Production Authority on December 1, 1950, the demand for nickel scrap, which was not similarly controlled, began to reflect this abnormal situation. Nickel scrap prices in December 1950 and January 1951 reached levels equal to $2.00 per pound or more as compared with a primary nickel price of $0.505 per pound.

This abnormal price relationship, now reflected in ceiling prices under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, is causing serious distortion in the normal flow of nickel scrap and this, together with the high prices which may be charged by some sellers of such material, is causing hardship to industrial consumers. These circumstances, and the accompanying uncertainty and confusion among both buyers and sellers, constitute a serious threat to the continued output of needed civilian items and materials and equipment essential to our defense program.

The dollars-and-cents ceiling prices set forth in this regulation are designed to correct this situation by rolling back the ceiling prices for nickel and nickel alloy scrap to a level which reflects a price differential between primary nickel and scrap typical of a period of high demand, but which avoids recognition of abnormalities resulting from an unusually large increase in demand and restrictions on use of primary nickel. The new ceiling price for pure nickel scrap is $0.405 per pound f. o. b. shipping point; ceiling prices for other grades and types have been set at levels which, after consultation with various interests in the industry, appear to reflect customary differentials as between types and grades appropriate to a period of high demand for nickel. Provision is also made for customary quantity and preparation premiums.

It is believed that the new ceiling prices will permit consumers to purchase nickel scrap materials at a cost consistent with ceiling prices applicable to their finished products and will in large measure redirect the flow of nickel and nickel alloy scrap to normal channels from which they have been diverted by price abnormalities.

It is recognized that the level of ceiling prices for nickel scrap material established by this regulation has been determined by reference to prices for primary nickel which are well above the prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950. In the event that action is hereafter taken to change ceiling prices for primary nickel, the ceiling prices established by this regulation will be reconsidered to determine whether a change is necessary and appropriate in the light of the purposes and standards set forth in the Defense Production Act of 1950.

In order to avoid undue hardships, particularly in the case of dealers who have imported scrap, the regulation permits, for 30 days, deliveries at prices in excess of ceiling prices in order to carry out contracts entered into before the issuance of the regulation. Such deliveries may be made, however, only if the material so delivered was acquired by the seller at prices in excess of the ceiling and if before the issuance date it was received by, or was in transit to, the seller.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 29 are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable, the Director has given due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

In formulating Ceiling Price Regulation 29, the Director consulted with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable under existing circumstances, and has given full consideration to their recommendations.

The provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 29 and their effect upon business practices, cost practices, or means or aids to distribution in the industry have been considered. It is believed that no changes in such practices or methods have been effected. To the extent, however, that the provisions of the regulation may operate to compel changes in such practices or methods, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of the regulation and to effectuate the policies of the act.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 10 issued under sec. 704, Public Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Public Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Coverage of the regulation. (a) This regulation establishes ceiling prices for pure nickel scrap, Monel metal scrap, stainless steel scrap, and other scrap materials containing nickel except those set forth in paragraph (b) of this section. It applies to sales and deliveries by any person, including importers and exporters.

(b) This regulation does not apply to: (1) Brass mill nickel scrap which, for the purposes of this regulation, includes new cupro-nickel scrap containing a maximum of 31 percent nickel and new nickel-silver scrap which are the waste or by-product of any fabrication of new sheet, tube, rod, or other brass mill product; it also includes any unused sheet, tube, rod, or other brass mill product sold for remelting regardless of whether such products are in the form originally sold by a brass mill or have been further fabricated, processed, altered or assembled. Brass mill nickel scrap, however, does not include any of the material described in this subparagraph which is unsuitable for brass mill use and such unsuitable material is covered by this regulation;

(2) Nickel steel scrap, ceiling prices for which are set forth in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 5—Iron and Steel Scrap.

SEC. 2. Applicability, prohibitions and permission to carry out certain contracts—(a) Applicability. This regulation applies to the 48 States of the United States, its Territories and Possessions, and the District of Columbia.

(b) Prohibitions—(1) Against transactions above ceiling prices. Regardless of any contract or other obligation (except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section) on and after the effective date of this regulation no person shall sell or deliver any of the scrap covered by this regulation at a price in excess of the applicable ceiling price, and no person shall buy or receive, in the regular course of trade or business, any of such scrap at a price in excess of the applicable ceiling price. No person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing.

Lower prices than those set forth in the regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

(2) Against evasion. No person shall evade or circumvent the provisions of this regulation by direct or indirect methods in connection with the sale, purchase, delivery, or transfer of the scrap covered, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, or transportation charge or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by up-grading, tie in agreement, trade understanding, or otherwise.

(c) Permission to carry out certain contracts. Regardless of any other provisions of this regulation, until June 7, 1951, any person may deliver scrap covered by this regulation at a price in excess of the ceiling price established herein in order to carry out any contract entered into before May 3, 1951, if the material so delivered was purchased at a price in excess of the ceiling price established herein and if before May 3, 1951, it was received by, or was in transit to, the person making delivery.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices, f. o. b. point of shipment—(a) Pure nickel scrap, ferro-nickel-chrome-iron scrap, Monel metal scrap, and cupro-nickel alloy scrap. (1) The ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for each kind or grade of scrap material described in column 1 of Table A of this section, unprepared and unsuitable for industrial consumption, is the applicable price set forth in column 2 in Table A. Columns 1 and 2 also set forth premiums which may be charged for certain quantity shipments.

(2) The ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for converted scrap of each kind or grade described in column 1 in Table A is the applicable ceiling price set forth in column 2, plus the applicable converter's premium set forth in column 3. A converter's premium may be charged only by a person who is not the maker of the scrap and who does all of the following:

(i) Sells the scrap for which he proposes to charge a premium directly to the consumer thereof;

(ii) Determines, by chemical test or assay, the metal constituents of the scrap;

(iii) On the basis of such test or assay sorts, grades, treats, packages, or briquettes by power press, and otherwise prepares, the scrap so that it is suitable for direct industrial consumption; and

(iv) Guarantees the delivery of scrap in an agreed amount and analysis.

TABLE A

Column 1 Kind or grade of scrap material	Column 2 Price f. o. b. point of shipment	Column 3 Converter's premium
Pure nickel scrap: Containing 95% or more nickel and not more than 1.5% copper	40½¢ per pound of material	4¢ per pound of material.
Containing from 90% up to 95% nickel	40½¢ per pound of nickel contained; no payment for any other metals contained. 1½¢ per pound of material	4¢ per pound of material.
Premiums on shipments of 2,000 pounds or more of pure nickel scrap at one time.
Ferro-nickel-chrome-iron scrap containing from 20% up to 60% nickel	40½¢ per pound of nickel contained; 12¢ per pound of chrome contained; no payment for any other metals contained. 1½¢ per pound of material	2½¢ per pound of material.
Premium on shipments of 10,000 pounds or more of ferro-nickel-chrome-iron scrap.
Ferro-nickel-iron scrap containing from 14% up to 60% nickel and no chrome	40½¢ per pound of nickel contained; no payment for any other metals contained. 1½¢ per pound of material	2½¢ per pound of material.
Premium on shipments of 10,000 pounds or more of ferro-nickel-iron scrap at one time.
Edison Batteries A & B free of wood cases and lugs, containing a minimum of 18% nickel	5¢ per pound of material	2½¢ per pound of material.
Premium on shipments of 20,000 pounds or more of Edison Batteries A & B at one time.	1¢ per pound of material
Monel metal scrap, standard grades: New Monel metal clippings and rods	33¢ per pound of material	4¢ per pound of material.
Old and sel fed Monel metal sheet	28¢ per pound of material	4¢ per pound of material.
No. 1 grade, Monel castings and turnings, containing a minimum of 62% nickel, 30% copper, and not more than 3% free iron, clean and dry.	26¢ per pound of material	4¢ per pound of material.
K and S grades of new Monel metal scrap:
Clippings and rods	21¢ per pound of material	4¢ per pound of material.
Turnings	24¢ per pound of material	4¢ per pound of material.
Premium on shipments of 20,000 pounds or more of Monel metal scrap, standard and K and S grades, at one time.	3¢ per pound of material
Cupro-nickel alloy scrap, containing 60% or more of combined nickel and copper.	33¢ per pound of nickel contained; 15¢ per pound of copper contained; no payment for any other metals contained.	4¢ per pound of material.
Miscellaneous nickel copper or nickel copper iron scrap containing not less than 10% nickel:
40% to 49.99% nickel	32¢ per pound of nickel contained; no payment for any other metals contained.	4¢ per pound of material.
50% to 59.99% nickel	36¢ per pound of nickel contained; no payment for any other metals contained.	4¢ per pound of material.
60% and over nickel	40¢ per pound of nickel contained; no payment for any other metals contained.	4¢ per pound of material.
Premium on shipments of 20,000 pounds or more at one time of miscellaneous nickel copper or nickel copper iron scrap containing not less than 10% nickel.	1½¢ per pound of material
All grades of miscellaneous nickel copper or nickel copper iron scrap containing less than 40% nickel.	32¢ per pound of nickel contained; no payment for any other metals contained.	None.

(b) Stainless steel scrap. (1) The ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for each kind or grade of stainless steel scrap described in column 1 of Table B of this section is the applicable price set forth in column 2 or 3.

The prices set forth in Table B for chrome nickel grades apply to carload shipments whether made up of chrome nickel grades alone or of such grades and straight chrome grades. For less than carload shipments, a deduction of not less than $10.00 per gross ton shall be made from the prices for chrome nickel grades. The prices in Table B for straight chrome grades apply regardless of the quantity shipped.

In addition to the prices set forth in Table B, under certain circumstances a seller may charge the preparation premium set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, and a consumer may pay, and any person may receive, the brokerage commission set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

TABLE B

Column 1 Kind or grade of scrap material	Column 2 Sheets, clippings and solids	Column 3 Turnings and borings
Chrome nickel:
Containing 16%–20% chrome and 7%–10% nickel	$130 per gross ton	$110 per gross ton.
All other grades or types of chrome nickel stainless steel scrap containing over 20% chrome and 10% nickel.	40¢ per pound of nickel contained; 12¢ per pound of chrome contained; no payment for any other metals contained.	$21 per gross ton less than the applicable price for sheets, clippings and solids.
Straight chrome:
Containing 11%–14% chrome	$62.50 per gross ton	$52.50 per gross ton.
Containing 14%–18% chrome	$72.50 per gross ton	$62.50 per gross ton.
Containing over 18% chrome	$72.50 per gross ton plus 12¢ per pound for each pound of chrome in excess of 20%	$60.00 per gross ton less than the applicable maximum price for sheets, clippings and solids.

(2) Preparation premium. In addition to the ceiling prices set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, a premium not exceeding $12.00 per gross ton may be charged for stainless steel scrap which has been prepared in the form of power compressed bundles, bales or briquettes or cut to charging box size and which is suitable without further preparation for direct charging into an electric furnace.

(3) Brokerage commissions. In addition to the applicable ceiling prices set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, a consumer who employs an agent or broker to purchase stainless steel scrap for the consumer's use may pay the agent or broker, and such person may receive, a commission not exceeding the following:

(i) For chrome nickel grades. Five percent of the applicable ceiling price set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. This percentage shall not be applied to any brokerage commission.

(ii) For straight chrome grades. $5.00 per gross ton.

Such commission may be paid and received only if: The agent or broker guarantees the grade and delivery of a specific tonnage of scrap; the commission is shown as a separate item in invoicing and billing;

The agent or broker does not split or divide the commission with the seller, or sellers, of the scrap or the consumer and does not split or divide the commission with a sub-agent or sub-broker to an extent greater than 50 percent; and

The agent or broker does not hold a substantial financial interest in the seller, either directly or indirectly, and the seller does not hold such interest, either directly or indirectly, in the agent or broker.

SEC. 4. Ceiling delivered prices. When any of the scrap covered by this regulation is sold on a delivered basis, the ceiling price is the applicable ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, determined in accordance with section 3 of this regulation, plus whichever of the following charges is applicable:

(a) When delivery is made to the buyer's receiving point by way of a public (common or contract) carrier, an amount not in excess of the actual charge (including transportation taxes) made by such carrier;

(b) When delivery is made to the buyer's receiving point by a vehicle owned or controlled by the seller, or by private carrier not owned or controlled by the buyer, an amount, not in excess of the published and applicable motor common carrier charge (not including transportation taxes) for transporting the material being priced from the point of shipment to the buyer's receiving point.

SEC. 5. Definitions. When used in this regulation the term:

(a) "Carload" means the minimum quantity required to obtain the carload freight rate from the point of shipment to destination. In the case of stainless steel scrap a carload may be made up of both chrome nickel and straight chrome grades. If delivery is made by truck the minimum carload quantity shall be considered to be made if such quantity is delivered to the buyer within two calendar days exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays.

(b) "Consumer" includes any person whose business consists in whole or in part of smelting, refining, melting, or otherwise processing any of the scrap materials covered by this regulation into a form other than scrap or of having such scrap so processed for his account by another person under a toll or conversion agreement.

(c) "Exporter" means a person who sells scrap covered by this regulation which is transported from a point in the United States, its Territories, or Possessions to a point outside thereof.

(d) "Importer" means a person who first sells scrap covered by this regulation which is transported from a point outside of the United States, its Territories, or Possessions to a point inside thereof.

(e) "Maker" means any manufacturer, fabricator, or other person who, as an incident to, or in the course of, a manufacturing process, fabrication, or other industrial operation, produces any of the scrap materials covered by this regulation and any person who, as an incident to, or in the course of, his business demolishes or dismantles structures, machinery, vehicles or equipment, and thereby obtains scrap covered by this regulation.

(f) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or one of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(g) "Point of shipment" means the actual point at which the material is loaded for shipment to the buyer. In the case of scrap sold by an importer and delivered into the Continental United States, its Territories, or Possessions by water, the point of shipment shall be deemed to be the place within the limits of the Continental United States, its Territories and Possessions where the material is loaded on a conveyance for transportation directly to the buyer, and in the case of scrap sold by an importer and transported directly to the buyer overland from Mexico or Canada, it shall be deemed to be the freight station in the United States at or nearest to the point on the boundary between the United States and Mexico or Canada, as the case may be, at which the shipment first enters the United States.

(h) "Scrap" and "scrap materials" include all materials which are the waste or by-product of any kind of metal working, as well as materials which have been discarded on account of obsolescence, failure, or any other reason. It does not include articles which are useful in their existing state when sold and purchased for re-use in such state.

SEC. 6. Excise, sales and similar taxes. Any person may collect, in addition to the ceiling price established by this regulation, any excise, sales, or similar tax imposed upon him by reason of his sales of scrap covered by this regulation if he is not prohibited by law from making such collection and if he states separately from his selling price the amount of the tax collected.

SEC. 7. Record-keeping requirements. Every person selling or purchasing any scrap covered by this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Director of Price Stabilization, for a period of two years, complete and accurate records of: (a) Every purchase and sale of such scrap, showing the name and address of the person by or to whom each such sale was made; the date thereof; the price paid or received; the taxes, if any, collected or paid; the preparation premium or brokerage commission, if any, paid or received; the quantity, in pounds or tons, of each kind or grade sold or purchased; and the point of shipment and disposition of freight charges; and (b) the quantity, in pounds or tons, of such scrap materials on hand and on order as of the close of each month.

SEC. 8. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell, or buy, scrap covered by this regulation at a price which can be increased up to the ceiling price in effect at the time of delivery, but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Stabilization, deliver or agree to deliver, or receive or agree to receive, such scrap at a price to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Stabilization after delivery. Such authorization may be given only if a request for a change in the applicable ceiling price is pending and it will not interfere with the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950. The authorization will be given by order and may be given by the Director or any official authorized to act upon the pending request for a change in ceiling price.

SEC. 9. Enforcement. Persons violating any of the provisions of this regulation shall be subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 10. Amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation No. 1.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective May 8, 1951.

NOTE: All record-keeping and reporting provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 24]

GCPR, SR 24—PUERTO RICAN AND VIRGIN ISLAND BLACKSTRAP MOLASSES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738) this Supplementary Regulation 24 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The commodity designated as blackstrap molasses is the liquid residue of the manufacture of sugar from sugarcane. This commodity contains varying quantities of sucrose, glucose, fructose, various reducing sugars, minerals, water and other materials. The molasses of Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands is customarily sold on a basis of percentage content of 52 percent total sugars. The combined Puerto Rican and Virgin Island 1950–1951 production of blackstrap molasses is a quantity in excess of 60,000,000 gallons.

The chief commercial uses of this commodity are as a raw material used in the production of industrial alcohol and as an ingredient in mixed livestock feeds.

The outbreak of hostilities in Korea precipitated a rapid and sustained advance in the market price of blackstrap molasses. This advance was further reinforced recently by reason of the historical season of short supply during the months of December and January.

The season of production of blackstrap molasses in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands runs approximately from the latter part of the month of January through the month of July. Customarily this molasses is sold under contracts entered into during the late fall and winter months of the preceding year. The current crop of Puerto Rican and Virgin Island molasses was sold in this manner so that a very substantial portion of the crop is subject to contracts entered into between September 1950 and January 26, 1951. Further, because of this seasonal production factor Puerto Rican and Virgin Island processors, almost without exception, neither delivered nor offered for delivery any molasses during the base period so as to establish a ceiling price for this commodity under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Deliveries were made in a few isolated instances at widely divergent prices. The quantities involved were of very small volume and the deliveries were, for the most part, made to local purchasers for local consumption. To establish ceiling prices for all processors under General Ceiling Price Regulation, Section 6, by using the sales figures of these few deliveries would produce an inequitable result. Because of the foregoing facts this regulation departs from the general policy of the Office of Price Stabilization in that it permits written contracts for the sale of blackstrap molasses entered into prior to January 26, 1951, to be carried out according to their terms.

The ceiling price for the sale of Puerto Rican and Virgin Island blackstrap molasses is established at 22 cents per gallon f. o. b. steamer at Puerto Rico port of shipment. This figure approximates the weighted average of the contract prices used in the contracts mentioned above. This price also is comparable to the price at which most molasses from Cuba is being shipped to this country for sale for feed purposes.

It appears that the ceiling prices of many distributors on the mainland are out of line with the price established by this regulation. However, data available to the Director is not adequate at this time to establish dollar and cents ceiling prices for blackstrap molasses at all levels of distribution. Cost data must be assembled and consultations will be held with representatives of the industry at an early date with the view of establishing ceiling prices to conform generally to the ceiling price established herein.

The Director has concluded that the action taken by this regulation is the most practical course at his disposal at the present time for clarifying the existing confusion with respect to ceiling prices in these areas of production so that the flow of molasses from such areas will not be seriously disrupted. This action will not result in any increase in the prices to consumers and is the first step in establishing a uniform and more reasonable price for blackstrap molasses.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR OF PRICE STABILIZATION

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of Supplementary Regulation 24 to General Ceiling Price Regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this regulation does.
2. Applicability and exemptions.
3. Ceiling prices for sellers of Puerto Rican and Virgin Island blackstrap molasses.
4. Records.
5. Definitions.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 5 issued under Section 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply title IV, Public Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, September 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. The purpose of this regulation is to establish ceiling prices for sales by Puerto Rican and Virgin Island processors of blackstrap molasses produced in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The regulation allows written contracts for the sale of such molasses legally entered into by these processors prior to January 26, 1951, to be carried out at the contract price.

SEC. 2. Applicability and exemptions—(a) Applicability. The provisions of this regulation apply to sales by Puerto Rican and Virgin Island processors of blackstrap molasses produced in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

(b) Exemptions. If, prior to January 26, 1951, you legally entered into a written contract for the sale of blackstrap molasses for which ceiling prices are provided by this regulation, you may carry out the contract according to its terms.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices for sales by Puerto Rican and Virgin Island processors of blackstrap molasses produced in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Your ceiling price for the sale of blackstrap molasses shall be as follows:

(a) Blackstrap molasses in bulk. F. O. B. steamer at Puerto Rican ports of shipment, 52 per cent sugar content: Twenty-two cents per gallon.

(1) Differential for delivery at processor's mill. If you sell the molasses described in this regulation for delivery at your mill, your ceiling price will be the price set forth in (a) of this section less the cost of delivering the molasses free on board a steamer at the nearest Puerto Rican port suitable for the marine export shipment of blackstrap molasses.

(2) Differential for delivery in containers. If you sell the molasses in drums you may add two cents per gallon to the price otherwise authorized under this regulation.

(3) Differential for variations in percentage content of total sugars. The customary differential for variations in percentage content of total sugars above or below 52 per cent shall continue to apply.

SEC. 4. Records. If you are a seller of Puerto Rican or Virgin Island blackstrap molasses for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation or a seller to whom the exemption provisions of section 2 (b) of this regulation apply, then you must preserve and keep available for examination by the Director of Price Stabilization, while the Defense Production Act of 1950 remains in force and for a period of two years thereafter, accurate records of each sale. These records must include:

(a) The date of the sale.
(b) The name of the purchaser.
(c) The price received.
(d) The quantity sold.

SEC. 5. Definitions. (a) Terms used in this regulation shall, unless defined herein, or unless the context requires a different meaning, have the same meaning as when used in the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(b) The term "blackstrap molasses" as used in this regulation means the final by-product liquid incident to the manufacture of sugar after the extraction of all commercially available sucrose.

Effective date: This supplementary regulation shall become effective May 8, 1951.

NOTE: The record keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

TITLE 25—INDIANS

Chapter I—Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior

Subchapter I—Irrigation Projects; Operation and Maintenance

PART 130—OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

FLATHEAD INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA, CHARGES

APRIL 30, 1951.

On March 29, 1951, there was published in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER notice of intention to modify §§ 130.24, 130.26 and 130.28 prescribing annual operation and maintenance assessments applicable to lands within the jurisdiction of three irrigation districts on the Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana. Interested persons were thereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the proposed amendments by submitting their views and data, in writing, within 30 days from the date of publication of the notice. No written comments, data or arguments having been received within the prescribed period, the said sections are hereby amended as follows and are effective for the calendar year 1952 and thereafter until further notice:

Charges applicable to all irrigable lands of the Flathead Indian Irrigation Project that are included in the irrigation district organizations and are subject to the jurisdiction of the three irrigation districts.

§ 130.24 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Flathead Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on May 12, 1928, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated February 27, 1929; March 28, 1934; August 26, 1936, and April 5, 1950, notice is hereby given of intention to fix an assessment of $165,400 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Flathead Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 67,924 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

§ 130.26 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Mission Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on March 7, 1931, approved by the Secretary of the Interior on April 21, 1931, as supplemented by later contracts June 2, 1934, and August 26, 1936, notice is hereby given of intention to fix an assessment of $31,500 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Mission Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 12,736 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians, and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

§ 130.28 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Jocko Valley Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana on November 13, 1934, approved by the Secretary of the Interior on February 26, 1935, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated August 26, 1936 and April 18, 1950, notice is hereby given of an intention to fix an assessment of $14,200 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Jocko Valley Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 5,579 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians, and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

ignate. The Defense Electric Power Administrator may direct that program materials be devoted to certain major plant additions in the REA program which are determined by DEPA to be especially important to the defense program.

2. To adjust or prescribe minor requirements quotas under Section 35 of NPA Order M-50 within such percentage limitations, applied to the electrification borrowers collectively, as are designated from time to time for application to all electric utilities.

3. Subject to such standards and procedures as the Defense Electric Power Administrator may prescribe from time to time, to grant adjustments or exceptions in respect to MRO quotas and inventory restrictions, and to receive and to require records and reports.

This delegation shall take effect on July 1, 1951.

C. B. McMANUS,
Administrator,
Defense Electric Power Administration.

MEMBER LINES OF ATLANTIC AND GULF-INDONESIA CONFERENCE ET AL.

NOTICE OF AGREEMENTS FILED WITH BOARD FOR APPROVAL

Notice is hereby given that the following described agreements have been filed with the Board for approval pursuant to section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended.

Agreement No. 125-2 provides that the membership of Ellerman & Bucknall Steamship Co., Limited, in the Atlantic and Gulf-Indonesia Conference will be replaced by the four carriers comprising the Ellerman & Bucknall Associated Lines joint service as a single party only with one vote pursuant to the provisions of their joint service agreement (No. 7788).

Agreement No. 5870-3 provides that the membership of Ellerman & Bucknall Steamship Co., Limited, in the Atlantic and Gulf-Straits Settlements, Malay States and Siam Conference will be replaced by the four carriers comprising the Ellerman & Bucknall Associated Lines joint service as a single party only with one vote pursuant to the provisions of their joint service agreement (No. 7788).

Agreement No. 7548-1 modifies the approved American Mediterranean Levant Line joint service agreement (No. 7548) between Ellerman's Wilson Line Ltd. and Ellerman and Bucknall Steamship Co., Ltd., by substituting for the latter company the four carriers comprising the Ellerman and Bucknall Associated Lines.

Agreement No. 7623-2, between the five carriers comprising the Knutsen Line joint service, modifies their approved joint service agreement (No. 7623) by extending the geographical scope thereof to include the trade between U. S. and Canadian Pacific Coast ports and ports in the Far East. Agreement 7623 as presently in effect covers the trades between U. S. and Canadian Pacific Coast ports and ports in Central America, Canal Zone, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, United Kingdom and Ireland; between Scandinavian and Continental European ports and ports in Venezuela, Colombia, Caribbean Sea, Canal Zone, Ecuador, Peru and Chile; and between Mediterranean ports and ports in Venezuela, Colombia, Caribbean Sea, West Indies, Canal Zone, Central America, Ecuador, Peru and Chile.

Agreement No. 8090-1, between the member lines of the Mediterranean-North Pacific Coast Freight Conference, modifies the approved basic agreement of said conference (No. 8090) to provide that each member shall deposit with the Conference Secretary a Bank Guarantee of $5,000 in U. S. Currency, or its equivalent in Italian Lire to guarantee the faithful performance of the agreement and to meet any possible arbitration award. The basic agreement presently provides that such deposit shall be in U. S. Currency only.

Interested parties may inspect these agreements and obtain copies thereof at the Regulation Office, Federal Maritime Board, Washington, D. C., and may submit, within 20 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, written statements with reference to any of the agreements and their position as to approval, disapproval, or modification together with request for hearing should such hearing be desired.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

Dated: May 1, 1951.

Office of Price Stabilization

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 7]

FORMFIT CO.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, The Formfit Company has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The following ceiling prices are established for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of brassieres, girdles, and combinations manufactured by The Formfit Company, 400 South Peoria Street, Chicago 7, Illinois, having the brand names "Formfit", "Life", and "Skippies" and described in the manufacturer's application dated March 2, 1951. 2. (a) Brassieres having the item numbers 441AA and 441A in the manufacturer's printed price list dated December 4, 1950, so long as they have a manufacturer's selling price of $10.50 per dozen shall have a ceiling price at retail of $1.50 per unit.

(b) Girdles and combinations having the item numbers 724 and 828X in the manufacturer's printed price list dated December 4, 1950, so long as they have a manufacturer's selling price of $27.00 per dozen shall have a ceiling price at retail of $3.95 per unit.

(c) Girdles and combinations having the item numbers 875, 876, 975, 976, 979, 1573, 1574, 1673, 2573, 2673, 4570, 4770 in the manufacturer's printed price list dated December 4, 1950, so long as they have a manufacturer's selling price of $78.00 per dozen shall have a ceiling price at retail of $12.50 per unit.

(d) Girdles and combinations having the item numbers 1783, 2571, 2671, 2771, 3580, 4672, 5570 B, 5570 C, 5770 B in the manufacturer's printed price list dated December 4, 1950, so long as they have a manufacturer's selling price of $84.00 per dozen shall have a ceiling price at retail of $13.50 per unit.

3. The retail ceiling price of an article stated in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

4. On and after June 2, 1951, The Formfit Company must mark each article listed in paragraphs 1, 2a, 2b, 2c, and 2d of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7

On and after July 2, 1951 no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in paragraphs 1, 2a, 2b, 2c, and 2d of this special order or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, The Formfit Company must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

5. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraphs 1, 2a, 2b, 2c, and 2d of this special order. Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

6. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

7. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

8. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

9. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 4, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

(i) Girls' swimwear having the item numbers 6882, 6884, and 6886 in the manufacturer's printed spring 1951 price list, so long as they have a manufacturer's selling price of $54.00 per dozen, shall have a selling price at retail of $7.95 per unit.

3. The retail ceiling price of an article stated in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

4. On and after June 2, 1951, Catalina Inc., must mark each article listed in paragraphs 1, 2 (a), 2 (b), 2 (c), 2 (d), 2 (e), 2 (f), 2 (g), 2 (h), and 2 (i) of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag, or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

On and after July 2, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in paragraphs 1, 2 (a), 2 (b), 2 (c), 2 (d), 2 (e), 2 (f), 2 (g), 2 (h), and 2 (i) of this special order or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Catalina Inc., must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

5. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraphs 1, 2 (a), 2 (b), 2 (c), 2 (d), 2 (e), 2 (f), 2 (g), 2 (h), and 2 (i) of this special order. Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

6. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

7. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

8. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

9. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 4, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1671]

WASHINGTON GAS LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 27, 1951.

Take notice that Washington Gas Light Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the United States with its principal office at 11th and H Streets NW., Washington 1, D. C., filed on April 17, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of a standby gas storage plant.

The proposed gas storage plant is to be constructed north of the Town of Rockville, Maryland. It will have a capacity of 100,000 Mcf of gas consisting of 70,000 Mcf of natural gas stored at a pressure of 2,240 pounds and 30,000 Mcf of propane-air gas. It is contemplated that construction of the plant will be completed during the spring of 1952, and that part of the storage facilities will be available for use January 1, 1952.

The purpose of the proposed construction is to augment Applicant's present standby facilities for distribution of gas in the metropolitan area of Washington, D. C. The additional gas required for the proposed gas storage plant will be purchased under Applicant's contract dated May 1, 1937, as amended, with its supplier, Atlantic Seaboard Corporation.

It is estimated that the cost of the proposed construction will be $7,100,000, including the cost of land. The plant is to be operated as an integral part of the gas storage and transmission system of Washington Gas Light Company and its subsidiaries. The cost of operation and maintenance of the proposed storage plant will constitute part of the cost of the transmission and storage of gas for the system.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 17th day of May 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File Nos. 54-177, 59-91]

PENNSYLVANIA GAS & ELECTRIC CORP. ET AL.

ORDER APPROVING PROPOSED TRANSACTIONS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation, North Penn Gas Company, Allegany Gas Company, Dempseytown Gas Company, Alum Rock Gas Company, Penn-Western Service Corporation (Applicants), File No. 54-177; Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation and its subsidiary companies (Respondents), File No. 59-91.

Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation ("Penn Corp"), a registered holding company, and five of its subsidiary companies, North Penn Gas Company ("North Penn"), Allegany Gas Company ("Allegany"), Alum Rock Gas Company ("Alum Rock"), Dempseytown Gas Company ("Dempseytown") and Penn-Western Service Corporation ("Penn-Western") having filed a plan for compliance with the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act"), and a portion of said plan, namely Step A of Part II thereof, containing proposals with respect to, among other things: (a) The merger of Allegany, Alum Rock and Dempseytown into North Penn, which will become the surviving company, and (b) the issuance by North Penn to Penn Corp of 450,000 shares of new capital stock of North Penn, of $5 par value per share, in exchange for the 100,000 shares of presently outstanding capital stock of North Penn, all of which is owned by Penn Corp; and

The proceedings relating to such plan having been consolidated for the purpose of hearing with proceedings heretofore instituted by the Commission under sections 11 (b) (1), 11 (b) (2), 15 (a), 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the act with respect to Penn Corp and its subsidiaries; and

Penn Corp having requested that the Commission enter an order finding that the transactions proposed in Step A of Part II of the plan are necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act, and having requested that the Commission's order approving the transactions, shall contain recitals conforming to the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, including section 1808 (f) and Supplement R thereof and shall become effective forthwith; and

Further public hearings having been held in the consolidated proceedings after appropriate notice, and the Commission having issued its findings and opinion herein:

It is ordered, That the transactions proposed in the aforesaid Step A of Part II of the plan, as amended, are hereby approved and permitted to be consummated, forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, the reservation of jurisdiction over all fees and expenses which have been or may be incurred in connection with Step A of Part II of the plan, the continuance of our prior reservation of jurisdiction over fees and expenses in connection with Part I of the plan, and to the further condition that jurisdiction be, and it hereby is, reserved to: (a) Decide all questions pertaining to the retainability of Penn-Western under common control with other assets of the present Penn Corp holding company system; (b) decide all questions relating to Step B of Part II of Penn Corp's plan of liquidation and dissolution and such supplemental plans as may be filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, and (c) enter such other and further orders and take such further action as the Commission may deem necessary or appropriate to secure compliance by Penn Corp and its subsidiaries with the provisions of the act and the rules, regulations, and orders thereunder.

It is further ordered and recited, That all steps and transactions embraced within Step A of Part II of the plan, and all issuances, transfers, exchanges and conveyances made in accordance with the terms and provisions thereof, including but not limited to those referred to below, are necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which Penn Corp, North Penn, Allegany, Dempseytown and Alum Rock are members and are necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, 49 Stat. 820 (U. S. C. Title 15, section 79 K (b)) within the meaning of Supplement R and sections 371 (f) and 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code and are hereby authorized, approved and directed:

1. The domestication, under the applicable laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, of Dempseytown, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of West Virginia.

2. The merger and consolidation, in accordance with applicable law, of Alum Rock, Dempseytown and Allegany into North Penn and the transfer and conveyance to North Penn of all the assets of Alum Rock, Dempseytown and Allegany and the assumption by North Penn of all of the debts and liabilities of Alum Rock, Dempseytown and Allegany. The assets of Alum Rock, Dempseytown and Allegany to be transferred and conveyed to North Penn, in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph numbered 2 include, among other things, 222 shares of capital stock of Penn-Western, 2,639 shares of capital stock of Crystal City Gas Company and the real and personal property of Alum Rock, Dempseytown and Allegany located or situated in the following Counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania: Potter, Lycoming, McKean, Tioga, Clinton, Bradford, Venango, Cameron, Clarion and Forest, and in Steuben and Chemung Counties in the State of New York and all other property of Alum Rock, Dempseytown and Allegany, real or personal, wheresoever situated or located.

3. The cancellation and retirement of 1,000 shares of the presently outstanding capital stock of Dempseytown held by North Penn.

4. The cancellation and retirement of 42,805 shares of the presently outstanding capital stock of Allegany held by North Penn.

5. The cancellation and retirement of 5,000 shares of the presently outstanding capital stock of Alum Rock, 4,000 shares of which are held by North Penn and 1,000 shares of which are held in the treasury of Alum Rock.

6. The issuance to Penn Corp by North Penn of 450,000 shares of capital stock having a par value of $5 per share, pursuant to Step A of Part II of the plan, in exchange for the presently outstanding 100,000 shares of capital stock without par value of North Penn held by Penn Corp and the surrender of such presently outstanding capital stock of North Penn by Penn Corp for cancellation.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be effective immediately upon issuance.

By the Commission.

CONSOLIDATED NATURAL GAS CO.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of April A. D. 1951.

Consolidated Natural Gas Company ("Consolidated"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration, and an amendment thereto, pursuant to section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") with respect to the issue and sale by Consolidated, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, of $50,000,000 principal amount of debentures due 1976, the proceeds of which will be added to the general funds of Consolidated and, along with other cash resources, will be used for the purchase, from time to time, of securities of its operating subsidiaries which will use the funds so secured for the construction of additional plant facilities and for other corporate purposes; and

Said declaration having been duly filed on March 30, 1951, and the last amendment thereto having been filed on April 24, 1951 and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said declaration that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and rules thereunder are satisfied and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration be permitted to become effective,

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, that the said declaration, as amended, be, and hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and subject to the further condition that the proposed sale of debentures shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding shall have been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order shall have been entered by this Commission in the light of the record so completed, which order may contain such further terms and conditions as may then be deemed appropriate.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and hereby is, reserved over the payment of all fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transaction.

By the Commission.

TAYLOR INVESTMENT CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of Taylor Investment Co., William H. Taylor, John M. Taylor, Ellis P. Taylor, John M. Taylor, Jr., File No. 70-2608.

Notice is hereby given that a joint application has been filed pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by Taylor Investment Co. ("Investment"), which is neither a registered holding company nor a subsidiary of a registered holding company, and William H. Taylor, John M. Taylor, and John M. Taylor, Jr., officers and stockholders of Investment, and Ellis P. Taylor, a stockholder of that company, regarding the proposed acquisition by Investment of shares of common stock of Allied Gas Company ("Allied"), a public utility company. The applicants designate sections 9 (a) (2) and 10 of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 15, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application which he proposes to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time thereafter, such application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

Investment proposes to purchase from William H. Taylor, and William H. Taylor proposes to sell to Investment, 4,036 shares (representing 28.7 percent of the outstanding shares) of the common stock of Allied. The consideration to be paid for said shares of stock is cash in the amount of $72,648 based upon the market price ($18 per share) of said shares of stock at the date of the agreement of sale between said parties. Upon such acquisition Investment will become a holding company within the meaning of section 2 (a) (7) (A) of the act.

Allied, an Illinois corporation, is a gas utility company engaged in the distribution at retail of propane-air gas in the communities of Paxton, Gibson City, and Rantoul, Illinois, and distributes manufactured gas at retail in Rochelle, Illinois. It serves a total of approximately 3,020 customers. For the calendar year 1950 Allied's gross operating revenues amounted to $225,283; as of December 31, 1950, the net utility plant of Allied amounted to $465,803, and as of that date, the company's capital stock consisted of common stock, of the par value of $10 per share, of which a total of 14,072 shares was outstanding. Applicants, William H. Taylor, John M. Taylor, and John M. Taylor, Jr., own, respectively, 4,036 shares, 400 shares and 223 shares or 28.7, 2.8, and 1.6 percent, respectively, of the outstanding shares of the capital stock of Allied.

The filing indicates that Investment, a Delaware corporation, is primarily engaged in the business of investing and trading in securities of various companies; that its outstanding securities consist of 128,554 shares of 4 percent preferred stock of the par value of $10 per share and 338,300 shares of common stock of the par value of $1 per share; and that of each class of said shares of stock, William H. Taylor, John M. Taylor, Ellis P. Taylor (Mrs. John M. Taylor) and John M. Taylor, Jr., own, respectively, approximately 27 percent, 26 percent, 16 percent, and 12 percent. Investment and applicants, William H. Taylor, John M. Taylor, Ellis P. Taylor and John M. Taylor, Jr., represent that they do not, individually nor in the aggregate, directly or indirectly own, control or hold with power to vote as much as 5 percent of the outstanding voting securities of any public utility company or public utility holding company other than Allied.

Investment states that it proposes to acquire said shares of stock for investment purposes and not for resale, and applicants represent that they will give notice to the Commission of any substantial acquisition of additional utility assets either through direct purchase of assets or through the acquisition of stock.

Investment has filed a Statement pursuant to Rule U-9 claiming exemption from the provisions of the act for itself and for all of its subsidiaries, including Allied.

Applicants request that the Commission's order issue herein at the earliest possible date.

By the Commission.

NEW ENGLAND ELECTRIC SYSTEM ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of New England Electric System, Beverly Gas and Electric Company, Gloucester Electric Company, Haverhill Electric Company, Malden Electric Company, Northern Berkshire Gas Company, Quincy Electric Light and Power Company, Southern Berkshire Power & Electric Company, Suburban Gas and Electric Company, Weymouth Light and Power Company, File No. 70-2610.

Notice is hereby given that New England Electric System ("NEES"), a registered holding company, and its above named subsidiary companies, hereinafter individually referred to as "Beverly", "Gloucester", "Haverhill", "Malden", "Northern Berkshire", "Quincy", "Southern Berkshire", "Suburban Gas" and "Weymouth" and collectively referred to as "the borrowing companies", have filed applications-declarations, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. The filing has designated sections 7, 10 and 12 (f) of the act and Rules U-23, U-42 (b) (2), U-43 (a), and U-45 (b) (3) promulgated thereunder as being applicable to the transactions described therein.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 10, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter stating the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time after said date, said applications-declarations, as filed or as amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 and Rule U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed to: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C.

All interested persons are referred to said applications-declarations, which are on file in the offices of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

The borrowing companies propose to issue to NEES, from time to time but not later than June 30, 1951, promissory notes in an aggregate principal amount, up to but not exceeding, $4,700,000. Said notes will mature April 1, 1952, and bear interest at the prime interest rate charged by banks for such notes at the time said notes are issued. It is stated in the applications-declarations that if the prime interest rate for any of such notes is in excess of 2¾ percent at the time any of such notes is proposed to be issued, NEES and the particular borrowing company or companies will file an amendment to the applications-declarations setting forth therein the amount involved and the proposed rate of interest at least five days prior to the proposed issue date of any such note. It is further requested that unless the Commission notifies NEES or the particular company or companies to the contrary within said five day period, NEES and such company or companies will consider the amendment effective, without further order, at the end of such period.

The following table shows the aggregate face amount of promissory notes proposed to be issued by each of the borrowing companies and the application by such companies of the proceeds therefrom during the period April 1, 1951, to June 30, 1951:

TABLE

Company	Aggregate amount of notes proposed to be issued to NEES	Application of proceeds
		Notes payable to banks	Notes and advances payable to NEES	For construction
Beverly	$1,270,000	$550,000	$575,000	$145,000
Gloucester	455,000	380,000		75,000
Haverhill	300,000	300,000
Malden	600,000	450,000		150,000
Northern Berkshire	310,000	200,000		110,000
Quincy	280,000	195,000	35,000	50,000
Southern Berkshire	775,000	400,000	375,000
Suburban Gas	580,000	320,000		260,000
Weymouth	150,000	150,000
Total	4,700,000	2,945,000	985,000	790,000

Malden's and Quincy's presently outstanding notes payable to banks are due on or before May 1, 1951. The applications-declarations state that in the event the Commission's order has not been issued on or prior to the maturity date of said notes, NEES will make non-interest bearing advances to said companies which advances will be repaid from the proceeds of the notes Malden and Quincy propose to issue.

The applications-declarations state that incidental services in connection with the proposed transactions will be performed at cost by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $100 for NEES and each of the borrowing companies, or the aggregate sum of $1,000.

The applications-declarations further state that no state commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

NEES and the borrowing companies request that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

By the Commission.

GEORGIA POWER CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of April 1951.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), by Georgia Power Company ("Georgia Power"), a public utility subsidiary of the Southern Company, a registered holding company. Applicant has designated section 6 (b) of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 17, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after May 17, 1951, said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file in the offices of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, and which are summarized as follows:

Georgia Power proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 under the act, $20,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, ____ percent series, due 1981, to be issued under and secured by Georgia Power's present indenture dated as of March 1, 1941, as heretofore supplemented, and to be supplemented by an indenture to be dated as of June 1, 1951. The interest rate and the price to the company for the bonds will be determined by competitive bidding, except that the invitation for bids will specify that the price to the company shall not be less than 100 percent nor more than 102.75 percent of the principal amount. The proceeds of the sale of the bonds will be utilized in connection with Georgia Power's construction program which the company estimates will require expenditures aggregating $99,220,000 during the three year period 1951 through 1953. The company also estimates that in order to finance its construction program it will be necessary to raise from the sale of additional securities the sum of $24,000,000 in 1952 and $15,000,000 in 1953.

The proposed issuance and sale of bonds has been submitted to the Georgia Public Service Commission for its approval.

By the Commission.

[Vesting Order 17682]

MINNIE N. CARLIN ET AL.

In re: Funds owned by and claims of Minnie N. Carlin and others.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the persons whose names and last known addresses are listed in Exhibit A, set forth below and by reference made a part hereof, are residents of Germany and nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That the property described as follows:

a. All funds presently on deposit with the Bureau of Accounts, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., maintained in a special deposit account entitled "Secretary of the Treasury, Proceeds of Withheld Foreign Checks", and representing the proceeds of withheld checks, drawn for the payment of Social Security benefits to the persons whose names and Social Security numbers are listed on the aforesaid Exhibit A, and in the amounts as of January 1, 1947, as set forth opposite each such name, and any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the aforesaid funds, and

b. Any and all rights and claims to Social Security benefits under the Social Security Act approved August 14, 1935, as amended (Pub. Law 271, 74th Cong., 1st Sess., 49 Stat. 620) to January 1, 1947 of the persons whose names are listed in the aforesaid Exhibit A, and further identified by the Social Security number, listed opposite each such name, together with any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the same, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

3. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 1 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany),

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on April 18, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

ASSOCIATIE CASSA

In re: Accounts maintained in the name of Associatie Cassa, Amsterdam, The Netherlands, and owned by persons whose names are unknown. F-49-1338.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: All property, rights and interests in the accounts identified in Exhibit A set forth below and by reference made a part hereof, together with

(a) Any other property, rights and interests which represent accumulations or accruals to, changes in form of, or substitutions for, any of the property, rights and interests in said identified accounts on October 2, 1950, and which are now held in other accounts being maintained as blocked or otherwise subject to the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or regulations, rulings, orders or instructions issued thereunder, and

(b) Any and all rights in, to and under any securities (including, without limitation, bonds, coupons, mortgage participation certificates, shares of stock, scrip and warrants) and any and all declared and unpaid dividends on any shares of stock in any of said accounts,

excepting from the foregoing, however, all lawful liens and setoffs of the respective institutions in the United States with whom the aforesaid accounts are maintained,

is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan.

to reorganize their farming or stock-raising operations and, therefore, Disaster loans will not be made for that purpose. In connection with some Disaster loans involving the repair or replacement of buildings, other real estate improvements, and orchard and other specialized operations, technical assistance may be required in order to make sound loans and to insure the wise use of funds advanced. In such cases applicants will utilize the services provided by Federal and state agencies and, when feasible, the services of qualified persons or firms, in obtaining needed technical assistance. The Farmers Home Administration will assist applicants in obtaining such services from other sources, and may provide minimum technical services available within its organization to applicants whenever personnel is available.

§ 381.3 Designation of disaster areas. Disaster loans will be made only in those areas designated by the Secretary of Agriculture. A disaster area may consist of a State or county or any combination of States, counties, or subdivisions thereof in which a disaster has reduced substantially agricultural production and created a need for emergency credit not otherwise available. When a subsequent disaster occurs within a previously designated area and the period during which original applications for loans may be accepted in the area has not expired and it will not be necessary to extend that period because of the later disaster, the Administrator may authorize the making of Disaster loans in connection with the later disaster upon a finding that the need for agricultural credit continues to exist, or has increased, by reason of the subsequent disaster.

§ 381.4 Eligibility and certifications. Any farm owner, farm operator, or stockman (including a partnership or corporation engaged primarily in farming or stock-raising operations) who has suffered substantial damage as a result of a production disaster is eligible to receive a Disaster loan, provided he is unable to obtain from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies or other responsible sources the credit necessary for continuing his farming operations. Before a loan is made, the County Committee and loan approving official will determine from the facts in the case that the applicant (1) has suffered production losses substantially greater than those which may be expected from normal fluctuations in yields or (2) if in a storm damaged area, has suffered losses in property which will reduce substantially future production on the farm.

(a) Subsequent loans. A subsequent loan to an applicant already indebted for a Disaster loan may be made when necessary to protect the Government's investment in Disaster loans previously made, provided there is reasonable assurance that the subsequent loan and the outstanding balances on the previous loans will be repaid.

(b) Loans to paid-up borrowers. Additional loans may be made to applicants in designated areas who have repaid their previous Disaster loans, provided the need for additional assistance is related directly to the disaster and such applicants are unable to obtain from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources the credit necessary to continue their farming operations.

(c) Certification by applicant. Before a Disaster loan may be made the applicant must certify on Form FHA–202, "Application and Certifications for Disaster Loan," that he has suffered substantial damage as a result of a production disaster and that he is unable to obtain from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources the credit necessary for continuing his farming operations.

(d) Certification by County Committee. Before a loan may be made the County Committee must certify on Form FHA–202 that, to the best of its knowledge and belief:

(1) The applicant has suffered substantial damage as a result of a production disaster,

(2) The applicant is unable to obtain from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources the credit necessary for continuing his farming operations, and

(3) The applicant has the necessary experience and ability and will honestly endeavor to carry out the undertakings and obligations required of him under the loan.

§ 381.5 Loan purposes. (a) Disaster loans may be made for any of the agricultural purposes indicated in this section. However, the exact purposes for which loan funds will be advanced in a given area will be determined by the type of farming carried on in that area, the nature of the disaster which occurred, and the nature and extent of losses suffered by applicants for loans. Simultaneously with the designation of a disaster area the State Director will be notified of the specific purposes for which Disaster loans may be made in that area. Such purposes may include:

(1) The purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, and insecticides, and for other essential farm and home operating expenses.

(2) The purchase of livestock.

(3) The purchase of orchard and citrus nursery stock.

(4) The purchase of farm and home equipment, or the repair thereof.

(5) The replacement or repair of buildings, fences, drainage and irrigation systems on individual farms.

(6) The leveling of land and the clearing of debris therefrom necessary as a direct result of the disaster.

(7) The payment of current taxes on real and personal property, water charges, and current interest on real estate obligations where it appears that anticipated income will support such obligations.

(8) Other agricultural purposes not inconsistent with the limitations set forth in connection with any of the above purposes.

(9) Expenses incident to the making of such loans.

(b) Disaster loans will not be made for the purpose of refinancing existing debts, either secured or unsecured, or for the payment of cash rent.

§ 381.6 Rates and terms. Disaster loans will bear interest from the date of the advance at the rate of 3 percent per annum on the unpaid principal balance. Such loans will be scheduled for repayment in accordance with the following policies:

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section advances made for annual operating expenses, including advances for the production or purchase of feed for livestock, and the purchase of livestock to be fed for the market, will be scheduled for repayment when the principal income from the year's operations normally will be received or when the principal income from the sale of the livestock or livestock products normally can be expected.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, advances for purposes other than annual operating expenses will be scheduled for repayment over the minimum period of time consistent with the anticipated ability of the borrower to repay, but in no instance may the repayment schedule extend beyond the useful life of the principal items of security property. Ordinarily, such advances will not be scheduled for repayment over a period in excess of five years from the date of the advances, if secured by liens on chattel property, or ten years from such date if secured by liens on real estate. In exceptional cases, however, when justified because of the nature of the disaster and the extent of losses suffered by the applicant, a longer repayment period (not to exceed ten years if the loans are secured by liens on chattel property, or twenty years if secured by liens on real estate) may be allowed upon the prior approval of the Administrator.

(c) Advances will be scheduled for repayment in at least annual installments, except that any part or, if necessary, all of the first installment on advances made for purposes other than annual operating expenses may be scheduled for repayment at the end of the second crop year following the date of the loan when the borrower's anticipated expenses will be abnormally high because of the disaster and the balance available for debt payment is not sufficient to enable the borrower to make payments on his Disaster loan at the end of the first crop year. If the borrower's anticipated income will be abnormally low because of the disaster, such as in a fruit producing area where little or no fruit production is expected the first year, deferments on advances for annual operating expenses may be granted for the same period and under the same circumstances. If unusual conditions exist with respect to any individual case, a longer period of deferment may be authorized upon the prior approval of the Administrator.

§ 381.7 Security requirements. Except as provided in this section, each Disaster loan will be secured for the full amount of the loan by the following:

(a) A first lien on all livestock, farm machinery and farm equipment purchased with proceeds of the loan.

(b) A first lien on all crops growing or to be grown. However, if the Farmers Home Administration will make no advance in connection with a particular crop which is under lien as security for advances made by another creditor, the best lien obtainable will be taken on such crop. When a loan is made to a tenant, the landlord will be required to subordinate all his interest in crops being financed with proceeds of the loan unless the Government's lien on crops will be junior only to the landlord's claim for reasonable and customary share rent for the current year as provided for in a written lease, or as evidenced by memorandum on Form FHA–32, "Subordination Agreement," or similar form. State Directors are authorized to waive the requirement that the landlord subordinate his interest with respect to borrowers paying cash or standing rent when (1) a loan is being made to an applicant already indebted on a Disaster loan which was obtained prior to January 1, 1951, and amortized over more than one year and (2) the borrower will operate the same farm under the same lease.

(c) A first lien on livestock to be fed for market and productive livestock, other than that used for subsistence purposes, if loans are made to purchase or produce feed for such livestock. However, if it is not possible to obtain a first lien on such livestock, a junior lien will be acceptable provided the applicant has sufficient equity in the property to justify such action, nondisturbance agreements are obtained from prior lien holders, and prior lien holders agree in writing to a division of the income to be received from the livestock which will permit the borrower to repay his Disaster loan in accordance with the policies expressed herein.

(d) The best lien obtainable on as much of the livestock, farm machinery and farm equipment of security value owned by the applicant at the time the loan is made as the loan approving official determines necessary to secure reasonably the Disaster loan.

(e) An assignment of sufficient proceeds from the sale of agricultural products to assure repayment in accordance with the policies prescribed herein, if the loan is to be repaid from proceeds which can be assigned. In addition, assignments of crop insurance policies, if carried by the borrower, will be required.

(f) Disaster loans made primarily for real estate repairs and improvements, including the rehabilitation of orchards and groves, which require longer periods for repayment than would be prudent to encumber livestock and equipment will be secured only by real estate liens, provided the applicants have sufficient equity in their real estate to secure adequately their Disaster loans. Liens on real estate, in addition to liens on crops and chattel property, will be taken in other cases if required by the loan approving official because of the amount of the loan, the financial condition of the applicant, or other peculiar circumstances, and the applicant has sufficient equity in his real estate to justify such action. When a Disaster loan is to be secured by a lien on real estate, the applicant will be required to provide, at his expense, a certificate of title prepared by a title company or a local practicing attorney covering a period of time determined by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor as being sufficient to provide satisfactory evidence of title, a mortgagee's title insurance or an abstract of title. If a certificate of title is to be accepted and the real estate to be offered as security is subject to a lien securing an advance made by an established real estate lending institution, or has been transferred recently by the Federal Government, the certificate need cover only the period of time since the date of the encumbrance or transfer, but it must show all later encumbrances against the property. Any evidence of title presented pursuant to this section will be examined by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor to determine adequacy of title and to prepare loan closing instructions.

(g) Before a Disaster loan is closed, the applicant will be required to obtain nondisturbance agreements from creditors holding liens on workstock and equipment essential to the farming operations to be financed with proceeds of the loan, provided the debts owed such creditors are delinquent or payments will fall due before the next harvest. In such cases the creditors will agree for the applicant to retain the property involved over a sufficient period of time to protect the interest of the Government. Similar agreements will be obtained from other creditors whose debts are likely to jeopardize the applicant's farming operations.

§ 381.8 Advances resulting in permanent real estate improvements. Loans made primarily for the purpose of making permanent improvements to real estate will be made generally to the owner of the real estate. In exceptional cases, however, a loan for this purpose may be made to a tenant when adequate chattel security can be obtained, but in such cases the landlord will be required to compensate the tenant for the improvements to the real estate.

§ 381.9 Loan forms and routines—(a) Application and certifications. Applications for Disaster loans and certifications by the County Committee in connection therewith will be obtained on Form FHA–202. Applications may be made at the County Office of the Farmers Home Administration.

(b) Promissory note. The applicant will be required to execute Form FHA–203, "Promissory Note," for the full amount of each advance.

(c) Loan voucher. The applicant will be required to execute Form FHA–5, "Loan Voucher," for the total amount of each advance as indicated in Form FHA–203.

(d) Security instruments. (1) When chattels are to be taken as security for a loan, the applicant will execute Form FHA–30.—, "Crop and Chattel Mortgage."

(2) When real estate is to be taken as security for a loan, the applicant will execute Form FHA–76.—, "Real Estate Mortgage."

(3) Form FHA–80, "Assignment of Proceeds from the Sale of Agricultural Products," or other form approved by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor will be used to obtain an assignment of proceeds from the sale of farm, dairy, or other agricultural products.

(4) When necessary to meet the requirements of § 381.7, the applicant will be required to obtain a subordination agreement from his landlord and other creditors. Form FHA–32, or similar form approved by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor, will be used for this purpose. When the landlord is required to subordinate his interest in the borrower's crops for rent and Form FHA–32 is used for this purpose, the words "except that this subordination does not apply to the landlord's(s') interest in the crops for rent for the crop year for which the loan is made," will be deleted.

(e) Lien searches. Applicants are required to obtain and pay the cost of lien searches. The cost of lien searches may be paid from the proceeds of loan checks when necessary.

(f) Advances. Disaster loan dockets may be submited to the Area Finance Office for (1) immediate disbursement of the full amount of the loan, or (2) as limited herein, disbursement in more than one advance, but not to exceed four advances. Disaster loans may be disbursed in more than one advance only if (i) the circumstances in an individual case necessitate such action to protect properly the interest of the Government and the borrower, and (ii) all of the advances for operating expenses are related to the same crop year, but in no event will any of the future payment vouchers be scheduled for payment more than twelve months from the date of the first advance.

§ 381.10 Loan approval authority. (a) Subject to the policies and procedures contained in §§ 381.2 to 381.9, State Directors are authorized to approve disaster loans in amounts which will not cause the outstanding principal balance on such loans to exceed $12,000 for any one borrower. State Directors may redelegate to State Field Representatives and County Supervisors authority to approve Disaster loans subject to the following limitations:

(1) State Field Representatives may be authorized to approve Disaster loans in amounts which will not cause the outstanding principal balance on such loans to exceed $5,000 for any one borrower.

(2) County Supervisors may be authorized to approve Disaster loans in amounts which will not cause the outstanding principal balance on such loans to exceed $2,500 for any one borrower.

(b) Other indebtedness owed the Farmers Home Administration (Farm Ownership, Farm Housing, Water Facilities, or other Operating loans) by an applicant for a Disaster loan will not affect the monetary limitations established in this section for the approval of Disaster loans or the applicant's eligibility therefor. However, such debts will be considered along with other indebtedness owed by the applicant in determining soundness of the loan and repayment ability.

§ 381.11 Servicing Disaster loans—(a) General. Farmers Home Administration regulations, except those contained in Part 364 and § 371.5 (b) of this chapter, containing the policies and procedures for the servicing of other operating loans under the Production and Subsistence Loan program will be followed in the servicing of Disaster loans.

(b) Release of security other than real estate. (1) County Supervisors and Disaster Loan Supervisors are authorized to release mortgaged property, and proceeds derived from the sale thereof, when the security property has been sold for its fair market value; provided the proceeds are used for one or more of the following purposes:

(i) To make payments on debts due the Farmers Home Administration.

(ii) To pay necessary harvesting and marketing expenses not provided for in the loan or otherwise, in connection with crops, livestock, and similar items mortgaged to the Farmers Home Administration which are sold in the usual course of operating the farm business. The amount released for this purpose, however, will be limited to a fixed amount per unit of sale (box, ton, hundredweight, and so forth) as agreed upon between the County Supervisor or Disaster Loan Supervisor and the borrower at the time the loan was made or prior to the harvest season, and the borrower should be required to account for the proceeds of each sale before a further release for the above purposes is approved.

(iii) To make payments on debts owed to other creditors and to make capital purchases, as agreed upon when the loan was made, and to meet farm and home operating expenses for the succeeding crop year; provided (a) amounts due the Farmers Home Administration and creditors with liens superior to those in favor of the Farmers Home Administration have been paid the amounts due for the year, and (b) the income released for these purposes is normal farm income.

(iv) To pay necessary farm and home operating expenses and other essential expenses which must be met prior to receipt of the primary income for the year's operations; provided no loan has been made for the current year; a complete budget for the year, including such expenses, has been developed and approved by the State Director or his authorized delegatee; and, the income released is normal farm income.

(v) To purchase or acquire through exchange property more suitable to the borrower's needs, subject to the following conditions:

(a) The new property must be made subject to a lien in favor of the Farmers Home Administration by the execution of a new security instrument (or by the operation of the "replacement" or "after-acquired property" clauses, in accordance with State Instructions). The new property, together with any additional proceeds that may be applied on the indebtedness, will have security value to the Farmers Home Administration at least equal to that of the lien formerly held by the Farmers Home Administration on the old property. However, when the newly acquired property is not valued at more than $25, a new security instrument covering such property will not be required.

(b) When a new security instrument is necessary, it will be taken at the time of acquisition of the new property. However, in individual cases, the County Supervisor or Disaster Loan Supervisor may delay the taking of a new security instrument not to exceed one year or until a new mortgage is necessary for other reasons, whichever is earlier, when (1) adequate security (the present value, as determined by a conservative appraisal, of the borrower's property remaining under mortgage to the Farmers Home Administration is substantially greater than the amount of the debt) will continue to exist, and (2) the borrower's account due the Farmers Home Administration is current during such period of delay.

(c) If the property being acquired is valued in excess of $2,500, the transaction must be reviewed by the State Field Representative prior to approval of the release.

(vi) To make payments to other creditors having liens on the property sold which are superior to the liens of the Farmers Home Administration, provided the property is sold for its fair market value and any amount remaining after payments are made to the other creditors is applied on the borrower's indebtedness with the Farmers Home Administration, or is released under the conditions and for one or more of the purposes specified herein.

(2) State Directors are authorized to release mortgaged property, and proceeds derived from the sale thereof, for one or more of the following purposes:

(i) To pay from normal farm income necessary farm and home operating expenses which must be met before the due date of the next unpaid installment on the loan and prior to receipt of the primary income for the year's operations, provided such expenses were included in the budget developed in connection with the loan, and the loan was made with the understanding that funds would be released for this purpose. This would be appropriate, for example, where a borrower's primary income will be from the sale of lambs, and the loan was made with the understanding that wool income would be released to meet farm and home operating expenses which had to be paid prior to the due date of the next unpaid installment on the loan and prior to the time the lamb income would be received.

(ii) To pay costs (not normally recurring) that are directly necessary for the preservation of the remaining security property.

(c) Other releases. In truck or specialty crop areas when prior approval has been obtained from the National Office authorizing the financing of successive or later maturing crops through the use of crop income rather than by advancing additional loan funds, the Administrator or his authorized delegatee will issue appropriate authorizations to be exercised in such areas for the release of crops for such purposes.

SUBPART B—SERVICING LOANS MADE UNDER ITEM "LOANS TO FARMERS, PROPERTY DAMAGE", IN PUBLIC LAW 71, 81ST CONGRESS

§ 381.21 General. Under the First Deficiency Appropriation Act, 1949, funds originally appropriated by the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act of 1948 for making loans through June 30, 1949, were made available until June 30, 1950, and were used for making loans to farmers whose property was destroyed as a result of floods, storms or other natural calamity occurring during the 1948 and 1949 calendar years.

§ 381.22 Loan servicing procedures. Farmers Home Administration regulations, except those contained in Part 364 of this chapter, containing the policies and procedures for the servicing of other operating loans under the Production and Subsistence Loan program, will be followed in the servicing of property damage loans.

[SEAL] DILLARD B. LASSETER,
Administrator,
Farmers Home Administration.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter III—Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Department of Agriculture

PART 354—OVERTIME SERVICES RELATING TO IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

OVERTIME, NIGHT, AND HOLIDAY INSPECTION AND QUARANTINE ACTIVITIES AT BORDER, COASTAL, AND AIR PORTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by Public Law 735, 81st Congress, approved August 28, 1950, to pay employees of the Department performing inspection, certification or quarantine services relating to imports into and exports from the United States for all overtime, night, or holiday work performed by them and to accept reimbursement for such payment from persons for whom such work is performed, Chapter III of Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding thereto the following Part 354.

§ 354.1 Overtime work at border ports, seaports, and airports. Any person, firm, or corporation having ownership, custody or control of plants, plant products, or other commodities or articles subject to inspection, certification, or quarantine under this chapter, and who requires the services of an employee of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine on a holiday or at any other time outside the regular tour of duty of such employee, shall sufficiently in advance of the period of overtime request the Bureau inspector in charge to furnish inspection, quarantine, or certification service during such overtime period and shall pay the Secretary of Agriculture therefor at the rate of $2.40 per man hour for service so furnished, provided that a minimum charge of $2.40 shall be made for any such service rendered. It will be administratively determined from time to time which days constitute holidays.

The rates prescribed herein shall also be applicable to overtime work heretofore furnished pursuant to this statute under any contract or other arrangement.

The purpose of this amendment is to establish a uniform hourly rate of payment for all overtime services furnished in accordance with the act of August 28, 1950. Determination of the costs of such overtime inspection depends entirely upon facts within the knowledge of the Department of Agriculture. It is to the benefit of those who require such overtime service, as well as the public generally, that this amendment be made effective at the earliest practicable date. Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238), it is found upon good cause that notice and public procedure on this amendment are impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making this amendment effective less than 30 days after publication.

(Pub. Law 735, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. The foregoing amendment shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 1st day of May 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Chapter IV—Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, Department of Agriculture

[Amdt. 3]

PART 421—DRY EDIBLE BEAN CROP INSURANCE

SUBPART—REGULATIONS FOR 1950 AND SUCCEEDING CROP YEARS

The above-identified regulations, as amended (14 F. R. 7684, 15 F. R. 2485, 9034), are hereby amended with respect to bean crops insured for the 1951 and succeeding crop years as follows:

1. Section 1 of the policy shown in § 421.32, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

1. Classes of beans insured. The class(es) of beans insured shall be shown on the county actuarial table. The class(es) of beans insured the first crop year of the contract shall be those designated by the Corporation for that year and shall be shown on the county actuarial table on file in the county office at the time the application for insurance is submitted. For each subsequent crop year, the class(es) shall be shown on the county actuarial table on file in the county office at least 15 days prior to the applicable cancellation date preceding the crop year for which such class(es) apply.

2. Section 7 of the policy shown in § 421.32 is amended to read as follows:

7. Predetermined price for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, the value of the production shall be determined on the basis of the applicable price(s) which the Corporation shall establish annually. The price(s) for the first crop year of the contract shall be those established by the Corporation for that year and shall be shown on the county actuarial table on file in the county office at the time the application for insurance is submitted. For each subsequent crop year, the price(s) shall be shown on the county actuarial table on file in the county office at least 15 days prior to the applicable cancellation date preceding the crop year for which such price(s) apply.

In any year, any production which is of such poor quality that it will not meet any U. S. Grade or pick shown on the county actuarial table shall be valued at the lesser of the lowest price shown on the county actuarial table for that class of beans or the local market value of such beans as determined by the Corporation. Any appraised production shall be valued on the basis of the Corporation's estimate of the applicable grade or pick.

3. Section 17 of the policy shown in § 421.32 is amended by changing paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the planted acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) by the applicable coverage per acre, (2) subtracting therefrom the value (based on the applicable price(s) set forth on the county actuarial table) of the total production, and (3) multiplying the remainder by the insured interest in such unit. However, if the planted acreage on the insurance unit exceeds the insured acreage on the insurance unit, or if the premium computed for the planted acreage is more than the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the insured acreage to the planted acreage except that the Corporation may elect to make the reduction on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for an insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the following production schedule.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Acreage classification	Total production (cwt.—Net weight)
1. Acreage on which beans are threshed.	Actual production of beans threshed.
2. Acreage released by the Corporation and not pulled or cut.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of cwt. determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if the acreage were threshed, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the applicable base price shown on the county actuarial table.
3. Acreage released by the Corporation after pulling or cutting but before threshing.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of cwt. determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if the acreage were threshed and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the applicable base price shown on the county actuarial table.
4. Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the cwt. equivalent of the coverage per acre for threshed acreage determined on the basis of the applicable price shown on the county actuarial table.
5. Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of cwt. by which production for such acreage has been reduced, but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the cwt. equivalent of the coverage per acre for threshed acreage determined on the basis of the applicable price shown on the county actuarial table, minus any threshed beans.
6. Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of cwt. by which production has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

Adopted by the Board of Directors on April 25, 1951.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Orange Reg. 197]

PART 933—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, AND TANGERINES GROWN IN FLORIDA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 933.524 Orange Regulation 197—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 33, as amended (7 CFR Part 933), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines grown in the State of Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than May 7, 1951. Shipments of oranges, grown in the State of Florida, have been subject to regulation by grades and sizes, pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order, since September 11, 1950, and will so continue until May 7, 1951; the recommendation and supporting information for continued regulation subsequent to May 6 was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Growers Administrative Committee on May 1; such meeting was held to consider recommendations for regulation, after giving due notice of such meeting, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including the effective time hereof, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter set forth so as to provide for the continued regulation of the handling of oranges; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., May 7, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 4, 1951, no handler shall ship:

(i) Any oranges, except Temple oranges, grown in Regulation Area I which grade U. S. No. 2 Bright, U. S. No. 2, U. S. No. 2 Russet, U. S. No. 3, or lower than U. S. No. 3 grade;

(ii) Any oranges, except Temple oranges, grown in Regulation Area II which grade U. S. No. 2 Russet, U. S. No. 3, or lower than U. S. No. 3 grade;

(iii) Any oranges, except Temple oranges, grown in Regulation Area II which grade U. S. No. 2 or U. S. No. 2 Bright unless such oranges (a) are in the same container with oranges which grade at least U. S. No. 1 Russet and (b) are not in excess of 50 percent, by count, of the number of all oranges in such container;

(iv) Any oranges, except Temple oranges, grown in Regulation Area I or Regulation Area II which are of a size larger than a size that will pack 126 oranges, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack in a standard nailed box; or

(v) Any Temple oranges, grown in Regulation Area I or Regulation Area II, which grade U. S. No. 2 Russet, U. S. No. 3, or lower than U. S. No. 3 grade.

(2) As used in this section, the terms "handler," "ship," "Regulation Area I," "Regulation Area II," and "Growers Administrative Committee" shall each have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; and the terms "U. S. No. 1 Russet," "U. S. No. 2 Bright," "U. S. No. 2," "U. S. No. 2 Russet," "U. S. No. 3," standard pack," "container," and "standard nailed box" shall each have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Oranges (7 CFR 51.192).

[Grapefruit Reg. 141]

PART 933—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, AND TANGERINES GROWN IN FLORIDA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 933.525 Grapefruit Regulation 141—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 33, as amended (7 CFR, Part 933), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines grown in the State of Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of grapefruit, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than May 7, 1951. Shipment of grapefruit grown in the State of Florida, have been subject to regulation by grades and sizes, pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order, since September 11, 1950, and will so continue until May 7, 1951; the recommendation and supporting information for continued regulation subsequent to May 6 was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Growers Administrative Committee on May 1; such meeting was held to consider recommendations for regulation, after giving due notice of such meeting, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit this section including the effective time thereof, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such grapefruit; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter set forth so as to provide for the continued regulation of the handling of grapefruit; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., May 7, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 4, 1951, no handler shall ship:

(i) Any grapefruit of any variety, grown in Florida which grade U. S. No. 3 or lower than U. S. No. 3 grade;

(ii) Any white seeded grapefruit, grown in Regulation Area I which grade U. S. No. 2 Russet;

(iii) Any white seeded grapefruit, grown in Florida, which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 80 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box;

(iv) Any pink seeded grapefruit, grown in Florida, which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 96 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box; or

(v) Any seedless grapefruit, grown in Florida, which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 126 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box.

(2) As used in this section, "Regulation Area I," "handler," "variety," "ship," and "Growers Administrative Committee" shall have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; and "U. S. No. 2 Russet," "U. S. No. 3," "standard pack," and "standard nailed box" shall have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Grapefruit (7 CFR 51.191).

[Lemon Reg. 380, Amdt. 1]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. 1. Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

2. It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule-making procedure (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient; and this amendment relieves restrictions on the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of § 953.487 (Lemon Regulation 380, 16 F. R. 3640) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(ii) District 2: 475 carloads.

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.488 Lemon Regulation 381—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified in this section was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on May 2, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 6, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 13, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 500 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is set forth below and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c)

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA OR IN ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

visions of Order No. 66, as amended (7 CFR Part 966; 14 F. R. 3614), regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of oranges, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Orange Administrative Committee on May 3, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 6, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 13, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: 500 carloads;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: 100 carloads;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: 100 carloads;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: Unlimited movement.

(ii) Oranges other than Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: No movement;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: 700 carloads;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: No movement;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: No movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is set forth below and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "varieties," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended order; and the terms "Prorate District No. 1," "Prorate District No. 2," "Prorate District No. 3," and "Prorate District No. 4" shall each have the same meaning as given to the respective terms in § 966.107, as amended (15 F. R. 8712), of the current rules and regulations (7 CFR § 966.103 et seq.), as amended (15 F. R. 8712).

TITLE 9—ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

Chapter I—Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter I—Overtime Services

PART 165—OVERTIME SERVICES RELATING TO IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

OVERTIME, NIGHT, AND HOLIDAY INSPECTION AND QUARANTINE ACTIVITIES AT BORDER, COASTAL, AND AIR PORTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by Public Law 735, 81st Congress, approved August 28, 1950, to pay employees of the Department performing inspection, certification or quarantine services relating to imports into and exports from the United States for all overtime, night, or holiday work performed by them and to accept reimbursement for such payment from persons for whom such work is performed, Chapter I of Title 9 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding thereto the following new Subchapter I and Part 165.

§ 165.1 Overtime work at border ports, seaports, and airports. Any person, firm, or corporation having ownership, custody or control of animals, animal by-products, or other commodities subject to inspection, certification, or quarantine under Subchapters B and F of this chapter, and who requires the services of an employee of the Bureau of Animal Industry on a holiday, or at any other time outside the regular tour of duty of such employee, shall sufficiently in advance of the period of overtime request the Bureau inspector in charge to furnish inspection, quarantine, or certification service during such overtime period and shall pay the Secretary of Agriculture therefor at the rate of $2.40 per man hour for service so furnished: Provided, That a minimum charge of $2.40 shall be made for any such service rendered. It will be administratively determined from time to time which days constitute holidays.

The rates prescribed herein shall also be applicable to overtime work heretofore furnished pursuant to this statute under any contract or other arrangement.

The purpose of this amendment is to establish a uniform hourly rate of payment for all overtime services furnished in accordance with the Act of August 28, 1950. Determination of the costs of such overtime inspection depends entirely upon facts within the knowledge of the Department of Agriculture. It is to the benefit of those who require such overtime service, as well as the public generally, that this amendment be made effective at the earliest practicable date. Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238), it is found upon good cause that notice and public procedure on this amendment are impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making this amendment effective less than 30 days after publication.

(Pub. Law 735, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. The foregoing amendment shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 1st day of May 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN, Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 3, Amdt. 12]

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

Under sections 205 and 601 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, the Civil Aeronautics Board is empowered to delegate to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics the authority to prescribe rules, regulations, and standards which promote safety of flight in air commerce, and the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics is empowered to make and amend such general or special rules, regulations, and procedures as he deems necessary to exercise and perform his powers and duties under the act. Under § 60.46 of the Civil Air Regulations the Civil Aeronautics Board has authorized the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics to prescribe standard instrument approach procedures.

Acting pursuant to the foregoing statutes and regulations, standard instrument approach procedures were prescribed. Those procedures are hereby amended. This amendment is made effective without delay, in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required.

1. The low frequency range procedures prescribed in § 60.46-4 are amended to read in part:

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter V—Department of the Army

Subchapter B—Claims and Accounts

PART 538—ALLOTMENTS OF PAY

CLASS Q ALLOTMENTS

Paragraph (i) is added to § 538.1, paragraph (c) is added to § 538.3, subparagraph (3) is added to paragraph (a) of § 538.6, and a new § 538.13 is added to Part 538, as follows:

§ 538.1 Definitions. • • •

(i) Class Q allotment. An allotment made to provide assistance for dependents of enlisted members.

§ 538.3 Eligible allottees and authorized purposes. • • •

(c) Class Q allotment. (1) The following categories of dependents will be designated as allottees for class Q allotments:

(i) Wife or children.

(ii) Child or children of former wife, divorced, who are not in custody of service member.

(iii) Parent or parents.

(2) Separate allotments will be made to or on behalf of the above categories of dependents but will not be required to be made to each of the dependents in the same category.

§ 538.6 Allotment offices—(a) Active duty personnel. • • •

(3) Class Q allotments. Class Q allotments are processed by the Class Q Allotment Division, Army Finance Center, Building 205, St. Louis 20, Missouri.

• • • • •

§ 538.13 Class Q allotment—(a) Requirements—(1) Amount. On and after November 1, 1950, before an enlisted member is entitled to credit for basic allowance for quarters for dependents he must have in effect an allotment of pay to be known as class Q to his dependent or dependents in an amount equal to the applicable rate for basic allowance for quarters plus:

(i) $40, if service member is in grade E–1, E–2, or E–3;

(ii) $60, if service member is in grade E–4, or E–5; or

(iii) $80, if service member is in grade E–6 or E–7.

The allotment required for any month shall be based on the lowest rate of basic allowance for quarters to which the member is entitled and the lowest pay grade in which the member is serving during such month; however, no change in allotment will be made for such month to meet this requirement. Therefore, if member is promoted or demoted or acquires or loses a dependent after first day of month, he will be credited with applicable amount for basic allowance for quarters for such period, but no change in allotment is required for that month; however, a new class Q allotment will be required, effective the first of the following month in applicable amount. Any necessary adjustment will be made on the pay record. Whenever change in grade or dependency occurs which will affect amount of class Q allotment or allotments, forms necessary to cancel old allotment and initiate new allotment (effective first day of following month) will be submitted. If a member acquires or loses a dependent on the first day of the month or is promoted or demoted effective on the first day of the month, or both, the applicable increase or decrease in the minimum amount required to be allotted must be effective for such month instead of the first of the succeeding month. The total class Q allotment or allotments of any Army member must equal the total amount required to be established. The total class Q allotment or allotments of an Air Force member must not be less than the amount of class Q allotment or allotments required to be established, but may exceed such figure.

(2) Court order or written agreement. In those cases where the member's dependency obligations have been fixed by court order or other written agreement, the amount required to be allotted may be reduced to an amount not less than the basic allowance for quarters or the amount fixed in such court order or agreement, whichever amount is greater.

(3) Months not required. No class Q allotment or allotments will be required for the calendar month:

(i) In which the member enters on active duty in a pay status if the allotment is effective from the first day of the following month;

(ii) In which such member is released from active duty or is discharged if not immediately reenlisted (class Q allotment will be discontinued the end of the month preceding separation; however, should there be insufficient time for WD AGO Form 30–S (Allotment Discontinuance) to reach the Army Finance Center by the 20th of the month, amount of class Q allotment will be debited on the military pay record and WD AGO Form 30–S will be prepared to discontinue allotment at end of month in which separation occurs);

(iii) In which such member is assigned Government quarters for himself and his dependents or assignment of such quarters is terminated;

(iv) In which dependency ceases;

(v) In which dependency commences if the allotment is effective from the first day of the following month;

(vi) In which death occurred, in the event of death of the service member;

(b) Application by or on behalf of dependent. (1) The question of whether or not an enlisted member desires to claim the basic allowance for quarters for his dependent or dependents generally should be resolved by such enlisted member. However, the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, may authorize and direct the payment of the basic allowance for quarters for dependents and the establishment and payment of the class Q allotment or allotments as he shall determine to be in conformity with these regulations for any enlisted member who does not claim such allowance.

(2) (i) Upon application by or on behalf of any dependent of an enlisted member, the enlisted member will be advised by his immediate commanding officer that an application has been received by or on behalf of his dependent or dependents and the enlisted member will be requested to initiate a class Q allotment to provide for the support of his dependent or dependents. The enlisted member also will be advised that the Secretary of the service concerned has the authority to make such class Q allotments for the support of his dependents if he does not do so. The commanding officer will notify the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, of the circumstances, giving information such as a statement that the enlisted member refuses to initiate the required class Q allotment, a statement of the reason given by the enlisted member for not authorizing the class Q allotment, or any pertinent information regarding the situation. The Commanding General, Army Finance Center, after assuring himself that the application by or on behalf of the dependent of the enlisted member is a valid application, will initiate a Form 234, and will validate the allotment authorization in the space ordinarily provided for the enlisted member's signature. Form 234, with appropriate letter of explanation and statement of credit for basic allowance for quarters to be entered on the military pay record, will be forwarded to the disbursing office for processing through the commanding officer of the enlisted member concerned. The enlisted member will not be permitted to modify or stop a class Q allotment which has been established by the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, but he may furnish such information as he desires if he wishes to contest the establishment and payment of the class Q allotment. The information of the service member, over his signature, together with any additional information the commanding officer may have, will be submitted to the Dependency Division, Army Finance Center. The Commanding General, Army Finance Center, then will take such action as may be necessary to stop, modify, or restrict the class Q allotments.

(ii) The procedure prescribed in this subparagraph does not apply to dependents of enlisted members who are missing, missing in action, interned in a neutral country, captured by an enemy, beleaguered, or besieged.

(3) Upon application by or on behalf of any dependent of an enlisted member who has in effect a class Q allotment, the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, will modify such class Q allotments as may be necessary under this section and will follow the procedure outlined in this paragraph.

Subchapter G—Procurement

ARMY PROCUREMENT PROCEDURE

The Army Procurement Procedure, hereby issued as Parts 590–603 of this chapter by the Department of the Army, prescribes policies, methods, and standards governing the procurement of supplies and services for the Army Establishment under the Armed Services Procurement Regulation (Parts 400–414 of Chapter IV of this title), and the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947. Specifically, the Army Procurement Procedure implements, and is supplementary to, the Armed Services Procurement Regulation. Since the material published in the Regulation is not duplicated in the Procedure, both publications must be reviewed to obtain full coverage on any particular subject.

For those using this set of procurement rules, it must be borne in mind that in light of the magnitude of the Army's enlarged purchasing mission, it is highly imperative that procurement be accomplished swiftly, effectively, and to the best interests of the Government. Although the objectives of the procurement program must be expeditiously attained, economy and productive efficiency cannot be ignored. We are committed to obtain the maximum use of funds, and to secure the largest possible quantity of supplies of a requisite quality which can be purchased with those funds.

To avoid the dangers to free, competitive enterprise which may arise during a period of continuing mobilization, it is necessary for those involved in procurement to be watchful for factors which can be recommended for elimination because of any tendency to suppress competition unduly, create or strengthen monopolies, injure small business, or otherwise promote undue concentration of economic power. In furtherance of the small business policy, it is not only desirable but essential that an increasing proportion of Army contracts be placed with small firms, due to the necessity of using all available resources. To this end, restrictions which might prevent small business participation will be eliminated from proposed procurements to the maximum extent possible.

In issuing this Army Procurement Procedure, it is emphasized that each individual having procurement responsibility or authority is responsible for properly safeguarding the interests of the United States, and that each and every procurement action must be above reproach and not subject to unfavorable criticism.

[SEAL] EDWARD F. WITSELL,
Major General, U. S. Army, The Adjutant General.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

SUBPART A—INTRODUCTION

§ 590.100 Scope of part. Supplementary to, but consistent with part 400 of this title, this part sets forth (a) introductory information, (b) definitions, (c) basic policies, (d) procurement authority and responsibility, (e) general policies pertaining to military construction, (f) administrative procedures, (g) small purchases procedure, and (h) procurement action reporting.

§ 590.101 Purpose of Procedure. (Parts 590–603 of this chapter.) This Procedure, issued by the Department of the Army, pursuant to § 400.106 of this title, establishes for the Army Establishment uniform policies and procedures, consistent with and supplementary to Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title (Armed Services Procurement Regulation), relating to the procurement of supplies and services under the authority of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Pub. Law 413, 80th Cong.; 41 U. S. C. 151–161) or under other statutory authorization.

§ 590.102 Applicability of Procedure—(a) General applicability. This Procedure shall apply to all purchases and procurement contracts made by any Procuring Activity or Contracting Officer of the Army Establishment which obligate appropriated funds (whether direct appropriations, allocations of appropriated funds, or contract authorizations) for the procurement of supplies and services and which are entered into as of a date on or after the effective date of this Procedure. This Procedure is supplementary to, and does not in any way supersede Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title. This Procedure, however, does supersede (1) the Joint Procurement Regulations, originally issued November 1, 1947 (formerly published as Parts 801–811, Chapter VIII, Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations), and all amendments and additions made thereto through the issuance of procurement circulars, and (2) those portions of War Department Procurement Regulations in effect as of the date of this Procedure. This Procedure is not intended to cover the detailed implementing instructions of the respective Procuring Activities of the Army Establishment, all of which instructions may be prescribed as provided in § 590.107.

(b) Oversea commands, attachés, and foreign missions. Procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, and construction work outside the continental United States, including procurement effected under the jurisdiction of major oversea commanders, military attachés, and foreign missions, will be made in accordance with Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title and this Procedure. Authority to deviate from prescribed provisions, in those specific cases which are inapplicable to procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, will be specifically set forth in this Procedure. If such authority is not contained herein, requests will be processed as prescribed in § 590.108.

(c) Combat areas. Major tactical commanders are authorized to waive the provisions of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title and this Procedure in the immediate areas engaged in active combat, subject to any instructions which may be issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity involved.

(d) Government and Relief in Occupied Areas. Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, and this Procedure are applicable to procurement in oversea areas for Government and Relief in Occupied Areas (GARIOA) chargeable to annual appropriations for such purposes. As stated in paragraph (b) of this section, authority to deviate will be expressly stated or request for authority to deviate will be processed as prescribed in § 590.108.

(e) Civil works, Corps of Engineers. Procurement of supplies and services for civil works, Corps of Engineers, will be made in accordance with Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, and, rather than this Procedure, such instructions as may be issued by the Chief of Engineers, pursuant to authority granted by the Secretary of the Army.

§ 590.103 Effective date. This Army Procurement Procedure (Parts 590–603 of this chapter) shall be effective on and after April 1, 1951.

§ 590.104 Arrangement of Procedure.

§ 590.104–1 General plan. This Procedure is intended to cover the general policies and procedures of the Army Establishment with respect to procurement; it implements and is supplementary to Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title. The Procedure is divided into parts, each one of which deals with a separate aspect of procurement; each part is further subdivided into subparts and sections. In general, the parts, subparts, and sections conform to parallel provisions of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title. For example: § 590.104–1 is parallel to § 400.104–1 of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title. Additional subparts and sections have been added to cover subjects not treated in Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title. Since material published in Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title is not duplicated in this Procedure, both publications must be reviewed to obtain full coverage on most subjects.

§ 590.104–4 Citation. This Procedure shall be referred to as the Army Procurement Procedure (Parts 590-603 of this chapter) and cited by appropriate part or section of the Code of Federal Regulations.

§ 590.105 Amendment of Armed Services Procurement Regulation and Army Procurement Procedure. Recommendations for amendment of subchapter A, chapter IV of this title, or of this Procedure shall be submitted through channels to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 590.106 Department procedures under Regulation. Subchapter A, chapter IV of this title (Armed Services Procurement Regulation) is a statement of uniform procurement policies which are in effect throughout the Department of Defense. Parts 590-603 of this chapter (Army Procurement Procedure) constitute an implementation of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title and sets forth uniform procurement policies and procedures which are in effect throughout the Army Establishment.

§ 590.107 Procuring Activity instructions under Army Procurement Procedure. The Head of any Procuring Activity may implement this Procedure by prescribing for his Activity (and for any field installations thereof) detailed procurement operating instructions which are not inconsistent with the Armed Services Procurement Regulation or the Army Procurement Procedure.

§ 590.108 Deviations from Armed Services Procurement Regulation and Army Procurement Procedure—(a) Deviations from Armed Services Procurement Regulation. Requests for deviations from the provisions of subchapter A chapter IV of this title shall be submitted to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch). The Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) is authorized to grant any such deviation in any individual case in which special circumstances justify the deviation or deviations and will make a report thereof to the Departments of the Navy and Air Force. The Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) is authorized to grant class deviations from Armed Services Procurement Regulation with the concurrence of duly authorized representatives of the Departments of the Navy and Air Force.

(b) Deviations from Army Procurement Procedure. Requests for deviations from this Procedure shall be submitted to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Deviations from this Procedure will be made only by and with the approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 590.109 Administration and interpretation. (a) The administration of subchapter A, chapter IV of this title and this Procedure will be the responsibility of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

(b) It will be the responsibility of the Heads of Procuring Activities to determine whether or not instructions and interpretations issued by their Activities in implementation of subchapter A, chapter IV of this title and this Procedure properly reflect and are consistent with the policies of the Department of Defense and the Department of the Army.

§ 590.110 Periodic report of purchases and contracts. Reports in connection with § 400.110 of this title will be made in accordance with the requirements of Subpart H of this part.

§ 590.111 Reports of suspected criminal conduct. Reports of possible violations of Federal criminal statutes in connection with procurement and related matters, including reports of possible fraud, will be made in accordance with the requirements of § 590.303.

§ 590.150 Distribution of Regulation and Procedure. Copies of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation or the Army Procurement Procedure are not available for free distribution to private firms or individuals; however, these publications may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., as printed in the FEDERAL REGISTER or in separate pamphlet form.

SUBPART B—DEFINITIONS OF TERMS

§ 590.201 Definitions. As used throughout Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title and this Procedure, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below.

§ 590.201–2 Secretary. The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Army, or the Under or Assistant Secretary of the Army responsible for procurement and industrial matters for the Army Establishment.

§ 590.201–5 Contracting Officer. The term "Contracting Officer," when used in Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, and this Procedure is construed to include his duly appointed successor or authorized representative acting with the limits of his authority. (See §§ 590.402 and 590.450 through 590.453.)

§ 590.201–9 Sources of supplies—(a) Within the geographic limits of the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and the District of Columbia, the term "sources of supplies" shall include only (1) manufacturers of or (2) regular dealers in the supplies to be procured, as defined in § 400.201–9 of this title.

(b) Outside the geographic limits of the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and the District of Columbia, the term "sources of supplies" shall include (1) manufacturers, (2) regular dealers, as defined in § 400.201–9 of this title, and (3) intermediaries, provided such sources are not prohibited by local foreign law. An "intermediary" shall be deemed to be any one of the following:

(i) A person (or firm) who owns, operates or maintains a place of business, regularly engaged in performing certain services which directly or indirectly increase the value of the materials, supplies, articles, or equipment being procured (services to consist of such functions as the recovery from consignees and redistribution to manufacturers and producers of containers and packing materials; the receiving, storing, repacking, and reshipping of items being procured; the collection, consolidation, assembling, packing, and shipping of items being procured, etc.; and not the functions of mere soliciting of business, taking of orders, rendering assistance to manufacturers or producers by the preparation of receiving and payment documents, arranging for transportation facilities, etc.).

(ii) A person (or firm) who owns, operates or maintains a place of business, regularly engaged in the importing and exporting business, provided that the items procured are not being imported from within the geographical limits of the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and the District of Columbia.

(iii) Agencies or instrumentalities of a foreign government.

§ 590.250 Chief officer responsible for procurement. The term "chief officer responsible for procurement" when used in Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, and this Procedure is construed to mean the Head of any Procuring Activity.

§ 590.251 Appropriated funds. The term "appropriated funds" comprises all funds available to Army Establishment installations and agencies by allotment to or authorization to obligate appropriated funds irrespective of the Governmental department or agency administering the appropriation. Welfare, organizational, unit, or similar funds are not included under this definition.

§ 590.252 Change orders and supplemental agreements. Change orders and supplemental agreements are types of contract modifications. A change order is ordinarily the proper medium for effecting changes under a contract containing provisions permitting such changes under specified circumstances similar to the Changes Clause in § 406.103–2 of this title. Such change orders are confined to changes which the contract authorized the Government to make, and since the contract authorizes such changes to be made and since the contractor has agreed that the Government can make such changes (including, under certain circumstances, an equitable adjustment in price), change orders may be issued without the consent of the contractor. Conversely, a supplemental agreement is the proper medium for effecting changes to a contract which the contract does not authorize the Government to make (i. e., changes not covered by the Changes Clause or other clause of the contract) and which accordingly cannot be made without the consent of the contractor. A supplemental agreement is, therefore, in effect a new contract which, being with the same contractor and for performance under substantially the same terms and conditions is, for convenience, added as a supplement to an existing contract. Regardless of the form of contract employed, the distinction as to whether a supplemental agreement or a change order is required, therefore, rests upon whether the contractor is bound by existing contract to perform the proposed change or whether such change cannot be required of him without his consent and acceptance. In connection with change orders and supplemental agreements, it is a requirement that contracts can be modified only in the interests of the United States.

SUBPART C—BASIC POLICIES

§ 590.301 Methods of procurement. Department of the Army policies with respect to procurement by formal advertising or by negotiation are set forth in §§ 591.102 and 592.101 of this chapter. In connection with the placement of contracts during a period of national emergency, it is essential that contracts be spread across industry as widely as possible in order to broaden the industrial base of the procurement program. All Procuring Activities and agencies will give particular attention to the following in effecting procurement:

(a) The greatest possible integration of current procurement contracts with the industrial mobilization program and the accepted schedules of production.

(b) The equitable distribution of procurement contracts among the maximum number of competent suppliers. The concentration of contracts with a few leader suppliers is to be avoided unless the necessity therefor is clear.

(c) The utilization of existing open industrial capacity to the maximum. Expansion of facilities should not be authorized when open capacity can be found. Whenever time permits, and in order to broaden the mobilization base, additional contractors should be utilized in lieu of multi-shift or overtime operation.

(d) The fullest possible use of small business concerns.

(e) The utilization in negotiation of competition and multiple awards, whenever possible.

(f) The aggressive encouragement or requirement of subcontracting by prime contractors.

(g) The provision of maximum incentive to the producer for the reduction of his costs.

(h) The placement of contracts with a view to economies in the use of transportation facilities.

(i) The availability of manpower in distressed employment areas or in areas of manpower shortages.

(j) The reservation of special skills and abilities for the more difficult production tasks.

§ 590.302–2 Sources outside the Government—(a) Sources of supply for foods of animal origin. Procurement of foods of animal origin, including meat and meat food products, poultry and poultry products, milk and dairy products, fish and fishery food products, fats and cooking oils, game, and all food supplies of which any of the foregoing foods of animal origin form a significant part, will be made from only those sources which are approved with respect to sanitation in accordance with standards and procedures prescribed in Part 608 of this chapter.

§ 590.302–3 Small business concerns. (a) Heads of Procuring Activities will encourage, so far as consistent with law, the participation of small business in the procurement programs of their respective Activities.

(b) Procuring Activities will publicize, to the maximum extent practicable (1) that it is not necessary for prospective suppliers to employ agents, counselors, advisers, or any agencies on a commercial basis in order to obtain Government business, and (2) that such persons or agencies cannot obtain Government busines for prospective suppliers which these suppliers cannot obtain themselves through appropriate Government channels.

(c) Procuring Activities will publicize, to the maximum extent practicable, that prospective suppliers should write direct to the appropriate purchasing office for inclusion of their names on a bidders' mailing list.

(d) Procuring Activities, whenever practicable, will assist in advising small business concerns in the methods of doing business with the Army and in finding the proper channels of information. In this connection a pamphlet has been prepared entitled, "How to Sell to the United States Army," for distribution to small business concerns and those firms which are not accustomed to doing business with the Army. Purchasing offices desiring copies of this pamphlet should direct their request to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) through command channels.

(e) The report of contracts placed with small business concerns referred to in § 400.302–3 of this title will be made in accordance with the requirements of Subpart H of this part.

(f) This section is not applicable to procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions.

§ 590.303 Ineligible contractors and disqualified bidders. Contractors against whom certain specific prohibitions have been effected in connection with their contractual relationship with the Army Establishment and the procedures to be followed in connection therewith are divided into three general classifications: Disqualifications under certain statutes (paragraph (a) of this section), suspensions due to allegations or suspicions of fraud and criminal conduct (paragraph (b) of this section), and debarment by administrative action (paragraph (c) of this section).

(a) Disqualifications under certain statutes. Contracts shall not be placed with persons or firms who are indicated to be in any of the following categories of disqualified bidders:

(1) Persons and firms listed by the Comptroller General in accordance with section 3 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (41 U. S. C. 37) which have been found by the Secretary of Labor to have violated any of the representations and stipulations required by that act.

(2) Persons and firms listed by the Department of Labor which have been held ineligible to be awarded contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act for the reason that they do not qualify as "manufacturers" or "regular dealers" within the meaning of section 1 (a) of said act.

(3) Persons and firms listed by the Comptroller General in accordance with section 3 of the Davis-Bacon Act (40 U. S. C. 276a–2) found by the Comptroller General to have violated said act.

(4) Persons and firms which have violated any of the provisions of the Buy American Act (41 U. S. C. 10a–d).

Inquiries from contractors or individuals listed as ineligible or disqualified by the Comptroller General and the Department of Labor under the Walsh-Healey or Davis-Bacon Acts shall be answered by indicating the nature of the prohibition as indicated on the consolidated list and requesting that the inquirer communicate with:

Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions,
Department of Labor,
Fourteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW.,
Washington 25, D. C.

(b) Suspension due to allegations or suspicions of fraud and criminal conduct—(1) General. The prompt reporting of suspected fraud or criminal conduct is of extreme importance. All persons concerned with negotiation, execution, administration, and settlement of Army contracts will be on the alert for the possibility or evidence of fraud or criminal conduct at all times. Generally, most reports or accusations relating to fraud or criminal conduct will result first in a suspension by Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) under this paragraph and investigation by the Department of Justice before any consideration will be given to administrative debarment as set forth under paragraph (c) of this section.

(2) Reporting procedure. All reports and exhibits, and all supplements thereto, including letters of transmittal and interim correspondence, will be transmitted through channels, in quadruplicate, to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Reports should contain a full statement of the pertinent facts indicating alleged criminal conduct, fraudulent activity, or suspicion thereof and will be supported by appropriate exhibits. All such reports initiated by disposal, inspection, audit, engineering, and other advisory or technical personnel, under Department of the Army contracts, will be addressed to the Contracting Officer concerned and will be adequately documented by initiating personnel. The Contracting Officer will take whatever action he deems necessary and appropriate consistent with the protection of the interests of the Government. Such reports, accompanied by the remarks, conclusions, and recommendations of the Contracting Officer, will then be forwarded, through channels, to the above indicated addressee. Reports of suspected collusion between contractor and Government personnel will be made direct to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) by the initiating agency.

(3) Suspensions. The determination to suspend a suspected contractor will be the responsibility and within the authority of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Formal suspension directives, when determined necessary and requiring the responsibilities and prohibitions contained in subparagraphs (5) through (11) of this paragraph, will be issued by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Such determinations will be coordinated with the Assistant Judge Advocate General, Procurement Division, and The Inspector General, when appropriate.

(4) Liaison with the Department of Justice and other military departments. (i) The Assistant Judge Advocate General has been designated as the representative of the Under Secretary of the Army to effect necessary liaison between the Department of the Army and the Department of Justice. In accordance with established procedures, reports of suspicion of fraud will be forwarded in triplicate to that office by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) for coordination and necessary action with the Department of Justice when appropriate.

(ii) The Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) will effect the required liaison with the other military departments.

(5) Responsibility of Heads of Procuring Activities. The Heads of Procuring Activities will be responsible for taking the appropriate administrative actions indicated in subparagraphs (6) through (12) of this paragraph upon receipt of notice of suspension or when reporting suspicion or evidence of fraud or criminal conduct.

(6) Preliminary report. As soon as possible after receipt of the notice of suspension and within 30 days, or concurrent with the reporting of suspicion of fraud, the Heads of Procuring Activities will submit a brief report to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) (Report on Contractual Status of Suspended Contractors, Reports Control Symbol CSGLD–228), indicating the current contractual relationship between the suspended contractor and the agency submitting the report. This report will consist of a brief statement of the status of outstanding contracts, if any, either proposed, current, or terminated but unsettled. Information relating to going current contracts will be reported as outlined in subparagraph (7) of this paragraph. The extent to which such persons or firms are considered necessary and essential suppliers will be indicated. Negative reports indicating no current or presently proposed contracts are required.

(7) Procurement—(i) Current contracts. The administration of contracts on which performance is current is within the responsibility and authority vested in the Head of a Procuring Activity.

(ii) Service reporting suspicion of fraud. It will be the additional responsibility of the Head of a Procuring Activity reporting suspicion or evidence of criminal conduct, and administering a current contract, to determine whether it will be in the best interests of the Government to (a) continue contract administration in any of its phases (such as acceptance of deliveries, inspection at contractor's plants, issuance of certain instructions), except payment, where specifically required by the provisions of the contract and to avert a technical or actionable breach of contract by the Government; or (b) to exercise any contract right (such as termination for default or convenience, rejection or recovery due to latent defects). In making such determination, full consideration will be given to the nature of and the circumstances surrounding the suspicion or evidence of fraud being reported. The facts, circumstances, requirements, and provisions considered in reaching such determination will be included in the Preliminary Report required in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph. In cases where doubt exists as to the effect of continuation of any phase of administration on the investigation and possible prosecution of the suspected contractor, it will be appropriate to refer the determination of the matter to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, together with the recommendations of the Head of the Procuring Activity.

(iii) Services receiving notice of suspension. In cases where a current contract(s) is (are) being administered by a Procuring Activity not the initiating agency of the report of suspected criminal conduct, a statement of the minimum contract administration immediately required by the contract (such as acceptance of deliveries, rejection, price analyses, etc.) will be included in the Preliminary Report (subparagraph (6) of this paragraph).

(iv) In both subdivisions (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph, contract administration at the minimum required will be continued in operation, with the exception of payment, until final determination of the matter has been accomplished by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) who will coordinate such final determination with the Office of the Under Secretary of the Army (Assistant Judge Advocate General, Litigation Division) and the Department of Justice, if appropriate.

(v) Procurement with suspended contractors. No additional procurement will be made from, nor any commitments of any nature given to, firms or individuals suspected of having defrauded the Government and who have been placed in suspension, until written clearance for each individual procurement has been obtained from the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) who will coordinate the matter with the Office of the Under Secretary of the Army (Assistant Judge Advocate General, Litigation Division) and the Department of Justice, if appropriate. However, bids submitted by suspended contractors will be received, recorded and retained in accordance with established procedures. In cases where a suspended contractor is the low bidder (or in the case of surplus or salvage sales, the high bidder), information relating to the low (or high) bid and the next higher bid will be furnished to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for determination as to the necessity of placement of any awards with the suspended contractor. Bids from suspended contractors will not be automatically rejected by Contracting Officers solely because of the suspension.

(8) Terminations. Negotiation towards settlement of terminated contracts will cease with the suspension of a contractor. Negotiations must likewise cease with respect to terminated subcontracts either let or held by the suspended contractor. All delegations of authority, if any, under JTR 642 (PR 15) or under any like regulation will be immediately revoked without explanation.

(9) Payments. (i) No payments of any type will be made to any suspended contractor either under procurement or termination unless specifically directed. Upon receipt of notice of suspension, disbursing officers will promptly forward any administratively approved vouchers in or coming into their possession to the Office, Chief of Finance (Attn: Receipts and Disbursement Division). Procuring agencies, holding or in receipt of properly certified invoices covering amounts properly due the suspended contractor, will prepare and process (administratively approve) the necessary vouchers and will forward the certified vouchers to the Office, Chief of Finance (Attn.: Receipts and Disbursement Division), through their assigned Disbursing Officers inviting attention to the fact that the contractor concerned is under suspension. This procedure will be followed whenever any additional or new amounts become due during the period of suspension.

(ii) In cases where, in the opinion of the Contracting Officer, it is believed that circumstances surrounding either the procurement or the suspicion of criminal conduct are of such a nature as to permit or require complete or partial release of withheld funds due and owing the suspended contractor, recommendation for such release, including a full statement of the particulars supporting such recommendation may be made by the Contracting Officer, through channels, to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), who will coordinate the determination of the matter, through the Office of the Under Secretary of the Army (Assistant Judge Advocate General, Litigation Division), with the Department of Justice, if appropriate.

(10) Release from suspension. After a contractor has been placed in suspension, as indicated above, such suspension will not be lifted until such action has been directed by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), who will coordinate the release through the Assistant Judge Advocate General, Litigation Division, with the Department of Justice.

(11) Departmental inquiries. When a firm or individual has been suspended because of suspicion of fraud, the Contracting Officer will ordinarily address his own inquiries, in quadruplicate, as to status and progress of the case in question, through channels, to Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), and will not contact the local offices of the Department of Justice, the U. S. Attorney, or the Federal Bureau of Investigation in such connection.

(12) Contact with suspended contractors. Reports required by these regulations and all actions accomplished relating thereto are confidential. In the event a suspended contractor makes inquiry as to reason or cause of prohibitions indicated above, or for any other reason, the supplying of any information relating to the suspension, either by reference or detail, is prohibited. Instead, the contractor will be advised that consideration is being given his contract, or contractual relationship, by the Office of the Under Secretary of the Army (Assistant Judge Advocate General, Litigation Division) and that all contractor inquiries regarding such matters should be addressed in writing direct to that office.

(c) Debarment by administrative action—(1) General. Debarment of a contractor for acts constituting fraud or attempted fraud against the United States or deliberate and gross violation of contract provisions may be effected by the Department of the Army but must be based on adequate evidence rather than on allegation or accusation. The Comptroller General states:

When the interests of the United States require the debarment of a bidder no question will be raised by this office with respect thereto, provided the length of time of such debarment is definitely stated and not unreasonable, and the reasons for the debarment, with a statement of the specific instances of the bidder's dereliction, are made of record and a copy thereof furnished the bidder and this office.

(2) Determination of debarment. The determination to debar a bidder from future bidding on Army Establishment contracts will be the responsibility and within the authority of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Recording of the debarment and furnishing advice of the action to the contractor and the Comptrolier General will also be a function of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

(3) Request for debarment. Debarment action may be initiated by any Procuring Activity and forwarded through appropriate channels to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for determination.

(4) Adequacy of request for debarment; responsibility. A request for debarment will be submitted in triplicate and contain a complete certified statement of the facts concerning the bidder's dereliction, including affidavits, depositions, records of action, if applicable, and any other relevant data. Names and addresses of all persons having knowledge of the circumstances will be included. The Head of a Procuring Activity will be responsible for the adequacy and propriety of all requests initiated under his command, particularly as to basis and adequacy of evidence. Care should be taken not to usurp the prerogatives of the Department of Justice in concluding that certain acts constitute fraud against the Government.

(5) Procedure after debarment. When the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), after consideration of all of the evidence submitted, determines that it is in the best interests of the Government to debar a contractor from future bidding on Army contracts and so notifies the Procuring Activities, the following procedure will become effective:

(i) Debarred contractors will not be carried on any bidders' mailing list and bids will not be invited from them.

(ii) No awards will be made to any debarred contractor during the period specified for debarment.

(iii) In the event that a bid is tendered by any debarred contractor, it shall be received and recorded with the other bids offered on the purchase. If the bid is low, it will then be rejected, and the reason therefor shall be stated in the certificate to the General Accounting Office as follows:

> In accordance with the decision of the Comptroller General of the United States contained in his letter to the Secretary of War, dated 23 July 1929, the bid of -------- is rejected because of previous unsatisfactory business dealings with the Department of the Army.

(iv) All inquiries relating to debarred bidders will be forwarded, in triplicate, to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

(d) Consolidated listing of suspended and ineligible contractors and disqualified bidders. In conjunction with the information and actions contained in the preceding subparagraphs, a consolidated confidential list will be issued by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) for the use and guidance of all interested agencies of the Army Establishment. The comprehensive list will be composed of an alphabetical listing of all firms or persons suspended, ineligible, or disqualified from entering into contractual relationships with the Government. Information will be supplied indicating the reason for and the extent of the suspension or prohibition. Care will be taken by contracting personnel to give full effect to modifications of or releases from suspension. The listing shall comprise the following groups of persons and firms which are subject to the prohibitions indicated:

(1) Suspensions initiated by the Army and affecting Army contracts. Contractors who have been placed in suspension or debarred by administrative determination in accordance with the procedures and prohibitions prescribed in paragraph (b) (5)–(12) of this section and in paragraph (c) of this section or suspended or debarred under like circumstances by the other military departments.

(2) Disqualifications initiated by agencies other than the military and prohibitions effected. (i) Persons and firms listed by the Comptroller General in accordance with section 3 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act which have been found by the Secretary of Labor to have violated any of the representations and stipulations required by that act. No contracts will be awarded to such persons or firms or to any firm, corporation, partnership, or association in which such persons have a controlling interest, for a period of 3 years from the dates on which it was determined such breaches occurred. (See Part 411 of this title for specific provisions of Walsh-Healey Act.)

(ii) Persons and firms listed by the Department of Labor which have been held ineligible to be awarded contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act for the reason that they do not qualify as "manufacturers" or "regular dealers" within the meaning of section 1 (a) of said act. Such persons, corporations, or firms will not be awarded any contract unless a change in status is shown and so determined by the Department of Labor prior to the award of any such contract.

(iii) Persons and firms listed by the Comptroller General in accordance with section 3 of the Davis-Bacon Act found by the Comptroller General to have violated said act. No contract is to be awarded to any contractor, or any firm, in which the contractor has an interest for a period of 3 years from the publication of the list containing the names of the violators.

(iv) Sections 590.303, 590–303–1, and 590.303–2 are applicable to procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions in principle and policy, but Contracting Officers will be guided by the laws of the local foreign government of the country in which procurement is to be effected and by such procedural instructions (based on the policies and procedures contained herein) as may be issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity. Suspensions by major overseas commanders will be coordinated with local authorities of the other military departments. A report, in triplicate, setting forth the basis for and the action being taken in any case of suspected fraud or criminal conduct will be furnished the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for information as the incidents occur. A closing report of completed action will be furnished also.

§ 590.303–1 Additions to and removals from Consolidated List of ineligible or suspended contractors and disqualified bidders. Interim notices indicating additions to, modifications of, or removals from the Consolidated List will be issued by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), when appropriate.

§ 590.303–2 Exchange of lists. The Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), will supply the Departments of the Navy and the Air Force with copies of the Consolidated List, and any interim changes thereto, for information and guidance and will publish additional information received from those Departments.

§ 590.305 Specifications; general. Every item procured either on an invitation for bids or by negotiation shall be described by referencing the applicable specifications or, in lieu thereof, shall contain a description when authorized as prescribed in paragraph (c) of this section; except that no specification in accordance with this section is required in connection with the purchase of items for authorized resale when, to satisfy customer preference, the purchase is being made upon the basis of a brand-name; or the procurement falls within the provisions of § 402.210–2 (m) of this title.

(a) Specifications authorized for procurement. The following types of specifications are authorized for use in procurement, in the order or preference as listed:

(1) Federal specifications.

(2) Military (MIL, JAN) specifications.

(3) Air Force-Navy Aeronautical specifications.

(4) Uncoordinated Military (MIL) specifications.

(5) United States Army specifications.

(6) United States Air Force specifications.

(7) Navy specifications.

(8) Tentative specifications.

(9) Other Government departmental specifications.

(10) Purchase descriptions.

(b) Use of tentative specifications. Tentative specifications are authorized for purchase of items, materials, processes, or services as follows:

(1) Those required for research and development projects, including experimental, engineering, user (service), and troop tests, provided the technical and quantity requirements of the items are approved for these purposes by appropriate technical committee action.

(2) Those required for the current military procurement program, provided the applicable tentative specification is actually in process of conversion to a Military or Federal specification.

(3) Those required for components, spare parts, or materials required for maintenance of existing stocks of matériel or for items required for maintenance and operation of established installations.

(4) Requests for authority to use tentative specifications for purposes other than those listed above shall be made to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Standards Branch), and shall fully justify the necessity for making an exception. Normally, approval will be given only for purchases required to meet emergency or special requirements.

(c) Description in lieu of specifications—(1) Spare parts. The use of purchase descriptions in lieu of specifications is authorized for procurement of spare parts necessary for maintenance of existing stocks of matériel or for items required for maintenance and operation of established installations.

(2) Supplies other than spare parts. If the item required is not covered by an authorized specification, and preparation of a specification is not justified, a drawing and/or a description containing all of the essential requirements to be met by the article shall be used instead. If, because of technically involved construction, or other sufficient reasons, such description cannot be made, the name of one or more makes of the item, including the words "or equal," shall be specified so as not to limit competition to the particular makes named. The use of "or equal" is authorized as an expedient only, and is not considered normal procedure. Repeated use of a purchase description for the purchase of any item indicates a need for a specification and shall be reported to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Standards Branch).

(d) Oversea purchases. Contracting Officers are authorized to deviate from this section, subject to any instructions which may be issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity involved, for procurement effected outside the United States, its territories and possessions, to the extent of using where necessary such specifications, standards, and purchase descriptions of foreign governments and foreign trade associations, which will be readily understood by foreign vendors, provided that adequate measures are taken to insure satisfactory and acceptable products, including standard and interchangeable items, where required. Reports prescribed by this section will not be required for such procurement.

(e) Supply of specifications to activities outside the Government. A liberal attitude shall be taken in complying with requests for specifications from prospective bidders and possible manufacturers of supplies, whether for the purpose of broadening the peacetime market or for establishing new sources of supply in case of emergency.

(f) Options permitted by specifications. Many adopted specifications cover several grades or types and provide for several optional methods of inspections, packaging, etc. When such specifications are used in conformity with paragraph (a) of this section, the invitation or request for proposal shall specifically state the grade, type, or method of inspection, etc., on which bids or quotations are to be based.

§ 590.350 F. o. b. purchasing policy. Unless there are valid reasons to the contrary (such as, but not restricted to, industry practice, or destination unknown) all supply contracts shall provide for delivery as follows:

(a) When it is estimated that no shipment to a single destination will equal a minimum carload lot (a minimum carload lot shall be deemed to weigh approximately 20,000 pounds), delivery shall be made on the basis of all transportation charges paid to destination (within the continental United States).

(b) When it is estimated that any single contract will require a shipment of minimum carload lot, delivery and acceptance may be either on the basis of f. o. b. plant or on the basis of all transportation charges paid to destination (within the continental United States), whichever is more advantageous to the Government.

§ 590.350–1 Formal advertising. In furtherance of this policy in the case of formal advertising, bids for supplies will be invited as follows:

(a) When it is estimated that no shipment to a single destination will equal a minimum carload lot, bids shall be invited on the basis of delivery by the contractor, all transportation charges paid to destination (within the continental United States).

(b) When it is estimated that a single contract (to be awarded) will provide for a shipment to a single destination of a carload lot or more, bids shall be invited as follows:

> Bid A—All transportation charges paid to destination (within the continental United States), and
> Bid B—F. o. b. carriers' equipment, wharf or freight station at a specified city or shipping point.

The Invitation for Bids will provide that bidders may bid on either or both bases A and B.

§ 590.350–2 Evaluation of bids and proposals. (a) Bids and proposals will be evaluated on the basis of over-all cost to the Government. In connection with bids or proposals submitted on an f. o. b. origin basis, transportation costs between the source of supply and the designated destination point or points will be considered in determining the lowest estimated cost to the Government.

(b) To facilitate the evaluation of bids and proposals and to assure accurate analyses, Contracting Officers will request the advisory services of local transportation officers to assist in determining the lowest possible transportation costs to a given point.

§ 590.350–3 Furnishing of freight rates. (a) The function of furnishing freight rates for use by Contracting Officers for the evaluation of bids and proposals as required by § 590.350–2 has been assigned to continental army commanders. Continental army commanders will establish procedures within their respective areas for furnishing rates and will maintain centralized tariff files in the Office of the Army Transportation Officer in order to provide a rate quoting service to purchasing offices. The rate quoting service operated by continental army commanders for purchasing offices is under the technical supervision of the Chief of Transportation.

(b) Purchasing offices will obtain freight rates from the Army Transportation Officer in the headquarters of the continental army command within whose geographical limits the purchasing offices are located regardless of the origin and destination points of the intended purchases, except that a rate quoting service will be provided in the Office of the Chief of Transportation for purchasing offices assigned within the Military District of Washington.

§ 590.350–4 Oversea purchases. Subject to any instructions which may be issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity involved, Contracting Officers are authorized to deviate from §§ 590.350–590.350–4 in effecting procurement outside the continental United States.

§ 590.352 Limitation on purchase and maintenance of motor vehicles or aircraft. Section 16 of the act approved 2 August 1946 (60 Stat. 810; 5 U. S. C. 78) includes definite restrictions on the purchase of passenger motor vehicles (exclusive of buses, ambulances, and station wagons) or aircraft, and their maintenance, operation, and repair. Since such restrictions also cover matters other than purchase, the restrictions and prescribed procedures to be followed, including the certificate to be placed on procuring instruments, are published from time to time in Special Regulations.

§ 590.353 Public release of long-range procurement estimates. To assist industry to plan its production and to better serve the requirements of the Armed Services, from time to time it may be necessary to announce publicly unclassified long-range (9-months or over) procurement estimates on certain items, groups, or types of items or materials procured by the Armed Services.

(a) Public releases of long-range procurement estimates may be made by technical services when the head of technical service determines that—

(1) The information to be released will, in fact, actually assist industry in its planning and facilitate the meeting of the procurement requirements of the Armed Services.

(2) The announcement will not adversely affect procurement of Armed Services requirements by encouraging such malpractices as attempts to corner the market or the hoarding of industrial materials.

(3) The information to be released will not indicate the extent of industrial mobilization of the industry as a whole or its potential mobilization capacity.

(b) The procedures set forth below will be followed in the preparation and making of public releases of long-range procurement estimates:

(1) The head of the technical services concerned will be responsible for the determination of the need for, and the preparation of, the proposed announcements.

(2) Only unclassified information will be released.

(3) The information will be publicized as widely as possible, consistent with the needs of the individual case, and will be released so as to reach all potential suppliers as nearly simultaneously as possible.

(4) In each release a statement will be made that the forecast is based on the best information available at the time of publication, but is always subject to modification.

(5) Each release will contain information as to the names and addresses of the purchasing offices that should be contacted by prospective suppliers regarding the forthcoming procurements.

(6) Major modifications in the original announced estimate will be publicized as expeditiously as possible and in the same manner as the original.

(7) Proposed announcements will be addressed to the Chief of Information (Public Information Division, Department of the Army).

(8) No actual releases will be made by the head of the technical service unless authorized by the Chief of Information, Department of the Army.

SUBPART D—PROCUREMENT RESPONSIBILITY AND AUTHORITY

§ 590.401 Responsibility of each Procuring Activity. (a) Heads of Procuring Activities are responsible for the procurement of all supplies and services as assigned in accordance with the policy prescribed in Part 593 of this chapter.

(b) Purchases will be made only by Contracting Officers duly designated as such (see §§ 590.402 and 590.450).

(c) Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, will exercise the functions of Head of a Procuring Activity for all Contracting Officers of the Army Establishment not under the jurisdiction of a Head of a Procuring Activity as listed in § 400.201–4 of this title.

(d) Authority is hereby delegated to the following to make necessary procurement of supplies and services required to carry out their functions:

(1) Attachés.

(2) Chiefs of foreign missions (Army).

(3) Chiefs of Army sections of any joint military mission not operating under the jurisdiction of a major oversea command.

(4) Superintendent, U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

(5) Such others as may be specifically designated in writing from time to time.

§ 590.402 General authority of contracting officers. Properly designated Contracting Officers are granted all authority conferred by law, the Armed Services Procurement Regulation, this Procedure and by Procuring Activity instructions, but only to the extent as limited therein and as that authority may be limited in the orders designating them as Contracting Officers.

(a) Contracting Officers are agents of the Government and must act in accordance with the law and within their prescribed duties and limited authority. Contracting Officers must insure that their acts are in full accord with their authority. The acts of a Contracting Officer bind the Government only when the action is authorized.

(b) Contracting Officers may enter into, amend, modify and take other action with respect to contracts provided (1) approval of award has been obtained, if approval is required by this Procedure, and the contract embodies the award as approved, (2) the contract is written on a standard or an approved form of contract, (3) the contract is authorized by law and complies with the provisions of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation and this Procedure with respect to the use of contract clauses and does not contain any clause or involve matters in conflict with the established policy of higher authority and, (4) compliance has been effected with all other requirements of law, the Armed Services Procurement Regulation, this Procedure, and the applicable Procuring Activity instructions.

§ 590.403 Requirements to be met before entering into contracts. Irrespective of whether procurement is to be effected by formal advertising or by negotiation, a contract may be entered into by a Contracting Officer only if—

(a) All applicable requirements of law, of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation, of this Procedure, and of the appropriate Procuring Activity instructions, have been met.

(b) Such business clearances or approvals as are prescribed by this Procedure and by applicable Procuring Activity instructions have been obtained.

(c) The contract is written on a standard or an approved form of contract.

(d) The contract does not contain any unauthorized clauses or involve any matter which is inconsistent or in conflict with the established policy of higher authority.

§ 590.450 Designation of Contracting Officer. (a) Contracting Officers, as defined in § 400.201–5 of this title, shall be those designated by the persons listed below, or by persons who are authorized by the persons listed below to designate Contracting Officers. When so designated, they shall have the authority set forth in § 590.402 and the general responsibilities set forth in § 590.453.

(1) The Secretary of the Army.

(2) The Under or Assistant Secretary of the Army responsible for procurement.

(3) The Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

(4) Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

(5) Head of any Procuring Activity.

(6) Attachés.

(7) Chiefs of foreign missions (Army).

(8) Chiefs of Army sections of any joint military mission not operating under the jurisdiction of a major oversea command.

(9) Superintendent, U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

(10) Such others as may be specifically designated in writing from time to time.

(b) The designation of Contracting Officers shall be in writing and may be accomplished by general or special instructions.

§ 590.451 Designation of representatives. A Contracting Officer may designate any officer or civilian official to act as his authorized representative. Such designation shall be in writing and shall define the scope and limitations of the authorized representative's authority.

§ 590.452 Authority of representatives. A designation authorized by § 590.451 may be made by instructions referring to particular contractual instruments, and may, to the extent not specifically prohibited by the terms of the contractual instrument involved, empower the authorized representative to take any or all action thereunder which could be lawfully taken by the Contracting Officer. In no event, however, shall an authorized representative, by virtue only of his designation as such, be empowered to execute or agree to any contract or modification thereof.

§ 590.453 General responsibility of contracting officers. (a) Contracting Officers are primarily responsible for the execution and administration of contracts, to safeguard the interests of the United States in contractual relationships, and to determine the facts under contracts.

(b) Contracting Officers shall personally sign all contracts and modifications entered into by them. This authority cannot be delegated to others. The signing of contractual documents will not be accomplished by facsimile stamps or by proxy.

(c) Contracting Officers are responsible under law and regulation for their acts as Contracting Officers.

(d) Contracting Officers shall be bound in all their actions to exercise reasonable care, skill, and judgment.

(e) Contracting Officers must assure themselves that the contract is authorized by law, that funds are available, and of their authority to subject the Government or its property to any risk.

(f) Contracting Officers are responsible for maintaining constant cognizance with respect to contract compliance on the part of the contractor.

(g) Contracting Officers are responsible for the legal, technical, and administrative sufficiency of the contracts they make. They should not hesitate to secure legal and technical advice within the Army Establishment.

(h) Contracting Officers are responsible for performing or having performed any legal or administrative actions necessary to properly assure the satisfactory performance of their contracts.

(i) Contracting Officers are responsible for knowing the scope and limitation of their authority.

§ 590.454 Delegation of authority. Authority conferred upon any of the Heads of Procuring Activities under any paragraph of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation and in this Procedure may be exercised by the Heads of the Procuring Activities, or by redelegation, through such officer or officers or civilian official or officials of the Army Establishment as may be designated by them or by any person authorized by them to make such designation, with such powers of delegation or successive redelegation as they may deem appropriate; subject, however, to any provisions in the particular section of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation or this Procedure:

(a) Forbidding the assignment or delegation of the authority mentioned in such section, or

(b) Imposing limitations upon the assignment, delegation or exercise of such authority.

The exercise prior to the date of this Procedure of any such authority by any such officer or officers or civilian official or officials of the Army Establishment is hereby ratified and confirmed, providing such authority could have been granted in the first instance.

§ 590.455 Standards of conduct. In all procurement functions stress shall be placed on the importance of protecting the interests of the Government. It shall be the responsibility of all persons, military and civilian, engaged in procurement and related duties to be guided by the standards and instructions set forth below.

(a) General policy. The broad general policy with regard to conflicting private interests of military and civilian personnel assigned to procurement and related duties is as follows: All personnel of the Army, military or civilian, are bound to refrain from all business and professional activities and interests not directly connected with their duties which would tend to interfere with or hamper in any degree their full and proper discharge of such duties or which would normally give rise to a reasonable suspicion that such participation would have that effect. Any departure from this underlying principle would constitute conduct subject to disciplinary action. If such persons find that their duties require them to act as agents of the Unted States in a manner from which they may derive financial profit or other benefits, they will report the facts immediately to higher authority with a view to their relief from their assignments or such other action as may be deemed appropriate. Agents of the Government must not accept gratuities intended to influence the strict impartiality that must prevail in all business contacts.

(1) It is imperative that personnel engaged in Army procurement activities maintain the highest standards of personal conduct in their relations with commercial firms, organizations, and individuals having business dealings with the Government. Because of the position of trust in which Army procurement personnel have been placed, they bear a heavy responsibility for protection of the Government's interests with absolute integrity and strict impartiality.

(2) When civilian employees or military personnel, including Reserve personnel on temporary duty, are assigned to Army procurement work, their attention will be directed to the provisions of this section and AR 600–205.

(3) Personnel assigned to duties relating to Army procurement shall inform their immediate superiors of any business affiliations they may have in order to insure that they are not placed in positions which may involve business dealings between the Government and any firms with which they are affiliated.

(4) Appropriate measures shall be taken by all concerned to avoid any grounds for possible criticism of Army procurement on the basis of favoritism.

(5) Army procurement personnel shall not accept from any business firm any money, gift, or favor of value which might influence or be suspected as influencing their conduct in representing the Government in procurement or related transactions. Individuals shall courteously decline to accept or shall return any such gift or favor offered them and shall report to their immediate superiors full information regarding the offer or receipt of any such gift of more than nominal value. In any case where return of a gift is not feasible because of its nature, such as perishability, disposition may be made to a local charitable institution and the donor informed of the disposition.

(6) Procurement personnel shall avoid personal business transactions with firms with which they are dealing in behalf of the Government. Personal loans must not be accepted from such firms on any basis.

(7) Army personnel shall not confer special benefits upon particular suppliers, such as by giving them information of proposed purchases, unless such information is also made available to all competing suppliers (paragraph (e) of this section).

(8) Although hard and fast rules applicable to every incident cannot be laid down covering all contacts with business firms and their representatives, the acceptance of entertainment or hospitality from such firms may tend to compromise both the Army and the recipient and thus impair public confidence in the integrity of business relations between Government and industry. Consequently, procurement personnel must conform to the highest dictates of common sense and good judgment and must consistently take the course that is absolutely sure to be beyond criticism. Individuals should not allow themselves to be placed in situations where unnecessary embarrassment may result from an offer or refusal of the hospitality or business courtesy of a contractor or potential contractor. In the long run it is generally safer to decline any sort of entertainment, hospitality, or other favor than it is to accept with the possibility of overstepping the bounds of propriety. In short, the standards of personal conduct of Army procurement personnel and their relationships with the commercial firms with whom the Army deals must be above reproach at all times.

(b) Selection and evaluation of procurement personnel. The importance of the procurement function to the Army Establishment makes the selection and instruction of procurement personnel a matter of major importance to appointing officials. Such personnel are not only responsible for protecting the Government's interest but also for maintaining the reputation of the Army Establishment for honesty, courtesy, and fair dealing in all relations with contractors.

(c) Ethics of procurement personnel. The business ethics of all persons charged with the administration and expenditure of Government funds must be above reproach and suspicion in every respect at all times. The Supreme Court has aptly stated that as a general rule all men have a moral obligation to refrain from placing themselves in relations which excite conflict between self-interest and integrity.

(d) Limitations on procurement activities. There are certain statutes which make it a criminal offense for an officer or agent of the United States to engage in practices or activities which are at variance with the full measure of duty which he owes to the United States as such an officer or agent. Certain other practices or activities of officers and other personnel are forbidden either by other law or as a matter of policy by the Department of the Army. Applicable criminal statutes are as follows:

(1) Interested persons acting as Government agents. Section 434 of the act of June 25, 1948 (62 Stat. 703; 18 U. S. C. 434).

(2) Officers or employees interested in claims against the Government. Section 283 of the act of June 25, 1948 (62 Stat. 697), as amended by sec. 2 (b) of the act of June 28, 1949 (63 Stat. 280; 18 U. S. C. 283).

(3) Procurement of contract by officer or Member of Congress. Section 216 of the act of June 25, 1948 (62 Stat. 694; 18 U. S. C. 216).

(4) Compensation to Members of Congress, officers and others in matters affecting the Government. Section 231 of the act of June 25, 1948 (62 Stat. 697), as amended by sec. 6 of the act of May 24, 1949 (63 Stat. 90; 18 U. S. C. 281).

(e) Unauthorized release of procurement information. It is the individual responsibility of all personnel, both military and civilian, of the Army Establishment to refrain from releasing to any individual or any individual business concern or its representatives any preknowledge such personnel may possess or have acquired in any way concerning proposed procurements or purchases of supplies by any Procuring Activity of the Army Establishment. Such information will be released to all potential contractors as nearly simultaneously as possible and only through duly designated agencies, so that one potential source of supply may not be given an advantage over another. All dissemination of such information will be in accordance with existing authorized procedures and only in connection with the necessary and proper discharge of official duties. (See also §§ 590.353, 591.202–5, 591.407, 591.451 and 592.150 of this chapter.)

§ 590.456 Responsibility for insuring the availability of funds. Contracting Officers will, prior to the incurrence of an obligation, obtain from the Fiscal Officer a citation of the proper funds to be charged. The Fiscal Officer who is accounting for the funds will be responsible for determining the proper funds to be charged and the sufficiency thereof and for reserving in the fiscal accounts an amount sufficient to pay the obligation to be incurred.

SUBPART E—CONSTRUCTION

§ 590.500 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth the general procurement policies of the Army Establishment with respect to military construction and implements Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title generally rather than a specific section or part thereof.

§ 590.501 New construction. The term "new construction" as used in this Procedure includes the advance planning, preparation of plans, specifications and estimates, design, erection, budgeting and allocation of funds, issuance of directives and provisions of necessary labor, material, equipment, supplies and transportation necessary for: initial erection or installation of any building structure, plant, ground facility, utility system, wharves, airfields, etc., or other real property for the Army built separately or apart from existing facilities.

§ 590.502 Responsibility. The Chief of Engineers is charged with the direction of all work pertaining to new construction for the Army Establishment except as otherwise directed. In the execution of new construction he is charged with the application of Army Establishment construction policies including conformance with construction standards, suitability of the project and for technical and engineering accuracy.

§ 590.503 Authorization. All work under the supervision of the Corps of Engineers, including new work and modifications to work previously authorized, will be accomplished by formal directive issued by the Chief of Engineers. The following, however, are authorized to accomplish emergency construction and necessary repair work for all activities under their jurisdiction:

(a) Major oversea commanders.

(b) Major commanders in United States territories and possessions.

(c) Attachés.

(d) Chiefs of foreign missions (Army).

(e) Chiefs of Army sections of any joint military missions not operating under the jurisdiction of a major oversea command.

§ 590.504 Formal advertising. Unless within the authorizations set forth in Parts 402 and 592 of this title, or unless authorized by law, all construction contracts shall be entered into after formal advertising on a lump sum or unit price basis.

SUBPART F—ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

§ 590.600 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth administrative requirements and procedures in connection with (a) documentary evidence of purchases, (b) execution of contracts, (c) numbering of contracts, (d) approval of awards and contracts, (e) information to be furnished in requesting approval of awards and contracts, (f) distribution of contracts, (g) audits by the Army Audit Agency, and (h) contractor's statement of contingent or other fees. It implements Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title generally rather than a specific part or section thereof.

§ 590.601 Documentary evidence of purchases—(a) Requirement. All purchase transactions made by a Contracting Officer, other than those in which payments are made coincidentally with receipt of the supplies or services, will be evidenced by written contracts (§ 400.201–6 of this title) on approved contract forms, as prescribed by Parts 406 and 596 of this title, and applicable Procuring Activity instructions.

(b) Negotiated purchases not in excess of $1,000. Negotiated purchases not exceeding $1,000, which are based on an oral quotation and involve only one payment, shall not require a written agreement, but shall require a written acceptance (Purchase Order) signed by the Contracting Officer. If the purchase order is based upon a written quotation signed by the contractor, or if the contractor delivered some written instrument evidencing the contractor's assent, the original of such written quotation or instrument must be attached to the original purchase order intended for the General Accounting Office. (See Subpart G of this part.)

§ 590.602 Execution of contracts, requirements—(a) Statements as to availability of funds. A statement as to the availability of funds, funds chargeable, and sufficiency thereof will be made on all contracts. In case of formal advertising, this statement should be inserted in the "Accounting and Appropriation Data" block of U. S. Standard Forms 31 and 33. In negotiated contracts such as DD Form 351, 351–1 and 351–2, the statement should appear in the "Appropriation and other Administrative Data" block. In DA AGO Form 383 (Small purchases procedure), the completion of the block under "Accounting Classification" suffices for such statement.

(b) Contracting Officer's signature. In the case of formal advertising, the personal signature of the Contracting Officer on the award consummates the contract. In the case of negotiated contracts, the Contracting Officer will personally sign on behalf of the United States after the contractor has signed, except where otherwise required by the particular contract form, as for example when WD Form 47 is used. In addition, the Contracting Officer's rank or title will be indicated. Proxy and facsimile signatures are not permissible.

(c) Signature by agents of contractors. Contracts executed on behalf of contractors by agents must be accompanied by evidence, satisfactory to the Contracting Officer, of the agent's authority so to do. In the case of corporations, a certificate in the form included in DD Form 351–2 will be executed; the same officer of the corporation, however, will not execute both the contract and the certificate.

§ 590.603 Numbering of contractual documents.

§ 590.603–1 Purpose. Contracts are numbered with approved letter symbols and serial numbers primarily for use of the General Accounting Office for identification, audit, and filing.

§ 590.603–2 Scope. (a) Documents coming within the purview of §§ 590.602–590.603–8 will include purchase orders, contracts, letter orders, letters of intent, leases, easements, proposal and acceptance documents or other documents evidencing in whole or in part an agreement between the parties, which involves the payment of appropriated funds or collection of funds for credit to the Treasurer of the United States, and hereinafter referred to as contracts.

(b) Purchase agreements utilizing DA AGO Form 383 (Purchase Order or Delivery Order and Voucher for Purchases and Services Other Than Personal) do not come within the purview of §§ 590.603–590.603–8 and as such are not subject to any of the provisions contained in §§ 590.603–590.603–8.

§ 590.603–3 Contracts required to be numbered. (a) Contracts involving an amount determined at the time of making the agreement to be $5,000 or more will be numbered.

(b) Contracts involving more than one payment and/or collection regardless of amount will be numbered.

(c) All other contracts shall be unnumbered except in the following instances:

(1) When any related supplemental document, required to be deposited with the General Accounting Office, is transmitted in connection with an unnumbered contract, and if such related supplemental document serves to remove the contract from the category of contracts not required to be numbered, a number will be assigned to the original contract and will be shown on such supplemental document in addition to the voucher citation in the event any payments have been made prior to the issuance of the supplemental document.

(2) When later determination is made that more than one payment and or collection is involved or that the amount to be paid or collected equals $5,000 or more, a number must also be assigned to such contract.

(d) In instances cited in paragraph (c) (1) and (2) of this section, in which payments have been made, a citation to the name of the Disbursing Officer, period of account, and number of the disbursement or collection voucher to which the original unnumbered contract was attached will be promptly furnished to the General Accounting Office by the Contracting Officer concerned.

§ 590.603–4 System of numbering—(a) Contracts. Contract numbers, when required, will be placed in the space provided therefor on the printed contract form, or, if no such space is provided, in the upper right-hand corner of the contract separate from all other information. A typical example of the general scheme of numbering is illustrated below.

DA–09–177 AIII–1

(1) The capital letters "DA" represent the Army Establishment.

(2) "09–177" represents the station number of the contracting installation. SR 35–218–5 (Special Regulations of the Department of the Army) contains a list of domestic and foreign station numbers which will be used. Request for assignment of station numbers not included in the publications cited herein will be addressed to the Office, Chief of Finance (Attn.: Accounting Procedures Division).

(3) "AIII" represents letter symbols assigned to the agency (in this case, Third Army) that normally would receive allocations of funds from the Comptroller of the Army and under whose jurisdiction the installation commander has received authority to obligate funds and execute a contract.

(i) Letter symbols for use in numbering contracts must be approved by the Comptroller General of the United States prior to use.

(ii) Requests for assignment of letter symbols to activities not included herein will be by letter addressed to the Office, Chief of Finance (Attn.: Receipts and Disbursements Division), which will secure the necessary approval from the Comptroller General of the United States.

(iii) The following letter symbols have been approved by the Comptroller General of the United States for use by the agencies indicated below:

Agency	Symbol
Finance Corps	FD
Signal Corps	SC
Ordnance Corps	ORD
Quartermaster Corps	QM
Transportation Corps	TC
Adjutant General's Corps	AG
Chief of Staff	CSA
Judge Advocate General's Corps	JAG
National Guard Bureau	NG
Military Attaché	ID
Secretary of the Army	OSA
Budget Office, Department of the Army	BUD
Military District of Washington	MDW
Chemical Corps	CML
Army Medical Service	MD
Corps of Engineers	ENG
United States Military Academy	MA
National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice	N
Provost Marshal General	PMG
Chief of Chaplains	CH
Information and Education Division	IE
Medical Procurement Agency	MPA
Special Weapons Project	XZ
First Army	AI
Second Army	AII
Third Army	AIII
Fourth Army	AIV
Fifth Army	AV
Sixth Army	AVI
United States Army, Alaska	ASK
United States Army, Caribbean	CAR
Army Advisory Group, China	AGC
Far East Command	FEC
United States Army, Europe	EUC
United States Army, Pacific	PAC
Trieste United States Troops	TRC
United States Forces, Austria	USFA
Joint Brazil-United States Military Commission	BMC

(4) The figure "1" represents the first contract made by the particular installation. Contracts will be numbered by each installation in numerical sequence beginning with number 1 and going through 999,999 without regard to the fiscal year, type of contract, or contracting activity. Contracts issued at each installation beyond 999,999 will be identified by a new series of numbers distinguished by the use of the capital letter "A" at the end thereof. Likewise, any additional series necessary beyond the same symbol will be distinguished by additional capital letters "B," "C," "D," etc. This subparagraph, of itself, does not require that a new series of numbers beginning with No. 1 be instituted.

(b) Supplemental Agreements and Change Orders. Supplemental agreements and change orders will bear the same identification as the contract which is modified or amended thereby. In addition thereto, such supplemental agreements and change orders will be identified further by adding the numerals 1, 2, 3, etc., respectively, following the words "Supplemental Agreement" or "Change Order." The same series of consecutive numbers will be used for both supplemental agreements and change orders. Example: 1st Modification—Supplemental Agreement No. 1 to Contract DA–09–177 AIII–1; 2d Modification—Change Order No. 2 to Contract DA–09–177 AIII–1.

(c) Subcontracts. Contracting Officers will urge contractors holding prime contracts with the Army Establishment to include in their subcontracts a reference to the number of the prime contract involved. Prime contractors will also be asked to urge their subcontractors to include a reference to the number of the applicable prime contract in sub subcontracts, and so on down the line. This practice will materially assist in accounting and auditing and particularly in the settlement of terminated subcontracts of all tiers.

§ 590.603–5 Determination of numbering agency (a) General. Letter symbols are a requirement of the Comptroller General of the United States to indicate command control rather than appropriation chargeable. Contracts which are executed under supervision of a Procuring Activity, regardless of the source of funds used to finance the contracts, are to be regarded and designated by numbering as that Activity's responsibility.

(b) Commanding officer acting in dual capacity. Where the commanding officer of an installation is acting in a dual capacity as commanding officer of a class II installation and commanding officer of a class I activity and the installation has only one station number which is assigned for the class II installation, a request may be submitted to the Chief of Finance (Attn.: Accounting Procedures Division) for the assignment of a station number to be used in connection with procurement relating to post activities (class I). The request must contain the correct title of the Procuring Activity, which title must be different from the one presently assigned. If desirable, the title may be changed by the addition of the word "Post" to the present title.

§ 590.603–6 Delivery orders. Section 590.603–3 is not applicable to delivery orders (DA AGO Form 383 or other form of delivery order) evidencing interbranch or interdepartmental purchases. As to delivery orders not in excess of $1,000 and thus permitted to be executed on DA AGO Form 383, see subpart G of this part. As to delivery orders in excess of $1,000 and thus required to be executed on other form of delivery order, such delivery orders shall not be numbered pursuant to the system described in § 590.603–4, but may be given such other identification as may be prescribed by the Heads of Procuring Activities. When partial payments through unforeseen contingencies later become necessary, the total number of all payments will not exceed four, and similar action will be taken as indicated in § 590.705–6 (b) (2).

§ 590.603–7 Assignment, cancellation, or alternation of contract number. The elements of a contract number (including letter symbol and station number) shall not be altered in any way without the express approval of the Chief of Finance. Requests for assignment, cancellation, or alteration of letter symbols should be addressed to the Office of the Chief of Finance (Attn.: Receipts and Disbursements Division), which will secure the necessary approval from the Comptroller General of the United States. Generally, only those agencies which receive allocations of funds direct from the Comptroller of the Army will be approved.

§ 590.603–8 Miscellaneous provisions. (a) For the purpose of identification and control, a separate numbering system may be established by the installation concerned. This number will not be used as an integral part of, or be in conflict with, the numbering system established herein.

(b) All changes or modifications to contracts now in effect or those hereinafter executed shall be governed, with respect to contract numbering, by regulations in effect at time original contract was executed.

§ 590.604 Approval of awards of contracts. Subject to any further instructions which may be issued by the Head of a Procuring Activity, awards of contracts (including supplemental agreements, change orders and other contract modifications) may be made by Contracting Officers without the approval of the award by higher authority, except as stated below. Information to be included with requests for approvals is set forth in § 590.605.

§ 590.604–1 Personal or professional services. Contracts (including supplemental agreements, change orders, and any other type of modification) for personal or professional services will be submitted for approval by the Secretary in accordance with § 592.204 of this chapter, regardless of amount and regardless of the authority used to negotiate. Requests for approval will be addressed to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch,

Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army. Approval of award requirements for Architect-Engineer contracts are set forth in § 590.604–4.

§ 590.604–2 Leases of Government property. Leases of Government property, regardless of amount, except as heretofore or hereafter may be delegated by the Secretary will be submitted for approval by the Secretary. Requests for approval will be addressed to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

§ 590.604–3 Construction and rehabilitation of installations. (a) Chief, current procurement branch. Awards of negotiated contracts for the construction and rehabilitation of installations for use in connection with the program to expand the United States Armed Forces will be submitted to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, for approval when (1) entered into by a Contracting Officer under the jurisdiction of the Chief of Engineers and the amount involved exceeds $15,000,000 or (2) entered into by the continental armies or the Military District of Washington and the amount involved exceeds $1,000,000.

(b) Chief of Engineers. Awards of negotiated contracts entered into by the Chief of Engineers for construction and rehabilitation of installations for use in connection with the program for expansion of the United States Armed Forces will be approved by the Chief of Engineers, or personally selected members of his organization designated by him so to do, when the amount involved does not exceed $15,000,000. Such selected members are not authorized to redelegate this authority. Subject to any further instructions which may be issued by the Chief of Engineers, awards of contracts included in this paragraph amounting to less than $100,000 do not require approval of higher authority.

(c) Continental Army Commanders. Awards of negotiated contracts entered into by the continental armies or the Military District of Washington for construction and rehabilitation of installations for use in connection with the program for expansion of the United States Armed Forces will be approved personally by continental Army Commanders or their Deputies, or the Commanding General of the Military District of Washington or his Deputy when the amount involved exceeds $250,000 but does not exceed $1,000,000. Awards of such contracts may be approved personally by subordinate commanders or their deputies, provided that such subordinate commanders or their deputies have been granted such authority personally by the respective Army Commander or the Commanding General of the Military District of Washington, when the amount involved exceeds $100,000 but does not exceed $250,000. Continental Army Commanders and the Commanding General of the Military District of Washington may also personally select alternates for the subordinate commanders to exercise this authority personally.

(d) Commanding Generals of Major Oversea Commands. Awards of negotiated contracts entered into by major oversea commands for the construction and rehabilitation of installations for use in connection with the program for expansion of the United States Armed Forces will be submitted to the Commanding Generals of major oversea commands for approval when the amount exceeds $1,000,000. The authority to approve awards of such contracts amounting to $1,000,000 or less may be delegated by Commanding Generals of major oversea commands to the extent deemed necessary to selected individuals within their commands. Such selected individuals are not authorized to redelegate this authority.

§ 590.604–4 Architect-Engineer contracts. (a) Awards of Architect-Engineer contracts under which the Government is to acquire a finished design job or engineering report, including all required drawings, plans, and specification, and under which there is little, if any, direct Government supervision of the contractor, and the fee is based upon the results to be accomplished, will be submitted to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, for approval, except that until June 30, 1951 (1) the Chief of Engineers and such other officers and individuals as he may personally designate to procure such services, under the provisions of the act of August 2, 1946 Public Law 600, 79th Cong.; 5 U. S. C. 55a), may approve such awards when the contract amount does not exceed $500,000, and (2) the following major oversea commanders: Commanding General, United States Army, Europe; Commander-in-Chief, Far East and Commanding General, United States Forces, Austria, and such other officers and individuals, as each may personally designate, to procure such services, under the provisions of the act of August 2, 1946, supra, may approve such awards when the contract amount does not exceed $300,000.

(b) Awards of Architect-Engineer contracts for services other than those described in paragraph (a) of this section will be submitted for approval of the Secretary, except that until June 30, 1951 (1) the Chief of Engineers and such other officers and individuals as he may personally designate to procure such services, under the provisions of the act of August 2, 1946 (Public Law 600, 79th Cong.; 5 U. S. C. 55a) may approve such awards when the contract amount does not exceed $500,000, and (2) the following major oversea commanders: Commanding General, United States Army, Europe; Commander-in-Chief, Far East and Commanding General, United States Forces, Austria, and such other officers and individuals, as each may personally designate, to procure such services, under the provisions of the act of August 2, 1946, supra, may approve such awards when the contract amount does not exceed $300,000. Requests for approval, except those which may be approved under (1) or (2) of this paragraph, will be addressed to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

§ 590.604–5 Research and development contracts—(a) Chief, Current Procurement Branch. Awards of negotiated contracts for research and development within the scope of an approved research and development project will be submitted to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, for approval when the total contract amount involved exceeds $100,000.

(b) Heads of technical services. Awards of negotiated contracts for research and development within the scope of an approved research and development project will be approved personally by heads of technical services or their deputies when the amount involved exceeds $25,000 but does not exceed $100,000.

(c) Chiefs of Field Purchasing Offices. Awards of negotiated contracts for research and development within the scope of an approved research and development project when the amount involved does not exceed $25,000 may be approved personally by the chief or acting chief of an appropriate field purchasing office, provided that such chief or acting chief has been granted such authority by his head of technical service personally. Heads of technical services may also select personally alternates for the chiefs of field purchasing offices to exercise this authority personally. Subject to any further instructions which may be issued by the head of a technical service, contracts included in this paragraph amounting to less than $1,000 do not require approval by higher authority.

§ 590.604–6 Utility service contracts. The Chief of Engineers, acting for the Secretary of the Army, is the Department of the Army Power Procurement Officer. The Chief of the Repairs and Utilities Division, Office, Chief of Engineers, is the Deputy Department of the Army Power Procurement Officer. The purchase of utility services is governed by SR 420–470–1 (special regulations governing utilities contracts), as changed. The following utility service contracts and modifications entered into within the United States, its territories and possessions, shall be submitted for approval to the Department of the Army Power Procurement Officer (Office of the Chief of Engineers), including the information required by § 590.605 (b)—

(a) Contracts or modifications of existing contracts for electric service where the service to be procured involves a demand of 500 kilowatts or more.

(b) Modifications of electric service contracts where the basic contract, or as it may have been modified previously is for 500 kilowatts or more, or where the modification increases the basic contract with any previous modifications thereof to 500 kilowatts or more, or where the basic contract use may have increased automatically to 500 kilowatts or more.

(c) All other utility service contracts where the service to be procured is of an estimated cost of $10,000 per year or more; contract modifications where the basic contract, or as it may have been modified previously, entails an estimated cost of $10,000 a year or more; or where the modification increases the estimated annual cost under the basic contract with any previous modifications thereof to $10,000 a year or more; or where the basic cost may have increased automatically to $10,000 a year or more; or which contain a provision that they are entered into subject to the approval of the Department of the Army Power Procurement Officer and will not be binding until so approved.

(d) Contracts and modifications thereto for utility services which provide that they are entered into subject to the approval of the Department of the Army Power Procurement Officer and will not be binding until so approved.

(e) All utility service contracts which deviate from approved contract forms.

§ 590.604–7 Negotiated contracts in general. Award approvals required for all negotiated contracts for supplies, services or construction, not included in §§ 590.604–1 through 590.604–6 are as indicated below.

(a) Chief, Current Procurement Branch. Awards of negotiated contracts not included in §§ 590.604–1 through 590.604–6, except as otherwise specifically delegated in writing, will be submitted to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, for approval when (1) the amount exceeds $5,000,000 and the contract is being entered into by a Contracting Officer under the jurisdiction of a technical service, or (2) the amount exceeds $100,000 and the contract is being entered into by a Contracting Officer not under the jurisdiction of a technical service.

(b) Heads of technical services. Heads and acting heads of technical services are authorized to approve awards of negotiated contracts not included in §§ 590.604–1 through 590.604–6 in amounts not in excess of $5,000,000. This authority may be redelegated by heads of technical services to the extent deemed necessary to personally selected members of their organizations. Such selected members are not authorized to redelegate this authority. Subject to any further instructions which may be issued by the chief of a technical service, contracts included in this paragraph amounting to less than $100,000 do not require approval by higher authority.

§ 590.604–8 Major oversea commands. The authority, set forth in § 592.604–7 (a), of the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, to grant approval of certain awards of contracts is delegated to, and will be exercised by, Commanding Generals of major oversea commands for those contracts entered into by Contracting Officers under their jurisdiction. This authority may be redelegated by Commanding Generals of major oversea commands to the extent deemed necessary to personally selected personnel of their headquarters and subordinate commands or offices. Such selected personnel are not authorized to redelegate this authority.

§ 590.604–9 Modifications of contracts. Any supplemental agreement, change order, or any other type of modification of a contract coming within the purview of §§ 590.604–1 through 590.604–5 and 590.604–7, which has the effect of increasing the original contract price so that the total amount exceeds the monetary limitation beyond which the Head of the Procuring Activity is authorized to approve the award of a contract will be submitted to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, for approval.

§ 590.604–10 Exigency and competition impracticable. Requests requiring approval of higher authority of contracts or awards of contracts negotiated under the authority of §§ 402.202 and 592.202 of this title (Public Exigency) may be submitted by telegraph or radio. In addition to the information required by § 590.605, requests for approval of awards of contracts negotiated under the authority of §§ 402.210 and 592.210 of this title will set forth the specific grounds upon which impracticability of competition was based.

§ 590.604–11 Contract review. At least one competent person, whether or not presently assigned to such office, will be assigned to the duty of reviewing in an advisory capacity all contracts prior to contract approval by the subordinate commanders or chiefs of field offices. In those instances wherein this is impracticable this provision may be waived upon determination made to that effect by the army commander, major oversea commander, Commanding General, Military District of Washington, or the head of a technical service, as appropriate.

§ 590.604–12 Approval clause. If approval of a contract, supplemental agreement, or change order by any officer or official of the Army Establishment other than the Contracting Officer is required pursuant to this Procedure (a) the "Approval of Contract" clause set forth in § 406.105–2 of this title will be included, (b) all changes and deletions will have been made before such approval is requested, and (c) the contract will not be valid until such approval has been obtained.

§ 590.605 Information to be furnished when requesting approval of contracts or awards—(a) Information required by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch. Requests for approval of contracts or awards of contracts, including supplemental agreements, change orders, or other modifications, referred to in §§ 590.604–1 through 590.604–5 and 590.604–7, will include the following information in accordance with the particular type of contract being entered into, in the order shown and to the extent practicable in the particular procurement. (Requests for approval of contracts or awards, including supplemental agreements, change orders, or other modifications, will be submitted in sufficient copies to assure that they will be received in quadruplicate in the Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.)

(1) Name and address of contractor.

(2) Location of plant where contract is to be performed.

(3) Contract number, if assigned. (The number of the supplemental agreement, change order, or modification, in addition to the basic contract number will be shown, if applicable.)

(4) Supplies or services being procured, showing quantities, unit costs, and total cost. (5) Contract placement.

(i) Cite authority under which negotiated.

(ii) If award is being made without competition, state justification therefor.

(iii) Number of companies invited to submit proposals.

(iv) Total number of responsive quotations received, plus number of incomplete or unresponsive quotations.

(v) If it is proposed to make the award to other than the low offeror or offerors, give complete reasons therefor.

(vi) Comparison of all offers received for each item by company, item, quantity, and unit price.

(6) Prices paid on last previous procurement.

(i) Date.

(ii) Quantity.

(iii) Unit price.

(iv) Justification for increase in price, if applicable.

(7) Current market price, if applicable, plus or minus adjustments for packing, changes from commercial article, etc.

(8) Realistic cost breakdown, showing:

(i) Amount of estimated material (including percentage of material handling expense and estimated total amount).

(ii) Amount of estimated labor (estimated number of hours for each class, cost per hour for each class, and total for each class).

(iii) Percentage and amount of labor overhead for each class of labor.

(iv) Estimated total amount for special tools, dies, jigs, etc., and statement as to the special tooling clause to be included in the contract.

(v) Estimated amount of other direct costs, other than facilities, subcontracting, purchased parts, and "off-the-shelf" items. (List separately each item amounting to 5 percent or more of the total estimated cost.)

(vi) Estimated amount of other indirect costs. (List separately each item amounting to 5 percent or more of the total estimated cost.)

(vii) Percent of cost and total general and administrative expense.

(viii) Total (excluding facilities, subcontracting, purchased parts, "off-the-shelf" items, profit, or fixed-fee).

(ix) Percent of and total profit on cost or percent of and total fixed-fee.

(x) Names and addresses of all subcontractors and estimated amount to be awarded to each subcontractor when subcontracts are estimated to amount to either $25,000 or more, or 5 percent or more, of the total estimated cost of the prime contract.

(xi) Estimated total amount of purchased parts.

(xii) Estimated total amount of "off-the-shelf" items to be billed at prices which include profit.

(xiii) Percent of and total general and administrative expense on subcontracting, purchased parts, and "off-the-shelf" items.

(xiv) Percent of and total profit or fixed-fee on subcontracting, purchased parts, and "off-the-shelf" items.

(xv) Estimated total amount of facilities to be procured.

(xvi) Total estimated definitive contract amount.

(xvii) Form of price redetermination or escalation clause to be included in the contract.

(xviii) Percent of maximum upward revision under price redetermination or escalation clause.

(9) Amount of Government estimate of costs in form shown in (8) above.

(NOTE: All information listed in (6), (7), (8) and (9) need not be furnished in each case if determined by the Contracting Officer to be inapplicable to the procurement being effected.)

(10) Number of contract form to be used.

(11) List any deviations from standard or approved contract clauses, and reasons for such deviations.

(12) List all Patent and Copyright clauses to be included in the contract.

(13) Brief description of delivery or performance schedule.

(14) List all estimated royalty payments, if any, and to whom to be paid.

(15) Estimated amount of Federal excise tax to be paid per unit.

(16) Description and value of Government property to be furnished contractor.

(17) Statement as to whether the financial condition of the proposed contractor is considered satisfactory. If performance bond is to be furnished, state amount.

(18) Statement as to whether the past performance record of the proposed contractor is considered satisfactory. If contractor is engaged in current contract or contracts with the Procuring Activity concerned, state the estimated contract amount and status of deliveries.

(19) Funds to be expended.

(i) Total allocated.

(ii) Total obligated, exclusive of this contract.

(20) Priority of project or procurement involved.

(21) Statement as to whether the aggregate number of employees of the contractor, including its affiliates, is less than 500.

(22) Specifications under which procurement is being effected. (If other than authorized specifications, complete justification therefor.)

(23) In addition to the above, any pertinent data in the form of explanations, comparisons, or comments concerning the unusual phases of the procurement.

(b) Information required by the Department of the Army Power Procurement Officer. Requests for approval of utility contracts and modifications referred to in § 590.604–6 will include the following information:

(1) Complete load data.

(2) Estimated maximum demand in kilowatts.

(3) Estimated average monthly demand in kilowatts.

(4) Estimated average monthly usage in kilowatt-hours.

(5) Estimated power factor.

(6) Similar applicable information for estimated usage of water, gas, sewage disposal, and steam contracts.

(7) Any other available pertinent information that will facilitate review, including but not limited to, analysis of available rates and charges, supporting data for estimates of demand and use, and difficulties experienced in negotiation.

§ 590.606 Distribution of contracts. Contracts will not be distributed until properly signed by all parties, and approved, if approval is required, and U. S. Standard Form 1036 (Statement and Certificate of Award) is attached in those cases where required. In the case of those contracts which require approval and such approval does not appear on the contract itself or the cover sheet, there will be attached a statement or certificate by the Contracting Officer that the award or the contract has been approved and the name, title, and office of the person by whom approved, together with a reference to the date thereof and/or to the administrative file containing the original approval. In the case of those contracts (whether numbered or unnumbered) made as a result of formal advertising, U. S. Standard Form 1036 will be executed and attached.

§ 590.606–1 Definitions. The following terms are used in connection with the distribution of contracts:

(a) Signed number. A signed number is the contractual instrument with the required signatures.

(b) Authenticated copy. An authenticated copy is a copy of the contractual instrument shown to be authentic by any one of the following:

(1) Certification as a true copy,

(2) Official seal, or

(3) Photostatic process.

The signatures on such copies may be either facsimile, stamped, or typed. In lieu of copying the signature of the parties, signing the contract or supplemental agreement and of the witnesses thereto, and the corporate certification or certificate, if any, as to the authority of the persons who signed the original for the corporate contractor, the Contracting Officer or his authorized representative may execute the following certificate on the copies furnished the Fiscal Office and the Financing Disbursing Office for their use:

"I certify that this is a true copy of the document properly signed and witnessed ---------- and that the corporate certification therein was properly executed.
(Date)

(c) Copy. A copy is a copy of the contractual instrument, including the names of the contracting parties, but lacking authentication.

§ 590.606–2 Secret and confidential contracts. All instructions relating to distribution of contracts are subject to the provisions of Part 505 of this chapter, and all other current instructions governing the safeguarding and disclosing of information affecting the national security of the United States. Copies of secret or confidential contracts submitted to the General Accounting Office will be transmitted under two covers. In the case of lump sum (fixed price) contracts, each cover is to be addressed to the General Accounting Office, Army Audit Branch, Building 203, 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis 20, Missouri. In the case of cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts, each cover is to be addressed to Contract Service Section, Audit Division, General Accounting Office, Washington 25, D. C. The inner cover only will be marked "Personal Confidential."

§ 590.606–3 Numbered contracts. Subject to such special instructions as may be issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, numbered contracts will be distributed as follows:

(a) The original signed number of each lump sum (fixed price) contract will be forwarded to the General Accounting Office, Army Audit Branch, Building 203, 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis 20, Missouri. The original signed number of each cost or cost-plus-fixed-fee contract will be forwarded to the General Accounting Office, Washington 25, D. C., Attention: Contract Service Section, Audit Division. If a surety bond or bonds are required in support of a contract whether lump sum or cost-plus-fixed-fee, see § 599.108 of this chapter. When the contract covers purchases made for one or more of the other military departments of the Department of Defense, with payment to be made by the military department or military departments receiving the supplies or services, there also will be forwarded with the original signed number additional certified or photostatic exact copies of the contract in a number equal to the number of receiving military departments.

(b) The duplicate signed number will be filed with the Contracting Officer or as directed by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned.

(c) The triplicate signed number will be forwarded to the contractor.

(d) An authenticated copy will be forwarded to the Disbursing Officer for his files.

(e) Additional authenticated copies or unauthenticated copies will be distributed as directed in appropriate Department of the Army publications or by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned. Such copies may be distributed prior to the distribution of the signed numbers, provided each is plainly marked as an "Advance Copy," and other adequate safeguards are taken to insure that there will be no improper fiscal charges due to contracts not being carried through to execution.

§ 590.606–4 Unnumbered contracts. (a) The original signed number will be furnished the Disbursing Officer and will be attached to the voucher on which payment is made and will accompany such voucher to the General Accounting Office, Army Audit Branch, Building 203, 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis 20, Missouri. If a surety bond or bonds were required in support of a contract, whether lump sum or cost-plus-fixed-fee, a suitable notation, by rubber stamp or otherwise, that a bond has been executed (e. g., "Performance Bond Executed"; "Payment Bond Executed") will be placed on the contract for the information of the General Accounting Office.

(b) The duplicate signed number will be forwarded to the contractor.

(c) An authenticated copy will be furnished the Disbursing Officer for his files.

(d) Additional copies will be prepared and distributed as directed in appropriate Department of the Army publications or by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned. Such copies may be distributed prior to the distribution of the signed numbers, provided each is plainly marked as an "Advance Copy," and other adequate safeguards are taken to insure that there will be no improper fiscal charges due to contracts not being carried through to execution.

§ 590.606–5 Bread contracts. One copy of each contract for the purchase of bread which covers a period of 30 days or longer, and provides for an average daily delivery in excess of 300 pounds, will be forwarded to the Office of The Quartermaster General (Attn.: Subsistence Branch, Supply Division).

§ 590.606–6 Supplemental agreements and change orders. Signed numbers and copies of supplemental agreements and change orders will be distributed in the same manner as is prescribed for the contracts to which they pertain and the Contracting Officer will note on his retained copy of the supplemental agreement or change order the date on which the contractor's number was delivered or mailed to him.

§ 590.606–7 Purchases under contracts of other military departments and other government agencies.

(a) Delivery orders covering such purchases will be distributed in accordance with § 590.606–4.

(b) The Head of the Procuring Activity concerned will secure compliance with all special instructions of the respective agencies which make the contracts.

(c) Vouchers submitted to the General Accounting Office, Army Audit Branch, may relate to less than all of the items covered by the delivery order. If the original signed number of the delivery order has not already been so submitted, it will be submitted with the first voucher; and when vouchers are submitted covering subsequent payments, a reference will be made to the first voucher. The reference should contain the date on which the invoice covered by the first voucher was paid and the name of the Disbursing Officer by whom such payment was made.

§ 590.606–8 Distribution of procurement contracts to the regional offices of the Army Audit Agency. (a) Contracting Officers of the Army Establishment will distribute authenticated copies of signed contracts and other necessary information as enumerated below to the regional offices of the Army Audit Agency in order that the Army Audit Agency may plan for the performance of the independent audits.

(1) Four copies of all cost (or cost-sharing), cost-plus-a-fixed-fee, and time and materials contracts (including letter contracts); also four copies of all changes, amendments, and supplements to such contracts.

(2) Four copies of any other type of negotiated contract (including letter contracts), where the total compensation to be paid the contractor is based, in whole or in part, on the actual costs incurred, the quantity of work or service performed, the time element in performing the work or service, or on other similar variable factors and the Government has the contractual right of audit; also four copies of all changes, amendments, and supplements to such contracts.

(3) Three copies of all letter contracts and fixed-price contracts which provide for price redetermination, price escalation, advance payments, partial payments, or Government furnished property; also three copies of all changes, amendments, and supplements to such contracts.

(b) In addition to the contractual documents required by paragraph (a) of this section, the Contracting Officer will forward promptly an original and one copy of all cost statements, financial data, and other information furnished by the contractor in accordance with each contract referred to in the above subparagraphs, or requested by the Contracting Officer. The copy of the cost statements and other data furnished will be retained by the Army Audit Agency and filed with the audit work papers, and the original returned at the time of submission of the audit report or at the time the Army Audit Agency determines an audit is not to be initiated.

(c) Distribution of the above indicated contractual documents and supplemental information will be made by the procuring office to the audit regional office of the area in which the performance will be accomplished. Special arrangements may be made by agreement between a procuring office and the audit agency.

(d) Distribution will not be made to regional offices of the Army Audit Agency of contracts entered into by the technical services or army commands for the purchase of services not covered in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 590.607 Audits of procurement contracts by the Army Audit Agency. Requirements and procedures pertaining to audits of procurement contracts are set forth in §§ 590.607–1—590.607–3.

§ 590.607–1 Cost-reimbursement type contracts—(a) Mandatory audits. The Army Audit Agency will schedule and perform audits on the types of contracts included under § 590.606–8 (a) (1).

(b) Differences and disputes. (1) Where questions arise during the course of an audit of a cost-reimbursement type contract which appear to be in need of either amplification, substantiation, or clarification by the Contracting Officer prior to the submission of the formal report, the Auditor, without delay, will attempt to obtain such amplification, substantiation, or clarification from the Contracting Officer. The Contracting Officer, in turn, will cooperate fully in the prompt resolution of any such problem.

(2) If the audit referred to above discloses any costs which, in the Auditor's opinion, do not appear to be reimbursable under the terms of the contract, or because they appear to be excessive or otherwise unreasonable, the Auditor will recommend such costs for nonacceptance. If the Contracting Officer does not concur in the recommendations, he will, within 5 days after receipt thereof, advise the Regional Auditor in writing of his reasons for nonconcurrence and, pending resolution of differences, will not approve the disputed items for payment in whole or in part. The costs on which the Regional Auditor and the Contracting Officer are in agreement may be paid pending disposition of the differences. The Regional Auditor will consider the comments of the Contracting Officer and will reappraise his original recommendations in the light thereof. If the Regional Auditor believes that his original recommendations should be changed, he will revise or supplement his recommendations accordingly. However, should the Regional Auditor still believe that his original recommendations are proper, he will prepare and submit to the Contracting Officer any additional information and data in support thereof as he may consider pertinent under the circumstances. In either case the Regional Auditor's written reply will be transmitted within 5 days of receipt of the Contracting Officer's comments.

(3) Generally any differences in opinion with respect to allowability of costs should be capable of resolution at the Contracting Officer and Regional Auditor level. However, if agreement cannot be reached after the exchange of correspondence required in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the Contracting Officer, within 5 days after receiving the Regional Auditor's reply to his previous comments, will transmit the complete file direct to the Head of the Procuring Activity involved, forwarding a copy of the transmittal letter to the Regional Auditor. Upon receipt of copy of the transmittal letter, the Regional Auditor will forward his complete file, including the audit work papers, to the Chief, Audit Division, Office of the Comptroller of the Army, sending a copy of his transmittal letter to the Contracting Officer.

(4) Within 7 days after receipt of the files, the designated representative of the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned and the designated representative of the Comptroller of the Army, acting as an informal board, will make a final decision on the items in dispute and jointly will advise the Contracting Officer direct with respect thereto with an information copy to the Regional Auditor. All decisions of the informal board will have the written approval of the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned and of the Comptroller of the Army.

(5) In the event that the Head of the Procuring Activity and the Comptroller of the Army are unable to agree, the dispute will be referred direct to the Under Secretary of the Army, who will render a final decision on the issues involved.

(6) Determination reached by the informal board will have the effect of a directive and will be so recognized by both the Contracting Officer and the Regional Auditor. Decisions by the Under Secretary of the Army will also be in the form of a directive and will have the same effect. Payment will then be made in accordance with the decisions reached. Such decisions do not preclude a contractor from seeking redress under any applicable provisions of the contract.

§ 590.607–2 Fixed-price contracts—(a) When audits will be performed. Audits of cost data submitted by contractors in connection with the negotiation of or revision of prices (or settlements) under fixed-price contracts will be performed—

(i) When requested by the Contracting Officer. As a matter of policy, Contracting Officers should request and obtain audits of actual or estimated costs in connection with negotiation of prices under all fixed-price contracts where cost is an important element to be considered, except where—

(a) Contracts are not large enough to justify the cost of an audit, or

(b) Special contingencies may arise, such as time limitations in establishing prices. Exceptions to audit, as outlined above, shall be held to the minimum.

(2) Whenever the Regional Auditor deems it advisable (provided the Government has a contractual right of audit) after giving full consideration to the amount involved, the nature and acceptability of the cost data furnished by the contractor, knowledge (or lack thereof) of the contractor's accounting policies and procedures, the adequacy of the contractor's cost system, unusual circumstances that might adversely affect the Government's interest, or any other available information that would be of value in arriving at the decision. The Contracting Officer will be advised promptly of any such decision by the Regional Auditor, and the reasons therefor, no later than 10 days after receipt of any of the financial data set forth in § 590.606–8 (b).

(b) Action required upon receipt of request for or the initiation of an audit. Promptly upon receipt of the audit request set forth in paragraph (a) (1) of this section or when initiating an audit under paragraph (a) (2) of this section, but no later than 10 days after receipt of an audit request or receipt of the data set forth in § 590.606–8 (b), the Army Audit Agency will advise the Contracting Officer of the approximate date the audit will be started and within 5 days after the actual starting date, the Auditor will further advise the Contracting Officer of the estimated date of submission of the audit report. In the event that conditions which arise during the performance of the audit indicate the audit report cannot be completed within the estimated period and in order not to delay unduly any needed payment of acceptable items of cost to the contractor, the Auditor will promptly advise the Contracting Officer of the cause of the extension of the estimated date of completion and will furnish a brief interim report indicating the amount which, in the Auditor's opinion, and subject to the Contracting Officer's approval may be provisionally paid at that time; in the case of pending precontract negotiations, the Contracting Officer may, in his discretion, proceed with negotiations without delay until completion of the audit report, should the situation so warrant.

(c) Scope of audits. The scope of each audit requested by a Contracting Officer will be the minimum required in the opinion of the Auditor under the circumstances to justify him in giving an opinion regarding the reasonableness and fairness of the contractor's claims regarding costs actually incurred or estimated to be incurred, either as a basis for actual contract settlement or for price negotiation, as the case may be. The scope of the audit will depend upon the Auditor's judgment regarding the contractor's financial and accounting policies and procedures, including the reliability of his cost system and internal controls; in no case will a detailed audit of transactions or price estimates be made beyond the extent necessary under the circumstances. Whenever the Auditor determines to expand the scope of auditing to include extensive detailed work, an explanation of the reasons therefor will be furnished in the audit report.

(d) Action of contracting officer upon receipt of audit report. Contracting Officers are primarily responsible for determination of prices negotiated under fixed-price contracts, including those containing price redetermination clauses. Audit reports on negotiated fixed-price contracts, while advisory only, are necessary and important in that they furnish Contracting Officers adequate information with which to negotiate fairly with the contractor's representatives, and must be fully considered. In accordance with the requirements of § 590.606–8 (a) copies of contractual documents reflecting the determination of prices or settlements must be furnished promptly by the Contracting Officer to appropriate regional officers of the Army Audit Agency.

(e) Action of Army Audit Agency upon receipt of contractual documents indicating settlement of price redeterminations, etc. Upon receipt of the contractual documents indicating revision of prices (or final settlements), the Army Audit Agency will evaluate the new prices in the light of the advisory audit report and other available information for overall reasonableness. A reaudit or reexamination of the contractor's accounts will not be performed. In those cases where the new prices appear largely disproportionate to the information available, a report will be submitted through the Comptroller of the Army to the AC of S, G–4, GSUSA (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for information and investigation, which office will take necessary corrective action, if deemed appropriate. The Comptroller of the Army will be furnished with information indicating disposition of the report.

§ 590.607–3 General—(a) Accounting counsel. Contracting Officers may utilize, and the Army Audit Agency will furnish accounting counsel at the request of the Contracting Officer, whenever the Contracting Officer determines that such counsel is desirable and appropriate in the negotiation of a contract either in its initial pricing stage or during or at the completion of its performance.

(b) Reports of irregularities. If the basis for an audit request, or if discovered in the course of an audit, information as to irregularities or unusual matters will be promptly furnished to the Auditor, or to the Contracting Officer, for appropriate consideration. Reports by the Auditor indicating suspicion of fraud will be furnished to the Contracting Officer who will be governed by § 590.303.

§ 590.608 Contractor's statement of contingent or other fees. The prescribed procedure with respect to obtaining information concerning contingent or other fees paid by contractors for soliciting or securing Government contracts is set forth below.

§ 590.608–1 Contracts subject to §§ 590.608 to 590.608–9—(a) Definition of contract. As used throughout §§ 590.608—590.608–9, the term "contract" means any contract for—

(1) The purchase of real property, personal property, or services (except services which are required to be performed by an individual contractor in person under Government supervision and paid for on a time basis and except public utilities services by public utility companies);

(2) The construction or repair of public buildings or works;

(3) The lease of real or personal property for Government use; or

(4) The sale or lease of Government-owned real or personal property.

(b) Applicability. Sections 590.608—590.608–9 apply to every contract except a contract—

(1) Awarded pursuant to formal advertising in which the contract price at the time of award does not exceed $25,000;

(2) Negotiated for perishable subsistence supplies in which the contract price at the time of execution does not exceed $25,000; or

(3) Negotiated (other than for perishable subsistence supplies) in which the contract price at the time of execution does not exceed $1,000.

§ 590.608–2 Form—(a) Definition. As used throughout §§ 590.608—590.608–9, the term "form" means U. S. Standard Form 119 (Contractor's Statement of Contingent or Other Fees for Soliciting or Securing Contract), which is prescribed for use.

(b) Use of form. The form shall be used without deviation in cases in which—

(1) Sections 590.608—590.608–9 require its use and

(2) The Contracting Officer desires to obtain information from contractors or prospective contractors with respect to whether they have employed or retained any company or person (other than a full-time employee) to solicit or secure contracts.

When, after use of the form, further information is required, it may be obtained in any appropriate manner.

(c) Additional instruction. See § 596.580 of this chapter.

§ 590.608–3 Covenant Against Contingent Fees—(a) Procurement contracts. Every contract, defined by § 590.608–1 (a) (1), (2), or (3), is required to contain the "Covenant Against Contingent Fees" clause set out in § 406.103–20 of this title.

(b) Disposition contracts. Every contract defined by § 590.608–1 (a) (4) will contain the following clause:

COVENANT AGAINST CONTINGENT FEES

The Contractor warrants that no person or selling agency has been employed or retained to solicit or secure this contract upon an agreement or understanding for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee, excepting bona fide employees or bona fide established commercial or selling agencies maintained by the Contractor for the purpose of securing business. For breach or violation of this warranty the Government shall have the right to annul this contract without liability or in its discretion to require the Contractor to pay, in addition to the contract price or consideration, the full amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee.

§ 590.608–4 Procurement and disposition by formal advertising. Every invitation for bids shall contain the following representation checked in the appropriate box:

Bidder represents that he ☐ has, ☐ has not, employed or retained a company or person (other than a full-time employee) to solicit or secure this contract, and agrees to furnish information relating thereto as requested by the Contracting Officer.

(a) Negative representation. If the otherwise successful bidder makes such representation in the negative, the Contracting Officer may accept such representation and make the award in accordance with regularly established procedures.

(b) Affirmative representation. If the otherwise successful bidder makes such representation in the affirmative, the Contracting Officer, without delay in the making of the award in accordance with regularly established procedures, will request a completed form, executed in triplicate by such bidder.

(c) Failure or refusal to make representation. If the otherwise successful bidder fails to check the appropriate box, such failure will be considered a minor informality and, prior to award, such bidder will have an opportunity to check the appropriate box or otherwise to make such representation. A refusal by such bidder, after such opportunity has been afforded, will require rejection of his bid. Such refusal will be reported to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned or his duly authorized representative.

(d) Failure or refusal to furnish form. If the otherwise successful bidder fails or refuses to furnish a completed form upon request of the Contracting Officer, the matter will be referred to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned or his duly authorized representative for instructions.

(e) Action by Contracting Officer. If the Contracting Officer, after award, believes that the otherwise successful bidder has made misrepresentations or has acted in a manner inconsistent with the "Covenant Against Contingent Fees" clause, he shall request (if he has not already received) a completed form from such bidder, and shall report the matter for determination by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned or his duly authorized representative. If the Contracting Officer is satisfied that the completed form and any other available information does not evidence any action inconsistent with the "Covenant Against Contingent Fees" clause or any misrepresentations, he may accept the form, without further action with respect thereto.

§ 590.608–5 Procurement or disposition by negotiation. In the course of the negotiation of every contract, the contractor, prior to the execution of such contract, will be required to file a signed statement containing a representation identical with that required by § 590.608–4 and a completed form where such representation is in the affirmative. Otherwise, the procedures described in § 590.608–4 shall be followed except that no contract shall be executed if a determination is required by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned or his duly authorized representative. If the Contracting Officer considers that the interest of the Government will be prejudiced by the suspension of negotiations pending such determination, he shall so advise the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned and request immediate instructions with respect thereto.

§ 590.608–6 Statement instead of form. In lieu of the requirement of a completed form in each case where a bidder or proposed contractor has made an affirmative representation by checking the appropriate box, it is considered administratively desirable to permit such bidder or proposed contractor to furnish one completed form to each purchasing office with which it deals. Accordingly, the schedule of every invitation for bids shall contain a provision as follows:

If the bidder, by checking the appropriate box provided therefor in his bid, has represented that he has employed or retained a company or person (other than a fulltime employee) to solicit or secure this contract, he may be requested by the Contracting Officer to furnish a complete Standard Form 119, "Contractor's Statement of Contingent or Other Fees for Soliciting or Securing Contract." If the bidder has previously furnished a completed Standard Form 119 to the office issuing this invitation for bids, he may accompany his bid with a signed statement, (a) indicating when such completed form was previously furnished, (b) identifying by number the previous invitation for bids or contract, if any, in connection with which such form was submitted, and (c) representing that the statements in such form are applicable to this bid. In the course of negotiating a contract the Contracting Officer may accept a similar statement from the proposed contractor.

§ 590.608–7 Authority of Head of a Procuring Activity. The Head of a Procuring Activity or his duly authorized representative, shall, in any case forwarded by a Contracting Officer pursuant to §§ 590.608—590.608–9, take or cause to be taken one or more of the following actions as appropriate:

(a) If award, or execution of a negotiated contract, has not occurred, determine whether the bidder or proposed contractor should be rejected.

(b) Recover the amount of any improper fee.

(c) Annul contract, if awarded or executed.

(d) Determine the future eligibility, as a contractor, of the bidder or proposed contractor, in accordance with § 590.303.

(e) Determine whether the case should be referred in accordance with § 590.303 with respect to determining matters of fraud.

§ 590.608–8 Presentation of representations and completed forms. The Contracting Officer shall preserve at least one executed copy of any representation made or completed form, or statement in lieu of form furnished, together with any other records for the purpose of making such reports as may be required.

§ 590.608–9 Contracts in foreign countries. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, mandatory use of the form is not required.

SUBPART G—SMALL PURCHASES PROCEDURE

§ 590.700 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth the small purchases procedure for the Army Establishment. It implements subchapter A, chapter IV of this title generally rather than a specific part or section thereof.

§ 590.701 Definition. Small purchases may be defined as purchases of supplies or services (other than personal) in an amount not exceeding $1,000.

§ 590.702 Formal advertising. Small purchases may be effected by the use of formal advertising (Parts 401 and 591 of this title); that is, by the use of U. S. Standard Form 33 (Invitation, Bid, and Acceptance) or other appropriate form, when the Contracting Officer determines that it is to the interest of the Government to obtain maximum competition by means of formal advertising.

§ 590.703 Negotiation. Section 2 (c) (3), Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, authorizes the negotiation of purchases and contracts without advertising if the aggregate amount involved does not exceed $1,000. Section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, however, will be used as authority to negotiate purchases and contracts not exceeding $1,000 during a period of national emergency declared by the President or by Congress and when the Secretary has made a determination in accordance with §§ 402.201 and 592.201 of this title to negotiate under section 2 (c) (1). §§ 402.203 and 592.203 of this title set forth additional requirements and instructions with respect to purchases not exceeding $1,000 which are applicable even though the procurement is negotiated under the provisions of §§ 402.201 and 592.201 of this title, except for the citation of statutory authority.

§ 590.704 Methods of consummating small purchases by negotiation. (a) Small purchases effected by negotiation will be consummated by the method requiring the use of the Order and Voucher for Purchase of Supplies or Services Other Than Personal (DA AGO Form 383), except (1) as otherwise excluded by this subpart, and (2) when, in the opinion of the Contracting Officer, local circumstances make the use of this method impracticable. Maximum use, however, will be made of this method in all possible instances. This method, requiring the use of DA AGO Form 383, is set forth in detail in § 590.705.

(b) In those instances where the method requiring the use of DA AGO Form 383 cannot be used, small purchases effected by negotiation may be consummated by use of one of the following methods:

(1) Government's Order and Contractor's Acceptance (WD Form 47).

(2) Purchase Order (WD Form 18).

(3) Other appropriate authorized forms.

§ 590.705 Order and Voucher for Purchase of Supplies or Services Other Than Personal (DA AGO Form 383).

(a) The Order and Voucher for Purchase of Supplies or Services Other Than Personal (DA AGO Form 383) is used only in connection with purchases which do not exceed $1,000 and the purpose of the form is to effect such purchases in the simplest manner. It provides in one document a purchase (or delivery) order a receiving and inspection report, a property voucher, and when supported by a vendor's invoice, a payment voucher. The use of this form and DA AGO Form 383b (continuation sheet) according to the procedure herein will simplify purchasing procedure, will increase efficiency by simple actions, will effect economy in personnel and overhead, will reduce quantities of forms used and attendant paper work, and will expedite payments to vendors.

(b) Form 383 is comprised of the following parts: 383, part 1; 383c, parts 2 through 10; 383a is the reverse of all 10 parts. Form 383b (continuation sheet) is comprised of the following parts: 383b, part 1; 383d, parts 2 through 10. These forms are being furnished as 10-part manifold forms, snap-out construction.

§ 590.705–1 Approval of the Comptroller General. The Comptroller General of the United States has authorized the use in the Department of the Army of DA AGO Forms 383 and 383b (revised July 1, 1949) under the following conditions:

(a) These forms shall be limited to purchases which do not exceed $1,000.

(b) These forms will not be used where more than one payment is initially expected to be made. When partial payments through unforeseen contingencies later become necessary, the total number of all payments will not exceed four.

§ 590.705–2 Use of Form 383 as a purchase order—(a) General. Form 383 is authorized for use at stations, depots, and other procuring offices in procuring any supplies or services (other than personal) where:

(1) The amount of the purchase order does not exceed $1,000.

(2) Only one payment and one delivery are initially expected to be made.

(3) No special contract form is required.

(4) No special contract clauses are necessary. (See § 590.705–10 (f).)

(b) Authority for negotiation. (1) Although the purchase of supplies by negotiation may be authorized by some other subparagraph of section 2 (c), Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, when the amount thereof does not exceed $1,000, section 2 (c) (3) will be utilized as the authority, except as indicated in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. For example, the purchase of medical supplies by negotiation is authorized by section 2 (c) (7), but if the aggregate amount does not exceed $1,000, section 2 (c) (3) will be utilized as the authority, except as indicated in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) During a period of a national emergency declared by the President or by Congress and when the Secretary has made a determination in accordance with §§ 402.201 and 592.201 of this title, section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 will be used as authority to negotiate purchases and contracts when the amount does not exceed $1,000. During such periods contracts will bear the citation prescribed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(3) During the period of the present national emergency, declared by the President on December 16, 1950, contracts for amounts not exceeding $1,000 will cite as authority, section 2 (c) (1), Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Pub. Law 413, 80th Cong.) and Presidential Proclamation 2914. DA AGO FORM 383 will be modified accordingly.

§ 590.705–3 Use of Form 383 as a delivery order. (a) Form 383 is authorized for use in making purchases under all "open end" or "term" contracts which provide that deliveries will be made upon call of contracting officers, where:

(1) The aggregate amount of the delivery order does not exceed $1,000.

(2) Only one payment and one delivery is initially expected to be made.

(b) Proper reference will be made to the basic purchase agreement against which the purchase is made in the space provided.

§ 590.705–4 Use of Form 383 as a receiving and inspection report. (a) Form 383 is designed for use as a tally-in, an inspection report, and a receiving report.

(b) When inspection and/or acceptance is to be other than at destination, the place of such inspection and/or acceptance will be shown in the "Supplies or Services" column on the form. (See clause 6 on reverse of Form 383.)

(c) Upon receipt of the items provided for in the order, the accountable officer or his authorized representative will complete the following on Form 383:

(1) Quantity accepted (face of form).
(2) Date received (reverse of form).
(3) Delivered by (reverse of form).
(4) Stock record account voucher number (reverse of form).
(5) Signature with grade and designation (reverse of form).
(6) Account serial number (reverse of form), and
(7) Date signed (reverse of form).

The accountable officer will request disposition instructions from the contracting officer for nonacceptable items and overages.

(d) If inspection is made other than at destination, appropriate copies of Form 383 will be furnished to the inspection office. Accomplished inspection reports will be transmitted to the consignee unless otherwise indicated in each specific case by the Contracting Officer.

(e) The accomplished receiving report will be forwarded within 24 hours after receipt of shipment.

§ 590.705–5 Use of Form 383 as a vendor's invoice.

(a) Special care will be exercised to have each vendor follow the instructions on Form 383 regarding preparation of vendor's invoice.

(b) When it is desired to utilize Form 383 as a vendor's invoice, the following certificate will be typed or stamped in the "Supplies or Services" column on the original copy for the General Accounting Office, copy for the Disbursing Officer, and copy for the Fiscal Officer: "I certify that the above bill is correct and just and that payment therefor has not been received." Only the original will be signed by the vendor.

§ 590.705–6 Use of Form 383 as a voucher—(a) One payment. Form 383 will be completed and processed as any other payment voucher.

(b) More than one payment. (1) Where more than one payment becomes necessary, original Form 383 will be completed for those supplies or services accepted and will be processed for payment in the normal manner.

(2) Subsequent payments not exceeding three will be made on additional Forms 383 citing same order number as the original and indicating in the "Order No." block of the Form 383 the number of the partial shipment (i. e., 1st partial, 2d partial, and final). Prior to or at the time of processing original Form 383 (mentioned in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph) for payment, an additional Form 383 will be prepared, setting forth the balance of the undelivered supplies and distributed in the normal manner, except that no copy will be distributed to the vendor. The above procedure will be repeated until final delivery is received. A citation to the name of the Disbursing Officer, period of account, and Disbursing Officer's voucher number will be made to the original and subsequent vouchers on subsequent vouchers respectively. For example, first subsequent voucher will cite original voucher, second subsequent voucher will cite original voucher and first subsequent voucher, etc. Each voucher will be a complete transaction within itself and the cross reference will allow the General Accounting Office to reconcile the entire purchase.

(c) Standard Form 1034, Revised (Public Voucher for Purchase of Supplies and Services Other Than Personal) will not be used in connection with Form 383 and vice versa.

§ 590.705–7 Use of Form 383b. (a) Form 383b is the continuation sheet for Form 383.

(b) It will be used when the space for the list of articles or services on Form 383 is not sufficient for the listing of all the supplies or services (other than personal) covered by the purchase.

(c) Appropriate copies will be attached securely to the corresponding copies of Form 383 and distribution will be accomplished with Form 383.

§ 590.705–8 Use of Forms 383c and 383d. (a) Form 383c (yellow) is the memorandum copy for Form 383.

(b) Form 383d (yellow) is the memorandum copy for Form 383b.

§ 590.705–9 Distribution of copies of Form 383. (a) The copies of Form 383 which are numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10 at the bottom of the form, will be distributed as follows and as shown on the flow chart in § 590.705–13.

(1) Copy 1 (original). General Accounting Office (white).
(2) Copy 2. Finance Officer (yellow).
(3) Copy 3. Vender (yellow).
(4) Copy 4. Contracting Officer (yellow).
(5) Copy 5. Fiscal Officer (yellow).
(6) Copy 6. Fiscal Officer (yellow).
(7) Copy 7. Accountable Property Officer (yellow).
(8) Copy 8. Receiving report (yellow).
(9) Copy 9. Army Audit Agency (yellow).
(10) Copy 10. Optional local use (yellow).

Additional copies of Forms 383c and 383d, when authorized in each specific case by the appropriate Head of a Procuring Activity, will be prepared on yellow paper.

(b) Reference is made to the flow chart in § 590.705–13, which indicates the processing of the several copies of Form 383.

§ 590.705–10 General instructions. The following general instructions are applicable whether the form is used as a purchase order or as a delivery order:

(a) The "Item No." column will be used for assigning a reference or a sequence number to the supplies or services (other than personal) being procured.

(b) Such numbers (stock number, part number, etc.) as are necessary for identification will be included as a part of the nomenclature of the supplies being procured.

(c) Local reproduction of Forms 383, 383a, 383b, 383c, and 383d, is not authorized.

(d) When more than one payment or one delivery are initially contemplated, Form 383 will not be used, but the purchase will be effected by the use of other appropriate form.

(e) Form 383 will not be given a contract number under any circumstances. The "order number" space provided is for such local identification as is necessary.

(f) The contract clauses printed on the reverse of Form 383 and on Form 383a are deemed sufficient for all purchases accomplished by use of Form 383. In the event additional contract clauses or deviations are required for specific purposes, prior approval for their use will be obtained from the Assistant Chief of Staff G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Approval is granted to delete the following clauses from Form 383a in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions:

(1) Convict Labor.
(2) Nondiscrimination in Employment.

(g) These procedures are deemed sufficient for all purchases accomplished by use of Form 383. In the event that additional forms or instructions are necessary for attachment to Forms 383, 383a, 383b, 383c, and 383d, prior approval will be secured from the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). The attaching of vendor's invoices which are required for payment; specifications, drawings, packaging and marking instructions, and other similar data which are considered an adjunct or a part of the description of the supplies listed on the face of Form 383 or 383b are permissible without approval. Similarly, the attachment of foreign language translations for use of this form in foreign countries, is authorized, provided both the standard forms and the foreign language translations contain a statement that in the event of a disagreement in the text of the English and foreign translations, the English text will govern.

(h) Such supplemental operating procedures as may be necessary in connection with routing of copies of Form 383 by a purchasing office may be issued by that purchasing office if deemed essential. No additional supplemental operating or similar procedures or instructions other than those contained herein will be issued by Heads of Procuring Activities without prior approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

(i) Form 383 will not be utilized for the acceptance of bids after formal advertising.

(j) Supplemental agreements and change orders, other than notice of termination for default, will not be issued in connection with a purchase made on Form 383.

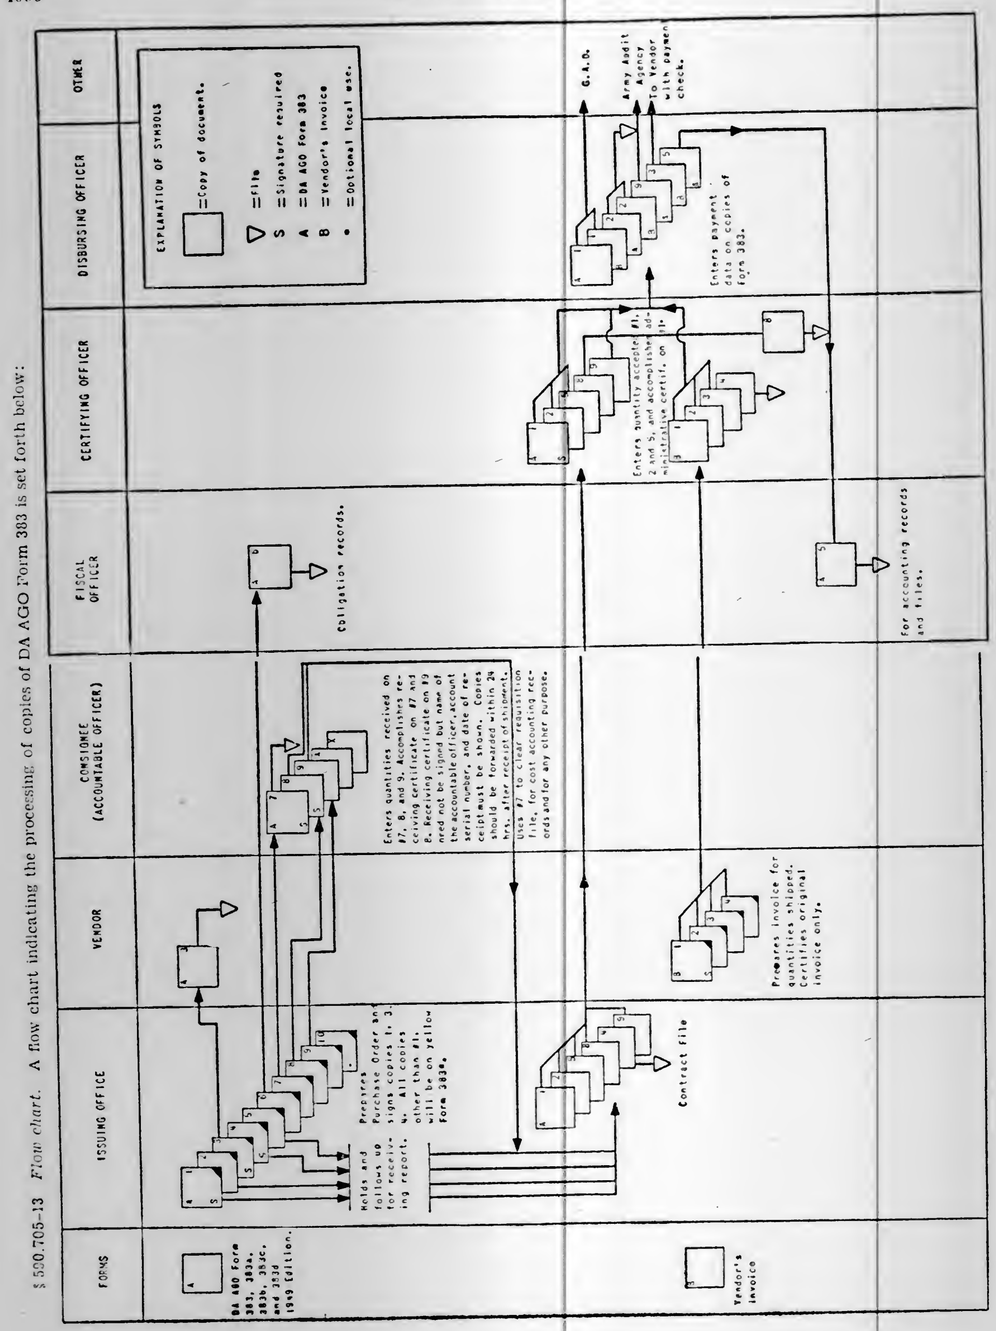
(l) If all of the supplies or services ordered on Form 383 are terminated for default, notice of termination for default to the vendor will be by letter and a copy of the letter will be filed with the original (white) copy in the Contracting Officer's file, and copy will be furnished each addressee on the original distribution list.

(2) If any or a part of the supplies or services ordered by use of Form 383 are terminated for default, notice of termination for default will be by letter, and a copy will be furnished to each addressee on the original distribution list.

(3) When situations arise which make modifications necessary, such as an increase or decrease in quantities or prices, or a change in name of vendor, time of delivery, discount terms, or any other change other than termination for default, the change will be made by canceling the original order of Form 383, including all copies thereof, and issuing a new order on Form 383 showing the desired terms and necessary information.

(k) If the purchase is based on a written quotation, the original of the quotation will be processed with the original (white) of Form 383 to the General Accounting Office. (See flow chart, § 590.705–13.)

(l) Overages and shortages in the quantities called for on an order, which are caused by conditions of loading, shipping, packing, or allowances in manufacturing processes, may be accepted provided the aggregate amount of the order (including any accepted overages and shortages) does not exceed $1,000. When any such overages or shortages are accepted, an adjustment of the total dollar amount for payment will be made in the "Differences" section of DA Forms 383 and 383c after the "Quantity Accepted" column has been completed.



(m) The Contracting Officer is responsible for obtaining from the Fiscal Officer a citation of the proper funds to be charged. The signature of the Contracting Officer on copy No. 1 of Form 383 will constitute the certification that funds are available under the appropriation and allotment cited in the accounting classification.

(n) Form 383 will not be used in making purchases when shipment of supplies are to be consigned to a water or aerial port of embarkation for transhipment to an oversea destination. In such instances, purchase will be accomplished by use of other appropriate purchase forms in conjunction with the Matériel Inspection and Receiving Report (Oversea) (DA AGO Form 604).

§ 590.705–11 Use of master mats. Installations which are unable to utilize the 10-part forms furnished may utilize master mats only after specific approval is obtained from the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Procurement or supply of master mats will be as directed by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 590.705–12 Additional instructions. See § 590.512 of this chapter.

§ 590.705-13 Flow chart. A flow chart indicating the processing of copies of DA AGO Form 383 is set forth below:

SUBPART H—PROCUREMENT ACTION REPORTING

§ 590.800 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth instructions for the preparation of the Procurement Action Report. It implements the Armed Services Procurement Regulation generally rather than a specific part or section thereof.

§ 590.801 General. To conform with the provisions of Public Law 413, 80th Congress, Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, and with instructions of the President of the United States, and to provide the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, with management data essential to staff control over Army procurement, procurement action reports will be prepared on the forms and submitted at the times herein prescribed. Heads of Procuring Activities (as defined in § 400.201–4 of this title) may issue implementing instructions, as required, to their Contracting Officers. A copy of each such implementation will be forwarded, as issued, to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 590.802 Data to be included. Data reported will cover all procurement actions (see § 590.807) transacted under the provisions of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation and this Procedure by all Contracting Officers of the Army Establishment. Procurement actions for civil functions, such as Engineers Civil Works and Alaskan Communications System, are not included in this reporting requirement.

§ 590.803 Forms. Reports will be prepared on DA AGO Form 377 (Procurement Action Report, Monthly Summary), (Reports Control Symbol CSGLD–190) (R–2)), and DD Form 350 (Individual Procurement Action Report) (Reports Control Symbol DD–MB–245). Supply of forms will be requisitioned through normal publications supply channels.

§ 590.804 Number of copies and routing. (a) The original of DA AGO Form 377 and the original of each DD Form 350 will be forwarded direct to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch). A copy of DA AGO Form 377 will be forwarded through channels to the appropriate Heads of Procuring Activities. Letters of transmittal to accompany these reports are not necessary and will not be used. Heads of Procuring Activities may require copies of DD Form 350 to be furnished by their Contracting Officers.

(b) For each unclassified or restricted procurement action having a value over $10,000 and subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (Subpart F of Part 411 of this title), two additional copies of DD Form 350 will be prepared and forwarded with the original to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), who will transmit the pertinent parts thereof to the Department of Labor in lieu of Standard Form 99 (Notice of Award of Contract). These additional copies will not be prepared for actions bearing a security classification higher than restricted.

(c) An additional copy of DD Form 350 will be submitted to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) when the dollar value of the action reported is $500,000 or more.

§ 590.805 Frequency and due dates. The procurement action reporting forms (DD Form 350 and DA AGO Form 377) will be submitted as follows:

(a) Class I Installations and Activities will forward the original DA AGO Form 377 and the original of each DD Form 350 at the same time. These forms for the completed calendar month will be forwarded not later than the 5th day of the following month.

(b) Class II Installations and Activities will prepare DD Form 350 for each reportable procurement action and forward this form within four working days after the date an individual action as described in § 590.807 is transacted. DA AGO Form 377 will be forwarded not later than the 10th day of the following month. (See § 590.809 (a)).

(c) Oversea Purchasing Offices will forward the original DA AGO Form 377 and the original of each DD Form 350 at the same time. These forms for the completed calendar month will be forwarded not later than the 10th day of the following month.

(d) Negative DA AGO Forms 377 will be submitted by all reporting activities when appropriate.

§ 590.806 Reporting activities. The Procurement Action Report (DA AGO Form 377 and DD Form 350) will be prepared by all Contracting Officers of the Army Establishment (in the continental United States, its territories and possessions, major oversea commands, attaches and foreign missions), designated as such pursuant to § 590.450, transacting purchases, procurements or executing contracts payable from appropriated funds (§ 590.251).

§ 590.807 Procurement actions to be reported. (a) A "procurement action" means any type of agreement or order for the procurement of supplies or services which obligates funds as set forth in § 590.806. It includes, by way of description and without limitation, awards and preliminary notices of awards; contracts of a fixed-price, costs, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee, exchange, or time and material; delivery orders, job orders, task orders or task letters issued against open end or indefinite quantity contracts; letter orders, letters of intent, and purchase orders. It includes modifications (amendments, change orders, and supplemental agreements) with respect to any of the foregoing (see Subpart D of Part 402 of this title). It also includes the purchasing, renting, leasing, or otherwise obtaining supplies or services from either private sources or Governmental agencies outside of the Department of Defense. (For interdepartmental procurement, see § 590.808 (r).) It excludes requisitions transferring supplies or services within, or between the military departments or the joint procurement agencies of the Department of Defense. (For interservice procurement, see § 590.808 (r).)

(b) Term contracts, open-end contracts, indefinite quantity contracts, or agreements for obtaining supplies, which do not include specific quantities or total dollar value, will not be reported by the activity which executes such contract. Activities which execute individual purchase instruments or orders against such contracts will report each individual action of $10,000 or over on DD Form 350 and will report the sum of all purchases irrespective of dollar value on DA AGO Form 377. Similarly, job orders against Army Establishment manufacturing installations will not be reported, but contracts for materials necessary to accomplish the job order will be reported.

(c) DD Form 350 will be submitted only for individual procurement actions having a value of $10,000 or over. DD Form 350 will be submitted for each modification (amendment, change order, or supplemental agreement) increasing or decreasing the value of a contract by $10,000 or more, regardless of value of basic contract and regardless of whether basic contract was executed prior to effective date of Public Law 413, 80th Congress (May 19, 1948.) As an exception to the above instructions, every procurement action negotiated under sections 2 (c) (11) and 2 (c) (16) of Public Law 413 will be reported on DD Form 350 without regard to any dollar value limitation. No modifying actions having a dollar value of less than $10,000 will be reported on either DD Form 350 or DA AGO Form 377 except those modifying contracts negotiated under authority of sections 2 (c) (11) and 2 (c) (16) of Public Law 413.

§ 590.808 Instructions for preparation of DD Form 350 (Individual Procurement Action Report). The instructions contained herein supplement the specific instructions printed on the reverse side of DD Form 350.

(a) Item 1: report number. This number will represent the serial number of DD Form 350 submitted by each office, installation, activity, or individual within the current fiscal year. The report covering the first procurement action taken in fiscal year 1951 by each office will bear the number "1", and consecutively thereafter for subsequent procurement actions. The report covering the first procurement action taken in each succeeding fiscal year, beginning July 1, will again bear the number "1". The numbering will be in accordance with the date of the report, Item 26, and not according to the date of the procurement action, Item 11.

(b) Item 2: department. Enter "Army" if not so pre-printed.

(c) Item 3: bureau, technical service, or command. Enter the name of the Procuring Activity having responsibility for the procurement action; such as Quartermaster Corps, European Command, Third Army, National Guard, etc. (See § 590.809 (d))

(d) Item 4; Procuring office and address. Enter title, address, and station number in sufficient detail to establish readily the identity of the office, installation, activity, or individual preparing the report.

(e) Item 5a; contractor name and business address. Enter the name and business address, including street or post office box, of the contractor or vendor with whom the procurement action was transacted.

(f) Item 5b; division of. In cases where the contractor or vendor identifies himself as a division of a parent company, enter the name of the parent company concerned.

(g) Item 6; place of manufacture. Enter the actual location of the vendor's place of business from which the items will be supplied or the plant in which the items will be produced. If the items are to be supplied from a vendor or plant to which the contractor subcontracts the order, or for which the contractor acts as a broker or factor, the name and location of the vendor or plant from which the items will be supplied will be entered. If the supply or production source is unknown, not available, or identical with item 5a, so indicate. Completion of the form will not be delayed for lack of this information.

(h) Item 7; contractual instrument number. Enter the complete number of the contract to which this report pertains in accordance with § 590.603.

(i) Item 8; kind of procurement action. Place an "X" mark in the appropriate box to show whether:

(1) Action is a preliminary instrument such as a letter of intent or letter order;

(2) Action is a new definitive contract (includes Purchase Order);

(3) Action is a definitive contract (includes Purchase Order) superseding a preliminary instrument; if this is the case, record under item 10 only the change (debit or credit) from value reported for preliminary instrument;

(4) Action is an order other than Purchase Order such as Job Order, Task Order, or Delivery Order; or

(5) Action is a modification to a previous contract; if action is a modification, place another "X" mark in the appropriate box to show whether it is an amendment, change order or supplemental agreement, and enter the number thereof.

(j) Item 9; description of commodity or service. Enter a brief, explicit description of the major items being procured. This description must be in sufficient detail to permit identification of the commodity for determining purchase assignment. In making this determination, the use of the commodity is frequently a deciding factor, especially in the case of spare parts for trucks, for radios, for clocks, etc. Accordingly, the use of the commodity will be indicated, where applicable, in addition to the brief description of the item. Heads of Procuring Activities may require, by supplemental instructions, detailed lists of all the separate items to be appended. If the description of the item (s) bears a security classification, enter only the word "classified" in this space. When the dollar value of the procurement action is $100,000 or more, a notation will be made in Item 9 showing the Department of Defense Claimant Program Code Number (applicable to use of DO ratings); this may be abbreviated as DDCP–04, etc.

(k) Item 9a; unit. Enter, if practicable, the unit of measure of the item being procured: viz, each, ton, square feet (sq. ft.), etc.

(l) Item 9b; quantity. Enter, if practicable, the quantity of the item being procured.

(m) Item 10; value of procurement action. Enter the total value (in whole dollars only omitting cents) of the procurement action being reported on the form. If the action is a modification (amendment, change order, or supplemental agreement), enter for this item only the value of the specific action being reported. If an increase, indicate by the symbol DD (for debit); if a decrease, indicate by the symbol CR (for credit). Contracts terminated for any reason will be reported as decreases. The new contract or purchase against a defaulting contractor will then be reported in the usual manner.

(n) Item 11; date of procurement action. Enter the day, month, and year the procurement action (as defined in § 590.807) was taken. This should be the date upon which a binding agreement was reached.

(o) Item 12; estimated completion date. Enter month and year provided in the contract for the completion of the contract or, if such date is not included in the contract, an estimated date on which performance under the contract is expected to be completed.

(p) Item 13; contract subject to Walsh-Healey Act. Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show whether contract is subject to Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act in accordance with Subpart F of Part 411 of this title. If contract is subject to Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, place an "X" in appropriate box to show whether contractor is manufacturer or regular dealer in accordance with § 400.201–9 of this title and § 590.201–9. Generally, the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act is not applicable to procurement effected outside the United States, its territories and possessions (see § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv)).

(q) Item 14; appropriation identification. Enter the appropriation identifications to include serial numbers of appropriation, allotment, project, and object class. Enter opposite each appropriation identification the corresponding dollar obligation. Where more than five different appropriation symbols are involved, enter only the five against which the largest obligations are being made. When there is insufficient space to enter the appropriation identification in Item 14, the space provided in Item 24—Remarks, may be used.

(r) Item 15; contract placement. Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show whether action is:

(1) Interservice. The term "interservice" refers to procurements within the Department of Defense only. It covers:

(i) Orders placed by one military Department against contracts entered into by another military Department.

(ii) Orders placed by activities of one military Department against contracts entered into by other activities of the same military Department.

(iii) Orders placed against contracts entered into by joint procuring agencies, viz: ASPPA, ASMPA.

(2) Interdepartmental. The term "interdepartmental" refers to procurements from or through Federal departments, agencies, institutions, and corporations other than those of the Department of Defense. It covers—

(i) Orders placed by a military Department, or agency thereof, against contracts entered into by any Federal department, agency, institutions, or corporation outside the Department of Defense.

(ii) Contracts placed by a military Department, or agency thereof, with any Federal department, agency, institution, or corporation outside the Department of Defense. If sub-item (1) Interservice or (2) Interdepartmental has been checked in item 15, do not fill out remainder of form except for date of report and signature, item 26.

(3) Advertised. Secured on bids as a result of formal advertising. (See § 401.101 of this title.

(4) Negotiated. Negotiated in accordance with the exceptions authorized by Public Law 413, 80th Congress and described in §§ 402.201 through 402.217 and 592.201 through 592.217 of this title.

(5) Modification authorized by existing contract, which was advertised.

(6) Modification authorized by existing contract, which was negotiated. Unless the modifying action being reported is authorized by the provisions of the basic contract and has been transacted pursuant to such provisions (viz, change order authorized by changes clause), do not check either subparagraph (5) or (6) of this paragraph.

(s) Item 16; type of contract. Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show whether contract is:

(1) Fixed price;

(2) Fixed price, including price redetermination clause in accordance with §§ 596.152–1 or 596.152–3 of this chapter ((2a) fixed price, with downward revision only in accordance with § 596.152–2);

(3) Fixed price, including price escalation clause in accordance with § 596.151 of this chapter;

(4) Fixed-price, incentive;

(5) Cost;

(6) Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee;

(7) Time and material; or

(8) Other. (Specify if contract is of another price characteristic not listed above.)

(t) Item 17; negotiated under exception Public Law 413. (1) If item 15 (4) or item 15 (6) has been checked to indicate a negotiation, then place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show the most applicable exception, as authorized by the cited paragraphs of Public Law 413, 80th Congress, under which the action was negotiated. The exceptions are listed in the same sequence as they appear in Public Law 413 and in Part 402 of this title. Guidance in the application of the exceptions to specific negotiated procurement actions is given in Parts 402 and 592 of this title.

(2) Sub-item (1) National Emergency will be used only when it is determined by the Secretary to be necessary in the public interest during a period of national emergency declared by the President or by the Congress.

(3) No entry will be made for sub-item (3) (Not over $1,000) because no action less than $10,000 will be reported on this form except under sub-items (11) (Research and Development) and (16) (Industrial Mobilization).

(4) No entry will be made under sub-item (4) (Personal or Professional Services) unless the contract was negotiated under this exception and complies with the requirements and limitations of §§ 402.204–2 and 592.204–2 of this title. Attention is directed to § 592.204–2 (a) of this chapter, which requires all contracts negotiated under this exception to be executed subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Army.

(5) A contract negotiated under sub-item (10) (Competition Not Practicable) should specifiy the reason. Examples of instances when competition would not be practicable are set forth in § 402.210 of this title.

(6) A contract negotiated under sub-item (17) (Otherwise Authorized By Law) must specify the law, other than Public Law 413, which authorized such negotiation.

(7) If a contract has been negotiated under sub-items (11) through (16) inclusive, which are further identified by the symbol,' place an additional "X" in appropriate box to show the source of authority for negotiation. (See Subpart C of Part 402 of this title.)

(8) Procuring Activities of the Army Establishment will not use sub-item (18) (sec. 2 (c), Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947) but where a construction contract has been negotiated, sub-item number (2), (6), (10), (11), (12), or (15), as applicable, will be checked.

(u) Item 18; contractor represents that (1) Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show whether contractor represents that the aggregate number of employees of his organization and its affiliates is less than 500 or is 500 or more. This item is not applicable to procurement effected outside the United States, its territories and possessions.

(2) Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show whether contractor represents he has employed or retained a company or person (other than a full-time employee) to solicit or secure this contract.

(v) Item 19; contract purpose. Place an "X" mark in the appropriate box to show purpose of contract in accordance with listing. Descriptions of the general purposes of different types of contracts are given below, but such examples are not to be construed as being restrictive to the matter set forth. They include other purposes related to the general classification given. It is left to the discretion of the Contracting Officer to determine and check the most applicable purpose if two or more purposes are involved.

(1) Supply. Applies when procurement is for supplies and is accomplished with appropriated funds.

(2) Architectural-engineering. Applies to contracts for the performance of architectural and engineering services.

(3) Construction. Applies to the construction, alteration or repair of buildings, bridges, roads, or other real property.

(4) Lease. Applies to the lease of real or personal property which involves the expenditure of appropriated funds.

(5) Maintenance. Applies to supplies and non-personal services involving maintenance of equipment, munitions and supplies (excluding construction).

(6) Industrial mobilization. For application, see §§ 402.216 and 592.216 of this title.

(7) Research and development. For application, see §§ 402.211 and 592.211 of this title, and §§ 402.205 and 592.205 of this title.

(8) Personal services. For application, see §§ 402.204 and 592.204 of this title.

(9) Transportation. Applies to tug services, stevedoring, freight handling, drayage, ship repair, ocean transportation, motor van services, repair of railroad equipment, towage, lighterage, truck services, salvage services, and lumber handling. Does not apply to Government bills of lading, transportation services procured by transportation request, various forms of transportation agreements which do not involve receipt of or expenditure of funds such as switching agreements, rate and traffic agreements, track and interchange agreements, participation in railroad codes and rules and acceptance of quotations under section 22 of the Interstate Commerce Act.

(10) Utilities. Applies to electric power, water, gas, etc.

(11) Other. Any procurement with appropriated funds which does not fall in any of the above categories will be listed under this purpose and specified.

(w) Item 20; type of contract. Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show type of contractor in accordance with the listing.

x. Item 21; does contract contain renegotiation clause? Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show whether contract includes renegotiation clause in accordance with §§ 406.104–10 and 596.104–10 of this title.

(y) Item 22; has this commodity been assigned by Munitions Board under single department purchase assignment program? (See §§ 403.109 and 593.150 of this title.) Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show whether commodity has been assigned by the Munitions Board under the single department purchase assignment program. If sub-item (1) (yes) is checked, then indicate by an additional "X" the department to which the commodity has been assigned.

(z) Item 23; security classification. Place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show the security classification of the contract described. The security classification indicated herein will correspond to the highest classification appearing on the Security Requirements Check List (DD Form 254). See paragraph (ee) of this section.

(aa) Item 24; remarks. (1) When procurement action is effected under Mutual Defense Assistance Program, the following information will be entered under this item.

(i) MDAP Procurement.

(ii) Date schedule of first delivery and partial deliveries thereafter through contract completion.

(iii) The dollar value of the MDAP procurement when the total value of the contract being reported (item 10) includes procurement for requirements other than MDAP.

(2) Letter orders for obligation or payment of funds will be identified in Item 24 by a remark showing the approving authority (by title), the estimated contract cost and the expiration date of the letter order (day, month, year). Upon formalization of a contract which was initiated by a Letter Order, reference to the original report of the letter order will be made in Item 24 of the subsequent report as follows: "Ltr O $-------- previously reported on report No. -------- dated ----------."

(3) Information regarding the approving authority should be reported in Item 24 for the following negotiated contracts:

(i) Construction and rehabilitation at installations. When contract exceeds $100,000 enter remark as follows: "Negotiated Award (CRI) approved by ----------
(Title)

(ii) Architect-engineer contracts. When such contract is otherwise required to be reported on DD Form 350 enter remark as follows: "Negotiated Award (AE) approved by ----------
(Title)

(iii) Research and development contracts. When contract exceeds $25,000 enter remark as follows: "Negotiated Award (R & D) approved by ----------
(Title)

(iv) Negotiated contracts in general. When contracts exceed $100,000 enter remark as follows: "Negotiated Award (Gen) approved by ---------- (Title)"

(4) One of the following remarks will be entered in Item 24 of DD Form 350 for each contract in excess of $100,000.

(i) Planned item; planned producer. (To be used when contractor is supplying a planned item for which he is the planned producer.)

(ii) Planned item; not planned producer. (To be used when the contractor is supplying a planned item for which he is not the planned producer.)

(iii) Not planned item. (To be used when item is not a planned item: No remark is required concerning planned producer regardless of whether or not the supplier may be a planned producer of some other item which may be a planned item.)

(5) Enter any other comments to supplement or amplify the information shown in the body of the report which are considered essential to a proper understanding of the report, in addition to the information specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, if applicable. This space may also be used for additional data when required by the Heads of Procuring Activities or major oversea commanders.

(6) On the copy of each DD Form 350 forwarded to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, enter a statement to the effect that the procurement is or is not exempt from the General Ceiling Price Regulation issued by the Economic Stabilization Agency, and if not exempted, to indicate, when applicable, if the procurement was made under the emergency or hardship provisions of section 9 or 13 respectively of Supplemental Regulation 1 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(bb) Item 25; optional for departmental use. Preparing officers will complete under this item only the following:

(1) Under sub-item (4) place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show if procurement was made under an exception to the Buy American Act in accordance with Subpart A, Part 405 of this title.

(2) Under sub-item (6) place an "X" mark in appropriate box to show type of transportation costs in the contract value in accordance with the listing.

(cc) Item 26; date of report. Enter the day, month, and year on which the report is prepared.

(dd) The form will be signed by the Contracting Officer or his authorized representative and name of signing individual typed in spaces provided therefor.

(ee) Security classification of DD Form 350. DD Form 350 will be stamped in the upper and lower margins with the appropriate security classification in accordance with Part 505 of this chapter. The security classification so stamped need not necessarily correspond to the security classification of the contract (item 23) but is rather a matter for the discretion of the preparing officer and is dependent upon the information appearing on the form.

§ 590.809 Instructions for preparation of DA AGO Form 377 (procurement action report monthly summary). (a) This summary will include every new procurement action, as defined in § 590.807, transacted during the month covered by this report, irrespective of the dollar value of any such action. It will include every modification (amendment, change order, or supplemental agreement) to contracts negotiated under paragraphs 2c (11) or 2c (16) of Public Law 413, irrespective of the dollar value of any such contract or modification thereto. This summary will also include every modification involving an increase or decrease of $10,000 or more. Modifications not pertaining to paragraphs 2c (11) or 2c (16) of Public Law 413 which involve an increase or decrease of less than $10,000 will be completely excluded from this summary.

(b) For the purpose of this summary only those reportable modifications made pursuant to the provisions of the basic contract will be reported in the columns headed "number of modifications." New actions and reportable modifications not made pursuant to the provisions of the basic contract will be reported in the columns headed "number of new actions."

(c) The dollar value entries in this summary will reflect the net total of all debit and credit procurement actions reportable under paragraph (a) of this section. If during the month the credit actions exceed the debit actions for any item, a credit entry will be shown. Such entry will be preceded by the symbol CR (for credit). Dollar value entries will not include cents. (Example: $500 not $500.25 nor $500.00.)

(d) Monthly summaries will be consolidated at the following levels and in the following manner prior to submission to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

(1) At Class I installations all reportable actions will be consolidated each month on one DA AGO Form 377 regardless of the source of the funds involved in any of the actions. The appropriate Army Area having responsibility for the Class I installation will be indicated in the space for "Technical Service or Command."

(2) At Class II installations those reportable actions which have been transacted for the purpose of Class I activities will be consolidated on one DA AGO Form 377, and the appropriate Army Area having responsibility for the Class I activities will be indicated in the space for "Technical Service or Command." All other reportable actions at Class II installations will be consolidated on one DA AGO Form 377, and the technical service having responsibility for the Class II installation will be indicated in the space for "Technical Service or Command." The governing factor in the aforementioned breakdown will be whether the action was executed for the purpose of Class I activities or for the purpose of Class II activities. Where the contractual instrument has been assigned a number pursuant to SR 35–218–5 (special regulations regarding fiscal station numbers) the letter symbol of this number may be used as a guide. As an exception to the above, general depots will submit one DA AGO Form 377 for each Procuring Activity located at the depot.

(3) Within continental United States all Class II activities, except general depots, will submit to the head of the technical service concerned the total dollar value of Procurement Actions to be reported in line 3, column A, of DA AGO Form 377. The head of each technical service will consolidate such reports and on the eighth of each month forward to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Current Procurement Branch, the sum of such reports which will be the total procurement for the month for each technical service. (RCS CSGLD 339)

(4) General depots in the continental United States will submit by telephone or teletype a report direct to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Current Procurement Branch by the eighth day of the month giving the dollar value of Procurement Actions for the previous month by each Procuring Activity located at the depot.

(e) Date of report. Enter the day, month, and year on which the report is prepared.

(f) From. Enter the title and address of the Procuring Activity in sufficient detail to readily establish the identity of the office, installation, activity, or individual preparing the report.

(g) Station number. Enter the fiscal code station number. Where a Class II installation has been assigned a separate station number to identify its Class I activities (§ 590.603–5 (b)) this latter station number will be entered on the Army Area report from this installation (paragraph (d) of this section).

(h) Month ending. Enter the month covered by the report. Where information for DA AGO Form 377 is obtained from DD Form 350, the date of report (Item 26, DD Form 350) will be the controlling factor in determining which monthly summary (DA AGO Form 377) will include the action reported. For example, a procurement action executed 28 November but having a "date of report" of 2 December will be reported in the monthly summary of December actions.

(i) Technical Service or Command. Enter the name of the Technical Service, Army Area, or Command having responsibility for the Procuring Activity; such as Quartermaster Corps, Third Army, Far East, National Guard Bureau, etc. At Class I and Class II installations the instructions set forth in paragraph (d) of this section will govern.

(j) Column (A) total. Enter in the appropriate spaces the totals of the figures in all columns to the right of Column (A).

(k) Column (B) with "small business." Enter in this column the appropriate figures to show the "small business" breakdown in accordance with the listing on the left of the form, and excluding any interdepartmental or interservice procurement. For the purpose of this report a "small business" is one in which the aggregate number of employees of the contracting organization and its affiliates is less than 500 (Item 18, DD Form 350 where such form has been submitted). This column will not be used by Procuring Activities outside the United States, its territories and possessions.

(l) Column (C) other than "small business." Enter in this column the appropriate figures to show the "other than small business" breakdown in accordance with the listing on the left of the form and excluding any interdepartmental or interservice procurement. Procuring Activities outside the United States, its territories and possessions, will use this column to indicate all procurement other than interdepartmental or interservice.

(m) Column (D) interdepartmental. Enter in this column the total interdepartmental figures in accordance with the listing on the left of the form.

(n) Column (E) interservice. Enter in this column the total interservice figures in accordance with the listing on the left of the form.

(o) Remarks. Enter the DD Form 350 report numbers of those actions reported in line 5 (11) (Research and Development) and line 5 (16) (Industrial Mobilization). Enter any other comments to supplement or amplify the information shown in the body of the report which are considered essential to a proper understanding of the report. This space may also be used for additional data when required by the Heads of Procuring Activities.

(p) The report will be signed by a Contracting Officer or his authorized representative and the appropriate name and title typed in the space provided. Where a consolidated monthly summary is being prepared pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, the consolidated report will be prepared and signed by an officer so designated by the commanding officer of the installation concerned.

SUBPART E—QUALIFIED PRODUCTS

591.501 Authority for qualified products.
591.504 Qualified Products Lists.

AUTHORITY: §§ 591.000 to 591.504 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Interpret or apply 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C. Sup., 151–161.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 591.000 Scope of Part. Supplementary to, but consistent with, Part 401 of this title, this part sets forth (a) the basic requirements for the procurement of supplies and services by means of formal advertising, (b) the information to be contained in forms used for the solicitation of bids, (c) methods of soliciting bids, (d) policies with respect to the submission of bids, (e) requirements for the opening and evaluation of bids and for the awarding of contracts, and (f) requirements for the procurement of qualified products.

SUBPART A—USE OF FORMAL ADVERTISING

§ 591.101 Meaning of formal advertising. As used throughout Parts 590 through 603 of this chapter, formal advertising means that method of procurement prescribed in Part 401 of this title, and in this part with respect to competitive bids and awards.

§ 591.102 Use of formal advertising.—(a) Policy. Subject to such further instructions as may be issued by the Heads of Procuring Activities, during a period of national emergency declared by the President or by Congress procurement may be effected by formal advertising only when time permits and delivery requirements are not jeopardized by such action and only when (see also § 590.301 of this chapter):

(1) Procuring standard commercial supplies or services; or

(2) Adequate specifications or any other adequately detailed description of the required supplies or services are readily available; or

(3) Procurement by formal advertising will expedite the consummation of the transaction or will obtain the required items more rapidly than by negotiation; or

(4) There are no important factors to be considered in making the award, such as time of delivery, etc., other than price and it is anticipated that the supplies or services can be purchased more economically by formal advertising; or

(5) The list of suppliers to be solicited is extensive, full competition is desired and purchase by formal advertising will be accomplished more efficiently and expeditiously than by negotiation; or

(6) In such additional instances as are deemed to be necessary and as prescribed by the Head of a Procuring Activity.

(b) Lists of bidders. Current lists of bidders will be maintained. Requests for inclusion on such lists will receive prompt and courteous attention. Lists of bidders will be maintained in accordance with § 401.202 of this title and shall not include the name of any person or firm appearing in the "Consolidated Listing of Suspended and Ineligible Contractors and Disqualified Bidders" (§ 590.303 (d) of this chapter).

(c) Classified contracts. Procurements classified as confidential, or higher, shall not be effected by formal advertising, except when the Head of a Procuring Activity considers this method to be in the interest of the Government.

SUBPART B—SOLICITATION OF BIDS

§ 591.201 Preparation of forms.—(a) Prescribed forms. Forms prescribed for the procurement of supplies by formal advertising are set forth in Subpart E of part 596 of this chapter.

(b) Invitation for bids number. Every invitation for bids will be assigned and will contain in the upper right-hand corner (unless otherwise provided for on standard forms):

(1) The letter symbol of the Procuring Activity, followed by a dash.

(2) A number consisting of the station number of the office issuing it, if one has been assigned, a dash.

(3) The last two numerals of the fiscal year in which the invitation is issued, regardless of the fiscal year funds to be expended, a dash.

(4) The serial number of the invitation.

Only one series will be used under any one station number for any Procuring Activity for each fiscal year, and the first invitation issued in each fiscal year will bear 1 as its serial number. Subsequent serial numbers will be assigned consecutively, in their order of issuance. A serial number once assigned to an invitation which has been distributed will not be used in the same fiscal year for any other invitation. For example, the first invitation for bids issued by Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot in the fiscal year 1951 will be numbered QM–36–030–51–1. Other numbers or letters may be prefixed to this number if such action is desired by the Head of a Procuring Activity.

(c) Discount provisions. If the discount provisions contained on the prescribed forms are not suitable, the following changes therein may be made:

(1) The discount provision on the bid form relating to "10 calendar days," "20 calendar days," etc., may be deleted whenever it is definitely known that final acceptance cannot be accomplished, or that payment cannot be effected, within the period of time from date of delivery. In order to take advantage of any discounts offered, this authority will be used sparingly. If, for example, commercial practice for a certain class of material is to use a 10-day discount period, the deletion will not be made. (See §§ 535.28 through 535.30 of the chapter.)

(2) In special cases where a prolonged acceptance test is necessary, and the invitations or specifications set a limiting date for acceptance that is more than 20 days after date of delivery, the provision in the form as to computation of discount time may be changed to read as follows: "Time, in connection with the discount offered, will be computed from the limiting date set herein for final acceptance." When this change is made, the limiting date for final acceptance must be stated in the invitation.

(d) Place of contract performance. For the purpose of evaluating bids and for assistance in performing survey, inspection, and expediting functions, every invitation for bids will require bidders to state the location of the manufacturing or processing plant or factory or the warehouse or other establishment from which the supplies are to be furnished. Similarly in the case of services, the location at which the services are to be performed will be shown.

(e) Delivery clause. Each Invitation for Bids will contain an appropriate delivery clause suitable to the circumstances involved in the particular procurement.

(f) Place of delivery. When transportation costs are important and the exact destination of the supplies being purchased is not known at the time bids are solicited, but the general geographical section in which delivery will be made is known, as East Coast, Middle West, or West Coast, for purposes of evaluation of bids only, a definite place may be designated in the known geographical sector as the point to which transportation costs will be computed in determining the low bidder. In order that prospective bidders may understand the method of evaluation to be used, the following clause should be incorporated in the Schedule:

For the purpose of evaluating bids (and for no other purpose), the final destination(s) for the supplies will be considered to be as follows • • •

(g) F. o. b. purchase policy. The policy with respect to the purchase of supplies on an f. o. b. destination or origin basis is set forth in § 590.350 of this chapter.

(h) Increase or decrease in specified quantity. When it is considered necessary, in the interest of the Government, to provide for an increase or decrease in the quantity specified in the invitation, at the option of the Government, the maximum percentage of such increase or decrease shall be specified by the Contracting Officer in the invitation. Such percentage will only, in rare cases, exceed 25 percent and shall not in any case exceed 50 percent.

§ 591.202 Methods of soliciting bids.—(a) Issue of invitations for bids. Invitations for bids shall be issued by the Contracting Officer charged with the procurement of the supplies involved. When authorized by the Contracting Officer, invitations may be issued by others, but in such cases the award shall be made, and the contract shall be signed by the Contracting Officer.

(b) Time allowed before opening. Invitations for bids will, as a rule, allow 30 days to intervene between the date of issuance and the date of opening bids. A shorter period may be allowed, but no period of less than 10 days will be designated, except in case of emergency. The existence of such emergency will be determined by the Contracting Officer, and the copy of the invitation furnished the Procurement Information Center, Office of the Under Secretary of the Army (§ 591.251 (a)), will bear on its face the following certificate and appropriate reasons signed by the Contracting Officer:

I certify that the date shown hereon for the opening of bids cannot be a later date for the following reasons—

§ 591.202–1 Mailing or delivering to prospective bidders. (a) The extent of the distribution of invitations for bids to qualified prospective bidders will be determined by the Contracting Officer but must be wide enough to assure full and free competition on all items.

(b) Invitations for bids will not be issued to those firms and persons whose names appear in the "Consolidated Listing of Suspended and Ineligible Contractors and Disqualified Bidders." (§ 590.303 (d) of this chapter.)

(c) Bidders' lists will contain only the names of persons or firms qualifying as "sources of supply," as defined in §§ 400.201–9 and 590.201–9 of this title, and such other persons, firms, and agencies authorized by Parts 400 through 414 and 590 through 603 of this title, or the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 591.202–4 Publishing in newspapers. The publication of essential details of invitations for bids in newspapers as paid advertisements may be authorized, as indicated below, when this is necessary in order to secure effective competition, or in view of the quantity, character, or value of the supplies or services to be procured, and if time will permit.

(a) Authority. (1) Authority to approve the publication of paid advertisements in newspapers, magazines, and other periodicals in connection with the dissemination of procurement information (invitations for bids and proposed purchases), recruitment of both military and civilian personnel, and all other forms of advertising authorized by law has been delegated by the Secretary to:

(i) The Under Secretary of the Army.

(ii) The Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

(iii) The Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

(iv) Commanding generals, continental armies, for recruiting purposes only.

(v) Division Engineers, Corps of Engineers, for civil works and construction only.

(vi) The Director, Procurement and Supply Division, Office of the Secretary of the Army.

Such delegated authority shall not be redelegated.

(2) No advertisement, notice, or proposal shall be published in any newspaper except in pursuance of written authority for such publication from the Secretary or the appropriate official named above, or of a person to whom administrative duties have been duly assigned by the Secretary or the appropriate official named above, and no bill for any such advertising or publication shall be paid unless there be presented, with such bill, a copy of such written authority.

(3) The administrative duties involved in accomplishing such advertising may be assigned by the appropriate official named above to subordinates by name or position (or by name and position, if appropriate) by suitable instruments in writing setting forth the extent of the administrative duties involved and authorized to be performed by or through such subordinates (28 Comp. Gen. 305). Copies of instruments assigning administrative duties hereunder:

(i) Must either be attached to the first voucher submitted for payment and accompany same to the Army Audit Branch, General Accounting Office; or

(ii) Such instruments assigning administrative duties may be forwarded direct to that branch immediately upon the issuance of same.

(4) Standard Form 1143—Revised (Advertising Order) will be signed by the person to whom authority to advertise has been delegated as indicated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, or by the person to whom authority to place the advertising order has been assigned in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. When the person signing is acting under an instrument assigning him authority as to administrative duties, reference will be made to the date and number of such instrument of assignment in the box on the revised standard form to the left of his signature, in addition to the reference to § 591.202–4 (a), delegating authority to advertise by the Secretary in the box in the upper right-hand corner of the form. The Comptroller General has directed that the present supply of Standard Form 1143 (Advertising Order) on hand and at the Government Printing Office will continue to be used until exhausted, and has indicated that at the next reprint of the form a box to the left of the line for signature will be provided thereon for a reference to the instrument of assignment. Until the revised form is available, such reference to the instrument of assignment should be made on Standard Form 1143 in the space under the title (Advertising Order) of that form.

(b) Requests for authority to place advertisements. (1) Requests for authority to place advertisements in newspapers will be made on WD AGO Form No. 192 (Request for Authority to Advertise), in accordance with instructions set forth in paragraph (h) (1) of this section, except that in case of emergency, the nature of which will be stated in the request, authority to advertise may be requested directly by telegraph to the proper official, who will, in such cases, secure the necessary coordination with others concerned.

(2) In making application for authority to advertise, those newspapers in which it is deemed advantageous to advertise, will be specified. Due economy will be observed, both as to the number of newspapers and the number of insertions, whether advertising under special or general authority, no greater number being used in any case than may be necessary to give proper and sufficient public notice.

(i) Special authority authorizes the publication of a given advertisement a specified number of times in a designated newspaper or newspapers.

(ii) General authority authorizes the publication during a fiscal year, as designated, of such advertisements for proposals as may be required by the duties of officers engaged in making frequent purchases or contracts.

(3) In all cases, authority to advertise must be secured in advance. Such authority will not be granted retroactively.

(c) Preparation of advertisements. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, all advertisements will be solid line, a sample of which, set up in accordance with the usual Government requirements, is shown on Standard Form No. 1143—Revised (Advertising Order).

(2) When advertising to be set other than solid is authorized, care should be exercised to insure that the specifications are definite, clear, and specific, since no allowance will be made for paragraphing or for display or leaded or prominent headings, unless specifically ordered, or for additional space required by the use of type other than that specified in the sworn statement of advertising rates on file in the General Accounting Office. Specifications for advertising other than solid will accompany the advertisement copy submitted to the publisher with the advertising order, and copies of both documents will be transmitted to the General Accounting Office with the voucher.

(3) Any unnecessary expense to the Government resulting from failure to observe the requirements of §§ 591.202—591.202–5 may be made a charge against the pay of the officer responsible therefor.

(d) Insertions and limitations thereon. (1) Ordinarily advertisements will be given six insertions in daily or four in weekly papers. When more than 10 days are to intervene between the date of the first publication and the date of opening of bids, those in the daily newspapers inviting bids will at once be given four consecutive insertions, and immediately before the date of opening, two consecutive insertions. In construction projects, such insertions will be placed in sufficient time prior to the date of opening to allow interested bidders to secure plans and specifications and prepare bids. In case of emergency, advertisements may be given one or more insertions, as time and circumstances permit.

(2) No officer will authorize the publication of an advertisement beyond the morning of the day on which the opening of bids is to occur, and no payments will be made for continuing such publication beyond the period authorized.

(e) Rates. (1) Advertising may be paid for at a price not to exceed the commercial rates charged to private individuals, with the usual discounts.

(2) Rates to be paid will be ascertained from sworn statements of commercial rates furnished by the proprietors, publishers, or authorized representatives of the newspapers or other publications in which the Government advertisements are to be placed, as specified in paragraph (h) (2) of this section.

(3) All advertising in newspapers, however, shall be audited and paid at rates not higher than those charged the general public; but lower prices may be secured whenever the public interest requires it.

(f) Proof of publication. (1) Every account for official advertising rendered should be accompanied by a copy of each issue of the publication in which the advertisement appeared. If copies of the publications are not available, however, it will be satisfactory if an affidavit of publication is furnished in lieu thereof.

(2) Copies of newspapers or affidavits in lieu thereof submitted as proof of publication will not be attached to the original voucher, but will be attached to the duplicate voucher and retained in the disbursing office files until settlement of the Disbursing Officer's account has been effected by the General Accounting Office.

(3) Sections 591.202—591.202–5 shall not be construed to preclude the attaching of the tear sheet to the Public Voucher for Advertising (Standard Form No. 1144—Revised), in the designated place.

(g) Forms. (1) WDAGO Form No. 192 (Request for Authority to Advertise).

(2) The following Standard Forms for Government advertising are hereby prescribed and published for general use, in lieu of all other forms of like character previously used for this purpose:

Standard Form No. 1142—Revised (Statement of Advertising Rates).

Standard Form No. 1142a—Revised (Statement of Advertising Rates—Memorandum).

Standard Form No. 1143—Revised (Advertising Order).

Standard Form No. 1143a—Revised (Advertising Order—Memorandum).

Standard Form No. 1144—Revised (Public Voucher for Advertising).

Standard Form No. 1144a—Revised (Public Voucher for Advertising—Memorandum).

The Comptroller General has directed that, in the interest of economy, the present supply of unused Standard Forms Nos. 1142, 1142a, 1143, 1143a, 1144, and 1144a on hand and at the Government Printing Office will be used, until exhausted.

(h) Use of forms. (1) WD AGO Form No. 192 (Request for Authority to Advertise) will be prepared in triplicate and forwarded through channels to the appropriate official to whom authority has been delegated by the Secretary to authorize such advertising.

(i) The original of the Authority to Advertise must be filed with the first voucher making payment thereunder. A copy will be filed with the duplicate voucher.

(ii) Reference to the Authority to Advertise will be made, in the space provided for that purpose, on all subsequent advertising orders placed during the period embraced in the authorization.

(2) Sworn statements of commercial advertising rates, rendered on Standard Form No. 1142—Revised, and two memorandums therefor, Standard Form 1142a—Revised, must be furnished by the proprietors, publishers, or authorized representatives of newspapers or other publications in which Government advertisements are placed, and the rates so furnished shall govern the amount to be paid.

(i) Sworn statements of commercial advertising rates need not be renewed until rates are changed, or unless specifically required.

(ii) The original statement of advertising rates must support the first voucher (Standard Form No. 1144—Revised) paid to the publisher for advertising under those rates. Of the two memorandum copies, one will be filed with the duplicate voucher (Standard Form No. 1144a—Revised) and the remaining memorandum copy retained in the files of the office which placed the advertisements, for reference in certification of rates for subsequent vouchers.

(3) Standard Form No. 1143—Revised and memorandum therefor, Standard Form No. 1143a—Revised, are the forms used to place advertisements with the publishers. The qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of this section, with reference to the composition of advertising copy, should be noted in connection with the preparation of this form.

(4) The Public Voucher for Advertising (Standard Form No. 1144—Revised) and memorandum therefor (Standard Form No. 1144a—Revised), will be used by publishers to bill their charges against the Department for advertising published in accordance with the advertising order (Standard Form No. 1143—Revised). The original voucher for advertising (Standard Form No. 1144—Revised), is printed on the reverse of the original advertising order (Standard Form No. 1143—Revised). The memorandum voucher for advertising (Standard Form No. 1144a—Revised), is printed on the reverse of the memorandum advertising order (Standard Form No. 1143a—Revised). In no case will separate instruments be used for the ordering of advertising and the payment therefor. In connection with the use of this form instructions as set forth in paragraph (f) of this section should be followed.

(i) Payment of accounts. Upon receipt of Standard Forms Nos. 1144—Revised and 1144a—Revised, supported by proof of publication, rendered by a publisher, the office placing the advertisement will assemble and attach necessary supporting documents as circumstances dictate, certifying to the second certificate on the original Standard Form No. 1144—Revised, and submit the account in duplicate to the local Finance Officer for prompt payment to the publisher.

§ 591.202–5 Synopses of invitations for bids. Synopses of invitations for bids will be prepared by the principal purchasing offices listed in § 591.451–3 immediately upon completion of final approved drafts of invitations for bids.

(a) A synopsis of invitations for bids shall not include any invitations scheduled to be opened less than 18 days from date of issue.

(b) A synopsis of invitations for bids will be teletyped at the end of each day (or as they occur) to the following addressee:

Synopsis
Commerce Department
Field Service
Chicago, Illinois

(c) Teletype synopses will be prepared for transmission as follows:

(1) The first line of the text of the message will state the number of the synopsis being sent. The first synopsis on conversion will be numbered one, with each synopsis thereafter numbered consecutively.

(2) The second line of the text of the message will state the name of the purchasing office straight across the page (not to exceed 70 typewriter spaces) continuing on the next line if necessary.

(3) The description of the material will be in capital letters, using the dash for commas, and will not exceed 31 typewriter spaces. If 31 spaces are insufficient, additional lines may be used. The description will be clear, concise, abbreviated whenever possible, with a minimum number of words for description but sufficient for understanding by interested parties. Include citation to specification and/or drawing numbers or other identifying data, if this information will assist prospective bidders in determining whether or not they are interested in the procurement.

(4) The column designating the quantity begins on typewriter space 32 and will not exceed 10 spaces. Every effort should be made to center the quantity between spaces 32 and 41.

(5) The column designating the invitation number begins on typewriter space 42 and will not exceed 16 spaces. Every effort should be made to center the invitation number between spaces 42 and 57.

(6) The column designating the opening date begins on typewriter space 58 and will not exceed 13 spaces. Every effort should be made to center the opening date between spaces 58 and 70.

(7) Columnar headings have been omitted since it will not be necessary to transmit the headings if instructions in subparagraphs (3), (4), (5), and (6) of this paragraph are followed.

(8) Strict adherence to the above instructions will be required of each reporting office inasmuch as the receiving machines will automatically cut stencils at the time the message is received. Deviations will cause the format of the synopsis printed by the Department of Commerce to be out of line.

(d) Each reporting office will discuss the instructions contained in paragraph (c) of this section with their communications office so that the manner in which the message is to be transmitted is thoroughly understood by the office preparing the message and the communications office.

(e) Copies of synopses of invitations for bids, containing the information prescribed in paragraph (c) of this section, will be provided at purchasing offices for those who wish to pick them up. In addition to the information prescribed above, copies of synopses will contain appropriate columnar headings and a statement that any additional information desired and, if available, individual copies of invitations for bids may be obtained directly from the purchasing office issuing the synopsis.

(f) Information to bidders concerning awards is set forth in § 401.407 of this title and § 591.407. Instruction pertaining to synopses of awards are set forth in § 591.451.

(g) This section will apply only to procurement within the continental United States (48 States and the District of Columbia).

(h) Requirements for the distribution of single copies of invitations for bids are set forth in § 591.251.

§ 591.203 Retention of records. (a) Each procurement transaction file will be complete and copies of all documents, certified if necessary, will be included therein. Procurement transaction files will be maintained in such a manner as to present a complete résumé of the transaction for historical record or such other purposes as may be required.

(b) Invitations for bids and abstracts of bids will be retained in the purchasing office for at least 6 years after date of award, unless retired sooner under special regulations.

§ 591.250 Identification of specifications. Each invitation for bids shall list for each item included therein the applicable specifications as authorized for procurement in § 590.305 (a) of this chapter, or will contain a description as provided in § 590.305 (c) of this chapter. Such reference to specifications shall include the title and symbols, with revision letters if any, and dates, including amendments if any, identified by numbers and dates.

§ 591.251 Distribution of invitation for bids. In addition to the distribution of invitations for bids to prospective bidders referred to in § 401.202–1 of this title and § 591.202–1, the following distribution shall be made.

(a) Procurement Information Center. One copy of every invitation for bids and one copy of every amendment to an invitation for bids shall be sent on the date issued directly to the Office of the Under Secretary of the Army, Procurement Information Center, The Pentagon, Washington 25, D. C. Letters of transmittal are not necessary. If an invitation is cancelled or is substantially changed by the issuance of an amendment which affects specifications, quantity requirements, delivery schedules, qualification of bidders, etc., a complete summary of the reasons for such cancellation or change will be furnished with the copy of the amendment forwarded to the Procurement Information Center. This statement should be detachable from the amendment.

(b) Department of Commerce. Single copies of invitations for bids (less copies of specifications, drawings, etc.) will be dispatched promptly by regular mail by each of the purchasing offices listed in § 591.451–3 to:

Small Business Division,
U. S. Department of Commerce,
Room 6427, Commerce Building,
Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Equal or identical bids. See § 591.406–4 (c) for distribution of copies of invitations for bids in connection with the procedure on the submission of information on equal or identical bids.

(d) Classified purchases. See Part 505 of this chapter for instructions as to the distribution of classified documents. In such cases, instead of the action indicated in paragraph (a) of this section, a letter will be forwarded to the office named therein, in substance as follows: This office has issued invitation for bids No. ------, dated ----------, bids to be opened on ----------, under Top Secret, Secret, Confidential or Restricted Project No. ------.

(e) Other internal distribution. Heads of Procuring Activities may direct such additional internal distribution of invitations for bids as may be considered necessary.

§ 591.252 Amendments to invitations for bids. (a) Amendments to invitations for bids must be distributed to all recipients of the invitation, and such amendments shall provide that bidders are to sign and return the amendments prior to the opening of the bids. The date set for opening of bids shall be postponed when necessary to afford bidders sufficient time to return the amendments.

(b) Any information given to a prospective bidder on an invitation for bids shall be furnished promptly to all other prospective bidders as an amendment to the invitation if such information is necessary to bidders in submitting bids on the invitation, or if lack of such information would be prejudicial to uninformed bidders No award shall be made on the invitation unless such amendment has been issued in sufficient time to permit all prospective bidders to consider such information in submitting or modifying their bids.

(c) Amendments, if issued, will refer to the number, date of issue, and opening date of the original invitation, will clearly indicate the nature of the changes made therein, and will be numbered serially as issued. For example, the first amendment would be "Amendment 1."

SUBPART C—SUBMISSION OF BIDS

§ 591.350 Assistance in preparing bids. Persons employed by or serving with the Army Establishment will not under any circumstances render assistance to bidders in the preparation of bids.

§ 591.351 Copies of bids required in submission. Bidders will be required to submit a sufficient number of signed copies of their bids to meet the requirements for distribution of "signed numbers" of contracts as set forth in § 590.606 of this chapter.

§ 591.352 Statement of contingent or other fees. The prescribed procedure with respect to obtaining information concerning contingent or other fees paid by bidders or contractors for soliciting or securing Government contracts, including the use of U. S. Standard Form 119 (Contractor's Statement of Contingent or Other Fees for Soliciting or Securing Contract), is set forth in § 590.608 of this chapter.

SUBPART D—OPENING OF BIDS AND AWARD OF CONTRACT

§ 591.401 Opening of bids. (a) All bids received prior to the time of opening will be kept in a locked safe, locked file cabinet, or locked bid box and necessary precautions will be taken to ensure the security of the receptacle used for this purpose.

(b) The Contracting Officer will decide when the specified time has arrived, and will then personally and publicly open all bids received and read them aloud to the bidders present.

(c) The Contracting Officer will personally number one copy of each bid received, serially, in the order in which the bids are read, and will retain these numbered copies in his possession until the accuracy of the abstract has been verified.

(d) The procedure described in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section may be delegated to an assistant provided that the Contracting Officer retains full responsibilities for the actions of his subordinates.

(e) Pertinent questions asked at the opening will be fully answered, and the examination of bids by interested persons will be permitted as set forth in § 591.401, provided such action does not unduly interfere with the conduct of Government business.

(f) The opening of classified bids shall not be accessible to the general public. However, such opening may be witnessed and the results recorded by those suppliers' representatives who have been previously cleared from a security standpoint, if the supplier concerned submitted a bid. The bids shall be made available only to those persons authorized to attend the opening of the bids. (See Part 505 of this chapter for additional instructions governing classified projects.)

§ 591.402 Recording of bids—(a) Procedure. Only approved abstract of bid forms will be used for the recording of bids. For every invitation for bids, an abstract of bids form will be prepared as soon as practicable after bids have been opened or as soon as it is decided to cancel the invitation before opening bids. Since the copy of the abstract furnished to the Office of the Under Secretary of the Army, Procurement Information Center, is exhibited to the public, care will be exercised in making the entries on that copy. Information, such as debarment, irresponsibility, or apparent collusion of bidders, will not be entered on the abstract of bids, but will be the subject of a separate classified communication, addressed to the Under Secretary of the Army, Procurement Information Center, through the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

(b) Certification of abstract. (1) The person opening the bids will:

(i) Verify the accuracy of the abstract by comparing it with the numbered copies of the bid retained by him, and

(ii) Sign the certificate on the abstract that he has personally opened and read all bids and that he has verified the abstract and found it correct.

(2) The Contracting Officer canceling the invitation, making the awards or rejecting the bids will sign the appropriate certificate on the abstract as to the action taken by him.

(c) Classified bids. The record made of classified bids shall not be made available to the general public.

§ 591.403 Rejection of bids—(a) Failure to conform to essential requirements of invitation. Any bid which fails to conform to the essential requirements of the Invitation will be rejected, provided that any such bid may be considered when in the interest of the Government and not prejudicial to the other bidders.

(b) Insertion of improper restrictions or conditions. Restrictions or conditions in bids which ordinarily require their rejection are those where the bidder (1) attempts to protect himself against future changes in conditions, such as increased costs, to the extent that the total possible cost to the Government cannot be determined, or (2) attempts to limit his liability. To allow the bidder to impose such conditions would make the obligation of the Government uncertain or indefinite and would be prejudicial to other bidders. A low bidder, however, may be requested to delete objectionable conditions from his bid. If a bid fails to state a price and in lieu thereof states that the price shall be "price in effect at time of delivery," or if a bid states a price but qualifies the stated price as being subject to "price in effect at time of delivery" and does not specifically limit the ultimate price to the Government, it shall be rejected; provided that, if such qualification is caused solely by language on a printed form as described in § 591.–404, the bidder may be given the opportunity to state whether or not such qualification was intended. (See §§ 596.151 and 591.406 of this chapter with respect to the use of price escalation in procurements effected by formal advertising.)

(c) Failure to conform to specifications. Any bid which does not conform to the specifications shall be rejected unless the supplies offered are similar and equal to those specified in the Invitation. Bids offering supplies not similar and equal to those specified shall be rejected as consideration of such bids would be prejudicial to other bidders. If the results of the bidding indicate that the needs of the Government can be met by a less expensive article with different specifications, all bids for the item should be rejected and the requirement readvertised with appropriately revised specifications.

(d) Failure to conform to delivery requirements. A bid will not be rejected for failure to conform to the delivery requirements of the Invitation for Bids unless (1) the Invitation states that time of delivery is an important factor and will be considered in making the award or (2) the Contracting Officer determines that the delivery offered will not meet the needs of the Government or (3) the bid offers an indefinite and uncertain delivery, such as, "60 days after receipt of raw materials."

(e) When in interest of Government. All bids for any one item or for all items may be rejected if the Contracting Officer finds that such rejection is in the interest of the Government. Typical cases are those where (1) it is determined, prior to award, that the supplies are no longer required, (2) it appears that the specifications should be revised, or (3) the Invitation did not provide for consideration of all factors of cost to the Government.

(f) Unreasonable bids. Bids may be rejected if the Contracting Officer finds in writing that such bids are not reasonable. The Contracting Officer may make partial award to low bidders whose prices are considered reasonable and reject all other bids as unreasonable. All rejections of bids under this paragraph shall be reported through channels to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), with complete information as to the facts thereto.

(g) Collusive bids. The Contracting Officer may reject all bids when he determines that the bids were not independently arrived at in open competition, or are collusive, or were submitted in bad faith; and he shall report such bids through channels to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). (See § 591.405–4 (b)).

(h) Ineligible bidders. (See § 590.303 (d) of this chapter).

(i) Not responsible bidders. (1) The lowest bid as to price may be rejected by the Contracting Officer if no bond has been required and the bidder is unable to furnish satisfactory evidence that he possesses the requisite experience, facilities, technical organization, and financial responsibility to perform the contract satisfactorily in accordance with the terms thereof.

(2) Prior to rejecting the lowest bid when it has been received from a firm believed not to be a source of supply, as defined in §§ 400.201–9 and 590.201–9 of this title, a request will be submitted to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned for (i) a review of the facts and (ii) authority to reject the bid on the basis that the bidder does not qualify as a "source of supply." In forwarding such requests, Contracting Officers will be careful to verify all statements contained therein which are given as the basis for rejection, in order that there may be no just cause for complaint.

(j) Notification of rejection of all bids. When it has been decided to reject all bids and the lowest bid received is in excess of $25,000, the Contracting Officer will, if otherwise expedient, notify each bidder of the fact that all bids have been rejected and the reason for such action.

§ 591.404 Minor informalities or irregularities in bids. Contracting officers will give to the bidder an opportunity to cure any deficiency resulting from a minor informality or irregularity in a bid, or in the alternative, when it is not to the disadvantage of the Government, may waive such deficiency when time does not permit the curing thereof. Illustrative examples of minor informalities or irregularities, in addition to those in § 401.404 of this title, are the following:

(a) Suppliers frequently submit with their bids additional information on letterheads or other forms which incorporate printed terms and conditions used by the supplier in his commercial business. These printed terms and conditions are very often in conflict with the General Provisions or may contain language affecting bid prices. Unless it clearly appears on the face of the bid that such terms and conditions are intended to be a part of the bid, the bidder shall be given an opportunity to state whether or not they are so intended. If the bidder submits a written statement that such terms and conditions were not intended to form a part of the bid, they may be disregarded in considering the bid.

(b) A bidder failing to furnish, (1) information regarding his aggregate number of employees, (2) his status as a source of supply as defined in §§ 400.201–

9 and 590.201–9 of this title, or (3) the place of manufacture of the supplies being purchased, will be permitted to make such representations after the bid opening but prior to award.

§ 591.405 Mistakes in bids—(a) Submission to higher authority. (1) Cases referred to in § 401.405–2 of this title will be forwarded direct, without routing through intermediate channels, to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C., Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch. Cases referred to in § 401.405–3 of this title will be forwarded through normal channels (except that a direct submission may be made in cases requiring expeditious action) to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch.

(2) In cases where a time element is involved with respect to the necessity of immediate purchase, limited time allowed for acceptance of other bids, or other circumstances require such prompt action as to preclude the presentation of the matter by mail, Contracting Officers will use telegraphic, telephonic, or radio means, furnishing so far as possible in the statement of the case the information prescribed in § 401.405–2 of this title.

(b) Instructions to Contracting Officer. Instructions will be issued by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, to the Head of the Procuring Activity, except that Contracting Officers may be notified directly in cases requiring expeditious action. Where deemed necessary or advisable by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, individual cases, prior to the issuance of instructions, will be referred (through the Chief of Finance) to the Comptroller General for decision. Contracting Officers will not request decisions direct from the Comptroller General or prepare drafts of letters for submission to that official.

(c) Reports by Contracting Officer—(1) To Head of Procuring Activity. Reports of all actions taken and copies of all papers forwarded to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, will be forwarded to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned.

(2) To Disbursing Officer. The Contracting Officer will furnish a copy of such resulting instructions as he may receive, or copy of the decision of the Comptroller General, if any, to the Disbursing Officer making payments under the contract, in order that such instructions or decisions may be used by the Disbursing Officer in support of any payment made by him. In addition, the decision of the Comptroller General will also be cited by number and date on the copy of U. S. Standard Form No. 1036 or a copy of the decision securely attached to the form.

(3) U. S. Standard Form 1036. In the event of award involving a mistake in bid, the Statement and Certificate of Award (U. S. Standard Form 1036) will contain the information prescribed in § 591.406–5 (a).

§ 591.406 Award—(a) Making the award. When a Contracting Officer has invited and received bids, he will make the award and execute the necessary papers, unless all bids are rejected. If an award requires the approval of higher authority, the award will not be made until such approval has been obtained.

(b) Price escalation. When bids are received including a provision for price escalation, which if added to the base price will still result in a lesser bid price with maximum escalation than that offered by a bidder submitting a fixed price bid, award will be made to the bidder whose maximum price is lowest to the Government and the bid is otherwise responsive to conditions of the invitation. (Price escalation clauses are set forth in § 596.151 of this chapter.)

(c) Delivery a factor. If time of delivery is an important factor in effecting the procurement of a required item, the invitation for bids will so state and delivery terms quoted in the bids will be considered in making the award. If the invitation for bids specified that delivery would be a factor in making award and if award is made to other than the lowest otherwise acceptable bidder, based on a shorter time for delivery, the formal award will state the successful bidder's delivery time and the price and delivery time of the lowest otherwise acceptable bidder.

§ 591.406–1 Responsible bidder. If the low bidder's qualifications to perform the proposed contract are not known to the Contracting Officer, the bidder's qualifications should be checked and if found unsatisfactory, award should not be made. Qualification checks should consist of both financial and technical evaluation of a supplier's capacity to perform the contract successfully.

§ 591.406–2 Discounts. Even in those cases, as set forth in § 401.406–2 of this title, where the discount is disregarded in the evaluation of bids; the award will state the discount offered as well as the bid price, in order that the Government may take the discount if payment is made within the time specified.

§ 591.406–3 Other factors to be considered. When the Contracting Officer determines that an award to other than the lowest responsible bidder would be more advantageous to the Government after a consideration of factors other than price, he will make a full statement in writing of the facts and circumstances and of the reasons for the action taken. The statement made by the Contracting Officer on U. S. Standard Form 1036 will ordinarily be considered sufficient for this purpose unless the circumstances of the case indicate that a fuller documentation, complete with all supporting evidence, should be made for the file.

§ 591.406–4 Equal bids—(a) Witnesses of drawing by lot. In the event award is made by a drawing by lot, the names and addresses of the three witnesses and the person supervising the drawing shall be placed on all copies of the abstract of bids.

(b) Submission of information on equal or identical bids. (1) Whenever identical or equal bids are received pursuant to formal advertising by any purchasing office located within the continental United States, its Territories and possessions, and directly under the jurisdiction of the head of a technical service, the following procedure is prescribed with respect to the furnishing of information to the Department of Justice in connection with possible violation of the antitrust laws: One copy of each identical bid and one copy of the Abstract of Bids will be furnished to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for transmittal to the Department of Justice when any of the following conditions occur:

(i) When any bid resulting from an advertised procurement is identical on its face to any other bid or bids whether the bidders are successful or not (discounts, delivery dates, distance from destination, and like matters need not be considered in determining whether or not the above-required documents should be submitted);

(ii) When bids arising from invitations which specify f. o. b. origin requiring computations (transportation, etc.) in making an award when the computations indicate that the ultimate price delivered is equal whether the bidders are successful or not.

(2) Any practices which come to the attention of any Contracting Officer in the Army Establishment which, while not indicated by submission of identical or equal bids, are indicative of collusive bidding, follow-the-leader pricing, related low bids, or uniform estimating systems will be referred to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), with the following documents, in single copy: the Invitation for Bids; the Abstract of Bids; the bid(s) of the Contractor(s) suspected of irregular practice; copies of the notice of award, if any, to any such bidder(s); and any other pertinent information available.

§ 591.406–5 Statement and Certificate of Award. (a) Where an award involves a mistake in bid and the matter has been resolved by administrative action, U. S. Standard Form 1036 will be accompanied by a copy of the resulting instructions as received in the premises, together with other documents as prescribed in § 401.405–2 of this title.

(b) Where an award involves a mistake in bid on which the Comptroller General has rendered a decision, U. S. Standard Form 1036 will contain a citation by number and date of the decision or a copy thereof securely attached to the form.

§ 591.407 Information to bidders—(a) Unclassified awards. In the case of all unclassified formally advertised contracts, the purchasing office will (1) notify unsuccessful bidders of the fact that their bids were not accepted, and (2) extend the appreciation of the purchasing office for the interest the unsuccessful bidder has shown in submitting a bid. Should additional information be sought, purchasing offices will either (1) provide the unsuccessful bidder with the name and address of the successful bidder, together with the contract price, or (2) inform the inquirer that a copy of the Abstract of Bids is available for inspection at the purchasing office.

(b) Classified awards. In the case of all classified formally advertised contracts, the purchasing office will (1) notify unsuccessful bidders of the fact that their bids were not accepted, and (2) extend the appreciation of the purchasing office for the interest the unsuccessful bidder has shown in submitting a bid. Information with respect to the name of the successful bidder and the contract price will be furnished only to properly cleared representatives of unsuccessful bidders and then only upon written request. This information may be furnished directly to the bidders concerned. No information regarding a classified opening may be furnished by telephone. (See also Part 505 of this chapter.)

(c) Limitation. (1) The procedures set forth above are not intended to apply to requests for general information as to purchases made over extended periods of time, such as one for information as to the number of parachutes purchased during a year and the prices paid therefor. Such requests will be returned, and the inquirer informed that it is not the policy of the Army Establishment to compile and disseminate such information.

(2) Mailing lists will not be established whereby certain addressees other than those prescribed in this Procedure will receive automatically information on all awards, or all information on awards in certain commodity fields.

(d) Synopses of awards. Procedures for the preparation and dissemination of synopses of awards are set forth in § 591.451.

§ 591.450 Distribution of bids and abstracts—(a) Contracting Officer. The original of all rejected and unsuccessful bids, a copy of the accepted bid, and a copy of the abstract of bids will be retained by the Contracting Officer. All rejected bids will be kept available for inspection by the duly authorized representatives of the General Accounting Office and will be forwarded to that office upon request therefor, when required in individual cases.

(b) Head of Procuring Activity. Abstracts and copies of bids will be forwarded to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned only when specifically directed by him or when required by the instructions of the Procuring Activity.

(c) Procurement Information Center. Within 3 days after bids have been opened and final action taken thereon, a copy of the abstract of bids will be mailed to the Office, Under Secretary of the Army, Procurement Information Center, The Pentagon, Washington 25, D. C. If it is decided to cancel an invitation before the opening of bids, the Procurement Information Center will be advised of the cancellation by letter, amendment to the invitation or telegram. If all bids received are rejected, a complete summary of the reasons for such rejection will be furnished with the copy of the abstract of bids forwarded to the Procurement Information Center. This statement will be detachable from the abstract of bids. In addition, each copy of the abstract of bids furnished the Procurement Information Center will have marked upon it the sum total dollar value of the procurement involved in the award or awards.

(d) General Accounting Office. (1) The original of the accepted bid will be attached to the signed number of the contract or award intended for the General Accounting Office.

(2) Where the lowest bid as to price is accepted; i. e., where the lowest bidder is determined from the price alone, no offsetting or equalizing elements being for consideration, and when a certificate (on reverse of U. S. Standard Form No. 1034, or U. S. Standard Form No. 1036, as the case may be) to that effect is furnished by a responsible administrative officer having personal knowledge of the facts, neither the rejected bids nor an abstract of the bids need be forwarded to the General Accounting Office with the contract. When the abstract of bids is not furnished to that office, the items accepted on any particular bid will be indicated on the original number of the bid which is to be furnished to that office.

(3) In all cases where other than the lowest bid as to price is accepted, there will be furnished the General Accounting Office on U. S. Standard Form No. 1036 (Statement and Certificate of Award) a detailed statement giving in full the reasons for the acceptance thereof, together with an abstract of all bids lower than the one accepted.

(e) Extra copies of bids. (1) Signed copies of bids not needed to comply with the foregoing requirements may be destroyed.

(2) If all bids are rejected, all but one original signed number of each bid may be destroyed.

§ 591.451 Synopses of awards. A weekly "Synopsis of Awards" on unclassified contracts entered into after formal advertising or negotiation in an amount of $25,000 or more will be prepared in accordance with the instructions contained in §§ 591.451—591.451–3 by each of the purchasing offices listed in § 591.451–3.

§ 591.451–1 Information to be included. Each synopsis of awards will contain the name of the purchasing office, name and address of the contractor, brief description of the commodity or service being procured.

§ 591.451–2 Distribution. One copy of each synopsis of awards will be sent by air mail before the close of business at the end of each week by each reporting office to the addressees listed below:

Procurement Information Center,
Department of the Army,
Room 3D–745, The Pentagon,
Washington 25, D. C.

Administrative Office,
U. S. Department of Commerce,
Room 1014, 610 South Canal Street,
Chicago 7, Ill.

Small Business Division,
U. S. Department of Commerce,
Room 6427, Commerce Building,
Washington 25, D. C.

Office of Public Information,
Office of the Secretary of Defense,
Room 2E–784, The Pentagon,
Washington 25, D. C.

(If past experience indicates that regular mail will insure Monday delivery to any addressee, air mail will not be necessary.)

§ 591.451–3 Principal purchasing offices. For the purpose of preparing and disseminating information in connection with synopses of invitations for bids as required by § 591.202–5, and synopses of awards as required by §§ 591.451 through 591.451–3, the following are designated as principal purchasing offices of the Army Establishment:

(a) Chief, Publishing Section, Army Publications Service Branch, The Adjutant General's Office, Washington 25, D. C.

(b) Chief, Chicago Procurement Office, Corps of Engineers, 226 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago 6, Ill.

(c) Division Engineer, South Atlantic Division, Lumber Branch, Corps of Engineers, P. O. Box 1889, 536 Old Post Office Building, Atlanta 1, Ga.

(r) Commanding Officer, Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia 37, Pa.

(s) Commanding Officer, Picatinny Arsenal, Dover, N. J.

(t) Commanding Officer, Raritan Arsenal, Metuchen, N. J.

(u) Commanding Officer, Rock Island Arsenal, Rock Island, Ill.

(v) Commanding Officer, Springfield Armory, Springfield 1, Mass.

(w) Commanding Officer, Watertown Arsenal, Watertown 72, Mass.

(x) Commanding Officer, Watervliet Arsenal, Watervliet, N. Y.

(y) Commanding Officer, Rossford Ordnance Depot, Toledo 1, Ohio.

(z) Commanding Officer, Signal Corps Procurement Agency, 2800 South Twentieth Street, Philadelphia 45, Pa.

(aa) Commanding Officer, Armed Services Medical Procurement Agency, 84 Sands Street, Brooklyn 1, N. Y.

§ 591.452 Protests. Protests or objections by bidders, or others having a legitimate interest, to action taken or to be taken by a Contracting Officer in connection with a particular procurement will be settled by the Contracting Officer subject to such limitations as may be imposed by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned and subject to the following instructions:

(a) Where protest is made prior to making award, the award will not be made pending resolution of the protest, except that awards may be made in such cases where the items to be procured are urgently required, delivery will be unduly delayed or it is otherwise in the best interests of the Government.

(b) Where in the opinion of the Contracting Officer it is desirable and in the best interests of the Government the Contracting Officer will submit the protest to higher authority for final resolution.

(c) Where the person making the protest has indicated he intends to carry the protest to a certain higher level of authority, the Contracting Officer will submit the protest through channels to the indicated level of authority for final resolution.

(d) Where a protest affects or involves another bidder or any other person, the Contracting Officer will give prompt notice of the protest to such parties, where feasible or desirable, in order that, if the concerned parties so desire, they may take action or offer a statement or evidence in their own behalf.

(e) Protests submitted for final resolution to levels of authority higher than the Head of a Procuring Activity will be forwarded to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch.

(f) In submitting protests to higher authority, the Contracting Officer will forward a completely documented case, including the following:

(1) A signed statement from the person making the protest setting forth the complete facts on which the protest is based together with any additional supporting evidence.

(2) A signed statement, when relevant, from other persons or bidders affected by or involved in the protest, setting forth the complete facts with respect to their position in the matter, together with any additional supporting evidence.

(3) A copy of the bid of the protesting bidder and a copy of the bid of the bidder to whom the award has been made or who is being considered for award, if relevant to the protest.

(4) A copy of the invitation for bids including, where practicable, pertinent specifications, if relevant to the protest.

(5) A copy of the abstract of bids.

(6) Any other documents which are relevant to the protest.

(7) A signed statement from the Contracting Officer setting forth his findings, actions and recommendations in the matter together with any additional information and evidence deemed to be necessary in determining the validity of the protest.

(g) Protest cases submitted by Contracting Officers to higher levels of authority for forwarding to Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) will contain the recommendations of such intervening levels of authority through which the protest is transmitted.

§ 591.453 Cancellation of invitations and readvertisement after opening of bids. (a) To aid in maintaining the integrity of the competitive bid system in procurement by formal advertising, invitations for bids normally shall not be canceled and readvertised after bids have been opened, since such a procedure discloses the offers of all bidders and may be prejudicial to all bidders, particularly to the low bidder.

(b) Exceptions to this general rule may be made in certain instances, such as, change in specifications after opening of the bids or a determination that a substitute item will best meet the needs of the Government.

(c) As a general rule, invitations for bids should not be canceled and readvertised after the bids have been opened solely due to an increase in the quantity required. In such a case award should ordinarily be made on the original invitation, and the additional quantity should be treated as a new procurement.

(d) In the event of a change in specifications or conditions of the invitation, prior to the date of opening of bids, the invitation should be amended rather than be canceled with subsequent readvertisement. In such instances, the date of opening of bids should be extended sufficiently so that all bidders may have adequate opportunity to examine the amended requirements and submit their bids.

SUBPART E—QUALIFIED PRODUCTS

§ 591.501 Authority for qualified products. Requirements for qualification of products may be established in a specification whenever one or more of the conditions listed in § 401.502 of this title exists.

§ 591.504 Qualified products lists. Military Qualified Products Lists for items covered by Military Specifications or U. S. Army Specifications containing qualification testing requirements will be subject to the provisions in Subpart E of Part 401 of this title, except that in the case of Military Qualified Products Lists for products covered by uncoordinated Military or U. S. Army Specifications the following will apply:

(a) Maintenance, reproduction and distribution of lists. The Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, will maintain a file of approved Military Qualified Products Lists for reference and information purposes. The reproduction and distribution of Military Qualified Products Lists for uncoordinated Military or U. S. Army Specifications, including changes thereto, will be made by the activity having custodianship of the specification concerned. Lists of products, amendments or revisions shall not be distributed until approval has been obtained from the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

(b) Approval of lists. The custodian technical service of an uncoordinated Military or a U. S. Army specification containing qualification testing requirements will forward duplicate copies of proposed lists of those products which have been tested and found to meet the qualification requirements of the applicable specifications and amendments or revisions thereof to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch, for approval.

AUTHORITY: §§ 592.000 to 592.551 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Interpret or apply 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C. Sup., 151–161.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 592.000 Scope of Part. This part sets forth Army Establishment policies and procedures for the procurement of supplies and services by means of negotiation consistent with and supplementary to the provisions of Part 402 of this title.

SUBPART A—USE OF NEGOTIATION

§ 592.101 Negotiation as distinguished from formal advertising—(a) Competition. The fact that a procurement is to be negotiated does not relax the requirements for competition. When supplies or services are to be procured by negotiation and when consistent with the accomplishment of procurement objectives, quotations or proposals will be solicited from all such qualified sources of supplies (as defined in §§ 400.201–9 and 590.201–9 of this title) or services as are deemed necessary to insure effective competition in order that the procurement be made to the best advantage of the Government, price and other factors considered, in accordange with the basic policies set forth in Subpart C of Part 400 and Part 590 of this title.

(b) Conduct of negotiations. Procurement by negotiation is less automatic than and does not have the rigid limitations of formal advertising, bid and award procedures; it allows to a greater extent than formal advertising the exercise of sound business judgment but in no way decreases the responsibility for properly protecting the interests of the Government.

(1) Contracting Officers should conduct contract negotiations to the best advantage of the Government. They may bargain with any number of interested suppliers at any time prior to the award of a contract, as deemed desirable and practicable. After receipt of the initial proposals, separate negotiations may be conducted with any source of supply submitting an offer. The contract should be placed with the supplier making the best final proposal and who has the requisite ability to perform.

(2) Negotiation in accordance with the provisions of § 592.101 will be accomplished to the end that maximum pricing benefits from all negotiated transactions may be realized. Benefits are obtainable through complete negotiation of transactions, particularly when one or several of the proposals indicate, or it is otherwise evident, that further negotiation may result in better pricing. During negotiations potential suppliers must be informed of the provisions which will appear in the contract to be executed. (See also § 402.401 of this title and § 592.401).

(3) An informal record indicating the firms or persons invited to submit proposals and the quotations offered by those submitting proposals will be retained in the files of the Contracting Officer.

(c) Requests for proposals. (1) When a procurement of supplies or services is to be announced in writing to prospective contractors for the purpose of requesting quotations and other terms as a basis for conducting negotiations, a request for proposals similar to WD Form 104 (Request for Proposal and Contractor's Proposal, Short Form) or WD Form 105 (Request for Proposals and Contractor's Proposal, Long Form) will be isued. (See §§ 596.577 and 596.578 of this title.)

(2) Requests for proposals should contain substantially the same information as required for invitations for bids as set forth in § 401.201 of this title, except when inapplicable to negotiated procurements. They should also state that the Government reserves the right to reject all quotations received.

(3) Invitation for Bids forms used in formal advertising, such as U. S. Standard Forms 30 and 33, will not be used in procurement by negotiation for the purpose of soliciting quotations or proposals.

(4) Each written request for proposals should list for each item included therein the applicable specifications as authorized for procurement in § 590.305 (a) of this chapter or will contain a description as provided in § 590.305 (c) of this chapter. Such reference to specifications will include the title and symbols, with revision letters if any, and dates, including amendments if any, identified by numbers and dates.

§ 592.102 General requirements for negotiation. No contract shall be entered into as a result of negotiation unless or until the following requirements have been satisfied:

(a) The contemplated procurement comes within one of the circumstances permitting negotiation enumerated in Subpart B of Part 402 of this title.

(b) Any necessary determination and findings prescribed in Subpart C of Part 402 of this title and of this part have been made.

(c) Such clearances or approvals have been obtained as are prescribed by this Procedure and applicable Procuring Activity instructions (see § 590.604 of this chapter).

(d) The requirements of § 590.403 of this chapter have been satisfied.

§ 592.103 Records and reports of negotiated contracts. Report required by § 402.103 of this title will be made in the form and manner prescribed in Subpart H of Part 590 of this chapter.

§ 592.150 Release of price information and notification to unsuccessful suppliers. (a) In the case of all unclassified negotiated contracts, the purchasing office will notify unsuccessful suppliers who submitted quotations of the fact that their proposals were not accepted and extend the appreciation of the purchasing office for the interest the unsuccessful supplier has shown in submitting a proposal or quotation. Should additional information be sought by suppliers who submitted quotations, purchasing offices will furnish the name and address of the successful supplier and the actual or approximate contract price, if practicable, but, as a general rule, will not reveal the names of other unsuccessful suppliers or the amounts and conditions of their quotations.

(b) In no event shall cost breakdowns or other cost or profit information submitted by any supplier be revealed to any other supplier.

(c) Classified information concerning a negotiated contract will not be furnished by telephone. (See Part 505 of this chapter.)

§ 592.151 Synopsis of awards. A weekly Synopsis of Awards on unclassified negotiated contracts in amounts of $25,000 or more will be prepared in accordance with the instructions contained in § 591.451 of this chapter by each of the purchasing offices listed in § 591.451–3 of this chapter.

§ 592.152 Statement of Contingent or other fees. The prescribed procedure with respect to obtaining information concerning contingent or other fees paid by suppliers or contractors for soliciting or securing Government contracts, including the use of U. S. Standard Form 119 (Contractor's Statement of Contingent or Other Fees for Soliciting or Securing Contract), is set forth in § 590.608 of this chapter.

§ 592.153 F. o. b. purchasing policy. The policy with respect to purchasing f. o. b. origin or destination is set forth in § 590.350 of this chapter.

§ 592.154 Small business. To the maximum extent possible, restrictions which might prevent small business participation will be eliminated from proposed procurements. (See §§ 400.302–3 and 590.302–3 of this title.

§ 592.155 Qualified products. Qualified Products Lists may be used in procurement by negotiation in accordance with the policy and procedures set forth in Subpart E of Part 401 and Part 591 of this title.

SUBPART B—CIRCUMSTANCES PERMITTING NEGOTIATION

§ 592.200 Scope of subpart. Subject to the limitations prescribed in this part and Part 402 of this title, and pursuant to the authority of section 2 (c) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, procurement may be effected by negotiation, and contracts may be entered as a result of negotiation without formal advertising, under any one of the circumstances set forth in Subpart B of Part 402 of this title and the following sections of this subpart.

§ 592.201 National emergency.

§ 592.201–2 Application. (a) This authority shall be used only to the extent determined by the Secretary to be necessary in the public interest during a period of national emergency declared by the President or by Congress. During periods of national emergency when such a determination has been made by the Secretary, all negotiated procurement will be accomplished under § 402.201 of this title and this section and will cite as authority section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947.

(b) A national emergency having been declared by the President on 16 December 1950, the Secretary has made the determination set forth below in accordance with paragraph (a) above. Accordingly, all contracts entered into by negotiation will cite as authority section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Pub. Law 413, 80th Cong.) and Presidential Proclamation 2914. During the period of the national emergency, §§ 402.202 through 402.218 of this title and §§ 592.202 through 592.218 will not be used as authority to negotiate.

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

DETERMINATION

Authority To Negotiate During Period of National Emergency

18 DEC. 1950

1. A National Emergency having been declared by the President of the United States on 16 December 1950, I hereby determine in accordance with section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, that it is necessary in the public interest that, to the extent provided in paragraph 2 hereof, purchases and contracts under said act be negotiated without formal advertising during the period of said National Emergency.

2. Accordingly, I hereby authorize the negotiation of purchases and contracts for supplies and services by the Department of the Army under Section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 during the period of said National Emergency.

(Signed) ARCHIBALD S. ALEXANDER,
Under Secretary of the Army.

(c) U. S. Standard Form 1036 (Statement and Certificate of Award) will not be used to support contracts negotiated under section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947.

§ 592.202 Public exigency. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.202–2 Application. (a) Section 2 (c) (2) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 may be used as authority for negotiating a contract if the compelling and urgent need for the supplies or services to be purchased is within the limitations of § 402.202 of this title and §§ 592.202—592.202–3. In using this authority, Contracting Officers will assure themselves that the need for negotiating is sufficiently compelling and of unusual urgency, and that the emergency situation requires an immediate purchase for which delivery cannot be effected within the time required by means of formal advertising.

(b) When negotiating under this authority, informal competition to the maximum extent practicable within the time allowed will be obtained.

(c) A procurement of material to effect necessary and emergency repairs to a broken water main would be appropriate under § 402.202 of this title and this section, provided that the emergency conditions require immediate replacement of defective materials. This authority could also properly be cited for the emergency procurement of packing material required to effect an emergency air or rail shipment. Also if a procurement is appropriate and proper and is considered an emergency procurement of a high priority nature and which could not otherwise be procured by formal advertising within the time required for delivery, the circumstances involved in the particular procurement, such as for supplies urgently needed to lend military support in connection with a national or international situation or to meet immediately emergency needs of an Army expansion program, may be used to add support to the justification required to be made by the Contracting Officer. The facts bearing on the emergency situation, however, must clearly be shown in the justification in sufficient detail to explain clearly the necessity for purchasing without formal advertising. The Contracting Officer's justification must be supported by the existence of specific emergency circumstances which in themselves relate to the particular purchase being effected.

(d) A short delivery or performance requirement in itself is not a sole justification for the use of section 2 (c) (2) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947. The reasons for effecting delivery or performance by a certain date must be of such a nature that they will fully support the Contracting Officer's action in the event he finds it necessary to use this authority. When delivery requirements are of the utmost importance, officials supervising the issuance of procurement directives to Contracting Officers will be responsible for clearly indicating in the directives the exigent importance for having the supplies delivered by certain dates, including pertinent data as to the reasons therefor. In this connection, Contracting Officers should not be expected or required to negotiate contracts under this authority unless facts sufficient to support their actions can be presented to them in writing by responsible persons in positions of higher authority.

(e) Section 2 (c) (2), Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, and § 402.202 of this title will not be used as authority to negotiate when the procurement is such that it can be negotiated properly under the provisions of §§ 402.203, 402.205, 402.211, 402.213, 402.214, or 402.216 of this title.

(f) Section 2 (c) (2), Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, and § 402.202 of this title will not be used as authority to negotiate supplemental agreements to basic contracts supported by a Determination and Findings signed by the Secretary, except (1) when all the requirements of § 402.202 of this title and this section have been satisfied, and (2) when the supplemental agreement is for the purpose of expediting delivery or performance, such as through the use of overtime or extra-pay shifts.

§ 592.202–3 Limitation. A copy of the Contracting Officer's signed statement justifying the use of this authority required by § 402.202–3 of this title will be attached to the request for approval of award, if such approval is required by § 590.604 of this chapter.

§ 592.203 Purchases not in excess of $1,000. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.203–2 Application. (a) If the aggregate amount required does not exceed $1,000, the Contracting Officer may procure by negotiation under section 2 (c) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, or he may effect the procurement by formal advertising in accordance with Parts 401 and 591 of this title.

(b) This authorization does not modify in any respect the fundamental principle that supplies and services will be obtained as the result of competition and, in general, at least two informal quotations of prices will be requested from sources of supply, as defined in §§ 400.201–9 and 590.201–9 of this title. When circumstances permit, quotations will be solicited from all such qualified sources as are deemed necessary by the Contracting Officer to assure full and free competition consistent with the procurement. The order then will be placed with that responsible supplier whose quotation, price and other factors considered, will be most advantageous to the Government. The absence of competition in any particular case will be explained fully and made of record in the retained files of the Contracting Officer. Likewise, such a record also will be maintained of any verbal or telephonic quotations that may be received in connection with purchases made under this authority.

(c) The authorization contained in this section will be used in negotiating purchases aggregating $1,000 or less rather than any of the other authorizations contained in Subpart B of Part 402 of this title and of this part, except when section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 is authorized for use. (See § 592.201.)

(d) The words "aggregate amount involved" do not require that the purchase should be limited to any particular period of time, as a day, month, or year, or limited to purchases made from a single firm. The aggregate should include all supplies which are grouped together properly in a single transaction and which would be included in a single advertisement for bids if formal advertising were resorted to. Purchases arising from the same need of the same articles should not be made more frequently than the necessities of the service require, in order to limit the aggregate in each case to $1,000, and supplies which are usually purchased together should not be divided simply for the purpose of avoiding advertising for the same. If the character of the supplies is such that good administration would require their purchase in quantities sufficient to last a month, purchases should not be made weekly or daily for the purpose of bringing the amount within the limit authorized. Subject to the above considerations, the matter is one depending upon the sound discretion of the Contracting Officer.

(e) The purchase of similar articles at the same time from different firms or on different dates from the same or different firms when the purchases should have been combined and the aggregate is in excess of $1,000 is not authorized. Hence, when the articles purchased or the amounts of purchases are such that, without explanation, it is not readily discernible why the purchases were not combined, a statement that the Contracting Officer could not have foreseen and combined the requirements in sufficient time to permit formal advertising will be retained in the files of the Contracting Officer pertaining to such transactions.

(f) Instructions covering the small purchases procedure by use of DA AGO Form 383 (Order and Voucher for Purchase of Supplies or Services Other Than Personal) are contained in Part 590, Subpart G, of this chapter.

§ 592.204 Personal or professional services. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.204–2 Application—(a) Services authorized. Section 2 (c) (4) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 shall be used as authority to negotiate personal or professional service contracts only when all of the conditions set forth in § 402.204–2 of this title have been satisfied. Architect-Engineer contracts which wholly or partially involve the procurement of personal services will be entered into under the authority of section 15 of the Act approved 2 August 1946 (60 Stat. 810; 5 U. S. C. 55a).

(b) Approval required. Each contract for personal or professional services negotiated under this or any other authority and each supplemental agreement or change order making a material change in such contract, will contain a provision stating that it is subject to the approval of the Secretary and will not be binding until so approved; and the contract, award of contract, supplemental agreement or change order will be forwarded by the Head of the Procuring Activity involved to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for approval by the Secretary as required by § 590.604–1 of this chapter. Approval of award requirements for Architect-Engineer contracts are set forth in § 590.604–4 of this chapter.

(1) The Head of the Procuring Activity in recommending approval will refer specifically to the applicable statutory authorizations and will furnish a complete statement of facts supporting the determinations required by statute to be made by the Secretary.

(2) The request for approval will include the information required by § 590.605 of this chapter, if applicable, and will contain a statement as to the availability of funds and include reference to the Project Account Number, Appropriation Symbol, and statutory authority under which appropriated.

(3) The request for approval shall contain a statement or be accompanied by a certificate, substantially as set forth below, and such request or certificate shall be personally signed by the Head of the Procuring Activity, his Deputy or his Chief of Staff:

The proposed contract is advantageous to and necessary for the national defense; existing facilities of the Army are inadequate to accomplish the required services, and compensation specified therein is considered reasonable.

(c) Specific statutory authorizations. (1) The following are illustrative of statutory authorizations generally applicable to contracts for personal or professional services.

(i) Section 15 of the act approved August 2, 1946 (5 U. S. C. 55a) which provides:

The head of any Department, when authorized in an appropriation or other act, may procure the temporary (not in excess of one year) or intermittent services of experts or consultants or organizations thereof, including stenographic reporting services, by contract, and in such cases such services shall be without regard to the civil service and classification laws (but as to agencies subject to the Classification Act at rates not in excess of per diem equivalent of the highest rate payable under the Classification Act, unless other rates are specifically provided in the appropriation or other law) and, except in the case of stenographic reporting services by organizations, without regard to section 3709, Revised Statutes, as amended by this act.

(ii) Section 601, Defense Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong.) approved September 6, 1950, which provides:

During the current fiscal year, the Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of the Air Force, the Army, and the Navy, respectively, if they should deem it advantageous to the national defense, and if in their opinions the existing facilities of the Department of Defense are inadequate, are authorized to procure services in accordance with section 15 of the Act of August 2, 1946 (5 U. S. C. 55a), but at rates for individuals not in excess of $50 per day, and to pay in connection therewith travel expenses of individuals, including actual transportation and per diem in lieu of subsistence while traveling from their homes or places of business to official duty stations and return as may be authorized by law: Provided, That such contracts may be renewed annually.

(2) Each personal or professional service contract, supplemental agreement or change order negotiated under this authority will cite the specific authorizations applicable to the procurement in addition to the citations required by § 400.102 of this title.

(d) Limitation on compensation. When with an individual, each personal or professional service contract will expressly limit the compensation payable to him to not more than $50 per day, plus travel expenses, including actual transportation and per diem in lieu of subsistence while traveling from his home or place of business to official duty stations and return.

(e) National emergency. During a period of national emergency when section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 has been authorized for use, the requirements of this paragraph with respect to the provisions of section 15 of the act approved August 2, 1946 (Pub. Law 600, 79th Cong.) and the approval required by paragraph (b) of this section are applicable even though the contract is negotiated under the authority of section 2 (c) (1) rather than section 2 (c) (4) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947.

§ 592.205 Services of educational institutions. (See § 592.201).

§ 592.205–2 Application. (a) For use as a general guide, the phrase "other educational institution," as used in § 402.205 of this title and this section is defined as follows:

Any legal entity in the field of education organized and operated for the purpose of advancement of knowledge through study, training, or investigation, and which is not operated for a profit or no part of the earnings of which inure to the benefit of any individual directly or indirectly, may be considered as an educational institution.

(b) In negotiating a contract under this authority for experimental, developmental, or research work with a prospective contractor who may qualify under the "other educational institution" provision, a statement will be obtained from the prospective contractor as to whether he can qualify as an educational institution, such statement to be supported by conclusive evidence of his contention. The following are illustrative of supporting evidence which may be furnished.

(1) Acceptance by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as an educational institution.

(2) State recognition as an educational institution.

(3) Charter of the institution.

(4) Other evidence of the nonprofit character of the institution.

(c) Contracts negotiated under this authority will be supported by a Determination and Findings signed by the Secretary, as required by § 592.302 and in the form prescribed by § 592.305, when the amount involved exceeds $25,000 and is for other than tuition contracts for military students.

(d) All requests for authority to negotiate contracts for experimental, developmental, or research work submitted for approval and signature of the Secretary will be supplemented by the following information:

(1) If the authority to negotiate pertains to an extension of a contract, the date of original contract, together with total funds obligated under previous contracts, will be stated.

(2) A summary will be furnished of what has been completed to date under previous contracts and what is anticipated under the proposed contract.

(3) An estimate of the time necessary to complete the work.

(4) Department of the Army project number and technical objective classification.

(5) In those cases where the work covered by the proposed contract is in a field for which primary cognizance has been assigned to another technical service, a statement will be required that the cognizant service concurs in the proposed contract.

(6) A statement of the maximum current fiscal year obligation approved by Research and Development Board for the operational category or other controlling element under which the supported project is classified.

(7) The total amount previously obligated in the current fiscal year under the operational category or other controlling element under which the supported project is classified, plus the amount which may be in the process of obligation (i. e., forwarded but not yet approved for negotiation by the Under Secretary or Head of the Procuring Activity), but exclusive of the instant request.

(8) If Army Research and Development funds are not involved, a statement will be included as to what funds are available and will be obligated for the procurement.

(9) If additional extensions are anticipated, a statement will be furnished as to the amount of the estimated additional expenditure. If extensions are not anticipated, it should be so stated.

§ 592.206 Purchases outside the United States. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.206–2 Application. Procurements of the types described in §§ 402.205, 402.211, 402.214 and 402.216 of this title and §§ 592.205, 592.211, 592.214, and 592.216 are not contemplated outside the United States, its territories and possessions. If, nevertheless, such procurements are effected outside the United States, its territories and possessions, the limitations and procedures specified in the above mentioned sections will apply and the statutory authority prescribed therein will be used in lieu of the authority prescribed by § 402.206 of this title.

§ 592.207 Medicines or medical supplies. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.207–2 Application—(a) Competition. In negotiating under this authority, the Contracting Officer will insure that full and free competition is solicited. In cases when supplies identified by brand or trade names are required (no specification being applicable thereto), and when such supplies cannot be purchased direct from the sole manufacturer, the informal solicitation for proposals should extend to as many known wholesale sources of supply handling the particular brand required as practicable.

(b) Advance publicity. In those purchases exceeding $10,000 negotiated under this authority, the form and extent of suitable advance publicity (which will be given for a period of at least 15 days whenever practicable) will be determined in accordance with instructions prescribed by each respective Procuring Activity.

§ 592.208 Supplies purchased for authorized resale. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.208–2 Application—(a) Competition. In negotiating under this authority, the Contracting Officer shall insure that full and free competition is solicited. In cases when supplies identified by brand or trade names are required, and when such supplies cannot be purchased direct from the sole manufacturer, the informal solicitation for proposals should extend to as many known wholesale sources of supply handling the particular brand required as practicable.

(b) Advance publicity. In those purchases exceeding $10,000 negotiated under this authority, the form and extent of suitable advance publicity (which will be given for a period of at least 15 days whenever practicable) will be determined in accordance with instructions prescribed by each respective Procuring Activity.

§ 592.209 Perishable subsistence. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.209–2 Application. In negotiating under this authority, "perishable subsistence" shall be construed to mean those items of food determined to be of a perishable nature (as distinguished from nonperishable subsistence) by The Quartermaster General.

§ 592.210 Supplies or services for which it is impracticable to secure competition by formal advertising. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.210–2 Application. (a) Section 2 (c) (10) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 may be used as an authority for negotiating a contract if the circumstances involved in the particular procurement are similar to the examples set forth in § 402.210–2 of this title. Care and sound judgment, however, will be exercised to prevent abusive use of this authority.

(b) The signed statement of justification required by § 402.210–3 of this title need not be in the form of a formal Determination and Findings; a simple narrative statement or certificate signed by the Contracting Officer will fulfill the requirement. A copy of such statement or certificate will be attached to requests for approval of awards, if such approval is required by § 590.604 of this chapter.

(c) Contracts negotiated under this authority will be supported by a Determination and Findings signed by the Secretary, as required by § 592.302 and in the form prescribed by § 592.305, when for studies or surveys covering Industrial Mobilization Planning Phase I Studies exceeding $12,000 in lieu of the Contracting Officer's signed statement or certificate referred to in paragraph (b) of this section.

§ 592.210–3 Limitation. The authority contained in § 402.210 of this title and §§ 592.210—592.210–3 will not be used when the procurement can be negotiated under §§ 402.201, 402.205, 402.211 through 402.216 of this title, and §§ 592.201, 592.205, and 592.211 through 592.216.

§ 592.211 Experimental, development, or research work. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.211–3 Limitation. (a) If the negotiation of a contract pursuant to the authority contained in § 402.211 of this title and this § 592.211–3 is supported by a Determination and Findings, signed in good faith by the Head of a Procuring Activity, which necessarily contemplates the entering into a contract obligating $25,000 or less, but, after negotiations are completed, the contract to be entered into will obligate more than $25,000, such contract must be supported by a Determination and Findings signed by the Secretary as required by § 402.302 of this title.

(b) Any supplemental agreement, change order, or modification of a contract negotiated under this authority, which has the effect of increasing the initial contract price so that the total amount exceeds the monetary limitation beyond which the Head of the Procuring Activity is not delegated authority to sign a Determination and Findings, will be supported by a Determination and Findings signed by the Secretary as required by § 402.302 and § 592.302 of this title and in the form prescribed by § 592.305.

(c) Subsequent to the time a research and development project is initially established and approved by the appropriate technical committee, the Secretary, pursuant to section 7 (a) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, will consider for approval and signature those Class Determinations and Findings submitted under this authority which pertain to a single unique problem or device and involve one or more negotiated contracts or purchases directly related to the single unique problem or device. At the time of requesting such a determination, the estimated total cost and number of all the negotiated contracts proposed to be executed under the authority of the class determination will be specified. Such determinations will cover a specified period of time and be prepared and submitted in the manner and form prescribed by § 592.305 (b).

(d) All requests for authority to negotiate contracts for experimental, developmental, or research work submitted for approval and signature of the Secretary will be supplemented by the following information:

(1) If the authority to negotiate pertains to an extension of a contract, the date of original contract, together with total funds obligated under previous contracts, shall be stated.

(2) A summary shall be furnished of what has been completed to date under previous contracts and what is anticipated under the proposed contract.

(3) An estimate of the time necessary to complete the work.

(4) Department of the Army project number and technical objective classification.

(5) In those cases where the work covered by the proposed contract is in a field for which primary cognizance has been assigned to another technical service, a statement will be required that the cognizant service concurs in the proposed contract.

(6) A statement of the maximum current fiscal year obligation approved by Research and Development Board for the operational category or other controlling element under which the supported project is classified.

(7) The total amount previously obligated in the current fiscal year under the operational category or other controlling element under which the supported project is classified, plus the amount which may be in the process of obligation (i. e., forwarded but not yet approved for negotiation by the Secretary or Head of the Procuring Activity), but exclusive of the instant request.

(8) If Army Research and Development funds are not involved, a statement will be included as to what funds are available and will be obligated for the procurement.

(9) If additional extensions are anticipated, a statement will be furnished as to the amount of the estimated additional expenditure. If extensions are not anticipated, it will be so stated.

§ 592.211–4 Records and reports. Reports required by § 402.211–4 of this title shall be made in the form and manner prescribed by Subpart H of Part 590 of this chapter.

§ 592.212 Classified purchases. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.212–2 Application. (a) As a matter of general procurement policy, Contracting Officers shall negotiate, rather than procure by formal advertising, when the proposed contract or purchase order or the supplies or services being procured are classified Confidential or higher. The authority of section 2 (c) (12) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 will be used, however, only after the use of other negotiation authorities has been considered and found not applicable, and, where either the contract or purchase order for the supplies or services being procured are classified Confidential or higher.

(b) In addition to the requirements of § 596.579 of this chapter, DD Form 254 (Security Requirements Check List) will be used in precontract negotiations when it is necessary for proposed contractors and subcontractors to have access to classified matter.

§ 592.213 Technical equipment requiring standardization and interchangeability of parts. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.213–2 Application. (a) The term "standardization," as used in connection with this authority, is that uniformity considered necessary to accomplish maximum interchangeability of parts, as distinguished from the general definition of standardization established in SR 715–50–1 (special regulations relating to specifications and standards).

(b) Negotiation under this authority will be limited to purchases of items of technical equipment which must be taken into the field with troops and will not be applied to items of commercial equipment used exclusively in installations in the United States.

(c) Determinations and Findings supporting procurement by negotiation under this authority will be for a stated period of time, which period, in general, will be in ratio to the life of the item being procured.

§ 592.213–3 Limitation. Procurements will not be negotiated under this authority unless the supplies to be purchased have been approved for standardization by the Secretary. Requests for standardization shall be submitted to the Advisory Committee On Procurement Without Advertising of Technical Equipment and Components, which committee will act in an advisory capacity to the Secretary. Additional procedures with respect to the standardization of technical equipment may be issued by the committee.

§ 592.214 Technical or specialized supplies requiring substantial initial investment or extended period of preparation for manufacture. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.214–2 Application. The propriety of a proposed negotiation under this authority cannot be adequately judged unless the accompanying justification indicates the relative size of the previous dollar investment compared to the total of the proposed purchase, what the previous dollar investment or previous preparation consists of (with respect to such factors as facilities, tooling, equipment, training and the like), and what the already accomplished period of preparation is (in years and months). The investment and period of preparation necessary should exclude those costs and preparations such as research and development costs and production preparations, which have already been accomplished as a result of previous Department of Defense or commercial contracts provided those results can be made available to other suppliers. In giving weight to the term "substantial initial investment," justification of "substantial" in this respect must be more than the mere fact that a manufacturer accomplished the initial tooling in a particular instance.

§ 592.214–3 Limitation. In submitting a request for approval and signature of the Determination and Findings required by § 402.302 of this title, a justification for the use of this authority will be presented. The following are illustrative of facts to be considered and information to be included in such a justification:

(a) The advantages which will accrue to the Government by avoiding the duplication should be emphasized.

(b) The requirement "may require duplication of investment" should be invoked only when the preceding requirement of "substantial investment" has been substantiated.

(c) The requirement "may require duplication of preparation already made" should be invoked only when the preceding requirement of "requiring an extended period of preparation for manufacture" has been substantiated.

(d) The requirement "will unduly delay procurement" should be substantiated by statements that the supplier being considered can deliver by a certain date, other suppliers cannot deliver before a specified later date, delivery by a designated earlier date is necessary for military or logistical reasons, and therefore, the proposed supplier is the only supplier who can meet the required delivery terms of the proposed contract.

(e) The name of the supplier or suppliers with whom negotiations are to be conducted will be furnished.

§ 592.215 Negotiation after advertising. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.215–2 Limitation. (a) The authority of section 2 (c) (15) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 can be invoked for all of or only a portion of a specific procurement. When invoked, two determinations by the Secretary are required. The first determination, to be submitted before negotiation, should state the range of bid prices received and the prices or range of prices which are considered unreasonable or have not been independently arrived at in open competition. The second determination, to be submitted after negotiation, should (1) prove that, prior to negotiation, the Contracting Officer gave a notice of intention to negotiate and a reasonable opportunity to negotiate to each responsible bidder whose bid was rejected, (2) specifically state the lowest negotiated price and identify the supplier offering it, and (3) determine that the negotiated price is lower than the lowest rejected bid price of a responsible bidder, and is the lowest negotiated price offered by any responsible supplier. If, however, all the facts are available at the time a request for approval and signature of the Secretary is submitted, both of the required determinations may be included in the preparation of a single Determination and Findings.

(b) In the event a Contracting Officer believes that the bid prices have not been independently arrived at in open competition, he shall in all cases submit the information required by § 591.406–4 of this chapter to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 592.216 Purchases in the interest of national defense or industrial mobilization. (See § 592.201.)

§ 592.216–2 Application. Contracts for Phase II and III Industrial Mobilization Planning Studies shall be negotiated under this authority rather than section 2 (c) (10) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947.

§ 592.216–4 Records and reports. Reports required by § 402.216–4 of this title shall be made in the form and manner prescribed by Subpart H of Part 590 of this chapter.

§ 592.217 Otherwise authorized by law. (See § 592.201).

§ 592.217–2 Application. Section 2 (c) (17) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 preserves the authority to negotiate contracts specifically conferred by statute other than the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 and not repealed therein. Contracts will not be negotiated under this authority without the prior approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Requests for such approvals, with respect to either individual or classes of contracts, will contain a statement of pertinent facts and reasons therefor, including the citation of the applicable statute, and will be submitted through the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 592.218 Construction work. (See § 592.201.) Since the authority contained in § 402.218 of this title is not completely self-sufficient and can be used only in conjunction with other statutory exceptions to formal advertising, § 402.218 of this title and this section will not be cited as authority for negotiating the procurement of construction work. Only sections 2 (c) (1), (2), (3), (6), (10), (11), (12), or (15) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 will be used as authority to negotiate construction work.

§ 592.250 Summary Table. (a) As a convenience to Contracting Officers, the following summary table sets forth (1) the circumstances under which contracts may be entered into as a result of negotiation and without formal advertising, (2) the citation of the applicable section of Armed Services Procurement Regulations and this Procedure, (3) the citation of the applicable section of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, and (4) certain other data.

(b) Since the statutory exceptions to formal advertising are not all mutually exclusive, the table lists the exceptions in order of preference to assist Contracting Officers in selecting the preferred authority when a procurement can be negotiated properly under more than one authority.

Order of preference	Circumstances	Procurement Act 1947 sec.	Sections of Title 32, CFR	Remarks
1	National emergency	2 (c) (1)	402.201 and 592.201	Use only when directed by Secretary.
2	Purchases not in excess $1,000	2 (c) (3)	402.203 and 592.203	Purchases not to be broken down in order to use this authority.
3	National Defense or Industrial Mobilization.	2 (c) (16)	402.216 and 592.216	Determination and Findings by Secretary necessary. Copy to GAO.
4	Experimental, developmental, or research work.	2 (c) (11)	402.211 and 592.211	Determination and Findings by Secretary necessary if over $25,000. Copy to GAO.
5	Standardization and interchangeability.	2 (c) (13)	402.213 and 592.213	Determination and Findings by Secretary necessary. Copy to GAO.
6	Substantial investment or extended preparation.	2 (c) (14)	402.214 and 592.214	Determination and Findings by Secretary necessary. Copy to GAO.
7	Services of educational institutions.	2 (c) (5)	402.205 and 592.205	Determination and Findings by Secretary necessary except under certain conditions.
8	Personal or professional services.	2 (c) (4)	402.204 and 592.204	Contract must be approved by Secretary. Additional statutory authority required.
9	Medicines or medical supplies	2 (c) (7)	402.207 and 592.207	Special publicity required.
10	Authorized resale	2 (c) (8)	402.208 and 592.208	Special publicity required.
11	Perishable subsistence	2 (c) (9)	402.209 and 592.209	Questions as to perishable or nonperishable determined by TQMG.
12	Competition impracticable	2 (c) (10)	402.210 and 592.210	Statement of justification by Contracting Officer. Copy to GAO.
13	Purchases outside United States.	2 (c) (6)	402.206 and 592.206	Applicability dependent upon geographical area.
14	Public exigency	2 (c) (2)	402.202 and 592.202	Statement of justification by Contracting Officer necessary. Copy to GAO.
15	Negotiation after advertising	2 (c) (15)	402.215 and 592.215	Determination and Findings by Secretary necessary. Copy to GAO.
16	Otherwise authorized by law	2 (c) (17)	402.217 and 592.217	Usually after approval of Asst. Chief of Staff, G–4. Statement of Contracting Officer required.
17	Classified purchases	2 (c) (12)	402.212 and 592.212	Determination and Findings by Secretary necessary. Only confidential or higher. Copy to GAO.

SUBPART C—DETERMINATIONS AND FINDINGS

§ 592.301 Nature of Determinations and Findings—(a) Individual Determinations and Findings. Each proposed form of an individual Determination and Findings will be prepared in accordance with § 592.305.

(b) Class Determinations and Findings. Determinations and Findings, referred to throughout Part 402 of this title and this part, may be made with respect to classes of purchases or contracts only by the Secretary. In each such case the proposed form of a Determination and Findings will provide that such class of purchases or contracts may be negotiated during a specified period only. Each proposed form of a class Determination and Findings will be prepared in accordance with § 592.305. It is the policy of the Department to make determinations with respect to the negotiation of classes of purchases or contracts only under special justifiable circumstances.

§ 592.302 Determinations and Findings by the Secretary. In addition to the Determinations and Findings required by § 402.302 of this title, the following determinations, and written findings in support thereof, may be made only by the Secretary:

(a) Determination with respect to negotiated contracts for the services of educational institutions when the amount involved exceeds $25,000 and is for other than tuition contracts for military students (§ 592.205–2 (c)).

(b) Determination with respect to negotiated contracts for supplies or services for which it is impracticable to secure competition by formal advertising when for studies or surveys covering Industrial Mobilization Planning Phase I Studies exceeding $12,000 (§ 592.210–2 (c)).

§ 592.303 Determinations and Findings by the Head of a Procuring Activity signing as "a Chief Officer Responsible for Procurement." In addition to the determinations, and written findings in support thereof, authorized to be made by the Head of a Procuring Activity by § 402.303 of this title, the Head of a Procuring Activity signing as "a chief officer responsible for procurement" may make the determination required by § 592.407 (b) with respect to the use of a Time and Materials Contract.

§ 592.304 Determinations and Findings by a Contracting Officer. (a) The determinations required by §§ 402.404 through 402.406 of this title with respect to the use of a cost or a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract or an incentive type contract may not be made by a Contracting Officer. Such determinations will be made by the Head of a Procuring Activity as provided in § 402.303 (b) of this title.

(b) Contracting Officers may make the determination required by §592.407 (b) with respect to the use of a Time and Materials Contract, if the authority to so do has been delegated by the Head of the Procuring Activity.

§ 592.305 Forms of Determination and Findings—(a) Authority to negotiate an individual contract—(1) Form. Individual Determinations and Findings with respect to the negotiation of contracts under the authority of §§ 402.211 through 402.217 of this title and as otherwise required by this Subchapter G shall be prepared for the signature of the Under Secretary of the Army (or where authorized by § 402.211 of this title for the signature of the Head of the Procuring Activity signing as "a chief officer responsible for procurement") substantially in the form set forth below and in the manner prescribed in § 592.306:

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

DETERMINATION AND FINDINGS

Authority To Negotiate an Individual Contract

1. I hereby find that:

a. The (insert name of Procuring Activity) proposes to procure (describe briefly the scope of the work, or the nature of the supplies or services called for).

b. The estimated cost of the proposed procurement is $------, chargeable to fiscal year ------ funds.

c. The procurement of the above described supplies (services) by formal advertising is not feasible because (summarize such pertinent facts as are available and relevant to support the determination to be made in par. 2).

2. Upon the basis of the findings set forth above, I hereby determine that (insert statement of required determination under applicable section of Part 402 of this title and this part).

3. The above supplies (or services) may, therefore, be procured by negotiation pursuant to section 2 (c) (insert applicable subparagraph) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Pub. Law 413, 80th Congress), and paragraph (insert applicable ASPR authority) of the Armed Services Procurement Regulations.

(Typed signature)
Under Secretary of the Army.

In connection with Determinations and Findings to be signed by the Under Secretary of the Army, the following certificate shall be included on the face of the above form, and such certificate shall be signed by the Head of the Procuring Activity, his Deputy or his Chief of Staff.

I certify that the statements made herein (and in the attachments hereto*) are correct to the best of my knowledge and belief. Signature is recommended.

(2) Scope of Determinations and Findings. In general, it is desirable to confine each Determination and Findings to a single page, and in that connection to set forth the necessary findings as briefly as possible and to confine them to only those facts which are necessary and relevant to support the one or more determinations that are being made. It is neither necessary nor desirable to justify the choice of a particular contractor. With respect to the determination or determinations, it is important to set forth only that one (or those) which is responsive to the various findings, and necessarily to confine it to the requirements and the particular language set forth under the applicable exception in the Act; further in this connection, it is important to guard against a determination in the alternative (except possibly for the one relating to "experimental, development, or research work") and to use cumulative language only when more than one determination is in fact supported by the findings (for example, under section 2 (c) (14), "substantial initial investment" and "extended period of preparation for manufacture"). However, if certain requirements are optional, it is desired that the Determination and Findings list only those requirements of the exception which are essential and can be strongly supported. There is no objection, however, if the facts warrant, to substantiating all the requirements. All other pertinent information should be included in the request for approval and signature of the Determination and Findings by the Secretary.

(b) Authority to negotiate a class of purchases or contracts. Determinations and Findings with respect to the negotiation of classes of purchases or contracts, as referred to in § 402.301 of this title and § 592.301, shall be prepared as set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, with appropriate modifications to make it applicable to a class of purchases or contracts. All such class Determinations and Findings shall be prepared for the signature of the Under Secretary of the Army.

(c) Advance payments. Determinations and Findings with respect to advance payments as set forth in Subpart E of Part 402 of this title, shall be prepared for the signature of the Under Secretary of the Army substantially in the form set forth below and in the manner prescribed in § 592.306.

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

DETERMINATION AND FINDINGS

Authority for Advance Payments

1 I hereby find that:

a. The (insert the name of Procuring Activity) proposes to procure (describe briefly the scope of the work, or the nature of the supplies or services called for).

b. The estimated cost of the proposed procurement is $ ------, chargeable to fiscal year ------ funds.

c. The name of the contractor (or proposed contractor) is ----------.

d. The contractor (or proposed contractor) cannot finance performance of the proposed contract with its own resources and is unable to secure adequate financing through private sources, and, therefore, it is deemed necessary and appropriate in order to procure the required supplies to authorize advance payments in an amount not exceeding $ -------

e. No other contractor is available to furnish the desired supplies (or services), upon terms satisfactory to the Department of the Army, without provision for advance payments.

f. The unliquidated balance of advance payments shall bear interest at the rate of ----------% and shall be subject to such other terms and conditions as may be imposed by the (Head of Procuring Activity) in accordance with policies now existing or hereafter prescribed.

2. Upon the basis of the findings set forth above, I hereby determine that pursuant to section 5 (a) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Pub. Law 413, 80th Cong.) and paragraph 3–502 of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation, the provision for advance payments is in the public interest or in the interest of national defense, and is necessary and appropriate in order to procure the required supplies (or services) under the contract, and such advance payments not exceeding $ -------- are hereby authorized.

(Typed signature)
Under Secretary of the Army.

The following certificate shall be included on the face of the above form, and such certificate shall be signed by the Head of the Procuring Activity, his Deputy or his Chief of Staff:

I certify that the statements made herein (and in the attachments hereto*) are correct to the best of my knowledge and belief. Signature is recommended.

(d) Method of contracting. Determinations and Findings with respect to the use of a cost, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee, or incentive type contract, as set forth in Subparts D of Part 402 of this title and of this part, will be prepared for the signature of the Head of the Procuring Activity, signing as "a chief officer responsible for procurement" substantially in the following form. (Heads of Procuring Activities and Contracting Officers may use the form set forth below as a guide in making the determination required by § 592.407. If such use is made of the form, change the citation "section 4 (b)" to "section 4 (a)" in paragraph 2):

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

DETERMINATION AND FINDINGS

Method of Contracting

1. I hereby find that:

a. The (insert name of Procuring Activity) proposes to procure (describe briefly the scope of the works, or the nature of the supplies or services called for).

b. The estimated cost of the proposed procurement is $------ (including, when applicable, a statement as to the percentage of proposed fixed fee), chargeable to fiscal year ------ funds.

c. The use of a (insert type of a contract to be used) contract is the most practicable and likely to be the least costly method of contracting because (summarize such pertinent facts as are available and relevant to support the determination to be made in par. 2).

2. Upon the basis of the findings set forth above, I hereby determine that pursuant to section 4 (b) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Pub. Law 413, 80th Cong.), and paragraph (insert applicable ASPR authority) of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation, that the use of a (insert type of contract) contract (a) is likely to be less costly than other methods of contracting, or (b) that it is impracticable to secure supplies (or services) of the kind or quality required without the use of a (insert type of contract) contract.

Signature of the Head of the Procuring Activity signing as "a chief officer responsible for procurement."

§ 592.306 Procedure with respect to Determinations and Findings. (a) Requests for approval of Determinations and Findings, referred to throughout Part 402 of this title and this part and requiring the signature of the Secretary, will contain a complete statement of facts and recommendations and be accompanied by the Determination and Findings prepared for the appropriate signature, as well as such supporting data as are necessary to demonstrate the applicability of the cited section of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947. In addition, each request will cite the appropriate funds to be used for the procurement.

(b) The Determination and Findings, request for approval and signature, and all supporting documents will be submitted in quadruplicate (if Military Interdepartmental Purchase Requests or similar documents relating to the transfer of funds are being submitted, duplicate copies of such documents will be sufficient) to the Army Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch). In the case of advance payments, requests for approval and signature of Determinations and Findings will be submitted through the Chief of Finance.

(c) Requests for approval and signature by the Secretary in connection with Determinations and Findings authorizing procurement by negotiation may be accompanied by a request for approval of award in those cases requiring such award approval pursuant to § 590.604.

§ 592.307 Distribution of copies of Determinations and Findings—(a) Individual Determinations. One authenticated copy of each Determination and Findings required by Subpart C of Part 402 of this title will be sent to the General Accounting Office with the original signed number of each contract negotiated and executed thereunder. The original signed copy of each Determination and Findings will be filed with the signed copy of the contract retained in the official files of the purchasing office or Procuring Activity concerned. Additional copies may be distributed in accordance with instructions issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned.

(b) Class Determinations. One authenticated copy of each Determination and Findings made with respect to classes of purchases or contracts will be sent to the General Accounting Office with the original signed number of the first contract negotiated thereunder. Each subsequent contract negotiated thereunder shall refer on its face to the particular class Determination and Findings on file with the General Accounting Office, citing the number of the original contract. The original signed copy of each closs Determination and Findings will be filed with the signed copy of the first contract negotiated thereunder retained in the files of the purchasing office or Procurement Activity concerned. Additional copies may be distributed in accordance with instructions issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned.

(c) National emergency. The requirements of this section are waived with respect to contracts negotiated under § 402.201 of this title and § 592.201.

§ 592.308 Retention of copies of Determinations and Findings and of other records. (a) Executed originals of all Determinations and Findings, copies of all supporting documents, and complete records with respect to all negotiated contracts shall be preserved in the cognizant purchasing office or Procuring Activity concerned for a period of six years following payment on each respective contract, unless retired earlier under special regulation.

(b) Each procurement transaction file will be complete and copies of all documents, certified if necessary, will be included therein. Procurement transaction files will be maintained in such a manner as to present a complete résumé of the transaction for historical record or such other purpose as may be required. As a minimum in negotiated procurements, a memorandum for record, signed by the Contracting Officer and briefly setting forth the facts, conclusions, and actions regarding the transaction, will be included as part of the file.

SUBPART D—TYPES OF CONTRACTS

§ 592.401 Authorized types of contracts—(a) Basic Policy. In accordance with the basic policy set forth in § 402.401 of this title the fixed-price type of contract shall generally be used for negotiated contracts; other methods of contracting may be used only when the requirements of Subpart D of Part 402 of this title and of this part have been satisfied.

(b) Pricing in connection with type of contract selected. (1) Efficient procurement includes a discriminating use of the various types of authorized contracts. The type of contract selected has an important bearing upon the price to be paid by the Government. When competitive conditions or available cost data are sufficient to indicate reasonableness of the price, the fixed-price type of contract under which the price is not subject to subsequent adjustment affords the most effective means of reducing total cost to the Government. It is under this type of contract that incentives to production efficiency are greatest. It must be recognized, however, that prices under such contracts may include charges for contingencies. Such provisions may be eliminated, at least in part, by the use of price redetermination clauses. Many of the normal risks involved in contract performance are shifted to the Government under the cost-reimbursement type of contract and the fixed-price type of contract under which the price is subject to possible upward adjustment. The relative risk borne by the contractor, the degree of incentive to production efficiency and the administrative cost involved under each type of contract should be given careful consideration in selecting the method of contracting.

(2) It is the policy of the Army to obtain the maximum use of funds, and to secure the largest possible quantities of materials of requisite quality which can be purchased with those funds. To that end, efforts will be directed toward close initial pricing and close pricing on redetermination, rather than to rely on recapture of excessive profit by statutory renegotiation.

(3) It is the policy of the Army to secure "close prices," which will be fair both to the Government and the contractor and which will provide an incentive for efficient performance by establishing an adequate margin of profit and by eliminating allowances for contingencies to the greatest extent possible. The objective of this policy is to keep management alert in an effort to avoid increased costs which would reduce the established profit, and to reduce costs, if possible, in order to increase the opportunity for additional profit.

(4) Profit or fee allowances will be determined separately under each contract, and "across-the-board" agreements with contractors as to rates of profit or fee will not be made. The determination of a fair and reasonable profit or fee is a matter of sound business judgment. There are no conclusive rules or formulas which would be suitable for uniform application; however, in arriving at a fair and reasonable profit or fee, the following factors should be considered:

(i) Type of contract.

(ii) Performance risks.

(iii) Record of efficiency in production.

(iv) Character and extent of subcontracting.

(v) Reliability of contractor's cost estimates.

(vi) Equipment, facilities, or financial assistance furnished by the Government.

(vii) Invested capital.

(viii) Possible present or future benefit to the contractor.

(ix) Value added by the manufacturing processes.

(x) Contingency factors.

§ 592.402 Fixed-price contract. (a) The fixed-price contract provides for a firm price or prices for the supplies or services which are being procured. This type of contract may include a provision for price escalation agreed to at the time of entering into a contract. Authorized price escalation clauses are set forth in § 596.151. (See also § 402.401 of this title and § 592.401.)

(b) In a fixed-price contract for architectural or engineering services relating to any public work or utility project, the maximum price for such services shall not exceed 6 percent of the estimated cost of such project (exclusive of the fixed fee for the project).

(c) Part 414 of this title, Contract Cost Principles, will not be used in negotiating prices under fixed-price contracts other than (1) by auditors for the purpose of preparing advisory reports, and (2) by Contracting Officers to the extent they deem it advisable, as a working guide only.

§ 592.403 Fixed-price contract with provision for redetermination of price. (a) Pursuant to the policies set forth in § 402.403 of this title, an appropriate price redetermination clause, as authorized in § 596.152, should be used in fixed-price contracts in those instances when:

(1) There are no data to indicate reasonableness of price, such as lack of effective competition or the absence of an independent Government estimate; or

(2) The estimate of the low offeror, or the only offeror, exceeds the independent Government estimate by an unreasonable amount; or

(3) It is necessary or desirable to eliminate charges for contingencies from the contract amount; or

(4) It is necessary or desirable to incorporate incentives to increase production efficiency and to reduce costs; or

(5) Other circumstances require protection of the interests of the Government by use of price redetermination clauses.

(b) In accordance with the above, the forms of price redetermination clauses set forth below may be used in negotiated fixed price contracts without approval of higher authority, except for those approvals as may be required by the Head of a Procuring Activity. Price redetermination clauses not included in subparagraphs (1) through (3) in this paragraph will not be used without the prior approval of the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army.

(1) Form III in any negotiated contract up to amounts not in excess of $100,000.

(2) Form II–B in any negotiated contract where the delivery schedule calls for deliveries over a prolonged period, regardless of contract amount.

(3) Form IV in any negotiated contract, regardless of contract amount.

(c) Upward revision to be allowed in Forms II–B and IV, price redetermination clauses, will be limited to 10 percent in all possible cases and in any event limited to 25 percent. Only the standard price redetermination clauses, without deviation except as authorized herein, will be used under this excepted authority. In view of the protection afforded to the contractor by the use of a price redetermination clause in reduction of the risks to him, careful consideration will be given in determining the rate of profit to be allowed, with due weight being given to the percentage of the contract consisting of material, subcontracting, standard commercial items ("off-the-shelf" items), and purchased parts. It will not be assumed that a contractor who agrees to inclusion of a Form III price redetermination clause in a proposed contract is assuming appreciable risk, unless it can be determined that the price offered by him does not include contingency provisions. Form IV, price redetermination clause, will be used in lieu of the Form II–B clause in production contracts in all instances, regardless of the contract amount, when the delivery schedule is so short as to preclude completion of price redetermination well in advance of completion of the contract or deliveries thereunder.

(d) Part 414 of this title, Contract Cost Principles, will not be used in negotiating prices under fixed-price contracts containing price redetermination clauses other than (1) by auditors for the purpose of preparing advisory reports, and (2) by Contracting Officers to the extent they deem it advisable, as a working guide only.

§ 592.405 Cost contract. (a) Pursuant to the requirements of § 402.405 of this title, the cost (or cost-sharing) type of contract may be used in those cases where fixed-price (with or without provision for price redetermination) contracts are not suitable, where the contractor's cost recording system facilitates audit, and where close scrutiny by Government representatives during performance of the contract will give reasonable assurance that the contractor is not employing wasteful or extravagant methods.

(b) Standards for the determination and allowance of costs in connection with the performance of cost type contracts are set forth in Part 414 of this title.

§ 592.406 Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract. (a) Pursuant to the requirements of § 402.406 of this title, the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee type of contract may be used in those cases where fixed-price (with or without provisions for price redetermination) contracts are not suitable, where the contractor's cost recording system facilitates audit, and where close scrutiny by Government representatives during performance of the contract will give reasonable assurance that the contractor is not employing wasteful or extravagant methods.

(b) Under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee type of contract, the contractor is reimbursed for substantially all its costs, and the fixed-fee represents essentially profit without risk. Such fee should be determined not by the amount of the estimated cost, but by the extent and nature of the work supervised or the services to be performed by the contractor. Thus in fixing the fee consideration should be given, among other factors such as those listed in § 592.401 (b) (4), to whether the work or production involved is complicated or simple, the turn-over slow or rapid, how much or little of the work will be subcontracted, and how extensive or difficult the duties of the prime contractor will be in supervising the subcontracted work.

(c) Standards for the determination and allowance of costs in connection with the performance of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee type contracts are set forth in Part 414 of this title.

§ 592.407 Time and materials contract—(a) General. It is the policy of the Army that time and materials contracts will be awarded only on the basis of sound business practice, and that the expenditure of funds thereunder shall be supervised and controlled to assure maximum return and benefit to the Government. In such type of contracts, charges for material will be reimbursed at contractors' cost without allowance for overhead or profit; however, a material handling charge may be allowed if in accordance with the contractor's established accounting system, and if it is not duplicated in the overhead rate allowed the contractor.

(b) Limitation on use. The time and materials type of contract will be used only after a determination by the Head of the Procuring Activity (or by the Contracting Officer, if so delegated in Procuring Activity instructions), that—

(1) Such method of contracting is likely to be less costly than other methods; or

(2) It is impractical to secure supplies or services of the kind or quality required without the use of such type of contract.

(c) Justification of use. The official contract file will contain a certificate, accomplished by the Contracting Officer, justifying the use of a time and materials contract, which certificate will include information such as the following:

(1) Hourly rates, including overhead and profit, compared with—

(i) Previous Governmental contracts of this type.

(ii) Rates normally charged on commercial contracts of this type.

(iii) Existing contracts with other agencies.

(2) Complete justification of profit percentages in excess of ten percent of direct labor and labor overhead.

(d) Reimbursement for material. All time and material type contracts will provide that material purchased, manufactured, or otherwise procured thereunder shall be reimbursed by the Government to the contractor at cost. For the purpose of this section, the term "at cost" will be construed to mean:

(1) Standard commercial parts. When the contractor purchases the material furnished, the net cost (cost clear of anything extraneous, i. e., cash discounts, trade discounts, rebates, commissions, and any other allowances and credits available to the contractor) to the contractor, regardless of date purchased, plus properly identified and supported freight or transportation charges, if any, paid by the contractor. Other costs, such as material handling expense, which must be included as a part of overhead in the unit labor rate, are not allowable under this section.

(2) Fabricated special parts. When the contractor manufactures the material furnished as a nonstandard item, the net cost, including direct labor expense direct material expense (clear of all deductions, such as cash discounts, trade discounts, rebates, commissions, and any other allowances and credits available to the contractor) to the contractor, plus allocable freight or transportation charges, other direct charges, if any, and related overhead costs but no allowance for profit.

(3) Fabricated standard parts. (i) When the contractor manufactures the parts furnished as a standard item, the net cost (after deducting all discounts, rebates, commissions, and all charges for the contractor's profit) will constitute the charge allowable at date of delivery to the Government; however, (ii) when all or some of the parts furnished appears on a current Federal Supply Schedule the contract will make reference to the applicable schedule(s) and the cost will not exceed the schedule price but will be the lesser price allowed under (i) above.

§ 592.408 Letter contract.

§ 592.408–1 Approval requirement. Letter contracts, or any other type of preliminary contract, will not be used without prior approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), except that, subject to limitations imposed by § 592.408–4, heads and acting heads of technical services are authorized to issue letter contracts as follows:

(a) Letter contracts for other than research and development. Heads and acting heads of technical services are authorized to issue letter contracts for other than research and development in amounts not to exceed $2,500,000 when the total estimated definitive contract amount is $5,000,000. When the total estimated amount of the definitive contract is less than $5,000,000 the maximum amount of any letter contract which the heads of technical services may authorize is 50 percent of such total estimated definitive contract amount. When the total estimated definitive contract amount of any procurement exceeds $5,000,000, or it is desired to award a letter contract for an amount in excess of 50 percent of the total estimated amount of the definitive contract, irrespective of such total, prior approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), is required before issuance of the letter contract. (For instructions as to information to be furnished in requesting authority to issue letter contracts as herein specified, see § 592.408–5.

(b) Letter contracts for research and development. Heads and acting heads of technical services are authorized to issue letter contracts for research and development in amounts not to exceed $50,000 when the total estimated definitive contract amount is $100,000. When the total estimated amount of the definitive contract is less than $100,000, the maximum amount of any letter contract which the heads of technical services may authorize is 50 percent of such total estimated definitive contract amount. When the total estimated definitive contract amount of any procurement exceeds $100,000, or it is desired to award a letter contract for an amount in excess of 50 percent of the total estimated amount of the definitive contract, irrespective of such total, prior approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), is required before issuance of the letter contract. (For instructions as to information to be furnished in requesting authority to issue letter contracts as herein specified, see § 592.408–5.)

§ 592.408–2 Redelegation of authority. The authority delegated in § 592.408–1 (a) and (b) may be redelegated by heads of technical services to the extent deemed necessary to personally selected members of their organizations. Such selected members are not authorized to redelegate this authority.

§ 592.408–3 Supersedure by definitive contract. Letter contracts shall be superseded as soon as possible by final definitive contracts. Advice as to letter contracts approved by the technical services under the authority of §§ 592.408 to 592.408–6, which have not been superseded by a final definitive contract within 120 days from the date of issue (not date of execution) of such letter contract will be submitted to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) with full justification as to the circumstances precluding the execution of a definitive contract within such period.

§ 592.408–4 Conditions for use. Subject to §§ 592.408–1 and 592.408–2, the authority to issue letter contracts is contingent upon compliance with § 402.408 of this title and the conditions set forth below:

(a) That the definitive contracts will contain all required standard clauses, in addition to such standard optional clauses as are necessary to protect fully the interest of the Government, and that this provision will be made a condition of each letter contract.

(b) That all fixed-price contracts, when there is no information upon which to base reasonableness of price, will contain applicable standard price redetermination clauses with upward limitations thereunder held to a minimum, but in no event to exceed 25 percent, and that this provision shall be made a condition of each applicable letter contract.

(1) Irrespective of total estimated definitive contract amount, a definitive contract or letter contract providing for a price redetermination clause with upward revision exceeding 25 percent must have prior approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

(2) Independent Government estimate, prepared prior to receiving estimate from the proposed contractor, may be used to determine reasonableness of price.

(c) That the fixed-fee in a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee type of contract will not exceed the limitations set forth in § 402.406–1 of this title, with further consideration given to the following:

(1) The absence of risk to the contractor.

(2) The estimated quantity of the following as compared with the total estimated definitive contract price: (i) Material, (ii) subcontracting, (iii) purchased parts, and (iv) "Off-the-Shelf" items.

(3) The size of the proposed contract.

(d) That the profit to be paid shall be consistent with the protection afforded to the contractor in the minimizing or removal of risk to him, with due consideration given to the estimated quantity of the following as compared to the total estimated contract price: (1) Material, (2) subcontracting, (3) purchased parts, and (4) "Off-the-Shelf" items.

§ 592.408–5 Information to be furnished when requesting approval of letter contracts. Requests for authority to award letter contracts submitted to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), must indicate that the use will be in accordance with the basic policies set forth in § 402.408 of this title, and will include the following:

(a) Statement as to the necessity and advantage to the Government of the use of the proposed letter contract.

(b) Name and address of proposed contractor.

(c) Location where contract is to be performed.

(d) Brief description of supplies and quantities to be furnished or services to be rendered.

(e) Duration of letter contract in number of days from date of execution.

(f) Amount of letter contract.

(g) Total estimated definitive contract amount, including estimated cost of: (1) facilities, (2) special tooling, equipment, etc., (3) activation or reactivation, (4) training of personnel, and (5) subcontracting.

(h) Estimated delivery schedule.

(i) Type of definitive contract proposed (fixed-price, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee, etc.).

(j) Statement as to whether the definitive contract will contain all required standard clauses in accordance with Armed Services Procurement Regulations (chapter IV of this title), this Procedure, and other Department of the Army directives.

(k) List of all standard optional clauses which will be made a part of the definitive contract, including: (1) Patent clauses, (2) Copyright clause, (3) Special Tooling clause, (4) Government Property clause, (5) Facility agreement, and (6) Price Redetermination clause (including form number and percentage of upward revision).

(l) Statement that the provisions of paragraphs (j) and (k) of this section will be made a condition of the subject letter contract.

(m) Statement that the minimization of risk, through inclusion of the price redetermination clause, will be given due consideration in determining the rate of profit to be allowed, with further attention given to the amount of each of the following as compared to the total estimated contract amount: (1) material, (2) subcontracting, (3) purchased parts, and (4) "Off-the-Shelf" items.

(n) Source of funds to be used in the proposed procurement, showing—

(1) Total allocated, and

(2) Total obligated to date, exclusive of the proposed letter contract.

(o) Statement that research and development funds will not be used when the work to be covered is not for research and development.

(p) Statement that the definitive contract will be executed with a minimum of delay.

(q) Statement that the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), will be notified through the Head of the respective Procuring Activity, without delay, as to the date of execution of the letter contract.

(r) Statement that request for approval of award, if required, will be forwarded in time to reach the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), no later than fifteen (15) days prior to the expiration of the letter contract.

(s) Statement that the letter contract will be reported on "Individual Procurement Action Report," DD Form 350 in the amount of the letter contract; and that subsequent reports will be submitted, when and if changes are made in the amount of obligation of the letter contract, only in the amount of such change, whether plus or minus. Further, that when formal contract is executed, report will be made only in the amount of the definitive contract, less the cumulative obligation under the letter contract and any changes thereto. (See Subpart H of Part 590 of this chapter.)

§ 592.408–6 Approval for modification of letter contracts. Letter contracts approved for issuance by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, will not be extended or amended without prior approval of Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Requests for approval of extensions or increases will be submitted in the following form:

(a) Name and address of contractor.

(b) Description of work to be performed, showing quantity of items originally approved.

(1) If quantities have been increased subsequent to original approval, show such quantities, authority, and date.

(2) If additional quantities are to be procured, show such quantities and new total.

(c) Date originally approved.

(d) Date letter contract was executed (accepted by contractor).

(e) Duration originally approved.

(1) If extensions in the duration have been made subsequent to original approval, show such extensions, authority, and dates.

(2) If additional days are required, show number required and new total.

(f) Amount of letter contract originally approved.

(1) If increases have been made subsequent to original approval, show each increase, authority, and dates.

(2) If additional increase is required, show amount and new total, and source of funds, including: (i) Total allocated, and (ii) total obligated to date, exclusive of the proposed increase.

(g) Estimated definitive contract total originally approved.

(1) If increases have been made subsequent to original approval, show each increase, authority, and date.

(2) If additional increase is required, show amount and new total.

(h) Complete justification for extension or increase requested, including reasons as to why definitive contract cannot be executed without such amendment.

NOTE. The requirements of this section shall not be construed to restrict Procuring Activities from approving definitive contracts, within the authority of § 590.604 of this chapter, for which letter contracts were approved by The Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch) prior to the delegation of such authority.

§ 592.409 Other types of contracts—(a) Purchase order. A Purchase Order is a fixed-price contract, in the form of a written acceptance signed by the Contracting Officer, for the purchase of supplies or services from an established price list or following a written or oral quotation of prices. Purchase Orders shall be used only for negotiated purchases and as prescribed in Part 596 of this chapter. DA AGO Form 383 is a type of Purchase Order authorized for use for purchases not in excess of $1,000 (see Subpart G of Part 590 of this chapter).

(b) Open-end contract. An open-end contract is an agreement for supplies or services which contains no or varying limits of time and quantity and which usually involves recurring order and charges in varying degree.

§ 592.411 Contract forms and provisions. Authorized contract forms and provisions are set forth or referenced in Parts 406 and 596 of this title.

SUBPART E—ADVANCE PAYMENTS

§ 592.502 Authority to make advance payments. It is the policy of the Army to require contractors furnishing supplies and services to be able to perform contracts with their own funds or with private financing. In negotiated procurements, contractors may be assisted in financing needs by providing for expeditious reimbursement for proper expenditures under cost-reimbursement type contracts, and by use of progress payments and/or partial payments in connection with fixed-price contracts. The policy with respect to the use of partial or progress payments is set forth in § 596.150–1. Exceptions to this general policy may be permitted in negotiated procurements in those instances in which the contractor is particularly adapted to the supplying of items or services to be procured, but who is limited in working capital and is unable to obtain private commercial financing. In such cases, consideration may be given to the use of Government financing through advance payments as prescribed in Subparts E of Part 402 of this title and of this part.

(a) Authority to make advance payments is vested in the Secretary. Requests for such authority will, in each instance, be submitted to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), through the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned and the Chief of Finance. The request, including all supporting documents, submitted in original and 6 copies, will be supported by the following data:

(1) A statement from the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned that the national interest will be served in making the advance payment.

(2) A statement from the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned that contractors with other means of financing are not available upon terms satisfactory to the Procuring Activity without provision for advance payment.

(3) Information as to the security proposed to protect the Government against loss together with the definite recommendation of the Head of the Procuring Activity involved as to the adequacy thereof and negative covenants, if any, needed for further protection of the Government against loss.

(4) Information as to general character and responsibility as well as technical ability of the contractor to perform the contract.

(5) Dollar amount of the contract, the items to be supplied and a schedule of deliveries.

(6) Information as to whether the contract was awarded on a fixed-price or on a cost-reimbursement basis.

(7) Terms of the proposed advance and method of repayment or liquidation.

(8) Latest available balance sheet and profit and loss statement of contractor.

(9) Copy of the contractor's letter of request and any financial and budgetary data submitted in support of the necessity for the advance payment.

(10) Copy of the Contracting Officer's report on the advance payment request, if any.

(11) Date and identifying symbol of the approval of the award together with the appropriation available.

(12) Six copies of the Determination and Findings, required by § 402.302 (g) of this title in the form set forth in § 592.305 (c), and any other information pertinent to a proper decision in the case.

(b) Requests for approval of the authorization of an advance payment may be presented during the negotiation of a contract and prior to completion thereof. If the proposed contract is available, a copy thereof shall be attached to the request. If copy of the contract is not available at the time the request is forwarded, a copy shall be promptly submitted to the Chief of Finance for review and filing subsequent to execution.

§ 592.503 Limitations on authority to make advance payments. A request for authorization to make advance payments shall not be forwarded unless it comes within the provisions of § 402.503 of this title. It should be noted that paragraph (b) of § 402.503 of this title makes an exception which permits advance payments in connection with nonprofit research and development contracts with educational institutions.

§ 592.504 Security provisions. (a) Advance payments shall be authorized only on the furnishing of adequate security by the contractor. This security shall be that required under provisions of the contract involved. A guarantee by, or bond of, a parent corporation is desirable if the subsidiary corporation has limited financial responsibility, especially in the case of a newly-formed subsidiary corporation. Whether or not guarantees, subordination agreements, or other security devices shall be required in connection with advance payments is within the discretion of the Secretary. Advance payment bonds shall be required only in the most exceptional circumstances.

(b) When the contract clause prescribed by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, provides for deposit of monies from the advance payment to be placed in a special bank account, the contractor shall obtain, execute, and turn over to the Contracting Officer for transmittal, through the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned and the Chief of Finance, to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, 6 copies of an agreement executed by each bank in which a control bank account is established. Such an agreement shall be prepared substantially in the following form:

AGREEMENT

Agreement entered into this ------ day of ----------, 1951, between the United States of America, represented by the Contracting Officer executing this Agreement, hereinafter called the Government, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of ----------, hereinafter called the Contractor, and ----------, a banking corporation of the State of ----------, located ----------, hereinafter called the bank.

---

(Contractor)

RECITALS

(a) Under date of ----------, 195--, the Government and the Contractor entered into Contract No. ------, or a supplemental Agreement thereto, providing for the making of certain advance payments to the Contractor.

(b) Said Contract or Supplemental Agreement requires that amounts advanced to the Contractor thereunder be deposited in a Special Bank Account or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684, as amended; 12 U. S. C., 264), separate from the Contractor's general or other funds; and, the bank being such a bank, the parties are agreeable to so depositing said amounts with the bank.

(c) It is further agreed that the Government shall have a lien upon the credit balance in said account to secure the repayment of all advance payments made to the Contractor, which lien shall be superior to any lien or claim of the bank with respect to such account. In the event of the service of any writ of attachment, levy of execution or commencement of garnishment proceedings with respect to the Special Bank Account, the bank will promptly notify the office administering the advance payment thereof.

Now therefore, in consideration of the premises and for other good and valuable considerations, the parties hereto agree that the bank will be bound by the provisions of said contract or contracts relating to the deposit and withdrawal of funds in the Army Special Bank Account, but shall not be responsible for the application of funds withdrawn from said account.

In witness whereof the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be executed as of the day and year first above written.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

(c) Upon the liquidation of advance payments, releases and agreements to release mortgages, guarantors in guaranty agreements, sureties on advance payment bonds, and other security devices which may be required in connection with advance payments, will be executed by the Under Secretary of the Army. Requests for such executions, accompanied by a certification of the Contracting Officer that the advance payment has been completely liquidated, will be forwarded to the Secretary (address request to Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn. Chief, Current Procurement Branch)), through the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned and the Chief of Finance.

§ 592.505 Interest on advance payments. Except when specifically authorized by the Secretary to be made without interest, whenever an advance payment is made to a contractor by the Army, a charge will be made for use of Government money so furnished. The charge will be in the nature of an interest charge, computed on the rate set by the Secretary. In the case of a fixed-price contract, the amount of the charge will be deducted from payments under the contract. In the case of a cost-plus-fixed-fee contract, the charge will be deducted from the amount of the fee otherwise payable to the contractor. In case such fee is not sufficient to take care of such interest, chargeable deduction will be made from any other monies due the contractor. Such interest will not be an item of reimbursable cost under the contract.

§ 592.550 Contract clauses. Instructions pertaining to the use of contract clauses providing for advance payments are set forth in § 592.150–2.

§ 592.551 Reports. In connection with advance payments, the offices of the Heads of Procuring Activities concerned will make the following described reports:

(a) Quarterly reports. Reports on WD AGO Form 14–135 will be submitted to the Chief of Finance not later than the 15th day of the month following the close of the quarterly reporting period. A special statement together with a statement as to the steps being taken to protect the advance payments shall be included in the report as to any contract with respect to which the completion of the contract and liquidation of the advance payments appear to be doubtful. This report shall not merely cover the period from the last report but shall also include data previously furnished. The report will not include contracts upon which complete liquidation of the advance payments has been made and previously reported. When it is intended to terminate a contract without using the advance, or the contract is completed without use of the advance, an appropriate remark to that effect shall be included when listing the advance in order to clear the records of the Chief of Finance; it will then be dropped from the next quarterly report.

(b) Interim reports. If at any time during the intervening periods between quarterly reports it appears doubtful that a contractor to whom advance payments have been made will complete the contract, a report shall be submitted to the Chief of Finance immediately. This report shall include a statement of the facts in the case and the action being taken to protect the Government's interest.

PART 593—COORDINATED PROCUREMENT

Sec.
593.000 Scope of part.
593.001 Coordinated procurement of items in short supply.

SUBPART C—PROCUREMENT OF PRISON-MADE AND BLIND-MADE PRODUCTS

594.301 Prison-made products.
594.302 Blind-made products.

SUBPART D—PROCUREMENT UNDER THE ECONOMY ACT FROM OR THROUGH ANOTHER FEDERAL AGENCY

AUTHORITY: §§ 594.000 to 594.302 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Interpret or apply 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C. Sup., 151–161.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 594.000 Scope of part. Supplementary to, but consistent with Part 404 of this title, this part sets forth the policy with respect to (a) procurement of supplies and services from or through the Federal Supply Service, (b) procurement of printing and related supplies, and (c) procurement of prison-made and blind-made products.

SUBPART A—PROCUREMENT FROM OR UNDER CONTRACTS OF FEDERAL SUPPLY SERVICE

§ 594.101 Statement of policy. In the procurement of supplies or services covered by contracts made by the Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration, it is the policy of the Department of the Army to utilize, to the fullest extent consistent with economy and practicability, the "Federal Supply Schedule."

(a) Requirement. Purchases will be made under contracts of the Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration, which are mandatory by the terms of the schedules, or when so directed by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, except under the following circumstances:

(1) The item cannot be furnished under such contracts by the time such item is required.

(2) The item can be obtained more economically by another method of purchase.

(b) Emergency purchase. In any case when, pursuant to paragraph (a) (1) of this section, purchase of a mandatory item listed in the Federal Supply Schedule is not made from such Schedule, the voucher submitted to the Disbursing Officer for payment shall contain a finding that the purchase was justified as the item could not be furnished under the Federal Supply Schedule by the time such item was required. Such a finding shall be final and conclusive. The authority to make such a finding is vested in the Heads of the Procuring Activities. This authority will be used only when necessary, and will not be construed as authorization to disregard the requirements of the Federal Supply Schedule. In each instance, the finding will set forth the specific reasons why the time element made the purchase necessary.

(c) Economy. In any case when, pursuant to paragraph (a) (2) of this section, it is determined that a saving will be effected by the purchase of mandatory items listed in the Federal Supply Schedule from sources other than those listed in such Schedule, the voucher submitted to the General Accounting Office shall contain a finding stating the reason for purchase from other than the Federal Supply Schedule, and citing the amount of the savings effected. The authority to make such a finding is vested in the Heads of the Procuring Activities. This authority will not be construed as authorization to disregard the requirements of the Federal Supply Schedule.

§ 594.102 Orders under contracts of Federal Supply Service. (a) Delivery orders for supplies listed in the Federal Supply Schedule will be addressed and forwarded direct to the contractor indicated and shall contain sufficient data to enable prompt identification (by disbursing and auditing agencies) of the correct listing in the proper Federal Supply Schedule. These data will include contract number, item number, and, where applicable, supplement, region or zone number.

(b) All orders issued under contracts of the Federal Supply Service will be effected by "delivery orders." (See § 596.515 of this chapter.)

(c) Each such delivery order will designate the name of the Finance Officer by whom payment is to be made.

(d) Each such delivery order will indicate on its face that prices, if shown, will be subject to the basic contract of the Federal Supply Service.

§ 594.103 Procurement from Supply Centers of Federal Supply Service—(a) Requirement. Installations of the Army Establishment are required to purchase items through the Federal Supply Service in accordance with the provisions indicated in § 594.101 (a). Purchase of any item from Warehouse and Supply Centers of the Federal Supply Service, however, is also authorized, subject to any conditions or regulations which the Heads of interested Procuring Activities may prescribe (who, in case purchase responsibility for such item has been assigned to a particular Procuring Activity, will be the Head of such Procuring Activity). Purchase from a Warehouse and Supply Center of the Federal Supply Service of any item listed on a Federal Supply Schedule mandatory on the purchasing office, or on the Schedule of Blind-Made Products, is considered compliance with either of such Schedules.

(b) Stock catalogs of Supply Centers. Stock catalogs issued by each Supply Center, Federal Supply Service, list supplies regularly available for issue and contain instructions relative to the use of such catalogs. Supplies handled by these centers are, in general, supplies purchased for stock purposes by the Federal Supply Service. Such catalogs may be obtained from the appropriate supply centers.

(c) Establishments. In addition to the establishment in Washington, D. C., the Federal Supply Service has the following Supply Centers:

Atlanta.	Kansas City
Chicago.	New York.
Cleveland.	San Francisco.
Denver.	Seattle.
Fort Worth.

(d) Purchasing procedure. Instructions included in the appropriate stock catalog will be followed in purchasing items, except insofar as such instructions are modified in this subpart.

§ 594.104 Use of Stock Catalog, Federal Supply Service, Washington, D. C. This publication of the Federal Supply Service lists only items stocked in its Washington, D. C., warehouse. Field installations will not place orders on the Federal Supply Service for items which are stocked in its Washington, D. C., warehouse when shipment is to be made outside the District of Columbia or adjacent counties of Maryland and Virginia.

SUBPART B—PROCUREMENT OF PRINTING AND RELATED SUPPLIES

§ 594.200 Scope of subpart. This subpart deals with procurement procedures of the Army Establishment with respect to departmental printing; field printing procured (a) from Army field printing plants, and (b) as contract field printing; and envelopes, paper, and related supplies.

§ 594.250 Requirement. Army printing must conform to the policy that publication resources in funds, materials, and equipment shall be conserved to the greatest extent consistent with efficient conduct of official functions. It is also subject to many specific provisions and restrictions, arising from the controls exercised by the Congressional Joint Committee on Printing in accordance with law.

§ 594.251 Pertinent regulations and procedures. With respect to departmental printing, printing in Army field printing plants, and contract field printing, Procuring Activities will be guided by AR 310–5, SR 310–5–1, AR 310–10, and other applicable Army and Special Regulations, as amended.

§ 594.252 Sources of procurement for printing and reproduction.

§ 594.252–1 Departmental printing. All departmental printing shall be obtained through The Adjutant General in accordance with the 310-series of Army and Special Regulations.

§ 594.252–2 Field printing. The production of official publications by field printing, as distinguished from contract field printing, is authorized in Army field printing plants (regardless of command jurisdiction) in area of origin, where it may be accomplished without reimbursement, if the work is within the capacity of the productive facilities of the plant selected, and is approved by or for the head of the requesting agency or Army commander, provided, that work and materials for military requirements provided from appropriations for civil functions, or vice versa, are reimbursable at cost. § 594.255 Pertinent regulations and procedures. With respect to procurement procedures applying to mailing envelopes and related provisions applying to use of penalty indicia, Procuring Activities will be guided by SR 340–10–20, and SR 340–10–1, respectively, and other applicable Army and Special Regulations and directives.

§ 594.256 Sources of procurement for envelopes. (a) Departmental requirements are obtainable through established channels for stationery supply.

(b) Requirements other than departmental are obtainable in accordance with provisions and procedures published in SR 340–10–20.

§ 594.257 Jackets. The foregoing procedures pertaining to envelopes do not affect present methods of procuring jackets, open and thumb notched, which are obtainable on approved requisitions as are other supplies.

§ 594.258 Sources of procurement for paper. (a) Blank paper for use within the District of Columbia carried in stock by the Government Printing Office shall be purchased from that office. Departmental requirements for paper are obtainable through established channels for stationery supply.

(b) Paper required by the military service outside the District of Columbia will be obtained in accordance with current directives or authorizations of The Quartermaster General.

§ 594.259 Related supplies. Ink, glues, and other supplies manufactured or carried in stock by the Government Printing Office shall be purchased from that office if required for use within the District of Columbia. Departmental requirements are obtainable through established channels for stationery supply.

(a) Standard items for supply to the military service outside the District of Columbia will be obtained in the normal manner from designated supply sources.

(b) Nonstandard items for supply to the military service outside the District of Columbia will be obtained by requisition on the Quartermaster Corps, citing full description and justification.

SUBPART C—PROCUREMENT OF PRISON-MADE AND BLIND-MADE PRODUCTS

§ 594.301 Prison-made products—(a) Requirement. All items manufactured by, and all services rendered by, Federal Prison Industries, Inc., shall be purchased from that agency, except in those instances in which a general or special clearance for the purchase of the item or service from commercial sources has been granted.

(b) Responsibility. Heads of Procuring Activities are responsible for advising Contracting Officers as to the terms and conditions of the Schedule of Products made in Federal Penal and Correctional Institutions.

(c) General clearance. The Department of the Army, in the following cases, has been granted a general clearance (Clearance No. C–27930) for the procurement from commercial sources of items listed in the schedule of products made in Federal Penal and Correctional Institutions:

(1) By contractors or Contracting Officers under cost-plus-fixed-fee construction or supply contracts.

(2) By Contracting Officers under fixed-price (lump sum) construction or supply contracts, wherein the Government is required to furnish certain Government materials.

(3) When immediate delivery or performance is required by the public exigency.

(4) When suitable second-hand, used, or surplus property can be procured.

(5) When required in small quantities and for delivery within 10 days.

(d) Special clearance. A special clearance must be obtained from Federal Prison Industries, Inc., for the procurement from commercial sources of any supplies or services listed on such Schedule of Products but not covered by the general clearance. Request by any Procuring Activity for special clearances shall be directed to Federal Prison Industries, Inc., Department of Justice, Washington 25, D. C.

(e) Procurement procedure. Procurement of items listed in the Schedule of Products made in Federal Penal and Correctional Institutions shall be in accordance with the detailed instructions and ordering procedures prescribed in such schedule. Current copies of the Schedule of Products may be obtained from the Federal Prison Industries, Inc., U. S. Department of Justice, Washington 25, D. C.

(f) As additional source of supply. In procuring items listed in the Schedule of Products, but subject to a general clearance, Contracting Officers will nevertheless consider the Federal Prison Industries as an additional source of supply.

(g) Reference to clearance. It is not necessary to attach a copy of the general clearance to the contract or voucher. Reference on either the contract or the voucher to general clearance No. C–27930 is sufficient.

§ 594.302 Blind-made products—(a) General. Supplies listed in the Schedule of Blind-Made Products issued by the Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration, will be procured from nonprofit making agencies for the blind at prices determined by the Committee on Purchases of Blind-Made Products.

(b) Exceptions. Purchases of supplies listed in the Schedule of Blind-Made Products need not be made from nonprofit making agencies for the blind when (1) a general clearance for the purchase of the items from commercial sources has been granted, (2) the procurement does not exceed a single unit as listed in such schedule, (3) the supplies are for use outside the continental United States, or (4) purchased from a Warehouse and Supply Center as indicated in § 594.103 (a).

(c) General Clearance. A general clearance, dated June 3, 1942, has been granted the Department by the Committee on Purchases of Blind-Made Products to purchase from commercial sources any item listed in the Schedule of Blind-Made Products when military necessity requires delivery of the article needed within a period of two weeks.

(d) Special clearance. The Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration, may grant a special clearance permitting procurement from commercial sources of supplies listed in such Schedule of Blind-Made Products (1) when necessary to meet emergency requirements or (2) when no agency for the blind is in a position to furnish the required supplies.

(e) Procurement procedure. Procurement of items listed in the Schedule of Blind-Made Products will be in accordance with the detailed regulations, instructions, and ordering procedures prescribed in such schedule and any amendments or price lists issued in connection therewith. Current copies of such schedule may be obtained from the Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration, Washington, D. C.

(f) Procurement priority. When supplies manufactured by nonprofit making agencies for the blind are similar to those manufactured in Federal penitentiaries, procurement priority will be given to the Federal Prison Industries, Inc.

(g) Clearance reference. It is not necessary to attach a copy of the general clearance to the procurement contract or voucher. A reference on either the contract or voucher to "General Clearance dated 3 June 1942" is sufficient.

SUBPART D—PROCUREMENT UNDER THE ECONOMY ACT OR THROUGH ANOTHER FEDERAL AGENCY

NOTE: See subpart D of Part 404 of this title; no further implementation in this part.

PART 595—FOREIGN PURCHASES

Sec.
595.000 Scope of part.

SUBPART A—BUY AMERICAN ACT AND OTHER STATUTORY PROHIBITIONS ON FOREIGN PURCHASES

595.103 Applicability of Buy American Act.
595.103–4 Nonavailability of supplies or materials.
595.104 Authority to grant exceptions to Buy American Act.
595.105 Supplies excepted from Buy American Act.
595.105–1 Exceptions based on unreasonable cost.
595.106 Other statutory prohibitions on foreign purchases.
595.106–1 Prohibition of annual appropriation acts.
595.107 References in contractual documents.
595.108 Violation of Buy American Act provision in construction contracts.

SUBPART B—CANADIAN PURCHASES

595.201 Purchases from Canadian suppliers.

SUBPART C—DUTY AND CUSTOMS

AUTHORITY: §§ 595.000 to 595.201 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Interpret or apply 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C. Sup., 151–161.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 595.000 Scope of part. Supplementary to, but consistent with, Part 405 of this title, this part sets forth policies and procedures in connection with (a) statutory prohibitions on foreign purchases, and (b) purchases from Canadian sources.

SUBPART A—BUY AMERICAN ACT AND OTHER STATUTORY PROHIBITIONS ON FOREIGN PURCHASES

§ 595.103 Applicability of Buy American Act. When in doubt as to whether a given purchase is or is not restricted by Title III, section 2, of the act of 3 March 1933, popularly called the Buy American Act (47 Stat. 1520; 41 U. S. C. 10a–d) or by other statutory prohibitions, Contracting Officers will forward the matter through channels to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for decision. Each submission will include complete information upon which a decision may be based.

§ 595.103–4 Nonavailability of supplies or materials. (a) The Secretary has delegated to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, authority to determine under the provisions of the Buy American Act upon a proper showing of facts, that certain articles, materials, or supplies, of the class and kind to be used by the Army Establishment, or the articles, materials, or supplies from which they are manufactured, are not mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available commercial quantities and of a satisfactory quality; and to authorize the purchase from foreign sources, and use by the Army Establishment, of such articles, materials, or supplies from which they are manufactured, as are determined after a proper showing of fact, to be not mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available commercial quantities and of a satisfactory quality.

(b) Section 405.103–4 of this title will be applied and used only after a determination, in writing, has been made by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4. Requests for such determinations shall be forwarded through channels and will contain the following information:

(1) Description of the item or items (include unit and quantity).

(2) Estimated cost.

(3) State whether duty is included in estimated cost (if duty is not included but normally would be included therein, give reason for exclusion).

(4) If item is to be procured f. o. b. origin, show transportation costs necessary to deliver to destination.

(5) Country of origin.

(6) Name and address of proposed contractor.

(7) Brief statement as to necessity for procurement.

(8) State what effort was made to procure a similar item of domestic origin (if there is no known domestic item which may be used as a reasonable substitute, so state).

(c) When the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, has determined that the provisions of the Buy American Act are not applicable to the purchase, the signed copy of such determination will be attached to the voucher upon which payment is made.

§ 595.104 Authority to grant exceptions to Buy American Act. When, in the opinion of the Contracting Officer, the conditions cited in § 405.104 of this title are present, a request will be made through channels to the Secretary (address request to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) for the issuance of a certificate of exemption. Such requests shall be submitted in complete quadruplicate (4 copies each of basic, indorsements, and inclosures) and will contain the following information:

(a) Description of the item or items (include unit and quantity).

(b) Estimated cost.

(c) State whether duty is included in estimated cost (if duty is not included but normally would be included therein, give reasons for exclusion).

(d) If item is to be procured f. o. b. origin, show transportation costs necessary to deliver to destination.

(e) Country of origin.

(f) Name and address of proposed contractor(s), if available.

(g) Brief statement as to necessity for procurement.

(h) Funds which are available and will be obligated for the procurement.

(i) Complete justification for purchase of item of foreign source, such as excessive cost of similar items of domestic origin, loss of identification of foreign component, etc.

Accompanying request will be Certificate of Exemption prepared for the signature of the Secretary.

§ 595.105 Supplies excepted from Buy American Act.

§ 595.105–1 Exceptions based on unreasonable cost. In all cases where the differential referred to in § 405.105–1 of this title is more than $5,000 but less than 25 percent and in all cases where the Contracting Officer considers the differential to be unreasonable, the matter will be submitted in accordance with § 595.104 for determination as to unreasonable cost.

§ 595.106 Other statutory prohibitions on foreign purchases.

§ 595.106–1 Prohibition of annual appropriation acts. It has been administratively determined that all the articles of food and clothing contained in the list set forth at the end of Subpart A of Part 405 of this title, are exempt from the general prohibition of the annual appropriation act. In the case of the procurement of other items of food and clothing which the Contracting Officer believes should be excepted, request for a certificate of exemption by the Secretary will be submitted in accordance with the procedure set forth in § 595.104.

§ 595.107 References in contractural documents—(a) General. The contract clause set forth in § 405.103–14 of this title will be inserted in all contracts for the purchase of supplies to which the Buy American Act applies.

(b) Food and clothing. In all contracts for the procurement of any article of food or clothing, not excepted from the prohibition of annual appropriation acts, the contract clause set forth in § 406.104–13 of this title will be inserted.

(c) Special clause for the construction, alteration, or repair of public buildings and public works. The specifications accompanying the invitation for bids for the construction, alteration, or repair of public buildings or public works in the United States will contain the following:

Because the materials listed below, or the materials from which they are manufactured, are not mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available commercial quantities and of a satisfactory quality, their use in the work herein specified (subject to the requirements of the specifications) is authorized, without regard to the country of origin:

Asbestos.	Platinum and related group metals.
Bauxite.	Rubber, crude and latex.
Chrome ore or chromite.	Timber, balsa, greenheart, lignum vitae, mahogany, and teak.
Copper.	Tin.
Damar gum.	Tungsten.
Jute and jute burlaps.	Zinc.
Kaurigum.
Lac and shellac.
Lead.
Nickel.

§ 595.108 Violation of Buy American Act provision in construction contracts. For procedure with respect to placing or removing from the list of ineligible contractors and disqualified bidders the name of any noncomplying contractor or bidder, see § 590.303.

SUBPART B—CANADIAN PURCHASES

§ 595.201 Purchases from Canadian suppliers. All Army contracts with suppliers or contractors located in the Dominion of Canada will be made with and administered through the Canadian Commercial Corporation through its Washington Office, except that:

(a) Under circumstances of Public Exigency as described in § 402.202–2 of this title, Procuring Activities are authorized to negotiate directly with suppliers or contractors domiciled in the Dominion of Canada without reference to the Canadian Commercial Corporation.

(b) Subject to applicable restrictions of §§ 592.205 and 592.211, Procuring Activities are authorized to negotiate direct for research services to be rendered by any university, college or educational institution located in the Dominion of Canada without reference to the Canadian Commercial Corporation or other Canadian clearing agency.

(c) When the Canadian Commercial Corporation requests that the procurement be made direct with Canadian suppliers or contractors.

SUBPART C—DUTY AND CUSTOMS

AUTHORITY: §§ 596.000 to 596.591 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Interpret or apply 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C. 151–161.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 596.000 Scope of part. Supplementary to, but consistent with Part 406 of this title, this part sets forth uniform contract clauses and standard contract forms for use in connection with the procurement of supplies and services by the Army Establishment. Prescribed standard contract forms are listed in Subpart E of this part.

§ 596.001 Applicability of contract forms and clauses. (a) General. Approved contract forms and clauses currently in use in the respective Procuring Activities, which are not prescribed by and which are not inconsistent with the contract forms and clauses prescribed by Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title or this Procedure, may be used by any Procuring Activity in accordance with its instructions. If Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title or this Procedure prescribes a contract form such form must be used in accordance therewith unless the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, grants a deviation. If Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title or this Procedure, however, prescribes or approves a contract clause for use, even if for use "when applicable" or "when it is desired to cover the subject matter thereof," no contract clause shall be used in substitution for such clause unless such substitute clause (1) is within the scope of the variations in such prescribed or approved clause expressly permitted by Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title or this Procedure, or (2) is the prescribed or approved clause plus provisions supplementary to and not inconsistent with any prescribed or approved clause. For example, § 408.107–4 of this title "approves for use" a "Foreign Patent Rights Clause," which grants the Government foreign patent rights concerning any invention financed by the contract. If the contractor and the Contracting Officer agree that the Government should have not only such foreign patent rights but also reproduction rights with respect to certain foreign "background" patents held by the contractor, the contract must contain the clause set out in § 408.107–4 of this title plus a provision concerning such "background" patents. Since the clause for such "background" patent rights set out in § 408.107–3 of this title is expressly subject to the qualification that "the particular wording of a provision granting such rights to the Government is a matter of negotiation in each case," the clause set out in § 408.107–3 of this title need not be used verbatim as the additional provision but the additional provision must be modeled on such clause and must be consistent with the policy expressed in § 408.107–3 of this title.

(b) Applicability of contract forms and contract clauses to contracts to be performed in foreign countries. (1) The contract forms and clauses prescribed or approved by subchapter A, chapter IV of this title and this Procedure will be used in all contracts whether performed in whole or in part in the United States, its territories or possessions, or in foreign countries. Certain clauses are applicable only in some areas but not in other areas. For each section of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title and this Procedure prescribing or approving the use of a contract form or a contract clause, the corresponding section of this Procedure has been annotated, for use in those areas where the form or clause is not applicable or is not applicable exactly as written, to authorize modification of the form or clause, or the deletion of the form or clause. Where no annotation is made in this Procedure, the modification or deletion is authorized by the applicable section of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title or the clause is applicable as written. Care must be exercised in modifying or deleting clauses, where authorized, to insure that proper action is taken as in the following examples:

(i) In view of the provisions of the clauses relating to Inspection and Responsibility for Supplies, appropriate provisions may be necessary for insertion in the Schedule to define or limit the contractor's responsibility and liability where the items are procured in a foreign country and delivered to an Army activity located in that foreign country for subsequent transshipment to a destination in the United States.

(ii) When substituting the clause concerning Federal, State, and Local Taxes, advantage must be taken of tax exemptions possible in the place of performance.

(iii) The deletion of the clause regarding the Buy American Act is authorized where the supplies are procured outside and are used outside the United States, its territories and possessions. Foreign procurement of supplies which are shipped to the United States, its territories and possessions, come under the provisions of the Buy American Act unless specifically excepted by the Secretary of the Army, his duly authorized representative, or the provisions of the Act.

(iv) Clauses relative to the Eight-Hour Law of 1912, Nondiscrimination in Employment, the Davis-Bacon Act, the Copeland Act, the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, and the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 were prescribed by various statutes and executive policies in order to protect American labor from certain abuses. Such clauses obviously are not applicable and should not be included in contracts to be performed in foreign countries insofar as native foreign labor is concerned. Note, however, that such clauses may apply to American citizens employed under such contracts in foreign countries.

(2) Determination as to the applicability of a particular contract form or contract clause often can be made only by consulting the various statutes, decisions, and policies which established the requirement and, in many cases, involves obtaining interpretations of various statutes from other executive departments. In those cases where applicability is in doubt, Contracting Officers will forward requests for interpretations to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) through the Head of the Procuring Activity involved.

SUBPART A—CLAUSES FOR FIXED-PRICE SUPPLY CONTRACTS

§ 596.102 Applicability. Section 406.102 of this title is not intended to apply to those purchase orders amounting to $1,000 or less.

§ 596.103 Required clauses. Except as provided in § 596.102, all of the clauses specified in §§ 406.103–1 through 406.103–21 of this title will be inserted in all fixed-price supply contracts subject to the instructions contained in § 406.103 of this title, § 596.001 and in this section. The additional contract clauses, contained in §§ 596.103 through 596.103–21 but not contained anywhere in subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title will also be inserted in all fixed-price supply contracts as specified in this Procedure.

§ 596.103–1 Definitions. The "Definitions" clause contained in § 406.103–1 of this title will be inserted but additional definitions may be included in accordance with the instructions of each Procuring Activity when such additional definitions are not inconsistent with such "Definitions" clause.

§ 596.103–2 Changes. (a) The "Changes" clause contained in § 406.103–2 of this title will be inserted but with respect to such clause, in accordance with the instructions of each Procuring Activity, the period of "30 days" within which any claim for adjustment must be asserted may be varied. In special cases the "Changes" clause may be made applicable to changes in provisions other than those relating to drawings, designs, specifications, method of shipment or packing, and place of delivery, so long as such extended applicability of the "Changes" clause would not be inconsistent with the provisions of the clause contained in § 406.103–2 of this title.

(b) Additional quantities of supplies which were not initially contemplated in the contract will not be ordered under the "Changes" clause since such a practice might be used to defeat the requirements for competitive procurement.

(c) Accelerated deliveries will be provided for by a supplemental agreement modifying the contract rather than through the use of the "Changes" clause. However, such a supplemental agreement should not be used to provide additional compensation to the contractor for accelerated deliveries to meet the delivery schedules prescribed in the contract.

§ 596.103–8 Assignment of claims. In cases where special circumstances make it advisable in the best interests of the Government, the last sentence of paragraph (a) of the "Assignment of Claims" clause set forth in § 406.103–8 of this title ("no set-off provision") may be deleted with the approval of the Head of a Procuring Activity.

(a) In 1940 by the enactment of the Assignment of Claims Act (54 Stat. 1029; 31 U. S. C. 203 and 41 U. S. C. 15), approved October 9, 1940, the restrictions created by sections 3477 and 3737 of Revised Statutes subject to certain conditions therein specified made inapplicable to any case in which monies due or to become due under a contract providing for payments aggregating $1,000 or more, are assigned to a bank, trust company, or other financing institution including any Federal lending agency. The conditions specified in the act are, in general, as follows:

(1) Claims for monies due or to become due a contractor from the Government under a contract may be assigned to a bank, trust company or other financing institution, including any Federal lending agency. Any such assignment will cover all amounts payable under the contract and not already paid, and will not be made to more than one party, except that any such assignment may be made to one party as agent or trustee for two or more parties participating in such financing.

(2) In the event of any such assignment the assignee will file written notice of the assignment, together with one copy of the instrument of assignment, with each of the following:

(i) General Accounting Office.

(ii) The Contracting Officer.

(iii) The surety or sureties upon the bond or bonds, if any, in connection with the contract.

(iv) The Disbursing Officer designated in the contract to make payments thereunder.

(b) If provided in a contract, payment to an assignee of any claim under the contract shall not be subject to reduction or set-off for any indebtedness of the assignor to the United States arising independently of the contract.

(c) Where direct payment is made to the assignee, the contractor will furnish on each voucher, invoice, or other supporting paper a statement to the effect that he recognizes the assignment, its validity, and the right of the assignee to receive payment.

(d) In connection with the assignment of claims, Contracting Officers will, upon request of the contractor, furnish proposed assignees information regarding the status of the contract at the time of the assignment. In so doing, the Contracting Officer will advise the assignee that the information is so furnished only for confidential use in connection with the assignment.

§ 596.103–10 Federal, State, and local taxes. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, substitute the clause set forth in § 600.401 of this chapter in lieu of the Clause prescribed in § 410.401 of this title. (See § 596.001 (b) (1) (ii).)

§ 596.103–11 Default.—(a) Steps to be taken in event of default. In any case where a contractor refuses or fails to carry out the terms of the contract or to make progress so as to endanger the performance of the contract, the Contracting Officer may take any of the following courses:

(1) Terminate the contract under the provision permitting termination in event of default, preserving the Government's rights against any surety.

(2) Permit the contractor to proceed and charge contractor with the actual damages resulting from the delays or default. If the contract provides for liquidated damages, such damages and not actual damages must be charged. In this connection see §§ 535.5 through 535.9 of this chapter.

(3) Enter into a supplemental agreement with contractor's surety, if any, providing for the completion of performance of the contract and for payment therefor. Such supplemental agreement should clearly state that all rights against the contractor are preserved so far as the surety does not undertake to cure the effect of the defaults by the contractor. Where the contractor has not given a performance bond, or where the surety under such a bond has pursuant to any requirement thereof been given an opportunity (if such requirement is contained in the bond) to complete the contract but does not elect to do so, the Government may terminate the contract pursuant to any applicable provision thereof, and pursue its remedies against the contractor and/or surety.

(b) Notification to contractor. In the event a Contracting Officer takes any of the steps prescribed in (a) above, the contractors will be promptly furnished a copy of the findings of fact in connection with delays in the completion of contracts, but the findings so furnished will be limited to a statement of the facts and the extent of the delay.

(c) Procedure when remedies under default clause are pursued. If a contractor defaults and it is determined to pursue the remedies provided by the contract provision, the following procedure will, in general, be followed:

(1) The contractor will be notified in writing that his right to proceed has been terminated.

(2) A copy of the termination notice will be furnished to the Disbursing Officer who will be advised to withhold further payments to the contractor pending additional instructions.

(3) Supplies or materials similar to those called for by the contract will then be procured elsewhere by contract or from Government manufacturer at as reasonable a price as practicable considering the quantity and quality required by the Government and the time in which the supplies or materials are required. In the case of a construction contract, the work will be completed according to the plans and specifications either by such other responsible contractor who offers the lowest price or by Government plant and hired labor. In either construction or supply contracts the excess cost to the Government will be charged to the contractor and the proper Disbursing Officer will be notified to withhold payments to cover the excess costs, pending payment thereof by the contractor.

(4) The Contracting Officer, immediately upon making the contract for the purchase of the materials or supplies, or for the completion of the construction contract, will request immediate remittance of the excess cost from the defaulting contractor.

(5) If the Contracting Officer collects the entire amount of the excess cost, he will furnish a report with reference thereto to the proper Disbursing Officer, transmitting the amount collected for disposition by the Disbursing Officer in accordance with § 535.8 (g) of this chapter.

(6) If the Contracting Officer is unable to make collection of the entire amount of excess cost, he will furnish a complete report of the facts and circumstances to the proper Disbursing Officer. If the contractor was given financial assistance by the Government, appropriate steps will be taken to protect the interest of the Government.

(d) Report of default. (1) The report to which reference is made in paragraph (g) of this section will be made in such manner as may be prescribed by the Office, Chief of Finance, or, if the contract in question is a Federal Supply Schedule contract, by letter, in duplicate, addressed to the Federal Supply Service as indicated in paragraph (h) of this section.

(2) The report will be submitted to the Disbursing Officer, in quadruplicate.

(e) Collection of excess cost. (1) The Disbursing Officer, upon receipt of the report to which reference is made in paragraph (g) of this section, will effect collection of the excess cost from the defaulting contractor by deducting the amount thereof from any funds payable to the defaulting contractor.

(2) If the Disbursing Officer effects collection of the entire amount of excess cost due the Government in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, he will indicate that action on the appropriate report, sign it, and dispose of the report as follows:

(i) The original and quadruplicate copy will be transmitted to the Chief of Finance, the original to be forwarded to the General Accounting Office and the quadruplicate copy to be retained by the Chief of Finance.

(ii) The duplicate copy will be filed in the office of the Disbursing Officer.

(iii) The triplicate and quadruplicate copies, if any, will be transmitted to the Contracting Officer, marked for his information only.

(3) If the Disbursing Officer finds it impracticable to collect the entire amount of excess cost due the Government, he will indicate his action and recommendation on the appropriate report, sign it, and dispose of the report as follows:

(i) The original and quadruplicate copy will be transmitted to the Chief of Finance, the original to be forwarded to the General Accounting Office and the quadruplicate copy to be retained by the Chief of Finance.

(ii) The duplicate copy will be filed in the office of the Disbursing Officer.

(iii) The triplicate copy will be transmitted to the Contracting Officer with a notation to the effect that the excess cost could not be collected and that the matter has been reported to the Chief of Finance, for reference to the General Accounting Office.

(f) Amount chargeable against defaulting contractor. A purchase or purchases against the account of a defaulting contractor must not exceed the quantity originally ordered, with consideration given, of course, to the variation clause, if any, in the contract, and must be secured if practicable on the same unit basis, such as each, dozen, pound. However, this does not preclude the Government from entering into one contract with the completing contractor which includes additional needed supplies provided that the excess costs to be charged against the account of the defaulting contractor are determined as provided in the preceding sentence of this paragraph.

(g) Report procedures—(1) Where excess cost involved. In the event that collection of the excess cost is effected by means of contractor's check, money order, cash, or any means other than set-off against another account due the contractor, Standard Form No. 1044 (Schedule of Collections), properly completed, will be submitted in accordance with AR 35–780 with the required number of copies to be submitted with the report.

(2) Where no excess cost involved. If purchase is made against a defaulting contractor under a Department contract and no excess cost is involved, a report on the appropriate form will be made and disposition of the report will be made as indicated in paragraph (e) (3) of this section.

(h) Federal supply schedule—(1) Ordering office. Before declaring a contractor in default, it is suggested that ordinarily ordering offices should notify the contractor in writing that unless satisfactory performance occurs by a specified date, which should allow a reasonable time for performance, his right to proceed further under the purchase order will be considered terminated and he will be held liable for any excess costs resulting from purchasing the supplies or services elsewhere. This step would not be taken ordinarily when the default involves an attempted fraud on the United States, or when it would be obviously futile, as for example, when the contractor has already declined to perform. Where excess costs are anticipated, the ordering office may likewise decide to withhold sufficient funds due the contractor as offset security. Ordering offices will endeavor to minimize excess costs to be charged against the contractor and to collect, by check or setoff, excess costs owed. Such collected funds are usually for deposit into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

(2) Federal Supply Service. Where ordering offices are notified by the Federal Supply Service that it has declared the contractor in default, ordering offices will thereafter refuse to accept further performance by the contractor or place further purchase orders with him. Ordering offices will thereafter purchase against the account of the contractor from replacing contractors designated by the Federal Supply Service or in such other manner as directed by the Federal Supply Service.

(3) Reports. Ordering offices will report to the Purchase Branch, Federal Supply Service, Washington 25, D. C., the details concerning all material instances of unsatisfactory performance by the contractor, whether or not properly adjusted and settled. Ordering offices will also report, as may be directed by the Federal Supply Service, all purchases made against the account of a contractor placed in default by the Federal Supply Service.

§ 596.103–12 Disputes. The "Disputes" Clause contained in § 406.103–12 of this title will be inserted as specified, except for contracts entered into by major oversea commanders and to be performed outside the United States (48 states and the District of Columbia) (see par. (c) of this section). The "Disputes" Clause may be modified to provide for an intermediate appeal to the Head of a Procuring Activity upon approval of the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned.

(a) Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals. The charter and rules of the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals are set forth in Appendix A of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation.

(b) Procedure for handling disputes. Disputes arising under Army contracts should be reviewed and screened to insure, in so far as practicable and consistent with the rights of contractors, that only those appeals which require consideration and determination by the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals be forwarded to the Board for disposition.

(1) Correspondence. All official correspondence with the Board will be addressed "Board of Contract Appeals, Office of the Under Secretary of the Army, Washington 25, D. C."

(2) Time of filing of appeal to be endorsed. When the appeal has been received by the Contracting Officer or the Head of a Procuring Activity, as the case may be, he will endorse thereon the date of filing and forward the appeal, as hereinafter provided.

(3) Findings of fact and decisions. (i) In rendering a decision on any dispute involving a question of fact, the Contracting Officer or the Head of a Procuring Activity, as the case may be, will prepare and sign findings of fact, a true copy of which with his written decision will be promptly furnished the contractor; and in case of appeal, the officer from whose decision the appeal is taken will forward a true copy of such finding and of the decision, as hereinafter provided.

(ii) Forwarding by Contracting Officer. When an appeal is taken from the decision of a Contracting Officer he will promptly forward to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, a true copy of his findings of fact and of his decision; the original written appeal and the required copies thereof; a transcript of any evidence taken by him; and all pertinent papers in the case.

(iii) Forwarding by Heads of Procuring Activities of appeals from Decisions of Contracting Officer. (a) If the appeal from the Contracting Officer's decision is to the Secretary, the Head of the Procuring Activity receiving the appeal will exercise the utmost care to see that the record is complete; will add to the file, if not already in it, an original duplicate or true copy of the contract, including the plans and specifications and all changes and supplemental agreements; and will promptly forward the complete file to the Board.

(b) If for any reason an appeal cannot be processed by the Procuring Activity in accordance with this section within 10 days from the date of appeal is received by the Activity, the Head of the Procuring Activity will report to the Board the date on which the appeal was received in his office and the reason for the delay in accomplishing the processing.

(4) Forwarding appeals from Heads of Procuring Activities. The Head of a Procuring Activity, within 10 days after the receipt of a written appeal from his decision, will forward the original written appeal and the required copies thereof to the Board, together with the following papers: a copy of his findings of fact and decision; the advisory report, if there be one, of the contract settlement board in his office; a transcript of any testimony taken during the course of the proceedings; a duplicate original or a certified copy of the contract, including the plans and specifications and all changes and supplemental agreements; the findings of fact and decision of the Contracting Officer; and all papers and correspondence pertaining to the contract, pertinent to the consideration of the appeal. In cases wherein an appeal under the terms of a contract is filed with a Procuring Activity, the Head of the Activity concerned will, prior to forwarding the appeal to the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals:

(i) Carefully review the "decision" or "findings of fact" from which the appeal is taken to ascertain that all basic "findings of fact" are complete as to all issues bearing upon the matter in dispute. He will also ascertain that all evidence relied upon (whether documentary or oral testimony) in support of the "decision" or "findings of fact" does support the Government's position; and that all essential witnesses and documentary evidence will be available to the Board at the time of the hearing of the appeal. When appropriate, the Head of the Procuring Activity will conduct an investigation to accomplish these objectives.

(ii) Refer to the Contracting Officer for supplemental findings cases in which the "decision" does not contain all of the basic findings required to support it, or in which the "findings of fact" are not complete as to all issues bearing upon the matter in dispute.

(iii) Refer to the Contracting Officer for reconsideration all cases wherein a timely appeal has been taken and it is clear from the evidence, contractual provisions and the applicable law, that the Contracting Officer's "decision" or "findings of fact" is erroneous or not supported by competent and available evidence. Attention is invited to the requirement that the Contracting Officer must give his personal and independent consideration to the making of each "decision" or "findings of fact," with the aid of such technical and legal advice as may be available to him, and the exercise of this function can neither be delegated to nor usurped by anyone not authorized by the terms of the contract. Whenever upon such reconsideration the Contracting Officer modifies his "decision" or "findings of fact" so as to eliminate a part or all of issues involved in the appeal, he will request the appellant to furnish, for incorporation in the appeal papers, a statement withdrawing its appeal as to the issues thus eliminated.

(iv) Prepare and forward to the Chief Trial Attorney's office a statement of the factual and legal issues involved in the appeal and a brief summary of the evidence (both documentary and oral testimony) which will be available at the hearing to support the Government's position, together with comments, when pertinent, as to the probable implications on procurement policies of the decision upon the subject appeal.

(5) Appeals filed with the Secretary or the Board. In cases wherein an appeal is filed directly with the Office of the Secretary of the Army or the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals, the Board, pursuant to its rules of procedure, will promptly furnish a copy thereof to the Procuring Activity concerned, through the Chief, Trial Attorney's office. Upon the receipt of such appeal the Procuring Activity will process the same as though it had been initially filed with the Activity.

(6) New facts or circumstances. Upon discovery of new facts or circumstances the Chief Trial Attorney is authorized, in appropriate cases, to return appeals to the Procuring Activity for further reconsideration in the light of the additional facts or circumstances disclosed.

(7) Appeals improperly filed. If any officer or agency of the Department other than the officer or agency designated in the contract, should receive a written appeal, the recipient will, after endorsing thereon the date of its receipt, immediately transmit the appeal to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned:

(i) For appropriate action as provided in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph if the appeal is from the decision of the Head of a Procuring Activity, or

(ii) If the appeal is from the decision of a Contracting Officer, then for action as required by subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(c) Major oversea commands. (1) The following "Disputes" Clause will be inserted in all contracts entered into by major oversea commands and to be performed outside the United States (48 States and the District of Columbia) in lieu of the clause set forth in § 406.103–12 of this title:

DISPUTES

Except as otherwise provided in this contract, any dispute concerning a question of fact arising under this contract which is not disposed of by agreement shall be decided by the Contracting Officer, who shall reduce his decision to writing and mail or otherwise furnish a copy thereof to the Contractor. Within 30 days from the date of receipt of such copy, the Contractor may appeal by mailing or otherwise furnishing to the Contracting Officer a written appeal addressed to the Commanding General (----------) and the decision of the Commanding General (----------), or that of his duly authorized representative (other than the Contracting Officer under this contract) for the hearing of such appeals, upon personal approval by the Commanding General (----------) or his designated deputy, shall be final and conclusive upon the parties hereto when the amount involved in the appeal is $50,000 or less; provided that, if no appeal is taken, within the said 30 days, the decision of the Contracting Officer shall be final and conclusive. When the amount involved is more than $50,000 the decision of the Commanding General (----------) shall be subject to written appeal within 30 days after the receipt thereof by the Contractor to the Secretary of the Army and the decision of the Secretary or his duly authorized representative for the hearing of such appeals shall be final and conclusive; provided that, if no such further appeal is taken, within the said 30 days, the decision of the Commanding General (----------*) shall be final and conclusive. In connection with any appeal proceeding under this clause, the Contractor shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard and to offer evidence in support of its appeal. Pending final decision of a dispute hereunder, the Contractor shall proceed diligently with the performance of the contract and in accordance with Contracting Officer's decision.

(2) Each Commanding General of a major oversea command will appoint within his command a Board to be known as "(name of command) Board of Contract Appeals." The Board will consist of three or more members who will be persons trained in the law, one of whom will be designated by the appointing authority as the President of the Board. There will also be appointed a Recorder of the Board who will perform such duties as the Board may prescribe. The Recorder of the Board may also be a member thereof.

(3) The Board, created pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, will be designated by the Commanding General as his duly authorized representative to hear, consider, and decide, as fully as he might do, all appeals to him under contracts having such provisions. The Board's final decision, however, will be subject to his personal approval, or that of his deputy designated for such purpose. The Board will be granted all powers necessary and incident to the proper performance of its duties and, with the approval of the appointing authority, will adopt its own methods of procedure, rules, and regulations for its conduct and for the preparation and presentation of appeals and issuance of decisions.

(4) Each commanding general of a major oversea command will designate one or more trial attorneys, who will be qualified attorneys at law, for the preparation and presentation of the contentions of the Procuring Activity in relation to appeals filed with the Board.

§ 596.103–14 Buy American Act. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, this clause will be deleted. (See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iii).)

§ 596.103–15 Convict labor. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, this clause will be deleted.

§ 596.103–16 Eight-Hour Law of 1912. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, this clause will be deleted. (See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).)

§ 596.103–17 Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, this clause will be deleted. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

§ 596.103–18 Nondiscrimination in employment. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, this clause will be deleted. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

§ 596.103–21 Termination for convenience of the government. Insert the contract clause appropriate for use in fixed-price supply contracts as set forth in Part 407 of this title, provided that prior to the issuance and effective date of Part 407 of this title, there shall be inserted such termination clause as is prescribed by Part 597 of this chapter.

§ 596.104 Clauses to be used when applicable. The contract clauses set forth in § 406.104 of this title and in this section shall be used when applicable subject to the instructions contained in § 406.104 of this title; §§ 596.001 and 596.104 through 596.104–13.

§ 596.104–1 Davis-Bacon Act. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, this clause will be deleted. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

§ 596.104–2 Copeland Act. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, this clause will be deleted. See §596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

§ 596.104–3 Employment of aliens. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions,

* Specify name of major oversea command concerned.

this clause will be deleted. Contracting Officers will exercise the utmost care in effecting this type procurement to avoid the compromise of classified data.

§ 596.104–4 Neutrality Act of 1939.— (a) Basic law. By section 12 of the act of November 4, 1939 (22 U. S. C. 452), also referred to as the "Neutrality Act of 1939," the National Munitions Control Board was established, upon the recommendation of which the President was authorized to proclaim from time to time, a list of articles which shall be considered arms, ammunition and implements of war for the purposes of said Act. The Secretary of State promulgates rules and regulations with regard to said Act and except where otherwise provided by law, the administration was vested in the Department of State. The Neutrality Act further provides for the registration of persons engaged in manufacturing, exporting or importing any arms, ammunition, or implements of war listed in the President's Proclamation; and that no purchase of arms, ammunition, or implements of war shall be made on behalf of the United States from any person who shall have failed to register under the provision of said Act.

(b) Proclamation of the President. (1) The President, in Proclamation 2776, March 26, 1948, has proclaimed the articles which are considered arms, ammunition, and implements of war for purposes of basic law as follows:

Category I. Small arms and machine guns, rifles, carbines, revolvers, pistols, machine pistols, and machine guns (using ammunition of caliber .22 or over); barrels, mounts, breech mechanisms, and stocks therefor.

Category II. Artillery and projectors: Guns, howitzers, cannon, mortars, and rocket launchers (of all calibers), military flame throwers, military smoke, gas, or pyrotechnic projectors; barrels, mounts, and other components thereof.

Category III. Ammunition: Ammunition of caliber .22 or over for the arms enumerated under Categories I and II above; cartridge cases, powder bags, bullets, jackets, cores, shells (excluding shotgun); projectiles and other missiles, percussion caps, fuses, primers, and other detonating devices for such ammunition.

Category IV. Bombs, torpedoes, and rockets: Bombs, torpedoes, grenades, rockets, mines, guided missiles, depth charges, and components thereof, apparatus and devices for the handling, control, discharge detonation, or detection thereof.

Category V. Fire control equipment and range finders: Fire control equipment, range, position and height finders, spotting instruments, aiming devices (gyroscopic, optic, acoustic, atmospheric, or flash), bombsights, gun sights, and periscopes for the arms, ammunition, and implements of war enumerated in Proclamation 2776.

Category VI. Tanks and ordnance vehicles: Tanks armed or armored vehicles, armored trains, artillery and small arms repair trucks, military half-tracks, tank recovery vehicles, tank destroyers; armor plate, turrets, tank engines, tank thread shoes, tank bogie wheels, and idlers therefor.

Category VII. Poison gas and toxicological agents: All military toxicological and lethal agents and gases; military equipment for the dissemination and detection thereof and defense therefrom.

Category VIII. Propellants and explosives: Propellants for the articles enumerated in Categories III, IV, and VII; military high explosives.

Category IX. Vessels of war: Vessels of war of all kinds, including amphibious craft, landing craft, naval tenders, naval transports and naval patrol craft, armor plate and turrets therefor; submarine batteries and nets, and equipment for the laying, detection and detonation of mines.

Category X. Aircraft: Aircraft; components, parts, and accessories therefor.

Category XI. Miscellaneous equipment: (i) Military radar equipment, including components thereof, radar countermeasures and radar jamming equipment; (ii) Military stereoscopic plotting and photo interpretation equipment; (iii) Military photo theodolites, telemetering and Doeppler equipment; (iv) Military superhigh speed ballistic cameras; (v) Military radiosondes; (vi) Military interference suppression equipment; (vii) Military electronic computing devices; (viii) Military miniature and subminiature vacuum tubes and photoemissive tubes; (ix) Military armor plate; (x) Military steel helmets; (xi) Military pyrotechnics; (xii) Synthetic training devices for military equipment; (xiii) Military ultrasonic generators; (xiv) all other material used in warfare which is classified from the standpoint of military security.

(2) Proclamation 2776 superseded Proclamation 2717, February 14, 1947, on the same subject, effective April 15, 1948.

(c) Interpretation of basic law by Department of State. Munitions Division Bulletin No. 1, Department of State, entitled "New requirements relating to the licensing for export and import of articles defined as arms, ammunition and implements of war," April 1, 1948, indicates the procedure to be followed by those engaged in the business of manufacturing, exporting or importing any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war enumerated in the President's Proclamation pending issuance of a revised edition of the pamphlet "International Traffic in Arms". Inquiries relative to the application of Proclamation 2776 should be submitted to the Munitions Division, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C.

(d) Invitations for bids, requests for proposals, and negotiated contracts. If any item being purchased is listed in any current proclamation issued by the President under section 12 of the Neutrality Act of 1939 (act of November 4, 1939, 54 Stat. 10; 22 U. S. C. 452) the clause prescribed by § 406.104–4 of this title, Neutrality Act of 1939, will be included in all invitations for bids, or in case of negotiation, in the request for proposals if a request for proposals is used. If a request for proposals is not used, the clause will be brought to the attention of prospective contractors during negotiation and the clause incorporated in any resultant contract.

(e) Overseas. In effecting procurement of arms, ammunition or implements of war, defined as such by the Neutrality Act of 1939 and subsequent Presidential Proclamations, outside the United States, its territories and possessions, clearance of the procurement, prior to consummation, will be obtained from, and insertion or deletion of the clause will be as dictated by the Munitions Division, Department of State, except that in the following cases, prior clearance need not be obtained and the clause will not be inserted:

(1) In areas of military occupation.

(2) In areas outside the United States and its territories where the Department of State has entered into treaties or other agreements with the countries or authorities concerned with respect to the exporting or importing of arms, ammunition or implements of war.

(3) Those geographical areas or those procurement items in which or for which the Department of State has made a blanket exception or a previous exception to the act.

§ 596.104–10 Renegotiation Act of 1948. In addition to the instructions contained in § 406.104–10 of this title, Contracting Officers shall follow the instructions set forth below in determining whether a contract should contain a renegotiation clause.

(a) Section 618 of the Defense Appropriation Act, 1951, extends the coverage of the Renegotiation Act of 1948 to all negotiated contracts for procurement in excess of $1,000 entered into during the fiscal year 1951 by or on behalf of the Department of Defense (including the Department of the Army, Department of the Navy, and Department of the Air Force), and all subcontracts thereunder in excess of $1,000.

(b) Section 618 of the Defense Appropriation Act, 1951, is quoted herewith:

SEC. 618. (a) All negotiated contracts for procurement in excess of $1,000 entered into during the current fiscal year by or on behalf of the Department of Defense (including the Department of the Army, Department of the Navy, and Department of the Air Force), and all subcontracts thereunder in excess of $1,000, here hereby made subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948 in the same manner and to the same extent as if such contracts and subcontracts were required by such act to contain the renegotiation article prescribed in subsection (a) of such act. Each contract and subcontract made subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948 by this section shall contain an article stating that it is subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948. In determining whether the amounts received or accrued to a contractor or subcontractor during his fiscal year from contracts and subcontracts subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948 amount in the aggregate to $100,000, receipts or accruals from contracts and subcontracts made subject to such act by this section shall be added to receipts or accruals from all other contracts and subcontracts subject to such act.

(b) Notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, the profit limitation provisions of the act of March 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 503, 505), as amended and supplemented, shall not apply to any contract or subcontract which is subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948.

(c) The provisions of the above-quoted section 618 do not apply to certain contracts and subcontracts thereunder because of the mandatory exemptions contained in the Renegotiation Act, nor does it apply to certain other contracts and subcontracts by reason of permissive exemptions which have been granted by the Military Renegotiation Policy and Review Board. The mandatory exemptions, which are to be found in § 423.341 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations), are hereinafter summarized. The mandatory exemptions are as follows:

(1) Contracts entered into between governmental agencies and subcontracts thereunder are exempt by reference to subsection (i) (1) (A) of the Renegotiation Act of February 25, 1944, as amended. (See §§ 423.342 to 423.342–2 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations).)

(2) Contracts and subcontracts for certain raw materials are exempt by reference to subsection (i) (1) (B) of the Renegotiation Act of February 25, 1944, as amended. (See §§ 423.343 to 423.343–4 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations).)

(3) Contracts and subcontracts for certain agricultural commodities are exempt by reference to subsection (i) (1) (C) of the Renegotiation Act of February 25, 1944, as amended. (See § 423.343–2 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations).)

(4) Contracts and subcontracts with certain tax-exempt institutions are exempt by reference to subsection (i) (1) (D) of the Renegotiation Act of February 25, 1944, as amended. (See §§ 423.344 to 423.344–2 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations).)

(5) Construction contracts awarded as a result of competitive bidding are exempt by reference to subsection (i) (1) (E) of the Renegotiation Act of February 25, 1944, as amended. (See §§ 423.345 to 423.345–2 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations).)

(6) Subcontracts under exempt contracts and subcontracts are exempt by reference to subsection (i) (1) (F) of the Renegotiation Act of February 25, 1944, as amended. (See §§ 423.346 to 423.346–2 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations).)

(d) The contracts and subcontracts to which the above-quoted section 618 does not apply because of certain permissive exemptions granted by the Military Renegotiation Policy and Review Board are as follows:

(1) Sale, rental or exchange of certain property—(i) Exemption. (a) Contracts for the sale or rental of any interest in existing real estate (see, however, § 423–335–1 of this title, pertaining to subcontracts, Military Renegotiation Regulations).

(b) Contracts and subcontracts for the sale or exchange of tangible property used in the trade or business of the vendor, with respect to which depreciation is allowable under section 23 (l) of the Internal Revenue Code (not including stock in trade of the vendor or other property which would properly be included in the inventory of the vendor if on hand at the close of his fiscal year, or property held by the vendor primarily for sale in his trade or business).

NOTE: In addition to the foregoing the Secretary of Defense on June 14, 1948 exempted from the application of the Renegotiation Act of 1948 that portion of the Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act of 1948, Public Law 547, 80th Congress, entitled "Department of the Army—Military Functions, Corps of Engineers, Engineer Service, Army."

(ii) Limitation on exemption. The exemption granted under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph extends only to contracts and subcontracts under which profits can be established with reasonable certainty when the contract or subcontract price is established. The words "when the contract or subcontract price is established" in the preceding sentence of this subdivision are a qualification upon the scope of the exemption, and contemplate that the contract or subcontract price shall be established at the time the contract or subcontract is entered into. Accordingly, this exemption extends only to contracts and subcontracts under which the price is a fixed or determinable amount at the time the contract or subcontract is entered into, and does not apply to any contract or subcontract under which the price, at the time the contract or subcontract is entered into, is contingent upon a subsequent event or is thereafter to be determined by reference to a variable element (as, for example, the lessee's sales or profits).

(2) Contracts and subcontracts with public utilities for: (i) The delivery of electric power.

(ii) The delivery of gas.

(iii) The furnishing of water or steam or the removal of sewage; or

(iv) The furnishing of transportation by common carriers by railroad, motor vehicle, pipeline, air or water, when made at published rates or charges, fixed, approved or subject to regulation by a public regulatory body or Governmental agency, or at rates that are no higher than such published rates.

(v) The service of transmitting messages by telephone, telegraph, cable or radio or furnishing other communication services or communication facilities, when made at published rates or charges, fixed, approved or subject to regulation by a public regulatory body or Governmental agency or at rates that are no higher than such published rates.

(3) Contracts for personal or professional services. (i) Exemption. All contracts entered into pursuant to the authority of section 2 (c) (1), or section 2 (c) (4) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, Public Law 413, 80th Congress, or other statutory authority, when such contracts call for the performance of services, whether personal or professional, by the individual contractor in person under the supervision of the Government and which are paid for on a time basis.

(ii) Limitation on exemption. This exemption shall not apply to contracts which contemplate the performance thereof by a firm or organization, and subcontracts thereunder.

(4) Supplies purchased for authorized resale. All contracts subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948 entered into in the fiscal years 1950 or 1951 pursuant to the authority of section 2 (c) (8) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, Public Law 413, 80th Congress, or which could have entered into pursuant to the authority of such section 2 (c) (8), (even though the procuring agency actually cites another authority such as section 2 (c) (1), 2 (c) (6) or 2 (c) (10) of the aforementioned act), and subcontracts thereunder.

(5) Perishable subsistence supplies. All contracts subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948 entered into in the fiscal years 1950 and 1951 pursuant to the authority of section 2 (c) (9) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, Public Law 413, 80th Congress, or which could have been entered into pursuant to the authority of such section 2 (c) (9), (even though the procuring agency actually cites another authority such as section 2 (c) (1), 2 (c) (6) or 2 (c) (10) of the aforementioned act), and subcontracts thereunder.

(6) Blind-made products. All contracts made subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948 entered into the fiscal years 1950 or 1951, for procurement of supplies at prices determined by the Committee on Purchases of Blind-made Products, pursuant to the provisions of section 46–48, inclusive of Title 41 of the United States Code (52 Stat. 1196) from any nonprofit making agency for the blind organized under the laws of the United States or of any State and subcontracts thereunder.

(7) Subcontracts for items customarily purchased for stock. All subcontracts subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948 entered into on or after January 1, 1949 which are for items customarily purchased for stock in the normal course of the purchaser's business, except when such items are specially purchased for use in performing a contract or higher tier subcontract subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948.

(8) Collateral items (with respect to the period January 1, 1951, through June 30, 1951)—(i) Exemption. All subcontracts for:

(a) The sale, furnishing, or installation, of machinery used in the processing of other machinery to be used in the processing of an end product or of an article incorporated therein.

(b) The sale, furnishing, or installation of component parts of, or subassemblies for, machinery included in (a) of this subdivision.

(c) The performance of services directly required for the performance of subcontracts included in (a) and (b) of this subdivision.

As used herein the phrase "used in processing" has the same meaning as set forth in § 423.333 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations).

(ii) Limitations on exemption. The termination date of this exemption is June 30, 1951.

This exemption does not apply to subcontracts where the purchaser of such machinery has acquired it for the account of the Government. As used herein the phrase "acquired it for the account of the Government" means acquired pursuant to an arrangement between the Government and the purchaser of such machinery, whereby title to such machinery will, or may, at the option of the Government, vest in the Government.

(iii) Comment. The scope of the collateral items exemption as it applied prior to January 1, 1951, excluded from renegotiation all subcontracts for items which did not become a part of the end product or of a component incorporated therein. This exemption excludes from renegotiation a narrower group of subcontracts. The termination of the exemption which applied prior to January 1, 1951, has the effect of bringing back within the scope of renegotiation all subcontracts for items of machinery, equipment, and materials which operate directly on an end product or of an article incorporated therein by chemical, physical, or mechanical methods, such as shaping, cutting, constructing, combining, refining, assembling, testing, or inspecting. Furthermore, all subcontracts for components of such machinery, equipment, or materials will likewise be subject to renegotiation. For example, if an aircraft manufacturer buys a machine on or after January 1, 1951, for use in performing a renegotiable contract, the purchase of that machine will be a subcontract subject to renegotiation. Furthermore, purchases made by the manufacturer of the machine of components to be incorporated therein will likewise be subject to renegotiation if such purchases are made on or after January 1, 1951.

(e) The Military Renegotiation Regulations issued by the Military Renegotiation Policy and Review Board are the controlling regulations with respect to renegotiation matters. The following interpretations and opinions have been issued for the guidance of Contracting Officers:

(1) The Renegotiation Act of 1948 is applicable to contracts, and subcontracts thereunder, with either American or foreign contractors regardless of whether the procurement is effected or to be performed within or outside the continental United States, its territories and possessions.

(2) A second contract is renegotiable under the Renegotiation Act of 1948, all other factors being present, for procurement previously contracted for under a non-renegotiable contract which was in default and which had been terminated on behalf of the Government by reason thereof.

(3) The Renegotiation Act of 1948 is construed to apply to contracts made by the Department of the Army regardless of the fact that the funds which will be used to pay for the procurement, were appropriated for the use and benefit of a governmental agency other than the Department of the Army, Navy or Air Force.

(4) The Federal Prison Industries, Inc., is a governmental corporation of the United States. Consequently, purchases from such corporation of items listed in the Schedule of Products, issued by such corporation, are non-renegotiable in view of section 3 (d) of Public Law 547, 80th Congress, which incorporates by reference section 403 (i) (1) (A) of the Renegotiation Act of 1944. Likewise, any other purchase from a corrective institution would be non-renegotiable provided such corrective institution is a department, bureau, agency, or governmental corporation of the United States, or an agency of any State, Territory, possession or foreign government.

(5) Section 423.332–1 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations) states:

General. All contracts required to contain a Renegotiation Article are subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948. The absence of a Renegotiation Article from any contract does not, however, preclude the application of the act if such contract is one required to contain an Article.

(6) Section 423.334–1 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations) states:

General. All subcontracts required to contain the Renegotiation Article are subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1948. The absence of the Renegotiation Article from any subcontract does not, however, preclude the application of the act if such subcontract is one required to contain the Article.

(7) Section 423.334–4 of this title (Military Renegotiation Regulations) states:

Patent licenses as subcontracts. Licenses or other agreements for the use of processes or inventions used in performing subject contracts and subcontracts are subcontracts subject to renegotiation unless exempted.

(f) Requests for exemption from the Renegotiation Act of 1948 of individual contracts to be entered into by the Army Establishment, or of subcontracts under any individual contract to be entered into by the Army Establishment, will be submitted to the Secretary through the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) in sextuplicate (including all inclosures thereto). As adequate justification for the granting of an exemption from the Renegotiation Act of 1948, as extended and amended, must be shown to exist, in submitting such requests for exemption the following information will be included:

(1) Contractor's name, address and plant location, with a description of the supplies or services to be furnished including the total price.

(2) A summary of all facts substantiating the request including supporting data and correspondence.

(3) A statement showing the need and anticipated use of the supplies or services.

(4) A statement as to the availability of a suitable, substitute contractor for the furnishing of such supplies or services, and the time element involved.

(5) A statement showing the contractor's attitude toward renegotiation in the event of his refusal to accept the contract containing the renegotiation clause, and the effect thereof on the procurement involved.

(6) A statement as to the required delivery schedule and its effect, if any, upon the urgency of this procurement.

(7) A statement showing the number of contractors contacted relative to this procurement and the prices offered by each: whether a price redetermination clause is to be inserted in the contract, together with any other facts showing why the proposed price is considered reasonable and that the interests of the Government are fully protected.

(8) A statement showing what effect, if any, the existence of the Renegotiation Act has exerted upon the reasonableness of the price offered.

§ 596.104–12 Military security requirements (Security Requirements Check List). (a) DD Form 254 will be prepared, in accordance with the instructions thereon, and be attached to all contracts and subcontracts classified Top Secret, Secret, Confidential, or Restricted, and all contracts and subcontracts involving access to classified matter by a contractor or subcontractor. In addition to the initial completion of the form, necessary changes in security classification will be made as appropriate and will be reflected on the form when lower downgrading action is taken in accordance with applicable regulations. This form will not be considered a part of the contract but shall be used to implement the "Security Requirements Clause" as set forth in § 406.104–12 of this title, and any secrecy agreement which may be existent. (See § 596.579.)

(b) In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, this clause will be used with paragraph (c) of the clause deleted. Contracting Officers will exercise the utmost care in effecting this type procurement to avoid the compromise of classified data.

§ 596.104–13 Domestic food or clothing. In effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, for any articles of food or clothing excepted from the prohibition of the annual appropriation acts, this clause will be deleted.

§ 596.105. Additional clauses. The clauses set forth in § 406.105 of this title will be inserted in fixed-price supply contracts in accordance with the instructions of each Procuring Activity where necessary or desirable to cover the subject matter contained in such clauses.

§ 596.105–5 Liquidated damages—(a) Contract provision. If a contract is to provide for liquidated damages, a provision will be inserted in accordance with § 406.105–5 of this title.

(b) Accrual. Where a contract provides for liquidated damages in the event of default, and a default occurs, liquidated damages accrue to the Government, in accordance with the terms of the contract.

(c) Mitigation. If there is a liquidated-damage provision in a contract for the purchase of ordinary supplies and default should occur, time should not be permitted to run indefinitely, the result of which would make the liquidated damages chargeable exceed the contract price of the supplies to be delivered. The law imposes the duty upon a party subjected to injury by the action of another to mitigate the damages which result from such wrongful action, and that must be as true where liquidated damages run as in the ordinary case of actual damages. Efforts must be made to procure supplies elsewhere if delivery is not forthcoming within a reasonable time after the default occurs. While the course to be followed must depend upon the facts in each case, the rule may be stated that damages to run must be conserved and, as promptly as possible, according to what may be the attitude of the contractor respecting delivery, administrative action should be taken to procure the supplies elsewhere.

(d) Remission. Whenever any contract includes a provision for liquidated damages for delay, the Comptroller General on the recommendation of the Secretary is authorized and empowered to remit the whole or any part of such damages as in his discretion may be just and equitable. Recommendations submitted by a Contracting Officer to the Head of a Procuring Activity or to the Secretary will not be furnished the contractor.

§ 596.150 Department of the Army clauses. The following clauses will be inserted in fixed-price supply contracts when applicable and in accordance with the instructions set forth in §§ 596.150 through 596.150-4.

§ 596.150-1 Partial payments—(a) When payments are not to exceed 75 percent of the cost of the property. In those cases where it is contemplated that partial payments in an amount not to exceed 75 percent of the cost to the contractor of the material used by the contractor in manufacturing the supplies or doing the work called for by the contract will be made, the contract will contain the following clause:

PARTIAL PAYMENTS

Partial payments, which are hereby defined as payments prior to delivery, on work in progress for the Government under this contract, may be made upon the following terms and conditions.

(a) The Contracting Officer may, from time to time, authorize partial payments to the Contractor upon property acquired or produced by it for the performance of this contract: Provided, that such partial payments shall not exceed 75 percent of the cost to the Contractor of the property upon which payment is made, which cost shall be determined from evidence submitted by the Contractor and which must be such as is satisfactory to the Contracting Officer: Provided further, that in no event shall the total of unliquidated partial payments (see (c) below) and of unliquidated advance payments if any, made under this contract, exceed 80 percent of the total contract price of supplies still to be delivered.

(b) Upon the making of any partial payment under this contract, title to all parts, materials, inventories, work in process and nondurable tools theretofore acquired or produced by the Contractor for the performance of this contract, and properly chargeable thereto under sound accounting practice, shall forthwith vest in the Government; and title to all like property thereafter acquired or produced by the Contractor for the performance of this contract and properly chargeable thereto as aforesaid shall vest in the Government forthwith upon said acquisition or production: Provided, that nothing herein shall deprive the Contractor of any further partial or final payments due or to become due hereunder; or relieve the Contractor or the Government of any of their respective rights or obligations under this contract.

(c) In making payment for the supplies furnished hereunder, there shall be deducted from the contract price therefor a proportionate amount of the partial payments theretofore made to the Contractor, under the authority herein contained.

(d) It is recognized that property (including, without limitation, completed supplies, spare parts, drawings, information, partially completed supplies, work in process, materials, fabricated parts and other things called for herein) title to which is or may hereafter become vested in the Government pursuant to this clause will from time to time be used by or put in the care, custody or possession of the Contractor in connection with the performance of this contract. The Contractor, either before or after receipt of notice of termination at the option of the Government, may acquire or dispose of property to which title is vested in the Government under this clause, upon terms approved by the Contracting Officer: Provided, That after receipt of notice of termination, any such property that is a part of termination inventory may be acquired or disposed of only in accordance with the provisions of the clause of this contract entitled Termination for Convenience of the Government and applicable laws and regulations. The agreed price (in case of acquisition by the Contractor) or the proceeds received by the Contractor (in case of any other disposition), shall, to the extent that such price and proceeds do not exceed the unliquidated balance of partial payments hereunder, be paid or credited to the Government as the Contracting Officer shall direct; and such unliquidated balance shall be reduced accordingly. Current production scrap may be sold by the Contractor without approval of the Contracting Officer but the proceeds will be applied as provided in this paragraph (d), provided that any such scrap which is a part of termination inventory may be sold only in accordance with the provisions of the Termination for Convenience of the Government of this contract and applicable laws and regulations. Upon liquidation of all partial payments hereunder or upon completion of deliveries called for by this contract, title to all property (or the proceeds thereof) which has not been delivered to and accepted by the Government under this contract or which has not been incorporated in supplies delivered to and accepted by the Government under this contract and to which title has vested in the Government under this clause shall vest in the Contractor.

(e) The clause of this contract captioned "Liability for Government-Furnished Property" and any other provision of this contract defining liability for Government-Furnished Property shall be inapplicable to property to which the Government shall have acquired title solely by virtue of the provisions of this clause. The provisions of this clause shall not relieve the Contractor from risk of loss or destruction of or damage to property to which title vests in the Government under the provisions hereof.

(f) If this contract (as heretofore or hereafter supplemented or amended) contains provisions for Advance Payments, and in addition if at the time any partial payment is to be made to the Contractor under the provisions of this partial payments clause any unliquidated balance of advance payments is outstanding, then notwithstanding any other provision of the Advance Payments Clause of this contract the net amount, after appropriate deduction for liquidation of the advance payment, of such partial payment shall be deposited in the special bank account or accounts maintained as required by the provisions of the Advance Payments Clause, and shall thereafter be withdrawn only pursuant to such provisions.

(b) When payments are not to exceed 90 percent of direct labor and material costs. In those cases where it is contemplated that partial payments in an amount not to exceed 90 percent of the direct labor and material costs to the contractor will be made, the contract will contain the clause set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, except that in lieu of the words "75 percent of the cost," in subparagraph (a) of the clause, the words "90 percent of the direct labor and direct material costs" will be inserted.

§ 596.150-2 Advance Payments. Whenever advance payments have been authorized in accordance with Subpart E, Part 402 of this title and of this Procedure, insert the contract clause appropriate for use in fixed-price supply contracts, as set forth in Subpart E, Part 402 of this title: Provided, That prior to the issuance and effective date of such clause, there will be inserted the contract clause authorized for use in the contract concerned at the time the advance payment is approved as provided in Subpart E, Part 402 of this title and this procedure.

§ 596.150-3 Plant protection. In those cases where the Contracting Officer deems it necessary to retain some control as to the plant protective devices in a particular plant, the contract will contain one of the following clauses:

PLANT PROTECTION

The Contractor shall maintain in and about his plant adequate plant protective devices and shall employ such watchmen, guards and other personnel as the Contracting Officer may deem necessary to prevent espionage, sabotage, and other malicious destruction or damage.

PLANT PROTECTION

The Contractor shall maintain in and about his plant adequate plant protective devices and shall employ such watchmen, guards and other personnel as the Contracting Officer may deem necessary to prevent espionage, sabotage, and other malicious destruction or damage. If the Contracting Officer from time to time shall require the installation of plant protective devices or the employment of watchmen, guards or other personnel, or both, in addition to those deemed necessary by him on the date the Contractor shall commence performance of this contract, the cost of any such devices installed or the pay of any such personnel employed, or both, at the written request and upon the written authorization of the Contracting Officer, shall be reimbursed to the Contractor upon submission of vouchers approved by the Contracting Officer, provided that no reimbursement of the cost of any such installation or pay of any such personnel, or both, shall be made in excess of the cost thereof, as estimated in advance and approved in writing by the Contracting Officer.[1]

§ 596.150-4 Rental of gas cylinders. Every contract for the rental of gas cylinders will contain a clause similar to one of the following:

RENTAL OF GAS CYLINDERS (INDIVIDUAL BASIS)

Cylinders shall remain the property of the Contractor and will be loaned, without charge, to the Government for a period of 30 days after the date of shipment of cylinders from the Contractor's plant. Beginning with the first day after the expiration of the 20-day free loan period to and including the day the cylinders are released to the transportation company for return to the Contractor, there will be charged and the United States agrees to pay the Contractor a rental at the rate of $_____ per cylinder per day for the use of cylinders not returned to the Contractor.

RENTAL OF GAS CYLINDERS

(Quantity basis)

Cylinders shall remain the property of the Contractor and will be loaned, without charge, to the Government for a period of 30 days after the date of shipment of cylinders from the Contractor's plant. Beginning with the first day after the expiration of the 30-day free loan period to and including the day the cylinders are released to the transportation company for return to the Contractor, there will be charged and the United States agrees to pay the Contractor a rental at the rate of $_____ per cylinder per day, computed on a quantity basis, as indicated below, for the use of cylinders not returned to the contractor. This rental charge will be computed separately for oxygen and acetylene cylinders and for each point of delivery named in the contract. A credit of 30 cylinder days will accrue for each cylinder shipped. A debit of one cylinder day will accrue for each cylinder for each day held beginning with the day after date of shipment from Contractor's plant to and including the day the cylinder is released to the transportation company for return to the Contractor. At the end of the contract period, in the event the total number of debits exceeds the total number of credits, rental will be charged for the difference. If the total number of credits equals or exceeds the total number of debits, no charge will be made for the use of the cylinders.

All cylinders not returned to the Contractor on or before the expiration of a 90-day rental period or lost or damaged beyond repair while in the possession of the United States Government shall be paid for by the United States to the Contractor at a replacement value of $_____ for each oxygen cylinder of 100 to 110 cubic feet capacity, $_____ for each oxygen cylinder of 200 to 220 cubic feet capacity, $_____ for each acetylene cylinder of 100 to 150 cubic feet capacity, and $_____ for each acetylene cylinder of 250 to 300 cubic feet capacity.

Cylinders retained or lost and so paid for shall be considered the property of the United States. But if and when located they may, at the option of the Government, be returned to the Contractor, and, in such event, credit shall be allowed to the Government at the replacement value paid, less rental at the rate of $_____ per day beginning at the expiration of the 30-day period as aforesaid to the date upon which cylinders are turned over to carrier for return to Contractor's plant.

§ 596.151 Price escalation clauses. Price escalation clauses (as distinguished from price redetermination clauses) may be inserted in contracts entered into after formal advertising or negotiation in accordance with the instructions set forth in this section. (See § 591.406 (b).)

§ 596.151-1 General price escalation clause. (a) The general price escalation clause set forth in §§ 596.151—596.151-4 is authorized for inclusion in fixed-price contracts, awarded as a result of either formal advertising or negotiation, for the procurement of all standard and "semi-standard" "off-the-shelf" items. "Semi-standard items" are those items which the contractor customarily offers for sale commercially, but which are being modified under this contract to meet Government specifications. This escalation clause is designed primarily for use in contracts for the purchase of items from other than "integrated steel producers," "operators of a steel foundry," and "producers of aluminum."

(1) Standard "off-the-shelf" items. This clause is authorized for use in any contract for the purchase of standard "off-the-shelf" items, without limitation as to the total contract amount.

(2) Semi-standard items. This clause is authorized for use in contracts for the procurement of "semi-standard items" where the total contract amount is not less than $1,000, nor more than $100,000, and

(i) The contract specifically designates which item or items (being modified from standard under the terms of the contract) are to be used as a basis for any increase or decrease in contract price.

(ii) The contract provides that such percentage of increase or decrease, as agreed to by the Contractor and the Contracting Officer, shall be applied to the unit prices of all of the items under the contract.

(b) Suitable price redetermination clause, in lieu of this escalation clause will be used in all instances wherein it is desired to redetermine an estimated price based upon all or any of the following, except subparagraph (3) and/or (4) of this paragraph alone:

(1) Quantities of materials.
(2) Hours of labor.
(3) Cost of material.
(4) Rates of labor.
(5) Overheads.
(6) General and administrative expense.
(7) Other direct and indirect costs.

Determination of subparagraph (3) and/or (4) of this paragraph alone may be made through the use of this escalation clause.

(c) When it is planned to include this clause in contracts to be awarded as a result of formal advertising, the invitations for bids will clearly so state, and will further state that all bids will be evaluated after applying the maximum amount of possible escalation.

PRICE ESCALATION

(General)

(a) The Contractor represents and warrants that the prices set forth in this contract do not include any contingency allowance to cover the possibility of increased costs of performance resulting from increases in either (1) the Contractor's rates of pay for labor employed by him; or (2) the prices which the Contractor is required to pay for material. The Contractor further represents and warrants that the net price or prices paid or to be paid by the Government under this contract do not and shall not exceed those paid by any other purchaser or consignee for like quantities of the same or similar supplies. The Contractor also agrees to give the Government any and all discount benefits extended by it to any other purchaser or consignee purchasing or handling like quantities of the same or similar supplies covered by this contract.

(b) In the event that, at any time during the performance of this contract, the Contractor shall pay rates of pay for direct labor employed by him or prices for direct material in excess of or less than those current as of the date of this contract, provided that any such change would result in an increase or decrease of at least three percent (3%) of the then aggregate contract price of the uncompleted units of the contract, then in either such event the unit prices set forth in this contract may be revised upward or downward in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, with respect to the units completed subsequent to the effective date of any such increase or decrease by an amount equivalent to the increase or decrease in cost per uncompleted unit occasioned by the increase or decrease in direct labor wage rates or in prices for material or both.

(c) Not later than twenty (20) days after the effective date of any increase or decrease as referred to in paragraph (b) hereof, the Contractor shall notify the Contracting Officer of any such increase or decrease, and with such notification shall submit a supporting cost break-down. Such cost break-down will—

(1) Be prepared in accordance with recognized commercial accounting principles.

(2) Indicate changes in estimated direct labor and direct material costs resulting from any increase or decrease as referred to in paragraph (b) hereof.

(3) Be signed by a responsible official of the Contractor.

Upon the basis of such notification and cost break-down, and such other data may be available to the Contracting Officer or as shall be furnished to him upon request to the Contractor, a price adjustment to reflect the increase or decrease in costs as referred to in paragraph (b) hereof shall be determined by mutual agreement between the Contractor and the Contracting Officer, and shall be set forth in an amendment to this contract. In the event that the Contractor fails to give notice of any decrease as required herein, a downward adjustment shall be later effected with respect to units completed subsequent to the effective date of any such decrease.

(d) Price adjustment may be agreed upon, at any time and from time to time during the performance of this contract, in accordance with the provisions of this clause. In no event, however, shall any price adjustments be made:

(1) For increased or decreased costs resulting from an increase or decrease as related to the original contract estimates, in number of hours of labor, in amounts of material purchased, or in overhead charges; or

(2) Which would increase or decrease the estimated dollar amount of profit per unit originally included in the contract price.

(e) The increase or accumulated increases in unit prices made under this clause shall not exceed ten percent (10%) of the original contract unit price.

(f) Pending a determination of any price adjustment under this clause the Contractor shall continue deliveries hereunder. Failure of the parties to agree upon a price adjustment pursuant to the provisions of this clause shall be deemed to be a dispute as to a question of fact within the meaning of the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes."

§ 596.151-2 Price escalation clauses for standard steel items. The price escalation clauses set forth below are authorized for inclusion in fixed-price contracts for standard steel items, under the following circumstances:

(a) Items being procured are made wholly or in the major part of steel.

(b) Contractor is an "integrated steel producer" or an "operator of a steel foundry."

(c) That, when it is planned to include the appropriate clause in contracts to be awarded as a result of formal advertising, the invitations for bids will clearly so state, and will further state that all bids will be evaluated after applying the maximum amount of possible escalation.

PRICE ESCALATION

(Formal advertising)

(a) The Contractor hereby warrants that the unit prices stated herein on the date set for opening of bids are not in excess of the Contractor's applicable established prices for like quantities of the supplies covered by this contract. The Contractor shall notify the Contracting Officer of each decrease in any of such established prices and each applicable contract unit price shall be decreased accordingly. Any decrease in a unit price shall become effective concurrently with the effective date of each applicable decrease in Contractor's established price and the contract shall be amended accordingly.

[1] If desired an additional proviso may be added, reading substantially as follows:

Provided further, That no reimbursement of the cost of any such installation or pay of any such personnel is being made to the Contractor by other means.

(b) The Contractor may at any time, or from time to time, after the date set for opening of bids and during the performance of the contract request in writing an upward adjustment in any of the contract unit prices to be effective as from a date to be specified by the Contractor, subject to the following conditions:

(1) No unit price as adjusted shall exceed the Contractor's applicable established price.

(2) The aggregate of the increases in any unit price made under this paragraph shall not exceed 10 percent (10%) of the original applicable contract unit price.

(3) No adjusted unit price shall be effective earlier than the effective date of any increase in the applicable established price and no increase shall be granted unless the Contractor's applicable established price has increased subsequent to the date set for opening of bids.

(c) In the event the requested adjustment in any contract unit price is acceptable to the Contracting Officer, he shall not later than 20 days after the date of receipt by him of the request so notify the Contractor and the contract shall be modified accordingly. If any such requested adjustment in a unit price is not acceptable to the Contracting Officer, he shall notify the Contractor in writing within 20 days from the date of receipt by him of the Contractor's said notice; and unless an agreement can be reached as to the amount of increase, the Government may cancel without liability to either party the Contractor's right to proceed with performance of the portion of the contract which is undelivered at the time of such cancellation, except that the Contractor may make delivery of all or any of the supplies which a duly authorized officer of the company shall certify were completed or in the process of manufacture at the time of receipt of notice of such cancellation, and the Government shall pay for all supplies so delivered at the applicable unit price contained in Contractor's said request and the contract shall be modified accordingly, provided, that such certification is made within 10 days after receipt of notice of such cancellation and such requested increase satisfies all of the conditions and does not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b). Supplies shall be deemed to be in the process of manufacture when the steel therefor is in any state of processing after the beginning of the furnace melt.

(d) During the period prior to such cancellation, the Contractor shall continue deliveries according to the terms of the contract and shall be paid therefor at the applicable increased unit prices so requested, provided, such requested increases satisfy all of the conditions and do not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b).

(e) If notice of cancellation is not sent to the Contractor within 30 days after receipt by the Contracting Officer of the Contractor's request, supplies delivered subsequent to the date specified in such request, and prior to the effective date of any subsequent increase or decrease in Contractor's applicable established prices, shall be paid for at the applicable increased unit prices so requested, provided, such requested increases satisfy all of the conditions and do not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b).

PRICE ESCALATION

(Negotiated purchases)

(a) The Contractor hereby warrants that the unit prices stated herein at the date hereof are not in excess of the Contractor's applicable established prices for like quantities of the supplies covered by this contract. The Contractor shall notify the Contracting Officer of each decrease in any of such established prices and each applicable contract unit be decreased accordingly. Any decrease in a unit price shall become effective concurrently with the effective date of each applicable decrease in Contractor's established price and the contract shall be amended accordingly.

(b) The Contractor may at any time, or from time to time, during the performance of the contract request in writing an upward adjustment in any of the contract unit prices to be effective as from a date to be specified by the Contractor, subject to the following conditions:

(1) No unit price as adjusted shall exceed the Contractor's applicable established price.

(2) For deliveries pursuant to the terms of this contract, the aggregate of the increases in any unit price made under this paragraph shall not exceed 10 percent of the original applicable contract unit price.

(3) No adjusted unit price shall be effective earlier than the effective date of any increase in the applicable established price.

(c) In the event the requested adjustment in any contract unit price is acceptable to the Contracting Officer, he shall not later than 20 days after the date of receipt by him of the request so notify the Contractor, and the contract shall be modified accordingly. If any such requested adjustment in a unit price is not acceptable to the Contracting Officer, he shall notify the Contractor in writing within 20 days from the date of receipt by him of the Contractor's said notice; and unless an agreement can be reached as to the amount of increase, the Government may cancel without liability to either party the Contractor's right to proceed with performance of the portion of the contract which is undelivered at the time of such cancellation, except that the Contractor may make delivery of all or any of the supplies which a duly authorized officer of the company shall certify were completed or in the process of manufacture at the time of receipt of notice of such cancellation, and the Government shall pay for all supplies so delivered at the applicable unit price contained in Contractor's said request and the contract shall be modified accordingly, provided, that such certification is made within 10 days after receipt of notice of such cancellation and such requested increase satisfies all of the conditions and does not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b). Supplies shall be deemed to be in the process of manufacture when the steel therefor is in any state of processing after the beginning of the furnace melt.

(d) During the period prior to such cancellation, the Contractor shall continue deliveries according to the terms of the contract and shall be paid therefor at the applicable increased unit prices so requested, provided, such requested increases satisfy all of the conditions and do not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b).

(e) If notice of cancellation is not sent to the Contractor within 30 days after receipt by the Contracting Officer of the Contractor's request, supplies delivered subsequent to the date specified in such request, and prior to the effective date of any subsequent increase or decrease in Contractor's applicable established prices, shall be paid for at the applicable increased unit prices so requested, provided, such requested increases satisfy all of the conditions and do not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b).

§ 596.151–3 Price Escalation Clause for aluminum. The escalation clause set forth below is authorized for inclusion in fixed-price contracts for aluminum, entered into after formal advertising or by negotiation, under the following circumstances:

(a) Contractor is a producer of aluminum.

(b) Items being procured are made wholly or in the major part of aluminum.

(c) That, when it is planned to include this clause in contracts to be awarded as a result of formal advertising the invitations for bids will clearly so state, and will further state that all bids will be evaluated after applying the maximum amount of possible escalation.

PRICE ESCALATION

(Aluminum)

(a) The Contractor hereby warrants that the unit prices stated herein on the date set for opening of bids or offers are not in excess of the Contractor's applicable established prices for like quantities of the supplies covered by this contract. The Contractor shall notify the Contracting Officer of each decrease in any of such established prices and each applicable contract unit price shall be decreased accordingly. Any decrease in a unit price shall become effective concurrently with the effective date of each applicable decrease in Contractor's established price and the contract shall be amended accordingly.

(b) The Contractor may at any time, or from time to time, during the performance of the contract request in writing an upward adjustment in any of the contract unit prices to be effective as from a date to be specified by the Contractor, subject to the following conditions:

(1) No unit price as adjusted shall exceed the Contractor's applicable established price.

(2) The aggregate of the increases in any unit price made under this paragraph shall not exceed 10 percent of the original applicable contract unit price.

(3) No adjusted unit price shall be effective earlier than the effective date of any increase in the applicable established price and no increase shall be granted unless the Contractor's applicable established price has increased subsequent to the date set for opening of bids or offers.

(c) In the event the requested adjustment in any contract unit price is acceptable to the Contracting Officer, he shall not later than 20 days after the date of receipt by him of the request so notify the Contractor and the contract shall be modified accordingly. If any such requested adjustment in a unit price is not acceptable to the Contracting Officer, he shall so notify the Contractor in writing within 20 days from the date of receipt by him of the Contractor's said notice; and unless an agreement can be reached as to the amount of increase, the Government may cancel without liability to either party the Contractor's right to proceed with performance of the portion of the contract which is undelivered at the time of such cancellation, except that the Contractor may make delivery of all or any of the supplies which a duly authorized officer of the company shall certify were completed or in the process of manufacture at the time of receipt of notice of such cancellation, and the Government shall pay for all supplies so delivered at the applicable unit price contained in Contractor's said request and the contract shall be modified accordingly, provided, that such certification is made within 10 days after receipt of notice of such cancellation and such requested increase satisfies all of the conditions and does not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b).

(d) During the period prior to such cancellation, the Contractor shall continue deliveries according to the terms of the contract and shall be paid therefor at the applicable increased unit prices so requested, provided, such requested increases satisfy all of the conditions and do not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b).

(e) If notice of cancellation is not sent to the Contractor within 30 days after receipt by the Contracting Officer of the Contractor's request, supplies delivered subsequent to the date specified in such request, and prior to the effective date of any subsequent increase or decrease in Contractor's applicable established prices, shall be paid for at the applicable increased unit prices so requested, provided, such requested increases satisfy all of the conditions and do not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b).

§ 596.151–4 Price escalation clause for open-end contracts and indefinite quantity contracts.

(a) The price escalation clause set forth below is authorized for inclusion in open-end and indefinite quantity contracts, entered into after formal advertising or by negotiation, under the following circumstances:

(1) That items being procured are standard "off-the-shelf" items.

(2) That, when it is planned to include this clause in contracts to be awarded as a result of formal advertising the invitations for bids will clearly so state and will further state that all bids will be evaluated after applying the maximum amount of possible escalation.

PRICE ESCALATION

(Open-end or indefinite quantity contract)

(a) The Contractor hereby warrants that the unit prices stated herein at the date hereof are not in excess of the Contractor's applicable established prices for like quantities of the supplies covered by this contract. The Contractor shall notify the Contracting Officer of each decrease in any such established prices and each applicable contract unit price shall be decreased accordingly. Any decrease in a unit price shall become effective concurrently with the effective date of each applicable decrease in Contractor's established price and the contract shall be amended accordingly.

(b) The Contractor may at any time, or from time to time, during the performance of the contract request in writing an upward adjustment in any of the contract unit prices to be effective as from a date to be specified by the Contractor, subject to the following conditions:

(1) No unit price as adjusted shall exceed the Contractor's applicable established price.

(2) The aggregate of the increases in any unit price made under this paragraph shall not exceed 10 percent of the original applicable contract unit price.

(3) No adjusted unit price shall be effective earlier than the effective date of any increase in the applicable established price.

(c) In the event the requested adjustment in any contract unit price is acceptable to the Contracting Officer, he shall not later than 20 days after the date of receipt by him of the request so notify the Contractor and the contract shall be modified accordingly. If any such requested adjustment in a unit price is not acceptable to the Contracting Officer, he shall so notify the Contractor in writing within 20 days from the date of receipt by him of the Contractor's said notice; and unless an agreement can be reached as to the amount of increase, the Government may cancel without liability to either party the Contractor's right to proceed with performance of the portion of the contract which is undelivered at the time of such cancellation.

(d) If notice of cancellation is not sent to the Contractor within 30 days after receipt by the Contracting Officer of the Contractor's request, supplies delivered subsequent to the date specified in such request, and prior to the effective date of any subsequent increase or decrease in Contractor's applicable established prices, shall be paid for at the applicable increased unit prices so requested, provided such requested increases satisfy all of the conditions and do not exceed the limitations of paragraph (b).

(e) The Contractor also agrees to give the Government any and all discount benefits extended to any company, agency, organization, or individual purchasing or handling like quantities of the supplies covered by this contract.

(b) Paragraphs (d) and (e) of the above clause are optional. Paragraph (d) of the clause clearly provides certain benefits to the Contractor and should not be included unless requested by the Contractor and it is deemed necessary to complete the procurement. Paragraph (e) is a so-called "Preferred Customer" clause and obviously does benefit the Government. Paragraph (e) should be included in all cases; however, authority is granted to delete it in those instances wherein the objections of the Contractor would preclude the possibility of effecting the necessary procurement.

§ 596.152 Price redetermination clauses. Price redetermination clauses, as authorized in §§ 596.152 through 596.152–3 or by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, may be included in negotiated fixed-price contracts in accordance with the requirements of §§ 402.401, 402.403, 592.401 and 592.403 of this title.

§ 593.152–1 Form II–B price redetermination clause—(a) Nature and effect. The Form II–B, price redetermination clause, appearing in paragraph (d) of this section, provides for a negotiated upward or downward redetermination of the prices upon completion of delivery of a specified percentage of the principal items called for by the contract, without a demand by either party. Thereafter there may be upward or downward revision of the price upon written demand of either party, subject to specified limitations on the frequency of the demands. Any redetermination made pursuant to a demand after the initial period has a prospective effect only.

(b) Conditions for use. The Form II–B price redetermination clause should be used in instances when the following conditions exist:

(1) The contract is a fixed-price contract for supplies, the quantity being procured is large, no accurate forecast of the cost of production is feasible, and the contract covers a period of at least six months.

(2) Effective competition is not available to indicate reasonableness of price.

(3) There are no data available to indicate reasonableness of price.

(4) The price (i) is negotiated upon the express understanding that the particular price redetermination clause is to be included in the contract and (ii) is a close price containing substantially no charge or allowance for contingencies.

(5) The Contracting Officer is satisfied that the contractor employs methods of estimating its costs which accurately reflect current shop and engineering experience and proper quantity and price allowances for material, labor, machine utilization, and other cost elements.

(6) The Contracting Officer is satisfied that the contractor has a cost accounting system of sufficient accuracy and reliability to show the cost information required by the clause at the time or times provided therein.

(c) Rules for administration. In negotiating a price adjustment under the Form II–B, price redetermination clause, the Contracting Officer will adhere to the following rules, in addition to the audit requirements set forth in § 590.607.

(1) The negotiations to redetermine prices should ordinarily take into account all changes in specifications which have been made up to the time of the negotiations.

(2) Negotiations to redetermine prices will be conducted upon substantially the same basis as the original negotiation of a price when like information on costs and estimates is available. The Contracting Officer ordinarily should not give consideration to an increase in price beyond the amount estimated to be the excess of (i) any increases in cost beyond the contractor's control over (ii) any offsetting reductions in the contractor's costs. However, this rule should not be applied to deprive a contractor of a reasonable reward in the form of an increased estimated profit margin for especially efficient and economical production.

(3) The Contracting Officer should take into consideration the fact that increases in certain costs may be offset by decreases in others. The Contracting Officer should also recognize that increases in wages and in the prices of materials will not necessarily increase, immediately or proportionately, the cost of items to be delivered by the contractor. For example, some of the labor on work in process at the time of a wage increase may have been performed while lower rates of wages were in effect. Again, materials included in work in process may have been bought by the contractor before the effective date of a price increase. Similarly, the contractor may have an inventory on hand or materials on order at prices which do not reflect the current increases therein. Also, there may be offsetting savings not attributable to the efficiency of the contractor.

(4) The contractor's estimate of future costs will be considered in the light of all available data, including shop, engineering, accounting and other relevant information, which will help to check the accuracy of the estimate. When any component or components of the estimate are in question, the Contracting Officer should inquire into the physical facts, e. g., the number of men actually engaged in a particular operation or process, the quantity of material actually used, etc. Expense and overhead allocation are based upon an estimated amount of expense spread over an anticipated volume to be obtained. Check of the actual rate of expenditures and the actual volume being obtained should be made so that the rates used may be founded on up-to-date forecasts.

The aggregate of those charges included in the prices of contracts entered into within the current period should be considered in order to avoid excessive prices through over-absorption of such charges.

(5) In addition to consideration of the contractor's cost experience under the contract and its estimates of future production costs, the contracting officer should make use of comparative prices, comparative costs and the trends of such prices and costs. If, since the making of the contract, prices have become competitive, particular weight shall be given to comparative prices, to the end that the effect of competitive forces may be fully realized for the benefit of the Government.

(6) The Contracting Officer should make such use and verification of the estimate and the supporting cost data submitted by the contractor as he would make with respect to similar data upon the negotiation of a price under a new contract.

(7) The negotiations will be promptly instituted and concluded in strict accordance with the provisions of the clause. Every effort will be made to come to an agreement as to revised price or prices. The Disputes clause will be invoked only as a last resort.

(8) Upon the conclusion of each negotiation for price revision, the revised price or prices will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement. The supplemental agreement should clearly indicate what costs, if any, of a non-recurrent nature have been recognized as having been paid for in prices for the preceding period or periods, so as to avoid the possibility of a second payment therefor in the event of termination at the option of the Government.

(9) Wherever a contract containing the Form II–B price redetermination clause is modified by change order or supplemental agreement, so as to affect the rate of deliveries or quantities of items called for, the Contracting Officers will take care to deal with and cover explicitly any modification in the operation of the price redetermination clause which he considers are made necessary by the modification of rates of deliveries or quantities.

(10) Proper administration of the Form II–B clause requires that the Contracting Officer make regular periodic reviews of the contract price to ascertain whether or not a demand should be served. No demand should be made by the Contracting Officer, and the contractor should be discouraged from making such demand, unless a sound basis exists for believing that a redetermination of price is necessary to protect the interest of the Government or the contractor. The need for such a demand may be indicated by factors such as the following:

(i) Comparative prices.

(ii) Movements or trends in such prices.

(iii) Movements or trends in the prices asked by other contractors for the same or similar items.

(iv) Information supplied by the contractor in the ordinary course of business.

(v) Changes in market prices of materials or components.

(vi) Changes in subcontract prices.

(vii) Changes in the contractor's prices under other Government contracts.

(11) The first revised forward price under the Form II–B clause and prices negotiated pursuant to a demand under the clause should be based on projections extending over the remaining life of the contract and should not take into account possible increases in costs.

(d) Contract clause. The following Form II–B price redetermination clause may be used in negotiated fixed-price contracts in accordance with the instructions set forth in the preceding paragraphs and if approved for use in accordance with § 592.403:

PRICE REDETERMINATION

(Form II–B)

(a) The prices stated herein may be increased or decreased in accordance with this clause. In no event shall the revised price exceed $_____.

(b) Times for negotiation.

(1) Upon completion of delivery of _____ percent of the (here specify the principal items to be furnished under the contract) to be furnished under this contract or upon expenditure of (here specify the percentage of the total contract amount), whichever shall occur last, the parties shall negotiate to revise the prices of all items theretofore and thereafter to be delivered. Within not to exceed thirty (30) days after the completion of delivery or expenditure of funds referred to above, the Contractor shall furnish to the Contracting Officer the statements and data referred to in paragraph (c) of this clause. At any time and from time to time after the completion of delivery or expenditure of funds referred to above, subject to the limitations specified in this clause, either the Government or the Contractor may deliver to the other a written demand that the parties negotiate to adjust the prices under this contract. No demand shall be made prior to 90 days after completion of delivery or expenditure of funds referred to above, and thereafter neither party shall make a demand having an effective date within 90 days of the effective date of any prior demand. Each demand shall specify a date (identical with or subsequent to the date of the delivery of the demand) as of which the revised prices shall be effective as to the deliveries made thereon and thereafter. This date is hereinafter referred to as "the effective date of the price redetermination." For the purposes of the first negotiation contemplated by this paragraph, the date of execution of this contract shall be deemed to be the effective date of the price redetermination. Any demand under this clause, if made by the Contractor, shall state briefly the ground or grounds therefor and shall be accompanied by the statements and data referred to in paragraph (c) of this clause. If the demand is made by the Government, such statements and data will be furnished by the Contractor within 30 days of the delivery of the demand.

(2) In the event all remaining work under this contract, as it may from time to time be amended, shall be terminated pursuant to the clause of this contract entitled "Termination for Convenience of the Government", no demand shall then or thereafter be made and any demand the effective date of which is less than 30 days before the effective date of such termination shall be void and of no effect.

(c) Submission of data. At the time or each of the times specified or provided for in paragraph (b) of this clause the Contractor shall submit (i) a new estimate and breakdown of the unit cost and the proposed prices of the items remaining under this contract after the effective date of the price redetermination, itemized so far as is practicable in the manner prescribed by WD Form 105; (ii) an explanation of the differences between the original (or last preceding) estimate and the new estimate; (iii) such relevant shop and engineering data, cost records, overhead absorption reports and accounting statements as may be of assistance in determining the accuracy and reliability of the new estimate; (iv) a statement of experienced costs of production hereunder to the extent that they are available at the time or times of the negotiation of the revision of prices hereunder; and (v) any other relevant data usually furnished in the case of negotiation of prices under a new contract. The Government may make such examination of the Contractor's accounts, records and books as the Contracting Officer may require and may make such audit thereof as the Contracting Officer may deem necessary.

(d) Negotiations. (1) Upon the filing of the statements and data required by paragraph (c) of this clause, the Contractor and the Contracting Officer will negotiate promptly in good faith to agree upon prices for items to be delivered on and after the effective date of the price redetermination. Negotiations for price redetermination under this clause shall be conducted on the same basis, employing the same types of data (including, without limitations, comparative prices, comparative costs, and trends thereof) as in the negotiation of prices under a new contract.

(2) After each negotiation the agreement reached will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement stating the redetermined prices to be effective with respect to deliveries on and after the effective date of the price redetermination (or such other later date as the parties may fix in such supplemental agreement).

(e) Disagreements. If within 30 days after the date on which the statements and data are required pursuant to paragraph (b) of this clause to be filed (or such further period as may be fixed by written agreement) the Contracting Officer and the Contractor fail to agree to redetermined prices (which term, for the purpose of this clause, shall include direct costs, indirect costs and profit), the failure to agree shall be a dispute concerning a question of fact within the meaning of the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes," and the prices so fixed shall remain in effect for the balance of the contract notwithstanding any other provision of this clause.

(f) Payments. Until new prices shall become effective in accordance with this clause, the prices in force at the effective date of the price redetermination shall be paid upon all deliveries, subject to appropriate later redetermination made pursuant to paragraph (d) or (e) or (g) (2) (B) of this clause.

(g) Termination provisions. For any of the purposes of the clause of this contract entitled "Termination for Convenience of the Government" (including, without limitation, the computation of "the total contract price" and "the contract price of work not terminated"), the contract price of delivered articles shall be deemed to be,

(1) For all items delivered prior to the effective date of the price redetermination, the contract price (giving effect to any prior revisions under this clause) applicable to each such item.

(2) For all items delivered on or after the effective date of the price redetermination.

(A) The contract price as revised in accordance with this clause if such revision shall have been agreed upon.

(B) If such revision shall not have been agreed upon, then such estimated prices as the Contractor and the Contracting Officer may agree upon as reasonable under all the circumstances and in the absence of such agreement such reasonable prices as may be determined in accordance with the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes."

(h) Termination during the initial period. In the event that this contract is terminated pursuant to the clause of this contract entitled "Termination for Convenience of the Government," or the Contractor's right to deliver is terminated pursuant to the clause of this contract entitled "Default," so that the last delivery under the contract as terminated is made prior to the completion of the initial period as specified in paragraph (b) of this clause, the Contractor within _____ days after such last delivery shall furnish the data required by paragraph (c) of this clause and thereupon the parties shall negotiate in good faith to agree upon revised prices under this contract. The agreement reached shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the revised prices under the contract. Any disagreement as to the revised prices will be disposed of as a question of fact in accordance with the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes." The following is authorized as an optional paragraph (e) in the Form II–B price redetemination clause:

(e) Disagreements. (1) If within 30 days after the date on which the statements and data are required pursuant to paragraph (b) of this clause to be filed (or such further period as may be fixed by written agreement) the Contracting Officer and the Contractor fail to agree to redetermined prices (which term, for the purpose of this clause, shall include direct costs, indirect costs and profit), the Contractor, if he has substantially complied with the requirements of this clause as to the furnishing of statements and data, may give written notice to the Contracting Officer requiring the Government to pay the prices set forth in such notice from the time at which the price redetermination was to be effective under the provisions of this clause.

(2) If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor fail to agree, the Contracting Officer within 30 days after the delivery of the Contractor's notice may serve upon the Contractor a written election by which the Government agrees to pay to the Contractor fair and just compensation from the time at which such price redetermination was to be effective under the provisions of this clause. The written election shall specify the amount which the Contracting Officer deems to be fair and just compensation. If no written election is served upon the Contractor, the prices set forth in the Contractor's notice shall be incorporated in an appropriate supplemental agreement. If a written election is served upon the Contractor as above provided, the contract shall continue in effect as modified by such written election and the Contractor (a) shall be paid currently the amount specified by the Contracting Officer in such written election for all deliveries affected thereby and (b) may recover from the United States, by suit brought within six months after the delivery of such written election or after the completion of deliveries under this contract, whichever shall last occur, the amount, if any, by which such fair and just compensation exceeds the amount so specified.

(3) If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor fail to agree and no notice has been given by the Contractor as contemplated in paragraph (e) (1) of this clause, the Contractor shall be entitled to receive, from the time at which such price redetermination was to be effective under the provisions of this clause, fair and just compensation the amount which shall be determined as a question of fact pursuant to the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes."

§ 596.152–2 Form III price redetermination clause.—(a) Nature and effect. The Form III price redetermination clause provides for retroactive pricing by mutual agreement. It is designed primarily for use in contracts of $100,000 or less for experimental or developmental items or services. This clause, however, should also be used in contracts for the procurement of any item or service, when it is not possible to determine reasonableness of price at the time of negotiation. By its terms the Contracting Officer is empowered, after completion or termination of the contract, to demand that the parties negotiate to reduce the entire contract price. The redetermination of price effected thereunder is wholly retroactive.

(b) Conditions for use. The Form III clause should be used in instances when the following conditions exist:

(1) The amount of the negotiated contract is $100,000 or less.

(2) There are no data available to indicate reasonableness of price.

(3) Contractor's estimate is believed to contain substantial allowance for contingencies. (It will not be assumed that a Contractor who agrees to inclusion of this price redetermination clause is assuming appreciable risk, unless it can be determined that the price offered by him does not include contingency provisions.)

(4) The Contractor's cost accounting system is sufficient to show the costs under the contract.

(5) The price initially fixed in the contract bears a reasonable relationship to the expected final price thereunder.

(c) Rules for administration. (1) If the production cost figures indicate that the price was high, the Contracting Officer will make the demand contemplated by the clause and will proceed promptly with and conclude the redetermination of the price in accordance with the clause.

(2) The Contracting Officer should make such use and verification of the cost data as he would make with respect to similar data upon the negotiation of a price under a new contract. The verification may include an examination and audit of the Contractor's books and records.

(3) The profit to be allowed under this contract upon redetermination of price shall be subject to negotiation.

(4) The redetermined price will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement making adequate provision to secure to the Government the benefit of the reduction.

(d) Contract clause. The following Form III price redetermination clause may be used in accordance with the instructions set forth in the preceding paragraphs and if approved for use in accordance with § 592.403:

PRICE REDETERMINATION

(Form III)

(a) Within sixty days after the completion or termination of this contract, the Contractor will submit to the Contracting Officer a detailed statement of the costs of performing this contract. Upon the written demand of the Contracting Officer, made at any time within thirty days after the submission of such statement, the Contractor will negotiate to reduce the contract price to an amount representing fair and reasonable compensation for the performance of the contract. In such negotiations the efficiency of the Contractor in production, buying and management will be given due weight.

(b) The Contractor will furnish to the Contracting Officer such other statements of actual costs of production and such other financial statements, at such times and in such form and detail, as the Contracting Officer may prescribe, and will permit such audits and examination of its books, records and accounts as the Contracting Officer may request.

(c) If within thirty (30) days after the making of such demand (or such further period as may be fixed by written agreement) the Contracting Officer and the Contractor fail to agree to a redetermined price (which term, for the purpose of this clause, shall include direct costs, indirect costs and profits), the failure to agree shall be a dispute concerning a question of fact within the meaning of the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes."

(d) The Government shall retain from amounts otherwise due to the Contractor, or the Contractor shall repay to the Government if paid to him, any amount by which the contract price is found as a result of the application of this clause to exceed a fair and reasonable price, as the Contracting Officer may direct.

§ 596.152–3 Form IV price redetermination clause—(a) Nature and effect. The Form IV price redetermination clause provides for retroactive pricing with a limited upward revision. This clause, providing for upward or downward price revision, is authorized for use in negotiated contracts for supplies or services where the quantity being procured is moderate and the period of the contract does not cover an extended period of time. Under the clause a contract price is agreed upon (target price) which it is believed will tend to compel the Contractor to do as efficient a job as possible in the circumstances, and at the same time a maximum price is fixed as a ceiling (normally not to exceed 10 percent of target price) on any upward redetermination under the clause. The redetermination of price takes place after completion or termination of the contract and is wholly retroactive.

(b) Conditions for use. The Form IV clause should be used in instances when the following conditions exist:

(1) The contract is a negotiated fixed-price contract for supplies or services where the quantity being procured is moderate and the period of the contract does not cover an extended period of time.

(2) Effective competition is not available to indicate reasonableness of price.

(3) There are no data available to indicate reasonableness of price.

(4) The price (i) is negoiated upon the express understanding that the particular price redetermination clause is to be included in the contract and (ii) is a close price containing substantially no charge or allowance for contingencies.

(5) The Contracting Officer is satisfied that the Contractor employs methods of estimating its cost which accurately reflect current shop and engineering experience and proper quantity and price allowances for material, labor, machine utilization, and other cost elements.

(6) The Contracting Officer is satisfied that the Contractor has a cost accounting system of sufficient accuracy and reliability to show the cost information required by the clause at the time provided therein.

(c) Rules for administration. (1) The time limitations prescribed in the clause will be strictly followed.

(2) The Contracting Officer should make such use and verification of the cost data submitted by the Contractor as he would make with respect to similar data upon the negotiation of a price under a new contract. The verification may include the examination and audit of the Contractor's books and record.

(3) The negotiations under the clause may result in a redetermined price which is the same as, or higher or lower than, the contract price but never is a redetermined price in excess of the maximum price.

(4) The redetermined price will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement making adequate provision to secure to the Government the benefit of any price reduction negotiated, or for payment to the Contractor of any price increase, as the case may be.

(5) Profit to be paid on costs determined under the Form IV clause shall be subject to negotiation between the Contracting Officer and the Contractor, with due consideration given to the Contractor's efficiency in performing the contract. Failure to agree shall be deemed to be a disagreement as to a question of fact which shall be disposed of in accordance with the "Disputes" clause.

(d) Contract clause. The following Form IV price redetermination clause may be used in accordance with the instructions set forth in the preceding paragraphs and if approved for use in accordance with § 592.403:

PRICE REDETERMINATION

(Form IV)

(a) Because of the nature of the work called for by this contract and the great uncertainty as to the cost of performance hereunder, the parties agree that the contract price fixed in Clause ------ hereof may be increased or decreased in accordance with the provision of this clause.

(b) Within ------ [not exceeding 60] days after the completion or termination of this contract, the Contractor will file with the Contracting Officer a statement showing, in such form and detail as the Contracting Officer may prescribe, the Contractor's cost of producing the supplies or furnishing the services called for hereunder, together with such other information as may be pertinent in the negotiations for a redetermined price pursuant to this clause. Such statement of cost shall fairly reflect the normal operation of the Contractor's cost system. [First optional alternative to preceding sentence: The Contractor will establish and maintain records of the costs of performing this contract, as follows: * * *] [Second optional alternative: The Contractor will establish and maintain such records of the costs of performing this contract as the Contracting Officer may require in writing.] The Contracting Officer shall have the right at all reasonable times to make or cause to be made such examinations and audits of the Contractor's books, records and accounts as he may request.

(c) Upon the filing of the statement and other pertinent information required by paragraph (b) of this clause, the Contractor and the Contracting Officer will promptly negotiate in good faith to agree upon a reasonable redetermined price for the entire contract which, upon the basis of such statement and other pertinent information, will constitute fair and just compensation to the Contractor for the performance of this contract. In determining the extent of any estimated allowance for profit to be taken into account in fixing such redetermined price, consideration will be given to the extent to which the Contractor has performed the contract with efficiency, economy, and ingenuity. In no event shall the redetermined price exceed the sum of $------. The redetermined price shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract.

(d) If within ------ [not exceeding 90] days after the completion or termination of this contract, the parties shall fail to agree upon a redetermined price (which term, for the purpose of this clause, shall include direct costs, indirect costs and profit) in accordance with the provisions of this clause, the failure to agree shall be a dispute concerning a question of fact within the meaning of the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes."

(e) In the event of a price increase the Government will pay or credit to the Contractor the amount by which the redetermined price shall exceed the contract price aforesaid. In the event of a decrease in price the Contractor will repay or credit the amount of such decrease to the Government in such manner as the Contracting Officer may direct.

(f) For any of the purposes of the clause of this contract entitled "Termination for Convenience of the Government" (including without limitation, computation of "the total contract price" and "the contract price of work not terminated"), the contract price shall be the redetermined contract price agreed upon under paragraph (c) of this clause or determined under paragraph (d) of this clause, as the case may be.

NOTE: Subparts B, C, and D of this part will be issued subsequent to the publication of Subparts B, C, and D of Part 406 of this title.

SUBPART E—APPROVED CONTRACT FORMS (STANDARD, DEFENSE, AND ARMY)

§ 596.500 Scope of subpart. This subpart lists and sets forth instructions for the use of approved contract forms, U. S. Standard, Department of Defense, and Department of the Army, which are prescribed for use within the Army Establishment.

§ 596.501 Applicability. Use of the contract forms prescribed herein is governed by Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, this Procedure, or such other special regulations or directives as may be indicated for the particular contract concerned.

§ 596.501–1 Contract clauses—(a) General. Many of the contract clauses to be included when these forms are used are not set forth in full in the forms themselves but are incorporated only by reference to sections of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title or particular sections of this Procedure.

(b) Short forms. Where, as in the case of some of the short contract forms, for example, DA AGO Form 383 and DD Form 327, the forms themselves contain shorter or modified versions of contract clauses, the use of the shorter or modified versions is authorized notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding parts of this Procedure.

§ 596.501–2 Deviations. Deviations in format, size, or contents, of approved contract forms are not permitted except as authorized herein unless prior written approval is obtained in each case from the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Procurement Division, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4.

§ 596.501–3 Local reproduction. (a) Those contract forms which bear DA AGO numbers in the 5000 series preceded by "R" (for example, DA AGO Form R–5628), are authorized to be reproduced locally by using agencies as they are not stocked by adjutant general publications depots. Contract forms which do not bear such an indicated "R–5000" number may not be reproduced locally unless specifically authorized by The Adjutant General.

(b) The fact that authority may have been previously secured from The Adjutant General for the local reproduction of certain approved contract forms or the procurement of reproducible masters of such forms, does not of itself authorize deviations in the format or size of such authorized contract forms. Separate authority for such deviations is also necessary as indicated in § 596.501–2. However, approval of The Adjutant General for the first procurement of a contract form reproducible master will suffice for continuous procurement of the same master until otherwise notified by The Adjutant General.

(c) In order to facilitate procurement in foreign countries, authority is granted to reproduce a translation of any form, for attachment to such form provided both the standard form and the foreign language translation contain a statement that in the event of a disagreement in the text of the English and foreign translations, the English text will govern.

§ 596.501–4 Procuring activity contract forms. Procuring Activity contract forms which have heretofore been approved for particular use by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, and which are excluded from the applicability provisions of this subpart on account of their special nature, may continue to be used by the Procuring Activity concerned in accordance with its instructions if such forms are not inconsistent with the policies of Subchapter A, Chapter IV if this title or this Procedure. (See § 596.001.)

§ 596.501–5 Statutory authority. All negotiated contracts will be accomplished under §§ 402.201 and 592.201 of this title and will cite as authority section 2 (c) (1), Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Pub. Law 413, 80th Cong.) and Presidential Proclamation 2914. The necessary changes will be made on printed forms, for example, DA AGO Form 383, DD Form 327, DA AGO Form 357, and any other printed contract form which cites as authority a category of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 other than section 2 (c) (1).

§ 596.502 List of forms. The following is a list of the forms set forth in this subpart, grouped under descriptive headings:

§ 596.502–1 Supply of certain forms—(a) Requisitions. Supply of the forms listed below, printed complete as cut sheets on tissue 9# paper (except U. S. Standard Form 32 which is printed on 16# paper), permitting preparation of an original and nine carbons at a time, should be requisitioned through normal publications supply channels. Requisitions will be held to the absolute minimum stock necessary to meet current requirements to avoid waste upon change in format by the Department of the Army. Requisitions for cut sheet forms will contain nomenclature indicated below:

(1) U. S. Standard Form 26, Nov 1949 edition—tissue 9#.
(2) U. S. Standard Form 30, Nov 1949 edition—tissue 9#.
(3) U. S. Standard Form 31, Nov 1949 edition—tissue 9#.
(4) U. S. Standard Form 33, Nov 1949 edition—tissue 9#.
(5) U. S. Standard Form 36, Nov 1949 edition—tissue 9#.
(6) U. S. Standard Form 1036, 18 Sep 1950 edition—tissue 9#.
(7) U. S. Standard Form 32, Nov 1949 edition—16#.
(8) DD Form 351, 1 Jun 50 edition—tissue 9#.
(9) DD Form 351-1, 1 Jun 50 edition—tissue 9#.
(10) DD Form 351-2, 1 Jun 50 edition—tissue 9#.
(11) WD Form 18, 1 Apr 1946 edition, with reverse side blank—tissue 9#.
(12) WD Form 47, 1 Apr 1946 edition, with reverse side blank—tissue 9#.

(b) Reproducible masters. (1) Cut sheet forms indicated in paragraph (a) of this section will be used when 10 copies or less, including original, are required or when the volume of contracts does not justify the use of more expensive reproducible masters and the operation of reproduction equipment. When more than 10 copies, including original, of the forms are required or the volume of contracts justifies such action, the use of reproducible masters (hectograph, stencil, or offset) to produce multiple copies of U. S. Standard Forms 30, 31, 33, and 36, DD Forms 351, 351–1 and 351–2, and WD Forms 18 and 47, is authorized.

(2) Upon specific prior approval of The Adjutant General, reproducible masters will be procured and stocked locally. See § 596.501–3 (b). The Contracting Officer at installations authorized to procure reproducible masters will be responsible for ensuring that such masters do not deviate from the approved format or from an authorized deviation under § 596.501–2, and that the quantity procured is held to a minimum in order to avoid waste upon change in format by the Department of the Army.

(c) Preprinted backs. The Terms and Conditions of the Invitation for Bids which appear as the back of U. S. Standard Forms 30 and 33 are identical and have been printed as one standard back. This standard back will be used as run off paper in reproducing multiple copies of U. S. Standard Forms 30 and 33 from hectograph, stencil, or offset reproducible masters. Supplies of the standard backs are available from adjutant general publications depots. Requisitions will contain the following nomenclature: Reverse of U. S. Standard Forms 30 and 33, Jan 50 edition, Universal 16#.

§ 596.503 Supply Contract; Formal Advertising (Long Form) (U. S. Standard Forms 26, 30, 31, and 32). (a) This form of contract consists of U. S. Standard Form 26 (Award), U. S. Standard Form 30 (Invitation and Bid), U. S. Standard Form 31 (Schedule), and U. S. Standard Form 32 (General Provisions). U. S. Standard Form 36 (Continuation Sheet) will be used to provide additional space if U. S. Standard Form 26 (Award) does not provide sufficient space.

(b) The decision as to the use of the long form method or the short form method (§ 596.511) for particular procurements is discretionary with the Contracting Officer subject to such limiting instructions as may be issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned. Heads of Procuring Activities should standardize as much as possible, where practicable, on the use of either the long form method or the short form method. See in this connection § 596.502–1 (c) as to the separate form of preprinted back of U. S. Standard Form 30.

(c) The statement of availability of funds and citation of the appropriation allotment will be inserted in the "Accounting and Appropriation Data" block of Standard Form 31. Invitations for bids which will result in indefinite quantity contracts will contain a statement in the "Accounting and Appropriation Data" block to the effect that certification of availability of funds will be made on delivery orders issued under the contract.

(d) General provisions, in addition to those contained in U. S. Standard Form 32 (General Provisions), may be added to the contract as required by Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, this Procedure, and directives, with appropriate reference in the Schedule. Any other contract clauses that are approved for use may be added as additional general provisions and incorporated by reference in the Schedule, or may be placed in the Schedule, provided they are not inconsistent with the General Provisions in the Form.

(e) These forms are available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

(f) Authority is granted in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions to deviate from the following forms to the extent indicated:

(1) Invitation and Bid: U. S. Standard Form 30. (i) Delete from face side of form (see § 590.302–3 (f)):

(1) That the aggregate number of employees of the bidder and its affiates is: ☐ 500 or more, ☐ less than 500.

(ii) Insert on face side of form (see § 590.201–9 (b)):

(2) That he is a ☐ regular dealer in, ☐ manufacturer of, the supplies bid upon ☐ intermediary.

(iii) Delete from reverse side of form (see § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv)): Paragraph 2 of Terms and Conditions—Labor Information.

(2) General Provisions; U. S. Standard Form 32. (i) Paragraph 10 "Federal, State and Local Taxes." Substitute for this paragraph the alternate tax clause prescribed by § 600.401 (b). See § 596.001 (b) (1) (ii).

(ii) Paragraph 12 "Disputes": Substitute "disputes" clause prescribed by § 596.103–12 (c).

(iii) Paragraph 14 "Buy American Act": Delete paragraph. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iii).

(iv) Paragraph 15 "Convict Labor": Delete paragraph.

(v) Paragraph 16 "Eight-hour Law of 1912": Delete paragraph. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

(vi) Paragraph 17 "Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act": Delete paragraph. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

(vii) Paragraph 18 "Nondiscrimination in Employment": Delete paragraph. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

(b) The form is authorized for use in negotiated contracts, whether fixed-price or cost-reimbursement, for the procurement of supplies or services other than the construction, alteration, or repair of buildings, bridges, roads, or other kinds of real property. There is no monetary limitation on the use of the form and it may, therefore, be used regardless of amount. The form shall be used in conjunction with U. S. Standard Form 32 (General Provisions) or such provisions as may be authorized for incorporation in particular classes of contracts. U. S. Standard Form 36 (Continuation Sheet) may be used to provide additional space if DD Form 351–1 (Schedule Page) is not sufficient.

(c) These forms are available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

(d) Authority is granted in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions to deviate from the following forms to the extent indicated:

(1) Negotiated Contract (Signature Sheet) DD Form 351–2. Delete the words (see § 590.302–3 (f)):

The Contractor represents that the aggregate number of employees of the Contractor and its affiliates is: ☐ 500 or more, ☐ less than 500.

(2) General Provisions; U. S. Standard Form 32. Same deviations as prescribed in § 596.503 (f) (2).

§ 596.511 Supply Contract; Formal Advertising (Short Form) (U. S. Standard Forms 33 and 32). (a) This form of contract consists of U. S. Standard Form 33 (Invitation, Bid, and Award) and U. S. Standard Form 32 (General Provisions). U. S. Standard Form 36 (Continuation Sheet) will be used to provide additional space if the award portion of U. S. Standard Form 33 is not sufficient.

(b) As to the use of this short form method, see § 596.503 (b). See also in this connection § 596.502–1 (c) as to the separate form of preprinted back of U. S. Standard Form 33.

(c) As to statement of availability of funds and citation of the appropriation allotment, see § 596.503 (c).

(d) As to the insertion of additional general provisions, see § 596.503 (d).

(e) These forms are available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

(f) Authority is granted in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions to deviate from the following forms to the extent indicated:

(1) Invitation, Bid, and Award; U. S. Standard Form 33. (i) Delete from face side of form (see § 590.302–3 (f)):

(1) That the aggregate number of employees of the bidder and its affiliates is ☐ 500 or more, ☐ less than 500.

(ii) Insert on face side of form (see § 590.201–9 (b)):

(2) That he is a ☐ regular dealer in, ☐ manufacturer of, the supplies bid upon ☐ intermediary.

(iii) Delete from reverse side of form (see § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv)): Paragraph 2 of Terms and Conditions—Labor Information.

(2) General Provisions; U. S. Standard Form 32. Same deviations as prescribed in § 596.503 (f) (2).

§ 596.512 Order and voucher for purchase of supplies or services other than personal (DA AGO Form 383). (a) This form of contract consists of DA AGO Form 383 (front side) and DA AGO Form 383a (reverse side), with memorandum copies (yellow). It is a 10-copy form, interleaved with carbons, all fastened together. DA AGO Form 383c (yellow) is the carbon copy of DA AGO Form 383 and DA AGO Form 383a (yellow) is the carbon copy of DA AGO Form 383a. The form is used in connection with the Small Purchases Procedure authorized under Subpart G, Part 590 of this title.

(b) A Continuation Sheet is provided for this form consisting of DA AGO Form 383b with reverse side blank. It is also a 10-copy form, interleaved with carbons, with memorandum copies (yellow). DA AGO Form 383d (yellow) is the carbon copy of DA AGO Form 383b.

(c) These forms are available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

(d) Authority is granted in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions to deviate from the DA Form 383a (white and yellow) to the extent indicated:

(1) Clause 1—Disputes. Substitute "disputes" clause prescribed in § 596.103–12 (c).

(2) Clause 2—Convict Labor. Delete clause.

(3) Clause 3—Nondiscrimination in Employment. Delete clause. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

§ 596.513 Purchase Order (WD Form 18). (a) This form consists of WD Form 18 and is used for negotiated purchases only. The Conditions appearing on the reverse side of this form are now obsolete and are replaced by U. S. Standard Form 32 (General Provisions) which form will be used in conjunction with WD Form 18. When it is necessary to reprint the form, the obsolete Conditions will be omitted from the reverse side. U. S. Standard Form 36 (Continuation Sheet) may be used in connection with this form when additional space is required.

(b) This form is available for optional use for procuring any supplies or services, regardless of the number or period of deliveries or of the number of payments involved, where—

(1) The amount of the purchase is less than $100,000.

(2) No special contract provisions are required, the insertion of which in the particular case would unduly complicate the form.

(3) Signature by the contractor evidencing acceptance of the order is not required, and is not desired. Signature by the contractor is not required where (i) the amount of the order is not in excess of $5,000 or (ii) the amount of the order is in excess of $5,000 but is less than $100,000, and the order is preceded by an oral or written quotation or is based upon a price list.

(c) Where the price is not in excess of $5,000, the line reading "In accordance with your price list/oral quotation/written quotation of _____," appearing on the form, may be deleted by the Contracting Officer provided the price is not actually based on a price list, oral quotation, or written quotation. Otherwise the Contracting Officer will delete those words which do not apply, and insert the date.

(d) Where purchases exceed $1,000, U. S. Standard Form 32 (General Provisions) shall be attached to the form as a continuation sheet. Where purchases do not exceed $1,000, a continuation sheet, in lieu of U. S. Standard Form 32, shall be attached containing the following contract clauses:

(1) Convict Labor. (§ 406.103–15 of this title)

(2) Nondiscrimination in Employment. (§ 406.103–18 of this title)

(3) Officials Not to Benefit. (§ 406.103–19 of this title)

(4) Covenant Against Contingent Fees. (§ 406.103–20 of this title)

In either event, additional or optional contract clauses shall be inserted on continuation sheets as required by Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, this Procedure or Procuring Activity instructions.

(c) Methods of presenting invoices or vouchers, and of packing, marking, and shipping will be as specified in any space on the face of the form or on a continuation sheet, or as otherwise directed by Procuring Activity instructions.

(f) This form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

(g) Authority is granted in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions to deviate from paragraph (d) of this section to the extent indicated:

(1) Convict Labor clause not required.

(2) Nondiscrimination in Employment clause not required. See § 596.001 (b) (1) (iv).

(3) General Provisions—U. S. Standard Form 32. Same deviations as prescribed in § 596.503 (f) (2).

§ 596.514 Government's Order and Contractor's Acceptance (WD Form 47). (a) This form consists of WD Form 47 and is used for negotiated purchases only. The Conditions appearing on the reverse side of this form are now obsolete and are replaced by U. S. Standard Form 32 (General Provisions) which form will be used in conjunction with WD Form 47. When it is necessary to reprint the form, the obsolete Conditions will be omitted from the reverse side. U. S. Standard Form 36 (Continuation Sheet) may be used with this form when additional space is required.

(b) This form is available for optional use for procuring any supplies or services, regardless of the number or period of deliveries or the number of payments involved, where—

(1) The amount of the purchase is less than $100,000.

(2) No special contract provisions are required the inclusion of which in the particular case would unduly complicate the form.

(c) The form calls for execution both by the Contracting Officer and the contractor. When so executed, it should be a complete agreement in itself, that is, without reference to separate documents such as proposal or quotation forms.

(d) When filled in, signed by the Contracting Officer, and delivered to the contractor, the form (with or without further continuation sheets) constitutes an offer by the Government to contract on the terms set forth. So far as the information is available at the time the form is delivered to the contractor, all applicable blanks should be filled in. Where a particular matter is not known at the time the form is delivered to the contractor (for example, "Ship To" or "Schedule of Deliveries"), the blanks should be filled in with appropriate language indicating how such information will be subsequently furnished.

(e) When signed by the contractor in the space marked "Contractor's Acceptance" and returned to the Government in the time allowed, the form becomes a binding contract provided the contractor has not made any changes by way of deletion, interlineation, or addition, thus departing from the terms of the offer. Contractors should be instructed to inform the Contracting Officer of any changes which appear to be required, so that amendments may be made and initialed by both parties, or a corrected form issued.

(f) U. S. Standard Form 32 (General Provisions) shall be attached to the form as a continuation sheet. Additional or optional contract clauses shall be inserted on continuation sheets as required by Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, this Procedure or Procuring Activity instructions.

(g) Methods of presenting invoices or vouchers, and of packing, marking, and shipping will be as specified in any space on the face of the form or on a continuation sheet, or as otherwise directed by Procuring Activity instructions.

(h) This form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

(i) See § 596.513 (g) which is similarly applicable in the case of this form.

§ 596.515 Delivery Order (DA AGO Form R–5700). (a) This form consists of DA AGO Form R–5700. It was formerly numbered as WD Contract Form No. 19. The form may be used regardless of amount, however, DA AGO Form 383 should ordinarily be used when the amount involved is $1,000 or less. (See § 596.512.)

(1) Delivery orders are used to place orders—

(i) Under already existing contracts executed by other Procuring Activities or other departments of the Government.

(ii) With other Procuring Activities or other departments of the Government furnishing particular services or supplies.

(2) The term "delivery orders" is used in this Procedure to refer to orders of the character described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(3) The following forms of delivery order may be used in making interbranch or interdepartmental purchases:

(i) DA AGO Form 383 (Subpart G, Part 590 of this chapter and § 596.512) or

(ii) DA AGO Form R–5700.

(4) DA AGO Form R–5700 and DA AGO Form 383, when used to place orders for services or supplies with other departments (see subparagraph (1) (ii) of this paragraph), will be required to be modified to delete reference to a basic purchase agreement.

(b) This form is not available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

§ 596.515–1 Sample of DA AGO Form R–5700 (Delivery Order). The reverse side of this form is blank.

Contract for: ---------- Amount: ----------

Payment to be made by: ----------

Appropriation data: ----------

DA AGO Form R–5701.
1 Feb. 51 Replaces W. D. Contract Form No. 2, which is obsolete.

CONTRACT FOR CONSTRUCTION

This contract, entered into this ------ day of ----------, 19----, by The United States of America (hereinafter called the Government), represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract, and

•a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of ----------

•a partnership consisting of ----------

•an individual trading as ---------- of the city of ---------- in the State of ----------, hereinafter called the Contractor, witnesseth that the parties hereto do mutually agree as follows:

1. Statement of work. The Contractor shall furnish the materials, and perform the work for ----------

for the consideration of ---------- in strict accordance with the specifications, schedules, drawings, and conditions all of which are made a part hereof and designated as follows ----------

The work shall be commenced ---------- and shall be completed ----------

•Delete all lines which do not apply.

2. Specifications and drawings. The contractor shall keep on the work a copy of the drawings and specifications and shall at all times give the contracting officer access thereto. Anything mentioned in the specifications and not shown on the drawings, or shown on the drawings and not mentioned in the specifications, shall be of like effect as if shown or mentioned in both. In case of differences between drawings and specifications, the specifications shall govern. In any case of difference in the figures, in the drawings, or in the specifications, the matter shall be promptly submitted to the contracting officer who shall promptly make a determination in writing. Any adjustment by the contractor without this determination shall be at his own risk and expense. The contracting officer shall furnish from time to time such detail drawings and other information as he may consider necessary, unless otherwise provided.

3. Changes and extras. The contracting officer may at any time, in writing, and without notice to the sureties, order extras or make changes in the drawings and/or specifications of this contract providing such extras or changes are within the general scope thereof. If any such extra or change causes an increase or decrease in the amount due under this contract, or in the time required for its performance, an equitable adjustment shall be made and the contract shall be modified in writing accordingly. Any claim of the contractor for adjustment under this Clause must be asserted in writing within 30 days from the date of receipt by the contractor of the notification of extra or change: Provided, however, That the contracting officer, if he decides that the facts justify such action, may receive, and act upon, any such claim asserted at any time prior to the date of final settlement of the contract. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made the dispute shall be determined as provided in Clause 6 hereof. But nothing provided in this clause shall excuse the contractor from proceeding with the prosecution of the work as changed.

4. Changed conditions. Should the contractor encounter, or the Government discover, during the progress of the work subsurface and or latent physical conditions at the site materially differing from those shown on the drawings or indicated in the specifications, or unknown physical conditions of an unusual nature differing materially from those ordinarily encountered and generally recognized as inhering in work of the character provided for in the drawings and specifications, the contracting officer shall be notified promptly in writing of such conditions before they are disturbed. The contracting officer shall thereupon promptly investigate the conditions, and if he finds that they do so materially differ the contract shall be modified to provide for any increase or decrease of cost and/or difference in time resulting from such conditions. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made, the dispute shall be determined as provided in Clause 6 hereof.

5. Termination for default-damages for delay-time extensions. (a) If the contractor refuses or fails to prosecute the work, or any separable part thereof, with such diligence as will insure its completion within the time specified in Clause 1, or any extension thereof, or fails to complete said work within such time, the Government may, by written notice to the contractor, terminate his right to proceed with the work or such part of the work as to which there has been delay. In such event the Government may take over the work and prosecute the same to completion, by contract or otherwise, and the contractor and his sureties shall be liable to the Government for any excess cost occasioned the Government thereby, and for liquidated damages for delay, as fixed in the specifications or accompanying papers, until such reasonable time as may be required for the final completion of the work, or if liquidated damages are not so fixed, any actual damages occasioned by such delay. If the contractor's right to proceed is so terminated, the Government may take possession of and utilize in completing the work such materials, appliances, and plant as may be on the site of the work and necessary therefor.

(b) If the Government does not terminate the right of the contractor to proceed, as provided in subparagraph (a) hereof, the contractor shall continue the work, in which event he and his sureties shall be liable to the Government, in the amount set forth in the specifications or accompanying papers, for fixed, agreed, and liquidated damages for each calendar day of delay until the work is completed or accepted, or if liquidated damages are not so fixed, any actual damages occasioned by such delay.

(c) The right of the contractor to proceed shall not be terminated, as provided in subparagraph (a) hereof, nor the contractor charged with liquidated or actual damages, as provided in subparagraph (b), because of any delays in the completion of the work due to causes beyond his control which could not reasonably have been anticipated and were without his fault or negligence, including, but not restricted to, acts of God, or of the public enemy, acts of the Government, either in its sovereign or contractual capacity, acts of another contractor in the performance of a contract with the Government, fires, floods, epidemics, quarantine restrictions, strikes, freight embargoes, and unusually severe weather or delays of subcontractors due to such causes: Provided, That the contractor shall, within 10 days from the beginning of any such delay, unless the contracting officer shall grant a further period of time prior to the date of final settlement of the contract, notify the contracting officer in writing of the causes of delay. The contracting officer shall ascertain the facts and the extent of the delay and extend the time for completing the work when in his judgment the findings of fact justify such an extension, and his findings of fact thereon shall be final and conclusive on the parties hereto, subject only to appeal as provided in Clause 6 hereof.

6. Disputes. Except as otherwise provided in this contract, any dispute concerning a question of fact arising under this contract which is not disposed of by agreement shall be decided by the contracting officer, who shall reduce his decision to writing and mail or otherwise furnish a copy thereof to the contractor. Within 30 days from the date of receipt of such copy, the contractor may appeal by mailing or otherwise furnishing to the contracting officer a written appeal addressed to the Secretary, and the decision of the Secretary or his duly authorized representative for the hearing of such appeals shall be final and conclusive: Provided, That, if no such appeal is taken, the decision of the contracting officer shall be final and conclusive. In connection with any appeal proceeding under this clause, the contractor shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard and to offer evidence in support of its appeal. Pending final decision of a dispute hereunder, the contractor shall proceed diligently with the performance of the contract and in accordance with the contracting officer's decision.

7. Payments to contractors. (a) Unless otherwise provided in the specifications, progress payments will be made as the work progresses at the end of each calendar month, or as soon thereafter as practicable, or at more frequent intervals as determined by the contracting officer, on estimates approved by the contracting officer. In preparing estimates the material delivered on the site and preparatory work done may be taken into consideration.

(b) In making such progress payments there shall be retained 10 percent on the estimated amount until final completion and acceptance of all work covered by the contract: Provided, however, That the contracting officer, at any time after 50 percent of the work has been completed, if he finds that satisfactory progress is being made, may make any of the remaining progress payments in full: And provided further, That on completion and acceptance of each separate building, vessel, public work, or other division of the contract, on which the price is stated separately in the contract, payment may be made in full, including retained percentages thereon, less authorized deductions.

(c) All material and work covered by progress payments made shall thereupon become the sole property of the Government, but this provision shall not be construed as relieving the contractor from the sole responsibility for all materials and work upon which payments have been made or the restoration of any damaged work, or as a waiver of the right of the Government to require the fulfillment of all of the terms of the contract.

(d) Upon completion and acceptance of all work required hereunder, the amount due the contractor under this contract will be paid upon the presentation of a properly executed and duly certified voucher therefor, after the contractor shall have furnished the Government with a release, if required, of all claims against the Government arising under and by virtue of this contract, other than such claims, if any, as may be specifically excepted by the contractor from the operation of the release in stated amounts to be set forth therein. If the contractor's claim to amounts payable under the contract has been assigned under the Assignment of Claims Act of 1940, 54 Stat. 1029 (41 U. S. C. 15), a release may also be required of the assignee at the option of the contracting officer.

8. Materials and workmanship. Unless otherwise specifically provided for in the specifications, all workmanship, equipment, materials, and articles incorporated in the work covered by this contract are to be of the most suitable grade of their respective kinds for the purpose. Where equipment, materials, or articles are referred to in the specifications as "equal to" any particular standard, the contracting officer shall decide the question of equality. The contractor shall furnish to the contracting officer for his approval the name of the manufacturer of machinery, mechanical and other equipment which he contemplates incorporating in the work, together with their performance capacities and other pertinent information. When required by the specifications, or when called for by the contracting officer, the contractor shall furnish the contracting officer for approval full information concerning the materials or articles which he contemplates incorporating in the work. Samples of materials shall be submitted for approval when so directed. Machinery, equipment, materials, and articles installed or used without such approval shall be at the risk of subsequent rejection. The contracting officer may in writing require the contractor to remove from the work such employee as the contracting officer deems incompetent, careless, insubordinate, or otherwise objectionable, or whose continued employment on the work is deemed by the contracting officer to be contrary to the public interest.

9. Inspection. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (d) hereof, all material and workmanship (if not otherwise designated by the specifications) shall be subject to inspection, examination, and test by representatives of the Contracting Officer at any and all times during manufacture and/or construction (and at any and all places where such manufacture and/or construction are carried on.) The Government shall have the right to reject defective material and workmanship or require its correction. Rejected workmanship shall be satisfactorily corrected and rejected material shall be satisfactorily replaced with proper material without charge therefor, and the contractor shall promptly segregate and remove the rejected material from the premises. If the contractor fails to proceed at once with the replacement of rejected material and/or the correction of defective workmanship the Government may, by contract or otherwise, replace such material and/or correct such workmanship and charge the cost thereof to the contractor, or may terminate the right of the contractor to proceed as provided in Clause 5 of this contract, the contractor and surety being liable for any damage to the same extent as provided in said Clause 5 for terminations thereunder.

(b) The contractor shall furnish promptly without additional charge, all reasonable facilities, labor, and materials necessary for the safe and convenient inspection and test that may be required by the contracting officer. All inspection and tests by the Government shall be performed in such manner as not unnecessarily to delay the work. Special, full size, and performance tests shall be as described in the specifications. The contractor shall be charged with any additional cost of inspection when material and workmanship is not ready at the time inspection is requested by the contractor.

(c) Should it be considered necessary or advisable by the Government at any time before final acceptance of the entire work to make an examination of work already completed, by removing or tearing out same, the contractor shall on request promptly furnish all necessary facilities, labor and material. If such work is found to be defective or nonconforming in any material respect, due to fault of the contractor or his subcontractors, he shall defray all the expenses of such examination and of satisfactory reconstruction. If, however, such work is found to meet the requirements of the contract, the actual direct cost of labor and material necessarily involved in the examination and replacement, plus 15 percent, shall be allowed the contractor and he shall, in addition, if completion of the work has been delayed thereby, be granted a suitable extension of time on account of the additional work involved.

(d) Inspection of material and finished articles to be incorporated in the work at the site shall be made at the place of production, manufacture, or shipment, whenever the quantity justifies it, unless otherwise stated in the specifications; and such inspection and acceptance in writing, unless otherwise stated in the specifications, shall be final, except as regards latent defects, departures from specific requirements of the contract and the specifications and drawings made a part thereof, damage or loss in transit, fraud, or such gross mistakes as amount to fraud. Subject to the requirements contained in the preceding sentence, the inspection of material and workmanship for final acceptance as a whole or in part, shall be made at the site. Nothing contained in this paragraph (d) shall in any way restrict the Government's rights under any warranty or guarantee.

10. Superintendence by contractor. The contractor shall give his personal superintendence to the work or have a competent foreman or superintendent, satisfactory to the contracting officer, on the work at all times during progress, with authority to act for him.

11. Permits and responsibility for work. The contractor shall, without additional expense to the Government, obtain all required licenses and permits and be responsible for all damages to persons or property that occur as a result of his fault or negligence in connection with the prosecution of the work, and shall be responsible for all materials delivered and work performed until completion and final acceptance except for any completed unit thereof which may theretofore have been finally accepted.

12. Other contracts. The Government may undertake, or award other contracts for, additional work, and the contractor shall fully cooperate with such other contractors and Government employees and carefully fit his own work to such additional work as may be directed by the contracting officer. The contractor shall not commit or permit any act which will interfere with the performance of work by any other contractor or by Government employees.

13. Additional security. Should any surety upon any bond furnished in connection with this contract become unacceptable to the Government, or if any such surety shall fail to furnish reports as to his financial condition from time to time as requested by the Government, the contractor must promptly furnish such additional security as may be required from time to time to protect the interests of the Government or of persons supplying labor or materials in the prosecution of the work contemplated by the contract.

14. Davis-Bacon Act. This contract, to the extent that it is of a character specified in the Davis-Bacon Act as amended (40 U. S. Code 276a), is subject to all provisions and exceptions of said Davis-Bacon Act, including in particular the following:

(a) The contractor and his subcontractors shall pay all mechanics and laborers employed directly upon the site of the work, unconditionally and not less often than once a week, and without subsequent deduction or rebate on any account (except such pay-roll deductions as are permitted by applicable regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor), the full amounts accrued at time of payment computed at wage rates not less than those stated in the specifications, regardless of any contractual relationship which may be alleged to exist between the contractor or subcontractor and such laborers and mechanics; and the scale or wages to be paid shall be posted by the contractor in a prominent and easily accessible place at the site of the work.

(b) The contracting officer shall have the right to withhold from the contractor so much of accrued payments as may be considered necessary by the contracting officer to pay to laborers and mechanics employed on the work the difference between (i) the rates of wages required by the contract to be paid laborers and mechanics on the work and (ii) the rates of wages received by such laborers and mechanics and not refunded to the contractor, subcontractors, or their agents.

(c) In the event it is found by the contracting officer that any laborer or mechanic employed by the contractor or any subcontractor directly on the site of the work covered by the contract has been or is being paid a rate of wages less than the rate of wages required by the contract to be paid as aforesaid, the contracting officer may (i) by written notice to the contractor, terminate his right to proceed with the work, or such part of the work as to which there has been a failure to pay said required wages, and (ii) prosecute the work to completion by contract or otherwise, whereupon the contractor and his sureties shall be liable to the Government for any excess costs occasioned the Government thereby.

15. Copeland Act. To the extent that this contract is of a character specified in the Copeland ("Anti-Kickback") Act as amended (18 U. S. C. 874 and 40 U. S. C. 276c), the contractor agrees to comply with the regulations, rulings, and interpretations of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to said Copeland Act, which act makes it unlawful to induce any person employed in the construction or repair of public buildings or public works to give up any part of the compensation to which he is entitled under his contract of employment; and the contractor agrees to insert a like provision in all subcontracts hereunder.

16. Eight-Hour Law—Overtime compensation. This contract, to the extent that it is of a character specified in the Eight-Hour

Law of 1912 as amended (40 U. S. C. 324–326) and is not covered by the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (41 U. S. C. 35–45), is subject to the following provisions and exceptions of said Eight-Hour Law of 1912 as amended, and to all other provisions and exceptions of said law:

No laborer or mechanic doing any part of the work contemplated by this contract, in the employ of the contractor or any subcontractor contracting for any part of the said work, shall be required or permitted to work more than eight hours, in any one calendar day upon such work, except upon the condition that compensation is paid to such laborer or mechanic in accordance with the provisions of this clause. The wages of every such laborer and mechanic employed by the contractor or any subcontractor engaged in the performance of this contract shall be computed on a basic day rate of eight hours per day; any work in excess of eight hours per day is permitted only upon the condition that every such laborer and mechanic shall be compensated for all hours worked in excess of eight hours per day at not less than one and one-half times the basic rate of pay. For each violation of the requirements of this clause a penalty of five dollars shall be imposed upon the contractor for each such laborer or mechanic for every calendar day in which such employee is required or permitted to labor more than eight hours upon said work without receiving compensation computed in accordance with this clause; and all penalties thus imposed shall be withheld for the use and benefit of the Government.

17. Notice to the Government of labor disputes. Whenever the contractor has knowledge that any actual or potential labor dispute is delaying or threatens to delay the timely performance of this contract, the contractor shall immediately give notice thereof, including all relevant information with respect thereto, to the contracting officer.

18. Convict labor. In connection with the performance of work under this contract, the contractor agrees not to employ any person undergoing sentence of imprisonment at hard labor.

19. Nondiscrimination in employment. In connection with the performance of work under this contract, the contractor agrees not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color, or national origin; and further agrees to insert the foregoing provision in all subcontracts hereunder except subcontracts for standard commercial supplies or for raw materials.

20. Covenant against contingent fees. The contractor warrants that no person or selling agency has been employed or retained to solicit or secure this contract upon an agreement or understanding for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee, excepting bona fide employees or bona fide established commercial or selling agencies maintained by the contractor for the purpose of securing business. For breach or violation of this warranty the Government shall have the right to annul this contract without liability or in its discretion to deduct from the contract price or consideration the full amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee.

21. Officials not to benefit. No member of or delegate to Congress, or resident commissioner, shall be admitted to any share or part of this contract, or to any benefit that may arise therefrom; but this provision shall not be construed to extend to this contract if made with a corporation for its general benefit.

22. Buy-American Act. The contractor agrees that in the performance of the work under this contract the contractor, subcontractors, material men and suppliers shall use only such unmanufactured articles, materials and supplies (which term "articles, materials and supplies" is hereinafter referred to in this clause as "supplies") as have been mined or produced in the United States, and only such manufactured supplies as have been manufactured in the United States substantially all from supplies mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States. Pursuant to the Buy-American Act (41 U. S. C. 10 a-d), the foregoing provisions shall not apply (i) with respect to supplies excepted by the Secretary from the application of that Act, (ii) with respect to supplies for use outside the United States, or (iii) with respect to the supplies to be used in the performance of work under this contract which are of a class or kind determined by the Secretary or his duly authorized representative not to be mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available commercial quantities and of a satisfactory quality, or (iv) with respect to such supplies, from which the supplies to be used in the performance of work under this contract are manufactured, as are of a class or kind determined by the Secretary or his duly authorized representative not to be mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available commercial quantities and of a satisfactory quality, provided that this exception (iv) shall not permit the use in the performance of work under this contract of supplies manufactured outside the United States if such supplies are manufactured in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available commercial quantities and of a satisfactory quality.

23. Assignment of claims. (a) Pursuant to the provisions of the Assignment of Claims Act of 1940 (31 U. S. C. 203, 41 U. S. C. 15), if this contract provides for payments aggregating $1,000 or more, claims for moneys due or to become due the contractor from the Government under this contract may be assigned to a bank, trust company, or other financing institution, including any Federal lending agency, and may thereafter be further assigned and reassigned to any such institution. Any such assignment or reassignment shall cover all amounts payable under this contract and not already paid, and shall not be made to more than one party, except that any such assignment or reassignment may be made to one party as agent or trustee for two or more parties participating in such financing. Notwithstanding any provision of this contract, payment to an assignee of any claim under this contract shall not be subject to reduction or set-off for any indebtedness of the contractor to the Government arising independently of this contract. (The preceding sentence applies only if this contract is with a military department.)

(b) In no event shall copies of this contract or of any plans, specifications, or other similar documents relating to work under this contract, if marked "Top Secret", "Secret", "Confidential", or "Restricted", be furnished to any assignee of any claim arising under this contract or to any other person not entitled to receive the same; provided that a copy of any part or all of this contract so marked may be furnished, or any information contained therein may be disclosed, to such assignee upon the prior written authorization of the contracting officer.

24. Patent indemnity. Except as otherwise specifically provided with respect to any contract items or parts thereof, which are not standard commercial supplies, the contractor agrees to indemnify the Government and its officers, agents and employees against liability, including costs and expenses, for infringement upon any Letters Patent of the United States (except Letters Patent issued upon an application which is now or may hereafter be, for reasons of national security, ordered by the Government to be kept secret or otherwise withheld from issue) arising out of the performance of this contract or out of the use or disposal by or for the account of the Government of supplies furnished or construction work performed hereunder. The foregoing indemnity shall not apply unless the contractor shall have been informed as soon as practicable by the Government of the suit or action alleging such infringement, and shall have been given an opportunity to present recommendations as to the defense thereof; and further, such indemnity shall not apply in any one of the following situations: (i) any infringement resulting from the addition to any such supplies or other supplies not furnished by the contractor for the purpose of such addition; (ii) any settlement of a claim of infringement made without the consent of the contractor, unless required by final decree of a court of competent jurisdiction; (iii) any claim of infringement arising from use or disposal outside the scope of any license limitation under which the contractor is bound, provided that the contractor has notified the Government of the limitation prior to first delivery under this contract; (iv) any infringement necessarily resulting from changes (other than the substitution of another standard commercial part or component manufactured or supplied by the Contractor) ordered pursuant to this contract, or from specific written instructions given by the contracting officer directing a manner of performing the contract not normally utilized by the contractor.

25. Notice and assistance regarding patent infringement. (a) The contractor agrees to report to the contracting officer, promptly and in reasonable written detail, each claim of patent infringement based on the performance of this contract and asserted against it, or against any of its subcontractors if it has notice thereof.

(b) In the event of litigation against the Government on account of any claim of infringement arising out of the performance of this contract or out of the use of any supplies furnished or construction work performed hereunder, the contractor agrees that it will furnish to the Government upon request, all evidence and information in its possession pertaining to the defense of such litigation. Such information shall be furnished at the expense of the Government except in those cases in which the contractor has agreed to indemnify the Government against the claim being asserted.

26. Reporting of royalties. If this contract is in an amount which exceeds $10,000, the contractor agrees to report in writing to the contracting officer, during the performance of this contract and prior to its completion or final settlement, the amount of any royalties or royalty rates paid or to be paid by it directly to others in connection with the performance of this contract, together with the names and addresses of licensors to whom such payments are made and either the patent numbers involved or such other information as will permit identification of the patents or other basis on which royalties are to be paid. Where the contractor's compliance with the foregoing reporting requirement is found by the contracting officer to be impracticable because of the size of the contractor's business or because of the nature of its accounting procedures, the contractor may furnish one or more reports, based on its established accounting periods and covering the entire contract period, of royalties in excess of $1,000 (if computed on an annual basis) paid or to be paid to each licensor on the contractor's over-all business, together with such other information as will permit identification of the patents or other basis on which royalties are to be paid, in which event the contractor shall furnish the contracting officer, upon his request and at Government expense, an allocation of such royalty payments to Government business or to the work or supplies covered by this contract; reference to any such periodic royalty reports, previously furnished to any Government agency and covering the period of performance of this contract, shall constitute compliance with the reporting requirements of this clause. If this contract is in an amount which exceeds $10,000, and no royalties or royalty rates are paid or to be paid directly to others under the circumstances set forth above, the contractor agrees so to report in writing to the contracting officer prior to completion or final settlement of this contract.

27. Definitions. As used throughout this contract, the following terms shall have the meaning set forth below:

(a) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary, the Under Secretary, or any Assistant Secretary of the Department and the head or any assistant head of the executive agency; and the term "his duly authorized representative" means any person or persons or board (other than the contracting officer) authorized to act for the Secretary.

(b) The term "contracting officer" means the person executing this contract on behalf of the Government, and any other officer or civilian employee who is a properly designated contracting officer; and the term includes, except as otherwise provided in this contract, the authorized representative of a contracting officer acting within the limits of his authority.

28. Alterations in contract. The following alterations have been made in the provisions of this contract:

(Date)

GENTLEMEN:

1. This letter constitutes a contract on the terms set forth herein and signifies the intention of the Department to execute a formal cost type contract with you for the delivery of the supplies and the performance of the services as set forth in the attached enclosure, marked Exhibit "A," upon the terms and conditions therein stated. Said formal contract will be in the form used by the Department for procuring supplies and services of the kind indicated in Exhibit "A." This form will include the clauses required by Federal law, Executive Order, and the procurement regulations and directives applicable to such procurements, which clauses are incorporated herein by reference. Exhibit "A," including the termination clause set forth therein is also made a part hereof.

2. You are directed, upon your acceptance of this letter, to proceed immediately to procure the necessary materials, and to commence the manufacture of the supplies and performance of the services, called for herein, and to pursue such work with all diligence to the end that the supplies may be delivered or services performed within the time specified in Exhibit "A," or if no time is so specified, at the earliest practicable date. In this connection, you shall give advance notification to the Contracting Officer of any proposed subcontract or purchase order hereunder which is either (a) on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis or (b) on a fixed price basis exceeding in dollar amount either $25,000 or five per centum of the amount authorized to be expended hereunder. You shall, in addition, obtain such approvals in respect of commitments hereunder as may be specified in Exhibit "A."

3. You shall enter into negotiation for the execution of the formal contract with the Department without delay. In this connection, you shall submit a quotation of the estimated cost to the Government including fixed fee for the articles and services covered by this letter. Such quotation shall be supported by a cost break-down reflecting the factors outlined in the suggested form enclosed herewith.

4. Unless otherwise provided in Exhibit "A" no payments to you shall be made under this letter except as provided in paragraph 5 below.

5. In the event of a termination of performance of the work or any part thereof under this letter by notice given pursuant to the Termination clause incorporated herein by reference, or in the event that the formal contract is not executed within the time specified in Exhibit "A," or any extension of such time as may be authorized in writing by the Contracting Officer, you shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of such Termination clause, except that no profit will be allowed if the Contracting Officer finds that you have delayed the execution of a formal contract for an unreasonable period; provided, however, that in no event shall the liability of the Government to you hereunder exceed the amount specified in Exhibit "A" or such other amount as may be authorized in writing by the Contracting Officer.

6. Please indicate your acceptance of the foregoing by signing this letter and the enclosed copies thereof. Retain one copy for your files and return the remainder to this office.

This contract is entered into pursuant to the provisions of Section 2 (c) (—) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Public Law 413, 80th Congress) and any required determination and findings have been made.

Sincerely yours.

GENTLEMEN:

1. This letter constitutes a contract on the terms set forth herein and signifies the intention of the Department to execute a formal fixed price contract with you for the delivery of the supplies and the performance of the services as set forth in the attached enclosure, marked Exhibit "A," upon the terms and conditions therein stated. Said formal contract will be in the form used by the Department for procuring supplies and services of the kind indicated in Exhibit "A." This form will include the clauses required by Federal law, Executive Order, and the procurement regulations and directives applicable to such procurements, which clauses are incorporated herein by reference. Exhibit "A," including the termination clause set forth therein, is also made a part hereof.

2. You are directed, upon your acceptance of this letter, to proceed immediately to procure the necessary materials, and to commence the manufacture of the supplies and performance of the services, called for herein, and to pursue such work with all diligence to the end that the supplies may be delivered or services performed within the time specified in Exhibit "A," or if no time is so specified, at the earliest practicable date.

3. You shall enter into negotiation for the execution of the formal contract with the Department without delay. In this connection, you shall submit a firm quotation for the articles and services covered by this letter. Such quotation shall be supported by a cost breakdown reflecting the price factors outlined in the suggested form enclosed herewith.

4. Unless otherwise provided in Exhibit "A" no payments to you shall be made under this letter except as provided in paragraph 5 below.

5. In the event of a termination of performance of the work or any part thereof under this letter by notice given pursuant to the Termination clause incorporated herein by reference, or in the event that the formal contract is not executed within the time specified in Exhibit "A," or any extension of such time as may be authorized in writing by the Contracting Officer, you shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of such Termination clause, except that no profit will be allowed if the Contracting Officer finds that you have delayed the execution of a formal contract for an unreasonable period; provided, however, that in no event shall the liability of the Government to you hereunder exceed the amount specified in Exhibit "A" or such other amount as may be authorized in writing by the Contracting Officer.

6. Please indicate your acceptance of the foregoing by signing this letter and the enclosed copies thereof. Retain one copy for your files and return the remainder to this office.

This contract is entered into pursuant to the provisions of Section 2 (c) (—) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (Public Law 413, 80th Congress) and any required determination and findings have been made.

Sincerely yours,

(Contracting Officer)

(b) The form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

(c) This form is not applicable for use in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions. Authority is granted for Heads of Procuring Activities to prescribe suitable forms for such procurement, using this form as a general guide.

§ 596.566 Master Lump Sum Ship Repair Contract. This contract form is in process of revision. As soon as it is approved, it will be set forth in this section together with instructions for its use.

§ 596.567 Stevedoring Contract. This contract form is in process of revision. As soon as it is approved, it will be set forth in this section together with instructions for its use.

§ 596.571 Invitation for Bids (Construction Contract). (a) This form is numbered WD Standard Procurement Form No. 116. The form is prescribed for use in the procurement of construction by formal advertising (see § 591.201 (b)).

(b) A revised text of this form will be made available at an early date. Interim use, however, of WD Standard Procurement Form No. 116 is authorized in the meantime. Local reproduction is authorized. In reproducing WD Standard Procurement Form No. 116, the Bureau of the Budget approval notation in the upper right hand corner should be omitted.

§ 596.572 Bid (Construction Contract). (a) This form is numbered WD Standard Procurement Form No. 117. The form is prescribed for use in the procurement of construction by formal advertising (see § 591.201 (b)).

(b) A revised text of the form will be made available at an early date. Interim use, however, of WD Standard Procurement Form No. 117 is authorized in the meantime. Local reproduction is authorized. In reproducing WD Standard Procurement Form No. 117, the Bureau of the Budget approval notation in the upper right hand corner should be omitted. The reference also in the second paragraph of the form to "Eng Form 1619" should be changed to "Form 1617."

§ 596.573 Plant and Equipment Schedule. (a) This form is numbered WD Standard Procurement Form No. 1617. The form is prescribed for use in the procurement of construction by formal advertising and will be attached to the bid form when required by the invitation for bids.

(b) A revised text of this form will be made available at an early date. Interim use, however, of WD Standard Procurement Form No. 1617 is authorized in the meantime. Local reproduction is authorized. In reproducing WD Standard Procurement Form No. 1617, the Bureau of the Budget approval notation in the upper right hand corner should be omitted.

§ 596.574 Unit Price Schedule. (a) This form is numbered WD Standard Procurement Form No. 1618. The form is prescribed for use in the procurement of construction by formal advertising and will be attached to the bid form when required by the invitation for bids.

(b) A revised text of this form will be made available at an early date. Interim use, however, of WD Standard Procurement Form No. 1618 is authorized in the meantime. Local reproduction is authorized. In reproducing WD Standard Procurement Form No. 1618, the Bureau of the Budget approval notation in the upper right hand corner should be omitted.

§ 596.577 Request for Proposal and Contractor's Proposal (Short Form); WD Form 104. (a) This short form consists of WD Form 104 and is used for negotiated purchases only. It may be used for procurement by negotiation of supplies (excluding construction work) for small amounts where effective competition exists and where the information to be obtained from suppliers may ordinarily be confined substantially to the quotation of prices.

(b) Changes may be made in this form to accommodate the needs of the particular procurement. This also applies to the statutory authorities now appearing on the form, which should be changed to Public Law 413, 80th Congress. When it is necessary to reprint the form, the statutory citation thereon will be corrected and certain other minor changes made.

(c) This form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

§ 596.578 Request for Proposal and Contractor's Proposal (Long Form); WD Forms 105, 105A, 105B, and 105C. (a) This long form consists of WD Forms 105, 105A, 105B, and 105C and is used for negotiated purchases only. These forms may be used for procurement, by negotiation, of supplies other than construction, whenever, in the opinion of the Procuring Activity involved, detailed cost or price information should be obtained from suppliers as an aid to adequate negotiation. Within the scope of the foregoing rule, each Procuring Activity may prescribe more precisely the size and types of procurement for which these forms are to be used.

(b) The use of the related forms with Form No. 105 is discretionary. The procurement office is required to select and specify (within established limits) the data expected. Thus, the procurement office has latitude to use the related forms according to the necessities of particular situations, and may relieve the supplier of the task of compiling information which is not pertinent to the procurement or which is already known to the procurement office. It is of the utmost importance that no contractor be asked to complete the forms related to WD Form 105 with respect to information which will not be pertinent or useful in properly effecting the particular procurement, or which is already on file with the procurement office. Where necessary, the information obtained through use of the form may be clarified or amplified through correspondence or personal negotiation. The information submitted in or with WD Form 105 and related forms will be used as a basis of negotiations with the prospective contractor, in accordance with Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title and this Procedure and any other instructions that may be in force from time to time. One copy of the "Instructions for Completing War Department Form 105" should be sent to each contractor along with the necessary number of counterparts of Form 105.

(c) Changes may be made in these forms to accommodate the needs of the particular procurement. This also applies to the statutory authorities now appearing on WD Form 105, which should be changed to Public Law 413, 80th Congress. When it is necessary to reprint the form, the statutory citation thereon will be corrected and certain other minor changes made.

(d) These forms are available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

§ 596.579 Security Requirements Check List; DD Form 254. (a) This form consists of DD Form 254. For requirements as to use in precontract negotiations, see § 592.212-2.

(b) DD Form 254 shall be prepared, in accordance with the instructions thereon, and accompany all contracts and subcontracts classified Top Secret, Secret, Confidential, or Restricted, and all contracts and subcontracts involving access to classified matter by a contractor or subcontractor. In addition to the initial completion of the form, necessary changes in security classification will be made as appropriate and will be reflected on the form when lower down-grading action is taken in accordance with applicable regulations. This form shall not be considered a part of the contract but shall be used to implement the "Security Requirements Clause" and any secrecy or security agreement which may be existent.

(c) This form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

§ 596.580 Contractor's Statement of Contingent or Other Fees for Soliciting or Securing Contract (U. S. Standard Form 119). (a) U. S. Standard Form 119 shall be used without deviation in cases in which:

(1) Section 590.608 requires its use.

(2) The Contracting Officer desires to obtain information from contractors or prospective contractors with respect to whether they have employed or retained any company or person (other than a full-time employee) to solicit or secure contracts.

(b) This form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

(c) Section 590.608 does not make mandatory the use of this form in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions. When Contracting Officers desire to use this form, as prescribed in paragraph (a) (2) of this section, authority is granted in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions to deviate from the form to the extent necessary.

§ 596.581 Abstract of Bids (Short Form); WD Form 14. (a) This form consists of one sheet printed on both sides. Inapplicable instructions appearing on the reverse side of this form will be disregarded.

(b) This form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

§ 596.582 Abstract of Bids (Long Form); WD Form 29. (a) This form consists of one sheet printed on both sides. Inapplicable instructions appearing on the front page of this form will be disregarded.

(b) This form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

§ 596.583 Abstract of Bids (Long Form); Continuation Sheet; WD Form 29A. (a) This form consists of one sheet printed on both sides.

(b) This form is available for supply from adjutant general publications depots.

§ 596.591 Contract of Sale of Property (Negotiated Sale). This form of contract will be prescribed for use in sales to contractors as authorized by the terms of the contract, and other authorized sales incident to or related to procurement. A form for general use has not as yet been approved; however, in the meantime, cases requiring the use of such a form should be submitted to the Current Procurement Branch, Procurement Division, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G-4. As soon as the form is approved for general use, its text will be made available.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 597.000 Scope of part. Pending the issuance of Part 407 of this title, this part sets forth policies with respect to the inclusion of a Termination for Convenience of the Government clause in contracts for the procurement of supplies or services.

NOTE: Subparts A through I of this part are being reserved for implementing Part 407 of this title, subsequent to its issuance.

SUBPART J—CONTRACT CLAUSES

§ 597.1001 Applicability. In any contract entered into either by formal advertising or by negotiation, a Termination for Convenience of the Government clause shall be inserted as required by Part 407 of this title: Provided, That prior to the issuance and effective date of Part 407 of this title, the appropriate termination clause required by this Procedure will be inserted.

§ 597.1002 Settlement of contracts terminated for convenience. In the event of a termination for convenience of the Government under contracts including one of the clauses set forth in this part, Contracting Officers will request instructions through the Head of their respective Procuring Activities as to procedures and policies to be followed from the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 597.1003 Termination clause for fixed-price contracts. In accordance with § 406.103–21 of this title, the following clause shall be inserted in all fixed-price supply contracts amounting to more than $1,000:

TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE OF THE GOVERNMENT

(a) The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in accordance with this clause in whole, or from time to time in part, whenever the Contracting Officer shall determine that such termination is in the best interests of the Government. Any such termination shall be effected by delivery to the Contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying the extent to which performance of work under the contract is terminated, and the date upon which such termination becomes effective.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination, and except as otherwise directed by the Contracting Officer, the Contractor shall (1) stop work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Termination; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portion of the work under the contract as is not terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner, at the times, and to the extent directed by the Contracting Officer, all of the right, title and interest of the Contractor under the orders and subcontracts so terminated; (5) settle all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts, subject to the approval or ratification of the Contracting Officer, which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this clause; (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government, in the manner, at the times, and to the extent, if any, directed by the Contracting Officer, (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies, and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in connection with the performance of, the work terminated by the Notice of Termination, and (ii) the completed or partially completed plans, drawings, information, and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would have been required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use its best efforts to sell, in the manner, at the times, to the extent, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the Contracting Officer, any property of the types referred to in provision (6) of this paragraph: Provided, however, That the Contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser, and (ii) may keep any such property at a price or prices approved by the Contracting Officer; and provided further that the proceeds of any such transfer or disposition shall be applied in reduction of any payments to be made by the Government to the Contractor under this Contract or shall otherwise be credited to the price or cost of the work covered by this contract or paid in such other manner as the Contracting Officer may direct; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary, or as the Contracting Officer may direct, for the protection and preservation of the property related to this contract which is in the possession of the Contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest.

(c) After receipt of a Notice of Termination, the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer its termination claim, in the form prescribed by the Contracting Officer. Such claim shall be submitted promptly but in no event later than one year from the effective date of termination, unless one or more extensions in writing are granted by the Contracting Officer upon request of the Contractor made in writing within such one year period or authorized extension thereof. Upon failure of the contractor to submit its termination claim within the time allowed, the Contracting Officer shall determine, on the basis of information available to him, the amount, if any, due to the Contractor by reason of the termination.

(d) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c), the Contractor and the Contracting Officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this clause, which amount or amounts may include a reasonable allowance for profit, but only on work done in connection with the terminated portion of the contract. The contract shall be amended accordingly, and the Contractor shall be paid the agreed amount. Such amendment shall be final and conclusive upon the Contractor and the Government. Nothing in paragraph (e) of this clause, prescribing the amount to be paid to the Contractor in the event of failure of the Contractor and the Contracting Officer to agree upon the whole amount to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this clause, shall be deemed to limit, restrict, or otherwise determine or affect the amount or amounts which may be agreed upon to be paid to the Contractor pursuant to this paragraph (d).

(e) In the event of the failure of the Contractor and the Contracting Officer to agree as provided in paragraph (d) upon the whole amount to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this clause, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (d), shall pay to the Contractor the amounts determined as follows:

(1) For completed supplies accepted by the Government and not theretofore paid for, a sum equivalent to the aggregate price for such supplies computed in accordance with the price or prices specified in the contract, appropriately adjusted for any saving of freight or other charges;

(2) The total of:

(i) The costs incurred in the performance of the work terminated, exclusive of any costs attributable to supplies paid or to be paid for under paragraph (e) (1) hereof.

(ii) The cost (which may include a reasonable allowance for profit to subcontractors or vendors, but only on work done in connection with the terminated portion of any subcontract or order) of settling and paying claims arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders, as provided in paragraph (b) (5) above, which are properly chargeable to the terminated portion of the contract (exclusive of amounts paid or payable on account of supplies or materials delivered or services furnished by subcontractors or vendors prior to the effective date of the Notice of Termination, which amounts should be included in the costs payable under (i) above), provided that:

(A) Each such claim has been settled with the written approval of the Contracting Officer; or

(B) If a final judgment has been rendered against the Contractor, or a subcontractor or vendor, by a court of competent jurisdiction determining the liability of the Contractor, subcontractor or vendor with respect to any such claim, the Contracting Officer has determined that such judgment or a part thereof is allocable to the terminated portion of the contract.

(In order for a judgment to be allowable under this subparagraph (ii), the Contractor, or subcontractor or vendor concerned, must have given the Contracting Officer prompt notice of the initiation of the proceedings in which such judgment was rendered and offered in writing to give the Government complete control of the defense of the proceedings, and must have diligently defended the suit or, if the Government has assumed control of the defense of the proceedings, must have rendered such reasonable assistance as has been requested by the Government. If such judgment includes amounts for loss of anticipatory profits or consequential damages, such amounts will not be allowable under this subparagraph.)

(iii) A sum equal to 2 percent of that part of the amount determined under (i) which represents the cost of articles and materials not processed by the Contractor, plus a sum equal to 8 percent of the remainder of such amount, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6 percent of the whole of the amount determined under (i) above.

(3) The reasonable costs of settlement, including accounting, legal, clerical, and other expenses reasonably necessary for the preparation of settlement claims and supporting data with respect to the terminated portion of the contract and for the termination and settlement of subcontracts thereunder, together with reasonable storage, transportation, and other costs incurred in connection with the protection or disposition of termination inventory.

The total sum to be paid to the Contractor under (1) and (2) of this paragraph (e) shall not exceed the total contract price as reduced by the amount of payments otherwise made and as further reduced by the contract price of work not terminated. Except for normal spoilage, and except to the extent that the Government shall have otherwise expressly assumed the risk of loss, there shall be excluded from the amounts payable to the Contractor as provided in paragraph (e) (1) and paragraph (e) (2) (i), any amounts allocable to or payable in connection with property which is destroyed, lost, stolen, or damaged so as to become undeliverable to the Government, or to a buyer pursuant to paragraph (b) (7).

(f) The Contractor shall have the right of appeal, under the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes," from any determination of the amount due to the Contractor made by the Contracting Officer under paragraphs (c) or (e) above, except that if the Contractor has failed to submit its claim within the time provided in paragraph (c) above and has failed to request extension of such time, he shall have no such right of appeal. In any case where the Contracting Officer has made a determination of the amount due under paragraph (c) or (e) above, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the following: (i) if there is no right of appeal hereunder or if no timely appeal has been taken, the amount so determined by the Contracting Officer, or (ii) if an appeal has been taken, the amount finally determined on such appeal; any such determination being final and conclusive upon the Contractor and the Government.

(g) In arriving at the amount due the Contractor under this clause there shall be deducted (1) all unliquidated advance or other unliquidated payments on account theretofore made to the Contractor, (2) any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor in connection with this contract, and (3) the agreed price for, or the proceeds of sale of, any materials, supplies or other things kept by the Contractor or sold, pursuant to the provisions of this clause, and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government.

(h) If the termination hereunder be partial, prior to the settlement of the terminated portion of this contract, the Contractor may file with the Contracting Officer a request in writing for an equitable adjustment of the price or prices specified in the contract relating to the continued portion of the contract (the portion not terminated by the Notice of Termination), and such equitable adjustment as may be agreed upon shall be made in such price or prices.

(i) The Government may from time to time, under such terms and conditions as it may prescribe, make partial payments and payments on account against costs incurred by the Contractor in connection with the terminated portion of this contract whenever in the opinion of the Contracting Officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the Contractor will be entitled hereunder. If the total of such payments is in excess of the amount finally agreed or determined to be due under this clause, such excess shall be payable by the Contractor to the Government upon demand, together with interest computed at the rate of 6 percent per annum, for the period from the date such excess payment is received by the Contractor to the date on which such excess is repaid to the Government.

(j) Any determination of costs under paragraph (c) or (e) hereof shall be governed by the Cost Principles set forth in section XV of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation as in effect on the date of this contract.

(k) Unless otherwise provided for in this contract, or by applicable statute, the Contractor, from the effective date of termination and for a period of three years after final settlement under this contract, shall preserve and make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the Contractor but without expense to the Government, all its books, records, documents, and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the Contractor under this contract and relating to the work terminated hereunder, or, to the extent approved by the Contracting Officer, photographs, microphotographs, or other authentic reproductions thereof.

§ 597.1004 Termination clause for subcontracts. The following form of termination clause is suggested for use by prime contractors in fixed-price subcontracts:

TERMINATION CLAUSE FOR SUBCONTRACTS

(a) The buyer may terminate work under this order, in whole or in part, at any time by written or telegraphic notice whenever (1) the Government requests the termination of this order, or (2) whenever the articles or services of the kind or type covered by this order are no longer required by the buyer in the performance of its contract with the Government (or a higher tier contractor), or the buyer's contract is amended so as to eliminate or reduce such requirements. Such notice shall state the extent and effective date of such termination. Upon the receipt thereof, the seller will, as and to the extent directed by the buyer, stop work under this order and the placement of further orders or subcontracts hereunder, terminate work under orders and subcontracts outstanding hereunder, and take any necessary action to protect property in the seller's possession in which the buyer has or may acquire an interest.

(b) If the parties cannot agree within a reasonable time upon the amount of fair compensation to the seller for such termination, the buyer in addition to making prompt payment of amounts due for articles delivered or services rendered prior to the effective date of termination, will pay to the seller, without duplication of any items, the following amounts:

(1) The contract price for all articles or services which have been completed in accordance with this order and not previously paid for.

(2) (i) The actual costs incurred by the seller which are properly allocable or apportionable to the terminated portion of this order, including the cost of discharging liabilities which are so allocable or apportionable (which cost may include a reasonable allowance for profit but only on work done in connection with the terminated portion of any subcontracts or orders hereunder), but excluding any charge for interest on borrowings, and

(ii) A sum equal to 2 percent of the part of such costs representing the costs of articles or materials not processed by the seller, plus a sum equal to 8 percent of the remainder of such costs, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6 percent of the whole of such costs. For the purpose of subdivision (ii) such costs shall exclude the cost of discharging liabilities for parts, materials and services not received by the seller before the effective date of termination.

(3) The reasonable costs of the seller in making settlement hereunder and in protecting property in which the buyer has or may acquire an interest.

Payments under this paragraph (b), exclusive of payments under subparagraph (3), shall not exceed the aggregate price specified in this order, less payments otherwise made or to be made.

(c) With the consent of the buyer, and subject to any right or interest which the United States Government may have therein, the seller may keep at an agreed price or sell at an approved price any completed articles, or any articles, materials, work in process or other things the cost of which is allocable or apportionable to this order under paragraph (b) (2) above, and will credit or pay the amounts so agreed or received to the price or cost of the work covered by this order or as the buyer otherwise directs. As directed by the buyer, the seller will transfer title to, and make delivery of, any such articles, materials, work in process or other things not so kept or sold. Appropriate adjustment will be made for delivery costs or savings therein.

(d) Any determination of costs under paragraph (b) hereof shall be in accordance with the Cost Principles set forth in Section XV of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation as in effect on the date of the prime contract.

(e) The provisions of this Clause shall not limit or affect the right of the buyer to cancel this order for the default of the seller.

§ 597.1005 Contract clause for cost-reimbursement type contracts. The following clause shall be inserted in all cost-reimbursement type contracts, as defined in §§ 402.405 and 402.406 of this title, for supplies other than (a) construction, alteration or repair of buildings, bridges, roads, or other kinds of real property, or (b) experimental, developmental, or research work:

TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE OF THE GOVERNMENT

(a) The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in accordance with this clause in whole, or from time to time in part, (1) whenever the Contractor shall default in performance of this contract in accordance with its terms (including in the term "default" any such failure by the Contractor to make progress in the prosecution of the work hereunder as endangers such performance), and shall fail to cure such default within a period of ten days (or such longer period as the Contracting Officer may allow) after receipt from the Contracting Officer of a notice specifying the default, or (2) whenever for any reason the Contracting Officer shall determine that such termination is in the best interests of the Government. Any such termination shall be effected by delivery to the Contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying whether termination is for the default of the Contractor or for the convenience of the Government, the extent to which performance of work under the contract is terminated, and the date upon which such termination becomes effective.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination and except as otherwise directed by the Contracting Officer, the Contractor shall (1) stop work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Termination; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portion of the work under the contract as is not terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner and to the extent directed by the Contracting Officer, all of the right, title and interest of the Contractor under the orders or subcontracts so terminated; (5) with the approval or ratification of the Contracting Officer, which approval or ratification shall be final and conclusive for all purposes of this clause, settle all outstanding liabilities and all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts, the cost of which would be reimbursable, in whole or in part, in accordance with the provisions of this contract; (6) transfer title (to the extent that title has not already been transferred) and, in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the Contracting Officer, deliver to the Government (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in progress, completed work, supplies, and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated by the Notice of Termination, (ii) the completed or partially completed plans, drawings, information and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government, and (iii) the jigs, dies, and fixtures, and other special tools and tooling acquired or manufactured for the performance of this contract for the cost of which the Contractor has been or will be reimbursed under this contract; (7) use his best efforts to sell in the manner, at the times, to the extent, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the Contracting Officer, any property of the types referred to in provision (6) of this paragraph: Provided, however, That the Contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser, and (ii) may keep any such property at a price or prices approved by the Contracting Officer; and provided further that the proceeds of any such transfer or disposition shall be applied in reduction of any payments to be made by the Government to the Contractor under this contract or shall otherwise be credited to the price or cost of the work covered by this contract or paid in such other manner as the Contracting Officer may direct; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary, or as the Contracting Officer may direct, for the protection and preservation of the property related to this contract which is in the possession of the Contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest. The Contractor shall proceed immediately with the performance of the above obligations, notwithstanding any delay in determining or adjusting the amount of the fixed fee, or any item of reimbursable cost, under this clause.

(c) The Contracting Officer in his discretion may, and at the request of the Contractor shall, limit the negotiations for settlement to the fixed fee, if any, in which event any costs allocable to the terminated portion of the contract shall continue to be presented for payment by the Contractor on prescribed cost vouchers. Promptly upon issuance of the Notice of Termination, the Contracting Officer shall inform the Contractor in writing either: (i) that the settlement will be limited to the fixed fee; or (ii) that the settlement will include costs and fixed fee unless the Contractor within thirty days, requests in writing that they be limited to the fixed fee.

(d) After receipt of a Notice of Termination and after it has been decided whether or not the settlement is to be limited to the fixed fee, the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer its termination claim. Such claim shall be submitted promptly but in no event later than one year from the effective date of termination, unless one or more extensions in writing are granted by the Contracting Officer upon request of the Contractor made in writing within such one year period or authorized extension thereof. Upon failure of the Contractor to submit its termination claim within the time allowed, the Contracting Officer shall determine, on the basis of information available to him, the amount, if any, due to the Contractor by reason of the termination.

(e) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d), the Contractor and the Contracting Officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this clause. The contract shall be amended accordingly, and the Contractor shall be paid the agreed amount. Such amendment shall be final and conclusive upon the Contractor and the Government.

(f) In the event of the failure of the Contractor and the Contracting Officer to agree in whole or in part, as provided in paragraph (e) above, as to the amounts with respect to costs and fixed fee or as to the amount of the fixed fee, to be paid to the Contactor in connection with the termination of work pursuant to this clause, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (c), shall pay to the Contractor the amounts determined as follows:

(1) If the settlement includes costs and fixed-fee.

(i) There shall be included therein all costs and expenses reimbursable in accordance with this contract, not previously paid to the Contractor for the performance of this contract prior to the effective date of the Notice of Termination, and such of these costs as may continue for a reasonable time thereafter with the approval of or as directed by the Contracting Officer, provided, however, that the Contractor shall proceed as rapidly as practicable to discontinue such costs.

(ii) There shall be included therein the cost, so far as not included under (i) above (which cost may include a reasonable allowance for profit to the subcontractors or vendors, but only on work done in connection with the terminated portion of any subcontract or order), of settling and paying claims arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders, as provided in paragraph (b) (5) above, which are properly chargeable to the terminated portion of the contract provided that,

(A) Each such claim has been settled with the written approval of the Contracting Officer; or

(B) If a final judgment has been rendered against the Contractor, a subcontractor or vendor by a court of competent jurisdiction determining the liability of the Contractor, subcontractor or vendor with respect to any such claim, the Contracting Officer has determined that such judgment or a part thereof is allocable to the terminated portion of the contract.

In order for a judgment to be allowable under this subparagraph (ii), the Contractor, subcontractor, or vendor concerned must have given the Contracting Officer prompt notice of the initiation of the proceedings in which such judgment was rendered and offered in writing to give the Government complete control of the defense of the proceedings, and must have diligently defended the suit or, if the Government has assumed control of the defense of the proceedings, must have rendered such reasonable assistance as has been requested by the Government. If such judgment includes amounts for loss of anticipatory profits or consequential damages, such amounts will not be allowable under this subparagraph.

(iii) There shall be included therein the reasonable costs of settlement, including accounting, legal, clerical, and other expenses reasonably necessary for the preparation of settlement claims and supporting data with respect to the terminated portion of the contract and for the termination and settlement of subcontracts thereunder, together with reasonable storage, transportation, and other costs incurred in connection with the protection or disposition of termination inventory: Provided, however, That if the termination is for default of the Contractor there shall not be included any amounts for the preparation of the Contractor's settlement proposal.

(iv) There shall be included therein a portion of the fixed fee payable under the contract, determined as follows:

(A) In the event of the termination of this contract for the convenience of the Government and not for the default of the Contractor, there shall be paid a percentage of the fee equivalent to the percentage of the completion of work contemplated by the contract, less fixed fee payments previously made hereunder.

(B) In the event of the termination of this contract for the default of the Contractor, the total fixed fee payable shall be such proportionate part of the fee (or, if this contract calls for articles of different types, of such part of the fee as is reasonably allocable to the type of article under consideration) as the total number of articles delivered to and accepted by the Government bears to the total number of articles of a like kind called for by this contract.

If the amount determined under this subparagraph is less than the total payment of fixed fee theretofore made to the Contractor, the Contractor shall repay to the Government the excess amount.

(2) If the settlement includes only the fixed fee, the amount thereof will be determined in accordance with subparagraph (f) (1) (iv) above.

(g) The Contractor shall have the right of appeal, under the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes," from any determination of the amount due to the Contractor made by the Contracting Officer under paragraphs (d) and (f) above, except that if the Contractor has failed to submit his claim within the time provided in paragraph (d) above and has failed to request extension of such time, he shall have no such right of appeal. In any case where the Contracting Officer has made a determination of the amount due under paragraph (d) or (f) above the Government shall pay to the Contractor the following: (i) if there is no right of appeal hereunder or if no timely appeal has been taken, the amount so determined by the Contracting Officer, or (ii) if an appeal has been taken, the amount finally determined on such appeal; any such determination being final and conclusive upon the Contractor and the Government.

(h) In arriving at the amount due the Contractor under this clause there shall be deducted (1) all unliquidated advance or other unliquidated payments theretofore made to the Contractor, (2) any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor in connection with this contract, and (3) the agreed price for, or the proceeds of sale of, any materials, supplies or other things kept by the Contractor or sold pursuant to the provisions of this clause and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government.

(i) In the event of a partial termination, the portion of the fixed fee which is payable with respect to the work under the continued portion of the contract shall be equitably adjusted by agreement between the Contractor and the Contracting Officer, and such adjustment shall be evidenced by an amendment to this contract.

(j) The Government may from time to time, under such terms and conditions as it may prescribe, make partial payments and payments on account against costs incurred by the Contractor in connection with the terminated portion of the contract whenever in the opinion of the Contracting Officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the Contractor will be entitled hereunder. If the total of such payments is in excess of the amount finally determined to be due under this clause, such excess shall be payable by the Contractor to the Government upon demand, together with interest computed at the rate of 6 percent per annum, for the period from the date such excess payment is received by the Contractor to the date on which such excess is repaid to the Government.

(k) The provisions of this clause relating to the fixed fee shall be inapplicable if this contract does not provide for payment of a fixed fee.

(l) Unless otherwise provided for in this contract, or by applicable statute, the Contractor from the effective date of termination and for a period of 5 years after final settlement under this contract, shall preserve and make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the Contractor, but without expense to the Government, all its books, records, documents, and other evidence bearing on the cost and expenses of the Contractor under this contract and relating to the work terminated, or, to the extent approved by the Contracting Officer, photographs, microphotographs, or other authentic reproductions thereof.

§ 597.1006 Termination clause for research and development contracts. The following clause shall be inserted in all research and development contracts amounting to more than $1,000:

TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE OF THE GOVERNMENT

(a) The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in accordance with this clause in whole, or from time to time in part, whenever the Contracting Officer shall determine that such termination is in the best interests of the Government. Any such termination shall be effected by delivery to the Contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying the extent to which performance of work under the contract is terminated, and the date upon which such termination becomes effective.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination, and except as otherwise directed by the Contracting Officer, the Contractor shall (1) stop work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Termination; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portion of the work under the contract as is not terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner, at the times, and to the extent directed by the Contracting Officer, all of the right, title and interest of the Contractor under the orders and subcontracts so terminated; (5) settle all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts, subject to the approval or ratification of the Contracting Officer, which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this clause; (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government, in the manner, at the times, and to the extent, if any, directed by the Contracting Officer, (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies, and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in connection with the performance of, the work terminated by the Notice of Termination, and (ii) the completed or partially completed reports, plans, drawings, information, and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would have been required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use its best efforts to sell, in the manner, at the times, to the extent and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the Contracting Officer, any property of the types referred to in provision (6) of this paragraph: Provided, however, That the Contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser, and (ii) may keep any such property at a price or prices approved by the Contracting Officer; And provided further, That the proceeds of any such transfer or disposition shall be applied in reduction of any payments to be made by the Government to the Contractor under this contract or shall otherwise be credited to the price or cost of the work covered by this contract or paid in such other manner as the Contracting Officer may direct; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary, or as the Contracting Officer may direct, for the protection and preservation of the property related to this contract which is in the possession of the Contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest.

(c) After receipt of a Notice of Termination, the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer its termination claim, in the form prescribed by the Contracting Officer. Such claim shall be submitted promptly but in no event later than one year from the effective date of termination, unless one or more extensions in writing are granted by the Contracting Officer upon request of the Contractor made in writing within such one year period or authorized extension thereof. Upon failure of the Contractor to submit its termination claim within the time allowed, the Contracting Officer shall determine, on the basis of information available to him, the amount, if any, due to the Contractor by reason of the termination.

(d) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c), the Contractor and the Contracting Officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this clause. The contract shall be amended accordingly, and the Contractor shall be paid the agreed amount. Such amendment shall be final and conclusive upon the Contractor and the Government.

(e) In the event of the failure of the Contractor and the Contracting Officer to agree as provided in paragraph (d) upon the whole amount to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this clause, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (d), shall pay to the Contractor the total amount of its costs allocable to the contract up to the time of termination and reasonable costs of settlement including accounting, legal, clerical, and other expenses reasonably necessary for the preparation of settlement claims and supporting data together with reasonable storage, transportation, and other costs incurred in connection with the protection or disposition of termination inventory.

(f) Any determination of costs under paragraph (c) or (e) hereof shall be governed by the Cost Principles set forth in Section XV of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation, as in effect on the date of this contract.

(g) The Contractor shall have the right of appeal, under the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes," from any determination of the amount due to the Contractor made by the Contracting Officer under paragraphs (c) or (e) above, except that if the Contractor has failed to submit its claim within the time provided in paragraph (c) above and has failed to request extension of such time, he shall have no such right of appeal. In any case where the Contracting Officer has made a determination of the amount due under paragraph (c) or (e) above, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the following: (i) if there is no right of appeal hereunder or if no timely appeal has been taken, the amount so determined by the Contracting Officer, or (ii) if an appeal has been taken, the amount finally determined on such appeal; any such determination being final and conclusive upon the Contractor and the Government.

(h) In arriving at the amount due the Contractor under this clause there shall be deducted (1) all unliquidated advance or other unliquidated payments on account theretofore made to the Contractor, (2) any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor in connection with this contract, and (3) the agreed price for, or the proceeds of sale of, any materials, supplies, or other things kept by the Contractor or sold, pursuant to the provisions of this clause, and not otherwise recovered or credited to the Government.

(i) Unless otherwise provided for in this contract, or by applicable statute, the Contractor, from the effective date of termination and for a period of three years after final settlement under this contract, shall preserve and make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the Contractor but without expense to the Government, all its books, records, documents and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the Contractor under this contract and relating to the work terminated hereunder, or, to the extent approved by the Contracting Officer, photographs, microphotographs, or other authentic reproductions thereof.

§ 597.1007 Termination clause for fixed-price construction contracts. The following clause shall be inserted in all fixed-price construction contracts amounting to more than $1,000, except that Contracting Officers may, at their discretion, omit the termination clause from fixed-price construction contracts under $5,000 when the probability of termination for convenience is remote such as in necessary repair, improvements or additions to existing structures:

TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE OF THE GOVERNMENT

(a) The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in accordance with this clause in whole, or from time to time in part, whenever the Contracting Officer shall determine that such termination is in the best interest of the Government. Any such termination shall be effected by delivery to the Contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying the extent to which performance of work under the contract is terminated, and the date upon which such termination becomes effective.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination, and except as otherwise directed by the Contracting Officer, the Contractor shall (1) stop work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Termination; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services, or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portion of the work under the contract as is not terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner, at the times, and to the extent directed by the Contracting Officer, all of the right, title, and interest of the Contractor under the orders and subcontracts so terminated; (5) settle all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts, subject to the approval or ratification of the Contracting Officer, which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this clause; (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government, in the manner, at the times, and to the extent, if any, directed by the Contracting Officer, (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies, and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in connection with the performance of, the work terminated by the Notice of Termination, and (ii) the completed or partially completed plans, drawings, information, and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would have been required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use its best efforts to sell, in the manner, at the times, to the extent, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the Contracting Officer, any property of the types referred to in provision (6) of this paragraph: Provided, however, That the Contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser, and (ii) may keep any such property at a price or prices approved by the Contracting Officer: And provided further, That the proceeds of any such transfer or disposition shall be applied in reduction of any payments to be made by the Government to the Contractor under this contract or shall otherwise be credited to the price or cost of the work covered by this contract or paid in such other manner as the Contracting Officer may direct; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary, or as the Contracting Officer may direct, for the protection and preservation of the property related to this contract which is in the possession of the Contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest.

(c) After receipt of a Notice of Termination, the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer its termination claim, in the form prescribed by the Contracting Officer. Such claim shall be submitted promptly but in no event later than one year from the effective date of termination, unless one or more extensions in writing are granted by the Contracting Officer upon request of the Contractor made in writing within such one year period or authorized extension thereof. Upon failure of the Contractor to submit its termination claim within the time allowed, the Contracting Officer shall determine, on the basis of information available to him, the amount, if any, due to the Contractor by reason of the termination.

(d) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c), the Contractor and the Contracting Officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this clause, which amount or amounts may include a reasonable allowance for profit; however, such profit shall be computed only on work done under the contract. The contract shall be amended accordingly, and the Contractor shall be paid the agreed amount. Such amendment shall be final and conclusive upon the Contractor and the Government. Nothing in paragraph (e) of this clause, prescribing the amount to be paid to the Contractor in the event of failure of the Contractor and the Contracting Officer to agree upon the whole amount to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this clause, shall be deemed to limit, restrict, or otherwise determine or affect the amount or amounts which may be agreed upon to be paid to the Contractor pursuant to this paragraph (d).

(e) In the event of the failure of the Contractor and the Contracting Officer to agree as provided in paragraph (d) upon the whole amount to be paid to the Contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this clause, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (d), shall pay to the Contractor the following amounts:

(i) In respect of all contract work performed prior to the effective date of the Notice of Termination, the total (without duplication of any items) of (i) the cost of such work, (ii) the cost of settling and paying claims arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders as provided in paragraph (b) (5) above, exclusive of the amounts paid or payable on account of supplies or materials delivered or services furnished by the subcontractor prior to the effective date of the Notice of Termination of work under this contract, which amounts shall be included in the cost on account of which payment is made under subdivision (i) above, and (iii) a sum, equal to 2 percent of the part of the amount determined under subdivision (i) which represents the cost of articles or materials delivered to the site but not incorporated in the work in place on the effective date of the Notice of Termination, plus a sum equal to 8 percent of the remainder of such amount, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6 percent of the whole of the amount determined under subdivision (i), which for the purpose of this subdivision (iii) shall exclude any charges for interest on borrowings.

(2) The reasonable cost of the preservation and protection of property incurred pursuant to paragraph (b) (9) hereof; and any other reasonable cost incidental to termination of work under this contract, including expense incidental to the determination of the amount due to the Contractor as the result of the termination of work under this contract.

The total sum to be paid to the Contractor under subdivision (1) of this paragraph (e) shall not exceed the total contract price as reduced by the amount of payments otherwise made and as further reduced by the contract price of work not terminated. Except for normal spoilage, and except to the extent that the Government shall have otherwise expressly assumed the risk of loss, there shall be excluded from the amounts payable to the Contractor as provided in paragraph (e) (1), any amounts allocable to or payable in connection with property which is destroyed, lost, stolen or damaged so as to become undeliverable to the Government, or to a buyer pursuant to paragraph (b) (7).

(f) The Contractor shall have the right of appeal, under the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes," from any determination of the amount due to the Contractor made by the Contracting Officer under paragraphs (c) or (e) above, except that if the Contractor has failed to submit its claim within the time provided in paragraph (c) above and has failed to request extension of such time, he shall have no such right of appeal. In any case where the Contracting Officer has made a determination of the amount due under paragraph (c) or (e) above, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the following: (i) if there is no right of appeal hereunder or if no timely appeal has been taken, the amount so determined by the Contracting Officer, or (ii) if an appeal has been taken, the amount finally determined on such appeal; any such determination being final and conclusive upon the Contractor and the Government.

(g) In arriving at the amount due the Contractor under this clause there shall be deducted (1) all unliquidated partial or progress payments or other unliquidated payments on account theretofore made to the Contractor; (2) any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor in connection with this contract, and (3) the agreed price for, or the proceeds of sale of, any materials, supplies or other things kept by the Contractor or sold, pursuant to the provisions of this clause, and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government.

(h) If the termination hereunder be partial, prior to the settlement of the terminated portion of this contract, the Contractor may file with the Contracting Officer a request in writing for an equitable adjustment of the price or prices specified in the contract relating to the continued portion of the contract (the portion not terminated by the Notice of Termination), and such equitable adjustment as may be agreed upon shall be made in such price or prices; however, nothing contained herein shall limit the right of the Government and the contractor to agree upon the amount or amounts to be paid to the Contractor for the completion of the continued portion of the contract when said contract does not contain an established contract price for such continued portion.

(i) The Government may from time to time, under such terms and conditions as it may prescribe, make partial payments and payments on account against costs incurred by the Contractor in connection with the terminated portion of this contract whenever in the opinion of the Contracting Officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the Contractor will be entitled hereunder. If the total of such payments is in excess of the amount finally agreed or determined to be due under this clause, such excess shall be payable by the Contractor to the Government upon demand, together with interest computed at the rate of 6 percent per annum, for the period from the date such excess payment is received by the Contractor to the date on which such excess is repaid to the Government.

(j) Any determination of costs under paragraph (c) or (e) hereof shall be governed by the Cost Principles set forth in section XV of the Armed Services Procurement Regulation, as in effect on the date of this contract.

(k) Unless otherwise provided for in this contract, or by applicable statute, the Contractor, from the effective date of termination and for a period of three years after final settlement under this contract, shall preserve and make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the Contractor, but without expense to the Government, all its books, records, documents, and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the Contractor under this contract and relating to the work terminated hereunder, or, to the extent approved by the Contracting Officer, photographs, microphotographs, or other authentic reproductions thereof.

§ 597.1008 Short form termination clauses. In order to facilitate (a) the handling of small purchases of standard commercial items under fixed-price contracts above $1,000 but under $5,000, and (b) the obtaining of certain nonpersonal services such as rental of unreserved garage space, meals for inductees, laundry and dry-cleaning services, etc., the "short form" termination clauses set forth below are authorized for use in appropriate contracts.

§ 597.1008–1 Fixed-price supply contracts over $1,000 and under $5,000. The following clause may be inserted in fixed-price supply contracts over $1,000 and under $5,000 in lieu of any other termination for convenience of the Government clause:

TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE OF THE GOVERNMENT

The furnishing of supplies under this contract may be terminated, in whole or in part, without liability due to such termination on the part of the Government whenever the Contracting Officer shall determine that the termination of this contract is in the best interests of the Government. The Government shall be liable for only the contract price of the supplies furnished or en route prior to the effective date of termination. Termination of the furnishing of supplies hereunder shall be effected by the delivery to the contractor of a Notice of Termination 15 days prior to th date upon which the termination shall become effective.

§ 597.1008–2 Fixed-price nonpersonal service contracts. The following clause may be inserted in fixed-price nonpersonal service contracts, such as for the rental of unreserved garage space, meals for inductees, laundry and drycleaning services, etc., in lieu of any other termination for convenience of the Government clause:

TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE OF THE GOVERNMENT

The performance of work (services) under this contract may be terminated, in whole or in part, without liability due to such termination on the part of the Government whenever the Contracting Officer shall determine that termination of this contract is in the best interests of the Government. The Government shall be liable only for payment in accordance with the payment provisions of this contract for work (services) performed (furnished) prior to the effective date of termination. Termination of work hereunder shall be effected by delivery to the Contractor of a Notice of Termination ------ days prior to the date upon which termination shall become effective.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 598.000 Scope of part. Supplementary to, but consistent with Part 408 of this title, this part sets forth administrative requirements, procedures, and other pertinent information in connection with (a) securing to the U. S. Government in various types of contracts appropriate patent rights and adequate protection against patent infringement risks; (b) use of copyright clauses in Army Establishment contracts; (c) adjustment of royalties payable by Army contractors and included in the cost price of Army contracts; (d) claims asserted by nationals of the indemnifying government for compensation for use or practice of inventions furnished the other government under the terms of the Patent Interchange Agreement between the United Kingdom Government and the United States; (e) claims arising out of the use by the Army or Army contractors of adversely owned patented and unpatented inventions and the settlement or other disposition of such claims; and (f) procurement by the Army Establishment of invention and patent rights, except as incident to the settlement of claims.

SUBPART A—PATENTS

§ 598.100 Scope of subpart. This subpart, excluding §§ 598.109, 598.111, and 598.150, sets forth administrative requirements and procedures in connection with (a) securing to the United States Government in various types of contracts appropriate patent rights and adequate protection against patent infringement risks, and (b) claims asserted by nationals of the indemnifying government for compensation for use or practice of inventions furnished the other government under the terms of the Patent Interchange Agreement between the United Kingdom Government and the United States.

§ 598.101 Definition; Chief, Patents Division, OJAG. The term "Chief, Patents Division, OJAG" means the Chief, Patents Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 598.101–1 Research or development contract. The term "experimental, developmental, or research work" shall be deemed to include any work for development of an item or method for the Government either as a sole object of the contract or to an extent beyond that normally incident to the performance of a supply contract for the class of item involved.

§ 598.102 Notice and assistance. For proper action to be taken by technical services with respect to reports, received by them, of claims of patent infringement asserted against a contractor, or its subcontractor, see § 598.405–3.

§ 598.103 Reporting of royalties—(a) Furnishing copy of reports. The Contracting Officer shall furnish at least one copy of the royalty information, certificate, or report (whether positive or negative) received under the provisions of § 403.103 of this title to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG.

(b) Incomplete reports. Where a contractor presents a royalty report which, upon its face, does not comply with the provisions of § 403.103 of this title, the Contracting Officer will make an effort to secure from the contractor a conforming report prior to forwarding said report as provided in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Additional information to be furnished by Contracting Officer with copy of report. If the contractor reports that a royalty has been or is to be paid, the Contracting Officer shall also furnish, at the time of submitting the above referred to copy of the royalty information or report received from the contractor, the following additional information:

(1) The type of contract, i. e. whether for Research or Development or for Supplies.

(2) The general subject matter of the contract, i. e. nomenclature or brief description of item of supply.

(3) The dollar amount of the contract.

(d) Responsibility of Contracting Officer after furnishing copy of report. After a copy of the report or certificate required by § 408.103 of this title and the additional information required by paragraph (c) of this section has been forwarded to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, the Contracting Officer has no further duties or responsibilities in the matter unless some particular further action is specifically requested by the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG.

§ 598.104 Classified contracts—(a) Filing of patent applications. Any delay in the processing of a request for permission to file a patent application in the United States Patent Office may result in the loss of substantial rights of the contractor. Accordingly, when a contractor submits a patent application, pursuant to the provisions of § 403.104 (a) of this title, for permission to file this application in the United States Patent Office, the Contracting Officer or his designee is charged with the duty of promptly informing the contractor whether this application may be so filed. In making such a decision or recommendation the cognizant section or branch shall make a survey of the proposed application to the extent necessary to determine whether or not, for security purposes, the filing in the United States Patent Office of an application should be denied, taking into consideration the fact that only under extraordinary circumstances of national security should the right to file a United States application be denied. The contractor has the right of appealing this decision direct to the Secretary of the Army. Whether or not a particular patent application should be placed under a Secrecy Order pursuant to Public Law 700, 24 U. S. C. 42, is a separate question which should be deferred until promptly after the application has been filed. In this latter connection, however, the Contracting Officer or his designee has the further duty, in all cases where the filing of an application is authorized, of securing the application serial number and filing date from the contractor and submitting such information to a proper Department of the Army representative promptly after the filing of the application in order that proper steps may be taken to place the application under a Secrecy Order if such action appears to be advisable.

(b) Applications submitted under contracts classified confidential or lower. Applications for United States patents submitted to the Contracting Officer pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 408.104 of this title should be promptly forwarded to the cognizant Department of the Army representative for the purpose of determining whether or not the application should be placed under a Secrecy Order in accordance with established procedures in this matter.

§ 598.105 Patent indemnification of Government by contractor—(a) Standard commercial supplies. (1) The term "standard commercial supplies" as used in the instructions set forth in § 408.105 of this title means supplies which are normally manufactured or supplied by a manufacturer or dealer for sale to the public in the commercial open market. It is intended to cover commodities which are readily procurable through normal trade channels and includes, by way of description but without limitation, "off the shelf" items, items listed in a manufacturer's standard stock catalog, or supplies for which there is a specified or established commercial price schedule with an offer to supply the same. It does not, as a rule, cover special items that are manufactured solely for the Government unless such items are commercially procurable.

(2) It is intended that, in accordance with the requirements of § 408.105 of this title, the indemnity article shall be used in the procurement of "standard commercial supplies" whether or not such supplies are "standard commercial" with the particular contractor who is awarded the contract. The determining criterion shall be whether or not the items of supply to be procured are "standard commercial" with any potential supplier (whether a bidder or not).

(b) Exclusion of items from the operation of the indemnity clause. (1) One or more of the listed items of a contract may not come within the meaning of the term "standard commercial supplies" although such item or items may contain components which do come within such meaning. If separation of the standard commercial components and nonstandard components of the item is impractical or inexpedient, the item should be excluded in its entirety from the indemnity by listing it under paragraph (b) of §408.105 of this title, and if all items of a contract come within this category, the entire indemnity clause may be omitted. If such separation is reasonably possible or expedient, however, only those components or parts of the items that are not "standard commercial" should be excluded and, accordingly, in such case, only the nonstandard components of the item should be listed under paragraph (b) of the indemnity clause as items to be excluded from the operation of the indemnity.

(2) When it is to the interest of the Government to do so, devices, mechanisms, or materials other than those in the category of nonstandard commercial supplies may be excluded from the indemnity by and with the approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Requests for such exclusion should be accompanied by a full statement of facts supporting the request.

(3) When it is in the interest of the Government to do so, specific patents and or applications for patent may be excluded from the indemnity by and with the approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

(c) Indemnification of contractor by the Government. No provision whereby the Government expressly agrees to indemnify the contractor against liability for patent infringement shall be included in any contract. Ordinarily any demands of a contractor in this respect can be satisfied by the elimination of the patent indemnity clause (when authorized by § 408.105 of this title) and insertion of the authorization and consent clause (§ 408.106 of this title).

§ 598.106 Authorization and consent. This clause is intended merely to set forth affirmatively in a contract the authorization and consent of the Government without which the contractor would, by reason of the law as laid down by Statute and the Court of Claims with regard to patent infringement by or for the Government, be liable to direct suit and injunctive action in the performance of the Government contract. Its use, therefore, is authorized, as set forth in the instructions to § 408.106 of this title, in any contract. Any deviation from the clause as set forth in § 408.106 of this title, or the footnote thereto, however, may enlarge the liability of the Government unless a proper indemnity clause is included in the contract, and strict adherence to § 408.106 of this title is, accordingly, mandatory unless a deviation as provided in § 590.108 of this chapter is obtained.

§ 598.107 Patent rights under research or development contracts.

§ 598.107–1 License under foreground patents—(a) Exclusion of invention from general license. Where special circumstances exist (of which representative examples are set forth in the instructions to § 408.107–1 of this title) for the exclusion of any invention or material from a general license to the Government, the Contracting Officer shall submit the proposal to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), with his recommendations and detailed reasons therefor.

(b) Submission of disclosures. With respect to technical services which do not maintain patent prosecution facilities, copies of contractor's reports furnished in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) of § 408.107–1 of this title disclosing inventions and electing not to file patent applications thereon, together with a complete disclosure of each such invention, shall be furnished to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG. A statement shall be furnished by the technical service as to each such invention evaluating the invention from the standpoint of military worth or usefulness and whether it is likely to be used within the Army Establishment.

§ 598.107–2 Title to foreground patents—(a) Use of patent title clause. The use of the patent title clause is appropriate whenever acquisition of title by the Government is desirable and warranted by special circumstances in accordance with the provisions of § 408.107–2 of this title.

(b) Processing of material received under § 408.107–2 (c) of this title. All disclosures, instruments, reports and the like required to be delivered to the Government pursuant to paragraph (c) of the clause set forth in § 408.107–2 of this title should be processed in the manner prescribed in § 598.107–1 (a).

§ 598.107–3 Reproduction rights under background patents—(a) General policy. Reproduction rights (limited royalty-free license) under contractor's background patents, in addition to title or license under foreground patents as provided in §§ 408.107–1 and 408.107–2 of this title should be requested in any research or development contract where in the opinion of the Contracting Officer there are equitable or other circumstances justifying such request.

(b) Consideration for administration of the general policy. In applying the foregoing policy with respect to requesting reproduction rights under contractor's background patents the Contracting Officer shall be governed by the following considerations:

(1) Under formal advertising. The reproduction rights clause should not be used in invitations for bids issued under formal advertising in the procurement of supplies normally bought and sold commercially in the open market.

(2) Negotiated contracts. In negotiated contracts the question of the acquisition of background rights by the Government is a matter for full and free bargaining between the contracting parties, with the Contracting Officer taking into account the equitable circumstances supporting the Government's request for reproduction rights under the background patents.

§ 598.107–5 Contracts relating to atomic energy. The patent rights provision set forth in § 408.107–5 of this title shall be inserted as part of the patent rights clause set forth in § 408.107–1 of this title in all research or development contracts relating to atomic energy.

(a) Disclosures of inventions relating to atomic energy furnished by any contractor shall be forwarded to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, for referral to the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

(b) Requests for deviation from the provisions set forth in § 408.107–5 of this title shall be forwarded to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) for referral to the United States Atomic Energy Commission for determination by it as to whether the provision must be included in the contract or whether such provision may be modified.

§ 598.108 Follow-up of patent rights. An appropriate system shall be maintained by each technical service policing the disclosure provisions of the patent rights clauses included in research or development contracts by means of which inventions made under such contracts may be identified, and formal agreements evidencing the Government's rights under such invention duly obtained. In this connection see the withholding of a portion of the final payment provision contained in § 408.107–1 (e) of this title.

§ 598.109 Adjustment of royalties. See Subpart C of this part relating to the adjustment of royalties for the use of inventions for the benefit of the United States.

§ 598.110 Patent Interchange Agreement and patent problems relating to Mutual Defense Assistance Act of 1949—(a) General. Under the date of 24 August 1942, an agreement was entered into between the United States of America and the United Kingdom with relation to the interchange of patent rights, information, inventions, designs or processes (Executive Agreement Series 268). This agreement, titled "Agreement with the United Kingdom for the Interchange of patent rights and industrial information," was terminated on April 8, 1946, but without prejudice to any liability which then had occurred or which might thereafter arise pursuant to certain continuing obligations undertaken by each Government.

(b) Terms of agreement. The following is a summary of the terms of the Agreement remaining in effect:

(1) Each Government agrees to indemnify and save harmless the other Government against claims asserted by nationals of the indemnifying Government for compensation for the use or practice of inventions furnished the other Government under the terms of the Patent Interchange Agreement. The obligations of the United States are limited to claims of which the Government of the United States is notified before July 1, 1949. There is no time limit running to the obligations of the British Government.

(2) Each Government agrees to notify the other Government as soon as practicable after receiving notice of any claim by which the liability might fall upon the other Government.

(3) Each Government will give to the other Government all possible information and other assistance required in connection with computing any payments to be made to nationals of the other Government with respect to the use of their patent rights, information, inventions, designs, or processes.

(c) Questions of policy or procedure under Agreements. All questions of policy or procedure arising under the Agreement shall be referred to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG.

(d) Patent rights as the subject of reciprocal aid by lend-lease beneficiary governments other than the United Kingdom. (1) Lend-Lease Settlement Agreements have been negotiated by the State Department with France, Belgium, Luxemburg, Norway, and the Netherlands containing provisions generally to the effect that the respective governments will assume the obligations of the United States or its war contractors with respect to claims of patent infringement or other liability for the use of inventions made against the United States by nationals of the respective governments, or to pay royalties to nationals of the respective governments, which claims or royalties are in connection with war production.

(2) Heads of Procuring Activities will report to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG any patent liability of the United States or its war contractors to nationals of any other lend-lease beneficiary country in sufficient detail to enable that office to base a request to the State Department to make provisions for the assumption by the Government concerned as an item of reciprocal aid of the patent liability involved.

(3) In no event shall any contract of settlement of patent infringement liability, or of other liability for use of inventions, be made with a national of a lend-lease beneficiary government, nor shall payment be authorized of royalties either by the Department or by Department contractors to a national of a lend-lease beneficiary government, without first obtaining a written approval of the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG.

(e) Proprietary rights in connection with the Mutual Defense Assistance Act of 1949. The bilateral agreements between the United States and MDAP countries contain a clause to the effect that the two contracting governments will negotiate appropriate arrangements respecting responsibility for claims for the use or infringement of inventions and proprietary information. It is anticipated that these arrangements will be similar to the Patent Interchange Agreement with the British Government. These matters have not progressed to a point where definitive rules and regulations have been formulated. In implementation of the program all claims for the use and infringement of such inventions or proprietary information will be referred to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG.

§ 598.111 Processing of infringement claims. See Subpart D of this part relating to investigation and disposition of claims for the use of inventions by or on behalf of the Government, and agreements in settlement of such claims.

§ 598.150 Procurement of invention and patent rights. See Subpart E of this part pertaining to the procurement of invention and patent rights (except as an incident to the settlement of claims for the use of inventions which is provided for in Subpart D of this part), and agreements for the procurement of such rights.

SUBPART B—COPYRIGHTS

§ 598.200 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth the administrative requirements and procedures and other pertinent information relating to use of copyright clauses in Army Establishment contracts.

§ 598.202 License under copyrightable material. No deviation or modification shall be made in the clause set forth in § 408.202 of this title without the approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch).

§ 598.204 Contracts for motion pictures. (a) The contract clause set forth in § 408.204 of this title shall be used in all contracts for the production of motion pictures, and in all contracts for the preparation (for use in connection with motion pictures) of scripts, translations, sound tracks, musical compositions, or any other copyrightable material. Any request for deviation from this section shall be made as set forth in § 598.202.

(b) In all contracts for the procurement of existing motion pictures, the following instructions apply as to use of the contract clause set forth in § 408.204 of this title.

(1) Paragraph (a) may be modified or omitted by the Procuring Activity.

(2) Paragraph (b) may be modified by the technical service concerned only to the extent of limiting the scope of the license granted by this section to that scope which is consistent with the purposes for which the motion picture covered by the contract is being procured. Examples of such restricted rights are:

(i) Limitation as to the type of audience.

(ii) Limitation as to the geographical location.

(iii) Limitation as to time.

(3) Paragraph (c) of § 408.204 of this title should be used in this type of contract. It may, however, be modified to the extent that the coverage of the indemnity is coextensive with the rights acquired under the modification permitted by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(c) In all contracts for the procurement of a motion picture which is a modification (through the addition of subject matter specified by the contract and not already in existence) of an existing motion picture, the instructions given in paragraph (b) (2) and (3) of this section apply. In this type of contract paragraph (a) of the contract clause set forth in § 408.204 of this title shall be used without modification, except that the word "copyrightable" may, at the discretion of the technical service, be inserted before the word "material" in the first line of this paragraph.

SUBPART C—ADJUSTMENT OF ROYALTIES

§ 598.300 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth pertinent information with respect to the adjustment of royalties for the use of inventions which are charged as an incident of cost in Department of the Army procurement. (See § 408.109 of this title and § 598.109 pertaining to this subject.) It implements Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title generally rather than a specific part or section thereof.

§ 598.301 Adjustment of royalties for the use of inventions.

§ 598.301–1 Definitions. Where used in this subpart, the following terms have the meanings here assigned to them:

(a) "The Act" means the Royalty Adjustment Act 1942 (Pub. Law 768, 77th Cong.; 25 U. S. C. 89–96).

(b) "Delegate" means the offices, boards, agents, and persons specified in § 598.301–10, together with any other office, board, or individual to whom any of the powers, duties, and authorities of the Secretary of the Army under the Act have been or may be delegated.

§ 598.301–2 Basic statute. The act makes provision for adjusting royalties for the use of inventions for the benefit of the United States, in aid of the prosecution of the war, and for other purposes. Sections 598.301–3 to 598.301–8, inclusive, contain a summary of the provisions of the act as applied to the Army Establishment.

§ 598.301–3 Applicability and notice. Whenever an invention, whether patented or unpatented, is manufactured, used, sold, or otherwise disposed of for the United States under the conditions set forth in the act and the license includes provisions for the payment of royalties, the rates or amounts of which are believed to be unreasonable or excessive by the Secretary of the Army, the Secretary of the Army shall give notice of such fact to the licensor and the licensee. By definition, the manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of an invention, whether patented or unpatented, by a contractor, subcontractor, or any person, firm, or corporation for the Government and with the authorization or consent of the Government is construed as manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition for the United States.

§ 598.301–4 Fixing of rates and order. The act further provides that within a reasonable time after the effective date of the notice, in no event less than ten days, the Secretary of the Army shall by order fix and specify such rates or amounts of royalties, if any, as he shall determine are fair and just, taking into account the conditions of wartime production, and shall authorize the payment thereof by the licensee to the licensor on account of such manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition. Either the licensor or the licensee may, if he so requests within ten days from the effective date of the notice, present within thirty days from the date of his request, in writing or in person, any facts or circumstances which may in his opinion have a bearing upon the rates or amount of royalties, if any, to be determined, fixed, and specified as aforesaid. Any order fixing the rates and amounts of any royalties shall be issued within a reasonable time after such presentation.

§ 598.301–5 Prohibition against payment of excessive royalties. The licensee shall not after the effective date of the notice (upon receipt of notice, or five days after the mailing thereof, whichever date is earlier) pay to the licensor, nor charge directly or indirectly to the United States, a royalty in excess of that subsequently specified in the order. It is provided that, whenever a reduction in the rates or amounts of royalties is effected by order, the reduction shall inure to the benefit of the Government by way of a corresponding reduction in the contract price to be paid directly or indirectly for such manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of such inventions, or by way of refund if already paid to the licensee.

§ 598.301–6 Remedies of licensor. The act contains certain provisions as to the remedies of the licensor, which, in general, grant him a cause of action against the United States in the Court of Claims or a District Court of the United States.

§ 598.301–7 Settlement of claims. The Secretary of the Army is authorized, before suit has been instituted against the United States, to enter into an agreement with the owner or licensor of an invention, in full settlement and compromise of any claim accruing under the provisions of the act or any other law, and for compensation to be paid such owner or licensor based upon future manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of said invention.

§ 598.301–8 Authority of Secretary of the Army and Under Secretary of the Army to delegate powers and issue regulations under act. The Secretary of the Army is authorized in his discretion and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, to delegate any powers, duties and authorities conferred by the act to such qualified and responsible officers, boards, agents or persons as he may designate or appoint. He is also authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations and to require such information as may be necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of the act. The Secretary of the Army has delegated and assigned his powers, duties, and authorities under the act to the Under Secretary of the Army including the authority to prescribe such rules and regulations as the Under Secretary of the Army may from time to time deem proper under the act and the authority to redelegate in whole or in part, such powers, duties, and authorities to such qualified and responsible officers, boards, or employees as he may designate in the Department of the Army, and to authorize such officers, boards, or employees to make or authorize successive redelegations of such powers, duties, and authorities.

§ 598.301–9 Powers, duties, and authorities under the act which have been delegated by the Under Secretary of the Army with limited authority of redelegation. The Under Secretary of the Army has delegated to the Assistant Chief of staff, G–4 (with right of redelgation to the Chief, Procurement Division, Office of Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, and through him to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office of Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4) the power and authority to designate, and appoint, and to revoke any designation and appointment of, any commissioned officer of the Army within his command, or any civilian employee of the Department of the Army within his jurisdiction, whom he deems to be responsible and qualified by reason of having had substantial business or legal experience in procurement or patent matters, for the exercise by such officer or employee, either individually or as a member of a Royalty Adjustment Board, of such of the powers, duties and authorities conferred by the act upon the Secretary of the Army as are set forth in the paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section, the exercise thereof to be pursuant to such rules and regulations under the act as may from time to time be prescribed by the Under Secretary of the Army:

(a) To determine that notice should be given and to give notice of the fact that the rates or amounts of royalties are believed to be unreasonable or excessive; and to withdraw any such notice previously given by the delegate or by a delegate of lower rank in his service under certain circumstances.

(b) After notice, to receive and hear such facts and circumstances as may be presented by the licensee or licensor, and such other facts and circumstances as are relevant to a determination of a fair and just royalty.

(c) To fix and specify, by order, fair and just rates or amounts of royalties, and to authorize the payment thereof, if any royalty be allowed, by the licensee to the licensor, subject, however, to the approval of such order by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4.

(d) To execute contracts on behalf of the United States, before suit against the United States has been instituted, with the owner or licensor of an invention, or of the Letters Patent therefor, effecting a voluntary adjustment of royalties charged or chargeable to the United States, or in settlement and compromise of any claim against the United States accruing to such owner or licensor under the provisions of the act or any other law by reason of the manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of an invention or for compensation to be paid such owner or licensor based upon future manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of such invention, subject, however, to the approval of the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, in each case under certain circumstances, including those stated in § 598.405–12.

The foregoing power and authority of designation and appointment has been redelegated to the Chief, Procurement Division, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, and through him to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4.

§ 598.301–10 Existing delegations under paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of § 598.301–9. (a) The powers, duties, and authorities described in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of § 598.301–9 have been delegated by the Under Secretary of the Army or by the officers designated in § 598.301–9 to each of the following offices, boards, agents, or persons as indicated in the following tabulation:

Delegate	Powers, duties and authorities described in § 598.301–9
	(a)	(b)	(c)	(d)
Chiefs of the Technical Services	X	X	X	X
Royalty Board, Office of the Chief of Ordnance	X	X	X
All District Chiefs of Ordnance Procurement Districts				X

(b) If the chief of a technical service desires that any of the powers, duties, and authorities set forth in § 598.301–9 be further delegated to any officer or employee within his command or jurisdiction, or that a board to receive such delegation be created within his service or command, a request to that effect may be transmitted to the appropriate office specified in § 598.301–9. Such request shall include the name, rank or grade, and a brief statement of qualifications with respect to each officer or employee to whom the delegation is desired.

(c) Where any of the powers, duties, and authorities set forth in § 598.301–9 have been or are hereafter delegated to a board, the said board shall, unless otherwise provided in the instrument of delegation, consist of three officers or employees of the service or command concerned, who shall be designated and appointed as provided in § 598.301–9. Unless otherwise provided in the instrument of delegation (1) a majority of said board shall determine its action, (2) any instrument or contract whatsoever evidencing action taken by the board may be signed in its name by any member of the board, and (3) any two members of such board shall constitute a quorum.

§ 598.301–11 Duties of the technical services. Subject to the applicable rules and regulations, the chiefs of the technical services are, in matters properly before them and acting under the direction of the Under Secretary of the Army, under the duty of causing the powers, duties and authorities delegated under the act to be exercised in such manner and at such times as may be necessary to prevent unreasonable or excessive royalties from being charged to the Department of the Army. This duty may be discharged pursuant to such instructions as may be issued by the chiefs of the technical services for the guidance of their respective services and delegates therein.

§ 598.301–12 Source of information relating to procedure. Whenever a technical service has reason to believe that the amount of royalties being assessed against any of its procurement is excessive, advice may be obtained as to the procedure to follow in order that the powers and authority of the act may be utilized, by communicating with the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG.

SUBPART D—PROCESSING OF INFRINGEMENT CLAIMS

§ 598.400 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth the policy of the Department, applicable statutes, administrative requirements and procedures, and other pertinent information relative to (a) investigation and disposition, by settlement or otherwise, of actual and potential claims for compensation for the use of adversely owned patented or unpatented inventions, and (b) contracts or agreements in settlement of such claims, including suggested contract forms and mandatory and suggested articles to be used in such contracts. (See § 408.111 of this title and § 598.111 pertaining to this subject.) This subpart relates to claims by both United States and foreign claimants, except claims presented by nationals of the United Kingdom under the Patent Interchange Agreement, of lend-lease beneficiary countries, and of countries whose Governments are within the scope of the Mutual Defense Assistance Program, for which see § 598.110. It implements Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title generally rather than a specific part or section thereof.

§ 598.401 Definitions. As used in this subpart, the terms in §§ 598.401–1 through 598.401–3 have the meanings set forth therein.

§ 598.401–1 Chief, Patents Division, OJAG. The term "Chief, Patents Division, OJAG" means the Chief, Patents Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General.

§ 598.401–2 Delegate. The term "Delegate" means any office, board, agency, or officer to whom the powers, duties, and authorities set forth in § 598.404–2 have been delegated.

§ 598.401–3 Such Claim. The terms "Such Claim" and "Such a Claim" mean a claim against the United States which has in fact been asserted or a claim

(based upon actual past procurement and not contemplated procurement) which may reasonably be anticipated will be asserted, under any of the applicable statutes (see §§ 598.402–1, 598.402–3, and 598.402–4), for compensation for alleged use of inventions by or for the Army Establishment.

§ 598.402 Applicable statutes.

§ 598.402–1 The Act of 1948. The act of June 25, 1948, as amended (28 U. S. C. 1498) (hereinafter called "the act of 1948") provides that wherever an invention covered by a patent of the United States is without license or other right used or manufactured by the United States, or by any person, firm or corporation for the United States and with its authorization and consent, the patent owner's remedy shall (except as hereinafter stated) be by suit against the United States in the Court of Claims for recovery of his reasonable and entire compensation for such use or manufacture. The benefits of the foregoing statute do not inure to any patentee or the assignee of any patentee who when he makes Such Claim is in the employment or service of the Government, nor does the foregoing statute apply with respect to any patent based upon an invention made during the time the inventor was in the employment or service of the Government.

§ 598.402–2 The Patent Marking Statute. Section 4900, Revised Statutes, as amended (35 U. S. C. 49) (hereinafter called "the Patent Marking Statute"), precludes the recovery by a patent owner of damages or profits for infringement occurring prior to (a) the date of marking the patented article with the word "Patent" together with the number of the patent or with the word "Patented" and the day and year the patent was granted or (b) the date on which the patent owner notified the alleged infringer of the claimed infringement (whichever date is earlier), except (1) in the case of a patent exclusively for a process or (2) in the event neither the owner nor any licensee of the owner has made or sold the patented article.

§ 598.402–3 The Secrecy Order Act. The act of October 6, 1917, as amended (35 U. S. C. 42) (hereinafter called "the Secrecy Order Act"), provides that the owner of a patent application, which had been ordered by the Commissioner of Patents to be kept secret, who has faithfully obeyed such order, and who has tendered his invention to the Government for its use, shall, if and when he ultimately receives a patent, have the right to sue for compensation in the Court of Claims, such right to compensation to begin from the date of the use of the invention by the Government.

§ 598.402–4 The Air Corps Act. The act of July 2, 1926, as amended (10 U. S. C. 310 (1)) (hereinafter called "the Air Corps Act"), provides that whenever a design, whether or not inventive in character, relating to aircraft or any components thereof, is used or manufactured by or for any Department of the Government without just compensation, the owner of such design may, within four years from the date of such use, file suit against the United States in the Court of Claims for recovery of his reasonable and entire compensation for such use and manufacture.

§ 598.402–5 The Act Requiring Reports to the Attorney General. Section 188, Revised Statutes (5 U. S. C. 91) (hereinafter called "the Act Requiring Reports to the Attorney General"), requires that a department, or the officer or agent of a department, which is authorized to adjust a claim, shall, after suit has been brought in the Court of Claims and upon request by the Attorney General, furnish the Attorney General without delay with a full statement, in writing, of all facts, circumstances, and evidence pertinent to the claim in the possession or knowledge of such department, officer, or agent.

§ 598.402–6 The Royalty Adjustment Act. The act of October 31, 1942 (35 U. S. C. 91), known as "the Royalty Adjustment Act," provides that the head of any department or agency of the Government, which has ordered, authorized, or consented to the manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of an invention (whether patented or unpatented) by or for the Government, is authorized to enter into an agreement with the owner thereof, before suit against the United States has been instituted, in full settlemen and compromise of any claims against the United States accruing by reason of such manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of the invention. This statute grants power and authority to settle claims or liabilities arising under the acts referred to in §§ 598.402–1 and 598.402–3 above, and to settle claims or liabilities arising under the act referred to in § 598.402–4, insofar as they are based upon a design which is believed to be inventive in character.

§ 598.402–7 Section 3477, Revised Statutes. Section 3477, Revised Statutes, as amended (31 U. S. C. 203), provides that all transfers and assignments of any claim (except certain contract claims) upon the United States are absolutely null and void unless made, among other things, after the allowance of the claim, the ascertainment of the amount due and the issuing of a warrant for the payment thereof. In view of certain decisions construing the statute, its provisions will, so far only as concerns claims made under the statutes referred to in §§ 598.402–1, 598.402–3, and 598.402–4, be deemed—

(a) Inapplicable to claims arising under the Act of 1948 for compensation on account of articles manufactured for the United States, and articles and methods used in production for the United States (except articles made by the United States).

(b) Applicable to all other claims arising under the statutes referred to in §§ 598.402–1, 598.402–3, and 598.402–4, such, for example, as claims under the Act of 1948 for compensation on account of articles manufactured by the United States, or claims under the Secrecy Order Act or the Air Corps Act for compensation on account of articles manufactured by or for the United States.

§ 598.403 General policy. In order to maintain the good will of U. S. industry, to encourage invention and the development of the scientific arts related to the National Defense, to dispose of past and avoid future infringement of privately owned rights in inventions and under U. S. Letters Patent, and to avoid litigation and attendant nonproductive time, it is the policy of the Department to settle claims for compensation for past infringement of such invention rights, and also to obtain necessary rights with respect to such inventions in view of contemplated future Departmental procurement, where it is in the Government's interest to do so and when such rights can be obtained at not more than their fair value. To this end, an investigation of each Such Claim shall be made in accordance with the instructions and procedures set forth in §§ 598.405–3 through 598.405–7 hereof. If any patent upon which Such a Claim is based is found to be infringed and is believed to be valid and enforceable, and it is deemed advisable by the Delegate, efforts to settle Such Claim, before suit against the United States has been instituted, shall be made in accordance with the instructions and procedures set forth in §§ 598.405–8 through 598.405–14. Coordination with the Departments of the Navy and the Air Force in the processing and final disposition of each Such Claim will be effected by the Chief, Patents Division, to such extent as is deemed necessary to avoid unnecessary duplication of work on identical claims received in the Military Establishment, and to settle such of said claims as are valid in a manner in keeping with the interests of each of said Departments involved.

§ 598.404 Authority and delegation.

§ 598.404–1 Statutory authority of the Secretary of the Army. The Secretary is authorized by section 5 of the act of October 31, 1942 (the Royalty Adjustment Act), in his discretion and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, to delegate any powers, duties, and authorities conferred by the act to such qualified and responsible officers, boards, agents, or persons as he may designate or appoint. He is also authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations and to require such information as may be necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of the act. Pursuant to the foregoing, the Secretary of the Army has prescribed the rules and regulations set forth in this subpart and in Subpart C of this part.

§ 598.404–2 Delegation of authority. The Secretary of the Army, or the officers to whom he has delegated the authority, has delegated to the chiefs of the technical services and to certain other officers, boards and persons (herein called "Delegates"), as identified and listed in § 598.301–10, the following power and authority under section 3 of the act of October 31, 1942 (the Royalty Adjustment Act):

To execute contracts on behalf of the United States before suit against the United States has been instituted, with the owner or licensor of an invention, or of the Letters Patent therefor, effecting a voluntary adjustment of royalties charged or chargeable to the United States, or in settlement and compromise of any claim against the United States accruing to such owner or licensor under the provisions of the Act or any other law by reason of the manufacture, u e, sale, or other disposition of an invention or for compensation to be paid such owner or licensor based upon future manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of such invention, • • • subject, however, to the approval of the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, in each case where that approval is required by § 598.405–12.

§ 598.405 Prescribed regulations.

§ 598.405–1 Appointment and composition of boards. (a) Where the power and authority set forth in §§ 598.404 through 598.404–2 has been or is hereafter delegated to a board, the said board shall, unless otherwise provided in the instrument of delegation, consist of three officers or employees of the Procuring Activity concerned, who shall be designated by name. Unless otherwise provided in the instrument of delegation, (1) a majority of said board shall determine its action, (2) any instrument or contract whatsoever evidencing action taken by the board may be signed in its name by any member of the board, and (3) any two members of such board shall constitute a quorum.

(b) Appointment of all such boards or of new personnel to such boards shall be upon request made to the officer having appointing authority (see § 598.301–9). Such request shall include the name, rank or grade, and a brief statement of qualifications with respect to each officer or employee to whom the delegation is desired. The appointing officer may appoint any commissioned officer of the Department within his command, or any civilian employee in the Department within his jurisdiction, whom he deems to be responsible and qualified by reason of having had substantial business or legal experience in procurement or patent matters.

(c) The name of the board shall be specified in the request for the appointment, and in the instrument appointing such board.

§ 598.405–2 Duties of chiefs of technical services. (a) The chief of each technical service, or such other Delegate within his service as he may designate, is charged with the duty of taking appropriate action with respect to each Such Claim pertaining to the procurement responsibilities of his service promptly after knowledge thereof is brought to his attention where either Such a Claim has been made or may be reasonably anticipated. Such action includes the following:

(1) Writing the claimant or his representative acknowledging receipt of the communication in which Such Claim is asserted. An authorized form of acknowledgement is set forth in § 598.405–4.

(2) Transmitting direct to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, a copy of the communication in which any Such Claim is asserted or reported.

(3) Requesting clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, to investigate and settle each Such Claim pursuant to § 598.405–5.

(4) Investigating each Such Claim upon clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, and, if deemed appropriate by the Delegate, settling the same pursuant to §§ 598.405–8 through 598.405–14.

(5) Preparing and transmitting to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, pursuant to § 598.405–6, a report containing the full statements required by the act requiring reports to the Attorney General (see § 598.402–5) with respect to each Such Claim in which no settlement is effected.

(6) Making the required distribution of each contract of settlement or partial settlement of Such Claim pursuant to § 598.405–14.

(b) The actions as set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, and wherever referred to in these sections, may be performed by an authorized representative of the Delegate, except for the execution of contracts entered into pursuant to paragraph (a) (4) of this section and the execution of reports prepared pursuant to paragraph (a) (5) of this section.

§ 598.405–3 Reporting of claims. The chief of each technical service shall issue necessary instructions to all officers and employees of his service to provide for prompt submission, to the chief legal or patent officer in the headquarters of his service, of (a) all communications received in his service asserting Such Claims, and (b) all reports received by Contracting Officers in his service from contractors under § 598.102 of Such Claims relating to the alleged manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of inventions by or for the Government. All communications asserting claims received by other agencies of the Department shall be sent to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, who will forward the same for processing under this subpart, to the chief legal or patent officer of the technical service which appears to have the dominant interest in the claim.

§ 598.405–4 Correspondence with claimant. No Delegate shall concede in writing, addressed to any claimant, potential claimant, or the representative of either, the merit or value of Such Claim, except so far as such concession may be embodied in an agreement executed by the United States in settlement and compromise thereof in compliance with the pertinent sections of this subpart. This is in keeping with the policy of the Department of the Army to furnish no information which might be used as the basis or in support of a claim against the Government. Upon receipt of a notice of infringement, the Delegate shall acknowledge receipt thereof. The following form of letter is authorized for that purpose, subject to such modifications as may be required by the nature of the claim presented:

[Letterhead of Delegate]

[Date]

JOHN DOE,
Title Guarantee Building,
Miami, Florida.

DEAR SIR:

Your letter to ---------- dated----------, 19----, stating that United States Letters Patent No. ------, granted (date of patent), to (patentee's full name), of (city and state), for "(title of invention)", is (are) infringed by (item or process allegedly being used by the Department of the Army), has been referred to this office for necessary action and direct reply.

I am directed by the Secretary of the Army to inform you that the matter presented in your letter will be carefully investigated and that you will be informed of the Department of the Army's conclusions upon completion of such investigation.

To aid in such investigation, it is requested that you furnish this office as promptly as possible the following information and material:

(1) Copy of the file wrapper and contents of the patent(s) in question.

(2) Copies of all patents and publications cited by the Patent Office during the prosecution of the application(s) for such patent(s).

(3) The names and addresses of licensees, if any.

(4) Copies of license agreements.

(5) Brief statement of any litigation in which the patent(s) have been or are now involved.

(6) List of all notices of infringement which you have sent to alleged infringers of the patent (except the alleged infringers included in your statement of litigation), including but not limited to any other departments and agencies of the Government.

Sincerely yours,

(Signature of Delegate)

§ 598.405–5 Clearance to investigate. (a) Promptly after receipt of a notice or report of Such a Claim the Delegate shall request in writing, from the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, clearance to investigate and to settle the same. Insofar as practicable, one Delegate shall represent the Department in the investigation and settlement of each Such Claim.

(b) Each request for clearance shall be submitted in eight copies and shall include the following:

(1) The name and address of each claimant or prospective claimant.

(2) The name and address of each contractor and subcontractor who is believed, to the extent disclosed by a cursory search in the headquarters of the Delegate, to have performed the alleged infringing acts.

(3) The number and date of each patent, and the serial number and filing date of each patent application involved.

(4) Description of the alleged infringing subject matter in sufficient detail to permit other procuring services to determine therefrom whether they have an interest in the matter.

(5) A copy of the communication from the claimant, if any.

(c) The Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, upon receipt of the request for clearance, shall determine (1) from his files, (2) from the Government Register of Patent Rights, U. S. Patent Office (provided for in Executive Order No. 9424, Feb. 18, 1944, 9 F. R. 1959), and (3) from the Department of Justice, whether the Department of the Army or any other department or agency of the Government has investigated or settled, or received a report or notice of, a claim pertaining to the same subject matter, and shall then grant such clearance in writing as appears proper.

(d) Upon granting of the clearance by the Chief, Patents Division, the Delegate granted clearance shall, in accordance with § 598.405–2 (a) (4), proceed on behalf of the Department of the Army to investigate the claim, and, if deemed appropriate by him, to settle the same pursuant to §§ 598.405–8 through 598.405–14.

(e) The Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, shall send copies of said request for clearance and of said clearance to the chief patent officer (or the chief legal officer, if there be no chief patent officer) of each of the Procuring Activities of the Department, except those which clearly would have no interest in or information pertinent to the matter. Each such officer to whom said copies are sent shall promptly investigate the procurement in his service and notify the Delegate to whom clearance has been issued of the interest, if any, of his service in the matter and of any pertinent information contained in his files. Negative reports should be made when justified by the facts. Where such report by a procuring service to the said Delegate refers to procurement of that service which is pertinent to Such Claim, the report shall include a description (with drawings, where necessary), of the procured matériel sufficient to enable the Delegate to determine whether such procurement constitutes infringement under Such Claim, together with said officer's opinion upon the question of infringement and the reasons therefor. Any chief patent or legal officer notified of the granting of clearance to a Delegate, who fails to make the above-mentioned report promptly to such Delegate shall be requested in writing by the Delegate to render such report. No claim shall be settled by a Delegate or a final report upon a nonsettled claim rendered pursuant to § 598.405–6 until reports are received by said Delegate from each chief patent or legal officer notified of the granting of the clearance, unless adequate explanation for the absence of any such report is presented.

§ 598.405–6 Final report by delegate where no settlement of claim is made. A final written report (in duplicate) of the results of the investigation made on behalf of the Department, including recommendations and conclusions of the Delegate on behalf of the Department will be made by him to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, with respect to each Such Claim in which (a) settlement is believed to be inadvisable, or (b) the Delegate has been unable to settle upon terms deemed reasonable by him, whether or not Such Claim is covered by an indemnity agreement. Each such report shall be clearly marked "Legal Memorandum for the Guidance of Administrative Officials," and, in addition, shall bear such military classification marking, if any, as shall be deemed appropriate by the technical service of the Delegate in accordance with the provisions of AR 380–5 (see Part 505 of this chapter), as amended. A copy of such report shall be forwarded by the Delegate to the Heads of all the interested Procuring Activities concurrently with transmittal of the original (and duplicate) to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG. This final report, which is to serve as a basis for compliance with the Act requiring reports to the Attorney General, i. e., section 188, Revised Statutes (see § 598.402–5), will include, so far as is relevant and practicable, all of the following information:

(a) Numbers and dates of all contracts and subcontracts for procurement of the item in question, together with the name and address of each contractor and subcontractor concerned, and the text of each contractor's agreement, if any, to indemnify the Government against liability for infringement, or a statement that there is no such indemnity agreement. This information is to include contracts of other Procuring Activities and other departments or agencies of the Government involved, if any.

(b) Extent and dates of alleged infringement.

(c) Statement as to whether the Government by a duly authorized agent or official has given its authorization or consent to the manufacture or use of the article, material, design, or process upon which Such Claim is or will be based.

(d) Statement of effective date of marking or of notice under the Patent Marking Statute, if pertinent (see § 598.402–2).

(e) Copies of patents alleged to be infringed or, in case Such Claim arises under the Air Corps Act (see § 598.402–4), claimant's disclosure of his design.

(f) Result of title search, including examination of Government Register of Patent Rights (Executive Order 9424, Feb. 18, 1944; par. 4, AR 25–10).

(g) A full and complete disclosure of the alleged infringing device, material, design, or process (including a detailed description thereof, together with drawings, photographs, and specimens in proper cases) sufficient to determine whether infringement is present.

(h) Report of date and extent of prior art searches in each of the following categories:

(1) Prior art patents and publications.

(2) Pending applications filed by the service conducting the investigation.

(3) Prior public uses.

(i) Copies of prior art patents and publications, and full and complete description (and where practicable, a drawing, sketch, photograph, or specimen) of prior uses relied upon by the Delegate.

(j) Statement of the extent to which royalties, if any, have been adjusted by the Department under the Royalty Adjustment Act (see § 598.402–6).

(k) Statement as to whether or not the manufacture or use of the invention occurred while the owner of the patent was in the employment or service of the Government.

(l) Statement as to whether or not the patent was based upon an invention made during the time the inventor was in the employment or service of the Government.

(m) Names and addresses of prospective witnesses (fact and expert) and, where pertinent to validity or infringement, signed statements of witnesses. Where a witness refuses to sign a statement, a statement of the interviewing officer setting forth the facts which the witness may be expected to state if called to testify.

(n) Conclusions regarding infringement (with respect to all departmental procurement involved) and reasons therefor.

(o) Conclusions regarding validity and reasons therefor. No conclusions regarding validity need be stated, if the Delegate's conclusions given under (n) above are that in his opinion there is clearly no infringement present.

(p) Conclusions regarding Government liability, the estimated money value of the claim, and an estimate of future procurement involving possible increase of the claim.

(q) Summary of unsuccessful negotiations for settlement, if any.

(r) Recommendations.

§ 598.405–7 Action and authority of the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG. (a) The Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, shall coordinate the processing under this subpart of Such Claims and may request such status reports from the Delegates as are necessary for this purpose.

(b) Upon receipt from a Delegate of a final report under § 598.405–6, the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, shall promptly review the same. In each case where a communication has been received in which Such a Claim is asserted, the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, shall write a letter to the claimant, or his representative, stating the final conclusions of the Department with respect to Such Claim, and shall send copies thereof to the Delegate and the Head of each interested Procuring Activity.

(c) If, upon reviewing the final report, the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, deems it advisable, he shall make a search of one or more of the following possible sources of additional prior art and, if the results of such search so indicate, he shall make a supplemental report, stating conclusions supplemental to the conclusions stated in the Delegate's final report, and send a copy of such supplemental report to the Delegate:

(1) Patent applications which are the subject of secrecy orders under the Secrecy Order Act (see § 598.402–3) in which the inventions disclosed therein have been tendered to the Government for its use.

(2) Patent applications filed by procuring services other than the investigating service.

(3) To the extent available, patent applications filed by other departments or agencies of the Government.

(d) If, upon reviewing the Delegate's final report, the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, disagrees with the conclusions regarding infringement or validity, he shall make a supplemental report stating his supplemental conclusions and send a copy of such supplemental report to the Delegate.

(e) Upon completion of the final report, the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, shall advise the Attorney General thereof.

§ 598.405–8 Available procedure for the settlement of Such Claims and procurement of invention and patent rights incident thereto. (a) The Delegate to whom the claim has been cleared may, subject to the availability of appropriations and allotments of funds in his service and subject to such rules and regulations governing the exercise of delegated powers as are or may from time to time be prescribed, settle Such Claim—

(1) By causing the United States to execute a contract of release, release and license, or release and assignment with the legal and equitable owner(s) providing for a payment or payments aggregating more than one dollar ($1.00) to be made by the Government under the provisions of §§ 598.405–9—598.405–14 (see § 598.406–9 and form suggested therein).

(2) By receiving from the legal and equitable owner(s), or by causing the United States to execute a contract of release, release and license, or release and assignment which does not provide for payments aggregating more than one dollar ($1.00) to be made to the Government (see § 598.406–8 and form suggested therein).

(b) No contract shall be made which includes a release of Such a Claim, or a license, which will inure to the benefit of a contractor who has agreed to indemnify the Government (see § 408.105 of this title and § 598.105) by releasing or discharging such contractor in whole or in part from his obligation of indemnity, unless such contractor is made a party to the contract and appropriate arrangements are made to the end that the contractor shall pay all money consideration flowing to the claimant or potential claimant which is attributable to that part of the release or license which benefits the contractor.

§ 598.405–9 Settlement with foreign claimants. No contract of settlement of patent infringement liability, or other liability for use of inventions, shall be made with a national of lend-lease beneficiary governments, or governments which are within the scope of the Mutual Defense Assistance Program, without first obtaining the written approval of the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG.

§ 598.405–10 Fiscal procedures. (a) An agreement to pay a fixed amount for the purchase of a paid up license and release or an assignment and release, or a release either by way of lump sum payment or an amount determinable at the time of execution of the contract, is subject to the provision that allotment of funds made for supplies will not be exceeded. Officers charged with making contracts will submit, prior to the incurrence of obligations, all proposed contracts to the fiscal officer for verification as to the sufficiency of funds for that purpose. The following statement will be included on the face of the contract:

The supplies and services to be obtained by this instrument are authorized by, are for the purpose set forth in, and are chargeable to the following allotments, the available balances of which are sufficient to cover the cost of the same.

(b) An agreement to pay running royalties on future procurement proportioned to use is not subject to the provision mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section, nor need the period of payment be limited to the period for which existing appropriations are available. The Comptroller General has ruled (MS. Comp. Gen. A–76676, dated May 5, 1937) that such an agreement takes effect only in connection with, and to the extent of, future procurement under the license, and if such procurement is within appropriations and allotments then existing, they will cover the royalty agreed to be paid in respect thereto.

(c) The annual military appropriations acts for a number of years have contained the following provision, or substantially its equivalent:

The appropriations contained in this Act for the Air Force, Navy, and for the Army, which are available for the procurement or manufacture of supplies, materials, and equipment of special or technical design may be used for the development and procurement of gages, dies, jigs, and other production data, including specifications and detailed drawings, and for the purchase of copyrights and Letters Patent, applications therefor, and licenses thereunder pertaining to such supplies, equipment, and materials for which the appropriations are made.

These funds are available for the payment for releases, licenses, and assignments entered into in accordance with the provisions of these paragraphs; Provided, however, That no payment shall be made for the release of Such a Claim or any portion of Such a Claim the liability for which is barred by the statute of limitations or by other statute.

(d) In cases where it is determined to be in the interest of the Government to settle Such a Claim where no funds therefor are available or appropriated, the settlement contract shall be made with the payment being conditioned upon availability of appropriations, and request for appropriations for the purpose shall be made through the appropriate fiscal channels.

§ 598.405–11 Disclosure of information to claimants and their representatives. In order that settlements advantageous to the Government may be secured, any Delegate holding the powers, duties, and authorities of § 598.404–2, and any authorized representative of such Delegate, may, in the performance of his official duties and when he has reason to believe that such action would be to the advantage of the United States, disclose to the claimant, potential claimant, or authorized representative of either, any facts or matter of evidence which appear to bear upon his claim or its value, except as considerations of military security may indicate such disclosure would be inadvisable.

§ 598.405–12 Contracts requiring approval. Approval by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, is required of all contracts made under the provisions of this subpart whether or not executed by the Government, under the following conditions:

(a) Where the contract provides for total payments by the Government aggregating $25,000 or more.

(b) Where any of the following listed contract clauses are omitted from the class of contract specified for their use, or deviate from the form prescribed or authorized therein:

"Non-Estoppel" Clause (see § 598.406–5).

"Protection Against Unjust Payments" Clause (see § 598.406–6 (f)).

"Reserved Rights" Clause (see § 598.406–6 (g)).

(c) The scope of the license with respect to domestic practice is limited to:

(1) A term less than the life of any patent involved.

(2) Any particular governmental purpose.

(3) Less than all governmental agencies on the same terms.

(4) Disposition rights otherwise than according to law.

(d) Where the rights obtained are a release of past infringement only.

(e) In contracts for payment of running royalties, where no provision for termination by the Government is included, or where the period in which such termination may be made is longer than one year.

(f) If the contract conveys to the Government license rights under an issued patent and does not contain a release of past infringement of substantially the same scope as the contract clause prescribed in § 598.406–4.

§ 598.405–13 Submission of contracts for approval. (a) When a contract made under the provisions of this subpart requires the approval of the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, it shall be submitted to that office, with the number of copies desired approved and returned. There shall also be submitted with the contract a memorandum of facts signed by the Delegate containing the following:

(1) Identification and brief description of the subject matter of the patent, patent application, or invention involved in the claim being settled.

(2) Date of clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, to investigate and to negotiate settlement of the claim, if deemed advisable.

(3) A brief statement of the Delegate's conclusions regarding validity and infringement and the reasons therefor.

(4) A statement of the extent of Government use of the invention(s), including the estimated money value of the claim, if any, and an estimate of future procurement, if any, involving possible increase of the amount of the claim.

(5) Specific reference to the sections of this Procedure which require the approval of the contract.

(6) Reasons for omission of, or deviation in, any prescribed contract clause, if such be the fact, together with statement of efforts made to obtain inclusion of such contract clause or acceptance thereof in its prescribed form. If there is a deviation in a prescribed contract clause, the deviation shall be pointed out preferably by a composite draft of the clause, showing new material added, by underscoring, and matter deleted, by lining out such deleted matter.

(7) Recommendation that the contract be approved and the reasons therefor.

(b) Concurrently with the above action, there shall be forwarded to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, a copy of the contract and said memorandum of facts.

§ 598.405–14 Contract numbering and distribution. (a) The Department will obtain the original and at least one executed duplicate original of each license, assignment, and release made under the provisions of these paragraphs.

(b) Licenses, assignments, and releases which are executed by the Government shall be numbered, if the actual or estimated amount involved is $5,000 or more, or it is contemplated that more than one payment (or receipt) will be involved, regardless of the amount involved.

(c) The original of every license, assignment, and release, except those which do not involve the payment of money to the contractor, shall be forwarded by the Delegate to the Chief, Audit Division, General Accounting Office, Room 506, Old Office Building, Twelfth and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. C.

(d) The original or the executed duplicate original of every license, assignment, and release, together with a second copy (photostatic preferred), shall be transmitted without delay by the Delegate to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, for recording in the United States Patent Office under Executive Order 9424, February 18, 1944 (9 F. R. 1959), and for permanent filing thereafter. In transmitting each such instrument for recording, the Delegate will indicate in which of the following three Government registers maintained by the Patent Office, the instrument should be recorded:

(1) The register open to examination by the general public.

(2) The register available for examination and inspection only by duly authorized representatives of the Government.

(3) The secret register, access to which may be had only upon written authority from the head of the department or agency which submitted the instrument and requested secrecy (9 F. R. 4159).

(e) Each instrument shall be forwarded for recording with a memorandum or letter setting forth the following information:

(1) The name of the claimant and the name of the releasor, licensor, or assignor.

(2) The patentee or inventor's name.

(3) The number of the patent or serial number of the patent application involved.

(4) Date of issue of the patent or filing date of the application.

(5) Date of clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, to investigate and settle the claim involved (see § 598.405–5).

(6) A statement that the instrument effects settlement of the claim for which the above clearance was granted.

(f) A copy of each license which provides for the payment of running royalties shall be transmitted by the Delegate to each of the Heads of the Procuring Activities for the attention of the chief legal or patent officer thereof. Receipt of such copy shall place the recipient Head of a Procuring Activity on notice that future procurement of the licensed subject matter requires the payment of royalties to the licensor (see § 598.406–6 (c)). Heads of the Procuring Activities shall notify, or cause to be notified, procurement and price analysis offices affected.

§ 598.406 Contract clauses and forms. The following contract clauses and forms are applicable to contracts for the settlement of infringement claims.

§ 598.406–1 Mandatory contract clauses. The following clauses shall be used in all contracts except as otherwise indicated in the instructions preceding the clause.

(a) The "Officials Not to Benefit" clause (see § 406.103–19 of this title) in every license, assignment, and release which is executed by the Government.

(b) The "Covenant against Contingent Fees" clause (see § 406.103–20 of this title) in every license, assignment, and release which is executed by the Government.

(c) The "Assignment of Claims" clause (see § 406.103–8 of this title) if the contract provides for payments by the Government aggregating $1,000 or more.

(d) The "Nondiscrimination in Employment" clause (see § 406.103–18 of this title) if the performance of the contract involves the employment of persons by the contractor.

(e) The "Disputes" clause (see § 406.103–12 of this title) if the contract calls for payments by the Government aggregating $20,000. This clause is recommended for inclusion in contracts of smaller amount.

§ 598.406–2 The license grant clauses. The contract clauses set forth below are suggested forms for expressing the license grant:

(a) The following clause is suggested for all contracts except those for the payment of running royalties:

LICENSE

(a) Contractor agrees to and does hereby grant and convey to the Government, an irrevocable, nonexclusive, nontransferable and paid up license under the following patent(s) [and application(s) for patent] to practice and cause to be practiced for the Government any and all of the inventions thereof in the manufacture, use and disposition of any article or material, and in the use of any method, in accordance with law:

U. S. Patent No. ---------- Date ---------

Application Serial No. ---------- Filing date ----------

[together with corresponding foreign patents and applications for patent, insofar as Contractor has the right to grant licenses thereunder].

(b) Nothing contained herein shall limit any rights which the Government may have obtained by virtue of prior contracts or by operation of law or otherwise.

(b) In contracts requiring the payment of running royalties, the license will ordinarily be limited by licensor to the Department or agency agreeing to pay royalties. The following contract clause is designed for this purpose:

LICENSE

(a) Contractor agrees to and does hereby grant and convey to the Government, as represented by the Secretary of the Army, an irrevocable, nonexclusive, nontransferable license under the following patent(s) [and application(s) for patent] to practice by the Department of the Army and cause to be practiced for the Department of the Army any and all of the inventions thereof in the manufacture, use and disposition of any article or material, and in the use of any method, in accordance with law:

U. S. Patent No. ---------- Date ---------

Application Serial No. ---------- Filing date ----------

[together with corresponding foreign patents and applications for patent, so far as Contractor has the right to grant licenses thereunder].

(b) Nothing contained herein shall limit any rights which the Government may have obtained by virtue of prior contracts or by operation of law or otherwise.

§ 598.406–3 The license term clauses. The contract clauses set forth below are suggested forms for expressing the license term:

(a) One or the other of the following alternative clauses is suggested for all contracts except those for the payment of running royalties. Alternate A is for the full term of the patent and Alternate B contains provisions necessary for the protection of the Government where there is a right to terminate the license short of the full term of the patent.

TERMS

[Alternate A]

The license hereby granted shall remain in full force and effect for the full term of the patent(s) referred to above [and any and all patents hereafter issued on applications for patent referred to above].

[Alternate B]

The license hereby granted shall terminate on the ------ day of ---------- 19----; provided, however, that said termination shall be without prejudice to the completion of any contract entered into by the Government prior to said date of termination or to the use or disposition thereafter of any articles or materials manufactured by or for the Government under this license.

(b) The following clause is for use in contracts for the payment of running royalties which must necessarily include the right to terminate on the part of the Government:

TERM

The License hereby granted shall remain in full force and effect for the full term(s) of the patent(s) referred to above [and any and all patents hereafter issued on applications for patent referred to above] unless sooner terminated as elsewhere herein provided.

§ 598.106–4 Release of past infringement clause. The following clause shall be included in all contracts granting rights to the Government under a patent already issued, made under the provisions of this subpart:

RELEASE OF PAST INFRINGEMENT

Contractor agrees to and does hereby release each and every claim and demand which contractor now has or may hereafter have against the Government, its officers, agents, servants and employees, for infringement by or for the Government of [(1)] any of the patents and applications for patent specifically identified in this contract, [(2) and any other patent or application for patent now owned or hereafter acquired by contractor, insofar as and to the extent only as such other patent or patent application covers the manufacture, use or disposition of (description of subject matter)], by reason of the manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of any article or material, or the use of any process covered by said patents or applications for patent, occurring prior to the date of this contract, and by reason of the use, sale, or other disposition thereafter of any article or material manufactured or contracted for prior to the date of this contract.

NOTE: Bracketed portions of the foregoing clause may be omitted when not appropriate or not encompassed by the release as negotiated.

§ 598.406–5 Non-estoppel clause. The following clause shall be included in all contracts made under the provisions of this subpart, except that it may be omitted when the consideration payable by the Government for the contract is not more than $1.00 and the contract conveys to the Government (a) a release of not substantially less scope than that contained in § 598.406–4, and (b) a license for the full term of the licensed patents and patents issued on the patent applications or an assignment of not substantially less scope (except for foreign rights) than that contained in § 598.406–7.

NON-ESTOPPEL

Contractor agrees that the Government shall not be estopped at any time to contest the enforceability, validity or scope of, or the title to, any patent or patent application herein licensed,[1] [but this provision shall not be deemed to modify or avoid the obligation of the Government to pay royalties as elsewhere herein provided].[2]

§ 598.406–6 Contracts providing for the payment of a running royalty. The following instructions and provisions are special to contracts providing for the payment of a running royalty:

(a) Since the license requires the payment of royalties based upon procurement, and is not to be available to other agencies of the Government except upon the conditions specified in paragraph (e) of this section, the license grant is appropriately limited to the practice of the invention by or for the Department. For the appropriate "License Grant" Clause, see § 598.406–2 (b).

(b) The license term shall be made terminable by the Government. It may be terminable on conditions such as specified in the "Reserved Rights" Clause (see paragraph (g) below), or on giving of a specified period of notice, or at fixed times. In any event, it shall contain the right to the Government to terminate at the expiration of six months. For the appropriate "License Term" Clause, see § 598.406–3 (b).

[1] The word "licensed" is appropriately changed to "assigned" in assignment contracts.

[2] The bracketed part is to be omitted except in contracts for payment of running royalties.

(c) Computation of royalties. The contract clause providing for the computation of royalties may be of varying scope. The following alternative clauses are suggested (Alternate A is based upon a percentage of the cost of the articles or materials; Alternate B is based upon a fixed amount per item):

COMPUTATION OF ROYALTIES

[ALTERNATE A]

Royalties shall accrue under this contract in favor of Contractor, subject to payment thereof at the times and subject to the limitation hereinafter stated on all articles or materials embodying or manufactured by the use of any or all of the inventions licensed herein, upon acceptance thereof by the Department of the Army (whether made by or for the Department of the Army), at the rate of ------ percent of the Cost (as hereinafter defined) of such articles or materials to the Government. "Cost," as used in this paragraph means (1) in respect of articles or materials purchased by or for the Department of the Army, the purchase price of such articles or materials, except that in cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts it means the estimated cost as defined in such contract, and (2) in respect of articles or materials made by the Department of the Army, the actual cost of direct labor and materials without allowance for overhead or supervision.

[ALTERNATE B]

Royalties shall accrue under this contract in favor of Licensor, subject to payment thereof at the times and subject to the limitation hereinafter stated, on all articles and materials embodying or made by the use of any or all of the inventions licensed herein, upon acceptance thereof by the Department of the Army (whether made by or for the Department of the Army), at the rate of ------ (¢) cents per [name of item].

(d) Reporting and payment of royalties. (1) The contract must contain a provision designating the chief of the technical service of the Delegate as the officer designated to make reports to the Contractor of the extent of use of the licensed subject matter by the entire Department, and such chief shall be charged with the responsibility of obtaining from all Procuring Activities the information necessary to make the required reports and the corresponding vouchers to make the required payments. The following clause is suggested for this purpose:

REPORTING AND PAYMENT OF ROYALTIES

(a) The [chief of technical service] shall, on or before the 60th day next following the end of each half yearly period ending June 30 and December 31 during which royalties have accrued under this license, deliver to Contractor a report in writing stating the number of articles and the amounts of materials accepted by the Department of the Army during said half yearly period on which royalties have accrued under this contract, and the Cost thereof.

(b) Royalties which have accrued under this contract during each half yearly period ending June 30 and December 31 shall be paid to Contractor, provided appropriations therefor are available, within 60 days next following the end of each such period; provided, however, that the Government shall not be obligated to pay, in respect of any such half yearly period, an amount greater than ---------- (¢------) Dollars.

(2) In the event military security prohibits the disclosure of the quantity of production by reports or payments to the Licensor the Delegate may negotiate an appropriate substitute for the suggested "Royalties" Clause, for example, agreed lump sum yearly or half yearly payments with final settlement in accordance with actual production to be made within six months after termination of hostilities.

(3) Note § 598.405–14 (f) for instructions concerning furnishing copy of license to each Procuring Activity.

(e) License to other Government agencies. No department other than the Department of the Army shall be committed to such obligation unless the contract has been signed in behalf of each other department or agency of the Government similarly obligated. The following clause may be included in each contract of this type to accomplish the foregoing purpose:

LICENSE TO OTHER GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

(a) Contractor hereby agrees to grant a separate license under the patents, applications for patents, and improvements referred to in Article 1 hereof, on the same terms and conditions as appear in this license, to any department or agency of the Government other than the Department of the Army at any time on receipt of written request for such a license from such department or agency, provided, however, that as to royalties which accrue under such separate licenses, reports and payments will be made by such department or agency directly to Contractor and not by the [Head of Procuring Activity]. Contractor shall notify the [Head of Procuring Activity] promptly upon receipt of any request for license hereunder.

(b) When two or more departments or agencies shall have subscribed to this license, such agencies shall jointly make the report of royalties called for by subparagraph (a) of Article ------. The royalties payable by such departments or agencies shall be combined for the purpose of computing the Government's total half yearly obligation as set forth in subparagraph (b) of Article ------. When such combined royalties exceed the said total half yearly obligation, each Department or agency shall pay the pro rata share of the said total half yearly obligation as determined by the proportion its accrued royalties bear to the combined total of accrued royalties.

(f) Protection against unjust payments. The following clause shall be included in each contract providing for the payment of running royalties:

PROTECTION AGAINST UNJUST PAYMENTS

(a) If any license has been or shall hereafter be granted under substantially the same patents and authorizing substantially the same acts which are authorized under this contract within the United States, on royalty terms which are in any respect more favorable to the licensee than those contained herein, the Government shall be entitled to the benefit of such more favorable terms with respect to all royalties accruing under this license after the date such more favorable terms become effective, and Contractor shall promptly notify the Secretary of the Army in writing of the granting of such more favorable terms.

(b) The Government shall have the right, notwithstanding any other provision of this contract, to terminate the within license by giving notice in writing to Contractor specifying a date when such termination is to be effective; termination of said license in the manner aforesaid may, as specified in such notice, take effect either in whole or insofar as said license applies to any specified service or command of the Department of the Army or to any specified article, material or method, or to the extent that rights are granted under any specified patent or the specified claims of any patent; and if any part of the said license is thus terminated the rights of the Government to enjoy or to terminate other parts thereof shall be in no wise prejudiced thereby.

(c) In the event any claim of any patent hereby licensed is construed or held invalid by decision of a court of competent jurisdiction, the requirement to pay royalties under this contract insofar as it arises solely by reason of such claim, and any other claim not materially different therefrom, shall be interpreted in conformity with the court's decision as to the scope or validity of such claims; provided, however, that in the event such decision is modified or reversed on appeal, the requirement to pay royalties under this license shall be interpreted in conformity with the final decision rendered on such appeal.

(g) Reserved rights. The following clause shall be included in each contract providing for the payment of running royalties:

RESERVED RIGHTS

Nothing herein contained shall limit the right of the head of any other department (as hereinafter defined) to give notice under the Royalty Adjustment Act (Public Law 768—77th Cong., 35 U. S. C. 89–96) if at any time it is believed that royalties payable by others under the patents herein licensed, and which are charged or chargeable to the Government in connection with the procurement of supplies, equipment, or materials by any other department, are unreasonable or excessive, nor shall the head of any other department be deemed to have approved the rates or amounts of royalties specified herein. "Any other department" as used in this paragraph means all departments and agencies of the Government other than the Department of the Army.

(h) Non-estoppel variation. See § 598.406–5 for variation in form of this clause for use in contracts providing for the payment of running royalties.

§ 598.406–7 Assignments. The following contract provision and instructions are special to contracts of assignment of patent rights to the Government:

(a) A suggested title-transferring or assignment clause is set forth below. The bracketed portions of the clause may be omitted when such portions are not appropriate.

ASSIGNMENT

Contractor agrees to and does hereby sell, assign, and transfer to the Government and its assigns, as represented by the Secretary of the Army, the entire right, title and interest in and to the following patent(s) [and application(s) for patent], in and to the invention(s) thereof, and in and to all claims and demands whatsoever for infringement thereof heretofore occurred, the same to be held and enjoyed by the Government through its duly appointed representatives to the full end of the term of said patent(s) [and to the full end of the term(s) of all patents which may be granted upon said application(s) for patent or upon any division, renewal or continuation thereof] as fully and entirely as the same would have been held by Contractor had this assignment not been made:

U. S. Patent No.	Date	Name of inventor

U. S. Application Serial No.	Filing date	Name of inventor

[together with corresponding foreign patents and applications for patent, insofar as Contractor has the right to assign the same.]

(b) To facilitate proof of the contract the acknowledgment of each Contractor should preferably be executed by a notary public or other officer to administer oaths under section 1750 of the Revised Statutes (22 U. S. C. 131) (See Rule 331 of the Rules of Practice in the United States Patent Office, March 1, 1949).

§ 598.406–8 Unilateral contract form; gratuitous grants. (a) Numerous patent owners, for the purpose of assisting national defense, have, voluntarily and also upon the request of the Government, granted and are continuing to grant releases, royalty-free licenses and assignments to the Government to practice the inventions secured by their patents and applications for patent. Under these conditions or when the payments to be made by the Government under the contract do not aggregate more than $1.00, it is unnecessary for the Government to execute the contract, but in the event it is executed by the Government the appropriate mandatory articles must be included. (See § 598.406–1.)

(b) The following unilateral contract form for such gratuitous grants is suggested:

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

PATENT RELEASE AND LICENSE CONTRACT

This contract, made this ------ day of ---------- 195–, by ---------- (hereinafter called Contractor),[1] a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of ----------,[1] a partnership consisting of ----------,[1] an individual trading as ---------- of the City of ---------- in the State of ---------- in favor of the United States of America (hereinafter called the Government), as Promisee, witnesseth that

Whereas, to aid the national defense and promote the common welfare, numerous patent owners have, upon request of the Government, granted and are continuing to grant releases and royalty-free licenses to the Government to practice the inventions secured by their patents and applications for patents (hereinafter called "such inventions"),

Whereas, the Government has utilized many such inventions for the purposes aforesaid and is desirous of obtaining further releases and royalty-free licenses including this release and license, and

Whereas, this contract is authorized by section 3 of the act of October 31, 1942 (Pub. Law 768, 77th Cong. 35 U. S. C. 89–96);

Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises and of the grant by other patent owners of like releases and licenses to the Government, Contractor has agreed as follows:

ARTICLE 1. [License] [Assignment].

(a) Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–2 (a) for a license.

(b) Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–7 (a) for an assignment.

ARTICLE 2. Term. Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–3 (a) for a license. A separate "Term" clause is not required when using the "Assignment" clause of § 598.406–7 (a).

ARTICLE 3. Release of past infringement. Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–4.

ARTICLE 4. Nonestopped. Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–5.

Successors and assigns. This contract shall be binding upon Contractor, its successors[2] and assigns.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the grant release and agreements hereinafter recited the parties have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE 1. [License Grant] [Release] [Assignment]. (Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–2 (a) for paid-up license.)

(Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–2 (b) for a license on a running royalty basis.)

(Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–4 for a Release only.)

(Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–7 for an assignment.)

ARTICLE 2. Term. (Use the appropriate alternative clause of § 598.406–3 (a) for a paid-up license.)

(Use the clause of § 598.406–3 (b) for a license on a running royalty basis.)

(A "Term" provision is never required for a Release. In a Contract of Assignment, the "Term" is set forth in the "Assignment" clause required by § 598.406–7 (a).

ARTICLE 3. Release of past infringement. Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–4 where this is in addition to a license or an assignment.

ARTICLE 4. Non-Estoppel. Use the clause set forth in § 598.406–5.

ARTICLE 5. Payment.

(1) Use the following clause for a paid-up license, release or assignment:

ARTICLE 5. Payment. Contractor shall be paid the sum of ---------- ($------) Dollars in full compensation for the rights herein granted and agreed to be granted.

(2) For a license on a running royalty basis, use the appropriate alternative clause from § 598.406–6 (c), and also use the clauses as specified in §§ 598.406–4 (d) to 598.406–6 (g).

ARTICLE 6. Officials not to benefit. (See § 406.103–19 of this title.)

ARTICLE 7. Covenants against contingent fees. (See § 406.103–20 of this title.)

ARTICLE 8. Assignment of claims. (See § 406.103–8 of this title.)

ARTICLE 9. Non-discrimination clause. (See § 406.103–18 of this title.)

ARTICLE 10. Disputes clause. (See § 406.–103–12 of this title.)

ARTICLE 11. Successors and assigns. This [agreement] shall be binding upon Contractor, its successors[2] and assigns, but nothing contained in this Article shall authorize an assignment of any claim upon the Government otherwise than as permitted by law.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have executed this contract as of the day and year first above written.

SUBPART E—PROCUREMENT OF INVENTION AND PATENT RIGHTS

§ 598.500 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth the policy of the Department, applicable statutes, administrative requirements and procedures, and other pertinent information pertaining to the procurement of invention and patent rights, except as an incident to the settlement of claims for the use of inventions which is provided for in Subpart D of this part. This subpart also includes suggested contract forms for the procurement of the aforementioned rights, and mandatory and suggested articles to be used in said contracts. (See § 598.150 pertaining to this subject.) It implements Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title generally rather than a specific section or part thereof.

§ 598.501 Definitions. As used in this subpart, the terms in §§ 598.501–1 through 598.501–4 have the meanings set forth therein:

§ 598.501–1 Chief, patents Division, OJAG. The term "Chief, Patents Division, OJAG" means the Chief, Patents Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 598.501–2 Delegate. The term "Delegate" means any office, board, agency or officer to whom the powers, duties, and authorities set forth in § 598.404–2 have been delegated.

§ 598.501–3 Proffered License or Assignment. "Proffered License or Assignment" means a license or an assignment which is offered to the Department by the owner of an invention.

§ 598.501–4 Proposed License or Assignment. "Proposed License or Assignment" means a license or assignment the acquisition of which is initiated or proposed to the owner by the Department.

§ 598.502 Applicable statutes.

§ 598.502–1 The Royalty Adjustment Act. This act (see § 598.402–6), among other things, authorizes the head of any department or agency of the Government to enter into an agreement with the owner of an invention (whether patented or unpatented) for compensation to be paid such owner based upon contemplated future manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of such invention by or for the Government. Such agreements, however, are subject to the approval of the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, in each case when that approval is required by § 598.505–8.

§ 598.502–2 Annual National Military Establishment Appropriation Act. The annual military appropriation act, for a number of years, has contained the provision quoted in § 598.405–10 (c) relating to the availability of funds appropriated thereby for the purchase of licenses (with or without a release from liability for any past infringement) and assignments (with or without a release) entered into in accordance with the provisions of this subpart: Provided, however, That no part of any such payment shall be made for a release from liability for any past infringement for which recovery is barred by the statute of limitations or other statute.

§ 598.503 General policy. In order to avoid infringement of privately owned rights in inventions and under U. S. patents and to avoid litigation and attendant nonproductive time, the policy of the Department is to obtain necessary rights under patents and applications for patents which are pertinent to contemplated future procurement activities, in cases where it is in the interest of the Government to do so and the desired rights can be obtained at not more than their fair value. In furtherance of this policy (a) each license or assignment of rights under patents or applications for patents proffered to the Department by the owner thereof, and (b) each license or assignment proposed by the Department, shall be processed for consideration on behalf of the Department in accordance with the instructions contained in such of §§ 598.505–2 through 598.505–5 hereof as are applicable to the particular type of license or assignment (proffered or proposed). If, following such consideration, it is believed that any patent included in such license or assignment covers contemplated procurement and is valid and enforceable, and it is deemed advisable by the Delegate or the Contracting Officer to whom the matter has been cleared, efforts shall be made to consummate an appropriate license or assignment with said owner pursuant to the instructions and procedures set forth in §§ 598.505–6 through 598.505–10.

§ 598.504 Authority and Delegations. The statutory authority of the Secretary of the Army to delegate his power to enter into license and assignment agreements, as set forth in §§ 598.404–2 and 598.502–1, and to prescribe necessary rules and regulations in this connection, is stated in § 598.404–1. Section 598.301–10 lists the offices, boards, agencies, and officers (herein called "Delegates") to whom such power has been delegated. The prescribed rules and regulations appear in §§ 598 505 through 598.505–10.

§ 598.505 Prescribed regulations.

§ 598.505–1 Duties of the chiefs of technical services. (a) The chief of each technical service, or such other Delegate within his service as he may designate, is charged with the duty of taking appropriate action with respect to each Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment pertaining to the procurement responsibilities of his service promptly after knowledge thereof has been brought to his attention. Such action includes:

(1) Writing the invention owner or his representative, in the case of a Proffered License or Assignment, acknowledging receipt of the communication in which the license is proffered (a suggested form of acknowledgment appears in § 598.505–3); in the case of a Proposed License or Assignment, writing the invention owner, at the appropriate time, to ascertain the terms upon which the Proposed License or Assignment may be obtained.

(2) Requesting clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, to consider each Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment and to procure such License or Assignment on behalf of the Department, pursuant to § 598.505–4.

(3) Considering each such Proffered License or Assignment upon clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, and, if deemed appropriate by the Delegate, procuring such Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment pursuant to §§ 598 505–6 through 598 505–10.

(4) Preparing and transmitting to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, pursuant to § 598.505–5, a final report with respect to each such Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment which is not procured.

(5) Effecting the required distribution of each such Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment procured, pursuant to § 598.505–10.

(b) The actions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, and wherever referred to elsewhere in this subpart, may be performed by an authorized representative of the Delegate, including Contracting Officers.

§ 598.505–2 Reporting of proffered and contemplated licenses and assignments. The chief of each technical service shall issue necessary instructions to all officers and employees of his service to provide for prompt submission to the chief legal or patent officer in the headquarters of his service of (a) all communications received in his service from patent owners proffering licenses and assignments, and (b) all contemplated licenses and assignments initiated in his service which it is proposed be procured from the owners of inventions by the Department. All communications proffering licenses and assignments received by other agencies of the Department (e. g. Office of The Adjutant General, boards and committees not under the jurisdiction of the procuring services, etc.) shall be sent to the Chief, Patents Division, who will forward the same, for processing under this subpart, to the chief legal or patent officer of the procuring service appearing to have the principal interest in the license or assignment. Such other agencies shall issue necessary instructions in this connection.

§ 598.505–3 Correspondence with invention owner or his representative. Upon receipt of a communication from an invention owner or his representative, proffering a license or an assignment, the Delegate shall acknowledge receipt thereof. The following form of letter is suggested for such purpose, subject to such modifications and additions as may be required by the nature of the license or assignment offered and the desire, if any, of the Delegate for additional information to aid in considering the offer, such as the names and addresses of any licensees, copies of their license agreements, etc.:

[Letterhead of Delegate]

[Date]

JOHN DOE
Title Guarantee Building,
Miami, Florida.

DEAR SIR:

Your letter to ---------- dated ---------- 19----, offering [to grant a nonexclusive license to (the Department of the Army) under] [1] [to assign to the Government the entire right, title, and interest in] [1] U. S. Letters Patent No. ---------, granted (date of patent), to (patentee's full name), of (city and state), for "(Title of Invention)", at suitable terms to be agreed upon, has been referred to this office for necessary action and direct reply.

I am directed by the Secretary of the Army to inform you that your offer will be carefully considered and that you will be notified of the Department of the Army's conclusions in this connection upon completion of such consideration.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature of Delegate]

[1] The applicable bracketed part should be used.

§ 598.505–4 Clearance to consider and procure licenses and assignments. (a) Promptly after (1) receipt of a communication proffering a license or an assignment, or (2) a determination has been reached to endeavor to obtain a license or an assignment from a patent owner, the Delegate shall request in writing from the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, clearance to consider and procure such Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment on behalf of the Department.

(b) Each request for clearance shall be submitted in eight copies and shall include the following:

(1) The name and address of the invention owner.

(2) The number and date of each patent and the serial number and filing date of each patent application involved, and the inventor's name.

(3) A copy of the communication from the patent owner (or his representative) making the offer, if any.

(4) Description of the subject matter of the patent (or application) in such detail to permit other Procuring Activities to determine therefrom whether they have any interest in the matter.

(5) A résumé of the nature and terms of the Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment, and a copy of such License or Assignment, if any.

(6) The names of any other Procuring Activities of the Department which might be interested in the Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment, and a statement as to the probable interest of the Departments of the Navy and the Air Force in the matter.

(7) Any other pertinent information to aid other possibly interested Department of Defense agencies in determining whether they have any interest in the matter.

(c) The Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, upon receipt of the request for clearance, shall determine from his files whether the Government has any license or other interest in the title to any patent or patent application involved, and shall then grant such clearance in writing as appears proper, including therein any pertinent information in his files.

(d) Upon the granting of such clearance to a Delegate, the Delegate shall, in accordance with § 598.505–1 (a) (3) and on behalf of the Department, proceed to consider the Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment and, if deemed advisable by him, following coordination with any other interested Department of Defense agencies, to procure the same pursuant to the provisions of §§ 598.505–6 through 598.505–10.

(e) The Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, shall send copies of said request for clearance and of the clearance to the chief patent officer (or the chief legal officer if there be no chief patent officer) of each of the Procuring Activities of the Department, excepting those which clearly would have no interest in the matter, but including any such services referred to by the Delegate in the clearance request. Each such officer to whom said copies are sent shall promptly inform the Delegate to whom clearance has been issued of the interest, if any, of his service in the matter and of any pertinent information in his file (negative reports should be made when justified by the facts). The Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, shall also send copies of said clearance request and clearance to the Deputy Chief of Naval Research for Patents, Office of the Chief of Naval Research, Department of the Navy, and to the Chief, Patents Branch, Office of the Judge Advocate General, Department of the Air Force, together with a request that said Delegate be informed promptly of the interest, if any, of their Departments in the matter, and of any pertinent information in their files, in order to avoid unnecessary duplication of work on corresponding Proffered and Proposed Licenses and Assignments in the Department of Defense and to endeavor to procure licenses and assignments in keeping with the interests of all of said Departments involved.

(f) Any chief patent or legal officer notified of the granting of clearance to a Delegate who fails to make the abovementioned report promptly to such Delegate, shall be requested in writing by the Delegate to render such report. The Delegate shall make similar requests of the Departments of the Navy and the Air Force in the absence of prompt reports from said Departments. No Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment shall be procured by a Delegate or a final report rendered (pursuant to § 598.505–5) with respect to such License or Assignment which is not procured, until reports are received by said Delegate from each chief patent or legal officer notified of the granting of the clearance, unless adequate explanation for the absence of any such report is presented.

§ 598.505–5 Final report by delegate where no license or assignment is procured. A final report (in duplicate) of the results of the consideration on behalf of the Department, including a statement of the final conclusions and the final action of the Delegate relative thereto on behalf of the Department, will be made by the Delegate to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, with respect to each such Proffered or Proposed License or Assignment procurement of which (a) is believed by the Delegate to be inadvisable or, (b) the Delegate is unable to accomplish upon terms deemed reasonable by him. Copies of such report shall be forwarded by the Delegate to the chiefs of all the interested procuring services of the Department and to the Departments of the Navy and the Air Force (i. e. to the officials referred to in § 598.505–4 (e)) concurrently with transmittal of the original to the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG.

§ 598.505–6 Available procedure for the procurement of licenses and assignments. The Delegate to whom clearance has been granted by the Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, may procure a desired license or assignment, with or without a release of past infringement, as set forth in § 598.405–8 (a), subject to the restrictions of § 598.405–8 (b).

§ 598.505–7 Fiscal procedures. The fiscal procedures, provisions and requirements set forth in § 598.405–10 are applicable to the procurement of a license (with or without a release) or an assignment (with or without a release).

§ 598.505–8 Contracts of license and assignment requiring approval. The requirements of § 598.405–12 with respect to approval by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, of all contracts made under the provisions of Subpart D of this part under said specified conditions, are also applicable to all contracts made under the provisions of this subpart under such conditions.

§ 598.505–9 Submission of contracts for approval. The requirements of § 598.405–13 relative to the submission for approval of contracts made under the provisions of Subpart D of this part also apply to contracts made under the provisions of this subpart and required to be submitted for approval to the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, including the required memorandum of facts from the Delegate with paragraphs (a) (1)–(4) thereof changed to read:

(1) Identification and brief description of the subject matter of the patent or patent application involved in the license or assignment.

(2) Date of clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, to consider the license or assignment and to procure the same, if deemed advisable.

(3) Brief statement of the Delegate's conclusions regarding (i) potential infringement of the patent by contemplated future Department of Defense procurement and (ii) the validity of the patent, including the reasons therefor.

(4) Statement of the estimated extent of contemplated future Department of Defense procurement involving use of the invention, including the estimated money value of a potential claim for infringement of the patent based upon such procurement, broken down according to the Departments of the Army, the Navy and the Air Force.

§ 598.505–10 Contract numbering and distribution. The requirements of § 598.405–14, pertaining to contracts made under the provisions of Subpart D of this part, apply to contracts of license and assignment made under the provisions of this part, including the required memorandum or letter referred to in § 598.405–14 (e) with the following items changed to read as indicated below:

(1) The name of the licensor or assignor.

(5) Date of clearance from Chief, Patents Division, OJAG, to consider and procure the license or assignment.

(6) A statement that the instrument procured constitutes the license or assignment for which the above clearance was granted.

§ 598.506 Contract clauses and forms. The following contract clauses and forms are applicable to contracts of license and assignment:

§ 598.506–1 Mandatory contract clauses. The clauses listed in § 598.406–1 shall be used in all contracts, except as otherwise indicated in the instructions preceding the clause.

§ 598.506–2 The license grant clauses. The clauses set forth in § 598.406–2 are suggested forms for expressing the license grant.

§ 598.506–3 The license term clauses. The clauses set forth in § 598.406–3 are suggested forms for expressing the license term.

§ 598.506–4 Release of past infringement clause. The clause set forth in § 598.406–4 shall be included in all contracts granting rights to the Government under a patent already issued, made under the provisions of this subpart, unless its omission or modification is approved by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch, Office, Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, pursuant to §§ 598.505–8 and 598.505–9. Bracketed portions of the clause may be omitted when not appropriate or not encompassed by the release as negotiated.

§ 598.506–5 Non-estoppel clause. The clause set forth in § 598.406–5 shall be included in all contracts made under the provisions of this subpart, except that it may be omitted under the circumstances stated in said section.

§ 598.506–6 Contracts providing for the payment of a running royalty. Reference is made to § 598.406–6 for special instructions and contract provisions relative to contracts providing for the payment of a running royalty.

§ 598.506–7 Assignments. Attention is invited to § 598.406–7 for special instructions and contract provisions pertaining to contracts of assignment of patent rights to the Government.

§ 598.506–8 Unilateral contract form; gratuitous grant. The comments and requirements of § 598.406–8 (a) with respect to gratuitous grants of licenses and assignments are applicable to gratuitous contracts of license and assignment made under the provisions of this subpart, as is also the suggested unilateral contract form for such gratuitous grants set forth in § 598.406–8 (b).

§ 598.506–9 Bilateral contract form. The contract form set forth in § 598.406–9 (a) is suggested for licenses (with or without a release) and assignments (with or without a release) when a consideration of more than $1.00 is to be paid by the Government.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure March 15, 1951.

§ 599.000 Scope of part. Supplementary to, but consistent with, Part 409 of this title, this part sets forth policies and procedures in connection with (a) bonds, (b) sureties on bonds, and (c) insurance.

SUBPART A—BONDS

§ 599.101 Definitions—(a) Annual bid bond. An annual bid bond is a single bond which secures all bids submitted by a contractor to a Procuring Activity, or to such Contracting Officers of a Procuring Activity as may be designated by that Activity, during a specific fiscal year in response to formal advertising. Such bond is furnished in lieu of separate bid bonds. It is used only in connection with contracts other than construction contracts.

(b) Annual performance bond. An annual performance bond is a single bond which secures the performance and fulfillment of all undertakings, covenants, terms, conditions, and agreements of all contracts of a contractor entered into with a designated agency, or to such Contracting Officers of a Procuring Activity as may be designated by that Activity, during a specific fiscal year. Such a bond is executed in lieu of executing separate performance bonds for each contract. It is used only in connection with contracts other than construction contracts.

(c) Fidelity bond (blanket). A fidelity bond is a bond under which the obligor agrees to indemnify an employer up to an amount stated in the bond for losses caused by dishonesty on the part of all employees except those expressly excluded by written endorsement on the bond.

(d) Forgery bond or policy (depositor's form). A forgery bond or policy is a bond or policy under which the obligor agrees to reimburse a purchaser and others named in the bond or policy (the insureds) to an amount stated in the bond or policy:

(1) For losses caused by the forging or altering of a check, draft, or similar instrument issued by or purported to have been issued by any of the insureds named in the bond or policy,

(2) For losses resulting from the fact that a check or draft has been obtained from the insureds through the device of impersonation.

(e) License or permit bond. This is a bond which secures to a municipality or other public authority the payment of fines or the amount of any losses sustained as a result of action taken, or omitted to be taken, in violation of the terms of a license or permit. The indemnity sometimes runs to third persons in addition to the municipality.

(f) Consent of surety. A consent of surety is an instrument by which the surety on a bond or bonds supporting a contract consents to a supplemental agreement which goes beyond the scope of the contract, or a change order in excess of $25,000, and agrees that the bond or bonds previously given to support the basic contract shall apply to the contract as modified.

§ 599.103 Performance bonds.

§ 599.103–1 Contracts other than construction contracts. Authority is given to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, and to such other person or classes of persons as he shall designate, to determine whether a performance bond shall be required in connection with a contract other than a construction contract.

§ 599.103–2 Construction contracts. The penalty of the performance bond required in connection with a construction contract shall be at least in an amount equal to 50 percent of the contract price. Setting forth of a minimum percentage herein shall not be construed as a bar to fixing a penalty in a greater percentage, up to 100 percent of the contract price, in a case where a greater penalty is deemed advisable for the protection of the United States, and fixing such greater penalty will not eliminate small, otherwise potentially acceptable contractors.

§ 599.103–3 Additional performance bonds. (a) If a performance bond has been required in connection with a contract other than a construction contract, and there is executed a change order in excess of $25,000 or a supplemental agreement providing for any increase in the contract price, an additional performance bond to cover the increase shall be furnished, unless it is waived in accordance with law. In lieu of an additional bond, a consent of surety in the form set forth in § 599.203 (a) may be furnished.

(b) When, in connection with a construction contract, there is executed a change order in excess of $25,000 or a supplemental agreement providing for any increase in the contract price, an additional performance bond to cover the increase will be furnished. In lieu of an additional bond, a consent of surety in the form set forth in § 599.203 (a) may be furnished.

§ 599.104 Payment bonds.

§ 599.104–1 Contracts other than construction contracts. As a general rule, payment bonds shall not be required in connection with contracts other than construction contracts. Authority is granted to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, and to such other persons or classes of persons as he may designate, to determine whether a payment bond will be required to support any such contract.

§ 599.104–3 Additional payment bonds. (a) If a payment bond has been required in connection with a contract other than a construction contract, and there is executed a change order in excess of $25,000 or a supplemental agreement providing for any increase in the contract price, an additional payment bond to cover the increase shall be furnished, unless it is waived in accordance with law. In lieu of an additional bond, a consent of surety in the form set forth in § 599.203 (a) may be furnished.

(b) When, in connection with a construction contract, there is executed a change order in excess of $25,000 or a supplemental agreement providing for any increase in the contract price, an additional payment bond to cover the increase shall be furnished. In lieu of an additional bond, a consent of surety in the form set forth in § 599.203 (a) may be used.

§ 599.105 Advance payment bonds. Section 7b of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 states that the power given to the "agency head" by section 5a thereof to make determinations or decisions with respect to the granting of advance payments shall not be delegable. Therefore, authority to make determinations with respect to advance payment bonds will remain in the Secretary. The Head of the Procuring Activity shall make recommendation to the Secretary as to the type and extent of advance payment bonds when requests for advance payments are under consideration. (See Subpart E of Parts 402 and 592 of this title.)

§ 599.106 Patent infringement bonds. (a) A patent infringement bond will not be required with respect to any contract in connection with which a performance bond has been executed.

(b) Even if a performance bond has not been executed, the requirement of a patent infringement bond will be the exception rather than the rule. Where, however, a supply contract or construction contract contains a patent clause of the type set forth in Part 408 of this title, and the financial responsibility of the contractor is unknown or doubtful, a patent infringement bond may, in the discretion of the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, or his delegee, be required.

(c) On such bonds as are required, the penal sum will be the lowest which, in the exercise of sound judgment, is deemed adequate for the protection of the interests of the United States.

§ 599.107 Other types of bonds and miscellaneous bond requirements—(a) Fidelity bonds. (1) Fidelity bonds will be required in connection with cost or cost-plus-fixed-fee supply contracts, construction contracts or contracts for the operation of Government-owned plants only in those cases where, in the opinion of the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, or his delegee, such bonds are considered to be reasonably necessary for the protection of the contractor or the Government.

(2) When a fidelity bond is required, a Primary Commercial Blanket form of bond providing for retroactive reinstatement for prior losses in the penal sum of $10,000 will be considered sufficient. The Primary Commercial Blanket form of fidelity bond as standardized by the Surety Association of America or its equivalent is the approved form of fidelity bond. There should be attached thereto the following:

(i) A rider excluding any claim on the part of the surety company to be subrogated, on payment of loss or otherwise, to any claim against the United States.

(ii) A rider providing for pro rata refund of premium in event of cancellation by the Insured.

(iii) A rider providing for notice to the Procuring Activity concerned in the event of any change in or cancellation of the bond.

(iv) A rider providing for investigation of all Class A employees.

(v) A rider providing for investigation of all claims.

There are a variety of discounts which may be applied to blanket fidelity insurance under certain circumstances. Therefore, when blanket fidelity insurance is purchased, carriers should be cautioned to apply all appropriate discounts.

(b) Forgery bonds. (1) This type of bond will be required in connection with cost or cost-plus-fixed-fee supply contracts, construction contracts or contracts for the operation of Government-owned plants only in those cases where, in the opinion of the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, or his delegee, such bonds are considered to be reasonably necessary for the protection of the contractor or the Government.

(2) If, in such a case, it is determined that a forgery bond or policy is desirable to obtain the investigating and claims facilities of a surety company and is considered reasonably necessary for the protection of the United States or the contractor, a forgery bond or policy with a retroactive reinstatement rider may be approved in the penal sum of $10,000. This sum is considered sufficient. The depositor's form of forgery bond or policy as standardized by the Surety Association of America or its equivalent is the approved form of forgery bond. There should be attached thereto the following:

(i) A rider excluding any claim on the part of the surety company to be subrogated, on payment of loss or otherwise, to any claim against the United States.

(ii) A rider providing for pro rata refund of premium in event of cancellation by the Insured.

(iii) A rider providing for notice to the Procuring Activity concerned in the event of any change in or cancellation of the bond.

(iv) A rider providing for the investigation of all claims.

(c) Endorsement excluding subrogation to claims against the United States. In every case where a contract requires the United States to pay the premium either directly or by way of reimbursement on a bond, the bond will contain an endorsement or other recital excluding by appropriate language any claim on the part of the surety to be subrogated, on payment of a loss or otherwise, to any claim against the United States.

(d) Riders and endorsements particularly applicable to fidelity and forgery bonds—(1) Retroactive reinstatement rider. This rider contains a provision which is available for blanket fidelity and forgery bonds whereby after a loss has been sustained, the penalty of the bond is restored to its original amount notwithstanding prior losses. There is contained in the bond itself a provision which automatically restores the penalty of the bond to the original amount with respect to future losses.

(2) Waiver of restoration premium rider. This rider contains a provision which is available for blanket fidelity and forgery bonds which has the effect of eliminating the premium charge for restoring the penalty of the bond after a loss has been sustained.

(3) Endorsement excluding subrogation to claims against the United States. This endorsement contains a provision which excludes any claim on the part of the surety company to be subrogated on payment of a loss or otherwise to any claim against the United States. It is required to be placed on any fidelity or forgery bond, the premium for which is either paid by the Government directly or is a reimbursable item under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract.

(4) Cancellation or change notice rider. This rider contains a provision by which a surety agrees to notify certain named interested parties in the event that the bond is cancelled or changed in any other manner.

§ 599.108 Execution and administration of bonds—(a) Execution. All bonds will be executed in duplicate.

(b) Filing and examination of bonds and consent of surety—(1) Distribution. (i) The original of all surety bonds required by the various elements of the Department (except as hereinafter provided in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph) will be forwarded to The Judge Advocate General, Washington 25, D. C. If such bond was required in support of a contract or modification thereof, the original signed number of the bond should be attached to the original signed number of the contract or modification thereof, as the case may be, and forwarded to The Judge Advocate General. In the event it is not practicable to forward the original number of the contract or modification, a duplicate signed number or an authenticated copy thereof should be attached to the original bond and forwarded to The Judge Advocate General. The Judge Advocate General will examine bonds as to legal sufficiency and as to form and execution. In the case of corporate sureties he will include examination to ascertain whether the corporate officials who purported to execute the bonds on behalf of the corporate sureties had authority to do so; and in the case of individual sureties he will include examination to ascertain whether the affidavits of justification and the certificates of sufficiency of the sureties are in accordance with § 599.210 (b). The Judge Advocate General will then forward the bond, together with any contract or modification thereof which it supports, to the proper office for filing. The duplicate bond will be retained and filed in the office to which it pertains or which authorized its acceptance.

(ii) Consents of surety will be handled in the same manner as bonds, except that for more expeditious handling they may be forwarded in blank to The Judge Advocate General who will have them executed in Washington under the Expediter Plan and then approve them.

(iii) The following bonds will not be forwarded to The Judge Advocate General:

(a) Bid bonds (except annual bid bonds). The original and duplicate numbers will be retained in the office to which they pertain or which authorized their acceptance.

(b) Blanket fidelity and forgery bonds.

(c) Authority of The Judge Advocate General as to substitute surety bonds. The Judge Advocate General is authorized to act for the Secretary in accepting a new surety bond in substitution for a bond previously approved by the Department and covering part or all of the same obligation, and in authorizing the notification of the principal and surety on the bond originally furnished that it will not be considered as security for any default occurring subsequently to the date of approval of the new bond. The Judge Advocate General is authorized to delegate such function to whomsoever he may designate within his office.

(d) Miscellaneous bond forms—(1) Bid bond. Standard Form 24 (November 1950 Edition) will be used in accordance with accompanying instructions.

(2) Annual bid bond. Standard Form 34 (November 1950 Edition) will be used in accordance with accompanying instructions.

(3) Performance bond. Standard Form 25 (November 1950 Edition) will be used in accordance with accompanying instructions.

(4) Annual performance bond. Standard Form 35 (November 1950 Edition) will be used in accordance with accompanying instructions.

(5) Payment bond. Standard Form 25A (November 1950 Edition) will be used in accordance with accompanying instructions.

(6) Patent infringement bond. The appropriate patent infringement bond form is:

Know all men by these present, That we ---------- as Principal, and ---------- as Surety, are held and firmly bound unto the United States of America, hereinafter called the Government, in the penal sum of ---------- dollars, lawful money of the United States, for the payment of which sum well and truly to be made, we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators, and successors, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

The condition of this obligation is such, that whereas the principal entered into a certain contract, hereto attached, with the Government, dated ----------, 19----, for ---------- and whereas the said principal has specifically obligated himself in said contract to hold and save the Government, its officers, agents, servants, and employees, harmless from liability of any nature or kind, including cost and expenses, for or on account of any patented or unpatented invention, article, or appliance manufactured or used in the performance of that contract, including their use by the Government of the articles therein contracted for.

Now, therefore, if the principal shall well and truly perform and fulfill the above undertaking and agreement, and shall promptly make payment of any judgment and costs obtained against the United States under the provisions of the act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat. 851) as amended by the act of July 1, 1918 (40 Stat. 705) or expenses incident thereto, then this obligation to be void; otherwise to remain in full force and effect.

In witness whereof, the above-bounden parties have executed this instrument under their several seals this ------ day of ------- 19----, the name and corporate seal of each corporate party being hereto affixed and these presents duly signed by its undersigned representative, pursuant to authority of its governing body.

SUBPART B—SURETIES ON BONDS

§ 599.201 General requirements of sureties—(a) Corporate sureties—(1) Acceptability. In order to be acceptable, the corporate surety must have obtained from the Secretary of the Treasury authority to do business under the act of August 13, 1894 (28 Stat. 279), as amended by the act of March 23, 1910 (36 Stat. 241); 6 U. S. C. 8. A list of the corporations approved by the Secretary of the Treasury is published semi-annually by the Treasury Department as Form No. 356 (Section of Surety Bonds). This list indicates the maximum penal sum in which any corporate surety may underwrite any one obligation. Any corporation whose name is on this list is acceptable within the limits of such approval. The Heads of the Procuring Activities are responsible for distributing copies of the list, and may obtain copies thereof through The Judge Advocate General to whom a requisition for the requirements of each Procuring Activity should be sent semi-annually on or before March 15 and September 15.

(2) Qualifications of agents and corporate sureties. Corporate sureties should forward to The Judge Advocate General, Washington 25, D. C. for filing: powers of attorney or certified copies of resolutions of their Boards of Directors or Trustees authorizing their officers or agents to execute bonds, and certificates evidencing the revocation of authority previously granted to execute bonds.

(3) Corporate co-sureties. More than one corporate surety may be accepted as surety upon any recognizance, stipulation, bond, or undertaking in connection with either supply or construction contracts, provided that in no case will the liability of any such co-surety exceed the maximum penal sum in which the corporate surety is qualified to underwrite any one obligation. On bonds covering supply contracts where the amount of the bond is greater than the underwriting limitation of the corporate surety, the latter may reinsure with a corporation on the acceptable list of corporate sureties and having the required underwriting capacity. Reinsurance agreements are not acceptable in connection with construction contracts. It is not necessary that corporate co-sureties obligate themselves for the full amount of the bond. Each corporate surety may, by setting forth the limit of its liability in the bond as a definite and specified sum, limit such liability. In all cases the liability shall be limited to the maximum penal sum in which the corporate surety is qualified to underwrite any one obligation. As further indicated by the aforementioned forms, the sureties must, however, bind themselves "jointly and severally" for the purpose of allowing a joint action or actions against any or all of them. When the bond is to be executed by two or more corporate sureties, Standard Form 27 (November 1950 Edition) will be used in the case of a performance bond and Standard Form 27A (November 1950 Edition) will be used in the case of a payment bond, each in accordance with the accompanying instructions.

(b) Individual sureties—(1) Acceptability. Individual sureties are acceptable for all types of bonds other than fidelity and forgery bonds, provided that they meet the requirements specified in subparagraphs (3) and (5) of this paragraph.

(2) Number. If individual sureties are used there shall be at least two responsible individuals on each bond.

(3) Citizenship. (i) Except as prescribed in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph individual sureties will be citizens of the United States.

(ii) Sureties on bonds executed in foreign countries, the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, or any possession of the United States, to secure the performance of contracts entered into in those places need not be citizens of the United States. However, unless they are citizens of the United States they must be domiciled in the country, territory or possession where the contract is to be performed.

(4) Extent of liability. The liability of each individual surety shall extend to the entire penal amount of the bond.

(5) Justification. Individual sureties will each justify in an amount not less than the penal amount of the bond.

(6) Stockholders as sureties. In connection with any bond of which a corporation is the principal obligor, a stockholder of that corporation is acceptable as co-surety on the bond: Provided, That his net worth exclusive of his stock holdings in the corporation is equal to the amount for which he justified and: Provided further, That such fact is expressly stated in his affidavit of justification.

(7) Affidavit of individual surety. Standard Form 28 (November 1950 Edition) will be used in connection with the justification of an individual surety.

(c) Partnerships as sureties. A partnership or other unincorporated association, as such, will not be accepted as a surety. The individual members of the partnership or association may, of course, if they meet the requirements of (b) above qualify as sureties. Individual members of a partnership or association will not, however, be acceptable as sureties on bonds under which the partnership or association, or any co-partner or member thereof, is the principal obligor.

(d) Substitution or replacement of a surety. In case of financial embarrassment, failure or other disqualifying cause on the part of a surety under a bond, the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned will require the substitution of a new surety satisfactory to him.

§ 599.203 Consent of surety. The following forms of consents of surety are authorized for use:

(a) Consent of surety to a modification providing for an increase in the penal sums of bonds previously given.

CONSENT OF SURETY

Date_____

Consent of Surety is hereby given to the foregoing contract modification, and the surety agrees that its bond or bonds shall apply and extend to the contract as modified or amended thereby. The principal and surety further agree that on and after the execution of this consent, the penalty of the aforementioned performance bond or bonds is hereby increased by _____ dollars,[1] and the penalty of the aforementioned payment bond or bonds is hereby increased by _____ dollars.[1]

[1] Here fix an amount of increase at least in the same proportion that the penalty on the original bond bears to the contract price on the original contract. The penalty of the payment bond shall not be increased beyond two million five hundred thousand dollars.

[2] This consent shall be executed concurrently with the execution of the attached modification by the same person who executes the modification.

(b) Consent of surety without providing for an increase in the penal sums of bonds previously given.

Consent of Surety is hereby given to the foregoing contract modification, and the surety agrees that its bond or bonds shall apply and extend to the contract as modified or amended thereby.

SUBPART C—INSURANCE

§ 599.300 Scope of subpart. Supplementary to, but consistent with subpart C, Part 409 of this title, this subpart sets forth insurance policies and procedures in connection with procurement contracts.

§ 599.300–1 General policy. Insurance coverage will be required in connection with Army Establishment contracts where (a) mandatory by law; or (b) it is considered desirable to utilize the organization, facilities or other services of the insurance industry. (The word "coverage" is here used advisedly, since in some jurisdictions self-insurance by the contractor is permissible in lieu of insurance purchases.) Insurance purchases may be authorized where commingling of property and operations or circumstances of ownership and degree of responsibility imposed by contract make the carrying of insurance rasonably necessary for protection of the several interests concerned.

§ 599.301 Insurance in connection with fixed-price contracts. The requirements under applicable laws, such as state laws governing workmen's compensation and employers' liability coverage and Federal laws such as the Federal Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Act where applicable, or, in the case of common carriers, cargo insurance as required by Interstate Commerce regulations, are sufficient to compel the contractor to comply with such laws. The Contracting Officer will not therefore impose insurance requirements other than evidence from the contractor that such laws have been complied with. Where a performance bond supports the contract such evidence will not be necessary.

(a) Insurance on Government property. Under the degree of responsibility for Government property established by contract clause the purchase or nonpurchase of property insurance is discretionary with the contractor and insurance requirements will not be imposed by the Contracting Officer.

(b) Insurance in special cases. In special cases, when it is deemed necessary in connection with the performance of a contract, other types of insurance may be required, to the extent determined to be necessary by the Head of the Procuring Activity.

§ 599.302 Insurance in connection with cost-reimbursement type contracts. (a) The kinds of insurance enumerated in §§ 599.302–1, 599.302–2, and 599.302–3, following will ordinarily be required by the Contracting Officer unless the contractor is relieved by statute from liability and elects to invoke such statutory immunity or has an acceptable program of self-insurance already in effect. In special cases other types of insurance may be required to the extent determined to be necessary by the Head of the Procuring Activity.

(b) The Contracting Officer will ascertain and advise the Head of his Procuring Activity, prior to completing the placement of insurance under the contract, as to whether (and if so, to what extent) the contractor has cost-reimbursement type contracts with any other agency of the Department of Defense at the proposed location or adjacent thereto. This information should be readily obtainable from the contractor and will be used by the Head or Heads of the Procuring Activities concerned to determine whether contracts can be combined for the purposes of insurance in order to be eligible for more favorable rate treatment.

§ 599.302–1 Workmen's compensation and employers' liability insurance. (a) Workmen's compensation insurance protects the employer against liability imposed by a workmen's compensation law to pay benefits and furnish care to employees injured, and to pay benefits to dependents of employees killed, in the course of and because of their employment. Employers' liability insurance protects an employer against claims for damages which may arise out of injuries to employees in the course of their work in cases not covered by the compensation law. Such insurance will be required, endorsed to provide:

(1) Occupational disease coverage in jurisdictions where the workmen's compensation law does not cover all occupational diseases, in limits of $50,000 per person in any one case and $100,000 for any one policy year;

(2) In those jurisdictions where there is a "per accident" limitation coverage under paragraph One (b) of the insurance policy, additional limits up to $100,000 for each accident, or, where there is a "per person" limitation under this paragraph, additional limits up to $50,000 per person;

(3) In jurisdictions where workmen's compensation coverage is carried in a State Fund which does not provide the protection afforded by the requirements of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, employers' liability insurance will be purchased, endorsed to provide this coverage.

(b) Where such insurance is purchased for contracts to be performed outside the limits of the United States, its territories and possessions, the endorsements required by paragraph (a) (1), (2), and (3) of this section may be modified in accordance with instructions issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned provided that higher monetary limits are not authorized.

(c) The Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, as amended (42 U. S. C. Ch. 11, 12, as amended by 56 Stat. 1035) provides that workmen's compensation benefits are applicable to all employees of any contractor with the United States on any military, air or naval defense base other than contractors or subcontractors engaged exclusively in furnishing materials or supplies. Where it is desired that the benefits under this law be waived with respect to labor employed outside the limits of the United States (48 states and the District of Columbia), the Head of the Procuring Activity will request such waiver by applying to the Bureau of Employees' Compensation, Department of Labor, through Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Chief of Finance, Washington 25, D. C.

(d) Workmen's Compensation benefits will be paid to all employees of any contractor with the United States where waiver is obtained as provided by paragraph (c) of this section in accordance with the workmen's compensation or similar laws of the national, state or local government where contract performance occurs.

§ 599.302–2 Comprehensive general liability insurance. (a) This insurance protects the insured against loss due to all claims for damages arising from his business premises or operations (except those arising from motor vehicles away from the premises, those covered by any workmen's compensation law, and other exclusions stated in the policy). This insurance will be required with limits of $50,000 per person, $100,000 per accident.

(b) General liability insurance for damage to property of others may be purchased under the general liability policy where, in the opinion of the Contracting Officer, the exposure under the contract operations is such as to warrant obtaining the experienced claims and investigating services of the insurance carrier in the event of extensive damage to property of others. It is contemplated that this form of coverage will be necessary only for contractors engaged in the handling of high explosives or in extra-hazardous research and development activities. Prior approval for the purchase of this type of insurance will be obtained from the Head of the Procuring Activity, and limits of $50,000 per accident with an aggregate limit of $100,000 for each year of policy coverage will be considered adequate. However, where commingling of operations permits the Government's protection at a nominal cost under insurance carried by the contractor in the course of his commercial operations, the participation in such insurance will be deemed in the best interests of the Government.

(c) Products liability insurance protects the insured for damages arising out of the consumption, handling or use of a product. This insurance will be required where a contractor under the authority of his contract operates a commissary or other similar facility for dispensing food. Such insurance, when necessary, will be added by endorsement to the general liability policy with limits of $50,000 per person and $100,000 per accident for each year of policy coverage.

(d) Contractual liability insurance protects the contractor against loss arising under assumption of liability by agreement. This insurance is provided by the comprehensive general liability policy where a contractor has assumed liability under:

(1) A lease of premises;

(2) An easement agreement;

(3) An agreement required by municipal ordinance;

(4) A sidetrack agreement; or

(5) An elevator or escalator maintenance agreement.

The purchase of insurance for other assumed liability may be approved where assumption of such liability by the contractor has been authorized and the Head of the Procuring Activity determines that the purchase of such insurance is necessary.

(e) Where insurance prescribed by this § 599.302–2 is purchased for contracts to be performed outside the limits of the United States, its territories and possessions, the Head of the Procuring Activity is authorized to revise downward the monetary limits prescribed in this section.

§ 599.302–3 Automobile liability insurance. Automobile public liability and property damage insurance will be required with limits of $50,000 per person and $100,000 per accident for bodily injury liability and $5,000 for property damage liability on the comprehensive policy form covering all owned, non-owned, hired and Government-furnished motor vehicles which will be used in the contract operations where use will not be limited exclusively to the premises on which the work under such contract is performed. When such insurance is purchased for contracts to be performed outside the limits of the United States, its territories and possessions, the Head of the Procuring Activity is authorized to revise downward the monetary limits prescribed herein.

§ 599.350 Boiler and machinery insurance. (a) This type of insurance protects the contractor against loss due to accidents arising from boilers, pressure vessels, or machinery. The chief value of this insurance is the inspection service afforded under the insurance policy by qualified insurance personnel. The purchase of such insurance by Army Establishment cost-reimbursement type contractors is not authorized as an item of reimbursement. The Army maintains within the continental United States for the purpose of obtaining boiler inspection service on certain types of boilers, a contract with a recognized insurance company. Among the types serviced by this contract are the following: "All Government-owned boilers located at military installations operated by private contractors and all privately owned boilers located at military reservations." Accordingly, where steam boilers are placed in initial operation under the contract, the Contracting Officer will so notify his continental Army Commander and request that arangements be made for the boilers to be included for inspection under the Army contract.

(b) In areas outside the continental United States boiler and machinery insurance may be purchased where insurance companies are available and can render adequate inspection service. Where such service is not available, boiler and machinery insurance will not be purchased.

§ 599.351 Group insurance plans. Group life insurance plans and such other forms of insurance as are provided voluntarily to employees in order to furnish benefits in the event of death, disability, dismemberment, hospitalization, surgical or medical care will be subject to review by the Head of the Procuring Activity. The purpose of this requirement is to ascertain that greater benefits are not being extended under the cost-reimbursement type contract than those granted to employees under the contractor's regular commercial operations. When an existing schedule is being increased, such schedule will also be referred to the Head of the Procuring Activity for the same purpose. Where employees under the cost-reimbursement type contract are added to the contractor's already existent group life or similar-type insurance policies, provision should be made at contract termination to see that any experience refund due from the last year of contract operation will be credited proportionately to the contract.

§ 599.352 Employee retirement, pension, or profit-sharing plans. The basis for allowability of costs under cost- reimbursement type contracts for such plans is fully set forth in Part 414 of this title (Contract Cost Principles). Such plans will be subject to review and approval by the Head of the Procuring Activity.

§ 599. 353 Insurance on Government property. It is the policy of the Department of the Army not to require or approve insurance covering loss of or damage to property, legal title to which is in the United States, used in connection with cost-reimbursement type contracts. This principle of non-insurance rests to a large degree upon savings to the Government obtained by eliminating the cost of insurance which would otherwise be added to the contract cost. Where savings are trivial and the contractor's existent insurance policies may be utilized to afford protection thereunder for Government property in its care, custody, or control, this policy of non-insurance will not be enforced. Ordinarily, however, the contractor will be relieved of liability for loss or damage to Government property in accordance with the provisions contained in the Government Property clause of the contract. Such losses are intended to include those caused by any peril while the property is in transit off the contractor's premises, or caused by any of the following perils while the property is on the contractor's or a subcontractor's or other premises or by removal therefrom because of any of the following perils:

(a) Fire; lightning; windstorm, cyclone, typhoon, tornado, hail; explosion; riot, riot attending a strike, civil commotion; vandalism and malicious mischief; aircraft or objects falling therefrom; vehicles running on land or tracks, excluding vehicles owned or operated by the contractor or any agent or employee of the contractor; smoke; sprinkler leakage; earthquake or volcanic eruption; flood, meaning thereby rising of rivers or streams; enemy attack or any action taken by the military, naval, or air force of the United States or its allies in resisting enemy attack.

(b) Upon the happening of loss or damage to Government property caused by the above-named perils the contractor shall communicate with the Contracting Officer and shall otherwise proceed in accordance with instructions set forth in the governing contract clause. The contractor may, upon direction of the Contracting Officer, employ the services of a loss and salvage organization designated by the Contracting Officer. One or more of these organizations will be found listed in the local telephone directory of the nearest city of reasonably large population. They are known variously as the General Adjustment Bureau, Inc., the Underwriters Adjusting Company, and the Western Adjustment and Inspection Company. The services of these organizations are performed for the Government within the continental United States on a cost plus traveling expense basis.

§ 599.353–1 Liability for loss. The contractor's relief from liability for loss of or damage to Government property in his care, custody, or control is intended to place the contractor in the same position he would occupy if comercial insurance policies providing broad protection were procured by him against the named perils.

§ 599.354 General statement. The required or permitted forms of insurance and instructions set forth in §§ 599.302 through 599.353 are intended as basic principles to be applied in connection with insurance on cost-reimbursement type contracts where the contract operations are separately insured. Where commingling of commercial and Government operations make separate insurance impracticable, §§ 599.302 through 599.353 will necessarily not remain applicable.

§ 599.355 War projects insurance rating plan. For cost-reimbursement type contracts executed within the continental United States (48 States and the District of Columbia) and performed outside the continental United States there is available a special plan for the purchase of workmen's compensation and employers' liability, comprehensive general liability and automobile liability and property damage insurance. This is a comprehensive retrospective rating plan for premium control. The provisions of this plan may not be applicable to all cost-reimbursement type contracts for work performed outside the continental United States, and in arriving at a determination as to its applicability, the Head of the Procuring Activity will give consideration, among other factors, to the following:

(a) Nationality of the employees concerned and the applicability of the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Act as amended, or the propriety of waiving the provisions of that law; (see § 599.302–1 (c))

(b) Laws and customs of the country or countries concerned;

(c) Treaties involved;

(d) Insurance facilities available;

(e) Medical and hospital facilities available.

The formula and administrative procedures involving the use of the special plan may be obtained from the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Chief of Finance, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 599.356 Insurance carrier. A cost-reimbursement type contractor will select his own insurance carrier, subject to approval by the Head of the Procuring Activity as to compliance with the following established Department of Defense minimum standards. These standards may be deviated from by the Head of the Procuring Activity in the case of foreign insurance carriers operating outside the continental United States upon assurance of financial responsibility of such carriers.

(a) The carrier must have an unobligated minimum surplus of $350,000;

(b) In the case of a contract of casualty insurance, other than Workmen's Compensation insurance, the financial responsibility of the insurance carrier must be such that the policy will not expose it in a single accident or occurrence to a loss (1) in the case of a fixed-premium carrier of more than 10 percent of its total capital stock and surplus, or (2) in the case of a dividend-paying carrier of more than 10 percent of its net assets.

(c) In the case of Workmen's Compensation insurance, the insurance carrier shall have (1) in the case of a fixed-premium carrier, a total capital and surplus of at least $1,000,000, or (2) in the case of a dividend-paying carrier, at least $1,000,000 of net assets.

§ 599.357 Approval required. All plans, policies, and rates for insurance coverages in connection with cost-reimbursement type contracts will be subject to approval by the Head of the Procuring Activity, and it shall be within the authority of such office to require a change of plan if the type selected by the contractor is not deemed to be that most advantageous to the interests of the Government. Copies of all policies will be forwarded by the Head of the Procuring Activity to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Chief of Finance, Washington 25, D. C.

(a) Where the contract operations are separately insured under any form of retrospective rating plan, losses and final premium costs assigned to the policies involved will be subject to review and approval of the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Chief of Finance, Washington 25, D. C.

(b) Where the contract operations are jointly insured with the contractor's commercial operations, the proportion of Government interest and amount of premium involved will be the governing factors in determining the necessity for maintenance of Government control.

§ 599.358 Action on termination of contract. Generally, the contract settlement involved in cost-reimbursement type contracts will have been completed prior to the required lapse of time for final settlement under any form of retrospective rating plan of insurance. Therefore, in such settlement the insurance transactions, where the War Projects Rating Plan or other retrospective plan of insurance is involved, will be excepted and the Contracting Officer will agree that any remaining credits due in connection with the insurance or any outstanding obligations of the contractor with respect to insurance will be assumed by the United States Government.

§ 599.359 Assignment to Government of premiums due under policies written under the department rating plan or other retrospective rating plan of insurance upon termination or completion of cost-reimbursement type contracts. (a) The following form will be used for accomplishing the action required by § 599.358 of assigning to Government the interest of a cost-reimbursement type contractor in return premiums, premium refunds, etc., on insurance policies written under the War Projects Insurance Rating Plan § 599.355 or other retrospective rating plan upon termination or completion of the contract, when the Government has assumed the payment of the contractor's obligations for further premium payments under such policies.

ASSIGNMENT TO GOVERNMENT

Under (here name type of contract) Contract No. ------ dated ---------- between the United States of America (hereinafter called the Government) and ---------- (hereinafter called the Contractor).

The Government having assumed and become liable for the obligation of the Contractor for premiums under Policies Nos. -------- issued by the ---------- Insurance Company, the Contractor does hereby assign, transfer, and set over to the Government as of the date hereof, all of his right, title and interest in and to all return premiums, premium refunds, dividends and any other moneys due or to become due the Contractor in connection with such policies.

In witness whereof, the Contractor has executed this Assignment this ------ day of ---------- 195--.

[CORPORATE SEAL] CONTRACTOR,

By ----------

Attest:

Secretary

Accepted:
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

By ----------
Contracting Officer

(b) This Assignment to Government will be executed in a sufficient number of copies to serve the purposes of the cognizant Procuring Activity, and the Head of the Activity will forward one copy to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Chief of Finance, Washington 25, D. C. The Contracting Officer will forward the original by registered mail, return receipt requested, to the home office of the insurance company involved. The letter accompanying this form will specify that all checks to cover premiums, etc., are to be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

§ 599.360 Overseas. In those areas outside the United States, its territories and possessions, where the insurance coverages required in connection with cost-reimbursement type contracts are not available because of the lack of competent insurance carriers with acceptable financial responsibility as determined by the Head of the Procuring Activity, the Contracting Officer is authorized to waive such insurance requirements. In these cases the Government will assume liability as a self-insurer.

AUTHORITY: §§ 600.000 to 600.401 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Interpret or apply 62 Stet. 21; 41 U. S. C. Sup., 151–161.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 600.000 Scope of part. Supplementary to, but consistent with Part 410 of this title, this part sets forth policies and procedures in connection with (a) Federal excise taxes, (b) exemptions from Federal excise taxes, and (c) State and local taxes. References in this part are to Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title (Armed Services Procurement Regulation), Internal Revenue Code, and Bureau of Internal Revenue Regulations. Examples: § 410.101–5 of this title; sec. 3797 (a) IRC; and sec. 316.9, Regulations 46.

§ 600.050 Oversea. Part 410 of this title and this part are applicable in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories and possessions, where the articles, materials, and supplies so procured were mined, produced, or manufactured in the United States, its territories, and possessions, and where the cost of such articles, materials, and supplies may include therein Federal, State, and local taxes. Every effort will be made to take advantage of all authorized tax exemptions, credits, and refunds, including such exemptions, credits, and refunds as may be authorized by the laws of the foreign country in which procurement is effected.

SUBPART A—FEDERAL EXCISE TAXES

§ 600.101 Manufacturers' excise taxes (basis and application). (a) In general, the manufacturers' excise taxes are based on the sales price. Charges for coverings, containers, and the like, are included in the sales price for purposes of computing the tax. If the amount of the sales price is adjusted upon return of coverings or containers to the seller, the tax should also be adjusted (sec. 316.10, Regulations 46). The tax imposed, however, is not part of the taxable price of the article (sec. 316.11, Regulations 46). Charges for transportation, delivery, insurance, installation, and similar charges also are excluded in computing the tax (sec. 316.12, Regulations 46).

(b) The lease of an article is considered a sale thereof. In the case of leases or installment sales, the tax is paid proportionately upon each payment (sec. 316.9, Regulations 46; sec. 314.4, Regulations 44).

(c) The tax in general attaches when title passes from the manufacturer (sec. 316.5, Regulations 46; sec. 314.4, Regulations 44). If subsequent reduction is made in the sales price, credit or refund may be obtained by the manufacturer (sec. 316.13, Regulations 46). Claim by a manufacturer for credit or refund must show, among other things, that the tax has not been collected from the purchaser or has been repaid to him or that his written consent to the allowance of the credit or refund has been obtained (sec. 316.204, Regulations 46; sec. 314.64, Regulations 44).

(d) No manufacturers' excise tax is imposed under section 3406, IRC (§§ 410.101–5—410.101–9, incl., of this title), with respect to any article subject to the retailers' excise tax on sale of jewelry and other items referred to in § 410.102–1 of this title (sec. 3406, IRC).

§ 600.101–14 Lubricating oils. (a) Lubricating oils may be sold tax-free by the manufacturer or producer thereof direct to another such manufacturer or producer for resale, provided the manufacturers are properly registered and bonded and an appropriate certificate in this connection is furnished the seller (sec. 314.42, Regulations 44).

(b) No tax is attached where lubricating oils are sold direct for nonlubricating uses by the purchaser, provided an appropriate certificate in this connection is furnished the seller (sec. 314.13, Regulations 44). Exemptions from tax discussed in this subparagraph (b) will not be claimed, contract prices will not exclude taxes on the basis of those exemptions, and proof of tax exemptions will not be furnished contractors.

§ 600.105 Tax on transportation of property (basis and application). (a) Transportation. The term "transportation" means the movement of property by a person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire, including interstate, intrastate, and intracity or other local movements, as well as towing, ferrying, switching, and the like. In general, it includes accessorial service furnished in connection with a transportation movement, such as loading, unloading, blocking and staking, elevation, transfer in transit, ventilation, refrigeration, icing, storage, demurrage, lighterage, trimming of cargo in vessels, wharfage, handling, feeding and watering livestock, and similar services and facilities (sec. 143.1 (d), Regulations 113).

(b) Coal. The term "coal" includes anthracite, bituminous, semibituminous, and lignite coal, coal dust, and coke and briquettes made from coal (sec. 143.1 (f), Regulations 113).

(c) Baggage. An amount paid, in connection with the transportation of persons, for the transportation of baggage, including incidental charges on account of excess weight, excess value, storage, transfer, special delivery, and the like, or an amount so paid for a special baggage or express car or other conveyance is subject to the tax on the transportation of property if separable from the payment for the transportation of persons and separately shown on the records of the carrier. Otherwise, the tax on the transportation of persons applies (see § 410.104 of this title; sec. 143.14 (c), Regulations 113).

SUBPART B—EXEMPTIONS FROM FEDERAL EXCISE TAXES

§ 600.202 Supplies for exportation—(a) Exemption based upon exportation. Exemption is available (1) from the manufacturers' excise taxes (§ 410.101, et seq., of this title) and the retailers' excise taxes (§ 410.102, et seq., of this title) with respect to sales for export and (2) from the tax on the transportation of property (§ 600.105) with respect to property in course of exportation (secs. 2406, 2705, 3449, I. R. C.; sec. 314.25—314.27, Regulations 44; secs. 316.25—316.27, Regulations 46). (See paragraph (b) of this section); secs. 320–21—320–22, Regulations 51; secs. 143–30—143–35, Regulations 113. These exemptions may be claimed under the circumstances set forth in § 410.202 of this title.

(b) How to claim export exemptions. (Sec. 316.25—316.27, Regulations 46, see paragraph (a) of this section.)

(1) Sales for export. (i) To exempt from tax a sale for export it is necessary that two conditions be met, namely (a) that the article be identified as having been sold by the manufacturer for export and (b) that it be exported in due course.

(ii) An article will be regarded as having been sold by the manufacturer for export if the manufacturer has in his possession at the time title passes or at the time of shipment, whichever is prior (a) a written order or contract showing that the manufacturer is to ship the article to a foreign destination; or (b) where delivery by the manufacturer is to be made within the United States, a sworn statement from the purchaser showing (1) that the article is purchased to fill existing or future orders for delivery to a foreign destination; or that the article is purchased for resale to another person engaged in the business of exporting, who will export the article, and (2) that such article will be transported to its foreign destination in due course prior to use or further manufacture and prior to any resale except for export.

(iii) The written order or contract of sale or the sworn statement referred to in subdivision (ii) (a) and (b) of this subparagraph suspends liability for the payment of the tax by the manufacturer on such sales for export for a period of six months from the date when title passes or the date of shipment, whichever is prior. If within such period the manufacturer has not received and attached to the order or contract, or sworn statement, proper "proof of exportation" (see subparagraph (2) of this paragraph), then the temporary suspension of the liability for the payment of the tax ceases and the manufacturer shall include the tax on the sale of such article in his return for the month in which such 6-month period expires.

(iv) The exemption provided herein is limited to sales by the manufacturer for export and is not applicable in cases where sales of taxable articles are made from a dealer's stock for export even though actually exported.

(2) Proof of exportation. (i) Exportation may be evidenced by (a) a copy of the export bill of lading issued by the delivering carrier, or (b) a certificate by the agent or representative of the export carrier showing actual exportation of the article, or (c) a certificate of landing signed by a customs officer of the foreign consignee showing receipt of the article.

(ii) In any case where the manufacturer is not the exporter, such manufacturer must have in his possession an affidavit from the person to whom he sold the article stating that the article was in fact exported in due course by him or was sold to another person who in due course exported the article. This affidavit must state what evidence is available to show that the article was in fact exported in due course prior to use or further manufacture and prior to resale in the United States other than for export. Such evidence must be that described in subdivision (i) (a), (b), or (c) of this subparagraph, and the affidavit must show where such evidence is readily available for inspection by Government officers.

(iii) In all cases the sales records together with the evidence of exportation must be preserved by the manufacturer for a period of at least four years from the last day of the month following the sale, and must be readily accessible for inspection by internal revenue officers.

(iv) In any case where the manufacturer does not have in his possession within the 6-month period, proof of exportation as outlined herein, the manufacturer must pay the tax involved. If proof of exportation later becomes available, a claim for refund of any tax paid may be filed on Form 843, or a credit may be taken upon any subsequent monthly return, but such action must be taken within the 4-year period of limitation prescribed by section 3313, IRC.

(c) Shipments to possessions of the United States. (1) Sections 2705 and 3449, IRC, and applicable Treasury Regulations authorize an exemption from manufacturers' excise taxes with respect to sales for export or for shipment to a possession of the United States, provided such exportation or shipment is effected within six months after title passes to the purchaser. (Regulations 44, secs. 314.25–314.27; Regulations 46 secs. 316.25–316.27.)

(i) It is the policy of the Department of the Army to purchase from manufacturers, producers, and importers on a tax exclusive basis, as authorized by sections 2705 and 3449, when all of the following conditions are present:

(a) The purchase is a substantial one;

(b) Exportation or shipment to a possession is intended at the time of purchase and exportation, or shipment will follow immediately after delivery from the manufacturer.

(ii) To exempt from tax a sale for export or shipment to a possession of the United States, it is necessary that two conditions be met:

(a) That the article be identified as having been sold by the manufacturer for export or shipment to a possession.

(b) That it be exported or shipped to a possession of the United States in due course. (Regulations 44, sec. 314.25.)

(iii) With respect to condition in subdivision (ii) (a) of this subparagraph, the words "for export or shipment to a possession" stamped on the contract or written purchase order has been approved by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as satisfactory evidence that the manufacturer's sale of the article has been made for export or shipment to a possession of the United States. With respect to condition in subdivision (ii) (b) of this subparagraph, the proof of exportation or shipment to a possession of the United States required under Regulations 44, Section 314.26, shall be furnished the manufacturer by the Contracting Officer. Such proof shall be in the form of an affidavit stating that the articles have in fact been exported or shipped to a possession of the United States. The affidavit shall also state where a copy of the export bill of lading is available for inspection. The Port of Embarkation shall be required to furnish certification of export to the Contracting Officer together with a statement describing where the applicable export bill of lading is being retained.

(2) The term "possession of the United States" as used in this paragraph includes the Panama Canal Zone, Virgin Islands, Guam, Puerto Rico, American Samoa, Wake, and the Midway Islands. (Regulations 46, sec. 316.1; Regulations 44, sec. 314.1). The exemption does not apply with respect to sales of articles for shipment to the territories of Alaska and Hawaii for the reason that these territories are by statutory definition included in the term "United States". (Regulations 46, sec. 316.27; Regulations 44, sec. 314.28.)

(3) Following is the form of affidavit to be used as proof of exportation or shipment to a possession:

Contracting Officer

§ 600.203 Supplies for ships and aircraft. (a) The term "vessels of war" of the United States or of any foreign nation includes aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. The terms "fuel supplies", "ships' stores", "legitimate equipment" includes all articles, materials, supplies, and equipment necessary for the navigation, propulsion, and upkeep of vessels (sec. 3451, I. R. C.; sec. 314.28, Regulations 44, sec. 316.28, Regulations 46).

(b) Under Treasury Regulations this exemption, as it relates to aircraft is available only to purchases made direct from manufacturers or producers, not to purchases from dealers or distributors.

(c) Serious administrative burdens would be imposed if the exemption described in § 410.203 of this title were to be claimed on articles of a character usable either (1) as supplies or legitimate equipment for vessels of war including aircraft, or (2) otherwise.

(d) The exemption will not be claimed, contract prices will not exclude Federal excise taxes on the basis of that exemption, and proof of exemption will not be furnished to contractors, except that the action above may be taken in connection with purchases of the following items:

(1) Aviation gasoline.

(2) Lubricating oil suitable only for aircraft engines.

(3) Aircraft tires and inner tubes.

(4) Aerial photographic cameras including gun cameras, lenses, apparatus, equipment, and films therefor.

§ 600.206 Other exemptions. (a) This section applies only to Federal excise taxes imposed by the following chapters of the Internal Revenue Code: Chapter 19 (Retailers' excise taxes—see § 410.102, et seq., of this title); Chapter 25 (pistols and revolvers—see § 410.103 of this title); Chapter 29 (manufacturers' excise taxes—see § 410.101, et seq., of this title); and Chapter 30 (transportation and communication—see §§ 410.104 and 410.107 of this title).

(b) When any Procuring Activity has responsibility for procurement or purchase of any articles subject to Federal excise taxes under any other chapter of the Internal Revenue Code, that Procuring Activity may prescribe such rules, governing the securing of exemption from those taxes, as it may deem proper, following approval of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4 Department of the Army (Chief, Current Procurement Branch), who is responsible for coordination with The Judge Advocate General.

§ 600.207 Tax exemption forms. The forms and procedures described in this section are applicable, as far as exemptions from Federal excise taxes are concerned, only with respect to the exemptions specified in §§ 410.201, 410.203 and 410.205 of this title.

(a) Standard tax exemption forms. The following standard tax exemption forms have been prescribed:

	Standard Form No.
U. S. Government Tax Exemption Certificate	1094
Cover of U. S. Government Tax exemption certificate book (front, outside and inside; back, outside)	1094–A
Tabulation sheet (insert)	1094–B
U. S. Government tax exemption identification card	1094–C

(b) U. S. Government Tax Exemption Certificate, Form 1094. U. S. Government Tax Exemption Certificate Form 1094 will be issued by the appropriate officer where required by the contract to supply proof of exemption with respect to those taxes which have been excluded from the contract price, as follows:

(1) All Federal excise taxes from which exemption is available on the basis of purchase for the use of the United States. (See § 410.203 of this title, in connection with exemption under section 3451, Internal Revenue Code.)

(2) All State and local taxes, except when a different form is required by the State or local tax authority. (See § 600.301.)

(c) Supply and control of standard forms. (1) Standard Forms 1094, 1094–A, 1094–B, and 1094–C will be requisitioned as prescribed in AR 310–90.

(2) Those forms will be subject to special control as prescribed in paragraph 12, AR 310–100.

(3) In addition to the special control prescribed by paragraph 12, AR 310–100, the following will govern in the situations set forth:

(i) Certificates executed but unused, or erroneously issued, mutilated, or otherwise rendered unserviceable, will be returned to the issuing officer, who will destroy the certificates and account therefore pursuant to paragraph 12*e*, AR 310–100.

(ii) The officer who issued a tax exemption certificate which has been lost or destroyed is authorized to issue a replacing certificate to the contractor or other proper party as follows:

(a) Where the certificate is lost or destroyed after it is issued to the contractor, the contractor must (1) establish to the satisfaction of the issuing officer that the certificate was lost or destroyed, (2) submit an affidavit setting forth the circumstances, (3) request the issuance of a replacement certificate.

(b) Where the tax exemption certificate is lost or destroyed by an Army activity, the replacing certificate will be requested by and issued to the Army activity cognizant of its loss.

(iii) Replacement certificates will bear the following statement, using the words applicable: This Certificate Is Issued To Replace No. _____ Which Has Been Lost (Destroyed).

(d) Who may execute tax exemption certificates. (1) Tax exemption certificates will be executed only by those officers and Federal employees who have been supplied with a Standard Form No. 1094–C, U. S. Government tax exemption identification card.

(2) The identification card of authorized officers and employees of Procuring Activities responsible for purchasing at an installation will be signed by the commanding officer. Identification cards supplied to other officers and Federal employees will be signed by the officer who furnished such officer or employee with tax exemption certificates.

(e) Aircraft and vessels of war supplies and equipment tax exemption certificate. (1) The following form is prescribed by sec. 314.23, Regulations 44 and sec. 316.28, Regulations 46:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

(For use by purchasers of articles for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on certain vessels (sec. 3451, IRC)).

_____, 19____
(Date)

The undersigned here certifies that he is ((1) or (2), whichever is appropriate)

(1) _____
(Owner officer, or charterer)

(2) Agent of _____ who is (Name of principal) _____ of _____ (Owner or charterer) (Name of vessel) and that the article or articles specified in the accompanying order, or as specified below or on the reverse side hereof, will be used only for fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on a vessel belonging to the following class:

(Here state whichever of the following classes enumerated in Section 3451, IRC, is appropriate:

(1) Vessels engaged in foreign trade.

(2) Vessels engaged in trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States.

(3) Vessels engaged in trade between the United States and any of its possessions.

(4) Vessels employed in the fisheries or whaling business.

(5) Vessels of war of the United States or a foreign nation.

If the articles are purchased for use on civil aircraft engaged in trade as specified in (1) or (3) above, state the name of the country in which the aircraft is registered).

The undersigned understands that if the article is used for any purpose other than as stated in this certificate, or is resold or otherwise disposed of, he must report such fact to the manufacturer. It is understood that this certificate may not be used in purchasing articles tax free for use as fuel supplies, and other like items above named, on pleasure vessels, or on any type of aircraft except (i) civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and otherwise entitled to exemptions, and (ii) aircraft owned by the United States or any foreign country and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. It is also understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to a penalty equivalent to the amount of tax due on the sale of the article and upon conviction to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution. The undersigned also understands that he must be prepared to establish by satisfactory evidence the purpose for which the article was used.

(2) The form set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph will be issued by the appropriate officer where required by the contract to supply proof of exemption with respect to the Federal excise taxes from which an exemption is available under section 3451, Internal Revenue Code, such as for fuel supplies, ship stores, and equipment for vessels of war, including aircraft of the armed forces. (See § 600.203, as to the policy with respect to claiming this exemption.)

(f) Preparation and execution of exemption certificates. (1) In the preparation of tax exemption certificates the typewriter will be used when practicable; otherwise ink or indelible pencil will be used. The use of ordinary lead pencil is prohibited. All blank spaces must be properly filled in or lined out. No exemption certificate, unless fully and properly executed, will be delivered to a contractor, except that the Bureau of Internal Revenue has advised that it is not necessary to state the amount of Federal tax upon the exemption certificate. The amount of tax should be stated, however, if readily available. In a case where Federal excise taxes have been excluded from the contract price of articles or supplies purchased, but the exact amount of the tax cannot be determined at that time, a blanket tax exemption certificate may be issued to cover all sales under the contract. The certificate should cover all articles purchased under the contract, including delivery orders placed thereunder by other officers. As to blanket tax exemption certificates covering purchases under contracts of the Federal Supply Schedule, see paragraph (h) of this section.

(2) A separate certificate for each kind of tax (Federal, State or local) involved will be prepared. In the issuance of these certificates care must be exercised to fill in the blank spaces provided for showing on each certificate the separate amounts of the taxes involved, if known, so that the certificates may be used only for the purpose intended.

(3) Where the supplies or work covered by the contract are not taxable as such and the certificate is to be used for the purpose of obtaining exemption on the articles to be incorporated in the supplies or work covered by the contract, the amount of tax to be shown on the certificate should be stated as "None." No tax should be shown on the certificate except the tax imposed directly upon the supplies or work covered by the contract.

(4) Tax Exemption Certificate Form No. 1094 may be modified as may be necessary with respect to contracts for construction, alterations, improvements, and repairs. The person issuing a tax exemption certificate will, in addition to his signature and title, insert on the lines provided therefor, his identification card number. (See paragraph (d) of this section.)

(g) When exemption certificates are issued to contractors. At any time after execution of the contract, a tax exemption certificate (Form 1094) will be executed and delivered to the contractor, upon request, covering Federal excise taxes where supplies are taxable as in this section indicated and are purchased by the Government at a price which is exclusive of tax. In that case, the description of the supplies furnished tax free will be inserted on the tax exemption certificate.

(h) Blanket tax exemption certificates; contracts under Federal Supply Schedule. (1) Nothing contained in the regulations in this part will be construed as authorizing the issuance of blanket tax exemption certificates by Heads of Procuring Activities or Contracting Officers covering purchases under contracts of the Federal Supply Schedule. Upon application of the contractor, the Procurement and Accounting Division, Office of the Secretary, will issue blanket tax exemption certificates as may be necessary to cover all purchases made by Department agencies in Washington, D. C., and in the field under term contracts of the Federal Supply Schedule, Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration.

(2) Contractors are required to indicate the number of the applicable blanket tax exemption certificate on their invoices.

(3) The purchase order need not contain the number of the applicable tax exemption certificate. It is sufficient that it contain a reference to the Federal Supply Schedule contract number.

§ 600.250 Exemptions from Federal taxes in general. Exemptions from Federal taxes which are available under present law and regulations are as follows:

(a) Communications (sec. 3465, I. R. C.).

(b) Transportation of persons (when transportation is furnished on Government transportation requests (sec. 3469, I. R. C.).

(c) Transportation of property (where shipment is on Government bill of lading) (sec. 3475, I. R. C.).

(d) Equipment for use on vessels of war (sec. 3451, I. R. C.).

(e) Purchases for export or shipment to a possession of the United States (sec. 2705 and sec. 3449, I. R. C.).

(f) Supplies sold for further manufacture (sec. 3442, I. R. C.).

(g) Certain petroleum products.

SUBPART C—STATE AND LOCAL TAXES

§ 600.301 Applicability. Tax exemption certificates are also used for establishing exemptions from State and local taxes. In applicable cases, certificates should be prepared in accordance with the requirements of the particular State or local tax authority concerned.

§ 600.302 Tax exemption forms. (a) In most cases, Form 1094 (see § 600.207 (b), above) will be the appropriate form of tax exemption certificate. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, no tax exemption certificate should be issued with respect to a State or local tax unless the contract shows that the price paid by the Government is exclusive of the tax to which the certificate pertains or unless the contractor consents to the deduction of such tax from the contract price and the acceptance of the tax exemption certificate in lieu thereof.

(b) When impossible for any reason to make a purchase by a contract which excludes the amount of State or local tax for the reason that the tax is deemed to be legally inapplicable to Government purchases, a tax exemption certificate on Form 1094 will be executed and delivered to the disbursing officer to whose accounts the vouchers in the transaction pertain, together with a written statement to the effect that the vendor refused such certificate. Tax exemption certificates executed and delivered as prescribed in this paragraph are for the use of the Office of the Chief of Finance in securing a refund of the amount of the taxes involved. The serial number of the tax exemption certificate will be shown on the payment voucher.

(c) When Form No. 1094 (or other appropriate certificate) executed under the conditions stated above is received in the administrative office (Office of the Chief of Finance), the bureau or office number of the payment voucher will be noted on the certificate and the administrative office (Office of the Chief of Finance) will bill the State or local taxing agency for refund of the taxes paid. The amount collected will be transmitted to the Disbursing Officer for credit to the appropriation from which the vouchers were paid, or to miscellaneous receipts accounts, "4326—Refund, State and Local Taxes," if the appropriation cannot be readily identified. Where the administrative office (Office of the Chief of Finance) fails to secure refund of the amount of taxes paid, it will transmit promptly to the General Accounting Office for use in effecting collection as required by section 236, Revised Statutes, as amended by the Budget and Accounting Act, 1921 (43 U. S. C. 99), the following:

(1) The tax exemption certificates, if available.

(2) All related correspondence with the taxing agency.

(3) Disbursing Officer's voucher number on which payment for the merchandise was made.

§ 600.350 Questions of applicability of tax laws; negotiations. (a) It is desired that uniformity of action on behalf of the Army Establishment in tax matters be maintained. Independent conferences or direct negotiations with State and local tax authorities will not be undertaken by Army Establishment or contractor personnel for the purpose of obtaining exemption, refund, or for determining the applicability of any tax, except upon express authority of the Office of The Judge Advocate General.

(b) Where a specific tax problem occurs which cannot be readily determined by reference to the information set out in this part and Part 410 of this title, the matter should be transmitted through channels with appropriate comments to the Office of The Judge Advocate General (Attn.: Procurement Div.) for advice. This procedure is important where—

(1) The applicability of the tax is not specifically discussed in this Procedure;

(2) State and local tax authorities have adopted or may adopt a position at variance with that taken by the Department of the Army;

(3) Measures are contemplated to protect the interests of the Army with respect to payment of taxes; or

(4) From a study of this part and Part 410 of this title and applicable regulations it appears that there exists a possibility of obtaining refunds of taxes already paid, the economic burden of which has been borne by the United States. Where authorized, of course, contractors may apply directly for refunds;

(5) Obtaining of large scale tax exemptions, credits or refunds in foreign countries where the assistance of other executive departments is necessary.

SUBPART D—CONTRACT CLAUSES

§ 600.401 Fixed-price contracts.

(a) The clause in § 410.401 of this title, which is approved for use at the option of the Contracting Officer, in fixed-price contracts, will be inserted by all Contracting Officers in all such fixed-price contracts, except where deletion is specifically authorized or where approved printed forms omit such clause.

(b) Authority is granted in effecting procurement outside the United States, its territories, and possessions to substitute the following clause for the clause prescribed in § 410.401 of this title:

TAXES

The contract price includes any and all applicable taxes.

DERIVATION: Army Procurement Procedure, March 15, 1951.

§ 601.000 Scope of part. This part sets forth labor policies and procedures consistent with and supplementary to part 411 of this title.

§ 601.050 Applicability. It will be noted that the applicability of the various subparts, and in some cases, of the various sections of a subpart of this part, vary materially. In order to avoid the misapplication of these provisions, the geographical applicability is repeated herein. Guidance in labor matters in those geographical areas for which applicability is not prescribed herein, will be in accordance with labor legislation of the country in which procurement is effected.

SUBPART A—BASIC LABOR POLICIES

§ 601.101 Labor relations—(a) Scope. All problems arising out of the labor relations of private contractors vitally affect procurement and are an essential part of procurement responsibility. It is requisite, accordingly, that the disposition of these problems receive staff direction and supervision from one source. The Office of The Judge Advocate General is the office designated within the Department of the Army to furnish staff direction and supervision of all contractor labor activities.

(b) Labor responsibility. (1) There will be no contacts with national offices of labor organizations or other organizations of the Government in connection with labor matters except after coordination with the Office of The Judge Advocate General. In case of emergency such coordination may be by telephone, in which event the coordination should be direct with the Chief, Industrial Relations Branch of that office.

(2) The Head of the Procuring Activity concerned is authorized to communicate with local labor organizations and the local offices of Federal agencies in connection with labor matters of concern to a particular activity but no action which is not mutually acceptable to the Head of the Procuring Activity and the local organization will be taken without requisite coordination.

(3) The Head of the Procuring Activity is authorized to remove necessary matériel from a strike-bound facility when such action is mutually agreed to by both management and local labor representatives concerned. All such action, however, will be reported, through channels, to the Office of The Judge Advocate General. Failure of the parties to agree to such removal will be similarly reported for appropriate action at the national level.

(4) When any labor dispute significantly affects or threatens to so affect important procurement, the Head of the Procuring Activity will submit a Report of Labor Disputes, Reports Control Symbol JAG–10, by the most expeditious and practical means available to The Judge Advocate General with an informational copy to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn: Chief, Current Procurement Branch). Such report will include the following data, to the extent pertinent:

(i) Name and location of manufacturer; name and title of company official contacted (if manufacturer is a subcontractor, include the name and location of the prime contractor(s).

(ii) Items being produced (if a subcontractor is involved, identify the prime contract items).

(iii) Name and national affiliation of union locals involved; names of local union officials and result of any contacts with same.

(iv) Effect on production of Army matériel.

(v) Detailed description of critical items (if any) which should be removed from plant or continued to be processed there with mutual consent of contractor and union, if obtainable.

(vi) Date of commencement of the dispute and date of important incidents of the dispute such as notice of strike, strikes, lockouts, settlements, etc.

(vii) Statement of any action taken or contemplated by the manufacturer.

(viii) Contract number(s) and type thereof (fixed-fee, lump-sum, unit price, etc.).

(ix) The issues or probable issues involved.

(x) Estimated number of employees directly and indirectly involved; estimated number who may be involved ultimately, both directly and indirectly; total number of employees at the facility.

(xi) Identity of any cognizant State and or Federal authority engaged in mediation and conciliation activities.

(xii) Adequacy of plant guards and local police for protection of Government property, indicating whether plant-guard personnel are members of a union and, if so, local number and name, national affiliation, and whether it is expected that they will go on strike.

(xiii) Additional pertinent information including, when applicable, the effect on care and maintenance of Government-furnished equipment or matériel.

In urgent cases it will suffice if only information required by subdivisions (i) through (vi) of this subparagraph is furnished in the initial report. Supplemental reports will be submitted as necessary to report important developments.

(5) Where private contractor employees are engaged in contract work on a post, camp, station, or installation and labor representatives request permission to enter such installation to conduct union business during working hours, the commanding officer may admit such labor representatives, provided: (i) The presence and activities of the labor representatives will not interfere with the progress of the contract work involved, and (ii) the entry of such representatives to the installation will not violate pertinent safety and security regulations. In the event that a commanding officer of an installation denies entry to a labor representative, such commanding officer shall, through appropriate channels, submit to the Chief, Industrial Relations Branch, Office of The Judge Advocate General, Washington 25, D. C., a Report of Denial of Admission of Labor Representatives, Reports Control Symbol JAG–11, which will include—(a) names of the labor representatives denied entry; (b) the union affiliation, if known, of such representatives; and (c) reason for denial of entry.

(c) Applicability. Section 411.101 of this title and this section are applicable only within the United States, its Territories and possessions.

§ 601.102 Wage and salary compensation. (a) Delivery schedules established in connection with all procurement contracts, particularly those of a cost-reimbursement type, will be predicated upon the contractor working normal workweeks and shifts without recourse to overtime and extra-pay shifts.

(b) Overtime and extra-pay shift deviations may be authorized subject to the following conditions:

(1) The authority for approval of such overtime and extra-pay shift deviations as may be required is hereby delegated, with power of redelegation, to Heads of Procuring Activities.

(2) Utilization of approvals for deviation of the overtime and extra-pay shifts as may be given by the Head of a Procuring Activity, or his designated representative, will be confined to the meeting of essential deadlines necessary to the performance of the contract solely in the interests of the Government.

(3) In granting such approvals, it will be the responsibility of the Head of a Procuring Activity and his designated representative to restrict such overtime and extra-pay shift work to the minimum required for the accomplishment of the specific work for which the deviation was requested and for which the approval was given.

(4) The above policy is not to be construed as forbidding the use of overtime or extra-pay shift work necessitated because of disaster, local operating emergencies, or in the best interests of the Government.

(c) Any case concerning overtime or extra-pay shifts which may arise and which does not fall within the foregoing authorization including cases involving premium rates other than overtime or extra-pay shifts, will be referred to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for consideration.

(d) Section 411.102 of this title and this section are applicable world-wide.

§ 601.103 Federal and State labor requirements. This requirement applies even where a contractor, by reason of operating a Government-owned facility located on property owned by the United States, might otherwise be exempt.

(a) Requests for relaxation of State labor legislation. There may be cases, however, in which manufacturers engaged in the production of vital military supplies deem necessary the relaxation of State labor statutes or administrative orders which are restricting or are allegedly restricting such production. In such cases the following procedure will be observed:

(1) The interested contractor will submit the initial request for such relaxation to the State Labor Commissioner or other State officials charged with the enforcement of labor legislation in the State or region where the plant of the manufacturer involved is located.

(2) In the event the contractor's request for relaxation is denied, the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned, if he deems the contractor's request valid, may refer the matter, with his recommendation in respect thereto, to the Office of The Judge Advocate General, through the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn: Chief, Current Procurement Branch), for action. Such referrals should contain the following information:

(i) Provision or provisions of law the relaxation of which is required.

(ii) Extent of relaxation required.

(iii) Criticalness or relative scarcity of the material.

(iv) Circumstances necessitating the relaxation (such as, for example, a shortage in the local supply of skilled labor).

(v) Remedial action being taken by the manufacturer (for example, training).

(vi) Efforts previously made to obtain the relaxation.

(3) Requests for assistance in obtaining a relaxation will be refused in cases in which—

(i) The contractor has not already requested the proper State authorities for such relaxation.

(ii) Such relaxation is clearly unnecessary to maintain essential production.

(iii) The granting thereof would result in a clearly excessive increase in hours of work, in an unreasonable curtailment of rest and lunch periods, or in an undesirable impairment of working conditions.

(b) Applicability. Section 411.103 of this title and this section are applicable only within the United States, its territories and possessions.

SUBPART B—CONVICT LABOR

§ 601.202 Applicability. (a) Subpart B, Part 411 of this title, and this subpart are applicable only within the continental United States (the 48 States and the District of Columbia).

(b) The prohibition contained in Executive Order 325A does not apply to contracts entered into between the Government and State prisons for the purchase of manufactured items, subject to all of the following limitations:

(1) That such contracts are not prohibited by the law of the State in which the prison is located.

(2) That exemption from the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act be obtained, in accordance with procedures prescribed in § 601.653, in cases of contracts exceeding $10,000.00.

(3) That no purchase from a State prison or other correctional institution will be made of items contrary to the provisions of §§ 404.301 and 594.301 of this title.

(4) That the contract is otherwise proper.

The convict labor clause prescribed by §§ 406.103–15 and 411.203 of this title will be omitted from such contracts.

SUBPART C—EIGHT-HOUR LAW OF 1912

§ 601.302 Applicability. The provisions of Subpart C, Part 411 of this title, and this subpart are applicable only within the limits of the United States, its territories and possessions.

SUBPART D—DAVIS-BACON ACT

§ 601.402 Applicability. Subpart D, Part 411 of this title, and this subpart are applicable only within the continental United States (the 48 States and the District of Columbia) and its territories (Alaska and Hawaii).

§ 601.403 Department of Labor regulations. The regulations of the Secretary of Labor described in § 601.503, where pertinent, are applicable to all contracts subject to the act.

§ 601.450 Predeterminations of prevailing wage rates. The Secretary of Labor has discontinued the emergency wartime practice of issuing wage predeterminations on an area basis, and requires a separate request for wage rates for each contract to be awarded by a contracting agency, except where it can be shown that unusual circumstances make it impractical to obtain a wage predetermination for each contract. In each case it will be necessary to explain fully the unusual circumstances which make it necessary to request an area predetermination.

(a) Responsibility for obtaining predeterminations. The Chief of Engineers is responsible for obtaining from the Secretary of Labor and for furnishing to the Procuring Activity upon request all predeterminations of prevailing wage rates under the Davis-Bacon Act required in connection with the awarding of contracts of the Army Establishment.

(b) Responsibility for requesting predeterminations. The office responsible for the preparation of specifications for projects in excess of $2,000 is responsible for requesting the appropriate predetermination of wage rates to be contained in the contract. The preparing office will forward such request to the Chief of Engineers (Attn.: Legal Division), through appropriate Division Engineer offices, unless direct communication is authorized by appropriate authority. The Chief of Engineers will obtain the predetermination of wage rates from the Secretary of Labor, and forward such predetermination to the requesting office through channels. When contracts specifications are prepared they should include a current wage predetermination. If the wage predetermination is not available when invitations to bid are issued, the specifications will contain a statement that wage rates will be supplied by addendum to the specifications. Contracting Officers will not open bids on projects subject to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act until the requested predetermination of wage rates has been incorporated in the specifications.

(c) Manner of requesting predeterminations. Requests for predetermination of wage rates will be made as follows:

(1) Requests will be forwarded on Form DB–11, in triplicate, leaving date, first two lines, and signature block blank. (These forms may be obtained from the appropriate Division Engineers office.)

(2) Classifications requested will be limited to those which it is reasonably sure will be used.

(3) Check will be made with local contractors or contractors' associations, unions, Federal, State, and local officials, and authenticated statements regarding wage rates paid locally should be obtained and forwarded. Statements should include the number of employees employed in each classification. Copies of signed collective bargaining agreements should be obtained from union representatives and forwarded.

(4) Copies of payrolls on Federal contract construction in progress or recently performed under the jurisdiction of the office preparing the request, and any available payroll data on other Federal contracts in the locality will be forwarded.

(5) In emergencies, requests may be made by teletype or telephone direct to the Chief of Engineers (Attn.: Legal Division), stating reason why special handling is necessary. Appropriate Division Engineer Offices will be furnished copies or records of such direct communications.

(6) A request for a review of a predetermination must be made if bids are not to be opened by the expiration date of the predetermination. Predeterminations expire 90 days after the date of the original predetermination or modification thereof. Requests for review will be processed and forwarded in the same manner as requests for original predeterminations.

(7) All requests should be forwarded so as to reach the Chief of Engineers (Attn.: Legal Division) at least 4 weeks prior to advertising or expiration date.

(d) Enforcement responsibility. Reference is made to § 411.404 (c) of this title, which places on the Contracting Officer the responsibility for obtaining from contractors weekly payroll records so that such records shall be available for determination as to whether the contractor has complied with the statute.

(e) Copies of payrolls. Contracting Officers will obtain copies of these payrolls and check the payrolls at such times and to the extent necessary for the purpose of assuring that all contractors and subcontractors are complying with the applicable laws.

(f) Contracting Officers' visits. Contracting Officers will also make such visits to the project and make such checks as are necessary to assure that the contractor is not violating the Davis-Bacon Act by misclassification, disproportionate use of apprentices, or other means. Examples: Use of men classified as laborers and receiving laborers' wage rates to do journeymen's work; and the employment of an unusually large number of apprentices as compared to journeymen, with the apprentices actually doing journeymen's work. With regard to apprentices, attention is invited to the fact that the Secretary of Labor is now issuing wage determinations setting up the following prescribed standards for the employment of apprentices for the various building crafts:

Apprentices employed pursuant to this determination of wage rates must be registered in a bona fide apprenticeship program registered with a State apprenticeship agency recognized by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship, U. S. Department of Labor; or if no such recognized agency exists in a State, it shall mean a program registered with the Bureau of Apprenticeship, U. S. Department of Labor.

(g) Notification to contractor. In the event misclassification of mechanics or laborers is discovered which results in workers receiving less than the prescribed minimum rate of wage for the work actually being performed, the contractor will be notified immediately of the corrective action to be taken and the Contracting Officer will make a report on Standard Form No. 1093 (Schedule of Deductions from Payments to Contractor) executed as completely as possible from his records to the Disbursing Officer. The amounts to be withheld will be equal to the estimated corrective payments required. Such funds will be withheld until evidence satisfactory to the Contracting Officer is furnished showing that corrective payments have been made to the mechanics or laborers involved.

(h) Cooperation with the Department of Labor. In the event an investigation of the work being performed under any contract is made by the Department of Labor and thereafter it is indicated to the Contracting Officer that violations of the Davis-Bacon Act, Copeland Act and/or Eight-Hour Law have been discovered, the Contracting Officer will cooperate to the fullest extent practicable with the representative of the Department of Labor in initiating necessary and appropriate corrective action as outlined herein to insure that such violations will not continue.

§ 601.451 List of ineligible contractors and disqualified bidders. The list of persons and firms found by the Comptroller General to have violated the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act is prepared and issued by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army, for the use and guidance of all interested agencies of the Army Establishment in the Consolidated Listing of Suspended and Ineligible Contractors and Disqualified Bidders. (See § 590.303 (d).)

SUBPART E—COPELAND ACT

§ 601.502 Applicability. The provisions of Subpart E of Part 411 of this title, and this subpart are applicable only within the continental United States (the 48 States and the District of Columbia) and its territories (Alaska and Hawaii).

§ 601.503 Department of Labor regulations—(a) Weekly Affidavit with respect to payments of wages. The affidavit shall be executed and sworn to by the contractor or subcontractor or by an authorized officer or employee of the contractor or subcontractor who supervises the payment of wages, and shall be in the following form:

STATE OF_____
*County of*_____
I,_____ (Name of party signing affidavit) _____ (title), being duly sworn, do depose and say: That I pay or supervise the payment of the persons employed by_____ (contractor or subcontractor) on the_____ (building or work); that during the payroll period commencing on the _____ day of _____ 195____, and ending the_____ day of _____, 195____, all persons employed on said project have been paid the full weekly wages earned, that no rebates have been or will be made either directly or indirectly to or on behalf of said_____ (contractor or subcontractor) from the full weekly wages earned by any person and that no deductions have been made either directly or indirectly from the full weekly wages earned by any person, other than permissible deductions, as defined in the regulations under the "Kickback" Act (48 Stat. 948) and described below:

(Paragraph describing deductions, if any.)

(Signature and title)

Sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 1950____ (29 CFR 3.3 (b))

(b) Exemptions with respect to weekly affidavits. Upon a written finding by the Secretary of the Army, the Secretary of Labor may provide reasonable limitations, variations, tolerances, and exemptions from the requirements set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, subject to such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may specify. Request for such finding, accompanied by all necessary supporting documents, will be submitted by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned through the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, Department of the Army (Attn.: Chief, Current Procurement Branch) and The Judge Advocate General, in turn, to the Secretary of the Army for action and submission to the Secretary of Labor (29 CFR 3.3 (c)).

(c) Submission of weekly affidavits and the preservation and inspection of weekly payroll records. (1) Each weekly affidavit shall be delivered by the contractor or subcontractor, within 7 days after the regular payment date of the payroll period, to the Contracting Officer or such other officer as may be designated for such purpose by the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned.
